§ 639.3 Racial considerations in site selection. The second prerequisite assumption with which the local authority should begin its search for a site is that concerning the racial distribution of the total number of families to be served—that is, if the local authority has decided that local conditions indicate that there should be any distribution along racial lines. This subject has been mentioned briefly above. Where it has been decided that a project should be built to serve families who are predominantly of a given race, care must be exercised in selecting a site which will not do violence to the preferences and established habits of members of that race or to the community life of which they may be a part. The aim of the local authority should be the preservation rather than the disruption of community social structures which best fit the desires of the groups concerned. Particular care should be exercised in site selection to safeguard the interests of minority groups which may be affected. Although it is the responsibility of the local housing authority to decide its own racial policy, certain desirable principles may be suggested for application in this connection. Some of these may be enumerated as follows:

(a) The development of public housing projects for white occupancy in areas now occupied by Negroes or other minority racial groups is undesirable. This is particularly true where a considerable amount of home ownership or existing community facilities indicate that an integrated community of Negro, Latin American, or other minority composition is established.

(b) Whenever exceptions are to be made to this general policy, the local authority should demonstrate the circumstances which it believes justify the exception and there should be obtained, if possible, a statement of concurrence in the program from representative spokesmen of the racial group to be displaced.

(c) Any local program which involves the demolition of a number of houses available to minority racial groups which is considerably greater than the total to be provided for these groups in the new project is undesirable. In many sections of the country the supply of housing available to minority groups—Latin Americans and Negroes particularly—is artificially limited by racial restrictions. If houses in which these groups are now living are demolished, houses in other sections of the city evacuated by tenants moving into the new projects are seldom available to these displaced minority groups. In the case of home owners of the minority groups there will generally be great difficulty in acquiring comparable homes elsewhere in the city.

(d) If it is decided to develop sites which are either inhabited now by members of more than one race or, in the case of vacant sites, are contiguous to neighborhoods which are inhabited by different races, local authorities should plan projects open to the members of these different groups.*† [Par. III]

§ 639.4 Study of alternative site possibilities. Having arrived at a fairly well-defined decision as to the number of units for which a site or sites must be found and bearing in mind the racial implications of the problem, as discussed above, if any should exist, the local authority will do well to examine the possibilities and the suitability of as many different sites as may have a reasonable claim to attention and, by a process of elimination, to narrow its examination to a few which appear to be worthy of a more intensive study. The practice, which occasionally is followed by a local authority, of jumping to a conclusion in the selection of a site without having thoroughly explored the possibility of there being a superior alternative, is to be condemned. It is strongly recommended that a tabulation be prepared to show side by side the characteristics of the various sites which are worthy of consideration. Frequently a site which may receive little attention as a possibility at first will appear in a more favorable light after a detailed comparison with other possible sites. It is to be remembered that in making such comparisons, as elsewhere in the development of the local authority's program, the services of the legal and project planning advisers and of other specialists of the USHA are available. In the following pages some of the additional factors which should be considered in connection with site selection will be discussed. The check list which is included hereafter in section 639.6 may be used as a basis for rating alternative site possibilities.

(a) Vacant or slum sites. Although the objectives of the U. S. Housing Act of 1937 include slum clearance as well as the building of homes for the lowest income groups, it will be well for the local authority to begin its site selection study without a predetermined decision as between a slum-site program and the use of vacant or partly vacant land. The availability of properly placed sites of each type should be explored and the comparative advantages, economic and otherwise, of each type should be examined. A slum clearance site which may in other respects seem very desirable may, upon investigation, prove to be too expensive to acquire; or the problem of relocating present residents may present serious difficulties. A further analysis of the racial situation may show unexpected complications. As slum sites are generally held by a large number of individual owners, the difficulty of acquisition or the danger of delay may, upon investigation, appear to be serious. Above all, a check of land uses, both existing and trends, in the vicinity of the site under consideration, either with the assistance of the City Planning Commission (if there is one), or as undertaken by the local authority, may show that the site is better suited to other than residential uses or that it is definitely unsuitable for continued use as a residential neighborhood. On the other hand, a vacant site may at first arouse enthusiasm because of its cheapness or its ease of acquisition, or because of its excellent topography or beautiful surroundings. But a more careful examination may show that a vacant site should not be selected because:

(1) The vacant site is not properly located with respect to employment opportunities for the low-income families which would be the tenants;

(2) School facilities or transit facilities are inadequate and the prospect of such lack being corrected is remote;

(3) Utilities are lacking and cannot be extended to the site without considerable expense to the project or to the city;

(4) The location of the vacant site within the city structure is such that it should logically be put to other than residential use, such as industry or perhaps a public park; or

(5) The vacant site is more suitable for residential development by private industry for a higher income group. The considerations specified in subparagraphs (a) (1) through (a) (5) illustrate some of the considerations which should enter into a valuation of the proposed site. They are cited here in order to emphasize the desirability of making a careful comparative analysis of the merits of a number of sites, before any offhand decision is made either as to a particular site or as between a slum-site and a vacant land program. Where the relocation problem would be serious under a slum-site program, and particularly in communities where it may be expected that more than one project will be built, either presently or within the near future, it may be advisable to choose a vacant land site for the first development. If the slum clearance part of the program is deferred until the new housing on the first project is available or nearly available, the relocation difficulties will be alleviated.

(b) Natural boundaries of the site. It is well to bear in mind the fact that it is desirable, other things being equal, that a site have natural boundaries, at least on a portion of its periphery. This is both in the interest of the protection of the project and in the interest of a logical future extension of the housing or slum clearance program. Such natural boundary may be a park, a cemetery, the grounds of a large public institution, a river or stream, a ravine or a bluff, a railroad, an important street or highway, or a well-defined boundary of a commercial or light industrial area. In a slum district or blighted area a first project will seldom clean up all of the blight. It is therefore sensible to locate such projects in a position from which it can be readily expanded step by step. Should the project be set down in the middle of a slum area which may be considered as appropriate for future reclamation and residential use, the chances of spotty industrial and commercial encroachment are increased. If, on the other hand, the reclamation program should begin with a site adjacent to a natural boundary of this area, the danger of such uncontrolled spotty development would be lessened. There are, of course, various considerations, including that of cost, which may make it necessary to select a first site without regard to this question of natural boundaries. In such cases it would be well to locate the site so that it may eventually be expanded outwardly to reach some natural boundary. This is especially true for slum clearance sites, but it may sometimes be equally true for a site in open territory. In the case of a site in open territory it is well to remember that population density on the first site should not be established at such a high level that it will tend to make more difficult the later acquisition of the adjacent land. A somewhat different but related matter is the situation where certain street frontage is too expensive for use for low-rental housing but may to advantage be acquired and leased to private developers for commercial or other uses as a measure of protection to the project, in order to eliminate a "business slum" along its border, or in order to provide for street widening, or in order to insure desired points of access to the project. The introduction of this subject is not to be interpreted as establishing any general policy of the USHA under which the acquisition of land for commercial purposes is authorized. Any such plan must be justified by the special circumstances peculiar to a given project. But it is mentioned here because it may, in certain cases, have a bearing on the question of site boundaries.

(c) Exclusion of through streets from the projects. If possible a site should be selected which will permit the exclusion of through traffic from streets within the project. The optimum condition is where there are no streets within the project except those which are necessary for the services of the project itself. It will also be in the interest of safety for children and of quietness if there are no streets which carry heavy traffic on its boundaries. It is especially desirable that the site should not be split by a major traffic artery. It is true, of course, that in some cases other circumstances affecting site selection make the avoidance of this condition impossible. In general, the objections to the inclusion of a major thoroughfare decrease as the size of the project increases. The closing of even minor streets which may be so located as to encourage the through movement of traffic is also most desirable. This possibility is sometimes complicated by the existence of utilities under the streets which should not be moved. Even so, it is often possible to close the streets and arrange the position of buildings so that the utility lines are left under the project open spaces. The attitude of the city government and the city planning commission on desirable street closing should be determined before a decision on site selection is made.*† [Par. IV]

§ 639.5 Comparison of costs—(a) Comparison of costs of street construction and utilities for various sites. Land values are obviously governed to some degree by the extent of public improvements already built and for which the property owners have been assessed. In comparing prospective sites, it will frequently be desirable to make comparative estimates on the probable cost to the project of street construction or reconstruction and of utility installation. For comparative purposes, such costs must be added to the cost of the land. For example, it may be found that for a vacant tract the cost of land plus the cost of site improvement items such as street paving, storm and sanitary sewer mains, and water and gas mains, will be more per acre than for a slum-clearance site where such improvements are, for the most part, already built and in usable condition. Approximate, comparative estimates can be prepared readily and will present the facts in a concrete manner. The figures should obviously not include work which it may be safely assumed will be donated by the municipality. The cost of service roads, utility services, and the like within the project property will generally be much the same for sites of comparable size and therefore may not be particularly significant for the purpose of site comparison. Such evaluations may be extended to cover differences in costs resulting from varying physiographic conditions, if these differences are significant; for example, excess grading and foundation costs of one site as compared with another.

(b) Transportation costs. In considering housing for the lowest income groups only, the effect of site selection on the cost of transportation for the tenants is of great importance. Added transportation costs are virtually equivalent to added rents. The USHA is to pay subsidies in connection with these projects over a long term of years in order to reduce rents. It would therefore be illogical to select a site on the merits only of its lower first cost if its location is such that the additional transportation cost to the tenants would in part nullify the advantages of the subsidy. Sometimes there may be an approximate theoretical economic balance between the additional first cost of one site as compared with the additional continuing transportation expense which the selection of another site would impose upon the tenants. Even so, there should be compelling reasons other than first cost for the choosing of the cheaper of two sites if the resulting transportation cost to the tenants is materially increased thereby. Even where there is a theoretical balance of the economic factors it should be remembered that the policies controlling the USHA-Aided program call for greater consideration being given to the continuing expenses of the tenant than to the first costs of the project. Consideration should be given to the possibility, however, that a present unfavorable transportation cost condition will tend to change for the better. For example, an outlying site may be justified if it is thought that within a reasonable time industry will move either near to it or beyond it and thus place it in a more favorable position as to transportation to a large field of employment. In comparing the merits of sites from the standpoint of transportation costs, due consideration may be given to the probability that a certain percentage of the tenants will use automobiles, either individually or in a cooperative way, as their regular means of transportation. This percentage will vary in different parts of the country. There are cities where a large proportion of even the poorest families manage to own some kind of automobile. The future trend in this matter cannot be predicted.*† [Par. V]

§ 639.6 Check list of items to be considered in site selection. In the preceding sections of this Part there have been discussed some of the factors which the local authority should have in mind when it approaches the problem of site selection, including some of the fundamentals of that problem. In the following list are various points which should be considered in the comparative analysis of the sites which are being investigated. The order in which they appear is not to be taken as being indicative of their relative importance. This list is not necessarily all-inclusive, since under local circumstances there may be items not mentioned here which should have an important influence upon site selection. It is suggested that in rating sites the following items be considered:

(a) Present and future land uses in the neighborhood and in the city as a whole. (Present neighboring land uses; present zoning; discernible changes in land use; harmful land uses; zoning changes to protect project; suitability of neighborhood for type of structure to be built.)

(b) Population factors. (Suitability of site from racial standpoint; population density; population trends in the city as a whole.)

(c) Accessibility to employment. (Accessibility of site to centers of employment either by walkable routes or by transportation facilities; adequacy of employment opportunities to which site is easily accessible; stability or seasonal character of the employment to which site is considered accessible.)

(d) Transportation facilities. (Transportation facilities within reasonable distance from site which can furnish satisfactory service to tenants; prospects for establishing transportation facilities where necessary; costs to tenants of necessary transportation service.)

(e) School facilities. (Distance by walkable routes or by transportation routes to grade schools, junior high schools, high schools and parochial schools; capacity of appropriately located schools to absorb the children of the project; where conveniently located schools do not exist, the prospects as to the building or enlargement of schools or through the provision of transportation to existing schools.)

(f) Recreational and social facilities. (Accessibility to existing parks, prospect as to future public recreational facilities to be available to the tenants; accessibility to religious and social facilities; necessity for the construction of supplementary recreational and social facilities as a part of the project.)

(g) Accessibility to stores and other commercial services. (Accessibility of site to existing commercial centers; need for provision of commercial facilities on the site as a part of the project development.)

(h) Topography and physiographic features of the site. (Topography of the site as it affects the percentage of buildable area and the possibility of an acceptable site plan; topography of site as it affects cost of building construction and site improvements; topography of site as it affects vehicular and pedestrian access to the project; grading requirements in general; rock excavation to be encountered in grading or in building construction; underground conditions; protective measures against flood; ground water conditions as they may affect cellar dampness or foundation stability; character of the ground as it affects its bearing capacity for foundations; conditions as to filled ground or old refuse dumps.)

(i) Availability and adequacy of utilities. (Water supply and character of the water available, including information from qualified engineers as to the adequacy of the supply mains and of the source of supply; sanitary sewage disposal provisions; storm water disposal; electric current supply, including proximity of adequate power lines; gas supply, including proximity and adequacy of the mains from which the supply must be taken.)

(j) Community services. (Disposal of garbage and refuse, including the method of disposal as affected by the site location; fire protection and the possible influence upon insurance rates; police protection, snow removal, street lighting, street tree planting and maintenance, and other municipal services as affected by site location.)

(k) Relation to the thoroughfare system and condition of streets. (Accessibility to the site by way of paved streets; condition and extent of present improvements on streets to remain open within, bounding, or leading to the site; position of the site in the general street or highway plan; relationship of the site to major thoroughfares; street or highway system as it may affect the safety of children going to schools or commercial centers; possibilities as to the closing of existing streets within the site.)

(l) Possibility of later enlargement of the project. (Future acquisition of suitable adjacent vacant or built-up land; adjacent barriers to future extension of the project.)

(m) Cost of site and acquisition problems. (Probable cost of land to be purchased; possibility of the donation of land; acquisition difficulties which may block or delay assemblage of the tract; existence of easements for underground or overhead utilities which may complicate site acquisition; inclusion within the site of historical landmarks or monuments; inclusion within the site of good homes, stores, churches, industrial plants, or other structures.)

(n) Relocation problems. (Racial aspect of the problem of relocating present residents of the site; relocation problem caused by the removal of present residents, in its relation to an existing housing shortage.)*† [Par. VI]

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T.D. 4953]

REGULATIONS 90, AS MADE APPLICABLE TO THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE BY TREASURY DECISION 4885, FURTHER AMENDED

TAX FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1939 UNDER THE FEDERAL UNEMPLOYMENT TAX ACT

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In order to prescribe regulations applicable to the excise tax on employers of eight or more for the calendar year 1939, imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code), as amended by sections 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, and 615 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.), Regulations 90,[1] approved February 17, 1936 [Part 400, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code by Treasury Decision 4885,[2] approved February 11, 1939 [Part 465, Subpart B, of such Title 26], as amended, are further amended as follows:

(1) Immediately preceding article 1 [section 400.1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, the following is inserted:

SECTION 615 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

"SEC. 1611. This subchapter may be cited as the Federal Unemployment Tax Act."

(2) Article 1 [section 400.1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended by striking out paragraphs (c) and (d), and by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraphs:

"(j) The term 'Internal Revenue Code' means the Act entitled 'An Act To consolidate and codify the internal revenue laws of the United States', approved February 10, 1939 (53 Stat., Part 1), as amended.

"(k) The term 'Social Security Act Amendments of 1939' means the Act entitled 'An Act To amend the Social Security Act, and for other purposes,' approved August 10, 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.).

"(l) The term 'Federal Unemployment Tax Act' means subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by sections 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, and 615 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. Such subchapter C, as so amended, comprises sections 1600 to 1611, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code.

"(m) The term 'tax' means the excise tax on employers of eight or more imposed by section 1600 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

"(n) The term 'taxable year' means the calendar year 1939."

(3) Immediately after article 1 [section 400.1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, the following new article is inserted:

"ART. 2 [Sec. 400.2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Scope of regulations for calendar year 1939. (a) These regulations relate to the excise tax on employers of eight or more for the calendar year 1939 imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code, which superseded Title IX of the Social Security Act with respect to the tax for such year and subsequent years), as amended by sections 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, and 615 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. The Federal Unemployment Tax Act, as so amended, comprises sections 1600 to 1611, inclusive, of the Internal Revenue Code. All provisions of, and references to, the Social Security Act or other laws of the United States which have been codified in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act or other portions of the Internal Revenue Code, but which remain in these regulations, shall be deemed to be, and shall be read as if they were, provisions of or references to the corresponding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

[2] 4 F.R. 879 DI.

"(b) These regulations also relate to services performed during the calendar year 1939 which constitute employment as defined in section 1607 (c) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act in force prior to January 1, 1940. (See also section 13 (a) of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, section 902 (f) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, and section 2 of the Act of August 11, 1939 (Public, No. 400, 76th Cong., 1st sess.), relating, respectively, to the exemption from the tax of service performed on and after July 1, 1939, in the employ of an 'employer' or as an 'employee representative' as those terms are defined in the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, to the exemption from the tax of service performed prior to January 1, 1940, in the employ of foreign governments and certain of their instrumentalities, and to the exemption from the tax of certain service performed prior to such date in salvaging timber and clearing debris left by a hurricane; and see articles 206 (8), 206 (9), and 206 (10) [sections 400.206 (8), 400.206 (9), and 400.206 (10), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], relating to such exemptions.

"(c) Section 614 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 amends section 1607 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, containing definitions of terms used in such Act (for example, 'wages,' 'employment,' and 'agricultural labor'), but the changes in such definitions do not apply to services performed during the calendar year 1939. Thus, for example, whether particular services performed during 1939 constitute employment will be determined under the provisions of section 1607 (c) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act in force prior to January 1, 1940 (see articles 206 (1) to 206 (7), inclusive [sections 400.206 (1) to 400.206 (7), inclusive, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations]; and see also articles 206, 206 (8), 206 (9), and 206 (10) [sections 400.206, 400.206 (8), 400.206 (9), and 400.206 (10), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]). As a further example, all remuneration (including amounts exceeding $3,000) paid to an employee by an employer during the calendar year 1939 for employment during such year is subject to the tax, since no limitation as to the amount taxable is contained in the definition of wages in section 1607 (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act in force prior to January 1, 1940. (As to 'wages' for purposes of the tax for the year 1939, see articles 207 to 210, inclusive [sections 400.207 to 400.210, inclusive, of such Title 26, 1939 Sup.].)

"(d) New regulations will be promulgated under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act relating to the tax for the calendar year 1940 and subsequent years."

(4) The provisions of law under the caption "Section 901 of the Act" immediately preceding article 200 [section 400.200, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, are stricken out, together with the caption, and the following is inserted in lieu thereof:

SECTION 608 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Section 1600 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 1600. RATE OF TAX.

"Every employer (as defined in section 1607 (a)) shall pay for the calendar year 1939 and for each calendar year thereafter an excise tax, with respect to having individuals in his employ, equal to 3 per centum of the total wages (as defined in section 1607 (b)) paid by him during the calendar year with respect to employment (as defined in section 1607 (c)) after December 31, 1938."

(5) Article 201 [section 400.201, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 201 [Sec. 400.201, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Measure of tax for calendar year 1939. (a) The measure of the tax for the calendar year 1939 is the total amount of wages (without limitation in amount—see article 2 (c) [section 400.2 (c), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]) paid by an employer during such calendar year with respect to employment after December 31, 1938.

"(b) Wages are paid for purposes of the tax imposed for the calendar year 1939 when actually or constructively paid. Wages are constructively paid when they are credited to the account of or set apart for an employee so that they may be drawn upon by him at any time although not then actually reduced to possession. To constitute payment in such a case the wages must be credited or set apart to the employee without any substantial limitation or restriction as to the time or manner of payment or condition upon which payment is to be made, and must be made available to him so that they may be drawn at any time, and their payment brought within his own control and disposition."

(6) Article 202 [section 400.202, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 202 [Sec. 400.202, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Rate and computation of tax for calendar year 1939. The rate of tax applicable for the calendar year 1939 is 3 percent.

"The tax for the calendar year 1939 is computed by applying the 3 percent rate to the total wages (without limitation in amount—see article 2 (c) [section 400.2 (c), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]) paid during such year by the employer with respect to employment after December 31, 1938."

(7) Article 203, as amended by Treasury Decision 4931, approved August 29, 1939 [section 400.203, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended by striking out the last paragraph and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Even if an 'employer' is not subject to any State unemployment compensation law, he is nevertheless subject to the tax. However, if he is subject to such a State law, he is entitled to credit against the tax to the extent permitted by section 1601 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. (See articles 211 (1) and 212 [sections 400.211 (1) and 400.212, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.].)"

(8) Articles 206 and 208, as amended by Treasury Decision 4931,[3] approved August 29, 1939 [sections 400.206 and 400.208, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] and articles 207, 210, and 302 [sections 400.207, 400.210, and 400.302 of such Title 26], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, are each amended by striking out the term "payable" wherever it appears and by inserting in lieu thereof the term "paid"; and such article 210 is further amended by striking out the word "actually" where it appears in paragraph (b) thereof.

(9) Article 209 (a) [section 400.209 (a), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(a) General. Wages paid during the calendar year 1939 with respect to employment after December 31, 1938, include items paid in money and the fair value, at the time of payment, of all items other than money."

(10) The provisions of law under the caption "Section 902 of the Act" preceding article 211, as amended by Treasury Decision 4812,[4] approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.211, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, are stricken out, together with the caption, and the following is inserted in lieu thereof:

SECTION 609 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Section 1601 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 1601. CREDITS AGAINST TAX.

"(a) CONTRIBUTIONS TO STATE UNEMPLOYMENT FUNDS.

"(1) The taxpayer may, to the extent provided in this subsection and subsection (c), credit against the tax imposed by section 1600 the amount of contributions paid by him into an unemployment fund maintained during the taxable year under the unemployment compensation law of a State which is certified for the taxable year as provided in section 1603.

"(2) The credit shall be permitted against the tax for the taxable year only for the amount of contributions paid with respect to such taxable year.

"(3) The credit against the tax for any taxable year shall be permitted only for contributions paid on or before the last day upon which the taxpayer is required under section 1604 to file a return for such year; except that credit shall be permitted for contributions paid after such last day but before July 1 next following such last day, but such credit shall not exceed 90 per centum of the amount which would have been allowable as credit on account of such contributions had they been paid on or before such last day. The preceding provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to the credit against the tax of a taxpayer for any taxable year if such taxpayer's assets, at any time during the period from such last day for filing a return for such year to June 30 next following such last day, both dates inclusive, are in the custody or control of a receiver, trustee, or other fiduciary appointed by, or under the control of, a court of competent jurisdiction.

"(4) Upon the payment of contributions into the unemployment fund of a State which are required under the unemployment compensation law of that State with respect to remuneration on the basis of which, prior to such payment into the proper fund, the taxpayer erroneously paid an amount as contributions under another unemployment compensation law, the payment into the proper fund shall, for purposes of credit against the tax, be deemed to have been made at the time of the erroneous payment. If, by reason of such other law, the taxpayer was entitled to cease paying contributions with respect to services subject to such other law, the payment into the proper fund shall, for purposes of credit against the tax, be deemed to have been made on the date the return for the taxable year was filed under section 1604.

"(5) Refund of the tax (including penalty and interest collected with respect thereto, if any), based on any credit allowable under this section, may be made in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal collection of the tax. No interest shall be allowed or paid on the amount of any such refund.

• • • • •

"(c) LIMIT ON TOTAL CREDITS. The total credits allowed to a taxpayer under this subchapter shall not exceed 90 per centum of the tax against which such credits are allowable."

(11) Article 211, as amended by Treasury Decision 4812, approved June 18, 1938 [section 400.211, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is stricken out and the following new article is inserted in lieu thereof:

"ART. 211 (1) [Sec. 400.211 (1), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Credit against tax for calendar year 1939 for contributions paid—(a) General. Subject to the limitations hereinafter prescribed in paragraph (b), the taxpayer may credit against the tax for the calendar year 1939 the total amount of contributions paid by him under all State laws which have been found by the Social Security Board to contain the provisions specified in section 1603 (a) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; provided that no credit may be taken for a contribution under a State law if such State has not been duly certified for the calendar year to the Secretary by the Social Security Board. The contributions may be credited against the tax whether or not they are paid with respect to employment as defined in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

"(b) Limitations on allowance of contributions as credit against tax. The allowance of contributions as credit against the tax for the calendar year 1939 is subject to the following limitations:

(1) The total credit allowed to any taxpayer for contributions to State unemployment funds shall not exceed 90 percent of the tax against which such credit is applied.

(2) The contributions must have been actually paid into the State unemployment fund. Such payment must have been made on or before the last day upon which the return for the taxable year is required to be filed (see article 303 [section 400.303, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], article 304 [section 400.304, of such Title 26, 1939 Sup.], and article 305 [section 400.305, of such Title 26]), except that:

(i) Contributions may be paid into a State unemployment fund after such last day but before July 1, 1940, and, in such case, may be credited against the tax in an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the amount which would have been allowable as credit on account of such contributions had they been paid into the State unemployment fund on or before such last day. (See examples A, B, and C of this paragraph.)

(ii) Contributions of a taxpayer whose assets, at any time during the period from such last day for filing a return for the calendar year 1939, to June 30, 1940, both dates inclusive, are in the custody or control of a receiver, trustee, or other fiduciary appointed by, or under the control of, a court of competent jurisdiction, may be paid into the State fund at any time (subject, however, to the provisions of article 503 [section 400.503, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] relating to the statutory period of limitations applicable to credits), and upon such payment may be credited against the tax in the same amount that would have been allowable as credit had the contributions been paid on or before the last day upon which the return for the taxable year was required to be filed.

(iii) Contributions for the calendar year 1939 paid into the unemployment fund of a State which are required under the unemployment compensation law of that State, but which are paid with respect to remuneration on the basis of which the taxpayer had, prior to such payment, erroneously paid an amount as contributions under another unemployment compensation law, shall be deemed for purposes of credit to have been paid at the time of the erroneous payment. If, by reason of such other law, the taxpayer was entitled to cease paying contributions for the calendar year 1939 with respect to services subject to such other law, the payment into the proper fund shall be deemed for purposes of credit to have been made on the date the return for the calendar year 1939 was actually filed under section 1604 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act. (See example D of this paragraph.)

(3) The contributions must have been paid with respect to the calendar year 1939. (See examples E and F of this paragraph.)

"Example A, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (2) (i). The Federal return of the M Company for the calendar year 1939 discloses a total tax of $12,000. The company is liable for total State contributions of $8,000 for such year. The due date of the company's Federal return is January 31, 1940, no extension of time for filing the return having been granted. The contributions are not paid until February 1, 1940. If the contributions had been paid on or before January 31, 1940, the entire amount could have been credited against the tax (such amount not exceeding 90 percent of the Federal tax of $12,000). Since the contributions were paid after January 31, but before July 1, 1940, the M Company is entitled to a credit of 90 percent of the amount of the contributions ($8,000), or $7,200, the net liability for Federal tax being $4,800 ($12,000 minus $7,200).

"Example B, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (2) (i). The facts are the same as in example A, except that the M Company is liable for and pays total State contributions of $12,000, instead of $8,000. If the contributions had been paid on or before January 31, 1940, the amount allowable as credit would have been $10,800 (90 percent of the Federal tax of $12,000). Since the contributions were paid after January 31, but before July 1, 1940, the M Company is entitled to a credit of 90 percent of $10,800, or $9,720, the net liability for Federal tax being $2,280 ($12,000 minus $9,720).

"Example C, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (2) (i). The Federal return of the R Company for the calendar year 1939 discloses a total tax of $10,000. The company is liable for total State contributions of $9,000 for such year. The due date of the company's Federal return is January 31, 1940, no extension of time for filing the return having been granted. The R Company pays $8,000 of the total State contributions on or before such date, and the remaining $1,000 on February 1, 1940. If the $1,000 had been paid on or before January 31, 1940, that amount could have been credited against the tax (such amount plus the $8,000 paid on or before January 31, 1940, not exceeding 90 percent of the Federal tax of $10,000). Since the $1,000 was paid after January 31, but before July 1, 1940, the R Company is entitled to a credit of 90 percent of this amount or $900, plus the credit of $8,000 allowable for the contributions paid on or before January 31, 1940. The net liability for Federal tax is thus $1,100 ($10,000 minus $8,900).

"Example D, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (2) (iii): Employer N, whose Federal return for the calendar year 1939 discloses a total tax of $1,000, employs individuals in State X and State Y during the calendar year 1939. N assumes in good faith that the services of his employees are covered by the unemployment compensation law of State Y, and pays as contributions to State Y the amount of $900 based upon the remuneration of the employees. All of the services were in fact covered by the unemployment compensation law of State X, and none by the law of State Y. The payment to State Y was made on January 31, 1940. When the error was discovered thereafter, N paid to State X contributions in the amount of $900 based upon such remuneration. Since the contributions were paid to State Y on January 31, 1940, the contributions to State X are, for purposes of the credit, deemed to have been paid on such date. N is entitled to a credit of $900 against the Federal tax of $1,000, the net liability for Federal tax being $100 ($1,000 minus $900).

"Example E, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (3): Under the unemployment compensation law of State X, employer M is required to report in his contribution return for the quarter ended December 31, 1939, all remuneration payable for services rendered in such quarter. A portion of such remuneration is not paid to his employees until February 1, 1940. On January 20, 1940, M pays to the State the total amount of contributions due with respect to all remuneration so required to be reported. Such contributions, including those with respect to the remuneration paid on February 1, 1940, may be included in computing the credit against the tax for the calendar year 1939. This is true even though the remuneration paid on February 1, 1940 (if it constitutes 'wages') is required to be reported in the Federal return for 1940 and not in the Federal return for 1939.

"Example F, illustrating article 211 (1) (b) (3): Under the unemployment compensation law of State Y, employer N is required to include in his contribution return for the quarter ended December 31, 1939, certain remuneration paid on December 30, 1939, to an employee for services to be rendered after December 31. On January 20, 1940, N pays to the State the total amount of contributions due with respect to all remuneration required to be reported on the contribution return. Such contributions, including those with respect to the remuneration paid on December 30, 1939, may be included in computing the credit against the tax for the calendar year 1939.

"(c) If, subsequent to the filing of the return for the calendar year 1939, a refund is made by a State to the taxpayer of any part of his contributions for such year which had been credited against the tax, the taxpayer is required to advise the Commissioner under oath of the date and amount of such refund and the reason therefor, and to pay the tax, if any, due as a result of such refund, together with interest from the date when the tax was due."

(12) The provisions of law under the captions "Section 909 of the Act" and "Section 910 of the Act" immediately preceding article 212, as amended by Treasury Decision 4876,[1] approved November 30, 1938 [section 400.212, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, are stricken out, together with the captions, and the following is inserted in lieu thereof:

SECTION 609 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Section 1601 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 1601. CREDITS AGAINST TAX.

* * * * *

"(b) ADDITIONAL CREDIT. In addition to the credit allowed under subsection (a), a taxpayer may credit against the tax imposed by section 1600 for any taxable year an amount, with respect to the unemployment compensation law of each State certified for the taxable year as provided in section 1602 (or with respect to any provisions thereof so certified), equal to the amount, if any, by which the contributions required to be paid by him with respect to the taxable year were less than the contributions such taxpayer would have been required to pay if throughout the taxable year he had been subject under such State law to the highest rate applied thereunder in the taxable year to any person having individuals in his employ, or to a rate of 2.7 per centum, whichever rate is lower.

* * * * *."

(13) Article 212, as amended by Treasury Decision 4876, approved November 30, 1938 [section 400.212, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 212 [Sec. 400.212, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Additional credit against tax for calendar year 1939—(a) General. In addition to the credit against the tax allowable under section 1601 (a) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act for contributions actually paid to State unemployment funds (see article 211 (1) [section 400.211 (1), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]), the taxpayer may be entitled to a further credit under section 1601 (b) of such Act. This further or additional credit is allowable to the taxpayer with respect to the amount of contributions which he is relieved from paying to an unemployment fund under the provisions of a State law which have been certified for the calendar year 1939 as provided in section 1602 (b) of such Act. Generally, an additional credit is available to an employer, if, by reason of having stabilized the employment of his employees in any State, or for some other reason, he is permitted to pay contributions to such State for the calendar year 1939, or portion thereof, at a lower rate than the highest rate applied under such law in such year. For the purposes of this article and article 213 [section 400.213, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], the phrase 'highest rate applied' means the highest rate which is actually applied under the State law in the calendar year 1939 to any person having individuals in his employ. The computation of the additional credit and the limitations upon its allowance are set forth in the remaining paragraphs of this article.

"(b) Method of computing amount of additional credit allowable with respect to a State law. (1) In ascertaining the additional credit for the calendar year 1939 with respect to a particular State law as to which the Social Security Board, in accordance with the provisions of section 1602 (b) (1) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, certifies to the Secretary that reduced rates of contributions were allowable with respect to such year only in accordance with the provisions of section 1602 (a) of such Act, the taxpayer must first compute the following amounts:

"(A) The amount of contributions (whether or not with respect to employment as defined in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act) which the taxpayer would have been required to pay under the State law for such year if throughout the year he had been subjected to the highest rate applied under such law in such year, or to a rate of 2.7 percent, whichever rate is lower.

"(B) The amount of contributions (whether or not with respect to employment as defined in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act) he was required to pay under the State law with respect to such year, whether or not paid.

"The amount computed under (B) should then be subtracted from the amount computed under (A), and the result will be the additional credit for the taxable year with respect to the law of that State.

"Example: A employs individuals in State X only during the calendar year 1939. The highest rate applied in such year under the unemployment compensation law of State X to any taxpayer was 3 percent. However, A had obtained a reduced rate of 1 percent under the law of such State and was required to pay his entire year's contributions at that rate. The amount of remuneration of A's employees subject to contributions under such State law was $25,000. The amount of wages paid by A during that year with respect to employment under the Federal law likewise was $25,000, the Federal tax at the 3 percent rate being $750. A's additional credit under section 1601 (b) is $425, computed as follows:

| Remuneration subject to contributions | $25,000 |
| Contributions at 2.7 percent rate | 675 |
| Less: | |
| Additional credit to A | 425 |

"Since the 2.7 percent rate is less than the highest rate applied (3 percent), the 2.7 percent rate is used in computing the amount ($675) from which the amount of contributions required to be paid at the reduced rate ($250) is deducted in order to ascertain the additional credit ($425). Thus, A is entitled to an additional credit under section 1601 (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act of $425.

"(2) If the Social Security Board makes a certification to the Secretary with respect to a particular State law for the calendar year 1939 pursuant to section 1602 (b) (2) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, the additional credit of the taxpayer for such year with respect to such law shall be computed in such manner as the Commissioner shall determine.

"(c) Amount of additional credit allowable where contributions are paid under more than one State law. If the taxpayer is permitted to pay contributions at a reduced rate under more than one State law in the calendar year 1939, the additional credit allowable with respect to each State law shall be computed separately (in accordance with (b) above), and the total additional credit allowable against the tax shall be the aggregate of the additional credits allowable with respect to such State laws.

"(d) Limitations on allowance of additional credit. The allowance of the additional credit under section 1601 (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act is subject to the following limitations:

"(1) In no case is a taxpayer entitled to an additional credit unless under the State law he is permitted to pay contributions for the calendar year 1939, or portion thereof, at a rate which is lower than the highest rate applied under such law in such year. If the State law does not make provision for such a lower rate no additional credit is available to the taxpayer and he can take only the credit allowable under section 1601 (a) of such Act for contributions actually paid. (See article 211 (1) [section 400.211 (1), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.].)

"(2) The aggregate of such additional credit and the credit under section 1601 (a) of such Act (see article 211 (1) [section 400.211 (1), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]) shall not exceed 90 percent of the tax against which credit is taken.

"(3) No additional credit shall be allowed except to the extent that the State unemployment compensation law under which such reduced rate is permitted is certified for the calendar year 1939 to the Secretary by the Social Security Board as meeting the conditions set forth in section 1602 of such Act."

(14) Article 213, as added by Treasury Decision 4876, approved November 30, 1938 [section 400.213, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1938 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"ART. 213 [Sec. 400.213, title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Proof of credit for calendar year 1939—(a) Credit under section 1601 (a) of Federal Unemployment Tax Act. Credit against the tax for contributions paid into State unemployment funds for the calendar year 1939 shall not be allowed unless there is submitted to the Commissioner:

"(1) A certificate of the proper officer of each State (the laws of which required the contributions to be paid) showing, for the taxpayer:

"(A) The total amount of contributions required under the State law with respect to the calendar year 1939 (exclusive of penalties and interest) actually paid on or before the date the Federal return is required to be filed; and

"(B) The amounts and dates of such required payments (exclusive of penalties and interest) actually paid after the date the Federal return is required to be filed.

"(2) An affidavit by the taxpayer that no part of any payment made by him into a State unemployment fund for the calendar year 1939, which is claimed as a credit against the tax, was deducted or is to be deducted from the wages of individuals in his employ.

"(3) Such other or additional proof as the Commissioner may deem necessary to establish the right to the credit provided for under section 1601 (a) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

"(b) Additional credit under section 1601 (b) of Federal Unemployment Tax Act. Additional credit under section 1601 (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act shall not be allowed unless there is submitted to the Commissioner, in addition to the proof required by paragraph (a) above:

"(1) A certificate of the proper officer of each State (with respect to the law of which the additional credit is claimed) showing, for the taxpayer who is permitted to pay contributions to such State at a rate which is lower than the highest rate applied under the law of such State:

"(A) The total remuneration with respect to which contributions were required to be paid by the taxpayer under the State law for the calendar year 1939;

"(B) The rate of contributions applied to the taxpayer under the State law for the calendar year 1939;

"(C) The total amount of contributions the taxpayer was required to pay under the State law with respect to the calendar year 1939, whether or not paid; and

"(D) The highest rate of contributions applied under the State law in the calendar year 1939 to any taxpayer having individuals in his employ.

"If under the law of such State different rates of contributions were applied to the taxpayer during particular periods of the calendar year 1939, the certificate shall set forth the information called for in (A), (B), and (C) with respect to each such period, as well as the total amount of contributions the taxpayer was required to pay under such law, whether or not paid, and the information called for in (D).

"(2) Such other or additional proof as the Commissioner may deem necessary to establish the right to the additional credit provided for under section 1601 (b) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act."

(15) The following provisions of law under the caption "Section 905 (b) of the Act" preceding article 300, as amended by Treasury Decision 4931, approved August 29, 1939 [section 400.300, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, are stricken out:

* * * The Commissioner may extend the time for filing the return of the tax imposed by this title, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, but no such extension shall be for more than sixty days. * * *

(16) Immediately preceding the caption "Section 1102 of the Revenue Act of 1926, made applicable by section 905 (b) of the Act" preceding article 300, as amended by Treasury Decision 4931, approved August 29, 1939 [section 400.300, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, the following is inserted:

SECTION 612 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Section 1604 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"(b) EXTENSION OF TIME FOR FILING.—The Commissioner may extend the time for filing the return of the tax imposed by this subchapter, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe with the approval of the Secretary, but no such extension shall be for more than ninety days."

(17) Article 304 [section 400.304, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended by striking out "60 days" where that phrase appears in the second sentence of such article, and by inserting in lieu thereof "90 days".

(18) Article 307 (a) [section 400.307 (a), Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Every person subject to the tax shall, with respect to the calendar year 1939, keep such permanent records as are necessary to establish:

"(1) The total amount of remuneration paid during the calendar year 1939 to his employees in cash or in a medium other than cash, showing separately, (a) total remuneration paid with respect to services not subject to the tax, performed within the United States, (b) total remuneration paid with respect to services performed outside of the United States, and (c) total remuneration paid with respect to all other services.

[1] 3 F. R. 2863 DI.

"(2) The amount of contributions paid by him into each State unemployment fund, with respect to services subject to the law of such State, showing separately (a) payments made and not deducted (or to be deducted) from the remuneration of employees, and (b) payments made and deducted (or to be deducted) from the remuneration of employees.

"(3) The information required to be shown on the prescribed return and the extent to which such person is liable for the tax."

(19) Immediately preceding article 504 [section 400.504, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], only as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, the following is inserted:

SECTION 609 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939.

Section 1601 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 1601. CREDITS AGAINST TAX.

* * * * *

"(5) Refunds of the tax (including penalty and interest collected with respect thereto, if any), based on any credit allowable under this section, may be made in accordance with the provisions of law applicable in the case of erroneous or illegal collection of the tax. No interest shall be allowed or paid on the amount of any such refund.

"ART. 503 5/6 [Sec. 400.503 5/6, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] Refund under section 1601 (a) (5) of Federal Unemployment Tax Act. If the tax against which an amount is allowable as credit under section 1601 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act has been paid without the benefit of such credit, the taxpayer shall be entitled to a refund of the tax equal to the amount of such allowable credit. (See articles 211 (1), 212, and 213 [sections 400.211 (1), 400.212, and 400.213, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], relating, respectively, to credit against the tax for contributions paid, additional credit, and proof of credit, for the calendar year 1939.) The taxpayer shall also be entitled to a refund of the amount of interest or penalty, if any, collected from him with respect to the amount of tax refunded. No interest, however, shall be allowed or paid by the Government on the amount of any such refund. Every claim for such refund shall be made on Form 843 in accordance with the provisions of this article and article 503 [section 400.503, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], relating to refund and credit of taxes erroneously collected. A claim which does not comply with these requirements will not be considered for any purpose as a claim for refund."

(This Treasury Decision is issued under the authority contained in section 1609 of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (subchapter C of chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code) (53 Stat., Part 1), and sections 608, 609, 612, and 615 of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 (Public, No. 379, 76th Cong., 1st sess.))

[Docket No. 512-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF MIDLAND ELECTRIC COAL CORPORATION FOR EXEMPTION

ORDER OF DISCONTINUANCE

An application dated February 7, 1938, pursuant to the provisions of the second paragraph of Section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 having been filed by Midland Electric Coal Corporation (hereinafter referred to as the applicant) with the National Bituminous Coal Commission, which has been succeeded by the Bituminous Coal Division, for an order granting exemption from Section 4 of said Act of transactions in coal in intrastate commerce between the applicant and Hiram Walker & Sons, Inc., on the ground that such transactions do not directly affect interstate commerce in coal; and

Counsel for the applicant and counsel for the Bituminous Coal Division having entered into a stipulation dated November 7, 1939, to which District Board No. 10 has agreed, consenting to the withdrawal and discontinuance of the above application; and

Counsel for the applicant and counsel for the Bituminous Coal Division having consented to this Order;

It is ordered, That the above application for exemption be discontinued and that the above matter be dismissed subject to terms and conditions of said stipulation.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION FOR REVIEW OF DETERMINATION GRANTING APPLICATION FOR PARTIAL EXEMPTION OF THE OPEN-CUT PLACER GOLD MINING INDUSTRY AS A SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Whereas application has been made by the Arctic Circle Exploration Company and sundry other parties under Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and Regulations, Part 526, as amended (Regulations applicable to Industries of a Seasonal Nature), issued by the Administrator thereunder, for partial exemption of the open-cut placer gold mining industry from the maximum hours provisions of Section 7 (a) of said Act pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) applicable to industries found by the Administrator to be of a seasonal nature; and

Whereas a public hearing on said application was held before Harold Stein, the representative of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, duly authorized to take testimony, hear argument, and determine whether or not the open-cut placer gold mining industry or any subdivision thereof is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and Part 526 of Regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas, following such hearing, the said Harold Stein duly made his findings of fact and determined as follows:

"1. The open-cut mining of placer gold in the States of Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and the Territory of Alaska, is a branch of the open-cut placer gold mining industry as defined in the Notice of Hearing; and

"2. The mining of placer gold from surface or open cuts in the above-defined area is characterized by annually recurrent cessation of operations caused by freezing temperatures and water shortage; and

"3. Except for maintenance, repair, and sales work the open-cut mining of placer gold in the above-defined area ceases completely at regularly recurring times of the year for a period of approximately six months or more in each part of the area, because due to climatic and other natural causes the materials used by the industry are not available in the form in which they are handled or processed; and

"4. The open-cut mining of placer gold in the above-defined area is a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder.

"The application is granted.

"This determination is without prejudice to a determination on applications from other placer gold producing states and territories"; and

Whereas said Findings and Determination were duly filed with the Acting Administrator on November 10, 1939, and are now on file in Room 5144, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., and available for examination by all interested parties:

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of Section 526.7 of the aforesaid Regulations, notice is hereby given that any person aggrieved by the said determination may, within fifteen days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file a petition with the Acting Administrator requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of hearing before the said representative.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 14 day of November 1939.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

BUREAU OF ENTOMOLOGY AND PLANT QUARANTINE

[B.E.P.Q.—Q. 52]

MODIFICATION OF PINK BOLLWORM QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

Introductory Note

The recent finding of pink bollworm infestations in the vicinity of San Angelo, Tex., and at points in the surrounding area again necessitates an extension of the regulated area. Under this amendment there is added the entire Texas counties of Concho, Irion, Mitchell, Sterling, and Tom Green, and that part of Coke County lying southwest of and including the right-of-way of Highway No. 87. No other change is made in this amendment. Regulations 3 and 4, which were revised on September 11, 1939, are again brought forward as part of the current document, for the convenience of shippers and others, and amendment No. 2 is superseded.

LEE A. STRONG,
Chief.

AMENDMENT NO. 3 TO THE REVISED REGULATIONS SUPPLEMENTAL TO NOTICE OF QUARANTINE NO. 52

Under authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912 (37 Stat. 315), as amended by the Act of Congress approved March 4, 1917 (39 Stat. 1134, 1165), it is ordered that regulation 2 (Sec. 301.52–2) of the revised regulations supplemental to Notice of Quarantine No. 52 (Sec. 301.52) on account of the pink bollworm, which were promulgated March 7, 1939, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Regulation 2

§ 301.52–2 Regulated areas. The following areas are hereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of these regulations and are further classed as heavily or lightly infested:

Heavily infested areas.—Texas. Counties of Brewster, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, and Terrell, and all of Hudspeth County, except that part of the northwest corner of said county lying north and west of a ridge of desert land extending from the banks of the Rio Grande northeasterly through the desert immediately west of the town of McNary, such ridge being an extension of the northwest boundary line of section 11, block 65½.

Lightly infested areas—Arizona. Counties of Cochise, Graham, Greenlee, Maricopa, Pinal, and Santa Cruz, and all of Pima County [1] except that part lying west of the western boundary line of range 8 east.

New Mexico. Counties of Chaves, Dona Ana, Eddy, Grant, Hidalgo, Lea, Luna, Otero, Roosevelt, Sierra, Socorro, and Valencia.

Texas. Counties of Andrews, Brooks, Cameron, Cochran, Concho, Crane, Dawson, Dimmit, Duval, Ector, El Paso, Frio, Gaines, Glasscock, Hidalgo, Hockley, Howard, Irion, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kenedy, Kleberg, La Salle, Loving, Martin, Maverick, Midland, Mitchell, Nueces, Pecos, Reeves, Starr, Sterling, Terry, Tom Green, Upton, Ward, Webb, Willacy, Winkler, Yoakum, Zapata, and Zavala; that part of Bailey County lying south of the following-described boundary line: Beginning on the east line of said county where the county line intersects the northern boundary line of league 207; thence west following the northern boundary line of leagues 207, 203, 191, 188, 175, and 171 to the northeast corner of league 171; thence south on the western line of league 171 to the northeast corner of the W. H. L. survey; thence west along the northern boundary of the W. H. L. survey and the northern boundary of sections 68, 67, 66, 65, 64, 63, 62, 61, and 60 of block A of the M. B. & B. survey to the western boundary of said county; that part of Coke County lying southwest of and including the right-of-way of High-

[1] Part of the lightly infested area in Arizona is regulated on account of the Thurberia weevil under quarantine No. 61, and shipments therefrom must comply with the requirements of that quarantine.

Regulation 3

§ 301.52–3 Articles the interstate movement of which is restricted or prohibited—(a) Articles prohibited movement. The interstate movement from any regulated area of gin trash and cotton waste from gins and mills, and all untreated or unmanufactured cotton products other than seed cotton, cotton lint and linters, either baled or unbaled, cottonseed, cottonseed hulls, and cottonseed meal and cake is prohibited.

(b) Articles authorized interstate movement. Seed cotton, cotton lint and linters, either baled or unbaled, cottonseed, cottonseed hulls, cottonseed meal and cake, and okra may be moved interstate from regulated areas as prescribed herein.[1]

§ 301.52–4 Conditions governing the issuance of certificates—(a) Cotton lint and linters. A certificate may be issued for the interstate movement of cotton lint or linters, either baled or unbaled, originating in a regulated area when they have been ginned in an approved gin and have been passed in bat form between heavy steel rollers set not more than 1/64 inch apart, or have been given approved vacuum fumigation under the supervision of an inspector: Provided, That lint produced in a lightly infested area may be given standard or high density compression in lieu of either rolling or fumigation: Provided further, That certificates may be issued for the interstate movement of linters produced from sterilized seed originating in a lightly infested area when produced in an authorized oil mill.

(b) Cottonseed. A certificate may be issued for the interstate movement of cottonseed produced in a regulated area when it has been ginned in an approved gin and has been sterilized under the supervision of an inspector by heat treatment at a required temperature of 150° F. for a period of 30 seconds: Provided, That certificates may be issued for interstate movement of sterilized cottonseed originating in heavily infested areas only to contiguous regulated areas for processing in authorized oil mills.

(c) Cottonseed hulls, cake, and meal. Certificates may be issued for the interstate movement of cottonseed hulls, cake, and meal produced from sterilized seed originating in a regulated area when these products have been processed in an authorized oil mill under the supervision of an inspector.

(d) Seed cotton. The interstate movement of seed cotton will be allowed only from lightly infested areas into contiguous regulated areas for the purpose of ginning for which movement no permit is required.

(e) Okra. Certificates may be issued for the interstate movement of okra under any one of the following conditions: (1) When inspected by an inspector and found to be free from infestation; (2) when produced under such conditions as to render it free from infestation; (3) when processed or treated in accordance with methods which may be determined and approved by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

(f) Movement to contiguous infested area. No certificates are required for the interstate movement of restricted articles from a lightly infested area to a contiguous, lightly or heavily infested area, or from a heavily infested area to a contiguous heavily infested area.[1]

This amendment shall be effective on and after November 20, 1939, and shall, on that date, supersede amendment No. 2, which became effective on September 25, 1939.

Done at the city of Washington this 15th day of November 1939.

For the information of producers of gum naval stores in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas, this bulletin explains the procedure to be followed in order to qualify for payments under the Naval Stores Conservation Program for 1940.

§ 706.100 Authority and availability of funds. Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of section 7 (a) of the said Act, in 1940, payments and grants of aid will be made for participation in the 1940 Naval Stores Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1940 Naval Stores Conservation Program are subject to such legislation relating to said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact, and the making of the payments herein provided for is contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; the amounts of such payments and grants of aid will be finally determined by such appropriation and by the extent of participation in the program. Any increase or decrease in rates of payments and deductions because of the extent of participation in the program will not be in excess of 10 per cent.*

§ 706.101 Definition of terms—(a) Turpentine farm—the land and turpentine timber owned or leased, or operated on a share-crop basis, and under one management and in one general locality, which is being operated for the production of gum naval stores.

(b) Gum naval stores—crude gum (oleoresin), gum turpentine, and gum rosin produced from living trees. Gum naval stores does not include naval stores produced from dead timber, stumps, knots, etc.

(c) Producer—any person or persons, firm, partnership or corporation doing business as a single legal entity and producing gum naval stores from timber under fee ownership, cash lease, percentage lease, or other form of control, or working the timber on shares.

(d) Face—the whole wound or aggregate of streaks made by chipping, streaking, or pulling live trees to stimulate the flow of gum.

(e) Cup—a metal, clay or other container hung on or below the face to accumulate the flow of gum.

(f) Tins—the gutters or aprons, made of sheet metal or other material, used to aid in conducting the crude gum (oleoresin) from a face into a cup.

(g) Crop—10,000 turpentine faces.

(h) Drift or tract—a portion or subdivision of a "crop" set apart for convenience of operation.

(i) D. b. h.—diameter breast height, i. e., diameter of tree measured at breast height or 4½ feet from the ground.

(j) Turpentine season—the entire calendar year or, if a farm is operated less than the full calendar year, that period within the calendar year during which a producer is operating his turpentine farm for the production of gum naval stores.

(k) Application—the prescribed form of application for payment for cooperating in the 1940 Naval Stores Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1940 program).*

§ 706.103 Kind of payments. Payment will be made to producers who in 1940 carry out the following approved practices with respect to turpentine farms currently being worked in 1940, beginning such cooperation on or within time limits to be established by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as Forest Service) as appropriate and practicable time limits necessary to afford full opportunity to producers to cooperate in the program and to obtain a full measure of compliance with the objectives of the program.*

§ 706.104 Conditions of payment—Performance required. In order to qualify for payment, producers shall meet the following requirements:

(a) No faces (either old or new) shall be operated during the 1940 turpentine season on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h. on any turpentine farm or farms owned or leased by the applicant producer.

(b) No tree that is less than 14 inches d. b. h. shall have more than one face worked during the 1940 turpentine season on the entire turpentine farm or farms owned or leased by the applicant producer.

(c) Payment will be made on working of virgin faces if all virgin faces on entire operation are on trees 10 inches d. b. h. or larger.

(d) Each participating producer shall make a net reduction in the number of operating faces in 1940 to the extent and in the manner as hereinafter prescribed. The number of faces operated in 1938, plus the number of faces acquired with base or minus the number of faces transferred with base during the 1939 program, will be used as 100%, except in the case of a new producer in 1939 in which case the number of faces operated by such new producer in 1939 will be used as 100%: Provided, That where a producer has acquired from another producer (who, if operating in 1940, is a participant in the 1940 program), by lease, purchase or other form of control, prior to the final date for the filing of work sheets, an additional turpentine farm or portion thereof, which had been worked by said other producer in 1938 (or for the first time in 1939), he may use as his base (i. e., 100 per cent) the number of faces represented by such acquisition, in addition to the number of faces which he worked in 1938 (or for the first time in 1939), for the purpose of determining the percentage of reduction required under paragraph (e) of this section, and if such addition to the base is made and stated on a filed work sheet, together with evidence of the consent thereto by the producer from whom acquired, the same number of faces as acquired by the one producer shall be deducted from the base of the other producer. No transfer of base will be recognized where the faces involved average, by drifts or tracts, more than 90 inches in height on January 1, 1940, except where the entire farm is transferred. No payment will be made for faces discontinued in 1940 unless (a) the timber is owned in fee simple, or (b) the producer held such timber under lease during the 1939 season, or (c) such timber is part or all of a turpentine farm sold or transferred in its entirety. In cases where one producer secures faces from another producer who operated such turpentine farm, or portion thereof, in 1938 (or for the first time in 1939), but who, if still operating in 1940, is not a participant in the 1940 program, said faces shall not become a part of the base of the operator who acquires them.

(e) Each participating producer will be allowed a quota of working faces in 1940 equal to 80% of his base as determined by the provisions of the preceding paragraph (d). The producer may not elect to make any part of the 20% required reduction on faces under 90 inches in height and receive pay therefor, if faces over 90 inches in height were a part of his base.

The producer shall be permitted to make a larger net reduction than is indicated above from the total of his base but will not receive payment for such net reduction of discontinued faces (that are 90 inches or less in height at the beginning of the 1940 season) in excess of 40 per cent of his base. By "net reduction" is meant that the number of faces being worked in 1940 (including virgin or other acquired faces) must be as much less than the producer's base as the number of discontinued faces (up to 40%) on which payment will be made. Said 40 per cent limitation shall not apply to such faces discontinued in 1940 on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h., and on trees between 9 and 14 inches d. b. h., as required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Payment shall be restricted to such discontinued faces on which producer retains ownership, lease or other form of control throughout the period of the 1940 program. Any producer whose base is less than one crop (10,000 faces) may either discontinue any part or all of his faces and receive pay for all such faces that are less than 90 inches in height at the beginning of the 1940 season, or will be permitted to participate in the program with the renewal of only those faces as required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

Any producer (individual, firm or corporation) participating in the program who permits his labor to operate timber which he had under his control in 1939 but which he cannot operate under the terms of the 1940 program or who assists in any manner in the operation of such timber, the processing or sale of the gum therefrom, either directly or through relatives or through any officer or member of the firm or corporation, shall not be eligible to participate in the program.

(f) Faces discontinued by new participants in the 1940 program (i. e., who have not participated in previous programs) on trees under 9 inches d. b. h. and on trees between 9 and 14 inches d. b. h., as required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, may apply as part of the percentage of reduction required and permitted under paragraph (e) of this section.

(g) All faces discontinued under this program shall be discontinued by drifts or tracts with the exception of faces discontinued on trees under 9 inches d. b. h. and on trees between 9 and 14 inches as required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(h) Cups and tins must be removed from discontinued faces on trees under 9 inches d. b. h., and on trees between 9 and 14 inches d. b. h., but need not be removed from the area.

All drifts or tracts must have their boundaries clearly marked in the field either by fresh blazes, paint or natural boundaries such as roads, streams, etc. No check of the turpentine farm will be made until all drifts are distinctly marked.

(i) Total streaks per face made during the period of the 1940 program, averaged by drifts or tracts, shall not exceed 18 inches in vertical measurement on the high side between shoulders of first streak and shoulders of last streak. Violation of this regulation shall mean cancellation of all benefit payments for entire operation. The producer, at the beginning of the 1940 streaking season, shall mark the point of beginning of 1940 streaks on at least 25 per cent of the faces well distributed throughout each drift with a permanent mark so that the season's height up the tree may be accurately measured at the end of the 1940 season.

(j) Payment shall not be made on faces in production which do not average, by drifts or tracts, at least 12 streaks for the 1940 season and such streaks shall have been made at no greater frequency than two streaks per week.

(k) Payment shall not be made on faces either retained in production or taken out of production in any drift or tract where the average height of faces exceeds 90 inches at the beginning of the 1940 turpentine season, in vertical measurement on the high side between shoulders of first streak and shoulders of last streak, including jump streaks.

(l) Payment shall not be made on faces taken out, or remaining out, of production pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) in any drift or tract (1) unless such faces have 8 streaks which were made during the 1939 season at no greater frequency than two streaks per week, (2) unless such faces were discontinued under the 1939 program, or (3) unless such faces were discontinued under the 1938 or 1937 and 1938 programs and kept out of production under the 1939 or 1938 and 1939 programs respectively, and (4) unless the cups on all such faces were first installed during or after the season of 1936.

(m) No tree shall have any new (first year) back face unless a bark-bar on each side of the back face is provided and maintained throughout the 1940 season, the total of the two being not less than 7 inches in width, measured horizontally along the bark surface; provided, however, that the restriction with respect to the width of the bark-bar shall not apply to any tree which has on it two or more old faces.

(n) Any person having part ownership and control of more than one turpentine farm shall have the right and privilege of consolidating two or more such farms for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this program.

(o) In the event of a loan program being set up for producers during 1940, only those producers who are participating in the program will be eligible for loans except as provided in paragraph (p) of this section; furthermore, loans shall not be made to any producer whose entire operation consists of more than 75 per cent of new (virgin) faces.

(p) The provisions of the 1940 Naval Stores Conservation Program as contained in this bulletin are not applicable to producers on such portion of their operations as may be within the public domain of the United States, including land owned by the United States and administered by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, and other lands in which the beneficial ownership is in the United States: Provided, however, That such producers shall have the privilege of borrowing under any loan program which may be set up for naval stores producers during 1940.

(q) The applicant producer shall protect from fire all forest land of any kind within the turpentine farm owned, leased or otherwise controlled by him during the 1940 turpentine season to the best of his ability, and in doing so shall cooperate with the State and Federal Governments in any cooperative forest fire protective system that exists contiguous to his turpentine farm or within the area within which such farm is situated; provided that the producer shall not be required to pay the cost of fire protection on land not owned by him unless so stipulated in the terms of his lease. He shall be required, however, to so conduct his operations in all cases in such manner as will prevent fires escaping to adjoining forest land whether protected or not.

(r) The applicant producer, in order to provide for restocking and to promote continued production of timber upon which the naval stores, pulp and paper, lumber, and other wood-using industries are dependent, shall, in any and all cutting of timber under his ownership or control during the 1940 season, meet or exceed the following minimum requirements:

In cutting operations on turpentine areas—

(1) All worked-out turpentine, defective and non-turpentine trees may be cut, provided at least 6 thrifty seed trees 8 inches or more in diameter at the stump (12 inches above the ground) outside bark, per acre, are left uncut, or provided sufficient young growth (at least 150 trees per acre 6 to 8 feet high) is left uncut; no round trees, except such as are defective or where thinnings are needed, shall be cut; thinnings may be made but in such case there shall be left not less than 50 trees per acre 6 to 9 inches in diameter, outside bark, at the stump (12 inches above the ground).

(2) In all other cutting operations at least 4 thrifty seed trees per acre 8 inches or more in diameter, outside bark, at the stump (12 inches above the ground) shall be left uncut unless sufficient young growth (at least 150 trees per acre 6 to 8 feet high) is left standing.

Such standards have been adopted by members of the American Pulpwood Association in the southern and southeastern United States, who have committed themselves to cooperate with the naval stores industry in the salvage and cutting of worked-out turpentine timber.

Payment on working faces shall not be made if the tree is cut or removed prior to the expiration of the 1940 program. Payment on discontinued or removed faces shall not be made if the tree is cut or removed prior to inspection by the Forest Service, and unless permission in writing is furnished by the Forest Service to the producer authorizing such cutting or removal.

(s) Each applicant producer in measuring his trees to determine those on which operation shall respectively be continued or discontinued under the 1940 program shall make an accurate count, by drifts, lots, or other suitable units, of all faces separately as to those that are to remain in operation and those which are not; and he shall make and keep a written record thereof; and such record shall be made available to any field inspector who is responsible for inspecting his operations under the program. Each producer who files a work sheet shall assist the representatives of the Forest Service in the administration of the 1940 program by giving them free access to his turpentine farm, indicating the location of trees and faces recorded on the work sheet, furnishing competent labor to assist the inspector in counting trees, and otherwise facilitating the work of the inspectors in checking compliance with the terms and condition of the program. All drifts or tracts must be clearly marked either by paint or blazes so that drift or tract lines can be traced in the field without a guide.*

§ 706.105 Rates of payment. In connection with the utilization, during the period of the 1940 program, of land devoted to growing trees suitable for and used in the production of gum naval stores, on all turpentine farms operated in accordance with the conditions hereinabove set forth, payment will be made to each participating producer at the following rates:

(a) ¾ of 1 cent per face for each face in continuous operation during the 1940 turpentine season including virgin faces provided all virgin faces installed are on trees over 10 inches d. b. h., except faces in drifts or tracts which, by drifts or tracts, average more than 90 inches in height at the beginning of the 1940 season.

(b) 5 cents per face for any one face of one or more faces on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h., and for any one face of two or more faces on trees 9 to 14 inches d. b. h.; on which work is discontinued during the 1940 season, or which was taken out of operation during the 1937, 1938 or 1939 programs, and kept out of operation during succeeding programs including 1940, for which payment was made in previous programs, and which was first installed during or after the 1936 season.

(c) 4 cents per face for each face of the net reduction of faces over 9 inches d. b. h. and under 90 inches in height at the beginning of the 1940 season for all such faces up to 40 per cent of the base, provided that the producer shall retain control of such discontinued faces throughout the period of the 1940 season.

(d) Payments limited to $10,000. The total of all payments made in connection with programs for 1940 under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to any individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places located within a single state, territory, or possession, shall not exceed the sum of $10,000. The total of all payments made in connection with programs for 1940 under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to any person other than an individual, partnership, or estate with respect to farms, ranching units, and turpentine places in the United States (including Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico) shall not exceed the sum of $10,000.

(e) All or any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to any person under said Act may be withheld or required to be returned if he has adopted or participated in adopting any scheme or device, including the formation of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or by any other means, which was designed to evade, or had the effect of evading the provisions of this section.

(f) The total payment computed for any producer with respect to his turpentine farm shall be increased as follows:

(1) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.00.

(2) Any payment amounting to more than 71 cents but less than $1.00 shall be increased by 40 per cent.

(3) Any payment amounting to $1.00 or more shall be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

| Amount of payment computed: | | Increase in payment |
|---|---|---|
| $1.00 to | $1.99 | $0.40 |
| $2.00 to | $2.99 | $0.80 |

| $186.00 to | $199.99 | (1) |
| $200.00 and over | | (2) |

[1] Increase to $200.00.

(g) There shall be deducted from the payments to each producer his pro rata share of all or such part as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe of the estimated expenses incurred or to be incurred in the administration of the 1940 program.*

§ 706.106 Application and eligibility for payment—(a) Filing of work sheet and application. Payments will be made upon the basis of facts established in an application for payment properly executed on a prescribed form and filed in a district or regional office of the Forest Service. Each person filing an application for payment will be required to show that a work sheet has been properly executed covering each turpentine farm owned, leased, or otherwise controlled, and being operated by him, with respect to which an application for payment is filed.

An application for payment may be made (1) by any producer who is actively engaged in the production of gum naval stores during the 1940 season; (2) by any person who was so engaged during 1939, or who participated in the 1939 program on land owned, leased, or otherwise controlled by him; or (3) by such other persons as may be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture.

(b) Time limit for filing work sheets and applications. Work sheets and applications shall be filed in the manner prescribed and within time limits established by the Forest Service as reasonably affording opportunity to producers to participate in the benefits of the program, and keeping the administrative costs within the budget and as low as reasonably may be reached.

(c) Producer eligible for payments. Payment will be made to the producer who operates the turpentine farm and who executes the application for payment. In the event one producer conducts the operation of a turpentine farm during a portion of the 1940 turpentine season and another producer (or producers) conducts the operation of the turpentine farm during the remainder of the season, payment will be made to the producer who last conducts the operation of the turpentine farm during the season, or the payments shall be divided between such producers on the basis of a mutual agreement between them.

(d) Time of payment. Payment will be made as soon as practicable after a final field inspection of the turpentine farm on which a work sheet has been filed and after an application for payment has been filed with respect to such farm.

(e) Assignments. In order to carry out the provisions of Section 8 (g) of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act as amended and as modified by the last proviso to the item entitled "Conservation and Use of Agricultural Land Resources, Department of Agriculture" contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1940:

Any producer who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1940

Naval Stores Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1940. No such assignment will be recognized unless the assignment is made in writing on Form ACP-69 in accordance with instructions (ACP-70) as amended) issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, witnessed, however, by a district supervisor or an inspector of the Forest Service, and filed in the Regional Office of the Forest Service, Atlanta, Georgia, or in the office of the appropriate district supervisor of the Forest Service, located in Jacksonville, Florida; Savannah, Georgia; or Pensacola, Florida.

The foregoing provision shall not be construed to give an assignee a right to any payment other than that to which the producer is entitled, and the statute provides that the Secretary of Agriculture and any disbursing agent shall not be subject to any suit or liability if the payment is made to the producer without regard to the existence of any assignment."

§ 706.107 Administration. The field work in connection with this program shall be administered by the Forest Service through the office of the Regional Forester, United States Forest Service, Glenn Building, Atlanta, Georgia."

AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE

PART 102—AMENDMENT NO. 2 TO GRAIN WAREHOUSE REGULATIONS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the United States Warehouse Act, approved August 11, 1916 (39 Stat. 490), as amended, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do make, prescribe, publish, and give public notice of the following amendment to the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture for grain warehousemen, promulgated May 9, 1931, under said Act, such amendment to be effective immediately.

Amend Section 102.105 (Reg. 11, Sec. 3) to read as follows:

"The chief of the Service may approve as Registrar of warehouse receipts issued for grain in licensed elevators operating in any terminal market or in any futures contract market the official designated by the State in which such market is located, if such an official position has been created by law, or any other individual, provided such individual is not an employee of, or the owner of, any such licensed elevator, or the owner of, or an employee of the owner of, grain deposited in any such licensed elevator."

"Sections 102.103–102.111 (Reg. 11) apply only to warehousemen operating in such markets as may have been heretofore or may be hereafter designated as futures contract markets, and Sections 102.103–102.107 (Reg. 11, Secs. 1–5) apply also to warehousemen operating in such markets as the Department may view as terminal markets, and the appointment heretofore or hereafter of a Registrar of warehouse receipts, as provided in Section 102.105 (Reg. 11, Sec. 3) is conclusive that the Department views such market as a terminal market for purposes of the Warehouse Act. All other regulations issued under the Act and applicable to grain warehousemen shall apply to warehousemen operating in such terminal or futures contract markets except as such regulations may conflict with this regulation."

Done at Washington this 15th day of November 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

[Amendment 4 to B.A.I. Order 309]

SUBCHAPTER C—INTERSTATE SHIPMENT OF ANIMALS AND POULTRY

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE INTERSTATE MOVEMENT OF LIVESTOCK

Under the authority conferred by law upon the Secretary of Agriculture, the regulations governing the interstate movement of livestock (B.A.I., Order 309), issued under date of March 5, 1928, and effective May 1, 1928, as amended, are hereby further amended by striking out the words "saponified cresol solution" and substituting in lieu thereof the words "cresylic disinfectant" in the following places:

Regulation 1, section 6, paragraphs 1 (a) and 2; regulation 6, section 2, paragraph 2 (e).[1]

This amendment, which for the purpose of identification is designated as Amendment 4 to B.A.I. Order 309, shall be effective on and after January 2, 1940.

Done at Washington this 15th day of November 1939.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

CHAPTER III—CLAIMS AND ACCOUNTS

PART 38—ALLOTMENTS OF PAY[1]

§ 38.1 Definitions—(a) Allotment. The word "allotment" as used herein refers to a definite portion of the pay of an officer, Army nurse, warrant officer, enlisted man, contract surgeon, or permanent civilian employee of the War Department which is authorized to be paid to another person, or institution, in a manner prescribed by the Secretary of War. Allotments of pay are purely voluntary acts of the allotters; they carry no corresponding allowance or other obligation of the Government and require no administrative adjudication to become effective. They are revocable at the will of the allotter and vest no property right in the allottee unless and until they have been paid to the allottee. (See 10 Comp. Dec. 208; 2 Comp. Gen. 144) Mere issuance of a check for the allotment does not constitute payment thereof. The allotment has not been paid until the check has been collected or negotiated by the payee. See 16 Comp. Dec. 151; 24 id. 734.

(b) Allotter. The "allotter" is the person who makes the allotment.

(c) Allottee. The "allottee" is the person or institution to whom the allotment is made payable.

(d) Military personnel—(1) Active duty. Commissioned officers (including retired officers on active duty), Reserve officers ordered to active duty for 6 months or more, Army nurses, warrant officers, contract surgeons, and enlisted men.

(2) Retired. Commissioned officers, Army nurses, warrant officers, and enlisted men, retired from active duty.

(e) Permanent civilian employees. Civilian employees whose services are engaged with the intention of retaining them permanently in the service are considered "permanent employees." (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 10 U.S.C. 894; 52 Stat. 354) [Par. 2, A.R. 35–5520, Sept. 15, 1939]

§ 38.2 Effect of desertion or dishonorable discharge—(a) Allottee not entitled to payment. (1) Allotments do not give a vested right to the money allotted, and an allottee is not entitled to be paid the amount of an allotment made by a person who deserted, or who was dishonorably discharged with forfeiture of all pay and allowances, before payment of the allotment could be made. MS. Comp. Dec., January 7, 1910, and October 17, 1907.

(2) If the allottee failed to reduce the allotment to possession prior to the enlisted man's dishonorable discharge from the service with forfeiture of all pay and allowances then due, payment of the allotment is not authorized. MS. Comp. Dec., October 17, 1907.

(b) Where payment has been made prior to report of desertion. If, however, payment to the allottee was made between the date of commencement of the unauthorized absence and date when the enlisted man was reported as a deserter the amount so paid should be allowed as an offset in settling the enlisted man's accounts. MS. Comp. Dec., April 26, 1911, (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 10 U.S.C. 894; 52 Stat. 354) [Par. 27, A.R. 35–5520, Sept. 15, 1939]

§ 38.3 Effect of death of allotter. Allotments are in the nature of powers of attorney, which are revoked by the death of the principal. The Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., will make no further payments of an allotment after receipt of advice of the allotter's death, even though it is known that deductions were made from the allotter's pay and not paid to the allottee, such amounts become a part of the estate of the allotter and will be settled upon presentation of claim by the General Accounting Office, Washington, D. C. See 10 Comp. Dec. 208; 26 id. 855. (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 10 U.S.C. 894; 52 Stat. 354) [Par. 28, A.R. 35–5520, Sept. 15, 1939]

§ 38.4 Effect of death of allottee—(a) Action taken by paying officer. Upon receipt of information of the death of any person to whom an allotment is payable by him, the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., will report the death to the officer responsible for the preparation and submission of allotments.

(b) Return of allotment checks. When allotment checks are not collected or negotiated prior to the death of the allottee, even though indorsed, the amounts thereof do not become a part of the allottee's estate or subject to any expense incurred by, or on behalf of, the allottee before or after death. (See 26 Comp. Dec. 855) All such checks should be returned to the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C. Unless the allotter has been separated from the service and has received final payment, the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., will upon receipt of the returned check give authority to credit the amount on the current pay rolls or pay vouchers. (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 10 U.S.C. 894; 52 Stat. 354) [Par. 29, A.R. 35–5520, Sept. 15, 1939]

§ 38.5 Collection of amounts overpaid to allottees—(a) Death of allotter. In case of death of the allotter, however, if the allottee who was overpaid is an heir, the General Accounting Office will protect the overpayment to the extent of the arrears of pay and allowances due the allotter at time of death and payable to such heir. If the allottee who was overpaid is the beneficiary of an insurance or compensation award under the War Risk Insurance Act, the United States Veterans' Administration will withhold the amount of the overpayment from the insurance or compensation award. See 26 Comp. Dec. 855, 949.

(b) Desertion of allotter. In case of desertion of the allotter, the General Accounting Office protects the overpayment only to include the day prior to desertion or to the extent of the arrears of pay or allowances due the deserter at time of desertion, the balance remaining after satisfying indebtedness of the United States being paid over to the Soldiers' Home. In these cases only the unsatisfied part of the overpayment will be collected from the responsible officer. (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 10 U.S.C. 894; 52 Stat. 354) [Par. 31, A.R. 35–5520, Sept. 15, 1939]

TITLE 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

[Regulations No. 2, further amended]

PART 402—FEDERAL OLD-AGE BENEFITS

In order to conform Regulations No. 2, as amended[1] [part 402, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] to the applicable provisions of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 and section 2 of the Act approved August 11, 1939, Pub., No. 400, 76th Cong., 1st Sess., such regulations are further amended as follows:

1. Immediately following article 12 [sec. 402.012, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] the following is inserted:

SECTION 201 OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

Effective January 1, 1940, title II of such [Social Security] Act is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 209 * * *

(b) The term "employment" means any service performed after December 31, 1936, and prior to January 1, 1940, which was employment as defined in section 210 (b) of the Social Security Act prior to January 1, 1940 (except service performed by an individual after he attained the age of sixty-five if performed prior to January 1, 1939), and any service, of whatever nature, performed after December 31, 1939, by an employee for the person employing him, irrespective of the citizenship or residence of either, (A) within the United States, * * * except—

* * * * * *

(11) Service performed in the employ of a foreign government (including service as a consular or other officer or employee or a non-diplomatic representative);

(12) Service performed in the employ of an instrumentality wholly owned by a foreign government—

(A) If the service is of a character similar to that performed in foreign countries by employees of the United States Government or of an instrumentality thereof; and

(B) If the Secretary of State shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury that the foreign government, with respect to whose instrumentality and employees thereof exemption is claimed, grants an equivalent exemption with respect to similar service performed in the foreign country by employees of the United States Government and of instrumentalities thereof; * * *

SECTION 902 (f) OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

* * * No payment shall be made under title II of the Social Security Act with respect to services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, which are described in subparagraphs (11) and (12) of section 209 (b) of such Act, as amended.

ART. 12½ [sec. 402.012½, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations]. Foreign Governments and Their Instrumentalities—(a) Service Performed in the Employ of a Foreign Government after December 31, 1939. Service performed after December 31, 1939, in the employ of a foreign government is excepted. The exception embraces not only services performed by ambassadors, ministers, and other diplomatic representatives but also includes services performed as a consular or other officer or employee of a foreign government or as a nondiplomatic representative thereof. For purposes of the exception, the citizenship of the employee is immaterial. It is also immaterial whether the foreign government grants an equivalent exemption with respect to similar services performed in the foreign country by citizens of the United States.

(b) Service Performed in the Employ of Instrumentalities of Foreign Governments after December 31, 1939. Service performed after December 31, 1939, in the employ of certain instrumentalities of a foreign government is likewise excepted from employment. The exception extends to all services performed in the employ of an instrumentality of the government of a foreign country, without distinction between those exercising functions of a governmental nature and those exercising functions of a proprietary nature, provided: (1) the instrumentality is wholly owned by the foreign government; (2) the services are of a character similar to those performed in foreign countries by employees of the United States or of an instrumentality thereof; and (3) the Secretary of State certifies to the Secretary of the Treasury that the foreign government with respect to whose instrumentality and employees thereof exemption is claimed, grants an equivalent exemption with respect to services performed in the foreign country by employees of the United States Government and of instrumentalities thereof. For purposes of this exception the citizenship of the employee is likewise immaterial.

(c) Services in Employ of Foreign Governments and Their Instrumentalities prior to January 1, 1940. The provisions of law to which (a) and (b) above refer (subparagraphs (11) and (12) of the Social Security Act, as amended, quoted supra) become effective January

1, 1940. Effective August 10, 1939, however, by virtue of the operation of section 902 (f) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939, no payment may be made under title II of the Social Security Act based on services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, described in such subparagraphs (11) and (12).

SECTION 2 OF THE ACT APPROVED AUGUST 11, 1939 (PUBLIC, No. 400, 76TH CONG., 1ST SESS.)

No tax shall be collected under title VIII • • • of the Social Security Act or under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act • • • with respect to services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, in the employ of the owner or tenant of land, in salvaging timber on such land or clearing such land of brush and other debris left by a hurricane • • •. No payment shall be made under title II of the Social Security Act with respect to such services rendered prior to January 1, 1940.

ART. 12–3/4 [sec. 402.012–3/4, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] Services Performed prior to January 1, 1940, in Salvaging Timber and Clearing Debris Left by a Hurricane. Effective August 11, 1939, no payment may be made under title II of the Social Security Act on the basis of services performed in salvaging timber and clearing land of brush and other debris left by a hurricane provided the services were performed:

(1) Prior to January 1, 1940; and

(2) As an employee of the owner or tenant of land on which a hurricane has left brush or other debris, or timber in need of salvaging by reason of such hurricane; and

(3) In clearing such land of such brush or other debris, or in salvaging such timber.

2. Immediately after section 204 (b) of the Social Security Act quoted immediately preceding article 301 [sec. 402.301, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations], the following is inserted:

SECTION 902 (f) OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

• • • No payment shall be made under title II of the Social Security Act with respect to services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, which are described in subparagraphs (11) and (12) of section 209 (b) of such Act, as amended.

SECTION 902 (g) OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1939

No lump-sum payment shall be made under the provisions of section 204 of the Social Security Act after the date of enactment of this Act, except to the estate of an individual who dies prior to January 1, 1940.

SECTION 2 OF THE ACT APPROVED AUGUST 11, 1939 (PUBLIC, No. 400, 76TH CONG., 1ST SESS.)

No tax shall be collected under title VIII • • • of the Social Security Act or under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act • • • with respect to services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, in the employ of the owner or tenant of land, in salvaging timber on such land or clearing such land of brush and other debris left by a hurricane • • • No payment shall be made under title II of the Social Security Act with respect to such services rendered prior to January 1, 1940.

3. Article 301 [sec. 402.301, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended to read as follows:

ART. 301. Lump-sum benefit. (a) Circumstances under which payable. A lump-sum benefit is payable if a wage earner has been paid wages for employment performed by him after 1936 and dies prior to January 1, 1940.

(b) Amount payable. The amount of the lump-sum benefit payable is a sum equal to 3½ per centum of the total wages which the Board determines were paid to a wage earner with respect to employment performed by him after 1936 and before he attained age 65. If less than the total amount to which a wage earner was entitled has been paid to him during his lifetime, the amount payable to his estate is the difference between the total amount to which he was entitled and the amount paid before his death.

(c) New provisions of law limiting payments under sections 203 and 204 of the Act.

(1) Section 902 (g) of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939 limits lump-sum benefit payments under section 204, after August 10, 1939, to payments to the estate of an individual who dies prior to January 1, 1940. After August 10, 1939, therefore, a lump-sum benefit is no longer payable under section 204 during the lifetime of such individual.

(2) Effective August 10, 1939, no lump-sum benefit is payable on the basis of services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, described in subparagraphs (11) and (12) of section 209 (b) of the Social Security Act, as amended by the Social Security Act Amendments of 1939. (Relating to services in the employ of foreign governments and their instrumentalities; see article 12½ [Sec. 402.012½, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations])

(3) Effective August 11, 1939, no lump-sum benefit is payable on the basis of services rendered prior to January 1, 1940, described in section 2 of the Act approved August 11, 1939. (Pub., No. 400, 76th Cong., 1st Sess., relating to salvaging timber and clearing debris left by a hurricane; see art. 12¾ [Sec. 402.012¾, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations]) (See article 1 (j) relating to attainment of age 65; and articles 2 and 13 relating to "employment" and "wages," respectively)

4. Article 302 [sec. 402.302, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended to read as follows:

ART. 302. Applications for lump-sum benefit payment. A lump-sum benefit will be certified for payment only upon application of the legal representative of the deceased wage earner, or of some person specified in article 311 or 312, who is entitled, under the laws of the State in which the deceased wage earner was domiciled, to receive payment.

5. Article 307 [sec. 402.307, title 20, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended to read as follows:

ART. 307. Proof of age. (a) The statement contained in the application as to the wage earner's date of birth will ordinarily be sufficient. However, the applicant, on written notice from the Board, may be required to furnish the corroborative evidence of the date of birth set forth in paragraph (b) of this article. Generally such corroborative evidence will not be required unless (1) the date of birth stated in the application is at variance with the date of birth as shown by the records of the Board; (2) the records of the Board do not show the date of birth of the wage earner; (3) the wage earner failed to apply for an account number; or (4) there is reason to suspect misrepresentation by the applicant.

(b) If required by written notice from the Board the date of the birth of the wage earner shall be corroborated by the applicant by the following evidence:

(1) A certified copy of, or a statement as to the date of birth shown by, a public record of the birth, or

(2) A certified copy of a church record of infant baptism, or

(3) A statement of two other persons having knowledge thereof, executed as required in the prescribed form, or

(4) Such evidence as shall be deemed by the Board to be of probatory value acceptable to the Board. The certification required under either (1) or (2) above shall be made by the custodian charged with the duty of preserving such records.

AUTHORITY FOR REGULATIONS

These regulations are issued under authority contained in section 1102 of the Social Security Act (49 Stat. 647; 42 U.S.C., Sup. IV 1302.)

In pursuance of section 1102 of the Social Security Act (49 Stat. 647; 42 U.S.C., Sup. IV 1302), the foregoing regulations are hereby prescribed.

Adopted by the Social Security Board, November 3, 1939.

TITLE 22—FOREIGN RELATIONS

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

REGULATIONS UNDER SECTION 2 (c) AND (i) OF THE JOINT RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS APPROVED NOVEMBER 4, 1939

NOVEMBER 10, 1939.

On November 4, 1939, the President issued a proclamation[1] under the authority of section 1 of the joint resolution of Congress approved on that same day finding that a state of war exists between Germany and France; Poland; and the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa and thereby making applicable to the export or transport to those countries of any articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials) the provisions of section 2 (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), and (l) of the said joint resolution.

The President's Proclamation of November 4, 1939, provides in part as follows:

And I do hereby delegate to the Secretary of State the power to exercise any power or authority conferred on me by the said joint resolution as made effective by this my proclamation issued thereunder, which is not specifically delegated by Executive order to some other officer or agency of this Government, and the power to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary and proper to carry out any of its provisions.

By virtue of the authority vested in him by the President's proclamation quoted above to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law which may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of section 2 (c) and (i) of the joint resolution of Congress approved November 4, 1939, as made effective by this proclamation, the Secretary of State prescribes the following rules and regulations: [2]

(1) The provisions of section 2 (c) do not apply to personal effects and household goods or any other articles or materials intended for the personal use of any United States citizen traveling on a valid passport.

(2) The provisions of section 2 (c) do not apply to any articles or materials exported for relief purposes by the American Red Cross or by any person or organization authorized to solicit and collect contributions under the rules and regulations issued by the Secretary of State pursuant to section 8 of the Neutrality Act of November 4, 1939.

(3) The provisions of section 2 (c) do not apply to the transport to any of the countries named in the President's Proclamation of November 4, 1939, referred to above, of arms and ammunition intended exclusively for sporting or scientific purposes, when carried on the person of an individual or in his baggage.

(4) Articles and materials the shipment of which originated outside the geographic United States and which are shipped through the United States in bond or which arrive at a port in the United States merely as an incident of transit between two foreign points, whether or not transshipped in a port of the United States, need not be covered by the sworn declaration as to transfer of title required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 if the shipper is outside the geographic United States and is not a citizen of the United States, or an agent of such citizen, and the articles and materials are not consigned to a citizen of the United States, or an agent of such citizen.

OATHS, AFFIRMATIONS AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS IN ALASKA

The act of August 5, 1939 (Public No. 294), authorizes and directs postmasters within the Territory of Alaska to administer oaths and affirmations and to take acknowledgments, and to make and execute certificates thereof, and to perform all other functions of a notary public within the Territory, whenever an oath, affirmation, acknowledgment or a certificate thereof is authorized, permitted, or required by any act or acts of Congress.

There is no general section in Subchapter A—Alaska, of the Code of Federal Regulations with reference to officers authorized to administer oaths in the Territory. Accordingly the following regulation is adopted, to be printed under "Part 52—Oaths, Affirmations and Acknowledgments".

§ 52.1 Officers qualified to administer oaths. Oaths in public land cases, in Alaska, may be executed before any officer qualified to act in public land cases, as set forth in Circular No. 884, dated September 3, 1926, 51 L.D. 572 (Sec. 210.1), or before any postmaster in the Territory, under authority of the act of August 5, 1939 (Public No. 294).

Except as otherwise provided by an act of Congress, the postmaster is authorized to charge and receive for his services the fees prescribed by law for a notary public for similar services in the Territory.

The official character of any officer not using a seal of office, other than a register, acting register, receiver, or postmaster, must be certified to under seal by the Clerk of the Court having the record of his appointment and qualifications. Each certificate of oath, affirmation or acknowledgment, executed by a postmaster within the Territory, under authority of the act mentioned, must be signed by him with a designation of his title, must have affixed thereto the cancelation stamp of the post office and must state the name of the post office and the date on which the oath or affirmation is administered, or the acknowledgment is taken.

Paragraph 7, page 29, of Circular No. 491, under the title "Officers authorized to administer oaths in homestead cases in Alaska", was incorporated into the Code of Federal Regulations as Sec. 65.7. By reason of the authority conferred on postmasters by the act of August 5, 1939, above referred to, the paragraph and section mentioned are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 65.7 Officers qualified to administer oaths. An application to enter lands in Alaska may be sworn to before the register or the receiver, or the acting register of the land office for the district in which the land lies, before any postmaster in the Territory, or before any court, judge, or other officer in Alaska, or in the United States outside of Alaska, authorized to administer an oath, as provided by Sections 52.1 and 210.1.

These regulations are issued under the authority contained in R.S. 453 and 2478; 43 U.S.C. 2, 1201.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved, November 6, 1939.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

PART 7—RULES GOVERNING COASTAL AND MARINE RELAY SERVICES

The Commission on November 14, 1939, effective immediately, amended Section 7.51 [1] by adding as a last sentence in the paragraph, the following: "The provisions of the International Radio Regulations in force pertaining to the international calling and distress frequency, 500 kilocycles, shall apply in the Great Lakes region to the frequency 410 kilocycles in lieu of 500 kilocycles."

(Sec. 4 (i), 48 Stat. 1066; 47 U.S.C. 154 (i))

Effective November 14, 1939, the Commission amended Section 7.82 (c) to read:

"During the period a watch is maintained by a licensed radio operator, all calls transmitted to or from the coastal station and all replies transmitted or received, shall be entered in the coastal station log: Provided, however, That when the manual operations of switching and handling telephone calls, directly between ships and wire-line telephone facilities, are not normally performed by a licensed radio operator or under his immediate supervision, the entries prescribed by this subsection may be omitted from the radio station log upon the express condition that completely equivalent records shall be currently maintained by the station licensee in connection with regular telephone operating procedure, and shall be made available upon request by an authorized representative of the Commission. These log entries or the equivalent records shall designate the time and shall include such notations as are necessary to identify the frequencies employed and the stations communicated with or heard. In addition, for each message handled a notation shall be made of the points of origin and destination."

(Sec. 4 (i), 48 Stat. 1066; 47 U.S.C. 154 (i))

The Commission also amended, effective November 14, 1939, subparagraph (d) of Section 7.82 by adding after the first "GMT", "except that in the Great Lakes region the time shall be expressed in Eastern Standard Time (EST)" and by adding after the second "GMT", "(EST in the Great Lakes region)."

(Sec. 4 (i), 48 Stat. 1066; 47 U.S.C. 154 (i))

PART 8—RULES GOVERNING SHIP SERVICE

The Commission amended Sections 8.82, 8.121, 8.221(d), and 8.252,[1] effective November 14, 1939, as indicated below:

Under Section 8.82, the following was added as a last sentence in the paragraph: "The provisions of the International Radio Regulations in force pertaining to the international calling and distress frequency 500 kilocycles shall apply in the Great Lakes region to the frequency of 410 kilocycles in lieu of 500 kilocycles."

Section 8.121 was deleted and in lieu thereof the following was substituted:

"The electrical load to be supplied by an emergency power supply for the purpose of establishing proof of required capacity shall be computed in accordance with applicable Standards of Good Engineering Practice for Ship Stations."

Subparagraph (d) of Section 8.221 was amended by adding after the first "GMT", "except that in the Great Lakes region the time shall be expressed in Eastern Standard Time (EST)" and by adding after the second "GMT", "(EST in the Great Lakes region)."

Section 8.252 was amended by changing the filing time of application from thirty days to ten days.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

PART 24—WEST CENTRAL REGION: INDIVIDUAL NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

ORDER PERMITTING THE TRAPPING OF MINKS AND MUSKRATS WITHIN CERTAIN PARTS OF THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER WILDLIFE AND FISH REFUGE, IOWA AND WISCONSIN

§ 24.919c Order permitting the trapping of minks and muskrats within certain parts of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge, Iowa and Wisconsin. Pursuant to the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge Act of June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 650; 16 U.S.C. 726) as amended, and to the President's Reorganization Plan No. II, promulgated May 9, 1939, pursuant to the Reorganization Act of 1939 (Pub. No. 19, 76th Cong.), it is hereby ordered that, in accordance with the joint regulations of September 27, 1934,[1] for the administration of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge, the trapping of muskrats and minks in Iowa and Wisconsin under permits of the superintendent of the refuge is permitted during the 1939-40 open seasons prescribed therefor by State law or regulation, in manner, by means, and to the extent not prohibited by State law or regulation or by the laws or regulations governing the refuge, on all lands of the refuge in these States, except within the migratory-waterfowl closed areas defined in the order approved by the Secretary of the Interior on September 19, 1939,[2] subject to the following special provisions, conditions, restrictions, and requirements:

(1) Trapping permits. Any person exercising the privilege of trapping within the refuge shall be in possession of a valid trapping license issued by the State in which trapping is to be done, if such license is required, and must possess a valid trapping permit issued by the superintendent of the refuge. He shall carry such license and permit on his person while trapping, and when requested to do so, shall exhibit them to any State or Federal warden authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of the respective States and of the United States. The superintendent of the refuge may issue the permits for the trapping of muskrats and minks as herein authorized to qualified persons. Each applicant for a trapping permit must have been for the period of six months last past a bona fide resident within or in the vicinity of the refuge, and upon application he shall exhibit to the superintendent or his representative a valid State trapping license and shall make a sworn statement as to his period of residence in the civil township, village, or city in which he claims residence.

(2) Limitations on trapping methods. Muskrats and/or minks may be taken on the refuge only with ordinary spring steel traps not larger than No. 1½ or with other traps the use of which is approved by the superintendent or his authorized representative. Each permittee shall visit and inspect each of his traps within the refuge at least once every twenty-four hours and shall, at the close of the trapping season, take up and remove all his traps from the refuge. Permittees may not cut on the refuge any growth except willows for use as trap stakes or drags.

(3) Prohibited methods and acts. The possession or use within the boundaries of the refuge of a muskrat spear or any other similar device by means of which muskrats may be speared, or of any trap or device that does not comply with the requirements of these regulations, is prohibited, and any such illegal traps and illegal devices found on the refuge may be seized by the superintendent or his representative. No person shall hunt muskrats and/or minks with a gun or with the aid of a dog, or disturb or molest any mink den, muskrat house, beaver house, or beaver dam, or set a trap within three feet of any muskrat house or feeding house or within one hundred feet of any beaver house or beaver dam. No person shall run a trap line or visit traps between sunset and one-half hour before sunrise.

(4) Trapped birds and mammals. Birds and mammals other than muskrats and minks found alive in the traps of the permittee shall be immediately liberated. Birds and mammals other than muskrats and minks found dead or mortally injured in the traps shall be immediately turned over to the superintendent or his representative.

(5) Termination of trapping permits. Whenever it shall appear advisable for the proper conservation of fur resources and the administration of the refuge, the superintendent may, in his discretion, terminate trapping on the entire refuge or on any part thereof within three days after giving notice to that effect. Thereupon all outstanding permits for trapping muskrats and minks on the area or areas affected shall become null and void.

(6) Reports required. Each permittee not later than thirty days after the close of the open trapping season shall submit to the superintendent a report in which are correctly stated the total number of muskrats and/or minks taken in each county on the refuge under permit during the season, the name and address of each person or firm to whom the pelts thereof were disposed of, and the number of pelts disposed of to each such person or firm.

(7) Penalties. Failure of a permittee to comply with any of the above provisions or the violation by him of any of the regulations issued under authority of the act of June 7, 1924, 43 Stat. 650, establishing said refuge, or of any State law or regulation applicable to trapping on said refuge, not only shall render him subject to prosecution under said laws and regulations, but shall be sufficient cause for refusal of a permit to him for trapping muskrats and/or minks on said refuge during the open trapping seasons next following or for any other use or privilege on the refuge for which a permit may be required by regulations.

Approved, November 8, 1939.

INSPECTION OF DISCOUNT OR SALES COMMISSION TABULATIONS

Notice is hereby given that the Bituminous Coal Division of the Department of the Interior will make available for inspection at its offices, 734 15th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., during business hours, commencing at 9:00 a. m., November 16, 1939, a tabulation of discounts or sales commissions made or allowed from f. o. b. mine prices by producers in Districts Nos. 9, 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 22 and 23 to middlemen, whether wholesalers, brokers, jobbers, sales agents, etc. These tabulations cover the months of May, August and November, 1938, and include only those transactions where the coal has been sold through but one middleman. Neither the identity of the producer, nor the middleman, nor his vendee is disclosed, but the following information is shown: the districts of origin, the State of destination, the actual sizes sold, the amount of discounts or sales commissions in cents per ton allowed on each transaction, the tonnage involved in each transaction, and the number of transactions at each discount or sales commission rate.

Sales for railroad locomotive use are not shown.

Dated, November 14, 1939.

NOTICE OF CANCELATION OF HEARING ON APPLICATIONS OF THE FLORSHEIM SHOE COMPANY, SELBY SHOE COMPANY AND SUNDRY OTHER PARTIES FOR PERMISSION TO EMPLOY LEARNERS IN THE SHOE MANUFACTURING AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES

Whereas, applications have been made by the Florsheim Shoe Company, Selby Shoe Company, G. R. Kinney Company, Inc., Medwed Footwear Company, Blum Shoe Manufacturing Company, and sundry other parties under Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, 52 Stat. 1060, and Regulations, Part 522, as amended (Regulations Applicable to the Employment of Learners pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act—Title 29, Labor, Chapter V, Wage and Hour Division) issued by the Administrator thereunder for permission to employ learners in the shoe manufacturing and allied industries at wages less than the applicable minimum wage specified in Section 6 of the Act; and

Whereas, a public hearing was scheduled to be held [1] on said applications in Room 214, Hutchins Building, 939 D Street NW., Washington, D. C., to commence at 10:00 A. M. on November 20, 1939; and

Whereas, representative employers in the industry feel that no industry-wide consideration of the question should be had at this time, and

Whereas, some of the applicants have requested permission to withdraw their applications in this matter,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the said applications are permitted to be withdrawn and the said hearing is hereby canceled.

This action is taken without prejudice to the filing of new or further applications by those applicants whose applications are withdrawn and without prejudice to the consideration as otherwise provided for in the aforesaid regulations, Part 522, of such other applications as have been or may hereafter be duly filed in accordance with the said regulations.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 15 Day of November 1939.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND CITIZENSHIP

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

[General Order No. C-16]

AMENDED INTERPRETATION OF THE CITIZENSHIP ACT OF MAY 24, 1934

NOVEMBER 15, 1939.

Pursuant to the authority contained in Revised Statutes, section 161 (U.S.C., title 5, sec. 22), and other provisions of law, Section 2 (b) of General Order No. 211, dated August 2, 1934, entitled "Administrative Interpretation of the Citizenship Act of May 24, 1934" (Secs. 2, 5, 48 Stat. 797, 798; 8 U.S.C. 8, et al.), as amended,[1] (Naturalization Rules and Regulations of December 1, 1936, pp. 106-109), is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) In addition to the provisions of the Citizenship Act of 1934, Revised Statutes, section 2172 (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 7) (which has not been expressly repealed and only part of which has been repealed by implication), continues to operate and even after May 24, 1934, vests citizenship as follows:

(1) Revised Statutes, section 2172, provides that a child is a United States citizen if—

(a) He did not prior to 12 noon (E.S.T.), May 24, 1934, acquire citizenship under Revised Statutes, section 1993 (U.S.C., title 8, sec. 6) and is not a citizen under any other law, including that stated in subsection (b) of section 1 of this order; and

(b) He was born abroad at any time; and

(c) One parent was an alien at the time of the child's birth; and

(d) The other parent was either an alien or a citizen at the time of the child's birth; and

(e) The alien parent became naturalized before the child reached his twenty-first birthday or, if both parents were aliens, both became naturalized or but one became naturalized and the other parent died before the child reached his twenty-first birthday; and

(f) The child began to reside permanently in the United States before he reached his twenty-first birthday; and maintained such residence when the final event described in paragraph (e) hereof occurred, namely, the naturalization or death of such parent.

PERMISSIBLE ABSENCE OF CERTAIN ALIENS FROM THE UNITED STATES DURING THE PERIODS OF RESIDENCE REQUIRED BY THE NATURALIZATION LAWS

NOVEMBER 15, 1939.

Pursuant to the authority contained in Sec. 2 of the Act of August 9, 1939 (Public No. 349, c. 610, 53 Stat. 1273), Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Subchapter C—Naturalization Rules and Regulations—Part 72—Official Forms—and Part 76—Petition for Naturalization—are amended in the following respects:

Section 72.3 (Rule 3, Subdivision B, par. 1 of the Naturalization Regulations of December 1, 1936), by changing the title of Form 2363 to read

| 2363 | Application for exemption from the residence provisions of the second paragraph of the Fourth Subdivision of Sec. 4 of the Naturalization Act of June 29, 1906, as amended and supplemented. |

Section 76.16 (Rule 7, Subdivision E, Ibid.), supplied by General Order No. C–6, November 2, 1938 (3 F.R. 2621, DI), and amended by General Order No. C–7, November 19, 1938 (3 F.R. 2767, DI), is further amended to read as follows:

§ 76.16 Application forms. Application for the benefits of Sec. 76.15, Sec. 76.15b, or Sec. 76.16a shall be submitted in duplicate to the Secretary of Labor on Form No. 2363, "Application for exemption from the residence provisions of the second paragraph of the Fourth Subdivision of Sec. 4 of the Naturalization Act of June 29, 1906, as amended and supplemented." The application will be duly considered by the Secretary of Labor and the alien notified of the decision thereon. A copy of such decision, verified or certified by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, or any Deputy Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, shall be filed in the naturalization court with the alien's petition for naturalization as a part of the record of the naturalization proceeding." The following new section is added to the aforesaid Part 76, between Secs. 76.16 and 76.17 (such new section being addenda to Rule 7, Subdivision E of the Naturalization Regulations of December 1, 1936):

§ 76.16a Regularly ordained clergymen. For the purpose of naturalization, any alien who has been lawfully admitted into the United States for permanent residence shall be considered as residing in the United States notwithstanding any absence therefrom if such alien

(a) Has, subsequently to such admission, been absent temporarily from the United States solely in his or her capacity as a regularly ordained clergyman;

(b) Proves to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor and the naturalization court that his or her absence from the United States has been solely in capacity of a regularly ordained clergyman, and

(c) Complies in all other respects with the requirements of the naturalization laws.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF LAING, HARRAR & CHAMBERLIN, INC., A. J. SANBORN SONS, INC., HARRY FAIN AND ALFRED PICERNO

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answers of the respondents, and a stipulation as to the facts entered into between the respondents herein and W. T. Kelley, Chief Counsel for the Commission which provides, among other things, that without further evidence or other intervening procedure, the Commission may issue and serve upon the respondents herein findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon and an order disposing of the proceeding, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondents, A. J. Sanborn Sons, Inc., its officers, representatives, agents and employees, Harry Fain and Alfred Picerno, their agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of shoe findings, leather and supplies for shoe stores and shoe repair shops in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from entering into or carrying out any agreement, understanding, combination or conspiracy between and among any two or more of said respondents, or between any one of said respondents and a manufacturer of such products, for the purpose or with the effect of restricting, restraining or monopolizing, or eliminating competition in, the purchase or sale in said commerce of any of such products, and from doing any of the following acts and things pursuant thereto:

1. Boycotting, or threatening to boycott, or using any other coercive methods or means, to persuade, induce or compel manufacturers or distributors of such products to refrain from selling any of such products to any wholesale dealer in such products;

2. Interfering, in any manner, with any competitive wholesale dealer's source of supply of such products.

It is further ordered, That the respondent, Laing, Harrar & Chamberlin, Inc., its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of shoe findings, leather and supplies for shoe stores and shoe repair shops in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from entering into any agreement, understanding, combination or conspiracy for the purpose or with the effect of restricting, restraining or monopolizing, or eliminating competition in, the purchase or sale of such products in said commerce; or from aiding or abetting the carrying out of any such agreement, understanding, combination or conspiracy by refusing to sell such products to wholesale dealers engaged in the sale and distribution of such products because of inducements offered, or coercive methods used, by competitors of such wholesalers.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

PART 226—SURETY COMPANIES

BONDS EXECUTED BY THE MELLBANK SURETY CORPORATION OF PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA, IN FAVOR OF THE UNITED STATES

To the Heads of Departments and Independent Establishments of the Government, Bond-Approving Officers, and Others Concerned:

The Mellbank Surety Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was authorized by the Treasury, effective March 30, 1932, to qualify as sole surety on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and all other undertakings permitted or required by the United States to be given with one or more sureties, as provided by the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended by the Act of March 23, 1910 (U.S.C., Title 6, Sections 6 to 13). The company has surrendered its charter to the State of Delaware and is in the process of voluntary liquidation, pursuant to resolutions adopted by its stockholders and Board of Directors on October 26, 1939. The certificate of authority issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the company to act as an acceptable surety on obligations in favor of the United States was revoked effective October 27, 1939.

The provisions of the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended, contemplate a constant supervision by the Treasury of all companies acting as sureties on Federal bonds. The Mellbank Surety Corporation, therefore, entered into a reinsurance agreement with the Mellon Indemnity Corporation, with executive offices in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, dated October 26, 1939, under the terms and conditions of which the Mellon Indemnity Corporation reinsured, effective at and from 12:01 A. M., October 27, 1939, all the unexpired and unmatured fidelity and surety bonds or obligations of the Mellbank Surety Corporation in favor of the United States of America and/or any wholly owned corporation thereof and/or the District of Columbia and all bonds or other obligations naming as obligee officers or employees of the United States of America and/or any wholly owned corporation thereof and/or the District of Columbia, and accepted liability for any losses and claims in connection with all bonds and undertakings entered into and assumed by the Mellbank Surety Corporation.

The Treasury has received evidence of a contribution to surplus by the stockholders of the Mellon Indemnity Corporation on October 26, 1939, and the underwriting limitation of the Mellon Indemnity Corporation as published in Treasury Form No. 356, dated September 22, 1939, effective September 18, 1939, has been increased to $439,000.00.

The Treasury has obtained from the Mellon Indemnity Corporation a separate indemnifying agreement, dated October 27, 1939, whereby, in consideration of the acceptance by the United States of America of the Mellon Indemnity Corporation as reinsurer on such bonds, undertakings or other forms of obligations heretofore executed or assumed by the Mellbank Surety Corporation and allowing such bonds, undertakings or other forms of obligations to be continued in force without requiring principals to take out fresh bonds, the Mellon Indemnity Corporation agrees to assume, and it does assume, the liability for any losses and claims under or in connection with any bond, undertaking or other form of obligation entered into and assumed by the Mellbank Surety Corporation and reinsured by the Mellon Indemnity Corporation, in which the United States of America has or may have an interest, direct or indirect, it being expressly understood and agreed by the Mellon Indemnity Corporation that the purpose and intent of such agreement is to afford the United States of America complete and strengthening security and to indemnify and protect it against any and all losses that have arisen or may arise under or in connection with any and all such bonds, undertakings, or obligations of the Mellbank Surety Corporation as sole surety, cosurety, insurer, co-insurer or reinsurer, upon which the United States of America is or may become entitled to make demand or institute proceedings, and which may have been executed by the Mellbank Surety Corporation on or before October 27, 1939, the date on which its authority to act as an acceptable surety on bonds or obligations in favor of the United States of America was revoked.

The aforesaid indemnifying agreement also provides that all persons who have supplied labor and/or materials in the transaction of the work contemplated by any contract for the security of which a bond has been given to the United States of America with the Mellbank Surety Corporation as sole or co-surety, and covered by the reinsurance agreement referred to above, shall have the same rights and equities against the Mellon Indemnity Corporation to sue and recover in the name of the United States of America as such persons would have under the provisions of existing law against the Mellbank Surety Corporation on account of its said bonds and obligations.

The agreement further provides that the Mellon Indemnity Corporation shall be subject to legal process for the purpose of all suits by the United States of America on account of said bonds or undertakings and obligations included in the reinsurance agreement referred to, and in the name of the United States of America, for their use, by such persons furnishing materials and/or labor, as aforesaid, under the provisions of existing law and on account of said bonds, obligations and undertakings, through the acceptance of service and entry of appearance by its duly appointed agents for such purpose in any judicial district of the United States as provided by law.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

RESTORATION OF BENEFITS FOR CLAIMANTS SUFFERING FROM PARALYSIS, PARESIS, OR BLINDNESS, OR WHO ARE HELPLESS OR BEDRIDDEN DUE TO MISCONDUCT

Application of Public No. 196, 76th Congress

§ 2. 1138 (A) On and after July 19, 1939, the date of enactment of Public No. 196, 76th Congress, any World War veteran suffering from paralysis, paresis, or blindness, or who is helpless or bedridden, as the result of any disability, and who was in receipt of compensation therefor on March 19, 1933, may be awarded compensation under the laws and interpretations governing this class of cases prior to the enactment of Public No. 2, 73d Congress, subject to the limitations, except as to misconduct or willful misconduct, contained in sections 27 and 28 of Public No. 141, 73d Congress, as amended: Provided, That compensation authorized under section 26 of Public No. 141, 73d Congress, will not be reduced or discontinued as a result of the application of the enactment.

(B) In the application of the limitations contained in sections 27 and 28 of Public No. 141, 73d Congress, except as to misconduct or willful misconduct, it will be borne in mind that all reasonable doubts will be resolved in favor of the veteran, the burden of proof being on the Government, and a denial of benefits will not be made merely upon a difference of opinion. The delimiting dates of the World War under existing legislation will be applied; for the purposes of Public No. 196, 76th Congress, the ending date of the World War will, therefore, be April 1, 1920, for those who served with the United States military forces in Russia.

(C) The compensation award or disability rating in the case of any World War veteran restored to the rolls or determinable under Public No. 196, 76th Congress, will be adjusted at any time upon the happening of a change in any of the contingencies upon which the current status is predicated, such as a change in family relationship, a change in physical condition, etc., as disclosed by competent evidence or a report of physical examination, and the effective date of the adjustment will be in accordance with the applicable regulations. (November 16, 1939)

§ 2.1139 (A) In interpreting the diseases specified in the first proviso of Section 200 of the World War Veterans Act, as amended, "paralysis" will be taken to mean the more massive motor or sensory losses, involving one or both of the upper or lower extremities, resulting from lesions of the central nervous system which are regarded as due to willful misconduct. For example, the hemiplegia consequent upon cerebral hemorrhage in syphilitic cerebral arteritis; also the ataxic gait of tabes dorsalis; the spastic paraplegia of primary lateral sclerosis; the flaccid or spastic paralysis of myelitis; gait disturbances in disseminated sclerosis; the paralysis of limbs in syphilitic meningo-myelitis, etc. The rating in these cases will date from the onset of the station or gait disturbances to a degree which reduces earning capacity in accordance with the provisions of Section 202 (4), second paragraph, of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, as reenacted by Public No. 141, 73d Congress. Localized palsies of cranial or peripheral nerves, due to willful misconduct, will not be considered "paralysis" within the meaning of the first proviso of Section 200.

(B) "Paresis" will be interpreted as general paralysis of the insane, or paretic dementia.

(C) Visual disability due to syphilitic lesions of the second cranial (optic) nerve, or to gonorrheal ophthalmia, will be considered as "blindness" when 5/200 or less vision, in both eyes, is present after proper correction.

(D) By "helpless" will be understood a condition requiring the assistance of other persons, though not necessarily rendering the claimant in constant need of a nurse or attendant.

(E) By "bedridden" will be understood that conditions which, through its essential character, actually requires that the claimant remain constantly in bed. The fact that a claimant has voluntarily taken to bed, or that a physician has prescribed rest in bed for a greater or less part of the day in order to promote convalescence or cure, will not necessarily mean that such claimant is to be regarded as helpless or bedridden, his further right to the additional allowance for an attendant or nurse will be considered in the same manner as for any other case.

(F) The ratings for cases held to be actually helpless or bedridden will date from the onset of such conditions.

(G) While the conditions specified in the first proviso of Section 200 of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, are usually of a permanent nature, the law does not require the individual case to be one of permanent disability in order that the benefits of the said proviso shall be applicable.

(H) Except for cases comprehended within these interpretations, all other disabilities due to willful misconduct will continue to be rated in accordance with current regulations. Cases falling under the first proviso of Section 200 of the World War Veterans Act, as amended, as reenacted by Public No. 141, 73d Congress, may be connected directly or presumptively (under the second proviso of said section) with active military or naval service. CORRECTION OF NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION FOR REVIEW OF DETERMINATION GRANTING APPLICATION FOR PARTIAL EXEMPTION OF THE OPEN-CUT PLACER GOLD MINING INDUSTRY AS A SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Whereas, Harold Stein, the Presiding Officer at the hearing on the application for partial exemption of the open-cut placer gold mining industry as a seasonal industry pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526, as amended, of regulations issued thereunder, made and filed with the Acting Administrator findings of fact and determination as a result of such hearing, and

Whereas, on the basis of said findings of fact and determination, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 15, 1939 (4 F.R. 4588 DI), a "Notice of Opportunity to Petition for Review of Determination Granting Application for Partial Exemption of the Open-Cut Placer Gold Mining Industry as a Seasonal Industry Pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 as Amended of Regulations Issued Thereunder" in which the findings of fact and determination of the Presiding Officer were recited, and,

Whereas, after the publication of said Notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, it appeared that through error the word "Wyoming" had been inadvertently omitted from paragraph 1 of said findings of fact and determination, and

Whereas, said Harold Stein has corrected paragraph 1 of said findings of fact and determination by addpg the word "Wyoming" immediately after the word "Washington,"

Now, therefore, paragraph 1 of said findings of fact and determination of the presiding officer as set forth in the aforesaid "Notice of Opportunity to Petition for Review of Determination Granting Application for Partial Exemption of the Open-Cut Placer Gold Mining Industry as a Seasonal Industry Pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 as Amended of Regulations Issued Thereunder," is hereby corrected by adding the word "Wyoming" immediately after the word "Washington" so that paragraph 1 shall read as follows:

"1. The open-cut mining of placer gold in the States of Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, and the Territory of Alaska, is a branch of the open-cut placer gold mining industry as defined in the Notice of Hearing, and"

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective November 17, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates shall be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and shall be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

IN THE MATTERS OF IOWA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY AND AMERICAN UTILITIES SERVICE CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application, pursuant to sections 10 (a) (2) and 10 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the Iowa Public Service Company; and

An application, pursuant to Rule U-12D-1 under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by American Utilities Service Corporation;

It appearing that these matters are related and should be held and considered together:

It is ordered, That a joint hearing on such matters be held on December 7, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 2, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the proposed acquisition by Iowa Public Service Company, pursuant to Sections 10 (a) (2) and 10 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, of the entire gas manufacturing and gas distribution facilities of Iowa Central Utilities Company, a Delaware corporation, located in and about the City of Charles City, Floyd County, Iowa, excluding, however, cash on hand and in banks; accounts receivable; automotive equipment; merchandise equipment; and materials and supplies. The consideration involved is in the sum of sixty-five thousand dollars ($65,000).

Iowa Central Utilities Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of American Utilities Service Corporation, a registered holding company, and application is made by said holding company, pursuant to Rule U-12D-1 under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for the approval of the sale of assets by such wholly owned subsidiary.

IN THE MATTER OF THE AMERICAN PRODUCTS COMPANY, A CORPORATION, AND THE ZANOL PRODUCTS COMPANY, A CORPORATION

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard[1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission and the answer of the respondents, in which answer respondents admit the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that the said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondents, The American Products Company, a corporation, and The Zanol Products Company, a corporation, their officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of food and toilet products and household cleaners in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Misrepresenting in any manner the volume of respondents' business;

(2) Representing that salesmen or distributors of respondents' merchandise incur no risk or expense when in fact respondents require a deposit from such persons for the goods, samples or sales equipment supplied;

(3) Using the term "free" or any other terms of similar import or meaning to describe or refer to articles offered as compensation for distributing respondents' merchandise unless all of the terms and conditions of such offer are clearly and unequivocally stated in equal conspicuousness and immediate connection or conjunction with the term "free" or other terms of similar import or meaning and there is no deception as to the price, quality, character, or any other feature of such articles or as to the services to be performed in connection with obtaining such articles.

(4) Representing any specified sum of money as earnings or profits of any specified dealer or sales person for any stated period of time unless such sum of money has in fact been earned net, by such dealer or sales person, averaged over a period of at least two months in the ordinary course of business and under normal conditions and unless such representation is immediately accompanied by a statement to the effect that such dealer or sales person is an exceptional or unusual dealer or sales person.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within 60 days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF CHRISTOPHER CANDY COMPANY, A CORPORATION

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard[1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondent, testimony and other evidence taken before C. P. Vicini, an examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it in support of the allegations of said complaint and in opposition thereto, brief of counsel for the Commission filed herein (respondent having filed no brief and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent Christopher Candy Company, its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of candy, or any other merchandise in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Selling or distributing candy or any other merchandise so packed and assembled that sales of such candy or other merchandise to the general public are to be made or may be made by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise or lottery scheme.

2. Supplying to or placing in the hands of others assortments of candy or other merchandise together with a push card, punch board or any other lottery device which said push card, punch board or other lottery device is to be used, or may be used, in selling or distributing said candy or other merchandise to the public.

3. Supplying to or placing in the hands of others push cards, punch boards or other lottery devices either with assortments of candy or other merchandise, or separately, which said push cards, punch boards or other lottery devices are to be used, or may be used, in selling or distributing such candy or other merchandise to the public.

4. Selling or otherwise disposing of candy or other merchandise by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise or lottery scheme.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD L. JENKINS AND MILDRED JENKINS, INDIVIDUALS, TRADING AS ANTISEPTO PRODUCTS COMPANY, ANTISEPTO PRODUCTS, EDUCATIONAL PRODUCTS COMPANY, SANITOL PRODUCTS COMPANY, XL PRODUCTS COMPANY AND XL PRODUCTS.

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, and the answer of respondents, in which answer respondents admit all the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint, and state that they waive all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondents, Edward L. Jenkins and Mildred Jenkins, individuals, trading as Antisepto Products Company, Antisepto Products, Educational Products Company, Sanitol Products Company, XL Products Company, and XL Products; or trading under any other name or names, their agents, servants, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of the United States mails or in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, by any means, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of medicinal preparations known as Guaranteed Antisepto Anti-Delay Compound Regular, Guaranteed Antisepto Anti-Delay Compound Super Strength, Guaranteed Prosaid Gland Medicine Double XX and Guaranteed Prosaid Gland Medicine Triple XXX, or any other medicinal preparations composed of substantially similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar therapeutic properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name or names, or disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said medicinal preparations, which advertisements represent, directly or through implication:

1. That the use of said preparations known as Guaranteed Antisepto Anti-Delay Compound Regular or Guaranteed Antisepto Anti-Delay Compound Super Strength, or any other medicinal preparations composed of substantially similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar therapeutic properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name or names, is a competent, safe or scientific treatment for delayed menstruation, and that their use will have no ill effects upon the human body, or which advertisements fail to reveal that the use of such preparations may result in serious and irreparable injury to the health of the user;

2. That the use of said preparations known as Guaranteed Prosaid Gland Medicine Double XX or Guaranteed Prosaid Gland Medicine Triple XXX, or any other medicinal preparations composed of substantially similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar therapeutic properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name or names, is a cure or remedy for, or has any therapeutic value in the treatment of, prostate gland weakness or inactivity, or which advertisements fail to reveal that the use of such preparations may result in serious and irreparable injury to the health of the user.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within ten (10) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission an interim report in writing, stating whether they intend to comply with this order, and if so, the manner and form in which they intend to comply; and that, within sixty (60) days after the service upon them of this order, said respondents shall file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

AMENDMENT OF SECTION 11, PARAGRAPHS C AND D OF THE RULES FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF NEW MEXICO GRAZING DISTRICT No. 7

Pursuant to the provisions of the Taylor Grazing Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended by the act of June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976), and the act of July 14, 1939 (Pub. No. 173, 76th Cong.), paragraphs c and d of section 11 of the Rules for the Administration of New Mexico Grazing District No. 7, approved September 1, 1939,[1] are amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 11, PAR. c. Elections; Qualifications of Electors. At the first election after the establishment of this district the electors will be those range users who, within two years prior to the establishment of this district, were regularly accustomed to using the Federally owned and controlled lands within said district for the grazing of their livestock. The regional grazier, with the assistance of the range conservation committee, shall compile a list of such range users for each precinct and post such list at the precinct voting place on the day of the election. At any subsequent election only licensees or permittees shall be entitled to vote. A minor may vote if otherwise qualified: Provided, That, upon request by his natural or legal guardian, his ballot may be cast by the guardian in the name of the minor. The judges at any election will be furnished by the representative of the Grazing Service in charge with a list of known electors entitled to vote in the precinct and district. No one whose name does not appear on such list shall be allowed to vote: Provided, That any one claiming to have been wrongfully omitted from the list may have his name placed thereon by the judges of election with the approval of the regional grazier or his representative. At the first election only one vote may be cast by the holder or holders of any one grazing license or permit, or by a qualified elector.

"Sec. 11, PAR. d. Nominations; Indian and Non-Indian Advisers; Methods of Voting. From each of the voting precincts established by the regional grazier two (2) advisers shall be elected, one adviser to be elected by and to represent the Indian range users of the precinct, and the other adviser to be elected by and to represent the non-Indian range users of the precinct. The representative of the Grazing Service in charge of the election will choose two (2) Indian range users and two (2) non-Indian range users to act as election judges. The Indian and non-Indian electors present will hold separate caucuses and each will place in nomination not to exceed three (3) candidates to represent their respective group. Voting shall be only by ballots cast personally by qualified electors and proxies will not be recognized. All voting shall be by colored ballots, each candidate being represented by a separate color. The ballots for Indian candidates shall be deposited in a ballot box separate from the ballot box for the deposit of ballots for non-Indian candidates. No elector shall receive a ballot until he has registered by signing or making his mark opposite his name on the list of persons entitled to vote. Before receiving his ballot, any elector may be challenged by any other elector qualified to vote in the district and thereupon the judges, or any of them, may require the elector challenged to answer such questions concerning his qualifications as a voter as may be deemed necessary. Upon his failure or refusal to answer such questions satisfactorily, he shall not be permitted to register or receive a ballot. Each candidate may designate any qualified elector to remain within the polling places during the casting and counting of votes and the declaration of the results thereof, and such person may act as a challenger. Before any elector shall be permitted to deposit his ballot in the ballot box, the judges shall write "voted" opposite his signature on the registration list. Polling places shall remain open on the day of the election from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., or until those present at 5:00 p. m. shall have voted. Upon the closing of the polls the judges shall open the ballot boxes and count the votes. In case of a tie vote, a choice by lot shall be made by the judges in the presence of the tie candidates or of at least one representative designated by each such candidate for such purpose. As soon as the ballots have been counted, the judges shall make out a certificate of returns under their hands stating the number of votes cast, and in both words and figures, the number of votes received by each candidate. The certificate, together with the ballots and the registration list of voters, shall be enclosed and sealed and forthwith delivered to the representative of the Grazing Service in charge of the election."

Notices

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

IN THE MATTER OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION OF THAT PORTION OF THE CANE SUGAR PROCESSING AND MILLING BRANCH OF THE CANE SUGAR INDUSTRY WHICH IS LOCATED IN LOUISIANA FROM THE MAXIMUM HOURS PROVISIONS

Whereas the South Coast Corporation has filed application for the exemption of that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas Harry L. Laws and Company, Inc. and the Celotex Corporation have filed applications for the exemption of that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana, as is engaged in the removing, conveying, burning, baling, piling and storing of bagasse from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas it appears from the said applications that:

1. Sugarcane matures and is and must be harvested in Louisiana in order to avoid severe frosts or freezes during the regularly recurring season, October through early January; and

2. Such sugarcane enters into sugar mills located in Louisiana for processing and is processed during the regularly recurring season, October through early January, running nearly concurrently with, but lagging somewhat after, the harvest; and

3. The mills wherein the processing operations are performed do not engage in any other operations and close at the end of the operating season each year except for maintenance, repair, clerical and sales work; and

4. Sugarcane, being the material used by the sugar mills, is available, for natural reasons, only during the regularly recurring season, October through early January; and

Whereas the Acting Administrator published a preliminary determination in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 28, 1939,[1] pursuant to Section 526.5 (c) of the Regulations, that a prima facie case was shown by the application for the granting of an exemption, pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder, to that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana; and

Whereas no objection and request for hearing was received by the Administrator within fifteen days following the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the said preliminary determination;

Now, therefore, pursuant to Section 526.5 (c) of the Regulations, the Acting Administrator hereby finds upon the prima facie case shown in the said applications that that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana is a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and the Regulations issued thereunder and, therefore, is entitled to the exemption provided in Section 7 (b) of the said Act.

The term "that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana" includes that branch of the industry engaged in the unloading of sugarcane from wagons and railroad cars onto conveyors; the processing of sugarcane into sugar, syrup and molasses, but not the refining of such sugar, syrup and molasses; the removal, handling and conveying of raw sugar, syrup and molasses to storage and placing them in storage on or in the vicinity of the sugar mill site; the removal, conveying, burning, baling, and piling and storing in baled form on or in the vicinity of the sugar mill site of bagasse resulting from the processing of sugarcane into raw sugar, syrup or molasses; and the operations or services necessary or incident to the foregoing.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 16 day of November 1939.

HAROLD D. JACOBS,

mission praying that a citation be issued directing the defendants herein to show cause why the rates charged for natural gas in the State of Illinois should not be reduced and further that an order be entered setting fair, just and reasonable rates for such natural gas;

(b) On October 14, 1938, this Commission, on its own motion in Docket G–112, ordered an investigation to enable the Commission to determine, among other things, whether the rates and charges of the defendants are unjust or unreasonable and if so to fix by appropriate order or orders just and reasonable rates or charges;

(c) On November 16, 1938, the defendants filed their answer to the petition of the Illinois Commerce Commission in Docket G–109 denying that their rates or charges were unreasonable or unjust and also contesting the jurisdiction and power of this Commission to enter any order or orders such as to affect the rates or charges of the defendants;

(d) On April 14, 1939, this Commission entered an order consolidating the proceedings involved in Dockets G–109 and G–112, for the purpose of hearing, and fixing May 8, 1939, as the date of the first hearing;

(e) Since May 8, 1939, hearings have been held from time to time in Chicago, Illinois, and Washington, D. C., and at said hearings the defendant-respondent companies each has appeared by counsel and each has had an opportunity to be heard and has offered of record both oral and documentary evidence relating to the issues herein;

(f) On November 7, 1939, counsel for Illinois Commerce Commission, complainant, and counsel for the Federal Power Commission, filed with the Trial Examiner herein their motion alleging, among other things, that the rates and charges of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America should be reduced and praying that this Commission enter an immediate interim order fixing just and reasonable rates for gas sold by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, in which said motion it is further alleged the record disclosed, among other things, that:

(1) The average annual return for the first seven years of the operations of defendant-respondent companies (1932–1938, inclusive) after all charges for depreciation, depletion and retirements have been made annually, has been substantially 8% on annual average gross book cost of the defendant-respondent companies' properties plus working capital, without any deduction for existing depreciation or depletion (P. 7–I–c, page 3);

(2) Net operating earnings for the last year, 1938, after all charges for depreciation, depletion and retirements, amounted to approximately 11% on average gross book cost of the defendant-respondent companies' properties plus working capital without any deduction for existing depreciation or depletion (P. 7–I–c, page 3);

(3) Taking in lieu of the charges for depreciation, depletion and retirements made by defendant-respondent companies in the first seven years of operations, 1932–1938, the annual sinking fund amount necessary to build up a reserve to amortize the defendant-respondent companies' estimate of total capital expenditures over the entire life of the project, the average return for the first seven years of operations has been 9.3% upon the average of the total gross investment to December 31, 1938, plus working capital (P. 7–I–m, page 5);

(4) In accordance with the defendant-respondent companies' own estimate of the life of their properties, the minimum period for amortizing the investment is 23 years (P. 7–I–g, page 4);

(5) The defendant-respondent companies' estimate of the total capital expenditure for the entire twenty-three year period, less salvage, amounts to $78,284,009 (P. 7–I–k, page 5);

(6) An annual sinking fund allowance of $1,622,436 with interest at 6%, compounded semi-annually, will accumulate the total of $78,284,009 in twenty-three years (P. 7–I–k, page 5);

(7) Based upon this annual amortization figure of $1,622,436 and using the defendant-respondent companies' estimates of earnings available for amortization and return, the per cent return upon average total capital expenditure plus working capital for the years 1931–1941 is as follows:

| | Percent |
| 1939 | 12.1 |
| 1940 | 11.5 |
| 1941 | 11.1 |

(P. 7–II–b, page 6)

(8) The returns for each such year on the basis set out in paragraph 7, above, represent the following amounts over 6% and 6½% returns respectively:

| | 1939 | 1940 | 1941 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Excess over 6% | $4, 109, 914 | $3, 816, 623 | $3, 574, 362 |
| Excess over 6½% | 3, 777, 760 | 3, 472, 859 | 3, 224, 055 |

(9) Although the defendant-respondent companies estimated as recently as September 8, 1939, that the net earnings for 1939 would be less than the net earnings for 1938, the books of the defendant-respondent companies disclose for the first eight months of 1939 in relation to the same period in 1938:

(a) An increase of $1,003,425 in gross earnings from operations;

(b) An increase of $802,518 in net earnings from operations;

(c) A decrease of $137,702 in interest expense; and

(d) An increase of $1,228,984 in net earnings available for dividends after all charges for depreciation, depletion, retirement expense, amortization of bond discount and expense and interest,

(10) On the basis of the defendant-respondent companies' reproduction cost estimate the defendant-respondent companies will earn a return of 10.7% or not less than $3,211,661 above a 6% return and not less than $2,872,935 above a 6½% return for 1939, after all charges as estimated by defendant-respondent companies for depreciation, depletion and retirements, (exclusive of additional return, if any, in the amount by which the defendant-respondent companies' actual earnings for 1939 may exceed their estimates thereof) upon such reproduction cost new, plus working capital less the defendant-respondent companies' own estimate of "viewed" depreciation of $2,866,758 (which compares to the depreciation reserve of $11,405,038) (P. 7–III–a, page 8);

(11) Net earnings available for return for the year 1939 (exclusive of additional earnings, if any, in the amount by which the defendant-respondent companies' actual earnings for 1939 may exceed their estimates thereof), with the annual amortization allowance of $1,622,436 sufficient to amortize the defendant-respondent companies' estimate of total investment of $78,281,009 over twenty-three years, will amount to an 11.6 per cent return upon an undepreciated reproduction cost rate base or $3,931,152 excess over 6 per cent or $3,578,092 excess over 6½ per cent return upon such undepreciated reproduction cost rate base (P. 7–III–c, page 9); and

(12) The defendant-respondent companies have had a full and complete hearing and counsel for the defendant-respondent companies states on October 6, 1939, that their case on direct examination had been completed;

(g) Said motion praying that this Commission adopt an interim rate order has been referred by the Trial Examiner to the Commission;

The Commission orders that:

Said motion for interim rate order be and the same is hereby set down for hearing before the Commission en banc on Monday, December 11, 1939, at 10:00 a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., and at such time counsel for this Commission, the Illinois Commerce Commission, complainant, and defendant-respondent companies may file briefs and present oral argument.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1939

Important. Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts, and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears:

APPLICATION OF DUTIES PROCLAIMED IN CERTAIN TRADE AGREEMENTS TO ARTICLES THE GROWTH, ETC., OF CERTAIN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington, November 16, 1939

The Honorable HENRY MORGENTHAU, JR.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

MY DEAR MR. SECRETARY: Pursuant to the authority conferred upon me by the Act to amend the Tariff Act of 1930, approved June 12, 1934 (48 Stat. 943), as extended by the Joint Resolution approved March 1, 1937 (50 Stat. 24), I hereby direct that the duties proclaimed on this date in connection with the trade agreement signed on November 6, 1939 with Venezuela, and all other duties heretofore proclaimed in connection with trade agreements (other than the trade agreement with Cuba signed on August 24, 1934, the trade agreement with Nicaragua signed on March 11, 1936 and the trade agreement with Czechoslovakia signed on March 7, 1938, as amended) entered into under the authority of the said Act, as originally enacted or as extended, shall be applied on and after the effective date of such duties, or, as the case may be, shall continue to be applied on and from the date of this letter, to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of all foreign countries, except as otherwise hereinafter provided, whether imported directly or indirectly, so long as such duties remain in effect and this direction is not modified.

Such proclaimed duties shall be applied to articles the growth, produce, or manufacture of Cuba in accordance with the provisions of the trade agreement with Cuba signed on August 24, 1934.

Because I find as a fact that the treatment of American commerce by Germany is discriminatory, I direct that such proclaimed duties shall not be applied to products of Germany. Products of territories now under the de facto administrative control of Germany shall be regarded as products of Germany for the purposes of this paragraph.

My letter addressed to you on April 5, 1939,[1] with reference to duties heretofore proclaimed in connection with the trade agreements signed under the authority of the Act of June 12, 1934, is hereby superseded.

You will please cause this direction to be published in an early issue of the weekly Treasury Decisions.

Very sincerely yours,

[SEAL] FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

TRUST POWERS OF NATIONAL BANKS

On November 7, 1939, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That effective November 20, 1939, Regulation F [12 CFR Part 206], Trust Powers of National Banks, be amended in the following respects:

1. At the end of the caption of section 11 [12 CFR 206.11] insert the figure "12" as a designation for a footnote and insert the following footnote at the bottom of the page on which such caption appears:

[12] The requirements of this section shall not be deemed to prohibit the making of any investments or the carrying out of any transactions which are expressly required by the instrument creating the trust or are specifically authorized by court order. *†

2. After the word "interests" in subsections (a) and (b) of section 11 [1] [12 CFR 206.11(a) and (b)], insert the figure "13" as a designation for a footnote and the following footnote at the bottom of the page on which such word appears:

[13] Under recognized principles of sound practice regarding the handling of trust assets, a trustee or other fiduciary should not have any interest, direct or indirect, in the assets of a trust except as a fiduciary; and the requirements of this section contemplate that the national bank will not invest trust funds in the stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, any organization in which officers, directors, or employees of the bank have such an interest as might affect the exercise of the best judgment of the management of the bank in investing trust funds and that the national bank will not sell or transfer trust assets to any organization in which the officers, directors, or employees of the bank have such an interest as might affect the exercise of the best judgment of the management of the bank in selling or transferring trust assets. *†

3. Strike out the figure "12" designating a footnote at the end of subsection (a) of section 11 [12 CFR.206.11 (a)], together with footnote 12, and change the footnote numbering throughout the remainder of the regulation so as to conform to the above amendment.*†

4. In subsection (a) of section 17 [2] [12 CFR.206.17 (a)] and in the footnote 16 thereof, strike out the words "Revenue Act of 1936" and insert in lieu thereof "Internal Revenue Code".*†

MEMBERSHIP OF STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS IN THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

On November 7, 1939, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That effective November 20, 1939, Regulation H [12 CFR Part 208], Membership of State Banking Institutions in the Federal Reserve System, be amended to read as follows:

§ 208.0 Authority for Regulation. This regulation is based upon and issued pursuant to provisions of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act and related provisions of law.

§ 208.1 Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation—

(a) The term "State bank" means any bank or trust company incorporated under a special or general law of a State or under a general law for the District of Columbia, any mutual savings bank (unless otherwise indicated), and any Morris Plan bank or other incorporated banking institution engaged in similar business.[1]

(b) The term "mutual savings bank" means a bank without capital stock transacting a savings bank business, the net earnings of which inure wholly to the benefit of its depositors after payment of obligations for any advances by its organizers, and in addition thereto includes any other banking institution the capital of which consists of weekly or other time deposits which are segregated from all other deposits and are regarded as capital stock for the purposes of taxation and the declaration of dividends.

(c) The term "Board" means the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(d) The term "board of directors" means the governing board of any institution performing the usual functions of a board of directors.

(e) The term "Federal Reserve bank stock" includes the deposit which may be made with a Federal Reserve bank in lieu of a subscription for stock by mutual savings bank which is not permitted to purchase stock in a Federal Reserve bank, unless otherwise indicated.

(f) The terms "capital" and "capital stock" mean common stock, preferred stock, and legally issued capital notes and debentures purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which may be considered capital and capital stock for purposes of membership in the Federal Reserve System under the provisions of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act.*† [Sec. 1]

§ 208.2 Eligibility Requirements. Under the terms of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, to be eligible for admission to membership in the Federal Reserve System—

(1) A State bank, other than a mutual savings bank, must possess a paid-up, unimpaired[2] capital sufficient to entitle it to become a national banking association in the place where it is situated under the provisions of the National Bank Act, except in the following circumstances, in which case such a bank may be admitted to membership with a lesser capital as indicated:

(A) Any such institution organized prior to June 16, 1933 (the date of the approval of the Banking Act of 1933) situated in a place the population of which does not exceed 3,000 inhabitants and at the time of admission having a capital of not less than $25,000;

(B) Any such institution (whether or not organized prior to June 16, 1933) situated in a place the population of which does not exceed 3,000 inhabitants and which at the time of admission is entitled to the benefits of insurance under section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act and has a capital of not less than $25,000.

(2) A mutual savings bank must possess surplus and undivided profits not less than the amount of capital required for the organization of a national bank in the place where it is situated.

(3) The minimum capital required for the organization of a national bank, referred to hereinbefore in connection with the capital required for admission to membership in the Federal Reserve System, is as follows:

If located in a city or town with a population—

|---|---|
| Not exceeding 6,000 inhabitants | $50,000 |
| Exceeding 6,000 but not exceeding 50,000 inhabitants | 100,000 |
| Exceeding 50,000 inhabitants (except as stated below) | 200,000 |
| In an outlying district of a city with a population exceeding 50,000 inhabitants; provided State law permits organization of State banks in such location with a capital of $100,000 or less | 100,000 |

§ 208.3 Insurance of Deposits. Any State bank becoming a member of the Federal Reserve System after the date of the enactment of the Banking Act of 1935 (August 23, 1935) and which is not at the time an insured bank under the provisions of section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, will become an insured bank under the provisions of that section on the date upon which it becomes a member of the Federal Reserve System.[3] In the case of an insured bank which is admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve System, the bank will continue to be an insured bank.*† [Sec. 3]

§ 208.4 Application for Membership—(a) State bank, other than a mutual savings bank. A State bank, other than a mutual savings bank, applying for membership, shall make application on Form 83A to the Board for an amount of capital stock in the Federal Reserve bank of its district equal to six per cent of the paid-up capital stock and surplus of the applying institution.

(b) Mutual savings bank. A mutual savings bank applying for membership shall make application on Form 83B to the Board for an amount of capital stock in the Federal Reserve bank of its district equal to six-tenths of one per cent of its total deposit liabilities as shown by the most recent report of examination of such institution preceding its admission to membership, or, if such institution be not permitted by the laws under which it was organized to purchase stock in a Federal Reserve bank, on Form 83C, for permission to deposit with the Federal Reserve bank an amount equal to the amount which it would have been required to pay in on account of a subscription to capital stock.

(c) Mutual savings bank not authorized to purchase stock of Federal Reserve bank at time of admission. If a mutual savings bank be admitted to membership on the basis of a deposit of the required amount with the Federal Reserve bank in lieu of payment upon capital stock because the laws under which such bank was organized do not at that time authorize it to purchase stock in the Federal Reserve bank, it shall subscribe on Form 83D for the appropriate amount of stock in the Federal Reserve bank whenever such laws are amended so as to authorize it to purchase stock in a Federal Reserve bank.[4]

(d) Execution and filing of application. Each application made under the provisions of this section and the exhibits referred to in the application blank shall be executed and filed, in duplicate, with the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which the applying bank is located.*† [Sec. 4]

§ 208.5. Approval of Application—(a) Matters given special consideration by Board. In passing upon an application, the following matters will be given special consideration:

(1) The financial history and condition of the applying bank and the general character of its management;

(2) The adequacy of its capital structure and its future earnings prospects;

(3) The convenience and needs of the community to be served by the bank; and

(4) Whether its corporate powers are consistent with the purposes of the Federal Reserve Act.

(b) Procedure for admission to membership after approval of application. If an applying bank conforms to all the requirements of the Federal Reserve Act and this regulation and is otherwise qualified for membership, its application will be approved subject to such conditions as may be prescribed pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act. When the conditions prescribed have been accepted by the applying bank, it should pay to the Federal Reserve bank of its district one-half of the amount of its subscription and, upon receipt of advice from the Federal Reserve bank as to the required amount,

[1] Under the provisions of section 19 of the Federal Reserve Act, national banks, or banks organized under local laws, located in Alaska or in a dependency or insular possession or any part of the United States outside the continental United States are not required to become members of the Federal Reserve System but may, with the consent of the Board, become members of the System. However, this Regulation H is applicable only to the admission of banks eligible for admission to membership under section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act and does not cover the admission of banks eligible under section 19 of the Act. Any bank desiring to be admitted to the System under the provisions of section 19 should communicate with the Federal Reserve bank with which it desires to do business.

[2] Section 345 of the Banking Act of 1935 provides in part that: "If any part of the capital of a national bank, State member bank, or bank applying for membership in the Federal Reserve System consists of preferred stock, the determination of whether or not the capital of such bank is impaired and the amount of such impairment shall be based upon the par value of its stock even though the amount which the holders of such preferred stock shall be entitled to receive in the event of retirement or liquidation shall be in excess of the par value of such preferred stock. If any such bank or trust company shall have outstanding any capital notes or debentures of the type which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to purchase pursuant to the provisions of section 304 of the Emergency Banking and Bank Conservation Act, approved March 9, 1933, as amended, the capital of such bank may be deemed to be unimpaired if the sound value of its assets is not less than its total liabilities, including capital stock, but excluding such capital notes or debentures and any obligations of the bank expressly subordinated thereto."

[3] In the case of a State bank which at the time of its admission to membership in the Federal Reserve System is not an insured bank, the Board is required under the provisions of subsections (e) and (g) of section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act to issue a certificate to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to the effect that the bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System and that consideration has been given to the financial history and condition of the bank, the adequacy of its capital structure, its future earnings prospects, the general character of its management, the convenience and needs of the community to be served by the bank, and whether or not its corporate powers are consistent with the purposes of section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act.

[4] The Federal Reserve Act provides that, if the laws under which any such savings bank was organized be not amended at the first session of the legislature following the admission of the savings bank to membership so as to authorize mutual savings banks to purchase Federal Reserve bank stock, or if such laws be so amended and the bank fail within six months thereafter to purchase such stock, all of its rights and privileges as a member bank shall be forfeited and its membership in the Federal Reserve System shall be terminated in the manner prescribed in section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act.

one-half of one per cent of its paid-up subscription for each month from the period of the last dividend.[8] The remaining half of the bank's subscription shall be subject to call when deemed necessary by the Board. The bank's membership in the Federal Reserve System shall become effective on the date as of which a certificate of stock of the Federal Reserve bank is issued to it pursuant to its application for membership or, in the case of a mutual savings bank which is not authorized to subscribe for stock, on the date as of which a certificate representing the acceptance of a deposit with the Federal Reserve bank in place of a payment of account of a subscription to stock is issued to it pursuant to its application for membership.*† [Sec. 5]

§ 208.6 Conditions of Membership—(a) Conditions applicable to all institutions applying for membership. Pursuant to the authority contained in the first paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act, which authorizes the Board to permit applying State banks to become members of the Federal Reserve System "subject to the provisions of this Act and to such conditions as it may prescribe pursuant thereto," the Board, except as hereinafter stated, will prescribe the following conditions of membership for each State bank hereafter applying for admission to the Federal Reserve System, and, in addition, such other conditions as may be considered necessary or advisable in the particular case—

1. Such bank at all times shall conduct its business and exercise its powers with due regard to the safety of its depositors, and, except with the permission of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, such bank shall not cause or permit any change to be made in the general character of its business or in the scope of the corporate powers exercised by it at the time of admission to membership.[9]

2. The net capital and surplus funds of such bank shall be adequate in relation to the character and condition of its assets and to its deposit liabilities and other corporate responsibilities,[7] and its capital[8] shall not be reduced except with the permission of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.[7]

3. Such bank shall not engage as a business in issuing or selling either directly or indirectly (through affiliated corporations or otherwise) notes, bonds, mortgages, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness representing real estate loans or participations therein, either with or without a guarantee, indorsement, or other obligation of such bank or an affiliated corporation.[10]

(b) Conditions applicable to institutions exercising trust powers. The Board will also prescribe for each trust company or State bank exercising trust powers at the time of its admission to membership the following conditions of membership which are appropriate for institutions exercising trust powers.

4. Such bank shall not invest funds held by it as fiduciary in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, the bank or its directors, officers, or employees, or their interests, or in stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, affiliates of the bank.[11]

5. Such bank, except as permitted in the case of national banks exercising fiduciary powers, shall not invest collectively funds held by the bank as fiduciary and shall keep the securities and investments of each trust separate from those of all other trusts[12] and separate also from the properties of the bank itself.[13]

6. If funds held by such bank as fiduciary are deposited in its commercial or savings department or otherwise used in the conduct of its business, it shall deposit with its trust department security in the same manner and to the same extent as is required of national banks exercising fiduciary powers.[14]*† [Sec. 6]

§ 208.7 Powers and restrictions. Every State bank while a member of the Federal Reserve System—

(a) Shall retain its full charter and statutory rights subject to the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act and other Acts of Congress applicable to member State banks, to the regulations of the Board made pursuant to law, and to the conditions prescribed by the Board and agreed to by such bank prior to its admission;

(b) Shall enjoy all the privileges and observe all the requirements of the Federal Reserve Act and other Acts of Congress applicable to member State banks and of the regulations of the Board made pursuant to law which are applicable to member State banks; and

(c) Shall comply at all times with any and all conditions of membership prescribed by the Board in connection with the admission of such bank to membership in the Federal Reserve System*† [Sec. 7]

§ 208.8 Establishment or maintenance of branches—(a) In general. Every State bank which is or hereafter becomes a member of the Federal Reserve System is subject to the provisions of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act relating to the establishment and maintenance of branches in the United States or in a dependency or insular possession thereof or in a foreign country. Under the provisions of section 9, member State banks establishing and operating branches in the United States beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which the parent bank is situated must conform to the same terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions as are applicable to the establishment of branches by national banks under the provisions of section 5155 of the Revised Statutes of the United States relating to the establishment of branches in the United States, except that the approval of any such branches must be obtained from the Board rather than from the Comptroller of the Currency. Under the provisions of section 9, member State banks establishing and operating branches in a dependency or insular possession of the United States or in a foreign country must conform to the terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions contained in section 25 of the Federal Reserve Act relating to the establishment by national banks of branches in such places. The principal applicable provisions of law have been interpreted as follows:

(b) Branches in the United States. 1. Branches established within the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which the parent bank is situated do not require the approval of the Board.

2. Before a member State bank establishes a branch beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which it is situated, it must obtain the approval of the Board.

3. Before any nonmember State bank having a branch or branches established after February 25, 1927, beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which the bank is situated is admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve System, it must obtain the approval of the Board for the retention of such branches; and any provisions contained in this section of this regulation which by their terms relate to the establishment or retention of branches by member State banks are equally applicable to the retention by a nonmember State bank applying for membership and having any branches previously established.

4. A member State bank located in a State which by statute law permits the maintenance of branches within county or greater limits may, with the approval of the Board, establish and operate, without regard to the capital requirements of section 5155 of the Revised Statutes, a seasonal agency in any resort community within the limits of the county in which the main office of such bank is located for the purpose of receiving and paying out deposits, issuing and cashing checks and drafts, and doing business incident thereto, if no bank is located and doing business in the place where the proposed agency is to be located; and any permit issued for the establishment of such an agency shall be revoked upon the opening of a State or national bank in the community where the agency is located.

5. Except as stated in the immediately preceding paragraph, a member State bank which establishes a branch beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which it is situated must have a paid-in and unimpaired capital stock of not less than $500,000, except that, in a State with a population of less than 1,000,000, and which has no city located therein with a population exceeding 100,000, the capital stock shall be not less than $250,000, and except that, in a State with a population of less than 500,000, and which has no city located therein with a population exceeding 50,000, the capital stock shall be not less than $100,000. In any such case, the aggregate capital stock of the member State bank and its branches shall at no time be less than the aggregate minimum capital stock required by law for the establishment of an equal number of national banking associations situated in the various places where such member State bank and its branches are situated.

6. A member State bank may not establish a branch beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which it is situated unless such establishment and operation are at the time authorized to State banks by the statute law of the State in question by language specifically granting such authority affirmatively and not merely by implication or recognition, and subject to the restrictions as to location imposed by the law of the State on State banks.

7. Any member State bank which, on February 25, 1927, had established and was actually operating a branch or branches in conformity with the State law is permitted to retain and operate the same while remaining a member of the Federal Reserve System, regardless of the location of such branch or branches.

8. In order to remain a member of the Federal Reserve System, every member State bank must relinquish any branch or branches established after February 25, 1927, beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which the parent bank is situated, unless such branch or branches are in conformity with or are brought into conformity with the same terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions as would be applicable in the case of the establishment of such branches.

9. The removal of a branch from one town to another town constitutes the establishment of a branch in such other town within the meaning of the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act.

(c) Application for approval of branches in United States. Any member State bank desiring to establish a branch beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which it is located and any nonmember State bank applying for membership and desiring to retain any branch established after February 25, 1927, beyond the corporate limits of the city, town, or village in which the bank is situated should submit a request for the approval by the Board of any such branch to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which the bank is located. Any such request should be accompanied by advice as to the scope of the functions and the character of the business which are or will be performed by the branch and detailed information regarding the policy followed or proposed to be followed with reference to supervision of the branch by the head office; and the bank may be required in any case to furnish additional information which will be helpful to the Board in determining whether to approve such request.

(d) Foreign branches. Before a member State bank establishes a branch in a foreign country, or dependency or insular possession of the United States, it must have a capital and surplus of $1,000,000 or more and obtain the approval of the Board.

(e) Application for approval of foreign branches. Any member State bank desiring to establish such a branch and any nonmember State bank applying for membership and desiring to retain any such branch established after February 25, 1927, should submit a request for the approval by the Board of any such branch to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which the bank is located. Any such request should be accompanied by advice as to the scope of the functions and the character of the business which are or will be performed by the branch and detailed information regarding the policy followed or proposed to be followed with reference to supervision of the branch by the head office; and the bank may be required in any case to furnish additional information which will be helpful to the Board in determining whether to approve such request.*† [Sec. 8]

§ 208.9 Publication of reports of member banks and their affiliates[15]—(a) Reports of member banks. Each report of condition made by a member State bank, which is required to be made to the Federal Reserve bank of its district as of call dates fixed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, shall be published by such member bank within twenty days from the date the call therefor is issued.

The report shall be printed in the newspaper published in the place where

[7] If at any time, in the light of all the circumstances, the aggregate amount of the bank's net capital and surplus funds appears to be inadequate, the bank, within such period as shall be deemed by the Board to be reasonable for this purpose, shall increase the amount thereof to an amount which in the judgment of the Board shall be adequate in relation to the bank's aggregate deposit liabilities and other corporate responsibilities.

[8] This applies to capital stock of all classes and to capital notes and debentures legally issued and purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which, under the Federal Reserve Act, are considered as capital for purposes of membership.

A reduction in capital however, shall not be deemed to be contrary to this provision if, at the same time, the capital is correspondingly increased or a specific reserve in an amount not less than the amount of the capital reduction is set aside to provide for an increase in capital and can be used for no other purpose; provided, of course, the transaction does not violate any provision of applicable laws.

[9] This condition will not be prescribed in connection with the admission of mutual savings banks to membership in the Federal Reserve System.

[11] Under recognized principles of sound practice regarding the handling of trust assets, a trustee or other fiduciary should not have any interest, direct or indirect, in the assets of a trust except as a fiduciary; and the condition contemplates that a trust institution will not invest trust funds in the stock or obligations of, or property acquired from, any organization in which officers, directors, or employees of the trust institution have such an interest as might affect the exercise of the best judgment of the management of the trust institution in investing trust funds.

The requirements of this condition shall not be deemed to prohibit the making of any investments or the carrying out of any transactions which are expressly required by the instrument creating the trust or are specifically authorized by court order.

[12] This does not prevent a bank from investing the funds of several trusts in a single real estate loan of the kind which could be made by a national bank under the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, if the bank owns no participation in the loan and has no interest therein except as trustee or other fiduciary.

[14] Such requirements applicable to national banks are contained in section 11 (k) of the Federal Reserve Act and the Board's Regulation F issued pursuant to section 11 (k).

In cases where trust funds are fully protected by a statutory preference in all of the assets of the bank over its general creditors, the Board may waive compliance with this condition. However, if compliance be waived in any case, the Board expressly reserves the right to require compliance with the condition if, at any time, it feels that such trust funds are not adequately protected.

[15] Under the provisions of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act, reports of condition of member State banks which, under that section, must be made to the respective Federal Reserve banks on call dates fixed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System "shall be published by the reporting banks in such manner and in accordance with such regulations as the said Board may prescribe."

Section 9 also provides that the reports of affiliates of a member State bank which are required by that section to be furnished to the respective Federal Reserve banks "shall be published by the bank under the same conditions as govern its own condition reports." The term "affiliates," as used in this provision of section 9, under the express terms of that section, includes "holding company affiliates as well as other affiliates," but a member State bank is not required to furnish to a Federal Reserve bank the report of an affiliated member bank.

[8] In the case of a mutual savings bank which is not permitted by the laws under which it was organized to purchase stock in a Federal Reserve bank, it shall deposit with the Federal Reserve bank an amount equal to the amount which it would have been required to pay in on account of a subscription to capital stock.

[9] If, after admission of any bank to membership, it should desire to make any change in the general character of its business or in the scope of its corporate powers exercised at the time of admission, it will be necessary for it to obtain the permission of the Board before making any such change.

The acquisition by a bank of the assets of another institution through merger, consolidation, or purchase may result in a change in the character of its assets or the scope of its functions within the meaning of condition numbered 1, and if at any time a member State bank subject to such condition anticipates making any such acquisition a detailed report setting forth all of the facts in connection with the transaction should be made promptly to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which such bank is located.

the bank is located or, if there be no newspaper published in the place where the bank is located, then in a newspaper published in the same or in an adjoining county and in general circulation in the place where the bank is located. The term "newspaper", for the purpose of this regulation, means a publication with a general circulation published not less frequently than once a week, one of the primary functions of which is the dissemination of news of general interest.

The copy of the report for the use of the printer for publication should be prepared on Form 105e. The published information shall agree in every respect with that shown on the face of the condition report rendered to the Federal Reserve bank, except that any item for which no amount is reported may be omitted in the published statement. All signatures shall be the same in the published statement as in the original report submitted to the Federal Reserve bank, but the signatures may be typewritten or otherwise copied on the report for publication.

A copy of the printed report shall be submitted to the Federal Reserve bank attached to the certificate on Form 105e.

(b) Reports of affiliates.[16] Each report of an affiliate of a member State bank, including a holding company affiliate, shall be published at the same time and in the same newspaper as the affiliated bank's own condition report submitted to the Federal Reserve bank, unless an extension of time for submission of the report of the affiliate has been granted under authority of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. When such extension of time has been granted, the report of the affiliate must be submitted and published before the expiration of such extended period in the same newspaper as the condition report of the bank was published.

The copy of the report for the use of the printer for publication should be prepared on Form 220a. The published information shall agree in every respect with that shown on the face of the report of the affiliate furnished to the Federal Reserve bank by the affiliated member bank, except that any item appearing under the caption "Financial relations with bank" against which the word "none" appears on the report furnished to the Federal Reserve bank may be omitted in the published statement of the affiliate: Provided, That if the word "none" is shown against all of the items appearing under such caption in the report furnished to the Federal Reserve bank the caption "Financial relations with bank" shall appear in the published statement followed by the word "none." All signatures shall be the same in the published statement as in the original report submitted to the Federal Reserve bank, but the signatures may be typewritten or otherwise copied on the report for publication.

A copy of the printed report shall be submitted to the Federal Reserve bank attached to the certificate on Form 220a.*† [Sec. 9]

§ 208.10 Voluntary withdrawal from Federal Reserve System—(a) General. Any State bank desiring to withdraw from membership in a Federal Reserve bank may do so after six months' written notice has been filed with the Board;" and the Board, in its discretion, may waive such six months' notice in any individual case and may permit such bank to withdraw from membership in a Federal Reserve bank, subject to such conditions as the Board may prescribe, prior to the expiration of six months from the date of the written notice of its intention to withdraw.

(b) Notice of intention of withdrawal. Any State bank desiring to withdraw from membership in a Federal Reserve bank should signify its intention to do so in a letter addressed to the Board and mailed to the Federal Reserve bank of which such bank is a member. Such letter should state clearly the reason for the bank's desire to withdraw. Any such bank desiring to withdraw from membership prior to the expiration of six months from the date of written notice of its intention to withdraw should so state in the letter signifying its intention to withdraw and should state the reason for its desire to withdraw prior to the expiration of six months.

Every notice of intention of a bank to withdraw from membership in the Federal Reserve System and every application for the waiver of such notice should be accompanied by a certified copy of a resolution duly adopted by the board of directors of such bank authorizing the withdrawal of such bank from membership in the Federal Reserve System and authorizing a certain officer or certain officers of such bank to file such notice or application, to surrender for cancellation the Federal Reserve bank stock held by such bank, to receive and receipt for any moneys or other property due to such bank from the Federal Reserve bank and to do such other things as may be necessary to effect the withdrawal of such bank from membership in the Federal Reserve System.

Notice of intention to withdraw or application for waiver of six months' notice of intention to withdraw by any bank which is in the hands of a conservator or other State official acting in a capacity similar to that of a conservator should be accompanied by advice from the conservator or other such State official that he joins in such notice or application.

(c) Time and method of effecting actual withdrawal. Upon the expiration of six months after notice of intention to withdraw or upon the waiving of such six months' notice by the Board, such bank may surrender its stock and its certificate of membership to the Federal Reserve bank and request that same be cancelled and that all amounts due to it from the Federal Reserve bank be refunded.[17] Unless this is done within two months after the expiration of such six months' notice or after the waiver of such notice by the Board, or unless the bank requests and the Board grants an extension of time, such bank will be presumed to have abandoned its intention of withdrawing from membership and will not be permitted to withdraw without again giving six months' written notice or obtaining the waiver of such notice.

(d) Withdrawal of notice.—Any bank which has given notice of its intention to withdraw from membership in a Federal Reserve bank may withdraw such notice at any time before its stock has been canceled and upon doing so may remain a member of the Federal Reserve System. The notice rescinding the former notice should be accompanied by a certified copy of an appropriate resolution duly adopted by the board of directors of the bank.*† [Sec. 10]

§ 208.11 Board forms. All forms referred to in this regulation and all such forms as they may be amended from time to time shall be a part of this regulation*† [Sec. 11]

Assistant Secretary.

[16] Section 21 of the Federal Reserve Act, among other things, provides as follows: "Whenever member banks are required to obtain reports from affiliates, or whenever affiliates of member banks are required to submit to examination, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or the Comptroller of the Currency, as the case may be, may waive such requirements with respect to any such report or examination of any affiliate if in the judgment of the said Board or Comptroller, respectively, such report or examination is not necessary to disclose fully the relations between such affiliate and such bank and the effect thereof upon the affairs of such bank." Therefore, of course, in any case where the Board of Governors waives the filing of a report of an affiliate of a member State bank, no publication of a report of such affiliate is required.

[17] Under specific provisions of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act, however, no Federal Reserve bank shall, except upon express authority of the Board, cancel within the same calendar year more than twenty-five per cent of its capital stock for the purpose of effecting voluntary withdrawals during that year. All applications for voluntary withdrawals are required by the law to be dealt with in the order in which they are filed with the Board.

[18] A bank's withdrawal from membership in the Federal Reserve System is effective on the date on which the Federal Reserve bank stock held by it is duly canceled. Until such stock has been canceled, such bank remains a member of the Federal Reserve System, is entitled to all the privileges of membership, and is required to comply with all provisions of law and all regulations of the Board pertaining to member banks and with all conditions of membership applicable to it. Upon the cancellation of such stock, all rights and privileges of such bank as a member bank shall terminate.

Upon the cancellation of such stock, and after due provision has been made for any indebtedness due or to become due to the Federal Reserve bank, such bank shall be entitled to a refund of its cash paid subscription with interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month from the date of last dividend, the amount refunded in no event to exceed the book value of the stock at that time, and shall likewise be entitled to the repayment of deposits and of any other balance due from the Federal Reserve bank.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY

RATING AND CERTIFICATION OF CIVILIAN SCHOOLS GIVING INSTRUCTION IN AIRCRAFT, ETC.

EFFECTIVE DATE AMENDED

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of November 1939.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, particularly sections 205 (a) and 601 (a) of said Act, and finding that its action is desirable in the public interest and is necessary to carry out the provisions of, and to exercise and perform its powers and duties under said Act, the Civil Aeronautics Authority hereby orders that Amendment No. 31 of the Civil Air Regulations,[1] providing for the rating and certification of civilian schools giving instruction in aircraft and aircraft engine mechanics, is amended by striking the phrase "Effective January 1, 1940" and inserting in lieu thereof the phrase "Effective upon the further order of the Authority."

By the Authority.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4954]

INCOME TAX

EXCLUSION OF INCOME ATTRIBUTABLE TO DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS; REDUCTION OF BASIS

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In order to conform Regulations 101[2] (Part 9, Subpart H, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. Part 1) by Treasury Decision 4885,[3] approved February 11, 1939 [Part 465, Subpart B, of such Title 26], to section 215 of the Revenue Act of 1939 (Public, No. 155, 76th Cong., 1st Sess.), approved June 29, 1939, such regulations are amended as follows:

(1) Article 22 (a)–14 [section 9.22 (a)–14, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended by adding after the first paragraph thereof the following paragraph:

"For exclusion from gross income of income attributable to discharge of indebtedness of a corporation in an unsound financial condition, see article 22 (b) (9)–1 [section 9.22 (b) (9)–1]."

(2) Article 22 (a)–18 [section 9.22 (a)–18, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"For exclusion from gross income of income attributable to discharge of indebtedness of a corporation in an unsound financial condition, see article 22 (b) (9)–1 [section 9.22 (b) (9)–1.]"

(3) Immediately preceding section 22 (c), relating to inventories, which appears immediately preceding article 22 (c)–1 [section 9.22 (c)–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, insert the following:

Sections 215 (a) and (c) of the Revenue Act of 1939 provide:

SEC. 215. DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS.

(a) INCOME FROM DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS. Section 22 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to exclusions from gross income) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(9) INCOME FROM DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS. In the case of a corporation, the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to the discharge, within the taxable year, of any indebtedness of the taxpayer or for which the taxpayer is liable evidenced by a security (as hereinafter in this paragraph defined) if—

(A) it is established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, or

(B) it is certified to the Commissioner by any Federal agency authorized to make loans on behalf of the United States to such corporation or by any Federal agency authorized to exercise regulatory power over such corporation, that at the time of such discharge the taxpayer was in an unsound financial condition, and if the taxpayer makes and files at the time of filing the return, in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, by regulations prescribes, its consent to the regulations prescribed under section 113 (b) (3) then in effect. In such case the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction. As used in this paragraph the term "security" means any bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any corporation, in existence on June 1, 1939. This paragraph shall not apply to any discharge occurring before the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939, or in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942.

(c) TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH APPLICABLE. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

"ART. 22 (b) (9)–1. [Sec. 9.22 (b) (9)–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] Income from discharge of indebtedness. Section 22 (b) (9) provides a method whereby a corporation may elect to have excluded from its gross income the amount of income attributable to a discharge, within the taxable year, of its indebtedness or of indebtedness for which it is liable as, for example, in the case of a debt arising from an assumption of liability of another corporation. To be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of section 22 (b) (9) a corporation must (1) file with its return for the taxable year a consent to the provisions of the regulations, in effect at the time of the filing of the return, prescribed under section 113 (b) (3) (see articles 113 (b) (3)–1 and 113 (b) (3)–2 [sections 9.113 (b) (3)–1 and 9.113 (b) (3)–2 of such Title 26], relating to adjustment of basis), and (2) establish that it was in an unsound financial condition immediately preceding the discharge of the indebtedness.

"The existence of an unsound financial condition, for the purposes of section 22 (b) (9), may be established (1) by satisfying the Commissioner of such condition upon a presentation to him of all facts pertinent to the financial condition of the corporation or (2) by having presented to the Commissioner a certification of such condition by any Federal agency (e. g., the Reconstruction Finance Corporation) authorized to make loans to such taxpayer on behalf of the United States, or by any Federal agency (e.g., the Interstate Commerce Commission) authorized to exercise regulatory power over the taxpayer. Such a certification will be deemed to be conclusive upon the Commissioner. The certification should accompany the return.

"A corporation may be in an unsound financial condition, within the meaning of section 22 (b) (9) and this article, even though the fair market value of its assets exceeds its liabilities or it is able to meet its current liabilities as they mature. Thus, highly indicative (but not conclusive) of an unsound financial condition would be the fact that bonds of the taxpayer are selling in a free market at prices substantially below their issue price and below the market price of similar issues of similar businesses.

"As used in this article 'indebtedness' means indebtedness evidenced by a bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, in existence on June 1, 1939, and issued by either the taxpayer corporation or any other corporation. Thus, for example, if a corporation obtains a discharge of its indebtedness represented only by open account book entries, section 22 (b) (9) and this article are inapplicable. If, however, a corporation obtains a discharge of its liability (evidenced by its writing) arising from an assumption of a debt of an individual or a discharge of its liability (whether or not evidenced by a writing) arising from the assumption of the indebtedness of another corporation, section 22 (b) (9) and this article are applicable.

"If as a result of the discharge of indebtedness there remains unamortized premium or unamortized discount, the amount of the income attributable to such premium is to be excluded from gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to such discount shall be disallowed as a deduction. The unamortized premium and unamortized discount, as the case may be, is in each instance to be computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which the discharge of indebtedness occurred.

"The provisions of section 22 (b) (9) and this article are inapplicable in the case of any discharge occurring—(1) in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1939; (2) before June 29, 1939; (3) in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942; or (4) in any proceeding under section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, or under chapter X, XI, or XV of such Act.

"ART. 22 (b) (9)-2. [Section 9.22 (b) (9)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] Making and filing of consent. A consent to have the basis of its property adjusted in accordance with the provisions of the regulations, in effect at the time of filing of the return, prescribed under section 113 (b) (3) (see articles 113 (b) (3)-1 and 113 (b) (3)-2) [sections 9.113 (b) (3)-1 and 9.113 (b) (3)-2 of such Title 26] shall be made by or on behalf of the taxpayer corporation in duplicate on Form 982, in accordance with these regulations and the instructions on the form or issued therewith. The original and duplicate shall be filed with the return."

(4) Immediately following article 113 (b)-3 [section 9.113 (b)-3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, add the following:

Sections 215 (b) and (c) of the Revenue Act of 1939 provide:

(b) BASIS REDUCED. Section 113 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the adjusted basis of property) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(3) DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS. Where in the case of a corporation any amount is excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) on account of the discharge of indebtedness the whole or a part of the amount so excluded from gross income shall be applied in reduction of the basis of any property held (whether before or after the time of the discharge) by the taxpayer during any portion of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred. The amount to be so applied (not in excess of the amount so excluded from gross income, reduced by the amount of any deduction disallowed under section 22 (b) (9)) and the particular properties to which the reduction shall be allocated, shall be determined under regulations (prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary) in effect at the time of the filing of the consent by the taxpayer referred to in section 22 (b) (9). The reduction shall be made as of the first day of the taxable year in which the discharge occurred except in the case of property not held by the taxpayer on such first day, in which case it shall take effect as of the time the holding of the taxpayer began."

(c) TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH APPLICABLE. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

"ART. 113 (b) (3)-1. [Section 113 (b) (3)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] Adjusted basis: Discharge of corporate indebtedness. General rule. In addition to the adjustments provided in section 113 (b) (1) and article 113 (b)-1 [section 9.113 (b)-1 of such Title 26], which are required to be made with respect to the cost or other basis of property, a further adjustment shall be made in any case in which there shall have been an exclusion from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) on account of the discharge of indebtedness of a corporation during the taxable year. Such further adjustment shall, except as otherwise provided in article 113 (b) (3)-2 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-2 of such Title 26], be made in the following manner and order:

"(1) In the case of indebtedness incurred to purchase specific property (other than inventory or notes or accounts receivable), whether or not a lien is placed against such property securing the payment of all or part of such indebtedness, which indebtedness shall have been discharged, the cost or other basis of such property shall be decreased (but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of the adjusted basis without reference to this article) by an amount equal to the amount excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) and attributable to the discharge of the indebtedness so incurred with respect to such property;

"(2) In the case of specific property (other than inventory or notes or accounts receivable) against which, at the time of the discharge of the indebtedness, there is a lien (other than a lien securing indebtedness incurred to purchase such property) the cost or other basis of such property shall be decreased (but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of the adjusted basis without reference to this article) by an amount equal to the amount excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) and attributable to the discharge of the indebtedness secured by such lien;

"(3) Any excess of the total amount excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) over the sum of the adjustments made under (1) and (2) shall next be applied to reduce the cost or other basis of the property of the debtor (other than inventory and notes and accounts receivable, but including property covered by (1) and (2)) as follows: The cost or other basis of each unit of property shall be decreased (but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of the adjusted basis without reference to this article) in an amount equal to such proportion of such excess as the adjusted basis (without reference to this article) of each such unit of property bears to the sum of adjusted bases (without reference to this article) of all the property of the debtor other than inventory and notes and accounts receivable; and

"(4) Any excess of the total amount excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9) over the sum of the adjustments made under (1), (2), and (3) shall next be applied to reduce the cost or other basis of inventory and notes and accounts receivable, as follows: The cost or other basis of inventory or notes or accounts receivable, as the case may be, shall be decreased (but the amount of the decrease shall not be more than the amount of the adjusted basis without reference to this article) in an amount equal to such proportion of such excess as the adjusted basis of inventory, notes receivable or accounts receivable, as the case may be, bears to the sum of the adjusted bases of such inventory and notes and accounts receivable.

"For the purposes of this article—

"(A) Except where the context otherwise requires, property means all of the debtor's property, other than money;

"(B) The phrase 'indebtedness incurred to purchase' includes (i) indebtedness for money borrowed and applied in the purchase of property and (ii) an existing indebtedness secured by a lien against the property which the debtor, as purchaser of such property, has assumed to pay;

"(C) The phrase 'amount excluded from gross income under section 22 (b) (9)' means the amount of income excluded under that section reduced by any deduction disallowed under that section for unamortized discount;

"(D) Adjustments to basis shall be made—

"(i) in the case of property owned on the first day of the taxable year, as of that day;

"(ii) in the case of property acquired after the first day of the taxable year, as of the day so acquired—

"regardless of the time such property was subsequently sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of by the taxpayer;

"(E) Whenever a discharge of indebtedness is accomplished by a transfer of the taxpayer's property in kind the difference between the amount of the obligation discharged and the fair market value of the property transferred is the amount which may be applied in reduction of basis.

"(F) Regardless of the amount excluded by the taxpayer from its gross income under section 22 (b) (9) and so stated on Form 982, the maximum amount by which basis may be reduced in respect of the discharge of any indebtedness is the amount of income resulting from the discharge of such indebtedness.

"Example (1). On January 1, 1939, the N Corporation owned an office building, which it sold in March 1939. In June 1939, it purchased a factory building. In October 1939, the N Corporation bought in its outstanding bonds at less than their face value. Assuming that there is a proper exclusion from gross income under section 22 (b) (9), the basis of each building shall be adjusted under section 113 (b) (3) for the taxable year 1939. (But see article 113 (b) (3)-2 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.].)

"Example (2). The M Corporation has outstanding an issue of A bonds which it had sold at a premium and an issue of B bonds which it had sold at a discount. In July 1939, the M Corporation purchased such outstanding bonds for less than face value. The amount of income attributable to the discharge of the A bonds is $1,000 and the amount of unamortized premium is $200. The amount of income attributable to the discharge of the B bonds is $1,000 and the amount of unamortized discount is $50.

"If the M Corporation under section 22 (b) (9) elects to have excluded from gross income the amount of income attributable to the discharge of both bond issues, the total reduction in basis of the property of the M Corporation shall not exceed $2,150. If the M Corporation elects only with respect to the A bonds, the total reduction in basis shall not exceed $1,200 (or $950 if the election is with respect to the B bonds). If the M Corporation excludes only an amount of $500 with respect to the A bonds, the total reduction in basis may nevertheless be $1,200 (or $950 if the exclusion is with respect to the B bonds).

"ART. 113 (b) (3)-2. [Section 9.113 (b) (3)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] Adjusted basis: Discharge of indebtdness. Special cases. Article 113 (b) (3)-1 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-1 of such Title 26] prescribes the general rule to be followed in adjusting basis of property where there is a proper exclusion from gross income under section 22 (b) (9). The taxpayer may, however, have the basis of its property adjusted in a manner different from that set forth in article 113 (b) (3)-1 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-1 of such Title 26] upon a proper showing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner. Variations from such general rule may, for example, involve adjusting the basis of only part of the taxpayer's property or adjusting the basis of all the taxpayer's property, according to a fixed allocation.

"A request for variations from the general rule prescribed in article 113 (b) (3)-1 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-1 of such Title 26] should be filed by the taxpayer with its return for the taxable year in which the discharge of indebtedness has occurred. Agreement between the taxpayer and the Commissioner as to any variations from such general rule shall be effected only by a closing agreement entered into under the provisions of section 3760 of the Internal Revenue Code. If no agreement is reached between the taxpayer and the Commissioner as to variations from the general rule prescribed in article 113 (b) (3)-1 [section 9.113 (b) (3)-1 of such Title 26] then the consent filed on Form 982 shall be deemed to be a consent to the application of such general rule and such general rule shall prevail in the determination of the basis of the taxpayer's property, unless the taxpayer specifically states on such form that it does not consent to the application of the general rule."

(5) The second sentence of article 113 (b)-3 [section 9.113 (b)-3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, is amended to read as follows:

"In addition, whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, as defined in section 113 (b) (2) (A), the adjustments indicated in articles 113 (b)-2, 113 (b) (3)-1, and 113 (b) (3)-2 [sections 9.113 (b)-2, 9.113 (b) (3)-1, and 9.113 (b) (3)-2 of such Title 26] shall also be made, whenever necessary, after first making in respect of such substituted basis a proper adjustment of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor."

TITLE 45—PUBLIC WELFARE

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION

[Administrative Order No. 6]

PART 402—REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT OF OUT-OF-SCHOOL YOUTH ON PROJECTS OF THE NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in the Administrator of the National Youth Administration by the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1939, approved June 30, 1939, the following amendments to Administrative Order No. 5,[1] dated September 15, 1939, are prescribed:

Section 402.5 shall be amended to read as follows:

§ 402.5 Maximum hours. Hours of project work for youth employees shall not exceed 8 hours per day, 40 hours per week and 70 hours per month, except in the case of:

"(a) Exemption by Administrator. Such projects, portions of projects, or areas as the National Youth Administrator, or his authorized representative, may hereafter exempt;

"(b) Emergencies. An emergency involving the public welfare or to protect work already done on a project when so authorized by the State Youth Administrator;

"(c) Making up lost time. Making up time lost due to conditions which in the judgment of the State Youth Administrator warrant authorizing youth employees to make up lost time; or

"(d) Resident projects. Resident projects, to which youth employees shall be assigned upon the basis of a 30-day service status."

Section 402.6 shall be rescinded upon the effective date of this order.

The foregoing amendments shall become effective at the beginning of pay

[Order No. 4]

SUBCHAPTER A — DOCUMENTATION, ENTRANCE AND CLEARANCE OF VESSELS, ETC.

Subsections (b) and (c) of Section 5.84[1] Combat Areas are amended to read as follows:

"(b) No clearance shall be granted to any American or foreign vessel (watercraft or aircraft), bound to a foreign port, while having on board any American citizen, whether as a passenger or member of the crew, if such vessel (watercraft or aircraft) during the course of its voyage, will proceed into or through any combat area, unless such voyage is authorized by rules and regulations prescribed under authority of the Neutrality Act of 1939.

"(c) Final clearance shall not be granted to any foreign vessel (watercraft or aircraft), bound to a foreign port, in a combat area, or proceeding into or through such area, or to any vessel of a belligerent state, wherever bound, until the master has filed with the collector a list of all of the members of the crew of the vessel, together with the nationality of each member, which list shall be sworn to by the master."

Section 5.85[1] Belligerent vessels carrying American citizens as passengers is amended to read as follows:

"§ 5.85 Belligerent vessels carrying American citizens. No clearance shall be granted to any vessel (watercraft or aircraft) of a belligerent state while having on board any citizen of the United States, whether as a passenger or member of the crew, except in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed under authority of the Neutrality Act of 1939."

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[No. 3666]

IN THE MATTER OF REGULATIONS FOR TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

Decided November 14, 1939

Application for authority to construct for experimental service in the transportation of petroleum products five tank-car tanks fabricated by fusion welding granted.

Victor Willoughby for American Car and Foundry Company.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION[1]

ALLDREDGE, Commissioner:

In our several prior reports we granted upon applications therein considered authority to build and use for experimental transportation of dangerous articles other than explosives a total of 867 tank cars equipped with tanks fabricated by fusion welding but otherwise conforming to ICC shipping container specifications.

By application of the American Car and Foundry Company dated June 1, 1939, recommended November 6, 1939, by the mechanical division, Association of American Railroads, for our approval, we are asked to authorize the construction and use of five additional cars of ICC shipping container specification 105A300 type, meeting current requirements, except that tanks will be fabricated by fusion welding instead of forge welding.

In support of previous application for authority for test cars for petroleum products, granted November 3, 1939, the following appears:

Applicant states that tanks will have capacity of 11,000 gallons, all features of design of cars have been passed upon as satisfactory by the Association, construction will conform to all effective requirements, and of a total of seven hundred sixty-seven fusion-welded cars previously authorized, three hundred twenty-one are in service. Applicant further states that service trials and periodical inspections show all cars in use to be in good condition after 7,673 trips over a total of 5,953,698 miles, an increase of over a thousand trips and a million miles of safe transportation since our next previous authorization dated March 13, 1939. The Bureau of Explosives and the Association recommend favorable action on the application.

Upon further consideration of the record and in the light of added facts disclosed in the instant application, the construction and use of five (5) additional tanks of tank cars in accordance with current ICC specification 105A300 is forthwith authorized, provided that tanks may be fusion welded instead of forge welded, and must be constructed and marked in compliance with proposed revised ICC specification 105A300W, filed as an exhibit at the hearing herein and referred to in our prior reports; cars to be used in further service tests in the transportation of petroleum products.

In all other respects the regulations for transportation of petroleum products herein referred to are and shall remain in full force and effect.

Owners or operators of cars authorized herein, shall make semi-annual inspection of the tanks and report their condition to the same parties as receive reports required by ICC specification 105A300.

By the Commission, Commissioner Alldredge.

[1] Under the authority of section 17 (6) of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the above entitled matter was referred by the Commission to Commissioner Alldredge for consideration and disposition.

IN THE MATTER OF REGULATIONS FOR TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

Present: J. Haden Alldredge, Commissioner, to whom the above-entitled matter has been assigned for action thereon.

Regulations for the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles being under further consideration;

And it appearing, That application of the General Chemical Company and American Car and Foundry Company, accompanied by drawings and specifications, recommended by the Tank Car Committee, and concurred in by the Bureau of Explosives, Association of American Railroads, requests permission to construct and operate in experimental rail service in the transportation of ninety-five percent nitric acid four (4) tank cars with riveted aluminum alloy tanks, to be constructed in accordance with shipping container specification 103C–AL embodied herein, including requirements of the Association reproduced as an appendix to the specification;

It further appearing, That the Tank Car Committee, in recommending approval of the application, submits that the proposed specification will provide aluminum-alloy tank-car tanks similar to designs of tanks conforming to requirements of ICC shipping container specification 103C, except that, in place of nitric acid resisting chrome steel, suitable and serviceable aluminum alloys will be used, and that use thereof is in accordance with the best-known practicable means for securing safety in transit;

It further appearing, That there are in use at the present time 169 tank cars with tanks constructed of aluminum, 93 riveted and 76 of welded construction, for commodities of nondangerous character in transportation, and not within the terms of the aforesaid regulations;

And it further appearing, That reports are required to be made to the Bureau of Explosives and the Secretary, mechanical division, Association of American Railroads, before any car is placed in service, certifying to compliance with the specification, and further periodical reports to same parties on the condition of tanks and safety valves:

It is ordered, That the pending application be granted and the construction and use be and is hereby authorized of four (4) tank cars, with tanks in accordance with the following shipping container specification 103C–AL, including appendix thereof, subject to current requirements for the safe transportation of ninety-five percent nitric acid, and safety appliances and carrier rules for the interchange of tank cars:

Riveted Aluminum Alloy, Heat Treated, Tanks to be Mounted on or to Form Part of a Car

[Effective]

1. (a) Type. Tanks built under this specification must by cylindrical, with heads dished convex outward, and must have at least one expansion dome with manhole, and such other external projections as are prescribed herein.

(b) Lagging. Not a specification requirement. The tank shell and dome must be covered by a steel jacket not less than ¼" thickness, extending upward from running boards and spaced 2" from tank shell thus providing tank shell the protection against external damage.

2. (a) Bursting pressure.—The calculated bursting pressure, as determined by the following formula, must be at least 300 lbs. per square inch. Castings and attachments must be designed for the same bursting pressure.

(b) Formula for determining bursting pressure:

$t$=Thickness in inches thinnest plate.
$E$=Seam efficiency.

3. (a) Material. All plates for tank and expansion dome must be made of aluminum alloy, heat treated, in accordance with Aluminum Co. of America's requirements for 61–ST alloy, having a minimum yield of 35,000 lbs. and a minimum tensile of 42,000 lbs. per sq. in.

(b) All rivets must be of aluminum alloy having a minimum shearing value when driven in the tank of 20,000 lbs. per sq. in. They must be heated in pyrometrically controlled furnace and be driven hot.

(c) Aluminum alloy castings must conform to Federal specification for aluminum-base-alloys; sand castings QQ–A–601, dated June 8, 1938, Table I, Class #3, heat treatment #2, Table III, being Aluminum Co. of America's alloy 356–T6.

(d) Aluminum alloy forgings heat treated, must conform to Aluminum Co. of America's requirements for 61–ST alloy.

4. Thickness and widths of plates. The minimum thickness of plates, including thickness of each plate at rivet seams, must be as follows:

| Inside diameter of tanks | Bottom sheets | Shell sheets | Expansion-dome sheets | Tank heads | Expansion-dome heads (inch) |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 78 inches..... | 5/16 | 5/16 | 5/16 | 5/16 | Cast aluminum alloy 356–T6. |

The minimum width of bottom sheet of tank must be 60 inches, measured on the arc, but in all cases the width must be sufficient to bring the entire width of the longitudinal seam, including overlaps, above the cradle.

5. Dishing of tank heads. Tank heads must be of approved contour.

6. (a) Riveting. For computing rivet areas, the effective diameter of a driven rivet is the diameter of its reamed hole, which hole must in no case exceed nominal diameter of rivet by more than 1/16 inch. Use of rivets less than ⅝ inch nominal diameter not permissible on any part of tank or attachments. All rivets must be driven hot.

(b) All seams formed in the manufacture of the tank and expansion dome proper and the attachment of the expansion dome to the tank must be at least double riveted. Dome head, manhole ring and sump must be single or double riveted. Riveted seams and joints must be made metal to metal without interposition of other material. The efficiency of multiple riveted seams must be at least 70% of the strength of the thinnest plate. The efficiency of single riveted seams must be at least 35% of the strength of the thinnest plate.

(c) The manner in which tank is supported on and securely attached to the car structure must be approved.

7. Preparation for calking. The edges of plates at all riveted seams must be beveled so that the angle of the calking edges will be between 70 to 80 degrees with the flat surface of the plate. The extreme calking edge distance, measured from center line of rivet hole, must be at least one and one-half times the diameter of the hole and not more than that distance plus ¼ inch.

8. Calking. All seams, including those formed by attachment of expansion dome and other external projections, must be calked both inside and outside, except that inside calking of the seam formed by attachment of expansion dome to tank is not required when the opening in the tank shell is not cut out to the full diameter of the dome. All rivet heads on inside of tank must be calked. Split calking prohibited.

9. (a) Expansion Dome. The expansion dome must have a capacity, measured from the inside top of shell of tank to the inside top of dome or bottom of any vent pipe projecting inside dome, of at least 1 per cent of the total capacity of the tank and dome combined, and must not exceed 36 inches inside diameter.

(b) The opening in manhole ring must be at least 18 inches in diameter. The opening in the tank shell within the dome must be at least 29 inches in diameter, and when the inside diameter of the dome exceeds 29 inches, the opening in the tank shell may be cut out to a diameter sufficiently greater than that of the dome to permit calking of tank shell to the base of the dome. When the inside diameter of the dome exceeds 30 inches and the shell of tank is cut out as provided to permit calking, the tank shell at this point must be adequately reinforced.

(c) A dome head and manhole ring in one piece may be used instead of a dished plate dome head.

(d) The dome head must be dished convex outward.

10. (a) Closures for manholes. The manhole cover must be of approved type and designed to provide a secure closure of the manhole.

(b) Manhole rings and covers must be made of the metal prescribed by paragraph 3.

(c) Manhole ring and cover must be of cast, rolled, forged, or pressed aluminum alloy.

(d) All joints between manhole covers and their seats must be made tight against leakage of vapor and liquid by use of gaskets of suitable material.

11. Gauging, venting, loading and discharging, and air inlet devices extending through dome of tanks. These devices when installed must be tightly closed as prescribed in paragraph 12 and be of approved design. Protective housing of approved design covering all these devices must be installed.

12. Gauging, venting, loading and discharging, and air inlet devices. These devices when installed must be tightly closed with approved caps, plugs, valves, or other suitable fittings. Provision must be made for closing pipe connections of valves.

13. Bottom discharge outlets. Bottom discharge outlet is prohibited, but tank may be equipped with a sump.

14. (a) Safety valves. The tank must be equipped with a safety valve at least 2 inches inside diameter mounted on top of expansion dome.

(b) One safety valve must be provided for each tank.

(c) The safety valve must be set to open at a pressure of 60 pounds per square inch. (For tolerances see paragraph 18).

15. Fixtures, reinforcements and attachments not otherwise specified. All attachments to tank and dome must be riveted in place and calked to comply with conditions prescribed in paragraphs 6 and 8.

16. Plugs for openings. All plugs must be solid, made of materials prescribed in paragraph 3 with standard pipe thread and taper, and when in contact with lading must be of a length which will screw at least six threads inside the face of fitting or tank. Plugs when inserted from the outside of tank heads must have the letter "S" at least ⅜ inch in size stamped with steel stamp or cast on the outside surface to indicate the plug is solid. Plugs when inserted from the inside are identified by appearance of the plug on the outside of the tank as being solid—therefore, no mark required.

17. Test of tanks. Each tank must be tested, before being put into service and also at intervals as prescribed in paragraph 19, by completely filling tank and dome with water, or other liquid having similar viscosity, of a temperature which must not exceed 100 degrees F. during the test, and applying a pressure of 60 pounds per square inch. Tank must hold the prescribed pressure for at least 10 minutes without leakage or evidence of distress. All rivets and closures, except safety valves, must be in place while test is made.

18. Tests of safety valves. Valve must be tested before being put into service by attaching to an air line and applying pressure. The valve must open at the pressure prescribed in paragraph 14 (c), with a tolerance of plus or minus 3 pounds.

19. Retests of tanks and safety valves. Tanks and safety valves must be retested as prescribed for original tests in paragraphs 17 and 18, except that an acid may be used for filling tank and dome when testing tanks which have not been in service more than 12 years. The first retest must be conducted within four years after the original test, and subsequent retests at four-year intervals up to 12 years of service, thereafter at two year intervals up to 20 years of service, and annually after 20 years of service. Tanks in service over 12 years must be internally inspected for defects which would make leakage or failure probable during transit and must be tested with water only. Tanks must also be retested before being returned to service after extensive riveting, calking or other repairs. Reports must be rendered as prescribed in paragraph 21.

20. Marking. Each tank must be marked, thus certifying that the tank complies with all the requirements of this specification. These marks must be as follows:

(a) ICC–103C–AL in letters and figures at least ⅜ inch high, stamped plainly and permanently into the metal near the center of one outside head of the tank. This mark must also be stenciled on the jacket, in letters and figures at least 2 inches high.

(b) Initials of manufacturer and date of original test of tank in letters and figures at least ⅜ inch high, stamped plainly and permanently into the metal of the tank immediately below the stamped mark specified in paragraph 20 (a). These initials and date must also be stenciled on the jacket, in letters and figures at least 2 inches high.

(c) Date on which the tank was last tested, pressure to which tested, place where test was made, and by whom, stenciled on the jacket.

(d) Date on which the safety valve was last tested, pressure to which tested, place where test was made, and by whom, stenciled on the jacket.

(e) When a tank car and its appurtenances are designed and authorized for the transportation of a particular commodity only, the name of that commodity followed by the word "only," or such other wording as may be required to indicate the limits of usage of the car, must be stenciled on each side of the tank, in letters at least 2 inches high, immediately above the stenciled mark specified in paragraph 20 (a).

21. Reports. Before a tank car is placed in service, the party assembling the completed car must furnish to car owner, Bureau of Explosives, and the secretary, mechanical division, Association of American Railroads, a report in approved form certifying that the tank and its equipment comply with all the requirements of this specification. In case of alterations of the tank or equipment therefor from original design, a similar report must be rendered to the same parties. For the periodic retests of tank and safety valves, other than above mentioned, reports must be rendered to the Bureau of Explosives and to car owner. In addition to the foregoing, owners or operators of cars where construction is authorized herein shall make semi-annual inspection of the tanks and report their condition to the above parties.

Appendix

A A R Requirements

AAR–5. Dishing of tank heads. Tank heads must be dished for pressure on concave side and to main inside radius not exceeding 10 feet. The inside knuckle radius must be not less than 3¾ inches.

AAR–6. (a) Anchorage. The minimum shearing and bearing values of rivets connecting longitudinal anchor plates to tank and underframe shall be as follows:

Connection of single piece anchor plates to tank: (A single piece anchor is one having longitudinal anchor plate on each side of the center sill construction.)

Shearing area of aluminum rivets, based on 20,000 minimum shear value, not less than 66 square inches.

Bearing area of aluminum rivets, based on 54,000 minimum bearing value, not less than 43 square inches.

Connection of a single piece anchor plate to underframe.

Shearing area of steel rivets, not less than 15 square inches.

Bearing area of steel rivets using aluminum anchorage plate with minimum bearing value of 54,000, not less than 22 square inches.

The shearing and bearing values of rivets securing anchor plates to underframe shall not exceed 70 percent of the shearing and bearing values, respectively, of those used for connection of anchor plates to tank. The maximum diameter of a driven aluminum rivet in the anchor must not exceed its nominal diameter plus 1/32 inch. Head block anchorage prohibited.

(b) Tank bands. Each tank shall have at least two bands, one at each bolster, or other approved means of equal strength and security. If more than the prescribed two bands are used, their location is optional.

All tank bands shall be in direct contact with outside of main shell.

The cross sectional area of the tank band shall at no place be less than the equivalent of one square inch of steel. A threaded end 1⅜ inch or more in diameter, with body consisting of a flat band 2 inch by ½ inch, or equivalent section, or round 1⅛ inch in diameter, will be accepted as meeting this requirement.

(c) Bolster slabbing. Contact bearing area shall be not less than 20 square feet.

Not less than 50 per cent of the above prescribed minimum of number of square feet of bolster slabbing bearing area shall be outside the zone of center sill construction.

AAR–14. Safety valves. Safety valve must be of approved design.

AAR–20. Marking. For all other markings see Fig. 1, AAR Specifications.

AR–21. Certificate of construction. For form of certificate of construction see section F, page 6, AAR Specifications.

AAR–22. Car structure. For car structure see section H, page 8, AAR Specifications.

It is further ordered, That tank cars constructed under this order are hereby authorized for use on and after the date of approval and publication hereof, or until further order by the Commission;

And it is further ordered, That copies of this order be served upon all the respondents herein, and that notice to the public be given by posting in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C.

Dated at Washington, D. C. this 14th day of November, 1939.

By the Commission, Commissioner Alldredge.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that a Special Certificate for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 is issued to the employer listed below effective November 21, 1939, until March 19, 1940, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under this Certificate is limited to the following occupations, learning periods and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under this Certificate is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) This Special Certificate is issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at sub-minimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under this Special Certificate, no learner shall be employed at a sub-minimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) This Special Certificate is issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificate may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective November 21, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates shall be cancelled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and shall be cancelled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE KNITTED WEAR INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective November 21, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has not been previously employed for more than eight (8) weeks in the aggregate during the preceding three (3) years upon sewing machine or knitting machine operations, respectively.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of sewing machines and knitting machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, no learner may be paid at a rate less than 22½¢ per hour provided, however, that if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate, learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rate if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no event less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced operators are not available.

(4) These Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of their issuance if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. No learner may be employed under these Certificates if hired when an experienced worker was available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of sewing machine and knitting machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under these Certificates unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. G-138]

IN THE MATTER OF COLORADO-INTERSTATE GAS COMPANY

ORDER VACATING ORDER OF SUSPENSION

NOVEMBER 16, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On September 27, 1939,[1] the Commission by its order suspended certain increased rates for natural gas supplied by the Colorado-Interstate Gas Company to the Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company, which were proposed to be made effective on September 28, 1939, and fixed October 30, 1939, as the date for public hearing concerning the lawfulness of said proposed increased rates;

(b) On October 20, 1939, the Commission, acting pursuant to the request of the Colorado-Interstate Gas Company, postponed said hearing to November 20, 1939;

(c) On October 26, 1939, the Colorado-Interstate Gas Company filed with the Commission an Application for Rehearing and Stay of Order of September 27, 1939, praying:

(1) That the Commission grant respondent a statutory rehearing in respect of said order of September 27, 1939, and conduct what will in effect be the first hearing in respect to the matter set forth therein;

(2) Upon such rehearing the Commission abrogate and set aside the order and grant respondent such other relief as is necessary and appropriate;

(3) That the Commission forthwith stay its order pending such rehearing;

(d) On March 14, 1939, the Commission, on its own motion, ordered that an investigation of the Canadian River Gas Company, Colorado-Interstate Gas Company, and Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company (Docket No. G-124) be instituted for the purpose of enabling the Commission:

(1) To determine with respect to each of said companies whether in connection with any transportation or sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission any rates, charges, or classifications demanded, observed, charged, or collected, or any rules, regulations, practices, or contracts affecting such rates, charges, or classifications are unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential; and

(2) If the Commission shall find that any such rates, charges, or classifications, rules, regulations, practices, or contracts are unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, to determine and fix by appropriate order or orders just, reasonable, and non-discriminatory rates, charges, classifications, rules, regulations, practices, or contracts to be thereafter observed and enforced; and said investigation is now pending and is expected to be completed in the near future;

(e) The rates and charges for natural gas supplied by Colorado-Interstate Gas Company to Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company being under investigation in the proceeding instituted by said order of the Commission dated March 14, 1939, to determine the just and reasonable charges for such natural gas and fix the same by order, it will not, under such circumstances, be inconsistent with the public interest to vacate the Commission's order of suspension dated September 27, 1939;

The Commission orders that:

The Commission's order of September 27, 1939, suspending said increased rates for natural gas supplied by the Colorado-Interstate Gas Company to the Colorado-Wyoming Gas Company, proposed to be made effective on September 28, 1939, and providing for a public hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed increased rates, and the commission's order of October 20, 1939, postponing the date of said public hearing to November 20, 1939, be and the same are hereby vacated.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF OKLAHOMA HOTEL BUILDING COMPANY

ORDER FIXING EFFECTIVE DATE OF AMENDMENTS TO REGISTRATION STATEMENT AND DECLARING STATEMENT AMENDED IN ACCORDANCE WITH STOP ORDER

This matter coming on to be heard by the Commission upon the registration statement filed by Oklahoma Hotel Building Company of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, on February 11, 1938, and upon amendments to said registration statement filed by said registrant on February 28 and March 25, 1938, and July 26 and October 16, 1939, and the Commission having duly considered the matter and now being fully advised in the premises

It is declared, That said registration statement has been amended in accordance with the Stop Order issued on February 24, 1939.

It is ordered, That said Stop Order shall cease to be effective.

It is further ordered, That the amendments filed March 25, 1938, and July 26 and October 16, 1939, shall become effective on November 16, 1939.

Attention is directed to Rules 800 (b) and 970 of the General Rules and Regulations, relating, respectively, to the requirements for the filing of twenty copies of the actual prospectus used and statement of price at which securities were actually offered.

Attention shall be directed to the provisions of Section 23, Securities Act of 1933, which follow: "Neither the fact that the registration statement for a security has been filed or is in effect nor the fact that a stop order is not in effect with respect thereto shall be deemed a finding by the Commission that the registration statement is true and accurate on its face or that it does not contain an untrue statement of fact or omit to state a material fact, or be held to mean that the Commission has in any way passed upon the merits of, or given approval to, such security. It shall be unlawful to make, or cause to be made, to any prospective purchaser any representation contrary to the foregoing provisions of this section."

to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before November 28, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to an application filed pursuant to Section 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-12D-1 promulgated thereunder, by New England Power Association, a registered holding company and parent of Massachusetts Utilities Associates, with regard to the proposed sale by Massachusetts Utilities Associates of 1,368 shares of capital stock of Gardner Gas, Fuel and Light Company, a subsidiary of Massachusetts Utilities Associates, for $1.

It is stated that Gardner Gas, Fuel and Light Company is engaged in the manufacture, sale, and distribution of gas in the city of Gardner, Massachusetts; also, that Gardner Gas, Fuel and Light Company has 1400 shares of $100 par value capital stock outstanding.

It is further stated that under the terms of the proposed sale, Massachusetts Utilities Associates is to cancel the entire indebtedness owed to it by Gardner Gas, Fuel and Light Company, which it is stated amounted to $388,427.12 on September 30, 1939, including accrued interest of $90,727.12; and to pay the fees and expenses of the proposed sale, which is estimated will not exceed $500; that the proposed purchaser, Harold E. Greenwood, is not affiliated with New England Power Association or any other public utility or holding company; and that no other offers for the sale of such stock of Gardner Gas, Fuel and Light Company have been made.

By the Commission.

Whereas, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended (48 Stat. 31), and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246), issued, effective May 1, 1938, Order No. 22,[1] regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, and issued, effective May 13, 1939, Order No. 22, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that an amendment to said Order No. 22, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said act, gave, on the 22d day of September 1939,[2] notice of a public hearing to be held at Cincinnati, Ohio, which hearing was held on the 28th and 29th days of September 1939 on a proposal to amend said Order No. 22, as amended, and at said times and place conducted public hearings at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the proposal to amend said Order No. 22, as amended; and

Whereas, after such hearing handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by such order, as amended, which is marketed within the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, refused or failed to sign a tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, relating to milk; and

Whereas, the requirements of section 8c (9) of said act have been complied with; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds, upon the evidence introduced at the above-mentioned public hearing, said findings being in addition to the findings made upon the evidence introduced that the hearing on said order, and at the hearing on said order, as amended, and being in addition to the other findings made prior to or at the time of the original issuance of said order and of said order, as amended (all of which findings are hereby ratified and affirmed, save only as such findings are in conflict with the findings hereinafter set forth):

§ 922.0 Findings. 1. That the prices calculated to give milk handled in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8e of said act, are not reasonable in view of the prices of feeds, the available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the market supply of and the demand for milk, and that the minimum prices set forth in this amendment to said order, as amended, are such prices as will reflect such factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

2. That the other provisions of this amendment to said order, as amended, are necessary for the more effective administration of said order, as amended;

3. That the order, as amended, and as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to handlers specified in the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, upon which a hearing has been held; and

4. That the issuance of this amendment to the order, as amended, and all of its terms and conditions, as so amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act:

Now, therefore, The Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, hereby orders that the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area be and it is hereby amended as follows:

1. Delete Sec. 922.1 (a) (4) and substitute therefor the following:

(4) The term "producer" means any person who produces milk which is received at the plant of a handler from which milk is disposed of in the marketing area: Provided, That if such producer has not regularly distributed milk in the marketing area or has not disposed of milk to a handler for a period of 30 days prior to May 1, 1938, but begins the regular delivery of milk to a handler, he shall be known as a "new producer" for a period beginning with the date of his first delivery of milk and including the first 2 full calendar months of regular delivery following the date of first delivery to a handler, after which he shall be known as a producer.

2. Add to Sec. 922.1 (a) (5) the following:

This definition shall not be deemed to include any person from whom emergency milk is received.

3. Add as Sec. 922.1 (a) (9) the following:

(9) The term "emergency milk" means milk received by a handler from sources other than producers or new producers under a permit to receive such milk issued to him by the proper health authorities.

4. Add as Sec. 922.3 (a) (5) the following:

(5) On or before the day such handler receives emergency milk, his intention to receive such milk.

5. Add as Sec. 922.3 (a) (6) the following:

(6) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the receipts of emergency milk, as follows: (a) the amount of such milk, (b) the date or dates upon which such milk was received during the delivery period, (c) the plant from which such milk was shipped, (d) the price per hundredweight paid, or to be paid, for such milk, (e) the utilization of such milk, and (f) such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

6. Delete Sec. 922.4 (d) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (a) multiply the weight of the milk received from producers and new producers by its average butterfat test, (b) multiply the weight of the milk produced by him, if any, by its average butterfat test, (c) multiply the weight of the milk received from handlers, if any, by its average butterfat test, (d) multiply the weight of emergency milk, if any, by its average butterfat test, and (e) add together the resulting amounts.

7. Add as Sec. 922.4 (d) (5) (iii) the following:

(iii) In the case of a handler who has received emergency milk during the delivery period, subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in each class a further amount which shall be computed as follows: divide the total pounds of butterfat in said class by the total pounds of butterfat in all classes and multiply by the total pounds of butterfat contained in emergency milk received.

8. Delete Sec. 922.5 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class prices. Each handler shall pay at the time and in the manner set forth in Sec. 922.7 not less than the following prices for milk received at such handler's plant on the basis of milk of 4 percent butterfat content as follows:

Class I milk—$2.75 per hundredweight during delivery periods prior to May 1, 1940, and thereafter $2.35 per hundredweight: Provided, That with respect to Class I milk disposed of by the handler through a recognized relief agency or under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income consumers, including persons on relief, the price shall be $2.15 per hundredweight during delivery periods prior to May 1, 1940, and thereafter $1.95 per hundredweight.

Class II milk—$1.80 per hundredweight.

Class III milk—The price per hundredweight which shall be calculated by the market administrator as follows: multiply by 4 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, and add 30 percent thereof: Provided, That for Class III milk disposed of as butter the price shall be the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received, plus 2 cents, multiplied by 4. In the event that the total receipts of butterfat, excepting that contained in emergency milk, by all handlers from producers and new producers during the delivery period, as ascertained by the market administrator from reports submitted by handlers pursuant to Sec. 922.3 (a), are less than 125 percent of the total quantity of butterfat disposed of in Class I milk and Class II milk by such handlers, computed pursuant to subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (d) of Sec. 922.4, the price last stated shall apply to a quantity of milk disposed of as butter but not to exceed 10 percent of the total quantity of milk received by the handler from producers and new producers, which was disposed of as Class I milk and Class II milk, computed pursuant to Sec. 922.4 (e) (1).

9. Delete Sec. 922.6 (a) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) Subtract, if the average butterfat test of milk of producers is greater than 4 percent, or add, if the average butterfat test of such milk is less than 4 percent, an amount computed as follows: multiply the total hundredweight of milk by the variance of such average butterfat test from 4 percent, and multiply the resulting amount by $0.40 if the average price of butter as described in Sec. 922.5 (a) was more than $0.30, or by $0.30 if such average price of butter was $0.30 or less.

10. Delete Sec. 922.7 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 922.7 Payment for milk—(a) Payment to producers and new producers. On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay, with respect to all milk received during the delivery period, $1.00 per hundredweight of milk to each producer and $0.50 per hundredweight of milk to each new producer: Provided, That in the event the total amount of the deductions and charges authorized by any producer or new producer against payments due such producer or new producer for the delivery period next preceding is greater than the payment computed for such producer or new producer pursuant to Sec. 922.8 (a) with respect to milk received from such producer or new producer during such preceding delivery period, the handler may deduct from the payment required by this paragraph a sum equal to the difference between such amounts.

(b) Payment to producer-settlement fund. On or before the 17th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount of money which represents the value of milk billed to him for such delivery period, pursuant to Sec. 922.5 (d), less the amount paid out to each producer and new producer in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, and less the amount of the deductions and charges authorized by such producer or new producer which are itemized on the handler's producer pay roll: Provided, That in the calculation of the total amount of such deductions and charges to be subtracted, the deductions and charges to be considered with respect to each individual producer or new producer shall not be greater than an amount which, when added to the payment made to such producer or new producer in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section (inclusive of the deductions and charges authorized by paragraph (a) of this section), will not exceed the total value of the milk received from such producer or new producer. The market administrator shall maintain a separate fund, known as the producer-settlement fund, in which he shall deposit all payments of handlers received pursuant to this paragraph.

11. Delete Sec. 922.8 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

§ 922.8 Payments to producers from producer-settlement fund—(a) Calculation of payments for each producer and new producer. For each delivery period the market administrator shall calculate the payment due each producer and new producer from whom milk was received during such delivery period by a handler who paid into the producer-settlement fund in accordance with Sec. 922.7, as follows:

(1) Multiply the hundredweight of milk received from each producer by the uniform price computed in accordance with Sec. 922.6 (a): Provided, That if such milk was of an average butterfat content other than 4 percent, there shall be added or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent variance above or below 4 percent, 4 cents per hundredweight when the average price of butter as described in Sec. 922.5 (a) was more than 30 cents, or 3 cents per hundredweight when such average price of butter was 30 cents or less;

(2) Multiply the total hundredweight of milk received from each new producer during said delivery period by the price for Class III milk not disposed of as butter, as provided in Sec. 922.5 (a): Provided, That if such milk was of an average butterfat content other than 4 percent, there shall be added or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent variance above or below 4 percent, an amount per hundredweight equal to 1/10 of the price for Class III milk not disposed of as butter;

(3) Subtract, in each case, the amount of the advance payment made pursuant to Sec. 922.7 (a), the charges and the deductions, if any, which are made pursuant to Sec. 922.7 (b).

Now, therefore, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, does hereby execute in duplicate and issue this amendment to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, under his hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture, in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on this 21st day of November 1939, and declares this amendment to be effective on and after the 24th day of November 1939.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

IN THE MATTER OF SUPREME MANUFACTURING COMPANY, ETC.

§ 3.66 (h) Misbranding or mislabeling—Qualities or properties: § 3.66 (j10) Misbranding or mislabeling — Results: § 3.69 (b) (12) Misrepresenting oneself and goods—Goods—Qualities or properties: § 3.69 (b) (15.3) Misrepresenting oneself and goods — Goods — Results. Representing, directly or by implication, in connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of respondent's so-called Supreme, Marvel, Marvo and Peerless product for treatment of hosiery and lingerie, or other similar products, that use of such product will prevent runs and snags in, or the rotting and fading of, hosiery and lingerie, or that through the use of such product the purchaser can save approximately 50 percent of the cost of silk hosiery and lingerie, or that use thereof strengthens the heels and toes of silk hosiery, or that hosiery treated with said product will last four or five times longer than it would without being so treated, or that the use of said product will result in any substantial increase in the wearing qualities of silk hosiery, prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by Sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., Supp. IV, sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Supreme Manufacturing Company, etc., Docket 3712, November 7, 1939]

§ 3.66 (g) Misbranding or mislabeling—Producer status of dealer: § 3.69 (a) (11.7) Misrepresenting oneself and goods—Business status, advantages or connections—Producer status of dealer: § 3.96 (b) (5) Using misleading name—Vendor—Producer or laboratory status of dealer. Representing, in connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of respondent's so-called Supreme, Marvel, Marvo and Peerless product for treatment of hosiery and lingerie, or other similar products, through the use of the word "Manufacturing", or any other word or term of similar import or meaning, as part of the trade name used by the respondent, or in any other manner or through any other means or devices, that said respondent is the manufacturer of the product sold by him, unless and until such respondent actually owns and operates, or directly and absolutely controls, a manufacturing plant wherein said product is manufactured by him, prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by Sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., Supp. IV, sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Supreme Manufacturing Company, etc., Docket 3712, November 7, 1939]

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF C. C. JOHNSON, TRADING AS SUPREME MANUFACTURING COMPANY, CARLYLE SERVICE, MARVO MANUFACTURING COMPANY, AND PEERLESS MANUFACTURING COMPANY

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding has been heard [1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, and the answer of respondent, in which answer respondent admits all the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint, and states that he waives all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent, C. C Johnson, trading as Supreme Manufacturing Company, Carlyle Service, Marvo Manufacturing Company, and Peerless Manufacturing Company, or trading under any other name or names, his agents, servants, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of the product for the treatment of hosiery and lingerie now sold and distributed by the respondent under the trade names Supreme, Marvel, Marvo and Peerless, or any other product composed of substantially the same ingredients or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under said names, or any other trade name or names, in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing, directly or by implication, that the use of said product will prevent runs and snags in, or the rotting and fading of, hosiery and lingerie;

(2) Representing, directly or by implication, that through the use of said product the purchaser can save approximately 50% of the cost of silk hosiery and lingerie;

(3) Representing, directly or by implication, that the use of said product strengthens the heels and toes of silk hosiery, or that hosiery treated with said product will last four or five times longer than it would without being so treated, or that the use of said product will result in any substantial increase in the wearing qualities of silk hosiery;

(4) Representing, through the use of the word "manufacturing", or any other word or term of similar import or meaning, as part of the trade name used by the respondent, or in any other manner or through any other means or device, that said respondent is the manufacturer of the product sold by him, unless and until such respondent actually owns and operates, or directly and absolutely controls, a manufacturing plant wherein said product is manufactured by him.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 22—FOREIGN RELATIONS

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

PART 55C—TRAVEL

Section 5 (a) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 regarding travel on belligerent vessels provides as follows:

SEC. 5 (a) Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 (a) it shall thereafter be unlawful for any citizen of the United States to travel on any vessel of any state named in such proclamation, except in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed.

On November 6, the following regulations were prescribed in pursuance of the above provision:

American diplomatic and consular officers and their families, members of their staffs and their families, and American military and naval officers and personnel and their families may travel pursuant to orders on vessels of France; Germany; Poland; or the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa if the public service requires.

Other American citizens may travel on vessels of France,; Germany; Poland; or the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, Provided, however, That travel on or over the north Atlantic Ocean, north of 35 degrees north latitude and east of 66 degrees west longitude or on or over other waters adjacent to Europe or over the continent of Europe or adjacent islands shall not be permitted except when specifically authorized by the Secretary of State in each case.

Section 3 (a) of the Neutrality Act of 1939, regarding travel into or through combat areas provides as follows:

SEC. 3 (a) Whenever the President shall have issued a proclamation under the authority of section 1 (a), and he shall thereafter find that the protection of citizens of the United States so requires, he shall, by proclamation, define combat areas, and thereafter it shall be unlawful, except under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed, for any citizen of the United States or any American vessel to proceed into or through any such combat area. The combat areas so defined may be made to apply to surface vessels or aircraft, or both.

The President, by proclamation of November 4, 1939, entitled "Definition of Combat Areas" defined a combat area as follows:

All the navigable waters within the limits set forth hereafter.

Beginning at the intersection of the North Coast of Spain with the meridian of 2°45' longitude west of Greenwich;

Thence due north to a point in 43°54' north latitude;

Thence by rhumb line to a point in 45° 00' north latitude; 20°00' west longitude;

Thence due north to 58°00' north latitude;

Thence by rhumb line to latitude 62° north, longitude 2° east;

Thence by rhumb line to latitude 60° north, longitude 5° east;

Thence due east to the mainland of Norway;

Thence along the coastline to Norway, Sweden, the Baltic Sea and dependent waters thereof, Germany, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, France and Spain to the point of beginning.

On November 6, 1939, the following regulations relating to travel into and through combat areas were prescribed:

Holders of American passports issued or validated subsequent to September 4, 1939 for travel in Europe are hereby permitted to proceed, in accordance with the authorizations and subject to the restrictions noted on such passports, into and through any such combat area, whether by surface vessels or aircraft, or both, until further regulation. Holders of American passports, whether or not so issued or validated, presently in the combat areas defined by the proclamation of the President of the United States dated November 4, 1939, are hereby permitted to proceed into and through such combat areas in connection with travel in accordance with the authorizations and subject to the restrictions noted on such passports, until further regulation.

The Acting Secretary of State of the United States hereby amends 22 CFR 55C.2 of November 6, 1939,[1] to read as follows:

Other American citizens may travel on vessels of France; Germany; Poland; or the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, Provided, however, That travel on or over the north Atlantic Ocean, north of 35 degrees north latitude and east of 66 degrees west longitude or on or over other waters adjacent to Europe or over the continent of Europe or adjacent islands shall not be permitted except when specifically authorized by the Passport Division of the Department of State or an American Diplomatic or Consular officer abroad in each case.

and also prescribes the following regulations supplementing the regulations prescribed on November 6, 1939,[2] which supplemental regulations shall be designated as § 55C.3 (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f), under Title 22 for codification purposes.[3]

§ 55C.3 American nationals in combat areas—(b) Endorsement of passport for travel in combat areas. American nationals may not travel on any surface vessel or aircraft into or through any area which is or may be defined as a combat area unless they possess American passports which have been endorsed as valid, as hereinafter provided, for such travel by the Passport Division of the Department of State or an American Diplomatic or Consular officer abroad.

(c) Endorsement restricted in validity to one specific journey. Each such endorsement shall be restricted in validity to one specific journey into or through a combat area and shall not be valid for travel on a belligerent vessel unless transportation on a neutral vessel is not reasonably available.

(d) Endorsement on passports of United States officers and employees. Endorsements valid for travel into or through a combat area may be placed on the passports of officers and employees of the United States, civil or military, and members of their families if the public service requires.

(e) Endorsements for other American nationals in cases of imperative necessity. Endorsements valid for travel into or through a combat area shall not be placed on the passports of other American nationals except in cases of imperative necessity and unless other routes of travel to destination are not reasonably available.

(f) American nationals authorized to travel without endorsement. The regulations § 55C.3 (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) are not applicable to the following American nationals who are hereby authorized, under the conditions stated, to travel into or through combat areas without being in possession of American passports endorsed as valid for such travel:

(1) Officers and enlisted personnel on board vessels of United States Navy or United States Coast Guard. Officers and enlisted personnel on board any vessels of the United States Navy or United States Coast Guard proceeding into or through combat areas under orders or in the course of duty.

(2) Officers and members of crew of American vessels authorized to evacuate American citizens. Officers and members of the crew of any American vessel which, by arrangement with the appropriate authorities of the Government of the United States, may be commissioned to proceed into or through a combat area in order to evacuate citizens of the United States who are in imminent danger to their lives as a result of combat operations incident to the present war.

(3) Officers and members of crew of American vessels under direction of American Red Cross. Officers and members of the crew of any American vessel proceeding into or through a combat area under charter or other direction and control of the American Red Cross and under safe conduct granted by belligerent states.

(4) Officers and members of crew of American vessels on current voyage. Officers and members of the crew of any American vessel which in advance of a proclamation by the President, defining any area as a combat area, cleared and departed from an American or foreign port for a port or ports within the area so defined as a combat area: Provided, however, That the provisions of this subparagraph are limited to a current voyage so undertaken. (Secs. 3 (a), 5 (a), Public Res. 54, 76th Cong., 2d sess., approved Nov. 4, 1939; Proc. No. 2376, Nov. 4, 1939)

(11) SECRETARY. The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury.

(12) COMMISSIONER. The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(13) COLLECTOR. The term "collector" means collector of internal revenue.

(14) TAXPAYER. The term "taxpayer" means any person subject to a tax imposed by this title.

* * * * *

(b) Includes and including. The terms "includes" and "including" when used in a definition contained in this title shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.

* * * * *

SEC. 3440. DEFINITION OF SALE.
For the purposes of this chapter, the lease of an article shall be considered the sale of such article.

§ 314.1 Meaning of terms. As used in these regulations—

(a) The terms defined in the applicable provisions of law shall have the meaning so assigned to them.

(b) The term "manufacturer" includes producer and importer.

(c) The term "exporter" means the person named as shipper or consignor in the export bill of lading.

(d) The term "exportation" means the severance of an article from the mass of things belonging within the United States with the intention of uniting it with the mass of things belonging within some foreign country or within a possession of the United States.

(e) The term "possession of the United States" includes the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Guam, Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Wake, the Midway Islands, and Palmyra.

(f) The term "sale" means an agreement whereby the seller transfers the property (that is, the title or the substantial incidents of ownership) in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the price, which may consist of money, services, or other things.

(g) The term "taxable article" means any article taxable under Chapter 29, Subchapter A, of the Internal Revenue Code.*†

Effective Period

SEC. 3415. EFFECTIVE DATE OF SUBCHAPTER.
This subchapter shall take effect on the first day of that calendar month occurring next after the enactment of this title.

SEC. 3452. (AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1939). EXPIRATION DATE.
No sale or importation after June 30, 1941 (or after July 31, 1941, in the case of articles taxable under section 3403, relating to the tax on automobiles, etc., or section 3400, relating to the tax on tires and inner tubes), shall be taxable under this chapter.

§ 314.2 Effective period. The taxes on the sale of gasoline, lubricating oil, and matches became effective under Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1932 on June 21, 1932. The applicable provisions of the Revenue Act of 1932 were superseded, effective March 1, 1939, by provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

The tax is imposed upon any sale or use prior to July 1, 1941, of gasoline, lubricating oil, or matches by the manufacturer or other person liable for tax under the provisions of section 3445 of the Internal Revenue Code irrespective of when the article was manufactured, produced, or imported.*†

(c) In the case of (1) a lease, (2) a contract for the sale of an article wherein it is provided that the price shall be paid by installments and title to the article sold does not pass until a future date notwithstanding partial payment by installments, or (3) a conditional sale, there shall be paid upon each payment with respect to the article that portion of the total tax which is proportionate to the portion of the total amount to be paid represented by such payment.

§ 314.3 Liability for tax. Each manufacturer, producer, or importer is liable for tax on any sale, lease, or use of a taxable article, whether such sale, lease, or use is made directly or through an agent, except as otherwise provided. See Subpart C and sections 314.5, 314.32, 314.33, 314.42, and 314.43.*†

§ 314.4 When tax attaches. In general, the tax attaches when the title to the article sold passes from the manufacturer to a purchaser.

When title passes is dependent upon the intention of the parties as gathered from the contract of sale and the attendant circumstances. In the absence of expressed intention, the legal rules of presumption followed in the jurisdiction where the sale is made govern in determining when title passes. Generally, title passes upon delivery of the article to the purchaser or to a carrier for the purchaser.

In the case of a sale on credit, it is immaterial whether or not the purchase price is actually collected.

Where a manufacturer consigns articles to a dealer, retaining ownership in them until they are disposed of by the dealer, title does not pass and the tax does not attach until sale by the dealer. Likewise, where the relationship between a manufacturer and a dealer is that of principal and agent, title passes upon sale by the dealer, and tax thereupon attaches.

In the case of an installment sale, a conditional sale, or a lease, a proportionate part of the tax attaches on each payment. In the case of use by a manufacturer (see section 314.6), the tax attaches at the time the use begins.*†

Sales by Others Than Manufacturer, Producer, or Importer

SEC. 3445. SALES BY OTHERS THAN MANUFACTURER, PRODUCER, OR IMPORTER.
In case any person acquires from the manufacturer, producer, or importer of an article, by operation of law or as a result of any transaction not taxable under this chapter, the right to sell such article, the sale of such article by such person shall be taxable under this chapter as if made by the manufacturer, producer, or importer, and such person shall be liable for the tax.

§ 314.5 Sales of taxable articles by a person other than the manufacturer thereof. If the property (that is, the title or the substantial incidents of ownership) in an article is transferred from the manufacturer thereof, and, under the law, no tax attaches to such transfer, the subsequent sale, lease, or use of the article by the transferee is subject to the tax. The following examples are illustrative of this rule:

If a manufacturer, producer, or importer of any of the articles covered by these regulations dies, the surviving spouse, child or children, executors or administrators, or other legal representatives, as the case may be, are liable for the tax on all such articles sold by them.

A receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of a manufacturer, who conducts or liquidates a business under a court order, is liable for tax on all taxable articles sold by him, regardless of whether the articles were manufactured or imported before or after he took charge of the business.

An assignee for the benefit of creditors of a manufacturer is liable for tax with respect to all taxable articles sold by him as such assignee.

If one or more members of a partnership withdraw, and the business is continued by the remaining partners, or if new partners are admitted, the new partnership so constituted will be liable for tax on all taxable articles sold by it regardless of when they were manufactured or imported.

A corporation which results from a statutory consolidation, or a stockholder in a corporation who, after its dissolution, continues the business, is liable for tax on all taxable articles sold by it.*†

Use by Manufacturer, Producer, or Importer

SEC. 3444. USE BY MANUFACTURER, PRODUCER, OR IMPORTER.
(a) If—

(1) any person manufactures, produces, or imports an article (* * *) and uses it (otherwise than as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, another article to be manufactured or produced by him which will be taxable under this chapter or sold free of tax by virtue of section 3442, relating to tax-free sales);

* * * * *

he shall be liable for tax under this chapter in the same manner as if such article was sold by him, * * *.

§ 314.6 Tax on use by manufacturer, producer, or importer. If a person manufactures, produces, or imports an article covered by these regulations and uses it for any purpose (other than as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, another article manufactured or produced by him which will be taxable or sold free of tax under the provisions of section 314.21 or 314.22), he shall be liable for tax with respect to the use of such article in the same manner as if it were sold by him.

The use by any person, in the operation of a business in which he is engaged, of any taxable article which has been manufactured, produced, or imported by him or his agent, makes such person liable to tax on such use. However, the tax on the use of such taxable article will not attach in cases where an individual incidentally manufactures, produces, or imports for his personal use or causes to be manufactured, produced, or imported for his personal use any taxable article.*†

Registration Generally

§ 314.7 Registration. Every manufacturer of articles covered by these regulations (except manufacturers or producers of gasoline or lubricating oil) and every person who as a vendee with an established place of business is engaged in selling direct to manufacturers of taxable articles, who desire to avail themselves of the privilege of purchasing such articles tax free for further manufacture, or for resale for further manufacture, in accordance with the provisions of sections 314.21 and 314.22 may be granted a certificate of registry on Form 637 upon the filing of an application for registry on Form 637–A with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which is located the principal place of business (or, if there is no principal place of business in the United States, with the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore, Md.). The application for registry must state specifically the nature of the applicant's business.

Producers or importers of gasoline and manufacturers or producers of lubricating oil are required to register and give bond. (See sections 314.8 and 314.9.)

Jobbers or dealers who are not manufacturing or producing taxable articles or selling taxable articles direct to manufacturers for use as material in the manufacture or production of, or as component parts of, taxable articles, are not entitled to purchase tax free in accordance with the provisions of sections 314.21 and 314.22, and will not be granted registration certificates.

The Commissioner may cancel the registration certificate and may deny the right to sell or purchase articles tax free in any case where he is satisfied that the registrant is not a bona fide manufacturer of taxable articles, or is not a vendee reselling direct to manufacturers of such articles, or that tax-free sales are being made for purposes not warranted by the law and these regulations.*†

Registration and Bonding

Gasoline and Lubricating Oil

[SEC. 3412. TAX ON GASOLINE.]
(d) Every person subject to tax under this section or section 3413 shall, before incurring any liability for tax under such sections register with the collector for the district in which is located his principal place of business (or, if he has no principal place of business in the United States, with the collector at Baltimore, Maryland) and shall give a bond, to be approved by such collector, conditioned that he shall not engage in any attempt, by himself or by collusion with others, to defraud the United States of any tax under such sections; that he shall render truly and completely all returns, statements, and inventories required by law or regulations in pursuance thereof and shall pay all taxes due under such sections; and that he shall comply with all requirements of law and regulations in pursuance thereof with respect to tax under such sections. Such bond shall be in such sum as the collector may require in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, but not less than $2,000. The collector may from time to time require new or additional bond in accordance with this subsection. Every person who fails to register or give bond as required by this subsection, or who in connection with any purchase of gasoline or lubricating oil falsely represents himself to be registered and bonded as provided by this subsection, or who willfully makes any false statement in an application for registration under this subsection, shall upon conviction thereof be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution. If the Commissioner finds that any manufacturer or producer has at any time evaded any Federal tax on gasoline or lubricating oil, he may revoke the registration of such manufacturer or producer, and no sale to, or for resale to, such manufacturer or producer thereafter shall be tax-free under section 3413, this section, or section 3442, but such manufacturer or producer shall not be relieved of the requirement of giving bond under this subsection.

§ 314.8 Registration. Every producer (except as hereinafter provided in this section) or importer of gasoline, and every manufacturer or producer of lubricating oil, shall, before incurring any liability for tax with respect to gasoline or lubricating oil, make application for registry to the collector for the district in which is located his principal place of business (or, if he has no principal place of business in the United States, to the collector at Baltimore, Md.).

Form 637–A, Application for registry, shall be used for this purpose and may be obtained from the collector. The application for registry must state specifically the nature of the applicant's business.

Upon receipt of Form 637–A properly executed, and upon acceptance of the bond provided for in section 314.9, the collector will furnish to the applicant Form 637, Certificate of registry, bearing his registration number. This certificate is not transferable from one person to another. In case of a change in the location of the principal place of business within the district in which registered, the collector shall be promptly notified. If the principal place of business is transferred from one collection district to another, a new application for a certificate of registry must be filed with the collector for the district in which the new principal place of business is located.

The number of the certificate of registry must appear on each exemption certificate used by the registrant in purchasing gasoline or lubricating oil tax free for use, further manufacture, or resale.

Those persons holding certificates of registry on Form 637 issued prior to the promulgation of these regulations will not be required to reregister.

In case any importer or producer of gasoline or manufacturer or producer of lubricating oil fails to register and give bond in accordance with the law as provided above, he shall be liable for the penalty imposed by law.

If the Commissioner finds that any importer or producer of gasoline or manufacturer or producer of lubricating oil has at any time evaded any Federal tax on gasoline or lubricating oil, he may revoke the registration certificate issued to such person and no sale to, or sale for resale to, such person thereafter shall be made tax free. The revocation of a certificate of registry will not relieve such person of the requirement of giving a bond in accordance with section 314.9.

For special provisions relative to the registration of dealers, other than dealers selling exclusively to producers of gasoline, permitted to purchase gasoline or lubricating oil tax free for resale direct to manufacturers of taxable articles, see section 314.7.

For special provisions relative to inspection of records of importers or producers of gasoline and manufacturers of lubricating oil by internal-revenue officers, or officers of any State or Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, charged with the enforcement or collection of any tax on gasoline or lubricating oil, see section 314.62.

*Sections 314.0 to 314.66 are issued under the authority contained in section 3450 of the Internal Revenue Code, and follow the statutory provisions to which they, respectively, refer.

Persons (other than refiners, compounders, blenders, dealers selling exclusively to producers of gasoline, or actual producers of gasoline) who purchase gasoline tax free for resale to producers of gasoline for use by them as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, taxable articles will not be required to register and give bond as producers of the gasoline purchased tax free unless the Commissioner finds that, by reason of abuse of the privilege of buying tax free, such persons are subject to tax under section 3412 of the Internal Revenue Code. Such purchasers for resale will, however, be required to register in accordance with section 314.7.

Every person who fails to register as required by this section is liable for the penalties imposed by law.*†

If the amount of the bond so calculated would exceed $30,000, the collector may accept a bond for not less than $30,000. In such cases there should be submitted to the collector for transmittal to the Commissioner all facts pertaining to the ownership and value of the property and equipment which will be of assistance to the Commissioner in determining whether a larger bond should be required from the applicant. In transmitting this data the collector should submit his recommendation as to the sufficiency of the bond.

The amount of the bond must be in multiples of $100. Where the sum equivalent to the approximate amount of tax which would be incurred during the 3-month period is an odd amount, the amount of the bond shall be increased to the next multiple of $100. For example, if the approximate amount of tax likely to be incurred during the 3-month period amounts to $6,666.66, the amount of the bond shall be $6,700.

Every person who fails to give a bond as required by this section is liable for the penalties imposed by law.*†

§ 314.10 Cancellation clause in bond. Any bond filed on Treasury Department Form 928 by a manufacturer or producer of lubricating oil or by a producer or importer of gasoline may be accepted with a cancellation clause incorporated therein, or annexed thereto, if such clause provides that:

Any surety on the bond may at any time notify the principal and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that he desires after a date named, which shall be at least 60 days after the receipt of notification by the Commissioner, to be relieved of liability under said bond. If such notice is not thereafter in writing withdrawn, the rights of the principal as supported by said bond shall be terminated on the date named in the notice (unless supported by other bond or bonds), and the surety shall be relieved from liability under said bond for any acts done wholly subsequent to said date. The surety shall, however, remain liable for any unpaid tax liability incurred by the principal before the effective moment of cancellation, in addition to the appropriate penalties and interest, unless the principal pays such tax and appropriate penalties and interest. Said notice may not be given by an agent of the surety, unless it is accompanied by power of attorney duly executed by the surety authorizing the agent to give such notice or by a verified statement that such power of attorney is on file with the Treasury Department.

Where the cancellation clause is contained in a document to be affixed to, or associated with, Treasury Department Form 928 referred to above, such cancellation clause must be duly executed by the principal and surety in the same manner as the bond to which it pertains.*†

SUBPART C.—GENERAL EXEMPTIONS

Tax-Free Sales for Further Manufacture

SEC. 3442. TAX-FREE SALES.

Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, no tax under this chapter shall be imposed with respect to the sale of any article—

(1) for use by the vendee as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, an article enumerated in this chapter;

(2) for resale by the vendee for such use by his vendee, if such article is in due course so resold;

* * * * *

For the purposes of this chapter the manufacturer or producer to whom an article is sold under paragraph (1) or resold under paragraph (2) shall be considered the manufacturer or producer of such article.

* * * * *

§ 314.20 Tax-free sales. No tax is imposed on any article when sold—

(1) For use by the vendee as material in the manufacturer or production of, or as a component part of, a taxable article;

(2) For resale by the vendee for such use by his vendee if such article is in due course so resold.

The exemption certificates required by sections 314.21 and 314.22 must in every case show the registration number of the vendee. (See section 314.7) *†

§ 314.21 Articles sold to manufacturers. To establish the right to exemption with respect to an article sold for use by the purchaser as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, a taxable article, the manufacturer must obtain from his vendee, prior to or at the time of sale, and retain in his possession, a certificate as outlined in this section, showing that the vendee is a manufacturer of taxable articles and that the article purchased is to be used by him as material in the manufacture or production of another taxable article or as a component part of such an article.

A manufacturer who purchases an article under an exemption certificate for use in the manufacture or production of a taxable article shall be considered the manufacturer of the article so purchased, and is liable for tax on his use or resale of the article unless the exempt character of the use or resale is established.

For special provisions with respect to tax-free sales of gasoline or lubricating oils to manufacturers or producers of gasoline or lubricating oils, see sections 314.32 and 314.42.

Following is the form of exemption certificate which will be acceptable for purposes of this section and which must be adhered to in substance:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(Purchases for further manufacture under section 3442 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code)

The undersigned hereby certifies that he is a manufacturer or producer of articles taxable under Chapter 29, Subchapter A, of the Internal Revenue Code, and holds certificate of registry No. ----, issued by the collector of internal revenue at ----------, and that the article or articles specified in the accompanying order will be used by him as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, an article or articles enumerated in such Subchapter A, to be manufactured or produced by him.

It is understood that for all the purposes of such Subchapter A the undersigned will be considered the manufacturer or producer of the articles purchased hereunder, and (except as specifically provided by law) must pay tax on resale or use, otherwise than as specified above, of the articles purchased hereunder. It is further understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to revocation of the privilege of purchasing tax free and to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution.

----------

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate exemption certificate for each order, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable.*†

§ 314.22 Articles sold for resale to manufacturers. To establish the right to exemption from tax with respect to an article sold by the manufacturer to any person (either a dealer or another manufacturer) for resale without change in form direct to a manufacturer for use by him as material in the manufacture or production of a taxable article or as a component part thereof, it is necessary that (1) both the manufacturer and the vendee (hereinafter referred to as the "dealer") be registered with the collectors of internal revenue for their respective districts in accordance with the provisions of section 314.7 or 314.8 as the case may be, (2) the manufacturer obtain from the dealer prior to or at the time of sale, and retain in his possession, a certificate as outlined in this section, showing that the dealer is engaged in the business of selling direct to manufacturers of taxable articles and that the article is to be resold by him only for use by his vendee as material in the manufacture or production of a taxable article or as a component part thereof, and (3) the manufacturer obtain from the dealer proof that the article has been so resold by the dealer. Such proof shall be either (a) a certificate obtained by the dealer from his vendee showing that such vendee purchased the article for use in the manufacture or production of a taxable article and not for resale, or (b) a sworn statement by the dealer that he has obtained from his vendee, and has in his possession, such a certificate. The certificate required by (2) suspends liability for the payment of the tax by the manufacturer on the sale of such article for a period of not more than two months from the date when title passes or the date of shipment, whichever is prior. If within two months the manufacturer has not received the proof required by (3), then the temporary suspension of liability for the payment of the tax ceases and the manufacturer shall include the tax on the sale of such article in his return for the month in which such 2-month period expires. If such proof later becomes available, a claim for refund of tax paid may be filed, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313.

The exemption applies only where there is not more than one intervening sale between the manufacturer of the article and the manufacturer purchasing it for further manufacture.

Following is the form of exemption certificate which will be acceptable for purposes of this section and which must be adhered to in substance:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(Purchases for resale under section 3442 (2) of the Internal Revenue Code)

The undersigned hereby certifies that he is engaged in the business of selling direct to manufacturers or producers of articles taxable under Chapter 29, Subchapter A, of the Internal Revenue Code, and holds certificate of registry No. ----, issued by the collector of internal revenue at ----------, and that the article or articles specified in the accompanying order will be resold by him only for use by his vendee as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, an article or articles enumerated in such Subchapter A.

It is understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to cancellation of the privilege of purchasing tax free and to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution.

----------

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate exemption certificate for each order, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable.*†

§ 314.23 Proof of right to exemption. Where a manufacturer or a vendee makes a sale under exemption certificate, he must use reasonable diligence to satisfy himself that the use of the certificate is warranted by the law and regulations. If the original vendor has knowledge at the time of his sale that the article sold by him is not intended for use or resale by such vendee as specified in the certificate given by the vendee, the original vendor is liable for the tax and is not relieved of liability by the exemption certificate. Where any person attempts to defeat the tax imposed on the sale of articles covered by these regulations by fraudulently giving an exemption certificate, he is liable for the penalties imposed by law. (See section 314.65)

Proper records, with the supporting orders, invoices, certificates, and sworn statements required by these regulations, must be maintained with respect to exempt sales as provided in section 314.62. If such evidence can not be produced on demand of any internal-revenue officer, tax will be assessed. If any such documents are false or fraudulent, the guilty parties are liable to the penalties provided by law. (See section 314.65) *†

[SEC. 3442. TAX-FREE SALES.]

[Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, no tax under this chapter shall be imposed with respect to the sale of any article—]

(3) for the exclusive use of the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia.

§ 314.24. Sales to States or political subdivisions thereof and to the United States. No tax attaches to articles sold by the manufacturer direct to the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia, for its exclusive use, provided the exempt character of the sale is established as required by these regulations.

No sale may be made tax free by the manufacturer to a dealer for resale to the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia, even though it is known at the time of the sale that the article will be so resold. However, where any dealer resells a tax-paid article to any of the governmental units named above, for its exclusive use, the manufacturer who paid the tax to the United States on his sale of the article may secure a refund or credit in accordance with the provisions of section 314.64.

To establish the right to exemption from tax where the sale of an article is made by the manufacturer direct to the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia, for its exclusive use, it is necessary that (1) the manufacturer have definite knowledge prior to or at the time of sale, that the article is purchased for such use, and (2) he obtain from an authorized officer of the United States, State, Territory of the United States, political subdivision, or District of Columbia, as the case may be, and retain in his possession a properly executed exemption certificate in the form prescribed by this section.

Where the certificate is obtained subsequent to the sale but prior to the time the manufacturer is required to file a return covering taxes due for the month during which the sale was made he should include the tax on such sale in his return for that month, in the item "Total tax due," but may deduct an amount equivalent to the tax applicable to such sale and pay the net tax resulting, making appropriate explanation either on the face of the return or on a rider attached thereto. If the certificate is not so obtained, the manufacturer must include the tax on such sale in his return for the month in which the sale was made. However, if the certificate is later obtained a claim for refund of tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313.

The certificate required by this section must include an agreement that if the articles covered thereby are used otherwise than for the exclusive use of the United States, the State, Territory, political subdivision, or the District of Columbia, as the case may be, or if any of such articles are resold to employees or others, a responsible officer of the United States, State, Territory, or political subdivision, or the District of Columbia, as the case may be, will report such fact to the manufacturer. The tax applicable to the sale of such articles shall be included by the manufacturer in his return for the month during which such report is received by him.

The certificate required by this section shall be in substantially the following form:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by United States, States, Territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or the District of Columbia.)

----------, 19---.

The undersigned hereby certifies that he is ---------- of ---------- (Title of officer.) (United States, State, Territory, or political subdivision, or District of Columbia.) and that he is authorized to execute this certificate and that the article or articles specified in the accompanying order or on the reverse side hereof, are purchased from ---------- for the exclusive use of ----------
(United States, State, Territory, or political subdivision, or District of Columbia.)

It is understood that the exemption from tax in the case of sales of articles under this exemption certificate to the United States, States, etc., is limited to the sale of articles purchased for their exclusive use, and it is agreed that if articles purchased tax free under this exemption certificate are used otherwise or are sold to employees or others, such fact will be reported by me to the manufacturer of the article or articles covered by this certificate. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution.

---------- (Signature.)

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate certificate for each order or contract, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable. Such certificates and proper records of invoices, orders, etc., relative to tax-free sales must be retained as provided in section 314.62. If, upon inspection, it is discovered that a manufacturer's records with respect to any sale claimed to be tax-free do not contain a proper certificate, as outlined above, with supporting invoices and such other evidence as may be necessary to establish the exempt character of the sale, tax shall be payable by the manufacturer on such sale.

The articles covered by the exemption certificate must be fully identified as to nature, quantity, and date of sale.*†

Exports, and Shipments to Possessions of the United States

SEC. 3449. APPLICABILITY OF ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS.

All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by section 2700 shall, in so far as applicable and not inconsistent with this chapter, be applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by this chapter.

SEC. 2705. EXPORTATION.

Under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary may prescribe, the tax imposed under section 2700 (a) shall not apply in respect of articles sold or leased for export or for shipment to a possession of the United States and in due course so exported or shipped. Under such rules and regulations the amount of any internal revenue tax erroneously or illegally collected in respect of such articles so exported or shipped may be refunded to the exporter or shipper of the articles, instead of to the manufacturer, if the manufacturer waives any claim for the amount so to be refunded.

§ 314.25 Sales for export. To exempt from tax a sale for export it is necessary that two conditions be met, namely, (1) that the article be identified as having been sold by the manufacturer for export and (2) that it be exported in due course.

An article will be regarded as having been sold by the manufacturer for export if the manufacturer has in his possession at the time title passes or at the time of shipment (whichever is prior), (a) a written order or contract of sale showing that the manufacturer is to ship the article to a foreign destination; or (b) where delivery by the manufacturer is to be made within the United States, a sworn statement from the purchaser showing (1) that the article is purchased to fill existing or future orders for delivery to a foreign destination; or that the article is purchased for resale to another person engaged in the business of exporting who will export the article, and (2) that such article will be transported to its foreign destination in due course prior to use or further manufacture and prior to any resale except for export.

The written order or contract of sale or the sworn statement referred to in (a) and (b) of the preceding paragraph suspends liability for the payment of the tax by the manufacturer on such sales for export for a period of six months from the date when title passes or the date of shipment, whichever is prior. If within such period the manufacturer has not received and attached to the order or contract, or sworn statement, proper "proof of exportation" (see section 314.26), then the temporary suspension of the liability for the payment of the tax ceases and the manufacturer shall include the tax on the sale of such article in his return for the month in which such 6-month period expires.

The exemption provided herein is limited to sales by the manufacturer for export and is not applicable in cases where sales of taxable articles are made from a dealer's stock for export even though actually exported.*†

§ 314.26 Proof of exportation. Exportation may be evidenced by (1) a copy of the export bill of lading issued by the delivering carrier, or (2) a certificate by the agent or representative of the export carrier showing actual exportation of the article, or (3) a certificate of landing signed by a customs officer of the foreign country to which the article is exported, or (4) where such foreign country has no customs administration, a sworn statement of the foreign consignee showing receipt of the article.

In any case where the manufacturer is not the exporter, such manufacturer must have in his possession an affidavit from the person to whom he sold the article stating that the article was in fact exported in due course by him or was sold to another person who in due course exported the article. This affidavit must state what evidence is available to show that the article was in fact exported in due course prior to use or further manufacture and prior to resale in the United States other than for export. Such evidence must be that described in (1), (2), (3), or (4) in this section, and the affidavit must show where such evidence is readily available for inspection by Government officers.

In all cases the sales records together with the evidence of exportation must be preserved by the manufacturer for a period of at least four years from the last day of the month following the sale, and must be readily accessible for inspection by internal-revenue officers.

In any case where the manufacturer does not have in his possession within the 6-month period, proof of exportation as outlined herein, the manufacturer must pay the tax involved. If proof of exportation later becomes available, a claim for refund of any tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit may be taken upon any subsequent monthly return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313.*†

§ 314.27 Shipments to possessions of the United States. The same provisions as relate to sales for export and proof of exportation will apply to sales for shipment to a possession of the United States if the articles are in due course so shipped. (See sections 314.1, 314.25, and 314.26)

This exemption does not apply with respect to sales of articles for shipment to the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii for the reason that these Territories are by a statutory definition included in the term "United States." (See section 3797 (a) (9))*†

Exemption From Tax of Certain Supplies for Certain Vessels

SEC. 3451. EXEMPTION FROM TAX OF CERTAIN SUPPLIES FOR VESSELS.

Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, no tax under this chapter shall be imposed upon any article sold for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation, vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States and any of its possessions. Articles manufactured or produced with the use of articles upon the importation of which tax has been paid under this chapter, if laden for use as supplies on such vessels, shall be held to be exported for the purposes of section 3430. The term "vessels" as used in this section includes civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and the term "vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation" includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The privileges granted under this section in respect of civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country, shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury has been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of the Treasury is advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued or will discontinue the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted under this section shall not apply thereafter in respect of civil aircraft registered in that foreign country and employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

§ 314.28 Exemption of certain supplies for certain vessels. No tax attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of an article covered by these regulations where such article is sold by the manufacturer direct for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on (1) vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation, (2) vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, (3) vessels actually engaged in foreign trade, (4) vessels actually engaged in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, or (5) vessels actually engaged in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

The terms "fuel supplies," "ships' stores," "legitimate equipment" include all articles, materials, supplies, and equipment necessary for the navigation, propulsion, and upkeep of vessels.

The term "sea stores" includes any article purchased for use or consumption by the passengers or crew, or both, of a vessel upon its voyage.

The term "vessel" includes (a) every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water, (b) civil aircraft registered in the United States and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and (c) civil aircraft registered in a foreign country and employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

The term "vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation" includes (a) every description of watercraft or other contrivance used, or capable of being used, as a means of transportation on water and constituting a part of the armed forces of the United States or of a foreign nation and (b) aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof.

The term "trade" includes the transportation of persons or property for hire and the making of the necessary preparations for such transportation.

No sale may be made tax free to a dealer for resale for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment for the vessel enumerated, even though it is known at the time of sale that the article will be so resold. However, where any dealer resells a tax-paid article for such use the manufacturer who paid the tax to the United States on his sale of the article may secure a refund or credit in accordance with the provisions of section 314.64.

Tax-free sales under this section must be restricted to such of the articles covered by these regulations as normally form a part of the supplies, stores, or equipment of the vessels enumerated. The exemption does not apply to articles which are for resale to passengers or members of the crew for consumption or use otherwise than during the voyage of a vessel, or to articles which are to be transported for the use of others, or to those which are to be used in any manner other than as specified in this section. Articles may not be sold by the manufacturer tax free direct to passengers or crew but only to the owner, officer, charterer, or authorized agent of the vessel.

The exemption from tax provided for under this section is not applicable to vessels engaged in trade between domestic ports on the Pacific Ocean, or between domestic ports on the Atlantic Ocean and Gulf of Mexico, or engaged in trade on the inland waterways of the United States. If a vessel is actually engaged in a voyage from a port in the United States to a foreign port or to a port in one of the possessions of the United States, or between Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, the exemption from the tax is not destroyed because the vessel stops at an intermediate port of call in the United States as a part of that voyage to the ultimate destination.

The exemption with respect to civil aircraft is more limited than the exemption with respect to other vessels in that it extends only to civil aircraft employed in foreign trade, or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions. Although section 3451 exempts sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on watercraft engaged in trade between the Atlantic and the Pacific ports of the United States, it does not exempt sales of articles for use as fuel supplies, etc., on civil aircraft engaged in trade between such ports. In the case of civil aircraft registered in a foreign country, the exemption is further limited in that the privilege of exemption may be granted only so long as such foreign country allows a substantially reciprocal exemption with respect to civil aircraft registered in the United States. If a foreign country discontinues the allowance of such substantially reciprocal exemption, the exemption allowed by the United States will not apply after the Secretary of the Treasury is notified by the Secretary of Commerce of the discontinuance of the exemption allowed by the foreign country.

The exemption provided in the case of articles sold for the prescribed use on vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business is limited to articles sold by the manufacturer for such use on vessels while employed, and to the extent employed, exclusively in the fisheries or in the whaling business.

To establish the right to exemption from the tax on the sale of an article by the manufacturer direct for use as fuel supplies, etc., on the vessels enumerated above, it is necessary that (1) the manufacturer have definite knowledge prior to or at the time of sale that the article was purchased for such use, and (2) he obtain from the owner, officer, charterer, or authorized agent of the vessel and retain in his possession a properly executed exemption certificate in the form prescribed by this section. If articles are sold tax free for use on civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or in trade between the United States and any of its possessions, the exemption certificate must show the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered.

Where the certificate is obtained subsequent to the sale but prior to the time the manufacturer is required to file a return covering taxes due for the month during which the sale was made, he should include the tax on such sale in his return for that month, in the item "Total tax due," but may deduct an amount equivalent to the tax applicable to such sale and pay the net tax resulting, making appropriate explanation either on the face of the return or on a rider attached thereto. If the certificate is not so obtained, the manufacturer must include the tax on such sale in his return for the month in which the sale was made. However, if the certificate is later obtained a claim for refund of tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313.

The certificate required by this section must include an agreement that if the articles covered thereby are disposed of, or used, otherwise than as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on the vessels enumerated, the person who signed the certificate will report such fact to the manufacturer. The tax applicable to the sale of such articles shall be included by the manufacturer in his return for the month during which such report is received by him.

The following form of exemption certificate will be acceptable for the purposes of this section and must be adhered to in substance:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by purchasers of articles for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on certain vessels (section 3451 of the Internal Revenue Code).)

----------, 19...

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies that he is----------

(Owner, officer, charterer, or an authorized agent.) of ---------- (Name of company and that the article or articles and vessel.) specified in the accompanying order, or as specified below or on the reverse side hereof, will be used only for fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on a vessel belonging to one of the following classes enumerated in section 3451 of the Internal Revenue Code:

———(1) Vessels engaged in foreign trade.
———(2) Vessels engaged in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States.
———(3) Vessels engaged in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.
———(4) Vessels employed in the fisheries or whaling business.
———(5) Vessels of war of the United States or a foreign nation.

If the articles are purchased for use on civil aircraft engaged in trade as specified in (1) or (3) above, state the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered.

The undersigned understands that if the article is used for any purpose other than as stated in this certificate, or is resold or otherwise disposed of, he must report such fact to the manufacturer. It is understood that this certificate may not be used in purchasing articles tax free for use as fuel supplies, etc., on pleasure vessels, or on any type of aircraft except (a) civil aircraft employed in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, and otherwise entitled to exemption, and (b) aircraft owned by the United States or any foreign country and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a penalty equivalent to the amount of tax due on the sale of the article and upon conviction to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by satisfactory evidence the purpose for which the article was used.

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate certificate for each order or contract, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable. Such certificates and proper records of invoices, orders, etc., relative to tax-free sales must be retained as provided in section 314.62. If, upon inspection, it is discovered that a manufacturer's records with respect to any sale claimed to be tax free do not include a proper certificate, as outlined above, with supporting invoices and such other evidence as may be necessary to establish the exempt character of the sale, tax shall be payable by the manufacturer on such sale.

The articles covered by the exemption certificate must be fully identified as to nature, quantity, and date of sale.*†

Exemption From Tax of Certain Supplies for Aircraft

SECTION 317 (b) OF THE TARIFF ACT OF 1930, AS ADDED BY THE ACT APPROVED JUNE 25, 1938 (52 STAT. 1081)

(b) The shipment or delivery of any merchandise for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign aircraft is permitted, shall be deemed an exportation within the meaning of the customs and internal-revenue laws applicable to the exportation of such merchandise without the payment of duty or internal-revenue tax.

SECTION 309 (d) OF THE TARIFF ACT OF 1930, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 5 OF THE ACT APPROVED JUNE 25, 1938 (52 STAT. 1050)

(d) RECIPROCAL PRIVILEGES. The privileges granted by this section and section 317 of this Act in respect of aircraft registered in a foreign country shall be allowed only if the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found that such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect of aircraft registered in the United States. If the Secretary of Commerce shall advise the Secretary of the Treasury that he has found that a foreign country has discontinued, or will discontinue, the allowance of such privileges, the privileges granted by this section and such section 317 shall not apply thereafter in respect of aircraft registered in that foreign country.

§ 314.29 Exemption of certain supplies for aircraft. Articles sold for use on foreign aircraft are, subject to certain limitations, considered to be exported and therefore subject to the same exemption as though exported. This exemption is limited to articles sold for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions. The exemption is further limited by the requirement that the foreign country of registry must allow a substantially reciprocal exemption in respect to aircraft registered in the United States.

To exempt from tax a sale for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country (which allows substantially reciprocal exemption) and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, it is necessary (1) that the article be identified as having been sold by the manufacturer for such use and (2) that it be so used in due course. An article will be regarded as having been sold for use as supplies upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, such aircraft if the manufacturer has in his possession at the time title passes or at the time of shipment (whichever is prior) a sworn statement from the purchaser showing that the article is purchased for such use.

With respect to an article sold by a manufacturer for resale for use on foreign aircraft, where it is desired to claim exemption, there should be obtained from the owner, officer, charterer, or authorized agent of the aircraft a written statement showing that the article is actually purchased for use as supplies upon, or in the maintenance or repair of such aircraft. Such statement must show the name of the country in which the aircraft is registered.*†

SUBPART D.—GASOLINE

SEC. 3412. TAX ON GASOLINE.

(a) There shall be imposed on gasoline sold by the producer or importer thereof, or by any producer of gasoline, a tax of 1 cent a gallon, except that under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary the tax shall not apply in the case of sales to a producer of gasoline.

(b) If a producer or importer uses (otherwise than in the production of gasoline) gasoline sold to him free of tax, or produced or imported by him, such use shall for the purposes of this chapter be considered a sale. Any person to whom gasoline is sold tax-free under this section shall be considered the producer of such gasoline.

(c) As used in this section—

(1) the term "producer" includes a refiner, compounder, or blender, and a dealer selling gasoline exclusively to producers of gasoline, as well as a producer.

(2) the term gasoline means (A) all products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline (including casinghead and natural gasoline), benzol, benzene, or naphtha, regardless of their classifications or uses; and (B) any other liquid of a kind prepared, advertised, offered for sale or sold for use as, or used as, a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes; except that it does not include any of the foregoing (other than products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline) sold for use otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel, and does not include kerosene, gas oil, or fuel oil.

§ 314.30 Use of terms. The term "producer" includes a refiner, compounder, or blender, and a dealer selling gasoline exclusively to producers of gasoline, as well as an actual producer. The term "producer" also includes any person (not included in the preceding sentence) to whom gasoline is sold tax free for any purpose but such person is considered a "producer" only with respect to gasoline purchased tax free.

The term "gasoline" includes:

(A) All products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline, including casinghead and natural gasoline, and including any petroleum product satisfying the volatility requirements (exclusive of vapor pressure) of United States motor gasoline (United States Government Specifications No. VV–G–101) regardless of their classifications or uses; provided, however, that liquefied gases, such as propane, butane, or pentane, or mixtures of the same, and any product (1) more than 90 per cent of which is evaporated at 310° F. and having an A. S. T. M. octane number less than 70, or (2) having a Reid vapor pressure at 100° F. of more than 30 pounds, shall fall within paragraph B below.

(B) Benzol, benzine, naphtha, or any other liquid of a kind prepared, advertised, offered for sale, or sold for use as, or used as, a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, which means benzol and benzene and any refined, partly refined, or unrefined product, 10 per cent of which has been recovered when the thermometer reads 347° F. (175° C.) or 95 per cent of which has been recovered when the thermometer reads 464° F. (240° C.) when subjected to distillation in accordance with the "Standard Method of Test for Distillation of Gasoline, Naphtha, Kerosine and Similar Petroleum Products" (A. S. T. M. designation: D86) of the American Society for Testing Materials, regardless of the trade name under which sold. However, such products are not taxable as "gasoline" when they are sold under an exemption certificate, obtained prior to or at the time of sale by the importer or producer, certifying that such products are purchased for use (1) otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats or airplanes, and (2) otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such a fuel. This exception is limited to the articles named in paragraph (B) which are not commonly or commercially known or sold as kerosene, gas oil or fuel oil, which means any product so designated (1) 10 per cent of which has not been recovered when the thermometer reads 347° F. (175° C.) and (2) 95 per cent of which has not been recovered when the thermometer reads 464° F. (240° C.), when subjected to distillation in accordance with the "Standard Method of Test for Distillation of Gasoline, Naphtha, Kerosine, and Similar Petroleum Products" (A. S. T. M. designation: D86) of the American Society for Testing Materials. Products sold as kerosene, gas oil or fuel oil which do not fall within the specifications of both (1) and (2) above, are taxable unless sold for use otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel, under a certificate as outlined in section 314.33.*†

The term "gasoline" does not include products commonly or commercially known or sold as kerosene, gas oil or fuel oil, which means any product so designated (1) 10 per cent of which has not been recovered when the thermometer reads 347° F. (175° C.) and (2) 95 per cent of which has not been recovered when the thermometer reads 464° F. (240° C.), when subjected to distillation in accordance with the "Standard Method of Test for Distillation of Gasoline, Naphtha, Kerosine, and Similar Petroleum Products" (A. S. T. M. designation: D86) of the American Society for Testing Materials. Products sold as kerosene, gas oil or fuel oil which do not fall within the specifications of both (1) and (2) above, are taxable unless sold for use otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel, under a certificate as outlined in section 314.33.*†

§ 314.31 Scope of tax. The tax attaches to the sale or use of gasoline by the producer or importer thereof, or by any producer of gasoline, regardless of when or whether such gasoline was produced by him.

All producers and importers of gasoline must register and give bond to the collector, in accordance with the provisions of sections 314.8 and 314.9.*†

Sales of Gasoline Not Subject to Tax

§ 314.32 Sales to producers of gasoline. Gasoline may be sold tax free by a producer of gasoline to other producers of gasoline.

In the case of such sales both the producer and the purchaser must be registered and bonded as required by sections 314.8 and 314.9.

To establish the right to exemption under this section the vendor must obtain from the purchaser, prior to or at the time of sale, a certificate showing that the purchaser is a producer of gasoline. The certificate must bear the registration number of the purchaser and must also show that the purchaser is bonded as required by sections 314.8 and 314.9. If upon inspection it is found that the records of a producer do not contain proper certificates, with supporting invoices, establishing that the sales were exempt, such vendor-producer will be required to pay the tax.

Tax-free sales of gasoline to producers of gasoline must be made under an exemption certificate in substantially the following form:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

The undersigned hereby certifies that (1) he is a producer of gasoline, (2) he has filed a bond, which has been accepted by the collector of internal revenue at ---, and (3) he holds certificate of registry No. ----, issued by such collector of internal revenue.

It is understood that the undersigned is liable for tax as a producer of gasoline with respect to all gasoline sold or used by him, unless specifically exempted by law. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to the cancellation of their certificate of registry and to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution.

For special provisions with respect to (1) tax-free sales of gasoline to registered dealers for resale direct to producers of gasoline; (2) tax-free sales of gasoline direct to the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia, for its exclusive use; (3) tax-free sales for export or for shipment to possessions of the United States; (4) tax-free sales direct for use as ships' stores, etc.; and (5) tax-free sales for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, see sections 314.22, 314.24, 314.25, 314.27, 314.28, and 314.29.

When gasoline is sold tax free to other producers of gasoline or to a registered dealer in accordance with the provisions of section 314.22, for resale by such dealer for use by his vendee in the further manufacture of a taxable article, the producer making such tax-free sales must use due diligence to satisfy himself that the gasoline in question is sold to, or for resale to, a producer of gasoline or a manufacturer of other taxable articles who has complied with the applicable provisions of these regulations with respect to registration and bonding.

If a producer has reason to question the validity of the registration claimed on any exemption certificate, application for information should be made to the office of the collector who is alleged to have issued the registration certificate.*†

§ 314.33 Sales of benzol, benzene, naphtha, or other taxable liquids to nonmotor fuel users. No tax attaches to benzol, benzene, naphtha, or any other liquid specified in paragraph (B) of section 314.30 (which does not fall within the range of the properties of products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline, as described in paragraph (A) of section 314.30) sold by the manufacturer direct for use (a) otherwise than as fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and (b) otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel.

No sale of benzol, benzene, naphtha, or other liquid within the scope of paragraph (B) of section 314.30 may be made tax free by the producer to a dealer for resale for nonmotor fuel uses, even though it is known at the time of the sale that the product will be so resold. However, where any dealer resells a tax-paid product for nonmotor fuel uses, the producer who paid the tax to the United States on his sale of the product may secure a refund or credit in accordance with the provisions of section 314.64.

To establish the right to exemption from tax where the sale of the product is made by the manufacturer direct to a purchaser for use (a) otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes and (b) otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel it is necessary that (1) the manufacturer have definite knowledge prior to or at the time of sale that the product in question is purchased for such use and (2) he obtain from the purchaser and retain in his possession a properly executed exemption certificate in the form prescribed by this section.

Where the certificate is obtained subsequent to the sale but prior to the time the manufacturer is required to file a return covering taxes due for the month during which the sale was made, he should include the tax on such sale in his return for that month, in the item "Total tax due," but may deduct an amount equivalent to the tax applicable to such sale and pay the net tax resulting, making appropriate explanation either on the face of the return or on a rider attached thereto. If the certificate is not so obtained, the manufacturer must include the tax on such sale in his return for the month in which the sale was made. However, if the certificate is later obtained a claim for refund of tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313. The articles covered by the exemption certificate must be fully identified as to nature, quantity, and date of sale.

Following is the form of exemption certificate which will be acceptable for purposes of this section and which must be adhered to in substance:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by purchasers of benzol, benzene, naphtha, or other taxable liquid, for purposes other than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motorboats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel under section 3412 of the Internal Revenue Code.)

---, 19—.

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies that he is a ---
(State business and article or articles manufactured.) and that the --- (State whether benzol, benzene, naphtha, or other taxable liquid.) in the order covered by this certificate will not be used as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motorboats, or airplanes, and will not be used in the manufacture or production of such fuel, but will be used for the following purpose:

---

The undersigned understands that if the benzol, benzene, naphtha, or other taxable liquid is used, sold, or otherwise disposed of except as above stated, he will be liable for the tax upon such use, sale, or other disposition of such product. It is understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by competent evidence that the product was actually used for the purpose or purposes for which purchased as stated in this certificate.

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate certificate for each order or contract, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable. Such certificates and proper records of invoices, orders, etc., relative to tax-free sales must be retained as provided in section 314.62. Where, upon inspection, it is discovered that the records of an importer or producer with respect to any sale claimed to be tax free do not contain a proper certificate, as outlined above, with supporting invoices and such other evidence as may be necessary to establish the exempt character of the sale, the tax shall be payable by the importer or producer on such sale.*†

§ 314.34 Use by producer or importer. If gasoline purchased tax free by an importer or producer is used by him (otherwise than in the production of gasoline), such use will be considered a sale and is taxable. Likewise, if any importer or producer uses (otherwise than in the production of gasoline) gasoline imported or produced by him, such use will be considered a sale and is taxable.

If a person purchases gasoline tax free and uses it for any purpose for which exemption is not provided by law, such use is taxable.

The phrase "otherwise than in the production of gasoline" includes any use of it by a producer of gasoline, other than as component material in the manufacture or production of gasoline.*†

§ 314.35 Rate of tax. The tax is payable by the importer or producer thereof, or by any producer of gasoline, at the rate of 1 cent a gallon.*†

SUBPART E.—LUBRICATING OILS

SEC. 3413. TAX ON LUBRICATING OILS.

There shall be imposed upon lubricating oils sold in the United States by the manufacturer or producer a tax at the rate of 4 cents a gallon, to be paid by the manufacturer or producer. Every person liable for tax under this section shall register and file bond as provided in section 3412 (d). Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, no tax shall be imposed under this section upon lubricating oils sold to a manufacturer or producer of lubricating oils for resale by him, but for the purposes of this chapter such vendee shall be considered the manufacturer or producer of such lubricating oils.

§ 314.40 Use of terms. The term "lubricating oil" as used in these regulations includes all oils, regardless of their origin, which are sold as lubricating oil and all oils which are suitable for use as a lubricant.

The term "lubricating oils" does not include products of the type commonly known as grease. Oleaginous substances which are classed as grease and which contain oil are not subject to the tax when of a worked consistency of less than 390 penetration units, or an unworked consistency of less than 360 penetration units, by the method of test of the American Society for Testing Materials D–217–33–T.

The term "manufacturer" includes (1) any person who produces lubricating oil by any process of manufacturing, refining, or compounding, or any manipulation involving substantially more than mere mixing of taxable oils, (2) any person who produces lubricating oil by mixing taxable oils with other substances to produce lubricating oils, and (3) any person who cleans, renovates, or refines used or waste lubricating oil by any method or process which produces an oil substantially equivalent to new lubricating oil.

The term "manufacturer" does not include a person who merely blends or mixes two or more taxable lubricating oils.*†

SEC. 314.41 Scope of tax. The tax attaches to the sale by the manufacturer of lubricating oil. However, no tax attaches to the sale of lubricating oil by the importer thereof. Lubricating oils imported into the United States are subject to a tax of 4 cents a gallon under section 3422, upon the importation thereof. This tax is administered by the Bureau of Customs of the Treasury Department.

All manufacturers of lubricating oils must register and give bond in accordance with the provisions of sections 314.8 and 314.9.*†

Sales of Oil Not Subject to Tax

SEC. 314.42 Sales to manufacturers of lubricating oil for resale. No tax attaches to the sale of lubricating oil by the manufacturer direct to a manufacturer of lubricating oil for resale by him, but for the purposes of the tax such vendee manufacturer shall be considered the manufacturer of such lubricating oil.

No lubricating oil shall be sold tax free to another manufacturer of lubricating oil for resale unless both the manufacturer and the purchaser are registered and bonded as manufacturers of lubricating oil in accordance with the provisions of sections 314.8 and 314.9.

All tax-free sales of lubricating oil to manufacturers of lubricating oils must be made under an exemption certificate in substantially the following form:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

(For use by manufacturers of lubricating oil under section 3413 of the Internal Revenue Code or section 3442 of the Internal Revenue Code.)

The undersigned hereby certifies that (1) he is a manufacturer or producer of lubricating oils, (2) he has filed a bond, which has been accepted by the collector of internal revenue at ----------, (3) he holds certificate of registry No. -- issued by such collector of internal revenue, and (4) the lubricating oils purchased hereunder are for resale by him or use by him as material in the manufacture or production of lubricating oils or as a component part of lubricating oils to be manufactured or produced by him.

It is understood that the undersigned is liable for tax as the manufacturer or producer upon his resale, or upon his use otherwise than as specified above, of the oils purchased hereunder, unless specifically exempted by law. It is also understood that the fraudulent use of this certificate to secure exemption will subject the undersigned and all guilty parties to the cancellation of their certificate of registry and to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with costs of prosecution.

For special provisions with respect to (1) tax-free sales of lubricating oil to manufacturers for use in further manufacture of taxable articles and to registered dealers for resale direct to such manufacturers; (2) tax-free sales of lubricating oil direct to the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia, for its exclusive use; (3) tax-free sales for export or for shipment to possessions of the United States; (4) tax-free sales direct for use as ships' stores, etc.; (5) tax-free sales for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions; and (6) tax-free sales of lubricating oil direct for nonlubricating uses by the purchaser, see sections 314.22, 314.24, 314.25, 314.27, 314.28, 314.29, and 314.43.*†

§ 314.43 Sales of oil for nonlubricating uses. No tax attaches where oil is sold by the manufacturer direct for nonlubricating uses by the purchaser. No sale of oil may be made tax free by the manufacturer to a dealer for resale for nonlubricating uses even though it is known at the time of sale that the oil will be so resold. However, where any dealer resells a tax-paid oil for nonlubricating uses, the manufacturer who paid the tax to the United States on his sale of the oil, may secure a refund or credit in accordance with the provisions of section 314.64.

To establish the right to exemption from tax with respect to lubricating oil sold by the manufacturer direct for nonlubricating purposes, it is necessary that (1) the manufacturer have definite knowledge, prior to or at the time of sale, that the product in question is purchased for such purposes, and (2) he obtain from the purchaser and retain in his possession a properly executed exemption certificate in the form prescribed by this section.

Where the certificate is obtained subsequent to the sale but prior to the time the manufacturer is required to file a return covering taxes due for the month during which the sale was made, he should include the tax on such sale in his return for that month, in the item "Total tax due," but may deduct an amount equivalent to the tax applicable to such sale and pay the net tax resulting, making appropriate explanation either on the face of the return or on a rider attached thereto. If the certificate is not so obtained, the manufacturer must include the tax on such sale in his return for the month in which the sale was made. However, if the certificate is later obtained a claim for refund of tax paid may be filed on Form 843, or a credit taken upon a subsequent return, but such action must be taken within the 4-year period of limitation prescribed by section 3313.

The certificate required by this section must include an agreement that if the oil is disposed of, or used otherwise than for the nonlubricating purpose for which purchased, the person who signed the exemption certificate will report such fact to the manufacturer. The tax applicable to the sale of such product shall be included by the manufacturer in his return for the month during which such report is received by him.

The following is a form of exemption certificate which will be acceptable for purposes of this section and must be adhered to in substance:

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

----------, 19---

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies that he is a ---------- (State business and article or articles manufactured.)
and that the oil covered by the accompanying order or as specified on the reverse side hereof, will not be used or resold for lubrication but will be used by him for the following purposes:

----------

The undersigned understands that if the oil is used for any purpose other than as stated in this certificate, or is resold or otherwise disposed of, he must report such fact to the manufacturer, otherwise the privilege of purchasing tax free may be canceled; that he will, if a bonded and registered manufacturer of lubricating oil, be liable for the tax upon his sale of such oil, and that whether or not a bonded and registered manufacturer, he will, for fraudulent use of the certificate to secure exemption, be subject to a penalty equivalent to the amount of tax due on the sale of the oil and to a fine of not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution. The undersigned also understands that he must be prepared to establish by competent evidence the purpose for which such oil was used.

----------,

(Address.)

If it is impracticable to furnish a separate certificate for each order or contract, a certificate covering all orders between given dates (such period not to exceed a month) will be acceptable. Such certificates and proper records of invoices, orders, etc., relative to tax-free sales shall be retained as provided in section 314.62. If, upon inspection, it is discovered that a manufacturer's records with respect to any sale claimed to be tax free do not contain a proper certificate, as outlined above, with supporting invoices and such other evidence as may be necessary to establish the exempt character of the sale, the tax shall be payable by the manufacturer on such sale.

The articles covered by the exemption certificate must be fully identified as to the nature, quantity, and date of sale.*†

§ 314.44 Rate of tax. The tax is payable by the manufacturer at the rate of 4 cents per gallon. A manufacturer of nonfluid lubricating oils which are sold by weight may use 8 pounds to the gallon as a basis for computing and reporting the tax upon the sale or use of such oils.*†

SUBPART F.—MATCHES

SEC. 3409. TAX ON MATCHES.

There shall be imposed on fancy wooden matches and wooden matches having a stained, dyed, or colored stick or stem, packed in boxes or in bulk, sold by the manufacturer, producer, or importer, a tax of 5 cents per one thousand matches.

§ 314.50 Scope of tax. The tax is imposed upon the sale by the manufacturer of fancy wooden matches and wooden matches having a stained, dyed, or colored stick or stem, packed in boxes or in bulk.*†

§ 314.51 Fancy wooden matches. A fancy wooden match, within the meaning of the law, is one which has a wooden stem and which, in addition to serving the purpose of the ordinary match, is colored, or decorated, or manufactured in such a manner as to be more ornamental or more attractive than the ordinary match.*†

§ 314.52 Rate of tax. The tax is payable by the manufacturer at the rate of 5 cents per thousand fancy wooden matches and wooden matches having a stained, dyed, or colored stick or stem, packed in boxes or in bulk.*†

SUBPART G.—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Administrative Provisions

Monthly Returns and Payment of Tax

SEC. 3448. RETURNS AND PAYMENT OF MANUFACTURERS' TAXES.

(a) Every person liable for any tax imposed by this chapter other than taxes on importation shall make monthly returns under oath in duplicate and pay the taxes imposed by this chapter to the collector for the district in which is located his principal place of business or, if he has no principal place of business in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland. Such returns shall contain such information and be made at such times and in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe.

(b) The tax shall, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, be due and payable to the collector at the time so fixed for filing the return. If the tax is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the tax interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the time when the tax became due until paid.

Applicability of Administrative Provisions

SEC. 3449. APPLICABILITY OF ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS.

All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by section 2700 shall, in so far as applicable and not inconsistent with this chapter, be applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by this chapter.

SEC. 2711. OTHER LAWS APPLICABLE.

All administrative, special, or stamp provisions of law, including the law relating to the assessment of taxes, so far as applicable, shall be extended to and made a part of this subchapter.

Records, Statements, and Special Returns

SEC. 2709. RECORDS, STATEMENTS, AND RETURNS.

Every person liable to any tax imposed by this subchapter, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations, as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

SEC. 3603. NOTICE REQUIRING RECORDS, STATEMENTS, AND SPECIAL RETURNS.

Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner necessary he may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return, render under oath such statements, or keep such records as the Commissioner deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax.

SEC. 3330. WITNESSING OF RETURNS IN LIEU OF OATH.

The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulation prescribe that any return required by any internal revenue law (except returns required under income or estate tax laws) to be under oath may, if the amount of the tax covered thereby is not in excess of $10, be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath.

SEC. 3632. AUTHORITY TO ADMINISTER OATHS, TAKE TESTIMONY, AND CERTIFY.

(a) INTERNAL REVENUE PERSONNEL.

(1) PERSONS IN CHARGE OF ADMINISTRATION OF INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS GENERALLY. Every collector, deputy collector, internal revenue agent, and internal revenue officer assigned to duty under an internal revenue agent, is authorized to administer oaths and to take evidence touching any part of the administration of the internal revenue laws with which he is charged, or where such oaths and evidence are authorized by law or regulation authorized by law to be taken.

(2) PERSONS IN CHARGE OF EXPORTS AND DRAWBACKS. Every collector of internal revenue and every superintendent of exports and drawbacks is authorized to administer such oaths and to certify to such papers as may be necessary under any regulation prescribed under the authority of the internal revenue laws.

(b) OTHERS. Any oath or affirmation required or authorized by any internal revenue law or by any regulations made under authority thereof may be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the law of the United States, or of any State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or of the District of Columbia, wherein such oath or affirmation is administered, or by any consular officer of the United States. This subsection shall not be construed as an exclusive enumeration of the persons who may administer such oaths or affirmations.

Examination of Books and Witnesses

SEC. 3614. EXAMINATION OF BOOKS AND WITNESSES.

(a) TO DETERMINE LIABILITY OF THE TAXPAYER. The Commissioner, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made, is authorized, by any officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including the field service, designated by him for that purpose, to examine any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the person rendering the return or of any officer or employee of such person, or the attendance of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take his testimony with reference to the matter required by law to be included in such return, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons.

SEC. 3612. RETURNS EXECUTED BY COMMISSIONER OR COLLECTOR.

(a) AUTHORITY OF COLLECTOR. If any person fails to make and file a return or list at the time prescribed by law or by regulation made under authority of law, or makes, willfully or otherwise, a false or fraudulent return or list, the collector or deputy collector shall make the return or list from his own knowledge and from such information as he can obtain through testimony or otherwise.

(b) AUTHORITY OF COMMISSIONER. In any such case the Commissioner may, from his own knowledge and from such information as he can obtain through testimony or otherwise—

(1) TO MAKE RETURN. Make a return, or

(2) TO AMEND COLLECTOR'S RETURN. Amend any return made by a collector or deputy collector.

(c) LEGAL STATUS OF RETURNS. Any return or list so made and subscribed by the Commissioner, or by a collector or deputy collector and approved by the Commissioner, shall be prima facie good and sufficient for all legal purposes.

§ 314.60 Returns. Each person required to report a tax on the sale or use of any of the articles covered by these regulations, must make a return on Form 726 in accordance with the instructions thereon. The return must be made in duplicate under oath for each calendar month and must be verified before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths. If the amount of the tax is $10 or less, the return may be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath. Such return, together with the tax, must be filed with the collector of the district in which is located the principal place of business of the taxpayer (or, if he has no principal place of business in the United States, with the collector at Baltimore, Md.), on or before the last day of the month following that for which it is made.

When the last day of the month in which the return is due falls on Sunday or a legal holiday the return may be filed with the collector of internal revenue, or his authorized representative, on the next secular or business day. A return must be forwarded to the collector for each month whether or not any liability has been incurred for that month. If a manufacturer ceases business the last return should be marked "Final return."

Returns covering taxes collected from vendees and paid under section 3447 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code should be made as prescribed above on Form 726. If a vendee, liable for tax, refuses to pay to the vendor the tax due, the vendor should report to the collector the name and address of such person, the nature of the transaction, the amount involved in the contract, and the date of the payment of such amount. Upon receipt of such information the collector will report the item to the Bureau for direct assessment against such person.*†

§ 314.61 Payment of taxes. All taxes are due and payable to the collector of internal revenue, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, at the time fixed for filing the return. If the tax is not paid when due there shall be added as part of the tax interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the time the tax became due to the actual date of payment or assessment, whichever is prior. For provisions with respect to interest generally, including interest on assessments, see section 314.65.*†

Examination of Records of Sales of Gasoline and Lubricating Oil

(e) Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, records required to be kept with respect to taxes under section 3413, or this section, and returns, reports, and statements with respect to such taxes filed with the Commissioner or a collector, shall be open to inspection by such officers of any State or Territory or political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia as shall be charged with the enforcement or collection of any tax on gasoline or lubricating oils. The Commissioner and each collector shall furnish to any of such officers, upon written request, certified copies of any such statements, reports, or returns filed in his office upon the payment of a fee of $1 for each one hundred words or fraction thereof in the copy or copies requested.

§ 314.62 Records. Every person required to file a return and pay tax on the sale or use of any article covered by these regulations must keep accurate and complete records and accounts with respect to such sale or use. Records must be maintained in such a manner as to show:

(b) Quantity produced during the month;

(c) Quantity purchased tax free;

(d) Quantity purchased tax paid;

(e) Quantity sold tax free;

(f) Quantity sold subject to tax;

(g) Quantity used in production of other taxable commodities;

(h) Quantity used otherwise:

(i) Actual wastage, evaporation, and other losses, etc.; and

(j) Quantity on hand at end of month.

Every person liable for tax on the sale of gasoline or lubricating oil must maintain records as outlined above for a period of at least four years from the date the tax became due, or, in the case of tax-free sales, for a period of at least four years from the last day of the month following the sale, and all such records must be available for ready inspection by internal-revenue officers. The law also provides that such records shall be open to inspection by officers of any State or Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, who are charged with the enforcement or collection of any tax on gasoline or lubricating oils.

The records maintained in the Bureau and in the various collection districts with respect to the taxes imposed on the sale or use of gasoline or lubricating oil, including all returns, reports, and statements with respect to such taxes, shall be at all times open to inspection by internal-revenue officers, or by officers of any State or Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or of the District of Columbia, who are charged with the enforcement or collection of any tax on gasoline or lubricating oils. Upon written request from officers of a State or Territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, for certified copies of any such statements, reports, or returns filed in the Bureau or the office of a collector, the Commissioner or collector shall furnish to any such officer upon payment of a fee of $1 for each 100 words or fraction thereof, the copy or copies requested.

Every person liable for tax on the sale of matches must retain records as outlined above for a period of at least four years from the date the tax became due, or, in the case of tax-free sales, for a period of at least four years from the last day of the month following the sale, and all such records must be available for inspection at all times by internal-revenue officers. The books of every person liable to tax shall at all times be open for inspection by Government officers. Every person who fails to keep proper and accurate records as required by this section is liable for the penalties imposed by law. (See section 314.65.)*†

Jeopardy Assessments

SEC. 3660. JEOPARDY ASSESSMENT.

(a) If the Commissioner believes that the collection of any tax (other than income tax, estate tax, and gift tax) under any provision of the internal-revenue laws will be jeopardized by delay, he shall, whether or not the time otherwise prescribed by law for making return and paying such tax has expired, immediately assess such tax (together with all interest and penalties the assessment of which is provided for by law). Such tax, penalties, and interest shall thereupon become immediately due and payable, and immediate notice and demand shall be made by the collector for the payment thereof. Upon failure or refusal to pay such tax, penalty, and interest, collection thereof by distraint shall be lawful without regard to the period prescribed in section 3690.

(b) The collection of the whole or any part of the amount of such assessment may be stayed by filing with the collector a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount as to which the stay is desired, and with such sureties, as the collector deems necessary, conditioned upon the payment of the amount collection of which is stayed, at the time at which, but for this section, such amount would be due.

§ 314.63 JEOPARDY ASSESSMENT. Whenever in the opinion of the collector it becomes necessary to protect the interests of the Government by requiring an immediate return and collection of the tax, the matter shall be promptly reported to the Commissioner by telegram or letter showing the reasons therefor. The communication must state the full name and address of the person involved, the kind and amount of taxes due and the period involved, so that the Commissioner can immediately assess the tax together with all penalties and interest due. Such tax, penalties, and interest will, upon assessment, become immediately due and payable, and the collector shall, without delay, issue a notice and demand for payment thereof in full.

If a taxpayer is not actually in default in filing returns or in paying any tax under the internal-revenue laws, the collection of the whole or any part of the amount of such jeopardy assessment may be stayed by filing with the collector a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount with respect to which the stay is desired, and with such sureties as the collector deems necessary, conditioned upon the payment of the amount, collection of which is stayed, at the time at which such amount would normally be due.

Upon refusal to pay, or failure to pay or give bond, the collector shall proceed immediately to collect the tax, penalty, and interest by distraint, without regard to the 10-day period after notice and demand prescribed in section 3690.*†

Credits and Refunds

SEC. 3770. AUTHORITY TO MAKE ABATEMENTS, CREDITS, AND REFUNDS.

(a) TO TAXPAYERS.—

(1) ASSESSMENTS AND COLLECTIONS GENERALLY. Except as otherwise provided by law in the case of income, estate, and gift taxes, the Commissioner, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary, is authorized to remit, refund, and pay back all taxes erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, all penalties collected without authority, and all taxes that appear to be unjustly assessed or excessive in amount, or in any manner wrongfully collected.

(2) ASSESSMENTS AND COLLECTIONS AFTER LIMITATION PERIOD. Any tax (or any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to such tax) assessed or paid after the expiration of the period of limitation properly applicable thereto shall be considered an overpayment and shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer if claim therefor is filed within the period of limitation for filing such claim.

(3) DATE OF ALLOWANCE. Where the Commissioner has signed a schedule of overassessments in respect of any internal revenue tax imposed by this title, the Revenue Act of 1932, or any prior revenue Act, the date on which he first signed such schedule (if after May 28, 1928) shall be considered as the date of allowance of refund or credit in respect of such tax.

SEC. 3313. PERIOD OF LIMITATION UPON REFUNDS AND CREDITS.

All claims for the refunding or crediting of any internal revenue tax alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, or of any penalty alleged to have been collected without authority, or of any sum alleged to have been excessive or in any manner wrongfully collected must, except as otherwise provided by law in the case of income, war-profits, excess-profits, estate, and gift taxes, be presented to the Commissioner within four years next after the payment of such tax, penalty, or sum. The amount of the refund (in the case of taxes other than income, war-profits, excess-profits, estate, and gift taxes) shall not exceed the portion of the tax, penalty, or sum paid during the four years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or if no claim was filed, then during the four years immediately preceding the allowance of the refund.

SEC. 3443. CREDITS AND REFUNDS.

(a) A credit against tax under this chapter, or a refund, may be allowed or made—

(1) to a manufacturer or producer, in the amount of any tax under this chapter which has been paid with respect to the sale of any article (other than a tire or inner tube) purchased by him and used by him as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, an article with respect to which tax under this chapter has been paid, or which has been sold free of tax by virtue of section 3442, relating to tax-free sales.

(2) to any person who has paid tax under this chapter with respect to an article, when the price on which the tax was based is readjusted by reason of return or repossession of the article or a covering or container, or by a bona fide discount, rebate, or allowance; in the amount of that part of the tax proportionate to the part of the price which is refunded or credited.

(3) to a manufacturer, producer, or importer, in the amount of tax paid by him under this chapter with respect to the sale of any article to any vendee, if the manufacturer, producer, or importer has in his possession such evidence as the regulations may prescribe that—

(A) such article was, by any person—

(i) resold for the exclusive use of the United States, any State, Territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of the foregoing, or the District of Columbia;

(ii) used or resold for use as fuel supplies, ship's stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation, vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions;

(iii) in the case of products embraced in paragraph (2) of section 3412 (c) used or resold for use otherwise than as fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the production of such fuel: Provided, however, That no credit or refund shall be allowed or made under this paragraph in the case of sales or uses of products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline, including casinghead and natural gasoline;

(iv) in the case of lubricating oils, used or resold for nonlubricating purposes.

(B) The manufacturer, producer, or importer has repaid or agreed to repay the amount of such tax to the ultimate vendor or has obtained the consent of the ultimate vendor to the allowance of the credit or refund.

(b) Credit or refund under subsection (a) shall be allowed or made only upon compliance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary.

(c) Interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum with respect to any amount of tax under this chapter credited or refunded, except that no interest shall be allowed with respect to any amount of tax credited or refunded under the provisions of subsection (a) hereof.

(d) No overpayment of tax under this chapter shall be credited or refunded (otherwise than under subsection (a)), in pursuance of a court decision or otherwise, unless the person who paid the tax establishes, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, (1) that he has not included the tax in the price of the article with respect to which it was imposed, or collected the amount of tax from the vendee, or (2) that he has repaid the amount of the tax to the ultimate purchaser of the article, or unless he files with the Commissioner written consent of such ultimate purchaser to the allowance of the credit or refund.

§ 314.64 Credits and refunds. A credit against the tax due on the sale of any article covered by these regulations or a refund may be allowed or made to a manufacturer in the amount of any tax which has been paid by any person with respect to the sale of any article purchased and used by such manufacturer as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, any such article with respect to which tax has been paid, or which has been sold free of tax in accordance with the provisions of section 314.21 or 314.22. A claim for refund must be supported by evidence showing (1) the name and address of the person who paid to the United States the tax of which refund is claimed, (2) the date of payment, (3) the amount of such tax, and (4) that the article was so used. A credit taken on a return must be supported by evidence of the same character. If it is impossible to furnish such evidence at the time when the credit is taken, a statement to that effect must be submitted with the return in which the credit is taken. The evidence supporting such credit must be filed with the collector within 30 days after the date on which the return is filed. If the required evidence is not so filed within that period, the amount of the credit will be disallowed and assessment of the tax resulting from the disallowance will be made on the current assessment list.

If any person overpays the tax shown to be due on a monthly return, he may either file a claim for refund on Form 843 or take credit for the overpayment against the tax shown to be due on any subsequent monthly return. In all cases where a person overpays tax, no credit or refund shall be allowed (except as provided in the preceding paragraph), whether in pursuance of a court decision or otherwise, unless the taxpayer files a sworn statement explaining satisfactorily the reason for claiming the credit or refund and establishing (1) that he has not included the tax in the price of the article with respect to which it was imposed, or collected the amount of tax from the vendee, or (2) that he has either repaid the amount of tax to the ultimate purchaser of the article or has secured the written consent of such ultimate purchaser to the allowance of the credit or refund. In the latter case the written consent of the ultimate purchaser must accompany the sworn statement filed with the credit or refund claim. For the purpose of the tax the "ultimate purchaser" is a person who purchases an article (1) for consumption, or (2) for use in the manufacture of other articles and not for resale in the form in which purchased. The statement supporting the credit or refund claim must also show whether any previous claim for credit or refund covering the amount involved, or any part thereof, has been filed with the collector or Commissioner.

A complete and detailed record of each overpayment must be kept by the taxpayer for a period of at least four years from the date any credit is taken or refund is claimed.

In the case of a sale of a taxable article by a manufacturer to a dealer, where title passes through one or more persons in a chain of sales from the manufacturer to a consumer, and such article is used, or resold for a purpose or use specified in section 3443 (a) (3) (A)—the manufacturer who paid the tax to the United States may be allowed a refund, or may take credit against the tax shown to be due upon any subsequent monthly return, in the amount of tax paid by him with respect to the sale of such article, provided he can establish by satisfactory evidence (1) that such article has been used, or resold, for one of the uses specified in such section, (2) the name and address of the ultimate vendor, (3) the name and address of the consumer, and the use made or to be made of such article, (4) the date the tax on his sale of such article was paid to the United States, and (5) that he has repaid or agreed to repay the amount of such tax to the ultimate vendor, or has obtained the consent of the ultimate vendor to the allowance of the credit or refund.

The evidence required in (1), (2), and (3) of the preceding paragraph may be established by the manufacturer securing from the ultimate vendor (a) the original exemption certificate obtained by such ultimate vendor from the consumer, or (b) a sworn statement by the ultimate vendor that he has obtained from the consumer and has in his possession such an exemption certificate. The consent of the ultimate vendor required by (5) of the preceding paragraph may be indorsed on the certificate or made a part of the sworn statement.

Where a sworn statement is furnished by the ultimate vendor in lieu of the original exemption certificate, the ultimate vendor must incorporate therein a statement to the effect that the certificate and supporting data (1) are retained by him, (2) will be preserved for a period of four years, and (3) will, upon request, be forwarded to the manufacturer at any time within the period for use in establishing to the satisfaction of internal-revenue officers that a refund or credit is justly due.

The exemption certificates required by this section shall be in a form substantially the same as those required in the case of sales by manufacturers direct to users.

Where a tax-paid article is used by a consumer for one or more of the purposes specified above, the ultimate vendor may secure from such consumer, in lieu of the exemption certificate, a sworn statement showing full and complete information as to the date of the purchase of the article, from whom purchased, the quantity and nature of the article, the purpose for which used, the amount of tax involved, and that the consumer has not previously executed any other affidavit of use concerning such article. The sworn statement referred to may be furnished to the manufacturer by the ultimate vendor as evidence to support the credit or refund claimed, or the information appearing therein may be incorporated in the affidavit which the ultimate vendor files with the manufacturer who paid the tax to the Government on the sale of the article.

The affidavit of the ultimate vendor shall be in substantially the following form:

AFFIDAVIT OF ULTIMATE VENDOR

_____, being duly sworn, de-
(Name of individual.)
poses and says: that he is the_____ (Title.) of the _____ or is himself
the ultimate vendor of the articles specified below or on the reverse side hereof;

That the articles specified below were purchased by him tax paid and resold for use by his vendee for the nontaxable purposes indicated and not for resale;

That he has in his possession all of the exemption certificates, properly executed, required by the law and regulations, to cover the sale of the articles specified herein;

That the certificates and supporting data (1) are retained by him, (2) will be preserved for a period of four years, and (3) will, upon request, be forwarded to the manufacturer any time within the period for use in establishing to the satisfaction of internal-revenue officers that a refund or credit is justly due; and

That he hereby consents to the allowance of a credit or refund to the _____ (Name and ad-
_____ in the amount of the tax
paid by such manufacturer with respect to the sale of such articles, and that he has not heretofore given his consent to the allowance of a credit or refund to any other manufacturer and has not made application for a refund or credit of such Federal tax from any other source.

The undersigned understands that the fraudulent use of this affidavit to secure credit or refund will subject him and all guilty parties to a fine of not more than $10,000, or to imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or both, under section 35 of the Criminal Code of the United States, as amended by Act approved April 4, 1938 (52 Stat., 197).

Where the amount of tax involved in any transaction is $10 or less, any statement herein required may be signed before two witnesses instead of under oath.

The provisions of section 3451 (see section 314.29), relating to aircraft, apply only to sales by manufacturers direct to the owners or operators of aircraft, and no credit or refund is allowable, either under section 3451 or under section 3443 (a) (3) (A) (ii) with respect to tax paid on articles sold by the manufacturer for resale for use on aircraft, regardless of the date the sale or resale occurred, and even though it is known at the time of the manufacturer's sale that the article will be so resold. However, where it can be shown that articles were sold by the manufacturer in accordance with the provisions of section 317 (b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as added by the Act approved June 25, 1938, for use as supplies (including equipment) upon, or in the maintenance or repair of, aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, the manufacturer who paid the tax to the Government may be allowed a refund or may take credit against the tax due upon any subsequent monthly return, provided he has in his possession the evidence outlined in section 314.29.

No credit will be allowed against tax due on the sale of gasoline or lubricating oil for the tax paid on importation of gasoline or lubricating oil.*†

SEC. 3760. CLOSING AGREEMENTS.

(a) AUTHORIZATION.—The Commissioner (or any officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including the field service, authorized in writing by the Commissioner) is authorized to enter into an agreement in writing with any person relating to the liability of such person (or of the person or estate for whom he acts) in respect of any internal revenue tax for any taxable period.

(b) FINALITY.—If such agreement is approved by the Secretary, the Under Secretary, or an Assistant Secretary, within such time as may be stated in such agreement, or later agreed to, such agreement shall be final and conclusive, and, except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, or misrepresentation of a material fact—

(1) The case shall not be reopened as to the matter agreed upon or the agreement modified, by any officer, employee, or agent of the United States, and

(2) In any suit, action, or proceeding, such agreement, or any determination, assessment, collection, payment, abatement, refund, or credit made in accordance therewith, shall not be annulled, modified, set aside, or disregarded.

SEC. 3447. CONTRACTS PRIOR TO MAY 1, 1932.

(a) If (1) any person has, prior to May 1, 1932, made a bona fide contract for the sale, after the tax takes effect, of any article in respect of the sale of which a tax is imposed under this chapter, or in respect of which a tax is imposed under this subsection, and (2) such contract does not permit the adding to the amount to be paid under such contract, of the whole of such tax, then (unless the contract prohibits such addition) the vendee shall, in lieu of the vendor, pay so much of the tax as is not so permitted to be added to the contract price. If a contract of the character above described was made with the United States, no tax shall be collected under this chapter. If any article has, under a contract of the character above described, been delivered, prior to June 21, 1932, to any person (other than a dealer or other than a person intending to use the article as material in the manufacture or production of another article, or to sell it on or in connection with, or with the sale of, another article), no tax shall be collected under this chapter.

(b) The taxes payable by the vendee shall be paid to the vendor at the time the sale is consummated, and shall be collected, returned, and paid to the United States by such vendor in the same manner as provided in section 3467. In case of failure or refusal by the vendee to pay such taxes to the vendor, the vendor shall report the facts to the Commissioner, who shall cause collection of such taxes to be made from the vendee.

Penalties and Interest

[SEC. 3448. RETURN AND PAYMENT OF MANUFACTURERS' TAXES.]

(b) * * * If the tax is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the tax interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the time when the tax became due until paid.

SEC. 3449. APPLICABILITY OF ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS.

All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by section 2700 shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with this chapter, be applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by this chapter.

SEC. 2711. OTHER LAWS APPLICABLE.

All administrative, special, or stamp provisions of law, including the law relating to the assessment of taxes, so far as applicable, shall be extended to and made a part of this subchapter.

[SEC. 3612. RETURNS EXECUTED BY COMMISSIONER OR COLLECTOR.]

(d) ADDITIONS TO TAX.

(1) FAILURE TO FILE RETURN. In case of any failure to make and file a return or list within the time prescribed by law, or prescribed by the Commissioner or the collector in pursuance of law, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 25 per centum of its amount, except that when a return is filed after such time and it is shown that the failure to file it was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, no such addition shall be made to the tax: Provided, That in the case of a failure to make and file a return required by law, within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law, if the last date so prescribed for filing the return is after August 30, 1935, then there shall be added to the tax, in lieu of such 25 per centum: 5 per centum if the failure is for not more than 30 days, with an additional 5 per centum for each additional 30 days or fraction thereof during which failure continues, not to exceed 25 per centum in the aggregate.

(2) FRAUD. In case a false or fraudulent return or list is willfully made, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 50 per centum of its amount.

* * * * *

(e) COLLECTION OF ADDITIONS TO TAX. The amount added to any tax under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (d) shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and as a part of the tax unless the tax has been paid before the discovery of the neglect, falsity, or fraud, in which case the amount so added shall be collected in the same manner as the tax.

SEC. 3655. NOTICE AND DEMAND FOR TAX.

(a) DELIVERY. Where it is not otherwise provided, the collector shall in person or by deputy, within ten days after receiving any list of taxes from the Commissioner, give notice to each person liable to pay any taxes stated therein, to be left at his dwelling or usual place of business, or to be sent by mail, stating the amount of such taxes and demanding payment thereof.

(b) ADDITION TO TAX FOR NONPAYMENT. If such person does not pay the taxes, within ten days after the service or the sending by mail of such notice, it shall be the duty of the collector or his deputy to collect the said taxes with a penalty of 5 per centum additional upon the amount of taxes, and interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date of such notice to the date of payment; except that in the case of income, estate or gift taxes, such penalties shall not apply and the interest for nonpayment of tax shall be such as is specifically provided by law with respect to such taxes.

§ 314.65 Penalties and interest. In the case of failure to file a return within the prescribed time, a certain percentage of the amount of the tax is added to the tax unless the return is later filed and failure to file the return within the prescribed time is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to be due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. The amount to be added to the tax is 5 per cent if the failure is for not more than 30 days, with an additional 5 per cent for each additional 30 days or fraction thereof during which failure continues, not to exceed 25 per cent in the aggregate.

Failure to pay tax within the time fixed for filing returns causes interest to accrue automatically, without assessment of the tax by the Commissioner or notice to the taxpayer, to the actual date of payment or assessment, whichever is prior. The due date of the tax for the purpose of computing interest is the last day of the month within which the return is required to be filed and the tax paid.

Where assessment is made, and payment is not made within 10 days after the issuance of the first notice and demand (Form 17), there will accrue, under section 3655, a 5 per cent penalty and interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum computed upon the entire assessment from the date of issuance of Form 17 until date of payment. Where assessment is settled by partial payments, interest is computed at the above-prescribed rates from the date of the first 10-day notice through the date of first payment and on the balance from the next succeeding day to the date of the next payment until the assessment is paid in full.

If a claim for abatement is filed with the collector within 10 days after the date of the issuance of the first notice and demand, the 5 per cent penalty does not attach. If the assessment is not paid within 10 days after receipt of notice of rejection of the claim, the 5 per cent penalty applies. The filing of the claim does not stay the collection of interest, which continues to run for the full period that intervenes between the date of the first notice and demand and the date of payment.

If a false or fraudulent return is willfully made, the penalty, under section 3612 (d) and (e), is 50 per cent of the total tax due for the entire period involved, including any tax previously paid.

Any person who willfully fails to pay any tax due, file return, or keep records, or who attempts in any manner to evade or defeat the tax, or who fraudulently uses any exemption certificate authorized by these regulations, is subject to a fine of $10,000, or imprisonment, or both, with costs of prosecution, and is also liable to a penalty equal to the amount of the tax not paid. These penalties apply to an officer or employee who, as such officer or employee, is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs, as well as to a person who fails or refuses to perform any of the duties imposed by the Code, i. e., pay the tax, make return, keep records, supply information, etc.

An internal-revenue officer discovering in the course of his duty information leading him to suspect a possible violation of any law with the enforcement of which he is not directly concerned should immediately report the matter to the Commissioner, who is authorized to communicate with the proper department involved.*†

(a) Any person who willfully fails to pay, collect, or truthfully account for and pay over the tax imposed by section 2700 (a), or willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any such tax or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable to a penalty of the amount of the tax evaded, or not paid, collected, or accounted for and paid over, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected. No penalty shall be assessed under this subsection for any offense for which a penalty may be assessed under authority of section 3612.

(b) Any person required under this subchapter to pay any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information, for the purposes of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed by this subchapter who willfully fails to pay such tax, make such returns, keep such records, or supply such information, at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(c) Any person required under this subchapter to collect, account for and pay over any tax imposed by this subchapter, who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over such tax, and any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any tax imposed by this subchapter or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(d) The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

SEC. 3710. SURRENDER OF PROPERTY SUBJECT TO DISTRAINT.

(a) REQUIREMENT. Any person in possession of property, or rights to property, subject to distraint, upon which a levy has been made, shall, upon demand by the collector or deputy collector making such levy, surrender such property or rights to such collector or deputy, unless such property or right is, at the time of such demand, subject to an attachment or execution under any judicial process.

(b) PENALTY FOR VIOLATION. Any person who fails or refuses to so surrender any of such property or rights shall be liable in his own person and estate to the United States in a sum equal to the value of the property or rights not so surrendered, but not exceeding the amount of the taxes (including penalties and interest) for the collection of which such levy has been made, together with costs and interests from the date of such levy.

(c) PERSON DEFINED. The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

[SEC. 3793. PENALTIES AND FORFEITURES.]

(b) FRAUDULENT RETURNS, AFFIDAVITS, AND CLAIMS.

(1) ASSISTANCE IN PREPARATION OR PRESENTATION. Any person who willfully aids or assists in, or procures, counsels, or advises the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the internal revenue laws, of a false or fraudulent return, affidavit, claim, or document, shall (whether or not such falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present such return, affidavit, claim, or document) be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(2) PERSON DEFINED. The term "person" as used in this subsection includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

(a) DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION BY OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES OF THE UNITED STATES.—

(1) OPERATIONS OF MANUFACTURER OR PRODUCER. It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent, clerk, or other officer or employee of the United States to divulge or to make known in any manner whatever not provided by law to any person the operations, style of work, or apparatus of any manufacturer or producer visited by him in the discharge of his official duties; and any offense against the foregoing provision shall be a misdemeanor and be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court; and the offender shall be dismissed from office or discharged from employment. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to internal revenue agents as fully as to internal revenue officers.

Penalty for Failure to Register and Give Bond

[SEC. 3412. TAX ON GASOLINE.]

(d) * * * Every person who fails to register or give bond as required by this subsection, or who in connection with any purchase of gasoline or lubricating oil falsely represents himself to be registered and bonded as provided by this subsection, or who willfully makes any false statement in an application for registration under this subsection, shall upon conviction thereof be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution. * * *

Misrepresentation of Tax

SEC. 3325. PENALTIES FOR FALSE STATEMENTS TO PURCHASERS REGARDING TAX.

Whoever in connection with the sale or lease, or offer for sale or lease, of any article, or for the purpose of making such sale or lease, makes any statement, written or oral, (1) intended or calculated to lead any person to believe that any part of the price at which such article is sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, consists of a tax imposed under the authority of the United States, or (2) ascribing a particular part of such price to a tax imposed under the authority of the United States, knowing that such statement is false or that the tax is not so great as the portion of such price ascribed to such tax, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

Fractional Part of Cent

SEC. 3658. FRACTIONAL PARTS OF A CENT.

In the payment of any tax under this title not payable by stamp a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to 1 cent.

Authority for Regulations

SEC. 3450. RULES AND REGULATIONS.

The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this chapter in so far as it relates to the taxes on articles sold by the manufacturer, producer, or importer.

§ 314.66 Promulgation of regulations. In pursuance of the provisions of the law, the foregoing regulations are made and promulgated to supersede, as of the date approved, the provisions of Regulations 44, approved September 11, 1934, as amended (Part 309, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat., Part 1) by Treasury Decision 4885, approved February 11, 1939 (Part 465, Subpart B, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations).*†

PART 85—GIFT TAX

ARTICLE 18, REGULATIONS 79, AMENDED; SITUS OF PROPERTY

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

The second paragraph of article 18 of Regulations 79, 1936 edition (section 85.18 of Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), and that article as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code by Treasury Decision 4885, approved February 11, 1939 (Part 465, Subpart B, of such Title 26), is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Real estate, tangible personal property, and the written evidence of intangible personal property which is treated as being the property itself are within the United States if physically situated therein. For example, a bond for the payment of money is not within the United States unless physically situated therein. Stock of a domestic corporation, however, constitutes property within the United States, irrespective of where the certificates thereof are physically located. (See section 531 (b).) Intangible personal property the written evidence of which is not treated as being the property itself constitutes property within the United States if consisting of a property right issuing from or enforcible against a resident of the United States or a domestic corporation (public or private), irrespective of where such written evidence is physically located."

(This Treasury Decision is prescribed pursuant to the following sections of law: Sections 1030 (b) and 1029 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. Part 1); and sections 531 (b) and 530 of the Revenue Act of 1932 (47 Stat. 259; 26 U.S.C. 580, 579))

PART 80—ESTATE TAX

ARTICLE 50, REGULATIONS 80 (1937 EDITION) AMENDED; SITUS OF PROPERTY

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

Article 50 of Regulations 80,[1] 1937 edition, (section 80.50 of Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), and that article as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code by Treasury Decision 4885, approved February 11, 1939 (Part 465, Subpart B, of such Title 26), is hereby amended to read as follows:

"ART. 50. Situs of property. Real estate, tangible personal property, and the written evidence of intangible personal property which is treated as being the property itself are within the United States if physically situated therein. For example, a bond for the payment of money is not within the United States unless physically situated therein. Stock of a domestic corporation, however, constitutes property within the United States, irrespective of where the certificates thereof are physically located.

"Intangible personal property the written evidence of which is not treated as being the property itself constitutes property within the United States if consisting of a property right issuing from or enforcible against a resident of the United States or a domestic corporation (public or private), if not subject to the exception prescribed in section 303 (e). Under the provisions of that section the amount receivable as insurance upon the life of a nonresident decedent (nonresident alien decedent, if death occurred after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934), and moneys deposited by or for such a decedent, who was not engaged in business in the United States at the time of his death, with any person carrying on the banking business, shall not be deemed property within the United States.

"Property of which the decedent has made a transfer taxable under the provisions of article 15 is deemed to be situated in the United States if so situated either at the time of the transfer or at the time of the decedent's death. (See articles 15 to 21, inclusive)"

TITLE 36—PARKS AND FORESTS

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK

AMENDMENT TO SUBSIDIARY REGULATIONS

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Secretary of the Interior by the Act of August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535), and pursuant to the authority granted to the Director of the National Park Service by the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder (1 F.R. 672, 36 CFR, Chapter 1, Part 2, Section 2.43), the subsidiary regulations for Grand Teton National Park, approved October 31, 1938 (3 F.R. 2674 (DI)), are amended to read as follows, to become effective immediately:

§ 20.22 Grand Teton National Park—(a) Speed. Speed of automobiles and other vehicles, except ambulances and Government cars on emergency trips, is limited to 25 miles per hour on primary roads, and to 15 miles per hour in campground areas.

(b) Fishing. (1) The limit of catch per person per day is 10 fish. Possession of more than one day's catch by any person at any one time shall be construed as a violation of this regulation.

(2) The use of fish eggs or fish for bait is prohibited.

Approved, November 15, 1939.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

EXPORT BILL OF LADING[1]

Upon further hearing certain conditions in Part II of the through export bill of lading heretofore prescribed by the Commission modified in certain particulars in the light of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, Public No. 521—74th Congress. Certain other changes also authorized for the reasons stated herein. Prior reports, 64 I. C. C. 347, 66 I. C. C. 687; 80 I. C. C. 305 and 156 I. C. C. 188.

Luther M. Walter, John S. Burchmore, Nuel D. Belnap, E. F. Lacey, and E. S. Gubernator for National Industrial Traffic League.

H. E. Reed and Oscar R. Houston for American Institute of Marine Underwriters, W. G. Oliphant for Inland Waterways Corporation.

Roscoe H. Hupper and James Sinclair for Ocean Carriers in Trans-Atlantic Associated Freight Conferences, and H. B. Bolton for American Hawaiian Steamship Corporation.

A. H. Greenley, D. Lynch Younger and George R. Allen for Bill of Lading Committee, Eastern Group of Rail Lines.

R. C. Fyfe for Bill of Lading Committee, Western Lines, and M. Carter Hall for Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company.

Julian M. King and Rollin Rice for American Trucking Association, Inc.

Report of the Commission

PORTER, Commissioner:

No exceptions were filed to the changes which the examiner recommended be made in the through export bill of lading. However, as hereafter stated, the principal parties are agreed that certain additional changes should be made.

In Export Bill of Lading, 64 I.C.C. 347, we prescribed a form of through export bill of lading to be used by carriers subject to the Interstate Commerce Act for application to the transportation of property, in connection with ocean carriers whose vessels are registered under the laws of the United States, from points within the United States designated by us under the provisions of section 25 of the Interstate Commerce Act to points in nonadjacent foreign countries. Certain modifications of this form were subsequently authorized. See 66 I.C.C. 687, 80 I.C.C. 305, and 156 I.C.C. 188.

By section 10 of the Act of Congress, approved April 16, 1936, Public No. 521—74th Congress (Carriage of Goods by Sea Act), section 25, paragraph 4 of the Interstate Commerce Act was amended by adding the following proviso at the end thereof:

Provided, however, That insofar as any bill of lading authorized hereunder relates to the carriage of goods by sea, such bill of lading shall be subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act.

On July 6, 1936, we reopened the proceeding for further hearing upon the question of the changes, if any, in the current form of through export bill of lading which might be necessary to bring it into harmony with the provisions of the aforementioned act. At the same time railroads were authorized, pending determination of the question here involved, to make the following endorsement upon through export bills of lading:

This bill of lading, so far as it relates to the carriage of goods by sea, shall have effect subject to provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States of America, approved April 16, 1936, effective July 15, 1936.

Hearings were delayed from time to time because the interested parties were endeavoring by conferences to agree upon uniform provisions to be contained in said revised bill of lading.

All parties agree that slight changes or additions should be made in the text of this bill of lading other than in Part II which relates to the service after delivery at the Port (A) as designated in said bill. These changes, which are shown below, appear in the portion immediately following the blocks in which are set forth "Marks and Numbers, Car Numbers, Articles," etc.

To be carried to the port (A) of _____ and thence by _____ to the port (B) _____ (or so near thereto as vessel may safely get), always subject to the liberties, exceptions, terms and conditions here-

inafter specified or provided for, and to be there delivered in like good order and condition as above consigned, or to consignee's assigns, or to another carrier on the route to destination if consigned beyond said port (B), upon payment immediately on discharge of the property of the freight due thereon, at the rate (INLAND AND/OR COASTWISE) from ---------- to --------- of ---------- cents per one hundred gross weight, port charges, if any ------ cents, and (Ocean and On-Carrying) from ---------- to ---------- of ------ cents, per ----------, and advanced charges ------ ($------), with all other charges and average, without any allowance of credit or discount, ---------- settlement to be made on the basis of lawful money of the United States of America, amount to be paid by receivers at current rate of New York exchange as quoted on the day the vessel is entered at the Custom House at her port of discharge. [Italicised language is new.]

The change first mentioned was said to be desirable so that the bill of lading would contain a recital to the effect that the transportation is subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein. The second should be made because of legislation enacted since the adoption of the present bill of lading. These changes are authorized even though not strictly within the scope of the order of reopening.

The principal changes deemed necessary to comply with the Act were suggested by the National Industrial Traffice League, hereinafter referred to as the league. The American Institute of Marine Underwriters approves such changes. They are set forth in Appendix A, the present and suggested provisions where changes are deemed necessary being set forth in parallel columns. New language is underscored. The Trans-Atlantic carriers in the main do not oppose these changes. All parties are agreed that the changes set forth in Appendix A are such as are required by the Act, and approve them except in minor respects as may be indicated hereafter.

The Trans-Atlantic carriers suggested certain additional changes in paragraphs 2, 3 (a) and 3 (b) but subsequently they adopted the changes suggested by the league as to those paragraphs except that they opposed the insertion of "thirty" in line 13 of 3 (b). This objection is based on the ground that the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act provides that the notice therein required must be given within three days. Paragraph 3 (b) as suggested by the league, if three is substituted for thirty is approved. This brings the paragraph into harmony with the Act.

The carriers mentioned in the preceding paragraph at the hearing also suggested certain changes in paragraphs 1 (b) and 14 of Part II. These are set forth in Appendix B. The league and the American Institute of Marine Underwriters opposed the approval thereof on the ground that the parties had no notice that any such changes were contemplated and for that reason and the reasons stated in the proposed report the examiner recommended that the changes then suggested be disapproved. However, these three parties have submitted a memorandum stating that with certain revisions, although changes are not required by the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, they agree that the paragraphs above mentioned should be changed as now proposed, and unanimously recommend our approval thereof. The adoption of such amendments will obviate any objections they now have to the recommendations of the examiner. Such revisions are in addition to those recommended in the proposed report. They differ slightly from those which had been suggested by the Trans-Atlantic carriers. The changes in these paragraphs which the three parties are now agreed should be made are also shown in Appendix B. The additions are underscored and the deletions are stricken with dashes.

The principal objection of the league to the provisions contained in paragraph 1 (b) as proposed by the Trans-Atlantic carriers was that it provided that General Average should be adjusted in accordance with the provisions contained in the port bill of lading of the ocean carrier receiving the goods although the shipper might have no knowledge as to those provisions. The Trans-Atlantic carriers claim that the General Average clause has been found inadequate; that the revision should be made so that the ship owner shall receive General Average and contribute with shippers and owners notwithstanding that the situation which brought about the loss arises out of the negligence of the ship or those who may be operating it. They assert that port bills of lading, similar to those which they propose shall govern General Average, have been in use for some time by various steamship lines including some operated by the United States Maritime Commission and that no objections have been received from any source. It would appear that in our report in 156 I. C. C. 188, we considered a proposal similar in some respects to that here recommended by the Trans-Atlantic carriers. We there said:

> The modification provides that the York-Antwerp rules of 1924 shall govern general average, with the exceptions noted, "unless the port bill of lading of the ocean carrier in use at time of shipment provides for the application of other rules, in which event the latter shall control." This modification, while meeting with the approval of representatives of the steamship lines and railroads, was not approved by counsel for the United States Shipping Board present at the hearing, and it does not have our approval. It is open to the objection that it binds, or seeks to bind, the shipper by reference to the provisions governing general average liability carried in the port-to-port bill of lading of the ocean carrier, which port-to-port bill of lading the shipper possibly never has read, and very likely never has been accorded the opportunity of reading if he so desired. It also would supersede the provisions of the through export bill of lading if in conflict therewith, thereby destroying the uniformity in the terms of that bill of lading, contrary to the intent of the Congress in the enactment of section 25 of the interstate commerce act.

The railroad interests represented at the hearing offered no objection to paragraph 1 (b) as then proposed. The paragraph as revised has been approved by the league, steamship interests, and the Marine Underwriters. No objection has been received from any source. The instant proposal differs somewhat from that considered in 156 I. C. C. 188. It was there provided that "General Average shall be payable according to the York-Antwerp rules of 1924, sections 1 to 15, inclusive, and sections 17 to 22, inclusive," etc., "unless the port bill of lading of the ocean carrier in use at time of shipment provides for the application of other rules, in which event the latter shall control." As will be noted, it is now proposed to provide that "General Average shall be adjusted and payable according to the provisions therefor contained in the port bill of lading of the ocean carrier receiving the goods hereunder on the date of issuance of this document and then on file with the ---------- Commission." Thus the objection to the prior proposal that it would supersede the provisions of the through export bill of lading if in conflict therewith is removed. The provisions of the port bill will govern and the intent of Congress as respects uniformity in the terms of the bill of lading as provided by section 25 of the Interstate Commerce Act would appear to be carried out.

As to the objection in our prior decision that the provision binds or seeks to bind the shipper by reference to provisions carried in the port-to-port bill of lading to which the shipper may never have had access, it should be noted that shippers as represented by the league approve the provision now proposed. The parties to the agreement evidently are in accord that the revised provision meets the objection of uncertainty which was inherent in the clause previously considered in that reference is made to a port lading in use when the through lading is issued and then on file with the designated Commission. Since there was doubt as to the particular Commission with which the port ladings should be filed they left that portion open.

We have been advised by the United States Maritime Commission, which has superseded the United States Shipping Board since our prior decision, that it approves the provision in question. Further it is agreeable to that Commission to have the through export bill of lading provide for the filing of the forms of port bills of lading with it. If such bills are so filed all shippers will have access to and can secure knowledge of the provisions contained therein. This will remove the objection raised in our prior decision. With the insertion of the words "United States Maritime" before the word "Commission" in the revised paragraph 1 (b) as set forth in Appendix B we approve said paragraph.

The Trans-Atlantic carriers on brief suggest that the word "thereunder" in paragraph 3 (c) of the bill of lading be changed to "hereunder". The present language conforms to the bill as prescribed in our report on further hearing, 66 I. C. C. 687. The changes there approved were suggested by the United States Shipping Board in its letter of February 20, 1922. An examination of the record shows that the word "thereunder" was erroneously used in our report instead of "hereunder". The change suggested is approved.

As previously stated, the Marine Underwriters approved the revisions suggested by the league. The latter, however, opposed the substitute paragraph 14 proposed at the hearing by the Trans-Atlantic carriers on the ground that the port bill would take precedence over the prescribed form of through export bill of lading wherever there was conflict. The marine underwriters also opposed said paragraph unless a slight addition suggested by them were made. However, since the hearing the three parties as heretofore indicated have agreed upon a revised paragraph 14 which they recommend we approve. In that revision, as will be noted, it is provided that the terms and conditions of the port bill "on file with the ---------- Commission" will apply only in so far as they are not in conflict with the export bill of lading. Thus the objection that the port bill will control exclusively is removed. Furthermore the United States Maritime Commission has advised that it approves paragraph 14 as revised and agreed upon and is agreeable to having the port bills of lading filed with it. With the insertion of the words "United States Maritime" before the word "Commission" we approve revised paragraph 14.

Accordingly we approve the changes in Part II of the uniform through export bill of lading as proposed by the league and which are set forth in Appendix A[2] except that the use of the word "thirty" in line 13 of paragraph 3 (b) is disapproved for the reasons stated in the report. Certain other changes as mentioned in the report are also approved. Some of them are not included in Part II but all parties are agreed that they should be made. The reasons given justify our approval thereof. We also approve the revised paragraphs 1 (b) and 14 of Part II as set forth in Appendix B[2] with the insertion of the words "United States Maritime". No order will be entered at this time but the carriers and shippers will be expected to make changes in the through export bill of lading as their present supplies become exhausted. Pending that time the railroads may continue to make the indorsement heretofore authorized upon through export bills of lading.

By the Commission.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

PART 29—PLAINS REGION: INDIVIDUAL NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

ORDER PERMITTING FISHING WITHIN THE VALENTINE MIGRATORY WATERFOWL REFUGE, NEBRASKA

§ 29.920 Order permitting fishing within the Valentine Migratory Waterfowl Refuge, Nebraska. Pursuant to section 10 of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act of February 18, 1929 (45 Stat. 1222; 16 U.S.C. 715i), as amended, and to the President's Reorganization Plan No. II, promulgated May 9, 1939, pursuant to the provisions of the Reorganization Act of 1939, approved April 3, 1939 (Pub. No. 19, 76th Cong.) it is hereby ordered that, until further notice, in accordance with the provisions of the regulations dated November 23, 1937,[1] for the administration of national wildlife refuges under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Biological Survey, fishes may be taken for non-commercial purposes, and by hook and line only, from certain waters of the Valentine Migratory Waterfowl Refuge, Nebraska, subject to conditions and restrictions herein specified.

(1) Waters open to fishing. Only the waters of Dads, Dewey, and Hackberry Lakes within the refuge shall be open to fishing insofar as such fishing is not inconsistent with the primary object for which the refuge was established. No fishing of any kind will be permitted within the refuge during the migratory-waterfowl hunting season. In the event that the Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey shall find that fishing in any of these waters is unduly depleting any species of fishes therein or is interfering with the use of any particular waters by migratory birds or other wildlife, he may suspend the privilege of fishing in such waters pending final determination by the Secretary of the Interior.

(2) State fishing laws. Any person who fishes within the refuge must comply with the applicable fishing laws and regulations of the State of Nebraska, and in the absence of a State law or regulation in respect to the fishing season and the number and size of fishes that may be taken, the Chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey may fix such seasons and limits.

(3) Fishing permits. Any person exercising the privilege of fishing within the refuge shall be in possession of a valid fishing license issued by the State of Nebraska, if such license is required, and shall carry such license on his person while fishing, and when requested to do so shall exhibit it to any representative of the Game, Forestation, and Parks Commission of the State of Nebraska authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of the State, or to any representative of the Bureau of Biological Survey.

(4) Routes of travel. Persons entering the refuge for the purpose of fishing shall follow such routes of travel as shall from time to time be designated by the officer in charge of the refuge.

(5) Use of motor boats. The use of motor boats, either inboard or outboard, is prohibited on all waters of the refuge except for official purposes.

Approved, November 15, 1939.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket Nos. 620–FD, 623–FD—626–FD, 667–FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATIONS OF HUBERT POWERS AND E. C. BROCK, TOM CARTER, ALF PARKER, BEN PORTER AND WILLIAM PORTER, CUMBERLAND MOUNTAIN COAL CO., INC. AND CECIL HITCHCOCK, FOR EXEMPTION UNDER THE SECOND PARAGRAPH OF SECTION 4–A OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL ACT OF 1937

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

Applications, pursuant to the provisions of the second paragraph of Section 4–A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been filed with the Bituminous Coal Division by the above-named parties:

It is ordered, That hearings on such matters be held on December 5, 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Room, 245, Federal Building, Nashville, Tennessee.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain or any other officer or officers of the Bituminous Coal Division designated by the Director thereof for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearings is hereby authorized to conduct said hearings separately or to consolidate them, to administer oaths and affirmations, to examine witnesses, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, to continue said hearings from time to time, and to prepare and submit to the Director proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of appropriate orders in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearings is hereby given to such Applicants and to any other person who may have an interest in such proceedings. Any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before December 2, 1939.

The matters concerned herewith are in regard to Applications filed by Hubert Powers and E. C. Brook, Tom Carter, Alf Parker, Ben Porter and William Porter, Cumberland Mountain Coal Co., Inc., and Cecil Hitchcock, for exemption pursuant to the second paragraph of Section 4–A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and to an Order of the Bituminous Coal Commission entered in Docket No. 62–FD, which Order has been adopted and ratified as an Order of the Bituminous Coal Division.

The mine of the Applicants, Hubert Powers and E. C. Brock, is located near Campaign, Warren County, Tennessee, and it is claimed that the coal is consumed in Van Buren County, Warren County, and other nearby counties in Tennessee.

The mine of the Applicant, Tom Carter, is located near Clifty, Cumberland County, Tennessee, and it is claimed that the coal is consumed in Sparta, McMinnville and other nearby towns in Cumberland County and other nearby counties.

The mine of the Applicant, Alf Parker, is located near Clifty, Tennessee, and it is claimed that the coal is consumed in Sparta and Smithville, Tennessee, and in DeKalb County and adjoining counties in Tennessee.

The mine of the Applicants, Ben Porter and William Porter, is located near Eastland, White County, Tennessee, and it is claimed that the coal is consumed in Sparta and Smithville, Tennessee.

The mine of the Applicant, Cumberland Mountain Coal Co., Inc., is located near Spencer, Tennessee, and it is claimed that all coal produced at this mine is consumed locally in intrastate commerce, principally in McMinnville, Murfreesboro, Shelbyville, Woodbury and Tullahoma, and otherwise consumed locally in Van Buren, Warren and adjoining counties in Tennessee.

The mine of the Applicant, Cecil Hitchcock, is located near Lee Station, Tennessee, and it is claimed that the coal is consumed in Pikeville, Bledsoe County, and in other nearby counties in Tennessee.

All Applicants claim that their sales of coal are purely intrastate, and that they do not affect interstate commerce in bituminous coal.

[P. & S. Docket No. 450]

IN THE MATTER OF DENVER UNION STOCK YARD COMPANY, RESPONDENT

ORDER AND NOTICE OF HEARING

Whereas the Secretary of Agriculture on the 17th day of February, 1937, issued an order prescribing reasonable rates and charges for the respondent in the above-entitled case, which rates and charges were filed and put into effect in accordance with said order; and

Whereas the respondent on the 23rd day of May, 1939, filed a petition asking for a modification in the rates and charges prescribed by said order, on the ground that certain changes in conditions have taken place since the date thereof:

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That P. & S. Docket No. 450 be reopened for the purpose of taking evidence as to changes in conditions which may have occurred since the date of said order affecting said rates and charges, and that the matter be set down for a hearing on the 4th day of December 1939 at the hour of 10 a. m., in Room 3106 South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., at which time and place all interested persons will be afforded an opportunity to be heard.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order and notice of hearing be served upon respondent by registered mail.

DIVISION OF MARKETING AND MARKETING AGREEMENTS

DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, WITH RESPECT TO AMENDMENTS TO ORDER NO. 22, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE CINCINNATI, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Secretary of the Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of amendments to a tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and the issuance of amendments to Order No. 22, as amended, both of which regulate the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, gave, on the 22nd day of September 1939, notice of a public hearing to be held on the 28th day of September 1939, at Cincinnati, Ohio, on proposed amendments to said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, and to said Order No. 22, as amended, which hearing was held on the 28th and 29th days of September 1939, and at said times and place conducted a public hearing at which all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on the said proposed amendments; and

Whereas, after said hearing and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on the 4th day of November 1939, of amendments to the marketing agreement, as amended, handlers of more than fifty percent of the volume of milk covered by Order No. 22, as amended, which is marketed within the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, refused or failed to sign such tentatively approved amendments to the marketing agreement, as amended, relating to milk:

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the powers conferred upon him by said act, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of said handlers to sign said tentatively approved amendments to the marketing agreement, as amended, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

2. That the issuance of the proposed amendments to Order No. 22, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in said area; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed amendments to Order No. 22, as amended, is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum conducted by the Secretary, and who, during the month of August 1939, said month having been determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in said area.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, has executed this determination in duplicate, and has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 17th day of November 1939.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

IN THE MATTER OF APPLICATION OF THE UNITED STATES INDEPENDENT TELEPHONE ASSOCIATION AND SUNDRY OTHER PARTIES

NOTICE OF HEARING

Whereas, applications have been made by the United States Independent Telephone Association and sundry other parties under Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, 52 Stat. 1060, and Regulations, Part 522, as amended (Regulations Applicable to the Employment of Learners pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act—Title 29, Labor, Chapter V, Wage and Hour Division) issued by the Administrator thereunder for permission to employ learners as switchboard operators in the telephone industry at wages less than the applicable minimum wage specified in Section 6 of the Act;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the said Act and Section 522.4 of the said Regulations, notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in Room 3229 Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C. to commence at 10 A. M. on Thursday, December 7, 1939 before Gustav Peck, Assistant Director of the Hearings Branch of the Wage and Hour Division, hereby duly authorized as presiding officer to conduct said hearing, to take testimony for the purpose of determining, and to determine:

(a) Whether the occupation of switchboard operator in the telephone industry requires a learning period and, if this occupation is found to require a learning period,

(b) the factors which may have a bearing upon curtailment of opportunities for employment in the occupation of switchboard operator in the telephone industry, and,

(c) under what limitations as to wages, time, number, proportion, and length of service special certificates may be issued for the employment of switchboard operators in the telephone industry.

At this hearing opportunity to present evidence relevant to above questions will be afforded any interested person provided the presiding officer shall have received from such person, prior to noon, Tuesday, December 5, 1939, a notice of intention to appear setting forth his name and address, the company or organization which he represents, and the approximate length of such presentation.

As used in this notice, the term "switchboard operator in the telephone industry" means any switchboard operator employed in a public telephone exchange which has five hundred stations or more.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of November 1939.

APPLICATIONS OF RAW FUR AND WOOL ASSOCIATION OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI, INC. AND SUNDRY OTHER PARTIES FOR PARTIAL EXEMPTION OF THE RAW FUR RECEIVING INDUSTRY AS A SEASONAL INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF FURTHER CHANGE IN DATE OF HEARING

Whereas on the 10th day of January, 1939, Notice of Hearing on the applications of Raw Fur and Wool Association of St. Louis, Missouri, Inc., and sundry other parties for partial exemption of the raw fur receiving industry as a seasonal industry pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of regulations issued thereunder, was duly issued by Elmer F. Andrews, Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, to commence on January 19, 1939, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., before a presiding officer to be designated, on the following question:

Whether or not the raw fur receiving industry as defined herein or any branch thereof is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of regulations issued thereunder. As used in this notice the term "raw fur receiving industry" means the receiving, unpacking, grading, sorting, appraising, scraping, stretching and drying of raw furs.

Whereas the said Hearing has heretofore been duly postponed until further notice,

Now take notice that the said Hearing will be held at 10:00 a. m., on December 7, 1939, at the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C., before Harold Stein, who is hereby designated Presiding Officer to determine the question set forth above.

Any person interested in supporting or opposing the above application may appear at the hearing or file a written statement in lieu of appearance. Notice of intention to appear and written statements should be received by the said Harold Stein, Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. not later than December 6, 1939.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of November 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 6 FOR THE SHOE MANUFACTURING AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES

NOTICE OF HEARING

Whereas, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on March 16, 1939, by Administrative Order No. 18, appointed Industry Committee No. 6 for the Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industries and employees in the industries, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical region in which the industries are carried on; and

Whereas, Industry Committee No. 6, on August 3, 1939, recommended minimum wage rates for the Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries and has thereafter duly adopted a report containing said recommendation and reason therefor and has filed such report with the Administrator on November 20, 1939, pursuant to Section 8 (d) of the Act and Section 511.19 of the Regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas, the Administrator is required by Section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 6 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing before him, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendation;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 6 is as follows:

"That 35 cents be recommended to the Administrator as the minimum wage for the Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries as defined in Administrative Order No. 18, and that no classifications be established."

II. The definition of the Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries, as set forth in Administrative Order No. 18, issued March 16, 1939, is as follows:

"(a) The manufacture or partial manufacture of footwear from any material and by any process except knitting, vulcanizing of the entire article or vulcanizing (as distinct from cementing) of the sole to the upper.

"(b) The manufacture or partial manufacture of the following types of footwear, subject to the limitations of paragraph (a) but without prejudice to the generality of that paragraph:

"Athletic shoes
"Boots
"Boot tops
"Burial shoes
"Custom-made boots or shoes
"Moccasins
"Puttees, except spiral puttees
"Sandals
"Shoes completely rebuilt in a shoe factory
"Slippers

"(c) The manufacture from leather of from any shoe-upper material of all cut stock and findings for footwear, including bows, ornaments and trimmings.

"(d) The manufacture of the following types of cut stock and findings for footwear from any material except from rubber or composition of rubber, molded to shape:

|---|---|
| Outsoles | Shanks |
| Midsoles | Boxtoes |
| Insoles | Counters |
| Taps | Stays |
| Lifts | Stripping |
| Rands | Sock linings |

Copies of the Committee's report and recommendation may be obtained by any person upon request addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

IV. A public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the question of whether the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 6 shall be approved or disapproved pursuant to Section 8 of the Act will be held on December 11, 1939, at 10:00 a. m. in the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C., before a presiding officer to be designated prior to such hearing by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor.

V. Any interested person, supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 6, may appear at the aforesaid hearing to offer evidence, either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person; provided, that not later than December 7, 1939, such person shall file with the Administrator at Washington, D. C., a notice of his intent to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.

3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 6.

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

VI. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the presiding officer as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request made to the official reporter.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure each person filing a Notice to Appear will be notified of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the presiding officer.

3. At the discretion of the presiding officer the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place, by announcement thereof at the hearing by the presiding officer, or by other appropriate notice.

4. The Industry Committee will be represented at the hearing by its counsel who will open and close the proceeding.

5. At any stage of the hearing, the presiding officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the presiding officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such further taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

6. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

7. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the presiding officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

8. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the presiding officer. Where evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the presiding officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence. Upon presentation of such copies in proper form the copies will be received in evidence.

9. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of documents from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such applications shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

10. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the Courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

11. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

12. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person insofar as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the presiding officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but the record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the presiding officer.

13. Before the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall receive written requests from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. These requests will be forwarded to the Administrator by the presiding officer with the record of the proceedings. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the requests, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceeding, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral argument shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

14. Briefs may be submitted to the Administrator, following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs and the rules and regulations as to the contents and manner of presentation thereof, shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

15. On the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Administrator. The presiding officer shall not file an intermediate report unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed, it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

16. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of November 1939.

HAROLD D. JACOBS,
Acting Administrator.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Project No. 271]

IN THE MATTER OF ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

NOVEMBER, 17, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On November 14, 1939, Arkansas Power & Light Company, as licensee for Project No. 271, filed an amended application for further amendment of the license for said project, filing with said application an amended Exhibit, designated as "Exhibit L2–Sheet 1," intended to supersede Exhibit L, Sheet 7, relating to the Blakely Dam, and requesting amendment of the license for indefinite postponement of the completion date for the Blakely development;

(b) A preliminary permit was issued on April 21, 1922, to the Caddo River Power & Irrigation Company for Project No. 271 as a comprehensive power project consisting of three separate developments on the Ouachita River in Arkansas, the Carpenter, Remmell and Blakely developments; on February 7, 1923, a license was issued for the comprehensive project pursuant to the terms of the permit, and on April 14, 1923, the license was transferred to Arkansas Light & Power Company and on February 1, 1927, to the present licensee;

(c) The license as amended requires that the licensee commence construction of the Blakely development by December 31, 1936, and complete the construction by December 31, 1939;

(d) The license for Project No. 271, as amended November 16, 1928, contemplated the construction of a reservoir at the Blakely site for the development of hydroelectric power and in the interests of navigation and flood control;

(e) For the purposes of preventing or controlling floods and of facilitating navigation on the Ouachita River, participation by the United States in the cost of construction of the Blakely development was authorized by Section 4 of the Flood Control Act approved June 28, 1938, 33 U.S.C. 701, such participation not to exceed the sum of $2,000,000;

(f) Under Section 7 (b) of the Federal Power Act, the Commission may in its judgment make findings as to the development of water resources by the United States;

(g) The said Exhibit L2—Sheet 1 filed by the licensee on November 14, 1939, does not constitute full and proper compliance with the Commission's Rules of Practice and Regulations, Section 4.41, page 25, for the filing of Exhibit L, "general design drawings" etc.; and

(h) Under the circumstances further delay in the construction of the Blakely development may not be compatible with the public interests;

The Commission orders that:

A public hearing be held beginning at 10:00 o'clock a. m., on December 18, 1939, in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., at which the licensee shall submit appropriate evidence upon the following matters:

(1) The application for indefinite postponement of the date of completion of the Blakely development;

(2) The actual construction work which has already been accomplished at the Blakely site, its extent, character and cost;

(3) The suitability of foundation conditions at the Blakely site for the dam which the licensee proposes to construct;

(4) The proposed method of operation of the Blakely Power Plant as a part of the licensee's power system;

(5) The reasonable needs, present and prospective, of the available market to be served by the Blakely development;

(6) The sources in its own system from which the licensee now obtains electric energy and the possible future sources of such energy;

(7) The sources outside of its own system from which the licensee now obtains electric energy and the possibility of continued supply from such outside sources in the future;

At such public hearing, interested parties may present appropriate evidence upon the matters specified above, and upon the following matters, which will also be considered by the Commission:

(a) The desirability of constructing a multiple-purpose development at the Blakely site serving the purposes of flood control, power development, and navigation;

(b) The desirability of the construction by the United States or by a public agency of a multiple-purpose reservoir project at the Blakely site;

(c) The desirability of submitting a report to Congress upon a development at the Blakely site for public purposes;

(d) The desirability of revocation of that part of the license for Project No. 271, which authorizes construction, operation and maintenance of the Blakely development.

By the Commission.

WHITE-FRINGED BEETLE

NOVEMBER 21, 1939.

§ 301.72–5c Administrative instructions—Modifying the restrictions of the white-fringed beetle quarantine by authorizing treatment by methyl bromide solution of balled nursery stock not larger than six (6) inches in thickness. It has been determined after investigation by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the United States Department of Agriculture, that balled nursery stock can safely and successfully be treated with methyl bromide solution for the control of larvae of the white-fringed beetle (Pantomorus leucoloma Boh. and P. peregrinus Buch.).

(a) Treatment authorized. Under the provisions of Regulation 5 (a) [1] (Sec. 301.72–5) supplemental to Notice of Quarantine No. 72 (Sec. 301.72), the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine hereby authorizes as a prerequisite to certification, the following method of treatment for balled plants, when carried out under the supervision of an authorized inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) Type of material authorized. The treatment shall be applied only to plants in soil balls not greater than six (6) inches in diameter or greater than six (6) inches in thickness when not spherical.

(c) Treatment method. (1) The soil balls around the roots of plants must be buried in sand and plunged in boxes or trays approximately one foot deep, which are watertight.

(2) A 2-inch space filled with sand shall be provided between the soil balls, also above and beneath them.

(3) Such soil balls shall be treated with a solution of methyl bromide and alcohol at a concentration of 0.3 percent methyl bromide and 0.6 percent denatured ethyl alcohol by volume in water. The solution is to be prepared by first mixing the methyl bromide and alcohol together and then adding this mixture to the water and mixing thoroughly.

(4) The aqueous solution of methyl bromide and alcohol shall then be applied evenly over the surface of the sand around the plants at the rate of 40 gallons per 100 square feet of surface area by means of a sprinkling can or sprayer.

(5 After the required dosage has been applied, the soil balls shall remain embedded in the sand for a period of 24 hours.

(6) The temperature of the soil balls during the treatment shall not be lower than 70° F.

(d) Disclaimer. There has been no opportunity to test this treatment on many varieties of plants, and it is understood that no liability shall attach either to the United States Department of Agriculture or its employees in the event of injury to either plants or operators.

(e) Caution. Methyl bromide is a gas at ordinary temperatures. It is colorless and practically odorless, and in preparing the solution the operator should wear an approved gas mask. (Sec. 301.72–5) [B.E.P.Q. 503 November 21, 1939]

ORDER REOPENING PROCEEDING AND MODIFYING FINDINGS AS TO THE FACTS AND CONCLUSION AND ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This matter coming on to be heard upon the petition of respondent Pillsbury Flour Mills Co., praying the Commission to reopen this proceeding and to modify its findings as to the facts and conclusion, and order to cease and desist,[1] both being dated April 27, 1939; and it appearing to the Commission that each of the respondents named in the caption hereof, except respondents Washburn-Crosby Company, Inc., and Red Star Milling Company, against whom the complaint herein has been dismissed heretofore, have filed with the Commission a waiver of notice of a hearing on said petition of said respondent Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, said waivers consenting that the Commission may consider and act upon the said petition and determine the matters and things contained therein without any intervening procedure, such as the filing of answers, petitions in intervention or briefs, and a formal hearing and argument on said petition having been likewise waived; and said petition being now properly before the Commission for determination, and the Commission having duly considered the same and the record herein, and being now fully advised in the premises;

It is ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same hereby is, reopened for the purpose of the entry of this order and that the Findings as to the Facts and Conclusions and the Order to Cease and Desist heretofore entered herein be modified and amended as hereafter set forth.

It is ordered, That Paragraph Four of the Findings as to the Facts and Conclusion, made by the Commission herein and dated April 27, 1939, be and the same hereby is modified and amended to read as follows:

"PAR. 4. Respondents Washburn-Crosby Company, Inc., and Red Star Milling Company, were legally dissolved June 1, 1937, prior to the issuance and service of the complaint herein. Respondent Pillsbury Flour Mills Company is a Delaware corporation with its general office located in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Respondent Consolidated Flour Mills Company is a corporation with its office and principal place of business in the City of Wichita, State of Kansas. Respondent Kansas Milling Company is a corporation with its principal office and place of business located in the City of Wichita, State of Kansas.

"Respondents Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Consolidated Flour Mills Company, and Kansas Milling Company are engaged in the milling and sale of flour. Prior to about May 1, 1937, which was prior to the issuance and service of the complaint herein, they formerly paid brokerage fees of ten cents per barrel to respondent Quality Bakers of America, Inc., the usual and customary brokerage fees paid by them to brokers being fifteen cents per barrel, but on or about said date said respondents ceased making such brokerage payments to respondent Quality Bakers of America, Inc., and have not resumed this practice."

It is further ordered, That the following paragraph be inserted as an additional and last paragraph of the Conclusion, being a part of the Findings as to the Facts and Conclusion of the Commission, dated April 27, 1939, to wit:

"The respondents Washburn-Crosby Company, Inc., and Red Star Milling Company were legally dissolved prior to the issuance and service of the complaint herein, and these companies are no longer corporate entities authorized to engage in business. The respondents Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Consolidated Flour Mills Company, and Kansas Milling Company ceased paying brokerage fees to Quality Bakers of America, Inc., prior to the issuance and service of the complaint herein, have not resumed making such payments, and the Commission has no reason to apprehend that these respondents or any of them contemplate resuming or that they will resume the practice of paying such brokerage fees so discontinued prior to the issuance and service of said complaint."

It is further ordered, That the Order to Cease and Desist entered herein on April 27, 1939, be modified and amended by striking from said order the paragraph reading as follows:

"It is further ordered, That respondents Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Consolidated Flour Mills Co., and Kansas Milling Company and their officers, representatives, agents and employees, in connection with the sale of the commodities in interstate commerce to the stockholders of Quality Bakers of America, Inc., do forthwith cease and desist from paying or granting, directly or indirectly, to said Quality Bakers of America, Inc., or to any such stockholder anything of value as a commission, brokerage or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof;"

and substituting in lieu thereof the following paragraph, to-wit:

"It is further ordered, That the complaint herein, be, and the same hereby is, dismissed as to the respondents Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Consolidated Flour Mills Company, and Kansas Milling Company, for the reason that prior to the issuance and service of the complaint herein, these respondents ceased paying brokerage fees to respondent Quality Bakers of America, Inc., and the Commission has no reason to apprehend that said respondents or any of them contemplate resuming or will resume the practice of paying such brokerage fees to said respondent."

It is further ordered, That, except as herein modified and amended, said Findings as to the Facts and Conclusion and said Order to Cease and Desist, shall remain and continue in full force and effect as originally entered.

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 13th day of November, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF ALLE-RHUME REMEDY COMPANY, INC., AND BLOCK DRUG COMPANY, INC., CORPORATIONS

MODIFIED ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission and the answer of respondents, in which answer respondents admitted all of the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and stated that they waived all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, and the Commission having, on the 25th day of August 1939, made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that respondents had violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, and the Commission having, on the 25th day of August 1939, issued its order to cease and desist[1] against said respondents, and said respondents having thereafter requested that said order to cease and desist be modified, and the Commission having duly considered said request, and the record herein, and being now fully advised in the premises, makes this its modified order to cease and desist:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Alle-Rhume Remedy Company, Inc., a corporation, and Block Drug Company, Inc., a corporation, their officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, do forthwith cease and desist from disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of the United States mails or in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, by any means, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of their medicinal preparation now designated by the name "Allenru", or any other medicinal preparation composed of substantially similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar therapeutic properties, whether sold under said name or any other name or names, or disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to

IN THE MATTER OF JAMES HEDDON'S SONS, A CORPORATION

ORDER ALTERING TERMS OF ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This matter coming on to be heard by the Commission and it appearing that the Commission issued and served upon the respondent an order to cease and desist [1] which has become final and that the case should be reopened for the sole purpose of altering prohibition 1 of the aforesaid order to cease and desist, and it further appearing that the public interest requires the alteration of said prohibition 1 of the order to cease and desist, and that the respondent has waived any right to notice of, and opportunity for, hearing in any proceedings taken for the alteration of said order in the manner hereinafter set forth, and the Commission having duly considered the matter;

It is ordered, That the first numbered prohibition of said order to cease and desist issued by the Commission on August 8, 1939 be, and the same hereby is, altered so that as altered it will read as follows:

"1. Representing in any manner that all hollow steel fishing rods, other than respondent's hollow steel rods, have walls which are thicker at the tip than at the butt;"

It is further ordered, That the order to cease and desist issued on August 8, 1939, remain in full force and effect upon the alteration herein ordered being made with respect to prohibition 1 of said order to cease and desist.

Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements.

[Docket No. A-119 O-119]

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSAL TO AMEND ORDER NO. 32, AS AMENDED, AND THE TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, pursuant to the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, the Secretary issued Order No. 32, as amended,[2] regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, effective September 1, 1939; and

Whereas, the Secretary, on July 18, 1939, tentatively approved a marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Wayne Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., has proposed certain amendments to said Order No. 32, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; and

Whereas, the Secretary has reason to believe that the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by holding a hearing on a proposal to amend Order No. 32, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; and

Whereas, under the aforesaid act, notice of hearing is required in connection with a proposal to amend an order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended,[3] of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for notice and opportunity for hearing upon amendments to marketing agreements and orders:

Now, therefore, pursuant to said act and general regulations, notice is hereby given of a hearing to be held on a proposal to amend Order No. 32, as amended, and the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., November 28, 1939, in the Ball Room, Anthony Hotel, Corner Berry and Harrison Streets, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence as to whether or not the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by (1) revising the minimum prices for milk set forth in said order, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; (2) making changes in the wording of said order, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, for the purpose of affording more effective administration thereof; and (3) changing any other provisions of said order, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended.

Copies of said proposal prepared as a basis for the public hearing may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 0310 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSAL TO AMEND ORDER NO. 20, AS AMENDED, AND THE TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE LA PORTE COUNTY, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, pursuant to the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, the Secretary issued Order No. 20, as amended,[1] regulating the handling of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, marketing area, effective August 3, 1939; and

Whereas, the Secretary, on June 30, 1939, tentatively approved a marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, marketing area; and

Whereas, the La Porte County Milk Producers' Association has proposed certain amendments to said Order No. 20, as amended, and to said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; and

Whereas, the Secretary has reason to believe that the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by holding a hearing on a proposal to amend Order No. 20, as amended, and the tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the La Porte County, Indiana, marketing area, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., November 29, 1939, at the Civic Auditorium, La Porte, Indiana.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence as to whether or not the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by (1) revising the minimum prices for milk set forth in said order, as amended, and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, as amended; (2) providing special minimum prices applicable to milk disposed of outside the marketing area; and (3) revising other provisions so as to assure equitable administration.

Copies of said proposal prepared as a basis for the public hearing may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 0310 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. G–144]

IN THE MATTER OF UNITED GAS PIPE LINE COMPANY

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE

NOVEMBER 20, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott, concurring. Claude L. Draper, dissenting.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) United Gas Pipe Line Company has filed with the Commission certain rate schedules, designated in the files of the Commission as United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, and certain supplements thereto, designated respectively Supplements Nos. 1 to 9, both inclusive, to each of said United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, which schedules and supplements contain provisions whereby certain increased rates and charges for natural gas furnished to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for resale for ultimate public consumption, are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939;

(b) Said Supplements Nos. 9 to United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11 set forth certain statements purporting to justify the proposed increases in rates;

(c) The schedules of increased rates contained in said United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1 to 8, both inclusive, to each of said schedules, and referred to in said Supplements Nos. 9, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939, may result in excessive rates and charges to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, or place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of natural gas, which increased rates have not been shown to be justified;

The Commission finds that:

It is necessary, desirable, and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates or charges and that said proposed increased rates or charges be suspended pending such hearing and the decision thereon, but not for a longer period than five months beyond November 21, 1939;

The Commission, upon its own motion, orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held on January 22, 1940, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission in the Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges contained in said United States Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, and 7 to each of said schedules, and referred to in said Supplements Nos. 9, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939;

(B) Pending such hearing, the schedules of increased rates for the sale of natural gas for resale for ultimate domestic or commercial consumption contained in said United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, and 7 to each of said schedules, and referred to in said Supplements Nos. 9, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939, be and the same are hereby suspended for a period of five months beyond November 21, 1939, unless the Commission shall hereafter otherwise order;

(C) During the said period of suspension the rates and charges now being collected and received by the United Gas Pipe Line Company from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, as provided in the said United Gas Pipe Line Company Rate Schedules F.P.C. Nos. 9, 10, and 11, as modified by Supplements Nos. 1, 2, and 7 thereto, shall remain and continue in full force and effect;

(D) This order does not suspend or otherwise affect the rates and charges to be collected and received for natural gas sold to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for resale for ultimate industrial consumption only;

(E) At such hearing, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increased rates and charges are just and reasonable shall be upon the United Gas Pipe Line Company.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–145]

IN THE MATTER OF SOUTHERN CARBON COMPANY

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE

NOVEMBER 20, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott, concurring. Claude L. Draper, dissenting.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) The Southern Carbon Company has filed with the Commission a certain rate schedule, designated in the files of the Commission as Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, and certain supplements thereto, designated respectively as Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 to said Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, which schedule and supplements, among other things, contain provisions whereby certain increased rates and charges for natural gas furnished to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for resale for ultimate public consumption, are proposed to be effective on November 21, 1939;

(b) Said Supplement No. 5 to Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, sets forth certain statements purporting to justify the proposed increased in rates;

(c) The schedules of increased rates contained in said Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 to said schedule, and referred to in said Supplement No. 5, which are to be made effective on November 21, 1939, may result in excessive rates and charges to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation or place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of natural gas, which increased rates have not been shown to be justified;

The Commission finds that:

It is necessary, desirable and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates or charges and that said proposed increased rates or charges be suspended pending such hearing and the decision thereon, but not for a longer period than five months beyond November 21, 1939;

The Commission, upon its own motion, orders that:

C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges contained in said Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 to said schedule, and referred to in said Supplement No. 5, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939;

(B) Pending such hearing, the schedules of increased rates for the sale of natural gas for resale for ultimate domestic or commercial consumption contained in said Southern Carbon Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 to said schedule, and referred to in said Supplement No. 5, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939, be and the same are hereby suspended for a period of five months beyond November 21, 1939, unless the Commission shall hereafter otherwise order;

(C) During the said period of suspension the rates and charges now being collected and received by the Southern Carbon Company from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, as provided in the said Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, as modified by Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 thereto, shall remain and continue in full force and effect;

(D) This order does not suspend or otherwise affect the rates and charges to be collected and received for natural gas sold to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for resale for ultimate industrial consumption only;

(E) At such hearing, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increased rates and charges are just and reasonable shall be upon the Southern Carbon Company.

(c) Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 4 sets forth certain statements purporting to justify the proposed increases in rates;

(d) The schedule of increased rates contained in said Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 4, as modified by said Supplements 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 to said schedule, and referred to in said Supplement No. 7, which is proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939, may result in excessive rates and charges to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, or place an undue burden on ultimate consumers of natural gas, which increased rates have not been shown to be justified;

The Commission finds that:

It is necessary, desirable and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates or charges and that said proposed increased rates or charges be suspended pending such hearing and the decision thereon, but not for a longer period than five months beyond November 21, 1939;

The Commission, upon its own motion, orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held on January 22, 1940, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission in the Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges contained in said Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 4, as modified by Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, and referred to in said Supplement No. 7, and Hope Producing Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3 and Supplement No. 1 to Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, which are proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939;

(B) Pending such hearing, the schedules of increased rates for the sale of natural gas for resale for ultimate domestic or commercial consumption contained in said Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 4, as modified by said Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 to said schedule, and referred to in said Supplement No. 7, which is proposed to be made effective on November 21, 1939, be and the same are hereby suspended for a period of five months beyond November 21, 1939, unless the Commission shall hereafter otherwise order;

(C) During the said period of suspension, the rates and charges now being collected and received by the Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, and the Hope Producing Company from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, as provided in the Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 4, as modified by Supplements Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 thereto, and Hope Producing Company Rate Schedule F.P.C. No. 3, shall remain and continue in full force and effect;

(D) This order does not suspend or otherwise affect the rates and charges to be collected and received for natural gas sold to the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation for resale for ultimate industrial consumption only;

(E) At such hearing, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increased rates and charges are just and reasonable shall be upon the Interstate Natural Gas Company, Incorporated, and the Hope Producing Company.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of November, A. D. 1939.

[File Nos. 51-25, 60-8]

IN THE MATTER OF ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC CORPORATION

ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATION OF HEARINGS FOR STATED PURPOSES

The Commission now having pending before it the following related matters:

(1) File No. 51-25.—Application of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, pursuant to Rule U-12C-3 under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for an order of the Commission permitting the payment of certain interest on applicant's debentures.

(2) File No. 60-8.—Proceeding brought by the Commission, pursuant to Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, requiring Associated Gas and Electric Corporation to show cause why the Commission should not enter its order, pursuant to said Section, preventing the declaration or payment of further dividends by such company.

It appearing that such proceedings involve common questions of law and fact and that evidence offered in respect to each matter may have a bearing on the other, that the parties are the same in both matters, and that substantial saving in time, effort and expense will result if the hearings on said matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter and so that the evidence adduced in each matter may stand as evidence in the other for all purposes.

It is ordered, That the matters referred to in (1) and (2) hereof, Commission's File Nos. 51-25 and 60-8, be and they hereby are consolidated for the purpose of hearings thereon. The Commission reserves the right, if at any time it may appear conducive to an orderly and economic disposition of either of such matters, to order a separate hearing with respect to either matter, or to close the record with respect to either matter and/or to take action thereon prior to closing the record on such other matter.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 51-27]

IN THE MATTER OF THE UNITED CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to section 12 (c) and Rule U-12C-2 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 6, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 2, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to:

The United Corporation, a registered holding company, requests approval of the declaration and payment of dividends on the 2,488,712 outstanding shares of the Corporation's $3.00 Cumulative Preference Stock amounting to $1.05 per share, or a total of $2,613,147.60. The proposed dividend is a full payment of accumulated dividends now in arrears on the Corporation's $3.00 Cumulative Preference Stock amounting to $1.05 per share, or a total of $2,613,147.60.

The Corporation proposes to debit its Capital Surplus Account with the amount by which such dividend exceeds the balance in its Earned Surplus Account at the date of declaration. The balance in the Corporation's Earned Surplus Account at October 31, 1939 was $99,933.68.

The Corporation proposes further that, upon the declaration and payment of the full amount of these dividends in arrears, the Corporation shall be permitted, without further authority from the Commission, to declare and pay the regular dividends on the $3.00 Cumulative Preference Stock out of income accruing after payment of the dividends in arrears, upon condition that, the excess of such income above the amounts required to pay the regular dividends on the Preference Stock shall be credited to the Capital Surplus Account until the full amount of the dividend charged thereto shall be restored to that account; and no dividends shall be declared or paid on the Common Stock of the Corporation until such amount shall have been restored to the Capital Surplus Account.

The Corporation also requests that it be given such other and further relief as in the premises may be just and proper.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF WILLARD C. MCAHREN AND MAUDE B. MCAHREN, INDIVIDUALS TRADING AND DOING BUSINESS AS PURITY PRODUCTS COMPANY, AND LANDON & WARNER COMPANY, A CORPORATION

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST AS TO WILLARD C. AND MAUDE B. M'AHREN, AND CLOSING CASE AS TO LANDON & WARNER COMPANY

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondents, Willard C. and Maude B. McAhren, in which answer said respondents admit all the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint, and state that they waive all intervening procedure and further hearings as to the facts, and upon the answer of respondent Landon & Warner Company, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that respondents Willard C. and Maude B. McAhren have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That respondents, Willard C. McAhren and Maude B. McAhren, individually and trading under the name of Purity Products Company or any other name or names, their agents, employees and representatives, directly or through any corporate or other device, do forthwith cease and desist from disseminating, or causing to be disseminated, any advertisement by means of the United States mails or in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, by any means, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of a certain medicinal preparation containing Vitamin E and now designated by the name of "Wheatol", or any other preparation composed of similar ingredients or possessing substantially similar therapeutic qualities, whether sold under that designation or any other designation, or disseminating, or causing to be disseminated, any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing, or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said medicinal preparation, which advertisements represent, directly or through implication, that the impairment of youthful vigor, vitality and general condition which accompanies advancing years in the male is due to a deficiency in Vitamin E; or that such impairment can be averted or delayed by the use of said preparation; or that said preparation will affect the female organs of reproduction or their functioning or women's ability to successfully conceive or bear children except in rare cases involving habitual involuntary abortion where inability to successfully bear children after conception may be due to a Vitamin E deficiency of a degree susceptible of replacement by the Vitamin E content of the said preparation; or that absence, loss or impairment of sexual desire or impotency or sterility is due to a deficiency of Vitamin E, or that said preparation will in any way benefit such conditions.

It is further ordered, That the respondents Willard C. and Maude B. McAhren shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

It is further ordered, That the case be closed as to respondent Landon & Warner Company without prejudice to the right of the Commission to reopen and resume prosecution thereof in the event the facts so warrant.

By the Commission.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. 960-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF STEPHENSON BRICK COMPANY FOR EXEMPTION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

Application, pursuant to the provisions of the second paragraph of Section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been filed with the Bituminous Coal Division by the above-named party:

It is ordered, That hearing on such matter be held on December 12, 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Federal Building, Birmingham, Alabama.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain or any other officer or officers of the Bituminous Coal Division designated by the Director thereof for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, to examine witnesses, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit to the Director proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of appropriate orders in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such Applicant and to any other person who may have an interest in such proceedings. Any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before December 9, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to an application filed by Stephenson Brick Company for exemption pursuant to the second paragraph of Section 4-A of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and to an Order of the Bituminous Coal Commission entered in Docket No. 67–FD, which Order has been adopted and ratified as an Order of the Bituminous Coal Division.

The mine of the Applicant, Stephenson Brick Company, is located at Cordova, Alabama, and it is alleged that the coal is sold entirely to the Alabama Power Company and the Southern Railway Company in Birmingham, Alabama.

Applicant claims that its sales of coal are purely intrastate, and that they do not affect interstate commerce in bituminous coal.

Dated, November 21, 1939.

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1148 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 17, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h) (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for the food commonly known as canned peas. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and so standardizing such food. John McDill Fox and designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peas and that the hearing would proceed in the order set forth in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 7, 1939.

3. On April 20, 1939, at 4:20 p. m., the hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality and specifying the form and manner of label statement of substandard quality for the food commonly known as canned peas was convened, and was concluded at 5:45 p. m., on April 22, 1939. All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and argument.

4. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file written argument, proposed findings of fact, or both, various interested persons filed proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing, which, if granted, would modify the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

5. There was controversy with respect to (a) the tolerance for spotted and discolored peas and the method of fixing such tolerance, (b) the tolerance for pea pods and other extraneous vegetable matter, (c) tolerance for broken peas, (d) the alcohol insoluble solids as a test for mealiness, (e) label statements.

6. Testimony was introduced tracing the development of standards with reference to the NcNary-Mapes Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act of 1906, passed in 1930, and the formulation of a standard of quality under that amendment.

Various factors which go to make up a quality standard were considered, together with objective tests for the determination of such factors. In addition, many new tests were devised, and studies undertaken to establish their reliability. In connection with these studies, visits were made to pea canneries, and experimental packs of canned peas were made during each of the canning seasons from 1931 to 1938. Experimental packs were made in all pea canning sections, being the states of Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Utah, and Washington, in one or more of the years from 1931 to 1938. These various factors and objective measurements were based on the concensus of consumer opinion as to what constituted factors of quality in canned peas, upon objective measurements of those factors, and upon the practicability of meeting those measurements under commercial conditions.

Graders and the industry were likewise consulted. The objective measurements of factors of quality, freedom from discolored and spotted peas, tenderness, freedom from broken peas, were included.

The regulations were changed in 1932 and again in 1935. Evidence was given that maturity of the pea ingredient is not directly a factor of quality of the finished product. In the opinion of various witnesses, the degree of mealiness of texture is a primary factor of quality. The factors which enter into the quality of canned peas, it was testified, are freedom from spotted peas, freedom from extraneous matter, freedom from pieces of peas, freedom from ruptured peas, freedom from tough peas, and freedom from excessively mealy peas. With reference to spotted peas, testimony was conflicting, both as to the tolerance and as to the method. Witnesses on behalf of the Government suggested a reduction in the tolerance to one percent by weight of drained peas instead of four percent by count. Four percent by count is the present regulation under the McNary-Mapes Amendment. In 1935, a separate standard of quality for canned peas made from dried pea ingredients was promulgated, which likewise contained a tolerance not to exceed four percent by count of spotted or discolored peas.

Testimony was given that a tolerance for harmless extraneous material is necessary, and testimony was offered that a reasonable tolerance would be that this material does not exceed one-tenth of one percent of the drained weight of the peas from the container. There was no tolerance for this fact in the original standard promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment.

In 1932, in the standard for canned peas, the following was included:

"The peas are considered practically free from foreign material when they are entirely free from material which varies greatly in size or specific gravity from peas, such as stones, large pieces of pea shell, sticks; and when they contain for each two ounces of net contents not more than one piece of material which closely approximates peas in size and specific gravity, such as thistle buds, daisy heads, portions of radish-seed pods. The difficulty of absolute freedom from the latter class of foreign material occasionally renders its complete exclusion impracticable."

This is the present requirement for canned peas made from a succulent pea ingredient. However, when the standard of quality for canned peas made from dried peas was promulgated in 1935, this standard included the following:

"The product is 'practically free from foreign material' if it is entirely free from stones, and if there is present per pound of net contents not more than one piece of non-stony material any dimension of which is less than twice the thickness of a pea."

The suggestion of Government witnesses was that the tolerance of not more than one-tenth of one percent be substituted for the provision one piece to each two ounces of net contents. Other witnesses testified that this was an unreasonably drastic reduction from the standard promulgated under the McNary-Mapes Amendment and that this tolerance should be fixed at one-half of one percent.

It was testified that there should be a tolerance for broken peas of not more than 10 percent of the drained weight of the peas from the container. On this there was no controversy.

It was testified that there should be freedom from ruptured peas; that there should be a tolerance for this standard of quality, and the tolerance should not exceed 25 percent by count in the early variety type and not more than 5 percent by count in the sweet variety type and that a pea is ruptured if it is cracked to a width of $\frac{1}{4}$ inch or more. There was controversy with reference to this factor, and evidence was adduced that the proposed limit of 5 percent by count in the case of sweet varieties would be unfair and unreasonable.

A tolerance of 10 percent for tough peas was advocated, and an objective measurement for toughness was proposed.

A standard for mealiness was likewise proposed, together with a method of testing for mealiness. In connection with this, it was testified that standard canned peas were excessively mealy if the alcohol insoluble solids content was more than 23.5 percent. That provision was incorporated in an amendment to the standard under the McNary-Mapes Amendment and is still in force for canned succulent peas but is not included in the standard for canned dried peas which was originally promulgated in 1935. Testimony was adduced that this factor should be applied to all canned peas instead of canned peas made from the succulent pea ingredient; that the measure be 23.5 percent alcohol insoluble solids for the early type pea and 21 percent for the sweet, wrinkled type.

Testimony was given with reference to the method of determination of the various factors of quality, substantially as such measures appeared in the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER of Tuesday, March 7, 1939, which is Government's Exhibit No. 1.

7. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

Suggested Findings

1. A legal standard of quality for canned peas has been in effect since 1931 under the McNary-Mapes Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act of 1906. (R. pp. 15–17)

2. The original standard was based on the consensus of consumer opinion as to what constituted factors of quality in canned peas, upon objective measurements of those factors and upon the practicability of meeting those measurements under commercial conditions. (R. p. 17)

3. The concensus of consumer opinion was determined by having consumers view and taste samples of canned peas. (R. pp. 17–18)

4. Objective measurements of the factors of quality were determined by conferences with canners, with the trade, and with expert graders from all sections of the country. (R. p. 19)

5. All factors incorporated in the original standard have remained in effect with the exception of certain provisions relating to fill of container which have been promulgated in a separate standard of fill of container. (R. pp. 19–20)

6. In 1935, a separate standard of quality for peas prepared from dried peas was promulgated. (R. pp. 19–20)

7. The maturity of the pea seed entering canned peas as an ingredient is not a factor of quality in canned peas, but the mealiness of the peas as they come from the can to the consumer is a factor. (R. pp. 20, 115–116, 282)

8. Factors of quality in canned peas, from the viewpoint of the consumer, are freedom from spotted peas, freedom from extraneous material, freedom from pieces of peas, freedom from ruptured peas, freedom from tough peas, and freedom from excessively mealy peas. (R. pp. 21, 115–116, 125, 156, 199–200)

9. Spotted peas are peas with abnormally colored areas caused by various natural conditions, and their appearance is objectionable to consumers. (R. pp. 21, 61, 72, 73–74, 126)

10. In a great many cases, peas can be canned entirely free from spotted peas, but they sometimes occur and must be removed by hand sorting. Occasionally, spotted peas escape the most careful sorting. (R. pp. 21, 126)

11. A reasonable standard, therefore, must include a tolerance for spotted peas, and a tolerance of 4 percent by count of the peas in the container is a reasonable tolerance. (R. pp. 21–22, 62–64, 74–75, 126, 148, 156, 159–160, 168, 186, 199)

12. A canner can make certain that his peas are within the tolerance for spotted peas by careful sorting of peas before canning and by examination of representative samples of his pack. (R. pp. 24, 126, 156, 199)

13. Such factor takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas. (R. pp. 24–25, 126)

14. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that peas are substandard in quality because of the presence of an excessive number of spotted peas is "Below Standard in Quality—Spotted Peas." (R. pp. 26, 134, 156, 200)

15. Freedom from extraneous material is a factor in the quality of canned peas from the viewpoint of the consumer who expects that canned peas will be relatively free from any foreign material, from considerations of appearance and other considerations. (R. pp. 26–27, 107–108, 126–127, 156, 199)

16. Standard canned peas contain no extraneous material other than harmless vegetable material. The operation of vining and threshing the peas results in a considerable quantity of leafy material, pieces of pea pods, thistle buds, and other vegetable material accompanying the peas. Most of this material is removed from the shelled peas mechanically by sifting and blowing and by water flotation, but some must be removed by hand picking. (R. pp. 27, 108–109, 126–127)

17. Occasionally, a lot of raw material may be such that completely effective removal is impossible and a tolerance for harmless extraneous vegetable material is necessary. (R. pp. 27–28, 126–127, 180)

18. Not more than one-half of one percent of the drained weight of peas from the container in harmless, extraneous vegetable material is a reasonable tolerance which can be met by the canner operating under good commercial conditions. (R. pp. 148, 156, 160–162, 168–170, 180, 187, 199)

19. The original McNary-Mapes standard of quality has not been changed in any essential respect with regard to the factor of freedom from foreign material except that the original standard contained no tolerance for such material, and the present legal standard provides that there is present for each two ounces of net contents not more than one piece of material which closely approximates peas in size and specific gravity, such as thistle buds, daisy heads, or portions of radish seed pods. Such amendment was found necessary because of the impracticability of the complete exclusion of foreign material. (R. pp. 29–30)

20. A canner can make certain that he is complying with the factor of freedom from extraneous material by sorting under good control. (R. pp. 30, 126–127, 156)

21. Such factor, with the tolerance suggested, takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas, inasmuch as the presence of extraneous material is not associated with the variety of peas. (R. pp. 30–31, 126–127)

22. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that peas are substandard because of the presence of such material is "Below Standard in Quality—Excessive Foreign Material." (R. pp. 32, 134, 156, 200)

23. Freedom from broken peas is a factor of quality in canned peas from the standpoint of the consumer. (R. pp. 33, 127, 156)

24. The beating which the raw peas receive in the viner breaks some of them, particularly those which are soft and very young. Occasionally, in the case of some viners, the peas also break apart during the blanching and canning process. Those which break in vining can be largely removed mechanically but breaking in blanching and processing cannot be completely prevented. (R. pp. 33, 127)

25. A reasonable standard of quality for canned peas must contain a tolerance for broken peas and 10 percent of the drained weight of the canned peas in broken peas is a reasonable tolerance. (R. pp. 33–34, 127, 148, 156, 163–164, 187, 200)

26. There have been no changes in the provision of the original standard of quality under the McNary-Mapes Amendment with respect to the factor of freedom from broken peas and there are no essential differences between the existing legal standard and the proposed standard in that respect except that the proposal would reduce the tolerance on broken peas from 20 percent to 10 percent, and would base the determination upon weight rather than count. (R. pp. 34–35)

27. Standard canned peas as they appear on the market today do not contain more than 10 percent of broken peas and the change of method of determination from count to weight would have no effect other than to obviate the counting of large numbers of peas. 10 percent of the drained weight is approximately equivalent to 20 percent by count. (R. pp. 35, 127, 156)

28. The tolerance of 10 percent is ample to take care of peas broken by the blanching or canning process and the canner can make certain that he is complying with the factor of freedom from broken peas by proper sorting and mechanical separation. (R. pp. 35, 127, 148, 156, 200)

29. Such factor takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas. (R. pp. 35–36, 127)

30. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that canned peas are below standard because of the presence of an excessive number of broken peas is "Below Standard in Quality—Excessive Broken Peas". (R. pp. 37–38, 134, 200)

31. Freedom from ruptured peas is a factor of quality in canned peas from the viewpoint of the consumer from considerations of appearance. Good commercial practice will furnish peas of which not more than 25 percent are ruptured, but complete freedom from ruptured peas is not possible, and for that reason, a tolerance is necessary. (R. pp. 38, 66–67, 73, 101, 127, 148–149, 149–150, 156, 172–175)

32. A tolerance of not more than 25 percent of ruptured peas is a reasonable tolerance. (R. pp. 38–39, 67–68, 127, 148–149, 149–150, 154–156, 162–163, 171–175, 188)

33. A pea is ruptured if it is cracked to a width of 1/16 inch or more. Cracks smaller than 1/16 inch are not readily apparent and do not greatly affect the appearance of the product. (R. pp. 39, 127, 148–149)

34. The factor of freedom from ruptured peas was not included in the original standard of quality under the McNary-Mapes Amendment but was incorporated therein in 1933 because of the determination that many canners, in attempting to cook peas so they would meet the provisions of the McNary-Mapes standard with respect to hardness, were cooking them so much that large numbers were ruptured, thus giving them an inferior appearance which was found to be objectionable to the consumer. (R. pp. 39–40)

35. There has been no change in the factor since it was originally adopted except that freedom from ruptured peas was not made a factor in the separate standard of quality for canned dried peas promulgated in 1935. (R. pp. 40–41)

36. There are no essential differences between the existing legal standard of quality and the proposed standard except that the proposal would apply the measure to all types of peas inasmuch as the presence of ruptured peas is objectionable to the consumer regardless of the type of pea ingredient used. (R. p. 41)

37. The canner can make certain that he is complying with the factor of freedom from ruptured peas by properly cooking the peas. Such a factor takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas. (R. pp. 41–42, 127, 156)

38. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that peas are substandard in quality because of the presence of an excessive number of ruptured peas is "Below Standard in Quality—Excessive Cracked Peas." (R. pp. 43, 134, 156, 200)

39. Freedom from tough peas is a factor of quality in canned peas from the viewpoint of the consumer. (R. pp. 44, 127–128, 149, 156, 181, 200)

40. Tough peas do not occur in the best canned peas, but all peas in a single patch, or even on a single vine, will not have arrived at the same degree of toughness at the same time. Commercial conditions make it more efficient to cut a whole field of peas at the same time, and an average of tenderness or toughness must be arrived at, but by the exercise of good control, the canner is able to cut and can peas which contain a minimum of tough peas. (R. pp. 44, 127–128)

41. For these reasons, a reasonable standard must include a tolerance for tough peas, and 10 percent of tough peas is such a reasonable tolerance. (R. pp. 44–45, 127–128, 149, 164, 181, 156, 188, 200)

42. The toughness of peas can be determined objectively and such objective determination is definitely and precisely correlated with consumer reaction. (R. pp. 44–45, 127–128, 188)

43. Toughness of peas was a factor embraced in the original McNary-Mapes standard of quality and has not been changed. There are no differences between the measure of toughness as incorporated in the existing legal standard, and the method for determining it which is proposed. (R. p. 46)

44. The canner can make certain that he is complying with the factor of freedom from tough peas by properly cooking his peas. (R. pp. 46, 127–128, 156, 200)

45. Such a factor takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas. (R. pp. 46, 127–128)

46. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that peas are substandard in quality because of the presence of tough peas is "Below Standard in Quality—Not Tender." (R. pp. 47, 134, 156, 200)

47. Freedom from excessively mealy peas is a factor of quality in canned peas from the viewpoint of consumers from considerations of the texture of the finished product. (R. pp. 47, 48, 128, 135–136, 149, 156, 181, 200, 243–247, 249–251, 281)

48. The extent to which insoluble solids are present governs the mealiness of peas when they are chewed. The art of canning was first devised for the purpose of preserving the succulence of fresh vegetables, and canned peas are a product which simulates, insofar as possible, peas taken direct from the garden, cooked, and eaten. Such peas are not excessively mealy, and the quality of canned peas is lowered, depending in a large measure on the extent to which they are mealy. (R. pp. 48, 82, 128, 200, 281)

49. Mealiness in peas becomes excessive when their content of insoluble solids is such that the peas do not have the proper degree of succulence when eaten. Such mealiness can be measured objectively. (R. pp. 48, 128, 149, 156, 200)

50. Mealiness and insoluble solids content are definitely and directly correlated, and the determination of the insoluble solids gives an accurate index to the mealiness of canned peas. (R. pp. 48, 128, 149, 156, 200)

51. Canned peas are excessively mealy in the consensus of consumer taste, in the case of early June peas, when they contain more than 23.5 percent of solids insoluble in alcohol; and, in the case of sweet peas, when they contain more than 21 percent of solids insoluble in alcohol. (R. pp. 48–49, 83–84, 91–92, 106–107, 116, 117–118, 120, 128, 133–134, 135–136, 149, 156, 181, 200)

52. Early June peas naturally develop a higher insoluble solids content that sweet peas. Consumers expect early June peas to be mealier than sweet peas. These figures were selected by trying out samples on consumers and expert graders. Peas they rated as excessively mealy were analyzed in the laboratory and their insoluble solids content determined. (R. pp. 49–50, 83–84, 110, 128, 149, 156, 181, 200)

53. The factor of freedom from excessively mealy peas was not incorporated in the original McNary-Mapes standard of quality but was inserted in 1934. (R. p. 50)

54. There has been no change in the original standard except that the method of determining solids insoluble in water as originally provided was changed to solids insoluble in alcohol, for the reason that the latter method was a simpler laboratory method. (R. pp. 50–51)

55. The existing legal standard differs from the proposed standard only in that the proposal suggests the reduction of the alcohol insoluble solids content of sweet peas to 21 percent. (R. pp. 51)

56. Early June peas are naturally more mealy than peas of the sweet type, and the higher measure is necessary for that type, but mealiness is objectionable to consumers, and 21 percent is a figure which any sweet peas, properly canned, can meet. (R. pp. 51, 128, 149, 156, 164, 181, 200)

57. A canner can make certain that he is complying with the factor of freedom from excessively mealy peas by canning only those peas which canning experience indicates will not be excessively mealy, and by examining representative samples of his pack. (R. pp. 51–52, 95–98, 102–104, 106–107, 110–112, 112–115, 120, 128, 135–136, 149, 156, 164, 181, 200, 297–298, 303–304)

58. Such factor takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the different characteristics of the several varieties of peas. (R. pp. 51, 128)

59. The simplest and most understandable expression to inform the consumer that canned peas are substandard in quality because of the presence of excessively mealy peas is "Below Standard in Quality—Excessively Mealy Peas." (R. pp. 53, 134, 200)

60. An objective determination of each of the foregoing factors can be made by the following method:

(1) After determining the fill of container as prescribed in Section 51.002 (a), distribute the contents of the container over the meshes of a circular sieve made with No. 8 woven wire cloth which complies with the specifications for such cloth set forth on page 3 of "Standard Specifications for Sieves", published October 25, 1938, by U. S. Department of Commerce, National Bureau of Standards. The diameter of the sieve used is 8 inches if the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 3 pounds, or 12 inches if such quantity is 3 pounds or more. Without shifting the peas, so incline the sieve as to facilitate drainage. Two minutes from the time drainage begins, remove the peas from the sieve and weigh them. Such weight shall be considered to be the drained weight of the peas.

(2) From the drained peas obtained in (1), promptly segregate and count the spotted peas, and weigh the pea pods and other harmless extraneous vegetable material, and the pieces of peas.

(3) From the drained peas obtained in (1), take at random a subdivision of 100 to 150 peas, and count them. Immediately cover these peas with a portion of the liquid obtained in (1), and add the remaining liquid to the drained peas from which the subdivision was taken. Count those peas in the subdivision, the skins of which are ruptured to a width of 1/8 inch or more.

(4) Immediately after each pea is examined by the method prescribed in (3), test it by removing its skin, placing one of its cotyledons, with flat surface down, on the approximate center of the level, smooth surface of a rigid plate, lowering of horizontal disc to the highest point of the cotyledon, and measuring the height of the cotyledon. The disc is a rigid material and is affixed to a rod held vertically by a support through which the rod can freely move upward or downward. The lower face of the disc is a smooth, plane surface horizontal to the vertical axis of the rod. A device to which weight may be added is affixed to the upper end of the rod. Before lowering the disc to the cotyledon, adjust the combined weight of disc, rod, and device to 100 grams. After measuring the height of the cotyledon, and shifting the plate, if necessary, so that the cotyledon is under the approximate center of the disc, add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its previously measured height, or until the combined weight of disc, rod, and device is 907.2 grams (2 pounds). A pea so tested shall be considered to be crushed when its cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its original height. (R. pp. 54–57, 128, 153, 156, 191, 192, 200, 304)

(5) Drain the liquid from the peas which remained after taking the subdivision as prescribed in (3). Transfer the peas to a pan, and rinse them with a volume of water equal to twice the capacity of the container from which such peas were drained in (1). Immediately drain the peas again by the method prescribed in (1). After the two minutes' draining, wipe the moisture from the bottom of the sieve. Comminute the peas thus drained, stir them to a uniform mixture, and weight 20 grams of such mixture into a 600 cc. beaker. Add 300 cc. of 80 percent alcohol (by volume), stir, cover beaker, and bring to a boil. Simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Fit a Buchner funnel with a previously prepared filter paper of such size that its edges extend ½ inch or more up the vertical sides of the funnel. The previous preparation of the filter paper consists of drying it in a flat-bottomed dish for 2 hours at 100° Centigrade, covering the dish with a tight-fitting cover, cooling it in a desiccator, and promptly weighing. After the filter paper is fitted to the funnel, apply suction and transfer the contents of the beaker to the funnel. Do not allow any of the material to run over the edge of the paper. Wash the material on the filter with 80 percent alcohol (by volume) until the washings are clear and colorless. Transfer the filter paper with the material retained thereon to the dish used in preparing the filter paper. Dry the material in a ventilated oven, without covering the dish, for 2 hours at 100° Centigrade. Place the cover on the dish, cool it in a desiccator, and promptly weigh. From this weight, subtract the weight of the dish, cover, and paper, as previously found. The weight in grams thus obtained, multiplied by 5, shall be considered to be the percent of alcohol-insoluble solids. (R. pp. 54–57, 128, 153, 156, 191, 192, 200, 304)

61. Such methods are accurate and definite laboratory determinations available to canners and administrative officials. (R. pp. 54, 128, 136–138, 144–145, 153, 200, 251–253, 282–300, 302–303)

62. In the event canned peas are below standard because of failure to meet two or several of the factors of quality, it would not be practicable to label them with the statement of each reason. In such event, the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade" would be informative to the consumer. But in order to fully and conspicuously inform the consumer of the substandard character of the product, it should be printed in a conspicuous manner in two lines, the words "Below Standard in Quality" constituting the first line, the words "Good Food—Not High Grade" constituting the second line. In order for the statement to be conspicuous, it should be enclosed within lines not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle, and the statement should be in conspicuous type such as Cheltenham bold condensed caps, with the type of the first line 12 points and the type of the second line 8 points, in the case of small containers, that is, of less than one pound net contents, and the first line of type of 14 points and the second line in type of 10 points, in the case of larger containers. Such a statement, with its enclosing lines, should be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background and be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peas" or any pictorial representation of peas is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase. (R. pp. 58–60, 134–135, 196–197, 200)

Suggested Conclusion in the Form of a Regulation

Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the following reasonable standard of quality and form and manner of label statement of substandard quality for the food commonly known as canned peas is hereby suggested to be promulgated as a regulation:

§ 51.001 Canned peas—Quality; label statement of substandard quality. (a) The standard of quality for canned peas is as follows:

(1) Not more than 4 percent by count of the peas in the container are spotted;

(2) The combined weight of pea pods and other harmless extraneous vegetable material is not more than one-half of one percent of the drained weight of peas in the container;

(3) The weight of pieces of peas is not more than 10 percent of the drained weight of peas from the container;

(4) The skins of not more than 25 percent by count of the peas from the container are ruptured to a width of $\frac{1}{4}$ inch or more;

(5) Not less than 90 percent by count of the peas from the container are crushed by a weight of not more than 907.2 grams (2 pounds); and

(6) The alcohol-insoluble solids of Alaska or other smooth skin varieties of peas from the container are not more than 23.5 percent, and of sweet, wrinkled varieties, not more than 21 percent.

(b) Canned peas shall be tested by the following methods to determine whether or not they meet the requirements of subsection (a):

(1) After determining the fill of the container as prescribed in Section 51.002 (a), distribute the contents of the container over the meshes of a circular sieve made with No. 8 woven wire cloth which complies with the specifications for such cloth set forth on page 3 of "Standard Specifications for Sieves", published October 25, 1938, by U. S. Department of Commerce, National Bureau of Standards. The diameter of the sieve used is 8 inches if the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 3 pounds, or 12 inches if such quantity is 3 pounds or more. Without shifting the peas, so incline the sieve as to facilitate drainage. Two minutes from the time drainage begins, remove the peas from the sieve and weigh them. Such weight shall be considered to be the drained weight of the peas.

(2) From the drained peas obtained in (1), promptly segregate and count the spotted peas, and weigh the pea pods and other harmless extraneous vegetable material, and the pieces of peas.

(3) From the drained peas obtained in (1), take at random a subdivision of 100 to 150 peas, and count them. Immediately cover these peas with a portion of the liquid obtained in (1), and add the remaining liquid to the drained peas from which the subdivision was taken. Count those peas in the subdivision, the skins of which are ruptured to a width of $\frac{1}{4}$ inch or more.

(4) Immediately after each pea is examined by the method prescribed in (3), test it by removing its skin, placing one of its cotyledons, with flat surface down, on the approximate center of the level, smooth surface of a rigid plate, lowering a horizontal disc to the highest point of the cotyledon, and measuring the height of the cotyledon. The disc is of rigid material and is affixed to a rod held vertically by a support through which the rod can freely move upward or downward. The lower face of the disc is a smooth, plane surface horizontal to the vertical axis of the rod. A device to which weight may be added is affixed to the upper end of the rod. Before lowering the disc to the cotyledon, adjust the combined weight of disc, rod, and device to 100 grams. After measuring the height of the cotyledon, and shifting the plate, if necessary, so that the cotyledon is under the approximate center of the disc, add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its previously measured height, or until the combined weight of disc, rod, and device is 907.2 grams (2 pounds). A pea so tested shall be considered to be crushed when its cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its original height.

(5) Drain the liquid from the peas which remained after taking the subdivision as prescribed in (3). Transfer the peas to a pan, and rinse them with a volume of water equal to twice the capacity of the container from which such peas were drained in (1). Immediately drain the peas again by the method prescribed in (1). After the two minutes' draining, wipe the moisture from the bottom of the sieve. Comminute the peas thus drained, stir them to a uniform mixture, and weigh 20 grams of such mixture into a 600 cc. beaker. Add 300 cc. of 80 percent alcohol (by volume), stir, cover beaker, and bring to a boil. Simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Fit a Buchner funnel with a previously prepared filter paper of such size that its edges extend ½ inch or more up the vertical sides of the funnel. The previous preparation of the filter paper consists of drying it in a flat-bottomed dish for 2 hours at 100° Centigrade, covering the dish with a tight-fitting cover, cooling it in a desiccator, and promptly weighing. After the filter paper is fitted to the funnel, apply suction and transfer the contents of the beaker to the funnel. Do not allow any of the material to run over the edge of the paper. Wash the material on the filter with 80 percent alcohol (by volume) until the washings are clear and colorless. Transfer the filter paper with the material retained thereon to the dish used in preparing the filter paper. Dry the material in a ventilated oven, without covering the dish, for 2 hours at 100° Centigrade. Place the cover on the dish, cool it in a desiccator, and promptly weigh. From this weight, subtract the weight of the dish, cover, and paper, as previously found. The weight in grams thus obtained, multiplied by 5, shall be considered to be the percent of alcohol-insoluble solids.

(c) If the quality of canned peas falls below the standard prescribed by subsection (a), the label (unless it bears the statement prescribed by subsection (d)) shall bear the statement "Below Standard in quality --------", the blank to be filled in with the word or words specified after the corresponding number of each clause of subsection (a) which such canned peas fail to meet, as follows: (1) "Excessive Spotted Peas"; (2) "Excessive Foreign Material"; (3) "Excessive Broken Peas"; (4) "Excessive Cracked Peas"; (5) "Not Tender"; (6) "Excessively Mealy". If such canned peas fail to meet two or all of clauses (1), (3), and (4), the words specified after the corresponding numbers of such clauses may be combined, as for example, "Excessive Spotted, Broken and Cracked Peas". Such statement shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, the name "Peas" and the words and statements required or authorized to appear with such name by Section 51.000 (b).

(d) In lieu of the statement or statements specified in subsection (c), the label may bear the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade", printed in two lines of Cheltenham bold condensed caps. The words "Below Standard in Quality" shall constitute the first line, and the second line shall immediately follow. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the type of the first line shall be 12-point, and of the second line, 8-point. If such quantity is 1 pound or more, the type of the first line shall be 14-point, and of the second line, 10-point. Such statement shall be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle. Such statement, with enclosing lines, shall be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and shall be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peas" or any pictorial representation of peas is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Time Within Which to File Objections

Within ten days after the receipt of the copy of the FEDERAL REGISTER containing this report, any interested person who wishes to object to any matter set out in the suggested findings of fact and suggested conclusion in the form of a regulation shall transmit such objection in writing to the Hearing Clerk. At the same time, each such interested person shall transmit in writing to the Hearing Clerk a brief statement concerning each of the objections taken to the action of the presiding officer upon which he wishes to rely, referring where relevant to the pages of the transcript of evidence.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF PRESIDING OFFICER, SUGGESTED FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS AND ORDER RELATIVE TO FILL OF CONTAINER OF CANNED PEAS

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC HEARINGS FOR PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE UPON BASIS OF WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE PROMULGATED (A) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY, (2) REQUIRING LABEL DECLARATION OF CERTAIN OPTIONAL INGREDIENTS; (B) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY; (C) (1) FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER, (2) SPECIFYING FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER; FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEAS

1. In conformity with subsection (e) of Section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act [Section 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371 (e)], the Secretary of Agriculture on his own initiative published on March 7, 1939, which appeared on page 1148 of the FEDERAL REGISTER, a notice of a public hearing to be held on April 17, 1939, in the South Ballroom, Tenth Floor, Raleigh Hotel, Twelfth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which, in pursuance of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of Sections 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2) [Secs. 401, 403 (g), (2), and 403 (h), (1) and (2), 52 Stat. 1046 and 1047; 21 U.S.C. 341, 343 (g), (2), and 343 (h), (1) and (2)], regulations may be promulgated (a) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity, and (2) requiring the label declaration of certain optional ingredients; (b) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of quality, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard quality; and (c) (1) fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container, and (2) specifying the form and manner of label statements of substandard fill of container; for the food commonly known as canned peas. The notice contained a proposal, in general terms, for defining and so standardizing such food. John McDill Fox was designated as presiding officer to conduct such hearing. Thereafter, a public hearing was held at the time and place specified, and John McDill Fox acted as presiding officer. (Government's Exhibit No. 1)

2. At said hearing the presiding officer announced that he would first hold a hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food commonly known as canned peas and that the hearing would proceed in the order set forth in the FEDERAL REGISTER of March 7, 1939.

3. On April 21, 1939, at 5 p. m., the hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence upon the basis of which a regulation may be promulgated fixing and establishing a reasonable standard of fill of container and specifying the form and manner of label statement of substandard fill of container for the food commonly known as canned peas was convened, and was concluded at 4:30 p. m., on April 22, 1939. All interested persons were notified, pursuant to the rules of procedure, of their opportunity to file proposed findings of fact and written argument.

4. Within the time announced at the hearing within which interested persons might file written arguments, proposed findings of fact, or both, various interested persons filed proposed findings of fact, together with written argument in support thereof, based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing, which, if granted, would modify the proposal contained in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

5. Pursuant to the rules of procedure, the presiding officer, therefore, makes this his report and suggests that the Secretary issue the regulation hereinafter set forth and make, on the basis of the substantial evidence of record at the hearing, the findings of fact herein contained as part of the order promulgating and making public such regulation.

Suggested Findings

1. A legal standard of fill of container for canned peas has been in effect under the McNary-Mapes Amendment to the Food and Drugs Act of 1906, since 1931 (R. pp. 12–14)

2. There are only four objective measurements of fill of container. These are: put-in weight, cut-out weight, put-in volume, and cut-out volume. (R. pp. 16–17, 46–47)

3. A put-in weight requirement is not practicable for canned peas inasmuch as peas of different lots must be filled with very different put-in weights in order to achieve uniformly well-filled cans. (R. pp. 16, 47)

4. A cut-out weight requirement for canned peas is impracticable because of the marked variance in specific gravity in different lots of peas so that two lots of peas of the same cut-out volume might vary ten percent or more in weight. (R. pp. 16, 47)

5. A put-in volume requirement is impracticable for canned peas. A can might be filled to capacity with one lot of peas and another can filled to only half capacity with another lot peas, but, upon processing and the absorption of water by the peas of the latter lot, each of the cans might be as well filled as practicable when the containers were opened. (R. pp. 16, 47)

6. A cut-out volume requirement is the only practicable fill of container requirement for canned peas. (R. pp. 16–17, 47)

7. A reasonable standard of fill of container is that the can of peas be so well filled that when the peas and liquid are poured from the container and poured back into the container, and the peas leveled so that there is no downward pressure and allowed to stand fifteen seconds, they will completely fill the container. A container with lid attached by a double seam is completely filled when the top of the leveled peas is not more than $\frac{3}{16}$ inch vertical distance below the top of the container. Metal containers of other types are completely filled when the level of the peas is level with the top of the container. An allowance for containers with double seams is necessary because the bottom of the lid is $\frac{3}{16}$ inch below the top of the vertical sides of the can. (R. pp. 17, 29–51, 52–54)

8. Due to the necessity for air space to permit expansion which occurs during the processing of peas in glass containers, an allowance is necessary for containers of that type. One-half inch below the top of the container is a reasonable allowance. (R. pp. 27–29, 57, 60–63)

9. In canning practice, cans are filled with peas and the interstices are filled with brine. After the peas are processed, stand in the warehouse, and are shaken down in shipment, the peas will settle down so that the can will apparently not be completely filled, but, pouring the peas and the liquid from the container and pouring them back closely simulates the condition in which the peas were originally packed. In the packing of older peas, a smaller volume is placed in the can, depending upon the age of the peas, so that when processed and having taken up water they will occupy the same volume that young peas would occupy before processing. The older the peas are the more water they will absorb, and the canner, consequently, adjusts his fill in order to allow for this variation. All canners make this adjustment as a matter of course and are able to get their containers sufficiently well filled that, while the peas will be shaken down somewhat in storage and shipment, they will, when poured from the container and returned thereto, completely fill the container. (R. pp. 18, 31–33, 41–42, 47–48, 52–54)

10. The canner can determine he is achieving the suggested cut-out fill. Peas are filled into the containers by a machine which is set to deliver any desired volume of peas to each container. The canner sets the machine to deliver a volume which his knowledge of the age of the peas indicates will give a proper fill. As soon as some of the cans are filled and sealed he takes samples to make sure that the fill is proper. (R. pp. 19, 42–43, 48–49, 50–51, 54–55)

11. The original McNary-Mapes standard of fill of container promulgated in 1931 required that canned foods were of standard fill if the entire contents occupied 90 percent or more of the volume of the closed container, and that the liquor in canned peas was not above the upper level of the peas when the contents were poured out, returned to the container and the peas leveled without downward pressure. (R. pp. 19–20)

12. In 1936, a proviso was added to the standard to the effect that when the declared net weight is sufficient to fill the container to 90 percent or more of its capacity, liquid in excess of such declared net weight shall be removed before making a test. (R. pp. 20–21)

13. The present legal standard of fill of container for canned peas is not a satisfactory standard. The consumer is entitled to a can as completely filled with peas as is commercially practicable. The present standard permits a container filled to only 90 percent of its possible volume. The consumer viewing an opaque can of peas expects that the manufacturer has not used a larger can than is needed to hold the quantity of peas therein. (R. pp. 21–22, 36–40, 41–42, 50)

14. The standard proposed differs from the present standard only in requiring that the volume of peas occupy the entire container instead of 90 percent thereof. (R. p. 22)

15. The present commercial pack of canned peas meets the standard proposed. Hundreds of cans of peas representing samples taken at random from the open market have been recently examined in widely separated laboratories of the Food and Drug Administration, and the great majority of these cans easily meet the proposed standard. The amount of peas present in most of the containers was such that when poured from the container and poured back, the peas were rounded up well over the top of the containers. (R. pp. 22–25, 36–40, 41–42)

16. The condition of canned peas which fall below the standard of fill of container is best described from the viewpoint of the consumer by the statement "Below Standard in Fill." (R. pp. 25, 56–57)

17. If canned peas fall below a standard of fill of container, it is necessary and desirable in the interest of the consumer that the label bear the statement "Below Standard in Fill" printed in Cheltenham bold condensed caps. If the quanity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the statement should be in 12-point type; if such quantity is 1 pound or more, the statement should be in 14-point type. Such statement should be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle; but if the statement specified in the standard of quality for canned peas is also used, both statements (one following the other) may be enclosed within the same rectangle. Such statement or statements, with enclosing lines, should be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and should be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peas" or any pictorial representation of peas is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase. (R. pp. 25–26, 56–57)

18. The substandard statement now required by the regulations issued pursuant to the McNary-Mapes Amendment is "Below U. S. Standard" followed by "Slack Fill", in the case of excess head space; and by the statement "Contains Excessive Added Liquid", in the case of excessive packing medium. These statements are required to appear in substantially the same form as herein proposed. (R. p. 26)

19. The phrase "Below Standard", as proposed, differs from the present requirement "Below U. S. Standard". The term "U. S." on a food product has been found to imply to consumers that the product has been packed under the supervision of the U. S. Government. The phrase "In Fill", as proposed, differs from the present requirement of "Slack Fill" or "Contains Excessive Added Liquid". The standard herein proposed is based on a can filled to its maximum capacity with peas. If adopted and met, the headspace will not be excessive, nor will there be excessive liquid present. If not met, the expression "Below Standard in Fill" is simpler and more understandable in describing a product which fails to meet a standard based on the amount of peas present rather than on the amount of liquid and peas or the quantity of liquid present. (R. pp. 26–27, 56–57)

§ 51.002 Canned peas—Fill of container; label statement of substandard fill. (a) The standard of fill of container for canned peas is a fill such that, when the peas and liquid are removed from the container and returned thereto, the leveled peas (irrespective of the quantity of the liquid), 15 seconds after they are so returned, completely fill the container. A container with lid attached by double seam shall be considered to be completely filled when it is filled to the level 5/16 inch vertical distance below the top of the double seam; and a glass container shall be considered to be completely filled when it is filled to the level ½ inch vertical distance below the top of the container.

(b) If canned peas fall below the standard of fill of container prescribed in subsection (a), the label shall bear the statement "Below Standard in Fill" printed in Cheltenham bold condensed caps. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the statement shall be in 12-point type; if such quantity is 1 pound or more, the statement shall be in 14-point type. Such statement shall be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle; but if the statement specified in the standard of quality for canned peas is also used, both statements (one following the other) may be enclosed within the same rectangle. Such statement or statements, with enclosing lines, shall be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and shall be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peas" or any pictorial representation of peas is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Time Within Which to File Objections

Within ten days after the receipt of the copy of the FEDERAL REGISTER containing this report, any interested person who wishes to object to any matter set out in the suggested findings of fact and suggested conclusion in the form of a regulation shall transmit such objection in writing to the Hearing Clerk. At the same time, each such interested person shall transmit in writing to the Hearing Clerk a brief statement concerning each of the objections taken to the action of the presiding officer upon which he wishes to rely, referring where relevant to the pages of the transcript of evidence.

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION FOR REVIEW OF DETERMINATION GRANTING AND DENYING CERTAIN APPLICATIONS FOR PARTIAL EXEMPTION OF THE CLAY PRODUCTS INDUSTRY AS A SEASONAL INDUSTRY

Whereas, applications have been made by the Committee of Brick Manufacturers of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, Chehalis Brick and Tile Company, Colonial Clays, Inc. and Red River Valley Brick Corporation under Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and Regulations, Part 526, as amended (Regulations applicable to Industries of a Seasonal Nature), issued by the Administrator thereunder, for partial exemption of the clay products industry from the maximum hours provisions of Section 7 (a) of said Act pursuant to Section 7 (b) (3) applicable to industries found by the Administrator to be of a seasonal nature; and

Whereas, a public hearing on said applications was held before Harold Stein, the representative of the Administrator, duly authorized to take testimony, hear argument and determine whether or not the clay products industry or any subdivision thereof is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and Part 526 of Regulations issued thereunder, the term "clay products industry" being defined to mean the processing or manufacturing of clay products (other than pottery); and

Whereas, following such hearing, the said Harold Stein duly made his findings of fact and determined as follows:

"1. The manufacture of brick in the three northern New England states of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire is integrated and well-defined and constitutes a branch of the clay products industry (other than pottery) as defined in the notice of hearing; and

"2. Brick cannot be manufactured in freezing weather in unheated plants with open-air driers because the clay is not available at the various stages of extraction, handling and processing in the only form in which it can be used by the industry, i. e. as unfrozen clay; and

"3. Brick in northern New England is manufactured only in plants with open-air drying yards and scove kilns, and almost all the brick is a specialty product which can be produced only under these conditions. The plants produce green brick between April 15 and October 15, approximately, each year and shut down thereafter because of freezing weather, although one burning of approximately ten days' duration occurs after the last batch of green brick drys; and

"4. The manufacture of brick in Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire is a branch of the clay products industry and is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder; and

"5. Brick is manufactured in southern New England, and in New England as a whole, in plants with varying types of driers and kilns, as elsewhere; it is competitive with brick manufactured elsewhere; and the manufacture is carried on in important plants throughout the year; and

"6. The manufacture of brick in the three southern New England states or in New England as a whole is not a branch of an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of Regulations issued thereunder; and

"7. The applications filed by the Chehalis Brick and Tile Company of Chehalis, Washington, and the Red River Valley Brick Corporation of Grand Forks, North Dakota, fail to show the existence of any integrated and well-defined branches of the clay products industry.

"The application of the Committee of Brick Manufacturers of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont is granted.

"The applications of Colonial Clays, Inc., the Chehalis Brick and Tile Company and the Red River Valley Brick Corporation are denied"; and

Whereas, said Findings and Determination were duly filed with the Acting Administrator on November 16, 1939, and are now on file in Room 5144, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., and available for examination by all interested parties:

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of Section 526.7 of the aforesaid Regulations, notice is hereby given that any person aggrieved by the said determination may, within fifteen days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file a petition with the Acting Administrator requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of hearing before the said representative.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of November 1939.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective November 25, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates shall be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and shall be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

NAME AND ADDRESS OF FIRM AND PRODUCT

Baxley Dress Mfg. Co., Seattle, Washington (5 learners), house dresses.

Bell Garment Mfg. Corp., San Antonio, Texas (5 learners), children's wear.

Better Infants' Wear, San Antonio, Texas (3 learners), children's wear.

Cherryland Mfg. Co., Traverse City, Michigan (5 learners), work pants.

Esskay Manufacturing Co., San Antonio, Texas (5 learners), children's wear.

Juvenile Manufacturing Co., San Antonio, Texas, children's wear.

M. Nirenberg Sons, Inc., 750 2nd Avenue, Troy, New York, men's shirts.

Texas Infants' Dress Co., Inc., San Antonio, Texas (5 learners), children's wear.

Royal Manufacturing Company, Coopersburg, Pennsylvania, trunks and union shirts.

Royal Manufacturing Company, Alburtis, Pennsylvania, polo shirts and athletic clothing.

H. Kraft, Thornwood, New York (2 learners), chevrons and machine embroideries.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of November 1939.

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that they are actually in need of learners at sub-minimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a sub-minimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates, or any of them, may be canceled as of the date of their issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificates must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

IN THE MATTER OF BROCKTON EDISON COMPANY AND MONTAUP ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration and application pursuant to sections 7 and 10 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 12, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 7, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to

1. A declaration by Brockton Edison Company, a subsidiary of Eastern Utilities Associates, a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, regarding the issuance of its one-year non-interest bearing note to mature on or about December 30, 1940 to Montaup Electric Company, its subsidiary. This note is in payment of an open account representing that part of the unpaid purchase price of electric energy supplied by Montaup to Brockton, allocated as Brockton's proportionate share of Montaup's depreciation charges.

2. Montaup has filed an application pursuant to Section 10 (a) of the Act for the approval of the acquisition of the above-described note.

IN THE MATTER OF INTERNATIONAL UTILITIES CORPORATION, AND GENERAL WATER GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

Applications pursuant to sections 5 (d), 3 (a) (5) and 3 (a) (3) (B) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 12, 1939, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 7, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to

(1) an application by International Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 5 (d) of the Act, for an order that it has ceased to be a holding company, and also an application by it pursuant to Section 3 (a) (5) of the Act for an order, by way of further or other relief, exempting it and each of its subsidiary companies as such from the provisions of the Act; and

(2) an application by General Water Gas & Electric Company, a subsidiary of International Utilities Corporation and also a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 3 (a) (3) (B) of the Act, for an order exempting it and each of its subsidiary companies as such from the provisions of the Act.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

CHAPTER VII—AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION

ORDER DESIGNATING SOLICITOR TO PERFORM CERTAIN DUTIES SPECIFIED IN GENERAL REGULATIONS, AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ADMINISTRATION, UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Pursuant to the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, and in accordance with the regulations heretofore issued and promulgated thereunder by the Secretary, with the approval of the President of the United States, I, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, hereby designate and authorize the Solicitor of the Department of Agriculture to perform the following acts:

1. To inform, in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article II, Section 202, any handler of the insufficiency of any petition filed by him;

2. To propound written interrogatories to any handler filing a petition, and to cause service of such interrogatories to be made on such handler, all in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article II, Section 203;

3. To issue citations and to cause service thereof to be made in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Article II, Sections 200 and 201;

4. To consolidate hearings on petitions in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article III, Section 309;

5. To extend, in his discretion, upon application by any handler, the time within which such handler may file his answer to a citation in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Article II, Section 203;

6. To appoint the time and designate the place of hearing on any petition or citation, to cause written notice thereof to be served, and to give notice of hearing amending or superseding any prior notice thereof, all in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article III, Sections 300 and 304, and General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Article II, Sections 206 and 207;

7. To allow, in his discretion, upon application by any handler, amendments to any petition, answers to interrogatories or answer to citation filed by such handler, and to make amendments to citations and written interrogatories, all in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article III, Section 311, and General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Article II, Section 212; and

8. To reopen, in his discretion, on his own motion or upon application by any handler, any hearing, on petition or citation, for the purpose of taking additional evidence in the manner prescribed by General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Article III, Section 312, and General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Article II, Section 213.

The term "petition", as used in this order, means any petition purporting to be filed by any handler pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act and to General Regulations, Series D, No. 1, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture. The term "citation", as used herein, means any citation issued pursuant to section 8a (7) of the act and to the General Regulations, Series E, No. 1, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

The Solicitor shall indicate, in connection with any act done by him pursuant to this authorization, that such act is performed by direction of the Secretary.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of November 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

PART 701—1940 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act (49 Stat. 1148), as amended, the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program[1] is amended as follows:

(1) Subparagraphs (1), (10), and (11) of paragraph (a), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for corn is 88,000,000 to 90,000,000 acres.

"(10) Payment. 10 cents per bushel of the normal yield of corn for the farm for each acre in the corn acreage allotment.

"(11) Deduction. (i) (Farms in the commercial corn area, except non-corn-allotment farms) 50 cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to corn in excess of the corn acreage allotment.

"(ii) (Non-corn-allotment farms in the commercial corn area) 50 cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to corn in excess of 10 acres.

"(iii) (Farms in Area C for which a payment is computed with respect to a potato, tobacco, or wheat acreage allotment) $10.00 per acre for each acre of corn harvested for grain in excess of the larger of the usual acreage of corn for grain determined for the farm or 10 acres."

(2) Subparagraphs (1), (7), and (8) of paragraph (b), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for cotton is 27,000,000 to 29,000,000 acres.

"(7) Payment. 1.6 cents per pound of the normal yield of cotton for the farm for each acre in its cotton acreage allotment.

"(8) Deduction. 4 cents per pound of the normal yield of cotton for the farm for each acre planted to cotton in excess of its cotton acreage allotment."

(3) Subparagraphs (1), (8), and (9) of paragraph (c), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for peanuts is 1,550,000 to 1,600,000 acres.

"(8) Payment. $2.50 per ton of the normal yield of peanuts for the farm for each acre in its peanut acreage allotment.

"(9) Deduction. (For farms in commercial peanut area) $30.00 per ton of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of peanuts for market in excess of its peanut acreage allotment."

(4) Subparagraphs (1), (7), and (8) of paragraph (d), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) The 1940 national goal for potatoes is 3,100,000 to 3,300,000 acres.

"(7) Payment. 3 cents per bushel of the normal yield of potatoes for the farm for each acre in its potato allotment.

"(8) Deduction. (Farms in the commercial potato area) 30 cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to potatoes in excess of the larger of its potato acreage allotment or three acres, or, on farms for which no allotment is determined, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration where more than three acres of potatoes are grown for home use on a substantial number of farms, for each acre planted to potatoes for market in excess of three acres."

(5) Subparagraphs (1), (5), and (6) of paragraph (e), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) The 1940 national goal for rice is 880,000 to 900,000 acres.

"(5) Payment. 6.5 cents per 100 pounds of the normal yield per acre of rice for the farm for each acre in its rice acreage allotment.

"(6) Deduction. 65 cents per 100 pounds of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to rice in excess of its rice acreage allotment."

(6) Subparagraphs (1), (5), and (6) of paragraph (f), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for Burley tobacco in 360,000 to 370,000 acres;

Flue-cured tobacco is 730,000 to 770,000 acres;

Fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco is 155,000 to 165,000 acres;

Cigar filler and binder tobacco Type 41 is 30,000 to 31,000 acres;

Cigar filler and binder tobacco (other than Types 41 and 45) is 60,000 to 63,000 acres; Georgia-Florida Type 62 tobacco is 2,500 to 3,000 acres.

"(5) Payment. The following number of cents per pound of the normal yield per acre of tobacco for the farm for each acre in its tobacco acreage allotment for each of the following kinds of tobacco:

| | Cents |
|---|---|
| Burley | 1 |
| Flue-cured | 1 |
| Fire-cured and dark air-cured | 1.2 |
| Cigar filler and binder Type 41 | .6 |
| Cigar filler and binder (except Types 41 and 45) | 1 |
| Georgia-Florida Type 62 | 1.2 |

"(6) Deduction. 8 cents per pound of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of tobacco harvested in excess of the applicable tobacco acreage allotment."

(7) Subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (g), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(3) Commercial vegetables means the acreage of annual vegetables or truck crops (including potatoes not in the commercial potato area, sweet potatoes other than for starch, tomatoes, sweet corn, cantaloupes, annual strawberries, commercial bulbs and flowers, but excluding peas for canning or freezing, and sweet corn for canning) of which the larger portion of the production is sold to persons not living on the farm: Provided, That in the Northeast Region perennial vegetables shall also be included: And Provided further, That in any county designated by the State committee, with the approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, as a county in which substantially all tomatoes, cabbages, hot peppers, or pimientos grown are produced for canning and it is administratively practicable to distinguish between such crops for canning and for other purposes, tomatoes, cabbages, hot peppers, or pimientos, for canning shall not be classified as commercial vegetables.

"(4) Payment. $1.50 for each acre in the commercial vegetable acreage allotment determined for the farm."

(8) Subparagraphs (9) and (10) of paragraph (h), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(9) Payment. (Wheat allotment farms) 9 cents per bushel of the normal yield of wheat for the farm for each acre in its wheat acreage allotment.

"(10) Deduction. (i) (Wheat allotment farms) 50 cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre planted to wheat in excess of its wheat acreage allotment.

"(ii) (Non-wheat-allotment farms) 50 cents per bushel of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of wheat harvested for grain or for any other purpose after reaching maturity in excess of its wheat acreage allotment or 10 acres, whichever is larger, in Area A, and in excess of the usual acreage of wheat for the farm or 10 acres, whichever is larger, in Area B and in Area C."

(9) Subparagraphs (1), (8), and (9) of paragraph (i), section 701.101, are amended to read as follows:

"(1) National goal. The 1940 national goal for total soil-depleting crops is 270,000,000 to 285,000,000 acres.

"(8) Payment. (Farms in Area A, except nongeneral-allotment farms) $1.10 per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre in the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm in excess of the sum of (i) the special crop acreage allotments with respect to which a payment is computed for the farm and (ii) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar.

"(9) Deductions. (i) (Farms in Area A, except non-general-allotment farms) $8.00 per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre of the soil-depleting acreage in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm plus the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101.

"(ii) (Non-general-allotment farms in Area A) $8.00 per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre of the soil-depleting acreage in excess of the sum of (1) 20 acres, (2) the cotton acreage allotment determined for the farm, and (3) the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101.

"(iii) (Farms in Area B for which a total soil-depleting acreage allotment is determined) $5.00 for each acre classified as soil-depleting in excess of the larger of (1) the total soil-depleting acreage allotment determined for the farm plus the acreages with respect to which deductions are computed under paragraphs (a) to (h), inclusive, of this section 701.101, or (2) 20 acres plus the acreages on which cotton is planted or tobacco is harvested."

(10) Paragraph (k), section 701.101, is amended to read as follows:

"(K) MISCELLANEOUS

"(1) Deduction for failure to prevent wind or water erosion. $1.00 for each acre of land in an area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as subject to serious wind or water erosion hazards, with respect to which there are not adopted in 1940 methods recommended by the county committee and approved by the State committee for the prevention of wind or water erosion or both: Provided, That in counties designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration upon recommendation of the State committee the rate shall be 25 cents per acre for each time wind-erosion-control methods recommended by the county committee are not carried out in 1940 by the date specified by the committee.

"(2) Deduction for breaking out native sod. $3.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land on which a permanent vegetative cover has been established, broken out in any area designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an area subject to serious wind erosion or as an area containing large acreages unsuited to continuing production of cultivated crops, during the 1940 program year, less the acreage broken out with the approval of the county committee as a good farming practice for which an acreage of cropland other than restoration land is restored to permanent vegetative cover."

(11) The introductory sentence and subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) subdivision (i), (4), (5), and (6) of paragraph (d), section 701.102, are amended to read as follows:

"(d) Payments. The payments in connection with soil-building practices shall be the sum of the following: Provided, That for any farm with respect to which the sum of the maximum payments computed under section 701.101 and subparagraphs 1 to 7, inclusive, of this paragraph (d) is less than $20, the amount determined under this paragraph (d) shall be increased by the amount of the difference;

"(1) 55 cents per acre of cropland in the farm in excess of the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm (applicable only to farms in Area A);

"(2) $2.00 per acre of commercial orchards and perennial vegetables on the farm January 1, 1940, except that in the Southern Region (where the commercial orchard and perennial vegetable acreage is not excluded from the acreage of cropland) the rate shall be $1.50 per acre;

"(3) (i) 2 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land in the farm, plus $1.00 for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture, in the North Central Region, Kansas, California, Oklahoma, and Texas: Provided, That for any county or group of counties where the grazing capacity of the noncrop open pasture land is reasonably uniform such payment may, upon approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, be computed at a flat rate per acre of noncrop open pasture land, such rate to be not greater than the average amount of payment per acre of noncrop pasture land determined for such county or group of counties on the basis of the foregoing rate: Provided further, That the amounts computed under this subdivision shall not be less than 10 cents times the number of such acres or 640 acres, whichever is smaller; provided that in States or areas where the range conservation program is applicable and is not combined with the Agricultural Conservation Program all noncrop open pasture land shall be classified as range land upon recommendation of the State committee and approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration: And Provided further, That such payment may be computed at a flat rate for each farm in any county, which rate shall be determined for the farm by the county committee on the basis of the above rates; • • •

"(4) 70 cents per acre of cropland in excess of the sum of (1) the special crop acreage allotments with respect to which a payment is computed other than a commercial vegetable acreage allotment and (2) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar and sugarcane grown for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar (applicable only to farms in Area B and Area C);

"(5) 70 cents for each acre in the commercial vegetable acreage allotment for the farm (applicable only to farms in the commercial vegetable area in Area A);

"(6) $1.10 per acre, adjusted for the productivity of the farm, for each acre in the total soil-depleting acreage allotment for the farm in excess of the sum of (1) the special crop acreage allotment with respect to which a payment is computed for the farm and (2) the acreage of sugar beets planted for harvest in 1940 for the extraction of sugar (applicable only to non-general-allotment farms in Area A)."

(12) Subparagraphs (6), (8), (9), (12), (14), (17), (18), and (46) of paragraph (g), section 701.102 are amended to read as follows:

"(6) Seeding alfalfa, 1 unit per acre.

"(8) Seeding annual lespedeza, annual ryegrass, annual sweet clover, biennial legumes, perennial legumes, perennial grasses (other than timothy or redtop), or mixtures (other than a mixture consisting solely of timothy and redtop) containing biennial legumes, perennial legumes, or perennial grasses (except any of such crops qualifying at higher rate of credit under any other practice listed in this paragraph (g), ½ unit per acre.

"(9) (a) Seeding winter legumes, 1 unit per acre.

"(b) Seeding lespedeza in the Southern Region, ⅔ unit per acre.

"(12) Seeding timothy or redtop or a mixture consisting solely of timothy and redtop, ¼ unit per acre.

"(14) Natural reseeding of noncrop open pasture by nongrazing during the normal pasture season on an acreage equal to two-thirds of the number of acres of such pasture required to carry one animal unit for a 12-month period, 1 unit.

"(17) Green manure crops of which a good stand and good growth is plowed or disced under on land not subject to erosion or if subject to erosion such crop is followed by a winter cover crop. Cover crops of which a good stand and good growth is left on land subject to erosion or in orchards or on commercial vegetable or potato land or on such other land as is designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Green manure crops and cover crops shall not include (1) lespedeza, (2) any crop for which credit is given in 1940 under any other practice, (3) wheat on non-irrigated land except in humid areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, (4) any crop from which seed is harvested by mechanical means, and (5) such other crops as may be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as not qualifiable for any area.

"Summer non-legumes, except in orchards or on commercial vegetable or potato land, ½ unit per acre.

"Other green manure and cover crops, 1 unit per acre.

"(18) Summer legumes not classified as soil-depleting (interplanted or grown in combination with soil-depleting crops) of which a good stand and good growth is obtained and the forage is not harvested or seed removed by mechanical means, ¼ unit per acre.

"(46) Renovation of perennial grasses or perennial legumes or mixtures of perennial grasses and perennial legumes, ½ unit per acre."

(13) The first sentence of subparagraph (5) of paragraph (i), section 701.101 is amended to read as follows:

[1] 4 F.R. 3867 DI.

"(5) Productivity indexes. The Secretary will establish for each county or portion of a county in Area A a county productivity index or per-acre rate of payment and deduction."

(14) Subparagraph (5) of paragraph (e), section 701.114, is amended to read as follows:

"(5) Commercial orchards and perennial vegetables means the acreage in planted or cultivated fruit trees, nut trees, vineyards, hops, bush fruits, or perennial vegetables on the farm on January 1, 1940 (excluding non-bearing orchards and vineyards and excluding perennial vegetables in the Northeast Region), from which the major portion of the production is normally sold."

SUBCHAPTER B—COMMODITY MARKETING QUOTAS

PART 721—CORN

By the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Whereas section 328 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides in part as follows:

The acreage allotment of corn for any calendar year shall be that acreage in the commercial corn-producing area which, on the basis of the average yield for corn in such area during the ten calendar years immediately preceding such calendar year, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions and trends in yield, will produce an amount of corn in such area which the Secretary determines will, together with corn produced in the United States outside the commercial corn-producing areas, make available a supply for the marketing year beginning in such calendar year, equal to the reserve supply level. The Secretary shall proclaim such acreage allotment not later than February 1 of the calendar year for which such acreage allotment was determined. * * *

Whereas Subsection (c) of Section 301 of said Act provides as follows:

The latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under this Act.

Now, therefore, be it known that I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of, the authority vested in me by the Act of Congress known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, upon the basis of the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, do hereby ascertain, determine, and proclaim under Section 328 of said Act:

§ 721.202 Corn acreage allotment for the Commercial corn-producing area for 1940. That the acreage allotment of corn for the commercial corn-producing area for the calendar year 1940 shall be 36,638,000 acres. (52 Stat. 52.202.)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of November, 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

SUBCHAPTER B—COMMODITY MARKETING QUOTAS

PART 721—CORN

By the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Whereas Sec. 327 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides in part as follows:

Not later than February 1, the Secretary shall ascertain and proclaim the commercial corn-producing area.

And whereas subsection (b) of Sec. 301 of said act provides in part as follows:

(4) (A) "Commercial corn-producing area" shall include all counties in which the average production of corn (excluding corn used as silage) during the ten calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which such area is determined, after adjustment for abnormal weather conditions, is four hundred and fifty bushels or more per farm and four bushels or more for each acre of farm land in the county.

(B) Whenever prior to February 1 of any calendar year the Secretary has reason to believe that any county which is not included in the commercial corn-producing area determined pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (A), but which borders upon one of the counties in such area, or that any minor civil division in a county bordering on such area, is producing (excluding corn used for silage) an average of at least four hundred and fifty bushels of corn per farm and an average of at least four bushels for each acre of farm land in the county or in the minor civil division, as the case may be, he shall cause immediate investigation to be made to determine such fact. If, upon the basis of such investigation, the Secretary finds that such county or minor civil division is likely to produce corn in such average amounts during such calendar year, he shall proclaim such determination, and, commencing with such calendar year, such county shall be included in the commercial corn-producing area.

And whereas subsection (c) of Sec. 301 of said Act provides:

The latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under this Act.

And whereas the Secretary of Agriculture, having had reason to believe that certain counties bordering on the commercial corn-producing area as determined under subparagraph (A) of Sec. 301 (b) (4) of said Act, and that certain minor civil divisions in certain counties bordering on such area are producing (excluding corn used for silage) an average of at least 450 bushels of corn per farm and an average of at least 4 bushels for each acre of farm land in the county or in the minor civil division, as the case may be, has caused reasonable investigation to be made to determine such facts with respect to such counties and minor civil divisions and to determine which, if any, of such counties or minor civil divisions are likely to produce corn in such average amounts during the calendar year 1940;

Now, therefore, be it known that I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of, the authority vested in me by the Act of Congress known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as Amended, upon the basis of such investigation and the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, do hereby ascertain, determine, and proclaim under Sections 301 and 327 of said Act:

§ 721.201 Commercial corn-producing area for the year 1940. That the commercial corn-producing area for the year 1940 embraces the following counties of the States specified, the counties listed under the heading "A" being the counties determined pursuant to subparagraph (A), and the counties listed under the heading "B" being the counties determined pursuant to subparagraph (B), of Section 301 (b) (4) of said Act:[1]

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of November, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF ABRAHAM STARR, AN INDIVIDUAL TRADING AS SUPERIOR TEXTILE MILLS

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission, upon complaint of the Commission, the answer of the respondent, testimony and other evidence taken before Edward E. Reardon, an examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, in support of the allegations of said complaint, and in opposition thereto, brief filed herein by S. Brogdyne Teu, II, counsel for the Commission (the respondent having filed no brief and not having requested oral argument) and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent Abraham Starr, individually and trading as Superior Textile Mills, or trading under any other name, his representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of fabrics or wearing apparel in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing, through the use of the word "Mills" in respondent's trade name or of the term "direct from mills to wearer", or any words or terms of similar import or meaning, or through any other means or device, or in any manner that said respondent is the manufacturer of the products sold by him unless and until such respondent actually owns and operates or directly and absolutely controls the manufacturing plant wherein said products are manufactured by him;

2. Representing that any article regularly included in a combination offer with other articles is "free" or that the sale thereof constitutes a "free merchandise sale";

3. Representing, designating or describing any article or articles delivered to purchasers of other articles as "free" until and unless the conditions under which such article or articles are delivered to such purchasers are stated in immediate connection or conjunction with the term "free" in words, letters and figures of equal conspicuousness and there is no deception as to the price, quality, character or any other feature of any of the items in the offer;

4. Representing that respondent's business was established in 1905, or at any time other than the date of its actual establishment;

5. Representing that any offer of merchandise is limited as to time or otherwise unless such offer is in fact so limited.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

I. ADOPTION OF FORM S-10 FOR OIL OR GAS INTERESTS OR RIGHTS

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly Sections 7, 10, and 19 (a) thereof [C. 38, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 78; 15 U.S.C. 77g: C. 38, sec. 10, 48 Stat. 81; C. 404, sec. 205, 48 Stat. 906; 15 U.S.C., 77j: C. 38, sec. 19, 48 Stat. 85; C. 404, sec. 209, 48 Stat. 908; 15 U.S.C., 77s], and finding such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the Act, hereby adopts Form S-10 [1] [Sec. 239.S-10] to be used for registration under the Act of the classes of securities specified in the rule as to the use of the form.

The foregoing action shall be effective November 27, 1939, except that any registration statement filed with the Commission prior to January 15, 1940, may be filed on such form as would have been appropriate for use prior to the adoption of Form S-10 [Sec. 239.S-10].

II. AMENDMENT OF RULE S-300

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly Sections 3 (b) and 19 (a) thereof [C. 38, sec. 3, 48 Stat. 75; C. 404, sec. 202, 48 Stat. 906; C. 498, sec. 214, 49 Stat. 557; 15 U.S.C., 77c and Sup. III: C. 38 Sec. 19, 48 Stat. 85; C. 404, sec. 209, 48 Stat. 908; 15 U.S.C., 77s], and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the Act, hereby takes the following action:

Paragraphs (a) to (f), inclusive, of Rule S-300 [Sec. 230. S-300] are amended to read as follows:

"(a) The term 'fractional undivided interests in oil or gas rights' includes landowners' royalty interests, overriding royalty interests, working interests, participating interests, and oil or gas payments, as defined in subdivisions (b) to (f), inclusive, of this rule.

"(b) The term 'landowners' royalty interests' means fractional undivided interests in the royalty reserved by a landowner or fee owner upon the creation of an oil or gas lease.

"(c) The term 'overriding royalty interests' means fractional undivided interests or rights of participation in the oil or gas, or in the proceeds from the sale of the oil or gas, produced from a specified tract, which are limited in duration to the terms of an existing lease and which are not subject to any portion of the expense of development, operation, or maintenance.

"(d) The term 'working interests' means fractional undivided interests in an oil or gas leasehold which are subject to any portion of the expense of development, operation, or maintenance.

"(e) The term 'participating interests' means fractional undivided interests or rights of participation in the oil or gas, or in the proceeds from the sale of oil or gas, produced from a specified tract, which are limited in duration to the terms of an existing lease and which are subject to any portion of the expense of development, operation, or maintenance.

"(f) The term 'oil or gas payments' means fractional undivided interests or rights of participation in the oil or gas, or in the proceeds from the sale of oil or gas, produced from a specified tract, and which are limited to a maximum amount fixed in barrels of oil, cubic feet of gas, or dollars."

Effective November 27, 1939.

III. REPEAL OF FORMS G-1 AND G-2 AND RULES S-837 AND S-838

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly Sections 7, 10, and 19 (a) thereof [C. 38, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 78; 15 U.S.C., 77g: C. 38, sec. 10, 48 Stat. 81; C. 404, sec. 205, 48 Stat. 906; 15 U.S.C., 77j: C. 38, sec. 19, 48 Stat. 85; C. 404, sec. 209, 48 Stat. 908; 15 U.S.C., 77s], and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the Act, hereby takes the following action:

(1) Forms G-1 [Sec. 239.G-1] and G-2 [Sec. 239.G-2] and the instructions thereto as presently in effect are repealed.

(2) Rules S-837 [Sec. 230.S-837] and S-838 [Sec. 230.S-838] as presently in effect are repealed.

Effective January 15, 1940.

By the Commission.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

REGULATIONS UNDER SECTION 2 (c) AND (i) OF THE JOINT RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS APPROVED NOVEMBER 4, 1939

By virtue of the authority vested in him by the President's Proclamation of November 4, 1939,[1] to promulgate such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of section 2 (c) and (i) of the Joint Resolution of Congress approved November 4, 1939, as made effective by that proclamation, the Secretary of State hereby prescribes the following regulation supplementary to those prescribed on November 10, 1939: [2]

(5). "The shipper's declaration (oath) required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 must be filed with the Collector of the Port from or through which articles or materials are exported prior to the exportation from the United States of such articles or materials. If the required declarations (oaths) have not been filed with regard to all articles and materials on any vessel before clearance thereof, the vessel may nevertheless be cleared if, but only if, the Collector of Customs to whom request for clearance is made is satisfied that the transfer of right, title and interest required by section 2 (c) has been made as to all such articles and materials. All failures by shippers to file the declarations (oaths) as required by this regulation shall be referred to the United States Attorney having jurisdiction."

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Ex Parte No. MC-9]

ORDER IN THE MATTER OF FILING OF CONTRACTS BY CONTRACT CARRIERS BY MOTOR VEHICLE

[Ex Parte No. MC-27]

CENTRAL TERRITORY CONTRACT CARRIER RATES

At a General Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of November, A. D. 1939.

It appearing, That by order entered in the above-entitled proceedings dated March 23, 1939, the Commission, after reciting the provisions of its order of June 8, 1937, in Ex Parte No. MC-9, the issues raised by the order of division 5 of August 1, 1938, in Ex Parte No. MC-27, and certain questions which had arisen in connection therewith, broadened the scope of these proceedings to the extent of making all contract carriers by motor vehicle subject to the provisions of the Motor Carrier Act, 1935, respondents therein, and required the said respondents to appear before it on May 3, 1939, and to show cause, if any they had, why the contracts for the transportation of property which said carriers had filed with the Commission pursuant to the said order of June 8, 1937, should not be opened to public inspection, and why such carriers should not be required, when it appears necessary and desirable in proceedings before the Commission, to furnish the same or similar information called for in a questionnaire attached to said order of March 23, 1939:

It further appearing, That all parties appearing pursuant to the said order of March 23, 1939, were fully heard by the Commission, that a full investigation of the matter and things involved has been made, and that the Commission, on the date hereof, has made and filed a report containing its findings of fact and conclusions thereon, which said report and the said orders of June 8, 1937, August 1, 1938, and March 23, 1939, are hereby referred to and made parts hereof:[1]

It is ordered, That the said order of June 8, 1937, as amended by the order of October 24, 1938, entered in connection with the report in Contracts of Contract Carriers, 11 M. C. C. 693, be, and it is hereby, further amended to provide that on and after April 1, 1940, all contracts filed pursuant thereto shall be placed in the public files of the Commission and made available for public inspection, and that in all other respects the said order of June 8, 1937, shall continue in force and effect until the further order of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That, except as provided in the next succeeding paragraph hereof and in the said order of October 24, 1938, all respondents in Ex Parte No. MC-27 under the said order of August 1, 1938, be, and they are hereby, notified and required to file with the Commission, at its office in Washington, D. C., on or before January 15, 1940, in duplicate, a true and verified return to the questionnaire made a part of this order and marked appendix.[1]

And it is further ordered, That the respondents in Ex Parte No. MC-27 under the said order of August 1, 1938, who are engaged exclusively in package deliveries or other strictly local services entirely within commercial areas, who do not therein interchange traffic with any other carrier or in any other manner participate in the through and continuous movement of property to or from points outside such areas, be, and they are hereby, notified and required to file with the Commission, at its office in Washington, D. C., on or before January 15, 1940, in duplicate, a true and verified return to questions 1 to 3, inclusive, of the questionnaire made a part of this order and marked Appendix, but that such respondents be, and they are hereby, exempted from filing any return to questions 4 to 12, inclusive, of said questionnaire.

By the Commission.

Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements.

[Docket No. A-121, O-121]

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSAL TO AMEND ORDER NO. 30, AND THE TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE TOLEDO, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, pursuant to the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, the Secretary issued Order No. 30 [1] regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area, effective September 16, 1938; and

Whereas, the Secretary, on July 30, 1938, tentatively approved a marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area; and

Whereas, the Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association, Inc., has proposed certain amendments to said Order No. 30 and to said tentatively approved marketing agreement; and

Whereas, the Secretary has reason to believe that the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by holding a hearing on a proposal to amend Order No. 30 and said tentatively approved marketing agreement; and

Whereas, under the aforesaid act, notice of hearing is required in connection with a proposal to amend an order, and the General Regulations, Series A, No. 1, as amended,[2] of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, provide for notice of and opportunity for hearing upon amendments to marketing agreements and orders:

Now, therefore, pursuant to said act and general regulations, notice is hereby given of a hearing to be held on a proposal to amend Order No. 30 and the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area, beginning at 10:00 a.m., e. s. t., December 2, 1939, in the Hotel Waldorf, 310 Summit Street, Toledo, Ohio.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence as to whether or not the declared policy of said act will be effectuated by (1) eliminating certain towns and villages from the definition of "marketing area"; (2) changing the delivery period from a semi-monthly to a monthly period; (3) including a special price for Class I milk disposed of under any relief program which the Secretary might approve for the Toledo, Ohio, area; (4) revising the method of pricing Class I milk sold outside the marketing area so as to provide that Class I milk so sold shall be priced at the level of prevailing prices in the market where sold, such prices to be ascertained by the market administrator; (5) including a "market-sharing" (base-rating) plan of distributing to producers the proceeds from the sale of their milk; and (6) increasing the producer marketing service deduction from 2 cents to 4 cents per hundredweight of milk.

Copies of said proposal prepared as a basis for the public hearing may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 0310 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 4 FOR THE HAT INDUSTRY

Whereas, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on March 7, 1939, by Administrative Order No. 16,[1] appointed Industry Committee No. 4 for the Hat Industry, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas, Industry Committee No. 4, on September 6, 1939, recommended minimum wage rates for the Hat Industry and has thereafter duly adopted a report containing said recommendations and reasons therefor and has filed such report with the Administrator on November 25, 1939, pursuant to Section 8 (d) of the Act and Section 511.19 of the Regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas, the Administrator is required by Section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4 if he finds that the recommendations are made in accordance with law and are supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing before him, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendations;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4 are as follows:

(1) Every employer shall pay not less than 40 cents per hour to each of his employees who is engaged in the production of (a) fur-felt or wool-felt headwear for men or boys or (b) felt hat bodies from fur or wool for men's, boys', women's or children's hats.

(2) Every employer shall pay not less than 40 cents per hour to each of his employees who is engaged in the production of hatters' furs.

(3) Every employer shall pay not less than 40 cents per hour to each of his employees who is engaged in the production of silk and opera hats.

(4) Every employer shall pay not less than 35 cents per hour to each of his employees who is engaged in the production of men's or boys' straw [2] or harvest hats. This recommendation does not apply to Puerto Rico.

(5) Every employer shall pay not less than 30 cents per hour to each of his employees who is engaged in the production, in Puerto Rico, of men's or boys' straw [2] or harvest hats.

II. The definition of the Hat Industry, as set forth in Administrative Order No. 16, issued March 7, 1939, and amended by Administrative Order No. 22, dated May 6, 1939, is as follows:

(a) The manufacture from any material of headwear for men or boys, except caps and cloth hats,

(b) The manufacture of felt hat bodies from fur or wool for men's, boys', and women's or children's hats,

(c) The manufacture or processing of hatters' furs.

III. The full text of the report and recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4 is available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

IV. A public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the question of whether the recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4 shall be approved or disapproved pursuant to Section 8 of the Act will be held on December 18, 1939, at 10:00 a. m. in the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C., before a presiding officer to be designated prior to such hearing by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor.

V. Any interested person, supporting or opposing the recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4, may appear at the aforesaid hearing to offer evidence, either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person; provided, that not later than December 14, 1939, such person shall file with the Administrator at Washington, D. C., a notice of his intent to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.

3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendations of Industry Committee No. 4.

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

VI. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the presiding officer as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request made to the official reporter.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure each person filing a Notice to Appear will be notified of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the presiding officer.

3. At the discretion of the presiding officer the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place, by announcement thereof at the hearing by the presiding officer, or by other appropriate notice.

4. The Industry Committee will be represented at the hearing by its counsel who will open and close the proceeding.

5. At any stage of the hearing, the presiding officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the presiding officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such further taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

6. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

7. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the presiding officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

8. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the presiding officer. Where evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the presiding officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence. Upon presentation of such copies in proper form the copies will be received in evidence.

9. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of documents from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such applications shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

10. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the Courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

11. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

12. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person in so far as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the presiding officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but the record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the presiding officer.

13. Before the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall receive written requests from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. These requests will be forwarded to the Administrator by the presiding officer with the record of the proceedings. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the requests, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceeding, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

14. Briefs may be submitted to the Administrator, following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs and the rules and regulations as to the contents and manner of presentation thereof, shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

15. On the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Administrator. The presiding officer shall not file an intermediate report unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed, it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

16. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

APPLICATION OF THE COTTON TEXTILE INSTITUTE AND SUNDRY OTHER PARTIES FOR PERMISSION TO EMPLOY LEARNERS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY AT WAGE RATES LESS THAN THE APPLICABLE MINIMUM SPECIFIED

NOTICE OF REOPENED HEARING

Whereas the original applications made by the Cotton Textile Institute and sundry other parties pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and regulations (Part 522—Regulations Applicable to Employment of Learners Pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938—Title 29, Labor, Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division) issued by the Administrator thereunder, for permission to employ learners in the Textile Industry at wages less than the minimum applicable under Section 6 of the Act were withdrawn after a public hearing was held upon said applications in Washington, D. C., on November 28, 29, and 30, 1938 [1] before Merle D. Vincent, a representative of the Administrator duly authorized to conduct said hearing; and

Whereas the Cotton Textile Institute and sundry other parties made application for a reconvening of the said hearing under said Act and regulations and for permission to employ learners in the Cotton Textile Industry at wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Act by virtue of the Textile Wage Order; and

Whereas after due notice a reconvened public hearing was held on these applications in Washington, D. C., on October 12, 1939, before Merle D. Vincent, authorized representative of the Administrator, who was duly designated to preside at the hearing and to determine:

(a) What, if any, occupation or occupations in the Textile Industry require a learning period; and

(b) The factors which may have a bearing upon curtailment of opportunities for employment within the Textile Industry, or branch thereof; and

(c) Under what limitations as to wages, time, number, proportion, and length of service special certificates may be issued to employers in the Textile Industry, or branch thereof, for whatever occupation, or occupations, if any, are found to require a learning period; and

Whereas the said Merle D. Vincent duly made findings of fact, copies of which were filed in the office of the Acting Administrator on November 4, 1939, and which contained the following determination and order:

1. On or after October 31, 1939, special certificates shall be issued permitting employment of learners in the Textile Industry at subminimum rates in the textile occupations of machine operating, tending, fixing, and jobs immediately incidental thereto, except that no certificate shall be deemed to apply to any employees performing functions similar to those performed by the following: sweepers, scrubbers, yard employees, watchmen, clerical workers and supervisors, time keepers, machine cleaners, janitors, and truckers. In the tufted bedspread branch of the industry, certificates shall be issued for the occupations of punchwork operation and chenille operation, and only such occupations. In the curtain branch of the industry, certificates shall be issued for the operation of sewing machines, but for no other occupation.

All such special certificates shall be issued, upon the following terms, to all plants in the industry making application therefor representing that experienced workers are not available to the plant, unless experienced workers are found to be available:

(a) Learners employed under the certificate shall be paid at a rate of not less than 25 cents an hour; Provided, That in all plants where experienced operators are paid on a piece-work rate, learners in the same occupations shall be paid at least the same piece-work rate and shall receive earnings paid on this rate, if in excess of the above-stated minimum.

(b) No learner shall be employed under the certificate longer than 6 weeks; Provided, That in the tufted bedspread branch of the industry no learner shall be employed longer than 8 weeks as a chenille operator, and not longer than 16 weeks as a punchwork operator, and not longer than one 8-week retraining period for chenille operators learning punchwork; Provided, further, That in the curtain branch of the industry no learner shall be employed under the certificate longer than 8 weeks.

(c) Learners employed under the certificate shall not exceed 3 percent of the total number of persons in the learner occupations, provided that in the tufted bedspread branch of the industry learners shall not exceed 5 percent of the total number of chenille and punchwork operators; provided further that, in the curtain branch of the industry, learners shall not exceed 5 percent of the total number of sewing-machine operators; and provided finally that the employment of as many as 3 learners may be authorized by any certificate except that in the tufted bedspread and curtain branches of the industry as many as 5 learners may be authorized by any certificate. In cases of plant expansion or new plants, certificates may be issued under Part 522 of the Regulations for a larger number of learners if need therefor is found.

(d) Only learners shall be employed at a subminimum wage under the certificate, and no learner shall be employed under the certificate unless hired when an experienced worker was not available.

2. Any special certificate issued pursuant to this order may be cancelled as of the date of issue if it is found that such certificate was issued when experienced workers were available and may be cancelled prospectively or as of the date of violation if it is found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available. No certificate issued pursuant to this order shall be valid after October 24, 1940, subject to modification or extension on or before that time following an appropriate reconsideration of this Order.

3. In this Order the term "learner" shall mean a person who has had less than 6 weeks' experience in the aggregate in any of the learner occupations in any branch of the Textile Industry except tufted bedspreads and curtains. In the tufted bedspread branch of the industry the term "learner" shall mean a person who has had less than 8 weeks' experience as a chenille operator, or 16 weeks' experience as a punchwork operator, or less than 8 weeks' experience as a chenille operator plus 8 weeks retraining as a punchwork operator. In the curtain branch of the industry, the term "learner" shall mean a person who has had less than 8 weeks' experience as a sewing-machine operator. If any worker has partially completed the applicable learning period, as prescribed above, the time thus served shall be deducted from the learning period authorized by special certificate upon any subsequent employment.

4. In this Order the term "Textile Industry" is defined as under the Textile Wage Order as follows:

(a) The manufacturing or processing of yarn or thread and all processes preparatory thereto, and the manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing and other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs) from cotton, silk, flax, jute or any synthetic fibre, or from mixtures of these fibers; or from such mixtures of these fibers with wool or animal fiber (other than silk) as are specified in clauses (g) and (h); except the chemical manufacturing of synthetic fiber and such related processing of yarn as is conducted in the establishments manufacturing synthetic fiber;

(b) The manufacturing of batting, wadding or filling and the processing of waste from the fibers enumerated in clause (a);

(c) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, or other finishing of pile fabrics (except carpets and rugs) from any fiber or yarn;

(d) The processing of any textile fabric, included in this definition of this industry, into any of the following products: bags; bandages and surgical gauze, bath mats and related articles; bedspreads; blankets, diapers; dishcloths, scrubbing cloths and wash-cloths; sheets and pillow cases; tablecloths, luncheloths and napkins; towels; and window-curtains;

(e) The manufacturing or finishing of braid, net or lace from any fiber or yarn;

(f) The manufacturing of cordage, rope or twine from any fiber or yarn;

(g) The manufacturing or processing of yarn or thread by systems other than the woolen system from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) with any of the fibers designated in clause (a), containing not more than 45 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk);

(h) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing or other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs) from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) containing not more than 25 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk), with any of the fibers designated in clause (a), with a margin of tolerance of 2 percent to meet the exigencies of manufacture.

This definition shall not be deemed to include the Wool Industry, and the operations of said industry are excluded from this Determination and Order, and

Whereas, a notice of opportunity to petition for review of said Determination and Order was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 8, 1939 (4 F.R. 4531 DI), and

Whereas, prior to the said hearing on October 12, 1939, the Curtain Manufacturer's Guild, Incorporated, had expressed itself as opposed to the granting of special certificates for the employment of learners at subminimum rates in the curtain branch of the textile industry, and,

Whereas, it appears that the Curtain Manufacturer's Guild, Incorporated, represents a substantial part of the curtain industry and that said Curtain Manufacturer's Guild, Incorporated, did not have actual notice of the said hearing on October 12, 1939, and, therefore, did not appear or present evidence at said hearing, and

Whereas, equity and fairness would appear to require that the said hearing be re-opened to permit the introduction of further evidence relevant to the necessity for the issuance of special certificates for the employment of learners at sub-minimum rates in the curtain branch of the textile industry,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the aforesaid hearing will be re-opened on December 13, 1939, at 10 a. m. in Room 301, 939 D Street NW., Washington, D. C., and Merle D. Vincent is hereby designated as presiding officer to conduct the said hearing to take further testimony for the purpose of redetermining and to redetermine:

(a) What, if any, occupation or occupations in the curtain branch of the textile industry require a learning period, and,

(b) The factors which may have a bearing upon curtailment of opportunities for employment within the curtain branch of the textile industry, and

(c) Under what limitations, as to wages, time, number, proportion, and length of service, special certificates may be issued to employers in the curtain branch of the textile industry for whatever occupation or occupations, if any, are found to require a learning period.

At this re-opened hearing, opportunity to present evidence relevant to the above questions will be afforded any interested person, provided the presiding officer, Merle D. Vincent, shall have received from such person prior to noon, December 12, 1939, a notice of intention to appear, setting forth his name and address and the approximate length of such presentation.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of November, 1939.

NOTICE OF REVIEW OF DETERMINATION AND ORDER RELATIVE TO EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE KNITTED WEAR INDUSTRY AT WAGES LOWER THAN THE MINIMUM WAGE APPLICABLE UNDER SECTION 6 OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT OF 1938

Whereas, the National Knitted Outerwear Association, the Underwear Institute, and sundry other parties having made application under Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and regulations (Part 522—Regulations Applicable to Employment of Learners Pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938—Title 29, Labor, Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division) issued by the Administrator thereunder for permission to employ learners in the Knitted Wear Industry at wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Act, and

Whereas, after due notice a hearing was held on these applications before Merle D. Vincent, authorized representative of the Administrator, who was duly designated to preside at the hearing and to determine:

(a) What, if any, occupation or occupations in the Knitted Wear and Hosiery Industry require a learning period, and

(b) Whether it is necessary, in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to provide for the employment of persons in occupations requiring a learning period at wage rates lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and

(c) If such necessity is found to exist, to determine at what wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 such employment of learners shall be permitted, and with what limitations as to time, number, proportion and length of service; and

Whereas, following such hearing, the said Merle D. Vincent duly made findings of fact, determination and order, and filed same with the Acting Administrator on October 20, 1939, and

Whereas, on October 24, 1939, the Acting Administrator caused to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice which set forth in full the determination and order of the presiding officer and stated that, pursuant to the provisions of Section 522.13 of the aforesaid Regulations, as amended, within fifteen days after October 24, 1939, persons aggrieved by the said determination and order might file petitions for review of the action of the said representative, and

Whereas, petitions for review, copies of which are on file in Room 5144, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., and available for examination by all interested parties, have been duly filed by the National Knitted Outerwear Association and the Underwear Institute;

Now, therefore, the petitions for review are hereby granted and notice is hereby given that the Administrator, for the purpose of reviewing the action of the aforementioned presiding officer, and to make a final determination of the questions set forth in the second paragraph of this notice with respect to the knitted wear industry, will receive briefs from interested parties either in support of or in opposition to the aforementioned determination and order, provided that original briefs are filed with the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, prior to the close of business December 21, 1939, and provided that rebuttal briefs are filed with the Administrator prior to the close of business December 30, 1939. All briefs will be available for inspection by interested parties in Room 5144, U. S. Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of November 1939.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Textile Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act. Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522 as amended to the employers listed below effective November 28, 1939 until October 24, 1940 subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Textile Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than six (6) weeks experience in the aggregate in any of the learner occupations listed below in any branch of the Textile Industry except tufted bedspreads and curtains.

(2) Learners may be employed under these Certificates only in the occupations of machine operating, tending, fixing, and jobs immediately incidental thereto, but not in occupations similar to those performed by the following: sweepers, scrubbers, yard employees, watchmen, clerical workers and supervisors, timekeepers, machine cleaners, janitors, truckers, and employees engaged in similar work, and no learner shall be employed at less than the minimum rate for more than six (6) weeks.

(3) No learner may be paid at a rate less than 25 cents an hour provided, however, that if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rates if in excess of 25 cents per hour but in no event less than 25 cents per hour.

(4) Experienced workers may not be employed at less than the minimum rate and no learner may be employed at less than the minimum rate unless hired when experienced workers were not available and no learner may be employed under this Certificate until and unless a copy of it is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Certificates expire October 24, 1940 and are subject to cancellation sooner by the Administrator or his authorized representative by the employers that experienced workers are not available and may be cancelled as of the date of issue if it is found that it was issued when experienced workers were available and may be cancelled prospectively or as of the date of violation if it is found that any of its terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. A copy of the employer's certificate must be available at all times for inspection. Altering or attempting to alter any Certificate will render it invalid.

All of the above corporate respondents purchase their merchandise requirements in interstate commerce as hereinafter more particularly set out.

All of said corporate respondents herein named and described will hereinafter be referred to as buyer respondents.

PAR. 3. Respondent Jasper W. Efird is a stockholder and a director in all of said buyer respondent corporations. He is employed by each of them as vice president to act in the capacity of buyer or purchasing agent for them. Said purchasing services are rendered by said respondent Jasper W. Efird, from the office located at 200 West 34th Street, New York City, New York, which office is listed as J. W. Efird, Efird Department Stores, and which office is held out to the public as the buying office of the said buyer respondents. Orders for merchandise to be purchased and shipped to them are sent by said buyer respondents to respondent Jasper W. Efird at said office and all of the requirements of each of said buyer respondents are thus purchased by or through said respondent Jasper W. Efird, or only after his approval first had and obtained. Merchandise so ordered is bought by respondent Jasper W. Efird from various sellers and is then shipped by various sellers thereof from New York City, New York, and elsewhere, into and through the various states of the United States to said buyer respondents located as hereinabove set out in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of the purchasing transactions above outlined, sellers of merchandise have since June 19, 1936, transmitted, paid and delivered and do transmit, pay and deliver to said respondent Jasper W. Efird, brokerage fees or commissions, the same being a percentage of the sales prices agreed upon between each of the various sellers and the buyer respondents through their agent, officer and employee, respondent Jasper W. Efird, and said sellers have likewise transmitted, paid and delivered and do transmit, pay and deliver to said respondent Jasper W. Efird, payments or allowances in lieu of brokerage and said respondent Jasper W. Efird has since June 19, 1936, received and accepted and is receiving and accepting such brokerage fees and commissions and also payments and allowances in lieu thereof upon purchases of merchandise made through him by said buyer respondents.

PAR. 5. In all of the purchasing transactions hereinabove described, said respondent Jasper W. Efird has been and is subject to the direct control and has been and is acting in fact for and in behalf of said buyer respondents.

PAR. 6. In all of the purchasing transactions hereinabove described in connection with which the said brokerage fees and commissions and payments and allowances in lieu thereof have been and are being paid and transmitted by said sellers and have been and are being accepted and received by said respondent Jasper W. Efird, no services whatsoever in connection with said purchases have been rendered or are now being rendered to, for or on behalf of any of said sellers by said respondent Jasper W. Efird.

PAR. 7. The said brokerage fees or commissions and payments and allowances in lieu thereof so received and accepted by respondent Jasper W. Efird as hereinabove described, have been used and expended by him as an officer and employee of said buyer respondents in the payment of rent, salaries, wages, traveling expenses and other maintenance costs of the said buyer respondents' New York City office at 200 West 34th Street, and for other similar purposes solely for the benefit of said buyer respondents.

PAR. 8. The transmission and payment of said brokerage fees or commissions and the payments and allowances in lieu thereof by the said sellers to and the receipt and acceptance thereof by respondent Jasper W. Efird and said buyer respondents in the manner and under the circumstances hereinabove set forth, is in violation of the provisions of Section 2 (c) of the above-mentioned Act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes", approved October 15, 1914, (the Clayton Act), as amended by the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to amend Section 2 of an Act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes', approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U.S.C. Title 15, Sec. 13) and for other purposes", approved June 19, 1936 (the Robinson-Patman Act).

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 21st day of November, A. D. 1939, issues its complaint against said respondents.

D., 1939, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondents shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondents shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondents are without knowledge, in which case respondents shall so state.

Failure of the respondents to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondents, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondents desire to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondents admit all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondents by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true, and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondents, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of November, A. D. 1939.

By the Commission.

[File No. 54–15]

IN THE MATTER OF COMMUNITY POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER APPROVING PLAN OF SIMPLIFICATION, ETC.

Community Power and Light Company, a Delaware Corporation and a registered holding company, having filed (a) an application pursuant to Section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for approval of a plan for the simplification of its corporate structure, which plan is more fully described in the Findings and Opinion hereinafter referred to, including therein a request for the approval by the Commission of such other action as may be necessary to consummate such proposed plan; (b) an application for a report of the Commission, pursuant to Section 11 (g) of said Act on said plan for the simplification of its corporate structure; and (c) a declaration pursuant to Rule U–12E–5 with respect to the solicitation of authorization of such matters by the stockholders of said Company; and

A hearing on the said application and related matters having been held before an officer of the Commission after appropriate notice,[1] which included notice by mail to all Preferred and Common stockholders of record of Community Power and Light Company and to all holders of Assignments and Agreements issued by said Company, and said notice having been mailed, postage prepaid, 17 days prior to the date of the aforesaid hearing, and included also notice by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER; opportunity for hearing having been given to said Community Power and Light Company, to all of said Preferred and Common stockholders thereof, to all holders of Assignments and Agreements issued by said Company, and to any other persons desiring to be heard at said hearing; no security holders or other persons having appeared at said hearing in opposition to said application; a trial examiner's report, submission of requested findings of fact to the Commission, proposed findings of fact by counsel for the Commission, briefs and oral argument having been waived; the record in this matter having been examined by the Commission, and the Commission having made and filed its Findings and Opinion herein, attached hereto and made a part hereof as if fully incorporated herein; and

The Commission having found that said plan of corporate simplification, as submitted, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of Section 11 of said Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan, and the Commission having made and filed herein its report upon said plan, in the form hereto attached and made a part of this order;

It is ordered, Pursuant to said Act and Section 11 (e) thereof, that said plan of corporate simplification be and the same is hereby approved; and

It is further ordered, Pursuant to Section 11 (g) of said Act, that said report be and the same hereby is approved and adopted as the report made by the Commission herein, and as the form of a copy of said report to be used by said Company in making solicitations in respect of the matters therein referred to pursuant to the provisions of Section 11 (g), and in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes represented by, said application; and

It is further ordered, That said declaration, as amended, with respect to such solicitation shall be and become effective forthwith; and

It is further ordered, That with respect to the approval of said plan this order be subject to the condition, as required by the terms of said plan, that said plan be approved, and the action of the Board of Directors of the Company, in causing it to be submitted to this Commission, be ratified, by the holders of at least two-thirds in amount of the outstanding First Preferred Stock and a majority in amount of the outstanding Common Stock of said Company; compliance with the said condition may be evidenced by the filing, as part of the record in this proceeding, of a statement executed by the proper corporate officers of Community Power and Light Company, setting forth that such approval has been given as required by the terms of said plan, and summarizing the results of the action of the Preferred and Common stockholders at a special stockholders meeting or otherwise at which such approval may be given; and

It is further ordered, That the Commission hereby reserves jurisdiction to entertain such further proceedings, to make such other findings, and to take such other action as may be appropriate in the premises in connection with such plan, in connection with the various steps required to carry out such plan, or as may be appropriate if the condition specified in the foregoing paragraph is not met with reasonable promptness.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE: TREASURY

PUBLIC DEBT SERVICE

[1939—Department Circular No. 626]

OFFERING OF UNITED STATES OF AMERICA 2 PERCENT TREASURY BONDS OF 1948-50

NOVEMBER 28, 1939.

I. OFFERING OF BONDS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par and accrued interest, from the people of the United States for 2 percent bonds of the United States, designated Treasury Bonds of 1948-50. The amount of the public offering is $500,000,000, or thereabouts. In addition to the amount offered for public subscription, $50,000,000, or thereabouts, of these bonds will be allotted to Government investment accounts.

II. DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

1. The bonds will be dated December 8, 1939, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2 percent per annum, payable on a semiannual basis on June 15 and December 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable, the first coupon being dated June 15, 1940. They will mature December 15, 1950, but may be redeemed at the option of the United States on and after December 15, 1948, in whole or in part, at par and accrued interest, on any interest day or days, on 4 months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.

2. The bonds shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess-profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds authorized by the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above.

3. The bonds will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege and will not be entitled to any privilege of conversion.

4. Bearer bonds with interest coupons attached, and bonds registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of bonds of different denominations and of coupon and registered bonds, and for the transfer of registered bonds, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

5. The bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III. SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Subscriptions from banks and trust companies for their own account will be received without deposit but will be restricted in each case to an amount not exceeding one-half of the combined capital and surplus of the subscribing bank or trust company. Subscriptions from all others must be accompanied by payment of 10 percent of the amount of bonds applied for. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subscriptions for amounts up to and including $5,000 where the subscribers specify that delivery be made in registered bonds 60 days after the issue date will be given preferred allotment. In each such case payment must be made as provided in Section IV of this circular. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment, and the basis of the allotment will be publicly announced.

IV. PAYMENT

1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for bonds allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before December 8, 1939, or on later allotment. In every case where payment is not so completed, the payment with application up to 10 percent of the amount of bonds applied for shall, upon declaration made by the Secretary of the Treasury in his discretion, be forfeited to the United States. Any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for bonds allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve bank of its district.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

[Order No. 6]

SUBCHAPTER B—MEASUREMENT

Section 16.72[1] is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 16.72 Suez and Panama Canal Certificates. Suez Canal special tonnage certificates and also Panama Canal tonnage certificates will be issued, upon application, by collectors of customs to American shipowners requiring them for ships which will use the said canals. Collectors of customs will also issue such tonnage certificates to public vessels of the United States requiring them. [Section 4, 28 Stat. 743, as amended, 46 U.S.C. 79; Sections 2 and 3, 23 Stat. 118 and 119, 46 U.S.C. 2 and 3]

NOTE CONCERNING THE RESCISSION OF PART 17—RULES FOR SUEZ CANAL MEASUREMENT

The Department of Commerce, upon pages 78–84 of its regulations for Measurement of Vessels—Edition of 1925, published instructions to "American Customs Officers" relative to measurement of vessels for the Suez Canal. These instructions were placed in the Code of Federal Regulations as Part 17, Rules for Suez Canal Measurement, under Subchapter B—Measurement, Chapter I—Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Title 46—Shipping. On page 4399 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of October 28, 1939, the Department stated that the said Part 17, Rules for Suez Canal Measurement, and any and all amendments thereto was rescinded and deleted. As some uncertainty and confusion has arisen as to the Department's intention and action in this connection, and as the Department desires to clear up any misunderstanding in the matter, it announces that by its rescission of said Part 17, Rules for Suez Canal Measurement, it did not cancel or annul the administrative instructions to customs officers, as published in its 1925 edition of the regulations for Measurement of Vessels, but merely removed said administrative instructions from the Code of Federal Regulations. The "Instructions to American Customs Officers" relative to measurement of vessels for the Suez Canal as appearing upon pages 78–84 of the Regulations of the Department of Commerce for the Measurement of Vessels, edition of 1925, are in full force and effect, and, with appropriate amendments, will be included in the 5th edition of the Department's Measurement Regulations, when published.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its offices in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1939.

[File Nos. 1–627, 1–627–2]

IN THE MATTER OF PROCEEDING TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE REGISTRATION OF A. HOLLANDER & SON, INC., CAPITAL STOCK $5 PAR VALUE, SHOULD BE SUSPENDED OR WITHDRAWN

ORDER FOR HEARING AND DESIGNATING OFFICERS TO TAKE TESTIMONY

Part I

It appearing to the Commission that A. Hollander & Son, Inc. is the issuer of capital stock $5 par value, and that the said A. Hollander & Son, Inc. registered 200,000 shares of such stock on the New York Stock Exchange, by filing, on or about May 4, 1935, an application on Form 10, signed for the corporation by Michael Hollander, president, with the said Exchange and with the Commission, pursuant to Section 12 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and pursuant to Rule JB–1 (now Rule X–12B–1) as amended, promulgated by the Commission thereunder, which application became effective July 1, 1935, and has remained in effect to and including the date hereof; and

The Commission having reasonable grounds to believe that A. Hollander & Son, Inc. has failed to comply with the provisions of Section 12 (b) (1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, the rules, regulations, Form 10, and the Instructions thereto, promulgated by the Commission thereunder, in that the application for registration on Form 10 and the amendments thereto, filed by said corporation contain false and misleading statements of material facts, all as is hereinafter more particularly set forth; and

The false and misleading statements which the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe exist in the application on Form 10 and the amendments thereto, being more particularly as follows:

I. Item 10 and Item 14, Column G, call for certain information with respect to all parents of the registrant. The Instructions to Form 10 define the term "parent" to include a person in control of the registrant "directly, or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries" and the term "control" is defined to mean "the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise."

The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that since and before May 4, 1935, certain officers and directors of the registrant, that is to say Michael Hollander, Benjamin W. Hollander and Albert Hollander, acting for themselves and for other members of the Hollander family, have been parents of the registrant as defined in the Instructions to Form 10, and have owned, both directly and through A. Hollander & Son, Ltd., a corporation wholly owned and controlled by them, substantial amounts of the capital stock of the registrant.

It therefore appears to the Commission that the failure in Item 10 and Item 14, Column G, and amendments thereto, to disclose Michael Hollander, Benjamin W. Hollander and Albert Hollander as parents, and the failure to disclose the number of shares of registrant's capital stock owned by said parents constitutes an omission of a material fact and renders registrant's response to this item materially false and misleading.

II. Item 11 calls for a brief description of the general character of the business done by the registrant and its subsidiaries and any substantial changes that may have occurred in the general character of the business within the preceding five years.

The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that since and before May 4, 1935, registrant has, directly and indirectly, employed a substantial amount of its capital and credit and that of its subsidiaries in the purchase and sale of fur skins in the United States and elsewhere.

It therefore appears to the Commission that the failure in Item 11 and amendments thereto to disclose that the registrant's business included substantial purchases and sales of fur skins in the United States and elsewhere constitutes an omission of a material fact and renders registrant's response to this item materially false and misleading.

III. Item 26, Item 29, and Item 32 call for certain information concerning—the aggregate remuneration paid by the registrant and its subsidiaries, directly and indirectly, to its directors and officers during the past fiscal year; material bonus and profit sharing arrangements; and every material contract between the registrant and any director or officer of the registrant.

A. It appears to the Commission that the failure in Item 26, Item 29, and Item 32 to disclose the extent to which the equities of Michael Hollander, Benjamin W. Hollander, and Albert Hollander, officers and directors of the registrant, in A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. have been increased by reason of certain diversions of secret processes, formulae, working methods, services of employees, and other property of the registrant to the said A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. in the manner hereinafter more fully described, constitutes an omission of a material fact and renders registrant's response to this item and amendments thereto materially false and misleading.

B. The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that before and since May 4, 1935,

1. A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. has been wholly owned and controlled by Michael Hollander, Benjamin W. Hollander, and Albert Hollander.

2. The Registrant and its subsidiaries have delivered and communicated to A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. certain valuable patent licenses, secret formulae and operating methods in the dressing and dyeing of furs, and improvements therein, which have been discovered, developed and improved in the registrant's laboratories and which have been purchased and otherwise obtained by the registrant at great expense to registrant, without compensation therefor from the aforesaid A. Hollander & Son, Ltd.

3. The registrant has perfected in its laboratories an exclusive and valuable process for cleaning furs and fur coats which it has advertised extensively at great expense to it as the "Hollanderizing" process and has permitted the aforesaid A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. to exclusively employ the said process in Canada and to employ the name "Hollanderizing" in connection with such process in its advertising in Canada without any compensation from the aforesaid A. Hollander & Son, Ltd.

4. Certain officers and employees of the registrant have visited the plants of A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. in Toronto and Montreal, Canada for the purpose of assisting and informing employees and managers at said plants regarding the secret processes, formulae, patents, and working methods employed by the registrant in its business, and the registrant has paid the traveling expenses and salaries of such employees and officers while so engaged in the Canadian plants of A. Hollander & Son, Ltd.

5. The registrant has, directly and indirectly, advanced moneys without charging interest, to the aforesaid A. Hollander & Son, Ltd. for use in its general business and to finance its trading in the capital stock of the registrant on the New York Stock Exchange.

IV. Item 30 calls for the general effect, briefly and concisely stated, of all material management and general supervisory contracts now in effect providing for management of, or services to, the registrant or any of its subsidiaries.

The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that before and since May 4, 1935, there have existed material management and general supervisory contracts providing for management of and services to the registrant and certain of its subsidiaries, including contracts for management of and services to A. Hollander & Son, Societe Annonyme and Bertram J. Goodman, Inc. It therefore appears to the Commission that the failure in Item 30 to disclose and to recite the general effect of such contracts constitutes an omission of a material fact, and renders registrant's response to this item materially false and misleading.

V. Item 35 and Item 36 call for the names of any independent public or independent certified public accountants who have certified financial statements for the registrant since January 1, 1925, and the submission of financial statements in accordance with the instructions and rules and regulations of the Commission supplementary thereto. The instructions and rules and regulations of the Commission supplementary thereto provide that "the financial statements required shall be accompanied by a certificate of an independent public or independent certified public accountant or accountants."

A. The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that Puder and Puder, who certified as independent certified public accountants the financial statements contained in the registrant's Form 10, were not and are not independent within the meaning of the requirements of said form and the instructions and rules and regulations of the Commission supplementary thereto, by reason of the fact that before and since May 4, 1935, A. H. Puder, senior partner of Puder and Puder, has, among other things:

1. maintained close personal and financial relations with officers and directors of the registrant, including Michael Hollander and members of his family, which relations were not consistent with his duties as auditor of the registrant's accounts;

2. maintained a substantial financial interest in the securities of the registrant, which interest was not consistent with his duties as auditor of the registrant's accounts;

3. performed services to the registrant, to its officers and directors, and to A. Hollander & Son, Ltd., which services were not consistent with his duties as auditor of the registrant's accounts.

It therefore appears to the Commission in the light of the facts set forth above that the registrant's response to Item 35 was materially false and misleading and that the registrant has failed to submit financial statements as required by Item 36 and the instructions and the rules and regulations of the Commission supplementary thereto.

Part II

It appearing further to the Commission that A. Hollander & Son, Inc., has, on or about June 1, 1936, May 25, 1937, June 23, 1938, and April 27, 1939, filed with the New York Stock Exchange and with the Commission, annual reports on Form 10–K, signed for the corporation by Michael Hollander, president, pursuant to Section 13 (a) (1) and (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and pursuant to Rule KA1 (now Rule X–13A–1) and Rule KA2 (now Rule X–13A–2); and

The Commission having reasonable grounds to believe that A. Hollander & Son, Inc. has failed to comply with the provisions of Section 13 (a) (1) and (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, the rules and regulations, Form 10–K and the Instructions thereto, promulgated by the Commission thereunder, in that—the annual reports on Form 10–K filed by said corporation as aforesaid and the amendments thereto contain false and misleading statements of material facts;

the registrant has failed to file with the New York Stock Exchange and with the Commission certain information and documents required by the Commission to be filed to keep reasonably current the information and documents filed by the registrant pursuant to Section 12; and the annual reports on Form 10–K filed by the registrant as aforesaid have not been certified by independent public accountants as required by the rules and regulations of the Commission; all as are hereinafter more particularly set forth.

The violations which the Commission has reasonable grounds to believe exist in the registrant's annual reports on Form 10–K for the years 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938, and the amendments thereto, being more particularly as follows:

I. Item 5 calls for a brief statement of the general effect of material changes made within the fiscal year and not previously reported in—material management or general supervisory contracts providing for management of, or services to, the registrant or any of its subsidiaries; material contracts between the registrant or any affiliate of the registrant on the one hand, and, on the other, any director or officer of the registrant; and material bonus and profit sharing arrangements;

as well as a brief statement of the general effect of such contracts and arrangements, made or in effect within the fiscal year and not previously reported, including the dates thereof and names of parties thereto.

The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that during 1936 and 1937 the registrant and certain of its subsidiaries entered into material management and general supervisory contracts providing for management of and services to the registrant and certain of its subsidiaries, including contracts for management of and services to Competent Fur Dressers, Inc. and Perfection Fur Dressing and Dyeing Co., Inc.

The Commission has further reasonable grounds to believe that, on or about January 1, 1937, Competent Fur Dressers, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the registrant entered into profit sharing agreements with certain individuals whereby such individuals would receive approximately 30% of the profits of said subsidiary.

The Commission also has reasonable grounds to believe that since July 1, 1935, there have been material changes in the contracts providing for services to registrant and to Hollanderizing Corporation of America, Inc., Bertram J. Goodman, Inc., and A. Hollander & Son, Societe Anonyme.

In the light of these facts and those set forth in Part I, paragraph III B (1–5) above, it appears to the Commission that the failure in Item 5 to disclose and to recite the general effect of such contracts and arrangements and changes made therein constitutes omission of material facts and renders registrant's response to Item 5 and amendments thereto materially false and misleading.

II. Item 8 and the instructions thereto call for certain financial statements to be filed on behalf of the registrant and its subsidiaries. The instructions provide that "the financial statements required shall be accompanied by a certificate of an independent public or independent certified public accountant or accountants."

In the light of the facts set forth in Part I, paragraph V A above, it appears to the Commission that the financial statements filed by registrant pursuant to Item 8 were certified by certified public accountants who were not independent.

III. With respect to the registrant's consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 1937 and December 31, 1938—

Footnote "(F)" states

"A. Hollander & Son, Inc. is a service company and does not deal in merchandise."

The Commission has reasonable grounds to believe that since and before May 4, 1935, registrant has, directly and indirectly, employed a substantial amount of its capital and credit and that of its subsidiaries in the purchase and sale of fur skins in the United States and elsewhere. It therefore appears to the Commission that the statements contained in Footnote "(F)" to the registrant's consolidated balance sheets for the years ended December 31, 1937 and December 31, 1938 are materially false and misleading.

It being the opinion of the Commission that the hearing herein ordered to be made is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 19 (a) (2) of said Act, that a public hearing be held to determine whether A. Hollander & Son, Inc., has failed to comply with Section 12 (b) and Section 13 (a) and (b) of the Securities Exchange Act, as amended, the rules, regulations and forms promulgated by the Commission thereunder, in the respects set forth above; and if so, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months or to withdraw the registration of said corporation's Capital Stock, $5 par value, on said New York Stock Exchange;

It is further ordered, Pursuant to the provisions of Section 21 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that for the purposes of such hearing Adrian C. Humphrey, an officer of the Commission, is hereby designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law;

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this hearing begin on the 18th day of December, 1939, at 10:00 A. M. in Room 2006, 120 Broadway, New York City, and continue thereafter at such time and place as the officer hereinbefore designated may determine.

By the Commission.

ANTIDUMPING

WOOD PULP FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES

To Collectors of Customs, Appraisers of Merchandise and Others Concerned:

Reference is made to the notices of suspected dumping issued by the appraiser of merchandise at Seattle and the acting appraiser of merchandise at Tacoma, Wash., under the provisions of the Antidumping Act, 1921, covering importations of wood pulp from the Province of British Columbia, Canada, and to the notices of withheld appraisement issued by the appraisers of merchandise at several ports of entry in the United States covering importations of wood pulp from Canada, Germany, and other foreign countries.

After investigation and careful consideration of the evidence presented, I have reached the conclusion that findings of dumping with respect to wood pulp imported from foreign countries are not justified.

Appraising officers who have been withholding appraisements of wood pulp from the Province of British Columbia, Canada, by virtue of the issuance of the notices of suspected dumping and appraising officers who have been withholding their appraisements of wood pulp from other provinces of Canada and from Germany and other foreign countries pending the receipt of instructions from the Department or the completion of foreign investigations are hereby authorized to make their appraisement reports without regard to any question of dumping. [Order No. 2]

CHILD LABOR

PART 422—OCCUPATIONS PARTICULARLY HAZARDOUS FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS BETWEEN 16 AND 18 YEARS OF AGE OR DETRIMENTAL TO THEIR HEALTH OR WELL-BEING

NOVEMBER 27, 1939.

§ 422.2 Motor-vehicle driver and helper—(a) Finding of fact. By virtue of and pursuant to the authority conferred by section 3 (l) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938[1] and pursuant to the regulation prescribing the "Procedure Governing Determinations of Hazardous Occupations";[2] an investigation having been conducted with respect to the hazards for minors between 16 and 18 years of age of employment in the occupations of motor-vehicle driver and helper; a report of the investigation having been submitted to the Chief of the Children's Bureau showing that:

"1. Work on motor vehicles involves a high degree of accident risk for persons of all ages, a risk which is particularly high in the case of young persons, who are lacking in the experience and in the caution required for safety in motor-vehicle operation.

"2. Workmen's compensation experience generally shows for the occupational classifications representing motor-vehicle drivers and helpers a compensation cost higher than the average for manufacturing classifications.

"3. The opinion of experts in motor-vehicle safety and of others having practical experience in the field of motor-vehicle operation who were consulted in the course of the investigation is that employment as driver or as helper on motor vehicles is especially hazardous for young persons.

"4. Motor-vehicle drivers between 16 and 18 years of age have been found to be involved in a larger number of fatal accidents in proportion to miles driven than drivers in any older age group. In a study covering fatal accidents within a 5-year period in one State the fatal-accident rate was found to be nine times greater for 16-year-old drivers and six times greater for 17-year-old drivers than for those 45 to 50 years of age, the age group with the lowest fatal-accident rate.

"5. Under many industry codes adopted pursuant to the National Industrial Recovery Act the work of motor-vehicle drivers and helpers was listed as a hazardous occupation and as such was prohibited for minors under 18 years of age.

"6. Acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Motor Carrier Act of 1935, the Interstate Commerce Commission has established as necessary for safety a minimum age of 21 years for motor-vehicle drivers, in regulations applicable to common carriers and contract carriers engaged in interstate commerce. An examiner for the Commission has recommended, after investigation and public hearing, that the same minimum age for motor-vehicle drivers be applied, with certain exceptions not here material, to private carriers engaged in interstate commerce.

"7. State legislation, which reflects public recognition of the special hazards incident to the driving of motor vehicles by young persons, has established the following standards:

(a) In each of the States and the District of Columbia there is a legal minimum age for drivers of motor vehicles which is higher than that for general employment, the legal minimum age for drivers being applicable to (1) all persons operating motor vehicles, or (2) persons operating motor vehicles as employees, or (3) persons operating motor vehicles for common, contract, or private carriers.

(b) In 28 States and the District of Columbia there is a minimum age of at least 18 years applicable to (1) all persons operating motor vehicles or (2) persons operating motor vehicles as employees.

"8. A minimum age of 18 years or higher for the employment of motor-vehicle drivers and helpers has been adopted voluntarily as a general policy by many employers and by the branch of organized labor especially concerned with employment in this field";

a finding and order relating to the employment of minors between 16 and 18 years of age in the said occupations having been proposed for final adoption by the Chief of the Children's Bureau upon the basis of the said report of investigation; a public hearing having been held with respect to the said proposed finding and order; all statements submitted in connection with the said hearing having been carefully considered; opportunity having been given to all interested parties to file objections within 15 days following publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the proposed finding and order, and no objection disclosing just cause for revision thereof having been received; and sufficient reason appearing therefor,

Now, therefore, I, Katharine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, hereby find that the occupations of motor-vehicle driver and helper are particularly hazardous for the employment of minors between 16 and 18 years of age.

(b) Order. Accordingly, I hereby declare that the occupations of motor-vehicle driver and helper are particularly hazardous for the employment of minors between 16 and 18 years of age.

Definitions. For the purpose of this order—

(1) The term "motor vehicle" shall mean any automobile, truck, truck-tractor, trailer, semitrailer, motorcycle, or similar vehicle propelled or drawn by mechanical power and designed for use as a means of transportation but shall not include any vehicle operated exclusively on rails.

(2) The term "driver" shall mean any individual who, in the course of his employment, drives a motor vehicle at any time.

(3) The term "helper" shall mean any individual other than a driver, whose work in connection with the transportation or delivery of goods includes riding on a motor vehicle.

This order shall not justify noncompliance with any Federal or State law or municipal ordinance establishing a higher standard than the standard established herein. This order shall become effective on January 1, 1940, and shall be in force and effect until amended or repealed by order hereafter made and published by the Chief of the Children's Bureau.

TITLE 36—PARKS AND FORESTS

FOREST SERVICE

SANTA FE NATIONAL FOREST—BORREGO ALLOTMENT, JEMEZ RIVER DISTRICT, AND BEAR SPRINGS ALLOTMENT, RIO GRANDE DISTRICT

ORDER FOR THE REMOVAL OF TRESPASSING HORSES

Whereas a number of horses are grazing in trespass on the Borrego Allotment of the Jemez River District and the Bear Springs Allotment of the Rio Grande District of the Santa Fe National Forest in New Mexico; and

Whereas these horses are consuming forage necessary to domestic livestock, are overgrazing the range, and causing extra expense to established permittees;

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the Act of Congress of February 1, 1905 (33 Stat. 628), amendatory of the Act of June 4, 1897 (30 Stat. 11), I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do make and publish the following order for the occupancy, use, protection, and administration of the Borrego Allotment of the Jemez River District and the Bear Springs Allotment of the Rio Grande District of the Santa Fe National Forest:

1. The Borrego Allotment of the Jemez River District and the Bear Springs Allotment of the Rio Grande District of the Santa Fe National Forest are hereby closed to the grazing of horses during the period January 1 to January 31, 1940, excepting exempt stock and horses used in connection with permitted or otherwise authorized operations on the Forest or by the traveling public.

2. Unless the horses trespassing on the above-named allotments of the Santa Fe National Forest are removed on or before December 31, 1939, Forest officers are hereby authorized to dispose of them in the most humane manner.

3. Public notice of intention to dispose of such horses will be given by posting notices in public places or advertising in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality in which the Forest is located.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this 28th day of November 1939.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 5798]

IN RE APPLICATION OF WILTON HARVEY POLLARD (WBHP)

Dated, March 25, 1939; for renewal of license; class of service, broadcast; class of station, broadcast; location, Huntsville, Ala.; operating assignment specified: Frequency, 1200 kc.; power, 100 w., night—100 w., day; hours of operation, unlimited

[File No. B3-R-938]

You are hereby notified that the Commission has examined the above described application and has designated the matter for hearing for the following reasons:

1. To determine the technical qualifications of the applicant to operate the station.

2. To determine whether on, to wit, August 25, 1937, February 25, 1938, August 13, 1938, and February 10, 1939, the transmitter proper and the associated transmitting equipment of the station were designed, constructed, maintained, and operated in accordance with the provisions of Rule 132, then in force and effect, and the interpretations of good engineering practice issued pursuant thereto.

3. To determine whether on, to wit, August 25, 1937 and February 25, 1938 the antenna tower of the station was painted and illuminated in accordance with specifications supplied by the Commission pursuant to Section 303 (q) of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended and Rule 131, then in force and effect.

4. To determine whether on, to wit, June 12, 1937 and February 9, 1939, the station was operated within limits of 50 cycles per second above and 50 cycles per second below the assigned frequency, in accordance with the requirements of Rule 144 then in force and effect.

5. To determine whether on, to wit, August 25, 1937 and February 25, 1938, the program logs of the station were maintained in accordance with the requirements of Rule 172 A, then in force and effect.

6. To determine whether on, to wit, August 13, 1938, the name and party affiliation of political candidates using the station were entered in the program log pursuant to the requirement of Rule 172 A–b, then in force and effect.

7. To determine whether on, to wit, February 25, 1938, the operating log of the station contained a record of the time of the beginning and ending of programs, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 172 B (b) then in force and effect.

8. To determine whether on, to wit, August 13, 1938, entries were made in the operating log of the station pursuant to the provisions of Rule 172 B (d) then in force and effect.

9. To determine whether on, to wit, February 10, 1939 programs consisting of mechanical reproductions were announced, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 176 then in force and effect.

10. To determine whether on, to wit, August 26, 1939, the transmitter proper and associated transmitting equipment of the station were designed, constructed, and operated in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.46 of the Rules Governing Standard Broadcast Stations adopted by the Commission on June 23, 1939 and the interpretations of good engineering practice issued pursuant thereto.

11. To determine whether on, to wit, August 26, 1939 the correct efficiency factor was used by the applicant in computing operating power by the indirect method, in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.52 of the Rules Governing Standard Broadcast Stations adopted by the Commission on June 23, 1939.

12. To determine whether on, to wit, August 26, 1939 the program logs of the station were maintained in accordance with Section 3.90 of the Rules Governing Standard Broadcast Stations adopted by the Commission on June 23, 1939.

13. To determine whether on, to wit, August 26, 1939 the station was operated in accordance with Section 3.71 (minimum operating schedule) of the Rules Governing Standard Broadcast Stations adopted on June 23, 1939.

14. To determine whether the station at all times has been operated in accordance with the Communications Act of 1934 as amended and the Commission's Rules and Regulations, particularly those governing the maintenance and technical operation of broadcast stations.

15. To determine whether the granting of this application and the continued operation of the station will serve public interest, convenience, and necessity.

The application involved herein will not be granted by the Commission unless the issues listed above are determined in favor of the applicant on the basis of a record duly and properly made by means of a formal hearing.

The applicant is hereby given the opportunity to obtain a hearing on such issues by filing a written appearance in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.382 (b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Persons other than the applicant who desire to be heard must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.102 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

The applicant's address is as follows:

IN THE MATTER OF THE NARRAGANSETT ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 15, 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That James G. Ewell, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 9, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to a declaration filed by The Narragansett Electric Company, a subsidiary company of New England Power Association, a registered holding company, pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, regarding the issuance to banks or trust companies of the declarant's selection, of unsecured promissory notes not to exceed $5,000,000 outstanding at any one time at prevailing discount rates with maturities of nine months or less. The net proceeds of the proposed notes are to be used to pay $2,600,000 short-term bank loans evidenced by notes presently outstanding, to pay an open account indebtedness of $500,000 due United Electric Railways Company, an affiliate of the declarant, and to reimburse the declarant's treasury for sums expended in construction work and to provide additional working capital pending proposed permanent financing.

§ 29.106 Nondescript and scrap (N & S groups).

Grade Description and Specifications

| U. S. Grade | |
|---|---|
| N | Nondescript, as defined. |
| S | Scrap, as defined. |

§ 29.107 Terms defined. For the purposes of these official standard grades, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

Airdried. The condition of unfermented tobacco as customarily prepared for storage under natural atmospheric conditions by rehanging in well-ventilated houses after it is cured and stripped.

Body. The thickness of a leaf or weight per unit of surface.

Class. A major division of tobacco based on characteristics caused by varieties, soils, or climatic conditions, and the methods of cultivation, harvesting, or curing.

Clean. Normally free of dirt and other foreign matter.

Condition. The state of tobacco in storage, or in relation to its preparation for storage, with reference to its manner of preparation or its degree of fermentation, such as Undried, Airdried, Steamdried, Sweating, Sweated, and Resweated.

Crude. Very immature or the lowest degree of maturity. Any tobacco of which 50% or more of its surface has a positive green color is crude.

Cured. Tobacco dried of its sap by either natural or artificial processes.

Damage. The effect of mold, must, rot, black-rot, or other fungus or bacterial diseases which attack tobacco in its cured state, including tobacco having the odor of mold, must, or rot.

Decayed. Damaged to the extent of 20% or more.

Fire-cured. Tobacco cured under artificial atmospheric conditions by the use of open fires from which the smoke and fumes of burning wood are partly absorbed by the tobacco.

Foreign matter. Any substance or material extraneous to tobacco, including dirt, sand, stalks, suckers, straw, strings, et cetera.

Form. The stage of preparation of tobacco, such as Unstemmed and Stemmed.

Grade. A subdivision of a type according to group and quality, and according to color when it is of sufficient importance to be treated as a separate factor.

Green. Tobacco of which 20% or more of its leaf surface is predominantly green in color.

Greenish-tinge. Tobacco of which 20% of more of its leaf surface has a decided greenish-cast or tobacco which is not 20% green but which has 20% of green and greenish-cast combined.

Group. A division of a type covering several closely related grades based on the general quality of the tobacco, including body, the percentage of injury, and other characteristics.

Injury. Hurt or impairment from any cause except damage. Injured tobacco shall include dead, burnt, bail-cut, or ragged tobacco; or tobacco that has been torn or broken, frozen or frosted, sunburned or scalded, scorched or fire-killed, bulk-burnt or steam-burnt, pole-burnt or house-burnt, bleached or bruised; or tobacco containing discolored or deformed leaves; or tobacco hurt by insects; or tobacco having an odor foreign to the type; or tobacco affected by wild-fire, rust, frog-eye, mosaic, frenching, sand-drown, or other similar diseases.

Leaf-scrap. Unstemmed scrap, which is a by-product from handling unstemmed tobacco consisting of loose and tangled whole or broken leaves.

Lugs. Any lot of tobacco, except nondescript and scrap, composed chiefly of comparatively thin and lean leaves, and showing a material amount of injury of the kind characteristic of leaves grown near the ground; or any tobacco, except nondescript and scrap, injured or containing lug leaves, in excess of the tolerance allowed in the grades of the B, C, and T groups.

Mixed (in color). A lot of tobacco which contains 30% or more leaves of distinctly different color from the run of the lot, including variegated leaves unless such leaves are indicated by a special factor, and which contains less than 20% of green.

Mixed (in quality). A lot of tobacco which contains 30% or more leaves of distinctly different group or quality from the run of the lot.

Nested. Any lot of tobacco which has been so loaded, packed, or arranged as to conceal foreign matter or tobacco of inferior grade, quality, or condition, including lots of tobacco which contain damaged, injured, tangled, or other inferior tobacco which cannot be readily detected upon inspection on account of the way the lot was packed or arranged.

Nondescript. Any nested or decayed tobacco; or muddy or extremely dirty tobacco; or tobacco containing an unusual amount of foreign matter; or tobacco containing over 30% of crude leaves; or tobacco infested with live tobacco beetles or other injurious insects; or wet tobacco; or uncured tobacco including fat-stems and wet-butts; or very inferior lots of tobacco of a quality that is not ordinarily marketed; or tobacco having characteristics distinctly foreign to the type.

Quality. A division of group, forming the second factor of a grade, based upon the relative degree of one or more of the elements of quality in tobacco.

Resweated. The condition of tobacco which has passed through a second fermentation under abnormally high temperatures, or refermented with a relatively high percentage of moisture, including tobacco which has been dipped or reconditioned after its first fermentation and put through a forced or artificial sweat.

Scrap. A by-product from handling tobacco in both the unstemmed and stemmed forms, consisting chiefly of portions of tobacco leaves, except stems, which accumulate in warehouses, packing and conditioning plants, and stemmeries.

Side. Any distinct characteristic of tobacco; or a certain phase of quality, color, or length as compared with some other phase of quality, color, or length.

Size. The length of tobacco leaves.

Sound. Free of damage.

Special factor. Any side of a grade, or characteristic of importance, varying from or not covered by the specifications of the grade.

Steamdried. The condition of unfermented tobacco as customarily prepared for storage by means of a redrying machine or other steam-conditioning equipment.

Stem. The midrib of a tobacco leaf.

Stemmed. A form of tobacco from which the stems or midribs have been removed, including both strips and stripscrap.

Stems. A tobacco by-product composed of the midribs of tobacco leaves.

Stouts. A term used to designate tobacco of the heavy leaf or B group.

Strips. The sides of tobacco leaves from which the stems have been removed.

Strip-scrap. Stemmed scrap or stemless scrap, which is a by-product from stemming tobacco or handling strips, consisting chiefly of portions of strips.

Subgrade. Any grade modified by a special factor or subgroup symbol.

Subgroup. A group formed by the substitution of a different group symbol to denote a modification of the specifications or to indicate a certain side or characteristic of the tobacco.

Sweated. The condition of tobacco which has passed through one or more fermentations natural to tobacco packed with a normal percentage of moisture.

Sweating. The condition of tobacco in the process of fermentation.

Thins. A term used to designate tobacco of the thin leaf or C group.

Tips. Short leaf or leaf and tips under U. S. Size 44.

Type. A division of a class of tobacco having certain common characteristics and closely related grades. Tobacco which has the same characteristics and corresponding qualities, colors, and lengths, shall be treated as one type, regardless of any factors of historical or geographical nature which cannot be determined by an examination of the tobacco.

Type 21. That type of fire-cured tobacco known as Eastern Fire-cured, Virginia Fire-cured, or Virginia Smoked; produced principally in the Piedmont and mountain sections of Virginia. The terms "Eastern", "Dark" and "Dark-fired" are frequently ambiguously used in referring to this and other types of fire-cured tobacco.

Type 22. That type of fire-cured tobacco known as Southern Fire-cured, Southern Smoked, or Kentucky Broadleaf, including fire-cured One-sucker of the Southern District; produced principally in a section east of the Tennessee River in southern Kentucky and northern Tennessee. The term "Eastern" is frequently used locally in referring to this type.

Type 23. That type of fire-cured tobacco known as Western Fire-cured, or Western Smoked, including the fire-cured One-sucker of the Western District; produced principally in a section west of the Tennessee River in Kentucky, and extending into Tennessee.

Type 24. That type of fire-cured tobacco known as Northern Fire-cured, Northern Smoked, or Stemming, including the fire-cured tobacco of the Green River District; produced principally in the Madisonville area of Kentucky.

Undried. The condition of unfermented tobacco which has not been air-dried, or steamdried.

Uniformity. One of the elements of quality in tobacco having reference to the consistency of a lot with respect to other elements of quality or color. The following are the specifications for the several degrees of uniformity showing for each degree the percentage of a lot that may be of a distinctly different group, quality, or color from the run of the lot; (a) Uniform, less than 5%; (b) Harmonizing, less than 10%; (c) Unmingled, less than 20%; (d) Mingled or Unmixed, less than 30% and (e) Mixed, over 30%. When uniformity with respect to quality is specified it also includes uniformity with respect to group, but when uniformity with respect to color only is specified it does not include uniformity with respect to group or quality.

Unsound. Damaged under 20%.

Unstemmed. A form of tobacco from which the stems or midribs have not been removed, including both whole-leaf and leaf-scrap.

Variegated. Having a diversity of contrasting colors or tints within a leaf; including leaves which are grey, mottled, bleached, or stained; or leaves which do not blend with the normal colors of the type.

§ 29.108 Rules. The application of these official standard grades shall be in accordance with the following rules:

Rule 1. Each grade shall be treated as a subdivision of a particular type and when the grade is stated in an inspection certificate, the type shall also be stated.

Rule 2. The determination of grade shall be based upon a thorough examination of a lot of tobacco or an official sample of the lot.

Rule 3. In determining the grade of a lot of tobacco, the lot as a whole shall be considered, and minor irregularities which do not affect over one percent of the tobacco shall be overlooked.

Rule 4. Unsound tobacco shall be treated as a subgrade by placing the special factor letter "U" after or above the grade mark. For example: if a lot of tobacco is unsound but otherwise meets the specifications of B4F, it shall be graded B4F–U.

Rule 5. When a lot of tobacco, unmixed in color, is on the marginal line between two colors so that there is a question as to which is the predominant color, it shall be placed in the color with which the tobacco best corresponds with respect to body and maturity.

Rule 6. Any lot of tobacco shall be regarded as meeting the specifications of a certain grade when the tobacco is not lower in any degree of quality than that stated in the specifications of such grade. The degree of uniformity specified for a particular grade governs the percentage of a lot which must meet the specifications with respect to other degrees of quality.

Rule 7. Any lot of tobacco which clearly and fully meets the specifications of two or more grades shall be placed in the highest one of such grades; but any lot of tobacco which is on the marginal line between two or more grades so that the grade cannot be determined by applying other rules, shall be placed in the lowest grade in question.

Rule 8. The grade assigned to any lot of tobacco shall be a true representation of the tobacco at the time of inspection and certification thereof.

Rule 9. If, at any time, it is found that a lot of tobacco does not comply with the description and specifications of the grade previously assigned, it shall not thereafter be represented as being of such grade.

Rule 10. Any special factor symbol, approved for the purpose by the Agricultural Marketing Service, may be used after or above a grade mark to show a peculiar side or characteristic of the tobacco.

Rule 11. Length shall be stated in connection with each grade of the A, B, and C groups, and may be stated in connection with the grades of other groups. For this purpose, U. S. Tobacco Sizes shall be used.

Done at Washington, D. C. this 29th day of November 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

[B.A.I. Order 372 [1]]

SUBCHAPTER C—INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF ANIMALS AND POULTRY

PART 72—TEXAS (SPLENETIC) FEVER IN CATTLE [2]

Rule 1, Revision 38—To Prevent the Spread of Splenetic or Tick Fever in Cattle

NOVEMBER 29, 1939.

Sec.

72.2 Splenetic or tick fever in cattle in described territory in Florida, Puerto Rico, and Texas; prohibiting interstate movement of cattle.
72.3 Area quarantined in Florida.
72.4 Area quarantined in Puerto Rico.
72.5 Area quarantined in Texas.

§ 72.2 Splenetic or tick fever in cattle in described territory in Florida, Puerto Rico, and Texas; prohibiting interstate movement of cattle. Notice is hereby given that the contagious and infectious disease known as splenetic or tick fever exists in cattle in portions of the States of Texas and Florida and the Territory of Puerto Rico. Therefore, those portions of these States and Territory described in sections 72.3 to 72.5, inclusive, are hereby quarantined, and the interstate movement of cattle therefrom shall be made only in accordance with the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture for the prevention of the spread of splenetic or tick fever in cattle.[2] This rule shall be construed in connection with the said regulations and is subject to amendment or revision on statutory notice.

§ 72.3 Area quarantined in Florida. The following counties and portions of counties are quarantined: Collier and Hendry; that portion of Osceola County lying east and north of State Roads 29 and 24; and that portion of Orange County lying east of U. S. Highways Nos. 17 and 92.

[1] Secs. 72.2 to 72.5, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in sec. 6, 23 Stat. 32, secs. 1, 3, 33 Stat. 1264, 1265, sec. 1, 44 Stat. 774; 21 U.S.C. 115, 123, 125.

[1] Supersedes B.A.I. Order 369 (3 F.R. 2729 DI). The numbering of the parts and sections of B.A.I. Orders conforms to the numbering in title 9, chapter 1, of The Code of Federal Regulations.

[2] 9 CFR parts 71, 72.

§ 72.4. Area quarantined in Puerto Rico. All that portion of the Territory of Puerto Rico lying east of the following-described line is quarantined: Beginning at Wilson Bridge, Cátano, extending in a southerly direction along the south border of the Cátano swamp to the canefield track of the Juanita Central, thence northerly along this track to the Cátano-Bayanon Road (No. 24), thence westerly along the south right-of-way of said road to the Solado Bridge over the Bayamon River, thence southerly along said river to the Bayamon Bridge on the Bayamon-San Juan Road (No. 2), thence westerly to a road running southwesterly through Torreche dairy farms property to the Aguas Buenas Road, thence westerly along the south right-of-way of said road to a road running southwesterly through the properties of Islete, Monclova, and consolidated farms to the Bayamon-Comerio Road (No. 9), thence southerly along the east right-of-way of said road to its intersection with the Comerio-Cidra Road (No. 22), thence along the east right-of-way of said road and following the city limits of the town of Cidra to the Cidra-Cayey Road, thence along the east right-of-way of said road to the San Juan-Cayey Road (No. 1), thence easterly along the north right-of-way of said road and continuing in a southerly direction along the east right-of-way of the P. R. R. A. Reforestation Seed Bed Road to the south property line of the Military Wireless Station, thence westerly along this line to the Ilera Creek Bridge and following said creek in a southwesterly direction to the Cayey-Guayama Road (No. 4), thence southerly along said road to the north property line of Jose Revira, thence southerly along this line to the east right-of-way of the Palmas Bajas Road, thence southeasterly along said road to the Guamani River, thence northeasterly along this river to the Carite-Guayama Road to a point where it intersects the north property line of Luce & Co., thence easterly along this line to the northeast corner of said property, thence southerly to the Federal Experiment Station, thence southerly along the east right-of-way of a road from this station to the Guayama-Arroyo Road (No. 3), thence along said road in a westerly direction to its intersection with the Monserrate Road, continuing southerly along the east right-of-way of said road to the old McCormick Docks on Arroyo Bay in the Caribbean Sea.

§ 72.5 Area quarantined in Texas.[1] The following portions of counties are quarantined: That part of Cameron County lying south of the following-described line—beginning at the point where the Brownsville ship channel enters the Gulf of Mexico following said ship channel in a southwesterly direction to Port Brownsville, thence in the same direction along the Port Brownsville-Brownsville Road to where it crosses the Ranchito Viejo Resaca, thence in a northwesterly direction following the Ranchito Viejo Resaca to the Sam Houston Boulevard Road, thence in a southwesterly direction to the Rangerville-San Benito Road, thence in a northwesterly direction along said road to the intersection of the Rangerville-Harlingen Road, thence in a northeasterly direction to the intersection of the county road known as the Rangerville-Arroyo Colorado Low Bridge Road, following said road to the Arroyo Colorado, a distance of approximately 2.7 miles, thence following the Arroyo Colorado in a westerly direction to the Cameron-Hidalgo County line. That part of Hidalgo County lying south and west of, and including all incorporated and unincorporated town sites intersected by, a line beginning at a point where the main line of the Missouri Pacific Railroad which runs between Harlingen and Rio Grande City, Tex., intersects the Cameron-Hidalgo County line, running thence in a westerly direction along the north line of said railroad right-of-way to a point where it intersects the east survey line of Porcion 80, thence northerly along said survey line to a point where it intersects the West Edinburg Road, thence westerly along the north right-of-way of said road to its intersection with the west survey line of Porcion 73, thence northerly on said survey line to a point where it intersects the Monte Christo Road, thence westerly along said road to its intersection with the Starr-Hidalgo County line. That part of Kinney County lying west of the following-described line—beginning at a point where the Kinney-Val Verde County line is intersected by Highway No. 85, running thence southeasterly along said highway to the intersection of the Kinney-Maverick County line. That part of Maverick County lying west of the following-described line—beginning at a point where the Kinney-Maverick County line is intersected by Highway No. 85, running thence in a southeasterly direction along said highway to the north city limits of Eagle Pass, thence easterly along the city limits to a point where it intersects the Southern Pacific Railroad, thence southerly along the said railroad to the Kifuri Overall Factory premises, thence in an easterly direction along the north survey line of said premises to the Eagle Pass-Laredo River Road, thence in a southeasterly direction along this road to the Maverick-Webb County line. That part of Starr County lying south and west of, and including all incorporated and unincorporated town sites intersected by, a line beginning at a point where the Roma-Hebbronville Road intersects the Jim Hogg-Starr County line, running thence in a southerly direction along said road to a point where it intersects the southwest survey line of the Buena Vista ranch, running thence southeasterly along the south line of this ranch to a point where it intersects the southwest line of the Las Escobas ranch, following the southwest line of this ranch to the south corner, running thence in a northeasterly direction along the ranch survey line to where it intersects the Las Escobas-Monterrey Road, running thence in a southeasterly direction to a point where this road intersects the east survey line of the Francisco-Antonio Villerreal Survey 108, thence southerly on this survey line to a point where it intersects the east El Saus Road, thence running southeasterly along this road to a point where it intersects the Rio Grande-Corpus Christi Road, thence running southerly on the west survey line of section 519 and easterly on the south survey line of sections 519 and 520 to the east line of section 520, thence running southerly on the east line of section 134 to the southeast corner of the survey, thence westerly on the south line of section 134 to a point where it intersects the east line of section 503, thence southerly on the west survey line of the Rincon ranch to its southwest corner, thence easterly on the south line of the Rincon ranch to where it intersects the Hidalgo-Starr County line. That part of Val Verde County lying south and west of the following-described line—beginning at the mouth of Devils River where it empties into the Rio Grande River, thence up Devils River in a northerly direction to the bridge on Highway No. 90 over said river, thence in a southerly direction along Highway No. 90 to a point where it intersects Highway No. 85, thence in a southeasterly direction along Highway No. 85 to the Val Verde-Kinney County line. That part of Webb County lying south and west of the following-described line—beginning at a point on the Dimmit-Webb County line where the Military Road intersects said line and following the Military Road in a southeasterly direction to where this road intersects the south survey line of the C. IN THE MATTER OF WALDES KOH-I-NOOR, INC., A CORPORATION, AND THE GREY ADVERTISING AGENCY, INC., A CORPORATION

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard[1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answers of respondents, and a stipulation as to the facts entered into between respondents herein and W. T. Kelley, Chief Counsel of the Commission, which provides, among other things, that without further evidence or other intervening procedure, the Commission may issue and serve upon respondents herein, findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon, and an order disposing of the proceeding, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

[1] 3 F.R. 2791 DI.

It is ordered, That respondents Waldes Koh-I-Noor, Inc., and The Grey Advertising Agency, Inc., corporations, their officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of ladies' handbags or any other article of merchandise fitted or equipped with any fastening device sold by respondent Waldes Koh-I-Noor, Inc., in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing, or causing or inducing others to represent, that any imported French-made ladies' handbag has been or is regularly offered for sale and sold through retail channels, when such is not the fact, or that such handbag has been or is offered for sale and sold at a retail price for which the same has not been or is not regularly offered for sale and sold;

(2) Representing or causing or inducing others to represent, that any imported French-made ladies' handbag has a value which in fact such handbag does not have;

(3) Representing, or causing or inducing others to represent, that any domestic-made ladies' handbags are "Copies", "Reproductions", or "Facsimiles", of any imported ladies' handbags, French-made or otherwise, unless such domestic-made handbags are true copies, reproductions or facsimiles of, and in all particulars, inclusive of design, style, materials, ornament, and workmanship, comparable and equal in quality to, the imported handbags of which the domestic-made handbags are, or purport to be, copies, reproductions or facsimiles.

It is further ordered, That said respondents do forthwith cease and desist from distributing any advertising matter in said commerce which contains any of the aforesaid representations for use in connection with the promotion of the sale of any such article.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

CHAPTER V—FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

AMENDMENT TO ADMINISTRATIVE RULES OF THE FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR FOR FARM MORTGAGE INSURANCE

The Administrative Rules of the Federal Housing Administrator for farm mortgage insurance under Section 203 (d) of the National Housing Act, issued May 10, 1938, effective May 16, 1938, as amended September 20, 1939, are hereby amended as follows:

Subsection 5 of Section IV of said Administrative Rules is amended to read as follows:

5. The mortgage may bear interest at such rate as may be agreed upon between the mortgagee and the mortgagor, but in no case shall such interest rate be in excess of four and one-half percent (4½%) per annum. Interest shall be payable in annual, semi-annual, or monthly instalments on the principal then outstanding and, in the event interest is payable in annual or semi-annual instalments, such interest payments may be required in advance for each such period.

Subsection 10 of Section IV of said Administrative Rules is amended to read as follows:

10. The mortgagor must pay to the mortgagee, upon the execution of the mortgage, a sum that will be sufficient to pay premiums on fire and other insurance required by the mortgagee pursuant to the terms of the mortgage, and ground rents, if any, and estimated taxes, special assessments, drainage and irrigation charges applicable to the period beginning on the date to which such ground rents, taxes, assessments, and charges were last paid and ending on the date of the first periodic payment under the mortgage. The mortgagor, at such time, may also be required to pay a sum equal to the first annual insurance premium plus an amount equal to one-twelfth (1/12th) of the annual mortgage insurance premium multiplied by the number of months to elapse from the date of the closing of the loan to the date of the first periodic payment, and if the mortgage provides for payment of interest in advance, interest to the due date of the first periodic payment thereunder.

Issued at Washington, D. C. this 16th day of November 1939, and effective on the 1st day of December 1939.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

ORDER IN THE MATTER OF FREIGHT COMMODITY STATISTICS

At a Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of November, A. D. 1939.

The subject of freight commodity statistics being under consideration:

It is ordered, That—

For the year beginning with January 1, 1940, and thereafter unless otherwise ordered, carriers by steam railway, other than switching and terminal companies, subject to the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that are or may be assigned to the classes designated as Class I and Class II, shall report the number of tons of revenue freight originated by them and the number of tons of revenue freight terminated by them in each of the geographic areas specified in the list of areas shown in the Appendix hereto, which is hereby made a part of this order.

The number of tons reported by geographic areas shall be shown separately for the various classes of commodities specified in our order of November 22, 1927, as amended by order of December 14, 1938, In the Matter of Freight Commodity Statistics, except Class 710, All L.C.L. freight.

Class I carriers shall report the information quarterly, and Class II carriers annually, in accordance with the attached report form which is hereby also made part of this order.

Carriers located entirely within a single geographic area may omit their tonnage from the report, but shall indicate by endorsement thereon the single area in which located.

[1] 4 F.R. 1393 DI.

The reports shall be forwarded in duplicate to the Bureau of Statistics, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., on or before the last day of the second month succeeding the close of the period for which they are compiled.

By the Commission, Division 1.

Instructions

This form is provided for the purpose of making returns under the terms of the Interstate Commerce Commission's order of November 16, 1939, which requires steam railway companies of Class I and Class II, other than switching and terminal companies, to report the number of tons of revenue freight originated by them and the number of tons of revenue freight terminated by them in each of the geographic areas specified in the list of areas shown immediately following these Instructions. The order also requires that the tonnage reported by geographic areas shall be shown separately for the various classes of commodities specified in the Commission's order of November 22, 1927, as amended by order of December 14, 1938,[1] except Class 710, and that Class I railways shall report the information quarterly and Class II railways annually.

All tonnage should be stated in tons of 2,000 pounds and the number of tons shown for all geographic areas for which report is made should, when totalled for the various classes of commodities as to all tonnage originated and all tonnage terminated, agree with respective aggregates of originated and terminated tonnage distributed in the Quarterly Report of Freight Commodity Statistics, Form QCS, by Class I railways and in schedule 541 of Annual Report, Form A, by Class II railways for the same period.

Railways located entirely within a single geographic area may omit figures

(List of geographic areas will be shown in this space on printed forms)

IN THE MATTER OF REGULATIONS FOR TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

Decided November 20, 1939

Application for authority to construct for experimental service in the transportation of petroleum products 50 tank-car tanks fabricated by fusion welding granted.

R. W. Thompson for General American Transportation Corporation.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION[1]

Alldredge, Commissioner: In our several prior reports we granted upon applications therein considered authority to build and use for experimental service in the transportation of dangerous articles other than explosives a total of 872 tank cars to be equipped with tanks fabricated by fusion welding but otherwise conforming to I.C.C. shipping container specifications.

By application of the General American Transportation Corporation dated October 11, 1939, recommended November 6, 1939, by the Bureau of Explosives and the mechanical division, Association of American Railroads, for our approval, we are asked to authorize the construction closed in the instant application, the construction and use of 50 additional tanks of tank cars in accordance with current ICC specification 105A300 is forthwith authorized, provided that tanks may be fusion welded instead of forge welded, and must be constructed and marked in compliance with proposed revised ICC specification 105A300W, filed as an exhibit at the hearing herein and referred to in our prior reports; cars to be used in further service tests in the transportation of petroleum products.

In all other respects the regulations for the transportation of dangerous articles herein referred to are and shall remain in full force and effect.

Owners or operators of cars, where construction is authorized herein, shall make semi-annual inspection of the tanks and report their condition to the same parties as receive reports required by ICC specification 105A300.

By the Commission, Commissioner Alldredge.

NOTICE OF HEARING WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE SIOUX CITY, IOWA, MARKETING AREA

Whereas, the Sioux City Milk Producers' Cooperative Association, Inc., has requested the Secretary of Agriculture to hold a public hearing on a proposed marketing agreement and order prepared and proposed by said organization and designed to regulate such handling of milk in the Sioux City, Iowa, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the is-

At this public hearing, representatives of the Secretary will receive factual evidence (1) as to whether marketing conditions for such handling of milk in the Sioux City, Iowa, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce are so disorderly as to necessitate regulation of the handling of such milk in order that the declared policy of the act may be effectuated, and (2) as to the specific provisions which a marketing agreement or order should contain.

The proposed marketing agreement and order provide, among other things, for: (a) selection of a market administrator, (b) classification of milk, (c) minimum prices, (d) reports of handlers, (e) payments to producers through the use of a market-wide pool, and (f) expenses of administration.

Copies of the proposed marketing agreement and order may be obtained from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 0310 South Building, or may be there inspected.

tion and use of 50 additional cars of I.C.C. shipping container specification 105A300 type, for meeting current requirements, except that tanks will be fabricated by fusion welding instead of forge welding. Tank anchors to underframes will be of riveted construction.

In support of previous application for authority for test cars for petroleum products, granted November 3, 1939, the following appears:

Applicant states that * * * of a total of seven hundred sixty-seven fusion-welded cars previously authorized, three hundred twenty-one are in service. Applicant further states that service trials and periodical inspections show all cars in use to be in good condition after 7,673 trips over a total of 5,953,696 miles, an increase of over a thousand trips and a million miles of safe transportation since our next previous authorization dated March 13, 1939.

Application and accompanying drawings for the additional 50 cars show that they will be constructed and used in accordance with these exhibits, be the same as those authorized April 21, 1937, and comply with effective safety appliance and other current regulations, except as authorized herein.

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

[Docket No. 494-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF ROSS CLAY PRODUCT COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

The Ross Clay Product Company, of Uhrichsville, Ohio, applicant herein, having on August 5, 1938, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the applicant, or produced and transported by the applicant to itself for consumption by it in the business of manufacturing clay products at its plants located near Uhrichsville and Seventeen, Ohio; and

The Commission having, on August 31, 1938, entered an order pursuant to such application, in Docket No. 494-FD, ordering that the provisions of Section 4, Part II (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 apply to the bituminous coal produced by applicant in the business of manufacturing clay products at its plants located near Uhrichsville and Seventeen, Ohio, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering applicant to apply annually thereafter, and at such other times as the Commission may require, for renewal of said order, and to file such accompanying reports as will enable the Commission to determine whether the facts as found in said order continue to exist; and

Applicant, on November 9, 1939, having filed with the Bituminous Coal Division a verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantities of coal produced by applicant for the period from September 1, 1938 to September 1, 1939, at its mines located in Tuscarawas County, near Uhrichsville and Seventeen, Ohio, and consumed by applicant in its manufacture of clay products, and which application also contains a statement that all the facts set forth in the application dated August 5, 1938 remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order dated August 31, 1938 continue to exist:

It is ordered, That the application filed by the applicant for renewal of said order dated August 31, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That the said order dated August 31, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, and this renewal of said order, shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the applicant, on or before October 30, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the applicant, on or before June 30, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending May 30, 1940, containing the following information, which the Director hereby finds to be necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the applicant, and the names and locations of the mines covered by this application.

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by applicant during the preceding six months at such mines.

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by applicant, and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon

(a) Any change in the ownership of of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal is consumed, and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced at the date of this order.

It is further ordered, That the Director at any time, upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person, may direct the applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the order of August 31, 1938 should not be terminated. Any person filing such a petition shall serve a copy thereof upon the applicant herein.

Dated, November 30, 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF CENTRAL MAINE POWER COMPANY

ORDER APPROVING AMENDED APPLICATION

Central Maine Power Company, a subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto with this Commission pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale of

(1) $1,250,000 principal amount of Central Maine Power Company's First and General Mortgage Bonds, Series K, 4%, due 1964, to The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States at a price of 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from September 1, 1939, and

(2) 5,000 shares of no par value common stock of Central Maine Power Company at a price of $100 per share to New England Public Service Company (subject to the preemptive right to purchase by the other common and 6% preferred stockholders of Central Maine Power Company);

Public hearing on such amended application having been duly held after appropriate notice; the record in this matter having been duly considered; and the Commission having made and filed its findings and opinion herein:

It is ordered, That said amended application be and the same hereby is approved, subject, however, to the following terms and conditions:

(1) That the issue and sale of such securities shall be effected in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in, and for the purposes represented by, said amended application; and

(2) That within ten days after the issuance of the aforesaid securities the applicant shall file with this Commission a certificate of notification showing that such issue and sale have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes represented by, said amended application; and

(3) That this exemption shall immediately terminate without further order of this Commission if the express authorization of the issue and sale of the aforesaid securities by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Maine shall be revoked or otherwise terminate; and

(4) That, except as the Commission may by order or orders from time to time permit, so long as any of the First and General Mortgage Bonds presently outstanding and proposed herein to be issued, remain outstanding, neither applicant nor any successor or successors shall declare or pay any dividends (other than dividends payable solely in shares of common stock) or make any other distribution on any shares of its common stock, nor shall any shares of applicant's common stock be purchased or retired by applicant or any successor or successors, unless the amount expended by the applicant or any successor or successors for maintenance and repairs, plus provisions for depreciation during the period from July 31, 1939 to the date of the proposed payment of such dividend or making of such distribution or acquisition, plus the earned surplus of the applicant accumulated since July 31, 1939 and remaining after payment of such dividend or the making of such distribution or acquisition, plus any transfers from earned surplus to common stock liability since July 31, 1939, shall equal 15% of the gross operating revenues of the applicant or any successor or successors during such period; and

(5) That until further order of this Commission no dividend shall in any event be declared or paid on the common stock of applicant unless fourteen days prior written notice of the proposal to make any such declaration be given to this Commission; and the Commission hereby reserves jurisdiction, on receipt of such notice, in and as part of the proceedings herein, and notice given to applicant within such fourteen days, to order the applicant to show cause why the declaration of such dividend should be approved and to disapprove the declaration of such dividend on the basis of the record herein and any additional evidence that may be adduced by any interested party; and in the event that the Commission shall notify applicant to show cause, such dividend shall not be declared until expressly authorized by order of this Commission; and

(6) That the Commission reserves jurisdiction to determine at a later date whether the Finder's Fee to be paid to Coffin & Burr, Incorporated, and The First Boston Corporation for negotiating the sale of the bonds is or is not reasonable, and pending further order of the Commission no such Finder's Fee shall be paid.

American Gas and Electric Company, a New York corporation, is a registered holding company. It owns all the outstanding common stock of eleven electric utility companies as well as large amounts of bonds and preferred stocks of several of those companies. It also owns all the outstanding capital stock of American Gas and Electric Service Corporation and of two real estate companies, one heating company and a short line railroad; and owns fifty per cent of the outstanding capital stock of another short line railroad. In addition to these seventeen direct subsidiaries American Gas and Electric Company has nine indirect subsidiaries, all of which are non-utility companies. None of the subsidiaries is solely a holding company.

The subsidiaries of American Gas and Electric Company furnish electric, steam and water services to 1,542 communities in nine states, viz., Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The consolidated assets of the system at December 31, 1938, were $523,009,523. The total operating revenue of the system for the year 1938 was $72,502,373, ninety-eight per cent of which was derived from the sale of electric energy.

American Gas and Electric Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "applicant") has filed with this Commission, on behalf of itself and certain of its subsidiary companies, an application pursuant to Section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Said application sets forth that applicant does not propose to dispose of any of its present interests in public-utility companies but that in further simplification of its corporate structure it proposes to dispose or cause to be disposed of by merger, consolidation or sale several small non-utility companies, as follows: (1) St. Joseph Heating Company; (2) The Duncan Falls Company; (3) Windsor Coal Company; (4) The Peakland Corporation; (5) Radford Limestone Company, Inc. and (6) the water service property in Ada, Ohio.

It is the contention of applicant that following the consummation of the aforementioned transactions its holding-company system will include one principal integrated public-utility system and two additional integrated electric public-utility systems, and interests in businesses said to be reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations thereto, as follows:

(1) The Central System consisting of Indiana & Michigan Electric Company, Indiana General Service Company, The Ohio Power Company, Beech Bottom Power Company, Inc., Wheeling Electric Company, Southern Ohio Public Service Company, Kanawha Valley Power Company, Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company, Incorporated, Appalachian Electric Power Company and Kingsport Utilities, Incorporated; and, as reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations thereof, the Windsor Power House Coal Company, West Virginia Power Company, Twin Branch Railroad Company and Indiana Franklin Realty, Inc.;

(2) The South Jersey System, consisting of the Atlantic City Electric Company and Deepwater Operating Company; and, as reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations thereof, the South Pennsgrove Realty Company;

(3) The Northeast Pennsylvania System, consisting of The Scranton Electric Company; and, as reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations thereof, the West Pittston-Exeter Railroad Company;

And, as reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of all three of the aforementioned integrated electric public-utility systems, The Franklin Real Estate Company;

And, as an approved subsidiary service company, American Gas and Electric Service Corporation; and Applicant further claims that no unfairness or inequity in voting power exists within its system.

Therefore, applicant requests that the Commission approve the continuance of the systems of applicant as now constituted and therein proposed as and in full compliance with the provisions of Section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It being the duty of the Commission by virtue of the provisions of Section 11 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 to examine the corporate structure of every registered holding company and subsidiary company thereof, the relationships among the companies in the holding-company system of every such company and the character of the interests thereof and the properties owned or controlled thereby to determine the extent to which the corporate structure of such holding-company system and the companies therein may be simplified, unnecessary complexities therein eliminated, voting power fairly and equitably distributed among the holders of securities thereof, and the properties and business thereof confined to those necessary or appropriate to the operations of an integrated public-utility system; and

It being the duty of the Commission pursuant to Section 11 (b) (1) of said Act to require by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that each registered holding company, and each subsidiary company thereof, shall take such action as the Commission shall find necessary to limit the operations of the holding-company system of which such company is a part to a single integrated public-utility system, and to such other businesses as are reasonably incidental, or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of such integrated public-utility system, except that one or more additional integrated public-utility systems may be retained if the Commission finds that such additional systems satisfy the provisions of clauses (A), (B) and (C) of said Section 11 (b) (1); and

It being the duty of the Commission pursuant to Section 11 (b) (2) of said Act to require by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that each registered holding company, and each subsidiary company thereof, shall take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in the holding-company system does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure, or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders, of such holding-company system, and to require each registered holding company (and any company in the same holding-company system with such company) to take such action as the Commission shall find necessary in order that such holding company shall cease to be a holding company with respect to each of its subsidiary companies which itself has a subsidiary company which is a holding company.

Notice is hereby given of a hearing on the aforementioned application of American Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiaries and generally to determine the manner and extent to which the properties and business of American Gas and Electric Holding-Company System shall be confined to those necessary or appropriate to the operations of an integrated public-utility system, and to determine the action which American Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiary companies shall be required to take, by order of the Commission, in order to limit the operations of American Gas and Electric Holding-Company System to a single integrated public-utility system, and to such other businesses as are reasonably incidental, or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of such integrated public-utility system, except that one or more additional integrated public-utility systems may be retained if the Commission finds that such additional systems satisfy the provisions of clauses (A), (B) and (C) of Section 11 (b) (1) of said Act; and further to determine the extent to which the corporate structures of American Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiary companies may be simplified, unnecessary complexities therein eliminated, and voting power fairly and equitably distributed among the holders of securities thereof, and to determine the steps which said companies shall be required to take, by order of the Commission, in order to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in the American Gas and Electric Holding-Company System does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure, or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders, of American Gas and Electric Holding-Company System.

It is ordered, That the hearing on said matters be held on January 29, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings on such matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is also given to any person whose participation in such proceedings may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before January 22, 1940.

By the Commission.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

AMENDING THE FOREIGN SERVICE REGULATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 1752 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (22 U.S.C. § 132), it is ordered that the Foreign Service Regulations of the United States be, and they are hereby, amended by prescribing the following as Chapter X thereof:

CHAPTER X—LEGAL SERVICES

X-1. Duties of officers of the Foreign Service in connection with extradition proceedings.

(a) Diplomatic representatives. Diplomatic representatives shall perform the following described duties in connection with the extradition from the country to which the representative is accredited of fugitives from justice in the United States:

(1) When so instructed by the Department of State, they shall submit a request for the provisional arrest of the fugitive either to the foreign office or to the competent authority, according to local practice.

(2) Upon the receipt of duly authenticated extradition papers from the Department of State, they shall authenticate the certificates of the Department of State attached to the papers (unless there has been such authentication by the diplomatic representative of the requested country at Washington), and present the requisition for extradition either to the foreign office or to the competent authority of the foreign government, according to local practice.

(b) Consular Officers. In the absence of specific instructions from the Department of State received either directly or through the diplomatic representative, consular officers shall not intervene in extradition matters. When a consular officer is charged with the duty of applying for extradition, he shall present extradition documents to the competent authority of the district to which he is assigned, and shall act strictly in accordance with instructions from the Department of State.

X-2. Authentication of foreign extradition papers. Diplomatic representatives and consular officers of the United States shall follow the procedure prescribed by section 5 of the act of August 3, 1882, 22 Stat. 216 (18 U.S.C. § 655), in authenticating documentary evidence offered by foreign governments in support of requisitions for the extradition of fugitives from the United States.

X–3. Legal services for private persons. Except when authorized by the Department of State, officers of the Foreign Service shall not perform legal services of the kind usually performed by attorneys for private persons.

X–4. Agreements with local attorneys prohibited. Officers of the Foreign Service shall not enter into agreements with attorneys in their districts respecting the performance of legal services for persons applying to the mission or consulate therefor. In appropriate cases, alphabetically arranged lists of names of such attorneys may be furnished to applicants.

When any person in an officer's district desires to have the name of an attorney in the United States, the officer may refer him to such lists of attorneys as are at his disposal, but shall make no recommendation as to any particular attorney.

X–5. Notarial services. In the absence of statutory enactment on the subject, diplomatic officers, except ambassadors and ministers, may, and consular officers shall, perform within the confines of their districts such notarial acts as a notary public is authorized to perform under the general law and according to the usage of nations, provided a request is made for such services, or their performance is deemed necessary.

When statutes governing the performance of such acts have been enacted by the Federal or State Governments, officers shall be guided by the terms of the applicable statute.

X–6. Services of legal process by officers of the Foreign Service. Officers and employees of the Foreign Service are hereby forbidden to serve subpenas, citations, complaints, or other forms of legal process, in connection with cases pending in Federal or State courts of the United States, except as follows:

(a) Service of subpenas. Unless such action is prohibited by local law, officers of the Foreign Service shall, on the request of the clerk of court or the officer requesting such subpena to be issued, serve:

(1) Subpenas issued by the courts of the United States commanding a witness (resident in a foreign jurisdiction, but a citizen of the United States or domiciled therein) who has failed or neglected to appear and give testimony in answer to letters rogatory, or who has appeared and refused to give testimony, to appear before the issuing court at a time and place designated in the subpena. (28 U.S.C. §§ 711; 713.)

(2) Subpenas issued by the courts of the United States at the request of the Attorney General or assistants acting under him, to compel the attendance of a witness (resident in a foreign jurisdiction, but a citizen of the United States or domiciled therein) at the trial of a criminal action. (28 U.S.C. §§ 712; 713.)

(b) Service of orders to show cause. Officers of the Foreign Service shall serve orders to show cause issued in contempt proceedings on a witness who has failed or neglected to appear in answer to a subpena served in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section. (28 U.S.C. §§ 713, 714, 715, and 716.)

(c) Delivery of documents in connection with fraudulent naturalization. Officers of the Foreign Service shall deliver, or assist in delivering, to designated persons, documents relating to fraudulent naturalization when such documents are forwarded by duly authorized officials of the United States courts.

Sections of Regulations Canceled

The following provisions of the Foreign Service Regulations of the United States are hereby canceled:

Part I

Sections XI–8 and XVI–13

EXECUTIVE ORDER

SUSPENSION OF EIGHT-HOUR LAW AS TO PERSONS EMPLOYED BY THE GOVERNMENT IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF CERTAIN EMERGENCY AIR BASES

WHEREAS the act of April 25, 1939, 53 Stat. 590, authorizes the Secretary of the Navy to establish, develop, or increase naval aviation facilities at or in the vicinity of certain places mentioned therein, including Midway Island and Wake Island; and

WHEREAS the Corps of Engineers, United States Army, is engaged in harbor development at Midway Island and Wake Island pursuant to the act of August 26, 1937, 50 Stat. 844, by use of Government forces, and has been requested by the Secretary of the Navy to perform additional work necessary for the establishment of naval aviation facilities at such places; and

WHEREAS by section 1 of the act of August 1, 1892, 27 Stat. 340, as amended by the act of March 3, 1913, 37 Stat. 726 (U.S.C., title 40, sec. 321), the service and employment of all laborers and mechanics employed by the Government upon any public work of the United States, and of all persons employed by the Government to perform services similar to those of laborers and mechanics in connection with dredging or rock excavation in any river or harbor of the United States, is limited to eight hours in any one calendar day except in case of extraordinary emergency; and

WHEREAS it appears that the interests of the national defense require the establishment of naval aviation facilities at the said Midway and Wake Islands at the earliest practicable date; and

WHEREAS it further appears that because of the isolation of such places from sources of labor supply it will be impossible to accomplish the work required in the establishment of such facilities within the time required by the interests of the national defense unless the said eight-hour limitation is suspended as to persons employed by the Government upon such work; and

WHEREAS I find that by reason of the foregoing an extraordinary emergency exists:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 1 of the said act of August 1, 1892, as amended by the said act of March 3, 1913, and as President of the United States, I hereby suspend the abovementioned provisions of law prohibiting more than eight hours labor in any one day of persons employed by the Government of the United States as to all work authorized and performed under the said acts of August 26, 1937, and April 25, 1939, at or in the vicinity of Midway Island and Wake Island.

CHANGING THE NAME OF THE PATHFINDER WILDLIFE REFUGE AND ADDING CERTAIN LANDS THERETO

WYOMING

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States, and by the act of June 25, 1910, ch. 421, 36 Stat. 847, as amended by the act of August 24, 1912, ch. 369, 37 Stat. 497, and in order to effectuate further the purposes of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act (45 Stat. 1222), it is ordered as follows:

Section 1. The name of the Pathfinder Wildlife Refuge in Carbon and Natrona Counties, Wyoming, established by Executive Order No. 7425 of August 1, 1936,[1] is hereby changed to Pathfinder National Wildlife Refuge.

Section 2. Subject to valid existing rights, the following-described public lands in Natrona County, Wyoming, are hereby included in and reserved as a part of the said refuge:

Sixth Principal Meridian

T. 30 N., R. 85 W., sec. 30, lots 1, 2, and 3, E½NW¼ and NE¼SW¼;
T. 30 N., R. 86 W., sec. 25, NE¼.

Section 3. The lands herein reserved have been withdrawn for reclamation purposes in connection with the North Platte project, and are primarily under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior for use in connection with that project. The reservation of such lands as an addition to the Pathfinder National Wildlife Refuge is subject to the use thereof by the said Department for irrigation and incidental purposes.

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Order No. 69]

IN THE MATTER OF UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS TO BE PRESCRIBED FOR NATURAL-GAS COMPANIES SUBJECT TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE NATURAL GAS ACT (DOCKET NO. G-137)

ORDER PRESCRIBING A SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS FOR NATURAL-GAS COMPANIES UNDER THE NATURAL GAS ACT

NOVEMBER 3, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) Section 8 (a) of the Natural Gas Act authorizes the Commission to prescribe a system of accounts to be kept by natural-gas companies and to classify such natural-gas companies and prescribe a system of accounts for each class;

(b) Copies of a tentative draft, dated May 15, 1939, of a uniform system of accounts to be prescribed for natural-gas companies subject to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act, were, on June 20, 1939, sent by the Commission to State commissions, natural-gas companies and other interested persons and organizations, and comments and suggestions with respect thereto were requested to be filed with the Commission on or before July 10, 1939;

(c) The Commission received comments and suggestions with respect to said tentative draft from certain State commissions, natural-gas companies and others;

(d) On September 6, 1939, the Commission adopted an order[1] in Docket a date for hearing for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the adoption of the proposed uniform system of accounts for natural-gas companies from any State commission, natural-gas company, or person, corporation or organization having an interest in the matter;

(e) Said order of September 6, 1939, was sent by the Commission to State commissions, persons engaged in the natural-gas business and other persons and organizations, and a copy thereof was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the issue of September 12, 1939;

(f) A public hearing in this matter was held on September 27 and 28, 1939, before the Commission sitting en banc, and oral and documentary evidence was duly received from the Commission's staff, State commissions, a Committee representing the American Gas Association, representatives of the natural-gas industry and others; and memorandum briefs were subsequently filed by representatives of the natural-gas industry pursuant to permission granted at said hearing;

The Commission, having considered the record made in this proceeding by oral and documentary evidence and briefs filed, and acting pursuant to authority granted by the Natural Gas Act (52 Stat. 821), particularly Sections 8 (a), 10 (a) and 16 thereof, and finding such action necessary and appropriate for carrying out the provisions of said Act, orders that:

(A) The accompanying system of accounts, entitled "Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Natural-Gas Companies Subject to the Provisions of the Natural Gas Act," and the rules and regulations contained therein,[2] be and they are hereby adopted;

(B) Said system of accounts and said rules and regulations contained therein be and the same are hereby prescribed and promulgated as the system of accounts and rules and regulations of the Commission to be kept and observed by natural-gas companies subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, to the extent and in the manner set forth therein;

(C) Said system of accounts and rules and regulations therein contained shall, as to all natural-gas companies now subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, become effective on January 1, 1940, and as to any natural-gas company which may hereafter become subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, they shall become effective as of the date when such natural-gas company becomes subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission;

(D) A copy of said system of accounts and rules and regulations contained therein be forthwith served upon each person which may be subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission under the Natural Gas Act;

(E) The Secretary of the Commission shall cause this order and the system of accounts prescribed thereby to be forthwith published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

CHAPTER I—FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

PROMULGATION OF REGULATION TEMPORARILY POSTPONING THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF CERTAIN OF THE LABELING PROVISIONS OF THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT

Under the authority of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1939 (Public—No. 151—76th Congress), the following regulations temporarily postponing the effective date of certain labeling provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act is hereby promulgated.

§ 9.01 Effective date of certain labeling provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act temporarily postponed in certain cases. (a) The effective date of the provisions of sections 403 (e) (1), 403 (g), (h), (i), (j), and (k), 502 (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h), and 602 (b) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act is hereby postponed to July 1, 1940, with respect to any stock of lithographed labeling which was manufactured prior to February 1, 1939, and to any stock of containers bearing labeling which, prior to February 1, 1939, was lithographed, etched, stamped, pressed, printed, fused, or blown on or in such containers—

(1) If such stock is used by the person for whom it was manufactured, or by a bona fide successor to the business;

(2) If the quantity of such stock held by such person on January 1, 1940, exceeds 10 percent of the total stock of such labels or containers used during the calendar year 1939:

(3) If such person keeps until July 1, 1941, records showing the amount of such stock used during the calendar year 1939 and the amount on hand on January 1, 1940;

(4) If such person makes such records available at all reasonable hours until July 1, 1941, to any officer or employee of the Food and Drug Administration who requests them;

(5) If non-compliance with the sections of the Act hereinbefore specified does not make such labeling misleading by reason of its failure to reveal facts material in the light of representations made or suggested by statement, word, design, device, or any combination thereof in such labeling, or material with respect to consequences which may result from the use of the article to which such labeling relates under the conditions of use prescribed in such labeling or under such conditions of use as are customary or usual; and

(6) If such labeling would have complied with the requirements of the Federal Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, as amended.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a), such subsection shall not apply—

(1) To the provisions of section 502 (d) of the act, insofar as such provisions relate to morphine, opium, cocaine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, cannabis, chloral, or any derivative of any such substance;

(2) To the provisions of section 502 (e) of the act, insofar as such provisions relate to alcohol, chloroform, or acetanilid, or any derivative or preparation of any such substance; or

(3) To the provisions of section 502 (b), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) of the act, insofar as such provisions relate to drugs to which section 505 of the act applies.

This regulation shall take effect upon filing with the Archivist of the United States and publication of same in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 5, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

DECEMBER 1, 1939.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) Copies of the Commission's Orders Nos. 51 and 53[1] having been duly served upon the Central New York Power Corporation;

(b) On January 5, 1939, the Commission issued an Order to Show Cause directed to Central New York Power Corporation directing said company under oath, to show cause, if any, on or before January 18, 1939, why the Commission should not institute appropriate proceedings against said company for failure to comply with the provisions of the Commission's Order No. 51:

(c) On January 18, 1939, Central New York Power Corporation filed a purported response to said Order to Show Cause in which it asserted in substance that it was not a natural-gas company subject to the Commission's jurisdiction under the Natural Gas Act:

The Commission orders that:

(A) Central New York Power Corporation show further cause, if any there be, at a public hearing:

(1) Why it should not be determined to be a natural-gas company as defined in the Natural Gas Act;

(2) Why it should not be required to comply with the Commission's Orders Nos. 51 and 53;

(3) Why the Commission should not institute appropriate proceedings against said company for failure to comply with the directions contained in the Commission's Orders Nos. 51 and 53;

(B) Said public hearing be held commencing on December 20, 1939, at ten o'clock a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1757 K Street, NW., Washington, D. C.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF APPLICATIONS FILED BY WILLIAM MCCLELLAN, EDWARD T. GUSHEE, JOHN A. WOODBRIDGE, ALLEN VAN WYCK, ROBERT SEALY, LOUIS E. DICKINSON, GEORGE K. MILTENBERGER, HERMANN SPOEHRER, JOHN L. GANZ, JOHN G. JOHANSEN, EUGENE R. KROPP, GEORGE H. HARTWEIN, AND EARL F. DOYLE

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

DECEMBER 1, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) Upon applications separately filed by the following named applicants: William McClellan (ID-434), Robert Sealy (ID-597), Louis E. Dickinson, (ID-329), George K. Miltenberger (ID-462), Hermann Spoehrer (ID-617), John L. Ganz (ID-372), John G. Johansen (ID-792), Eugene R. Kropp, (ID-505), George H. Hartwein (ID-829), and Earl F. Doyle (ID-332), pursuant to Sec. 305 (b) of the Federal Power Act for authorization to hold certain interlocking positions within the purview of Sec. 305 (b), the Commission has heretofore authorized said applicants severally to hold said positions and that the orders of authorization heretofore made reserve to the Commission the right to require the applicants to make further showing that neither public nor private interests will be adversely affected by reason of the applicants' holding of said positions;

(b) Original applications have been filed by applicants Edward T. Gushee, ID-891, John A. Woodbridge, ID-892, Allen Van Wyck, ID-884, and supplemental applications have been filed by applicants William McClellan, ID-434, Robert Sealy, ID-597, and Louis E. Dickinson, ID-329, for authority to hold certain positions for which no authorization has as yet been granted;

(c) It is in the public interest that each of the above named applicants make further showing at this time that neither public nor private interests will be adversely affected by reason of his holding positions within the purview of Sec. 305 (b) for which authorization has already been granted or for which authorization is now sought;

(d) Such further showing can best be made in the form and manner of a public hearing held for that purpose;

The Commission orders that:

A public hearing on the said applications be held beginning the 8th day of January, 1940, at 10 a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., and that at said hearing each of the above named applicants make further showing that neither public nor private interests will be adversely affected by reason of his holding positions within the purview of Sec. 305 (b) of the Federal Power Act.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF MORGAN STANLEY & CO., INCORPORATED, BONBRIGHT & COMPANY, INCORPORATED

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A request for a finding pursuant to Rule U-12F-2 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 4, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 4, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the status under Rule U-12F-2 of Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated, or Bonbright & Company, Incorporated, or both of them as prospective underwriters of the securities proposed to be issued by Consumers Power Company as proposed in a declaration now pending before the Commission in File No. 43–270.

It is further ordered, That the above-captioned matter be consolidated with the proceedings under File No. 43–270.

IN THE MATTER OF AMERICAN STATES UTILITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to Rule U–12C–1 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 18, 1939, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceedings shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 18, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to an application by American States Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company, relating to the acquisition and retirement by it of certain shares of its 5½% cumulative preferred stock, $25 par value. Applicant states that it has received $20,000 as part payment on a demand note of Grimes Pass Power Company, a subsidiary company, and that it proposes to use such funds for such purposes. It is stated that tenders of the preferred stock will be requested from the holders thereof, at prices to be specified by such holders, and it is estimated that the maximum number of shares to be acquired by the applicant (based on tenders at $16 per share) will be 1,250 shares.

IN THE MATTER OF ROGERS-MAJESTIC CORPORATION, LTD., CLASS "A" STOCK WITHOUT PAR VALUE (VOTING)

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

Continuance of unlisted trading privileges on the New York Curb Exchange in the Class "A" Stock, Without Par Value, of Rogers-Majestic Corporation, Ltd., having been permitted by action of this Commission on October 1, 1934; and

Said Exchange, pursuant to paragraph (b) of Rule X–12F–2, having applied to this Commission setting forth that there are being effected changes in said security other than those specified in paragraph (a) of said Rule and asking the Commission to determine that said security after said changes is substantially equivalent to the said security heretofore admitted to unlisted trading privileges; and

The Commission having considered the matter;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 12 (f) and 23 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rule X–12F–2 (b) promulgated thereunder, that the determination sought by said application is made and the application is hereby granted.

IN THE MATTER OF METROPOLITAN EDISON COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

It appearing to the Commission that Metropolitan Edison Company, a subsidiary of a registered holding company, is about to declare and pay dividends on the capital stock of such company in contravention of Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U–12C–2 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, and the payment and declaration of which should be prohibited by order entered under Section 12 (c) to protect the financial integrity of Metropolitan Edison Company, to safeguard the working capital of Metropolitan Edison Company, to prevent the payment of dividends out of capital or unearned surplus of Metropolitan Edison Company, and to prevent the circumvention of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations or orders thereunder;

It is ordered, That Metropolitan Edison Company show cause why this Commission should not enter its order, pursuant to Section 12 (c) and, pursuant to Rule U–12C–2, preventing the declaration and payment of dividends on the capital stock of such company;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 11, 1939 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the Securities and Exchange Commission, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why this Commission should not enter its order pursuant to Section 12 (C) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and pursuant to Rule U–12C–2, preventing the declaration or payment of further dividends.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice and to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such company and to any person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 7, 1939.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1939

Important. Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears.

Kentucky Utilities Company having also filed an application pursuant to Section 7 of said Act regarding the assumption of liability on outstanding First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, 5% Series due 1952, of Lexington Utilities Company;

Public hearings having been duly held on said matters after appropriate notice;

It is ordered, That said applications be approved and that said declaration be and become effective forthwith, subject, however, to the following conditions:

1. That the proposed transactions shall be carried out in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions set forth in, and for the purposes represented by, said applications and declaration;

2. That the proposed transactions shall be effected within a period of thirty (30) days following the issuance of this order;

3. That within ten (10) days after completion of such transactions applicants shall file with this Commission certificates of notification showing that said transactions have been effected in substantial compliance with the terms and conditions set forth in, and for the purposes represented by, said applications and declaration.

IN THE MATTER OF KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY AND LEXINGTON UTILITIES COMPANY

ORDER CONSENTING TO WITHDRAWAL OF APPLICATIONS AND DECLARATION

Kentucky Utilities Company, a registered holding company, and its subsidiary Lexington Utilities Company having filed with the Commission on August 29, 1938 joint applications pursuant to Sections 6 (b) and 10 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding certain transactions whereby said companies would be consolidated under the laws of Kentucky into a consolidated corporation to be known as Kentucky Utilities Company;

Said companies having also filed on said date a joint application and declaration pursuant to Section 11 (g) and Rules U-12E-3, U-12E-4 and U-12E-5 of said Act regarding a report on said consolidation and the solicitation of assents thereto;

Said companies having thereafter filed on October 19, 1939 requests for permission to withdraw said applications and declaration;

Having due regard for the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers, the Commission hereby consents to the withdrawal of said applications and declarations, and to that effect

It is so ordered.

IN THE MATTER OF AMERICAN UTILITIES SERVICE CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 22, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 18, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to a declaration filed pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by American Utilities Service Corporation, a registered holding company, with respect to the reduction in interest of the declarant's 6% Serial Notes.

It is stated that the declarant has entered into an agreement with Schroder Trust Company of New York, owner of an issue of said 6% Serial Notes of which $240,000 aggregate principal amount is outstanding, providing: (a) that upon the payment of $25,000 on account of the Serial Note due January 1, 1940, and $25,000 on account of the Serial Note due January 1, 1945, the rate of interest on the remaining amount of such note indebtedness shall be reduced from 6% to 5% per annum; (b) that after January 1, 1940, and upon the payment of the balance of the principal amount of $25,000 of the Serial Note maturing January 1, 1940, the payment of $5,000 on the principal amount of the Serial Note due January 1, 1944, and the payment of $20,000 on the principal amount of the Serial Note due January 1, 1945, the interest on the remaining amount of such note indebtedness shall be further reduced from 5% to 4% per annum; (c) that with the exception of such prepayments as described above, the declarant shall pay a premium of ½ of 1% on all prepayments of notes which mature six months or more subsequent to the date of such prepayment.

It is further stated that the terms of an agreement between the declarant and Schroder Trust Company of New York, also owner of an issue of 6% Serial Notes of which $75,000 aggregate principal amount is outstanding, provide that when the principal amount of such notes has been reduced to $50,000, the rate of interest on the remaining notes outstanding shall be reduced from 6% to 5% per annum.

IN THE MATTER OF PHILADELPHIA COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application or declaration pursuant to section 6 (b) or section 7 (whichever is applicable) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 19, 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobinger or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 16, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the reduction of the stated value of the common stock of the applicant from $10 per share to $7.25 per share. The applicant proposes to transfer to a reserve for revaluation of assets (1) the balance of its unsegregated surplus account amounting to $13,001,224 as of September 30, 1939, as well as (2) the capital surplus of $13,200,960 created by the reduction in the stated value of its common stock except not to exceed $5,000,000 which would remain as capital surplus. The applicant anticipates, and by setting up this reserve intends to make provision for losses on its investments in Pittsburgh Railways Company, the subsidiaries thereof, and companies operated by the Trustees of Pittsburgh Railways Company, which investments total $52,771,505 as of September 30, 1939. Reorganization proceedings for Pittsburgh Railways Company are pending under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act.

CENTRAL MAINE POWER COMPANY

ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER FOR PURPOSE OF TAKING ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

The Commission having in its order of November 28, 1939, approved the amended application of Central Maine Power Company, a subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company, filed pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale of

(1) $1,250,000 principal amount of Central Maine Power Company's First and General Mortgage Bonds, Series K, 4%, due 1964, to The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States at a price of 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from September 1, 1939, and

(2) 5,000 shares of no par value common stock of Central Maine Power Company at a price of $100 per share to New England Public Service Company (subject to the preemptive right to purchase by the other common and 6% preferred stockholders of Central Maine Power Company); and

The Commission in said order of November 28, 1939 having in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers reserved jurisdiction to determine at a later date whether the finder's fee to be paid to Coffin & Burr, Incorporated, and The First Boston Corporation for negotiating the sale of said bonds is or is not reasonable, and the Commission having ordered that no finder's fee shall be paid by Central Maine Power Company until further order of this Commission; and

The Commission desiring at this time to take further evidence with respect to such finder's fee and its reasonableness for the purpose of issuing a further order with respect thereto;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 9, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Boston Regional Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Shawmut National Bank Building, 52 Devonshire Street, Boston, Massachusetts. On such day the clerk in room 426 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Adrian C. Humphreys or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to Central Maine Power Company and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

IN THE MATTER OF GREAT NORTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY

ORDER DESIGNATING A NEW TRIAL EXAMINER

The above named party having filed an application pursuant to Sections 10 (a) (2) and 10 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; the Commission by order dated November 15, 1939 having set said matter down for hearing on December 5, 1939 at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the Securities and Exchange Building, Washington, D. C.; and the Trial Examiner designated to preside at said hearing now being engaged in another matter and unable to preside at said hearing;

It is ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission, be, and he hereby is, designated to preside at such hearing in the place and stead of and with the same powers and duties as the Trial Examiner hereinbefore designated to preside at such hearing.

IN THE MATTER OF ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC CORPORATION

ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATION OF HEARINGS FOR STATED PURPOSES

The Commission now having pending before it the following related matters:

(1) File No. 51-25: Application of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, pursuant to Rule U-12C-3, for an order of the Commission permitting the payment of certain interest on applicant's debentures;

(2) File No. 60-8: Proceeding brought by the Commission, pursuant to Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, requiring Associated Gas and Electric Corporation to show cause why the Commission should not enter its order, pursuant to said Section, preventing the declaration or payment of further dividends by such company;

The above two matters having been consolidated for purposes of hearing thereon by order of the Commission dated November 21st, 1939;

(3) File No. 43-256: Declaration filed by Associated Gas and Electric Corporation respecting extension, until March 15, 1945, of $8,589,980 principal amount of 8% 8-year Gold Bonds, due March 15, 1940;

It appearing that such proceedings involve common questions of law and fact and that evidence offered in respect to any matter may have a bearing on the other matters, and that substantial saving in time, effort and expense will result if the hearings on said matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter and so that the evidence adduced in any matter may stand as evidence in the others for all purposes;

It is ordered, That the matters referred to in (1), (2), and (3) hereof, Commission's File Nos. 51-25, 60-8, and 43-256, be and they hereby are consolidated for the purpose of hearings thereon. The Commission reserves the right, if at any time it may appear conducive to an orderly and economic disposition of any of such matters, to order a separate hearing with respect to such matter, or to close the record with respect to any matter and/or to take action thereon prior to closing the record on the other matters or any of them.

IN THE MATTER OF GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, ELECTRICAL SECURITIES CORPORATION, AND G. E. EMPLOYEES SECURITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to section 3 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 21, 1939, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 15, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to a joint and several application by General Electric Company, Electrical Securities Corporation and G. E. Employees Securities Corporation pursuant to section 3 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for an extension of the exemption heretofore granted them by the Commission's order of March 16, 1938, said prior order, being set forth in Holding Company Act Release No. 1031, 3 S.E.C. 243, and providing

"It is further ordered, That the exemption herein granted shall expire at the close of business December 31, 1939, without prejudice to the right of said applicants, or any of them, to apply, on or before that date, for an extension of the time during which this order shall be effective."

Said applicants now pray that said order be extended at least until the close of business on December 31, 1941.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE MANNER OF EXECUTING AND RETURNING COMMISSIONS BY OFFICERS OF THE FOREIGN SERVICE IN CRIMINAL CASES, AND SCHEDULE OF FEES AND COMPENSATION IN SUCH CASES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by sections 3 (c) and 8 of the act of June 20, 1936, entitled "An Act Relating to the Admissibility in Evidence of Certain Writings and Records Made in the Regular Course of Business" (49 Stat. 1563, 1564; 28 U.S.C. Supp. secs. 695b (c), 695g), and by section 1752 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (22 U.S.C. sec. 132), I hereby prescribe the following regulations governing the manner in which officers of the Foreign Service shall execute and return commissions issued in criminal cases under the provisions of the said act of June 20, 1936, and the schedule of fees and compensation allowable in such cases:

1. Execution and return of the commission. Officers of the Foreign Service shall execute and return commissions to take testimony in connection with foreign documents issued in criminal cases under the authority of the said act of June 20, 1936, in accordance with sections 4 and 5 of that act (28 U.S.C. Supp. secs. 695c, 695d), and in accordance with any special instructions which may accompany the commission. For details not covered by such sections or by special instructions, officers of the Foreign Service shall be guided by such instructions as may be issued by the Department of State in connection with the taking of depositions generally.

2. Schedule of fees payable to witnesses, foreign counsel, and interpreters.

(a) Witnesses. Each witness whose testimony is obtained under a commission to take testimony in connection with foreign documents for use in criminal cases shall be entitled to receive compensation at the rate of $5 a day for each day of attendance, plus 5 cents a mile for going from his place of residence or business to the place of examination and returning, by the shortest feasible route. When, however, it is necessary to procure the attendance of a witness on behalf of the United States or an indigent party, an officer or agent of the United States may negotiate with the witness to pay compensation at such higher rate as may be approved by the Attorney General, plus the mileage allowance stated above. The compensation and mileage of each witness shall be paid by the party, or parties, applying for the commission, unless the commission is accompanied by an order of court that all fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations are chargeable to the United States under section 7 of the said act of June 20, 1936 (28 U.S.C. Supp. sec. 695f (b)).

(b) Counsel. Each counsel who represents a party to the action or proceeding in the examination before the commissioner shall receive compensation for each day of attendance at a rate of not less than $5 a day and not more than $25 a day, as agreed between him and the party whom he represents, plus such actual and necessary expenses as may be allowed by the commissioner upon verified statements filed with him. If the commission is issued on application of the United States, the compensation and expense of counsel representing each party are chargeable to the United States. If the commission is issued on application of any other party, the compensation and expense of counsel shall be paid by the party whom such counsel represents, unless the commission is accompanied by an order of court that all fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations are chargeable to the United States under section 7 of the said act of June 20, 1936 (28 U.S.C. Supp. sec. 695f (b)).

(c) Interpreters and translators. Each interpreter and translator employed by the commissioner under these regulations shall receive an allowance of $5 a day, plus 5 cents a mile for going from his place of residence or business to the place of examination and returning, by the shortest feasible route. The compensation and mileage of interpreters and translators shall be chargeable to the United States.

3. Time of payment. Witnesses, counsel, interpretators, and translators shall be paid, in accordance with the foregoing regulations, by the commissioner at the conclusion of their services. Other expenses authorized by these regulations shall be paid by the commissioner as they are incurred.

4. Payment of fees by the United States. When it appears that the commission was issued on application of the United States or when the commission is accompanied by an order of court that all fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations are chargeable to the United States under section 7 of the said act of June 20, 1936 (28 U.S.C. Supp. sec. 695f (b)), the commissioner shall execute the commission without charge for his service as commissioner in connection therewith.

The commissioner shall pay witnesses, counsel, interpreter, or translator, and other expenses authorized by these regulations from the proceeds of a separate draft drawn, when so authorized, upon the Secretary of State, and he shall forthwith render a separate detailed account of such payments, supported by properly receipted vouchers, to the Department of State.

5. Payment by other parties. Whenever fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations are chargeable to any party other than the United States, the commissioner shall be instructed by the Department of State to undertake the execution of the commission only if such party deposits with the Department of State, in advance, an amount to be set by the court, apparently adequate to defray all fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations. If the amount of the deposit is later found to be insufficient, the commissioner shall so notify the Department of State and shall retain the commission and other papers until he is notified by the Department that a sufficient amount has been deposited. If the amount of the deposit exceeds the aggregate amount of fees, compensation, and other expenses authorized by these regulations, the Department shall return the excess to the party, or parties, entitled thereto.

The commissioner shall pay witness, counsel, interpreter, translator, and other expenses authorized by these regulations from the proceeds of a separate draft drawn, when so authorized, upon the Secretary of State, and he shall forthwith render a separate detailed account of such payments, supported by properly receipted vouchers, to the Department of State.

Whereas under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities (including mature onions) as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas the Secretary, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions for mature onions grown in the State of Colorado as would establish prices to the producers of such onions at a level that would give such onions a purchasing power with respect to articles that the producers thereof buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such onions during the base period August 1919–July 1929, conducted a public hearing at Pueblo, Colorado, on October 20, 1939, pursuant to due notice given to all interested parties on October 12, 1939,[1] on a proposed order regulating such handling of such onions as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce in such onions, at which hearing all interested persons in attendance were afforded due opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed order; and

Whereas the Secretary has found and proclaimed[2] that the purchasing power of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado during the period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such onions can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the period August 1919–July 1929, and that the period August 1919–July 1929 is the base period to be used in connection with this order in determining the purchasing power of such onions; and

Whereas the Secretary finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(1) That at the time of the hearing the prices received by producers of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado were at a level that gave such onions a purchasing power with respect to articles that the producers thereof buy appreciably below the purchasing power of such onions during the base period;

(2) That the regulation of shipments of such onions by grades or sizes or combinations thereof, as prescribed herein, will serve to prevent marked fluctuations in prices to the producers thereof, and will establish and maintain a more stabilized market for such onions, tending to establish prices to the producers thereof at a level that will give such onions a purchasing power with respect to articles that the producers thereof buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such onions during the base period;

(3) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and to the smallest regional marketing area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production or marketing areas would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein established, based upon the quantity of mature onions shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable; and

(5) That this order and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to mature onions grown in the State of Colorado by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to the producers thereof at a level that will give such onions a purchasing power with respect to articles that the producers thereof buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such onions during the base period, and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to the producers of such onions above the level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds:

(1) That a marketing agreement regulating the handling of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado, executed on the 5th day of December 1939, upon which a hearing was held on October 20, 1939, was signed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who were not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping mature onions covered by this order) who, during the period January 1, 1938, to December 31, 1938, both dates inclusive, handled not less than fifty (50) percent of the volume of mature onions covered by this order which was marketed during such period in the current of interstate commerce or commerce with Canada, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect such commerce;

(2) That this order regulates the handling of such onions in the same manner as the aforesaid marketing agreement, and that it is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in the said marketing agreement; and

(3) That the issuance of this order is favored by producers who, during the period January 1, 1938, to December 31, 1938, both dates inclusive (which is hereby determined to be a representative period), produced for market within the State of Colorado more than two-thirds (⅔) of the volume of mature onions produced within such production area during the said period for market:

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that such handling of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado as is in the current of interstate commerce or commerce with Canada, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce in such onions, from and after the date herein specified, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

§ 943.1 Definitions. As used herein the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America.

(b) "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246).

(c) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, legal representative, or any organized group of individuals.

(d) "Onions" means and includes all varieties of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado.

(e) "Variety" means a type of onion having similar characteristics, as, for example, the yellow Spanish type, the white Spanish type, the yellow Danvers type, etc.

(f) "Producer" means any person engaged in growing onions in the State of Colorado for market.

(g) "Handler" means any person (except a common carrier of onions owned by another person), who, as owner, agent, or otherwise, first ships onions, or first causes onions to be shipped, by rail, truck, or any other means whatsoever.

(h) "Ship" means to sell, transport, offer for transportation, or ship onions in the current of interstate commerce or commerce with Canada, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect such commerce.

(i) "Fiscal year" means the twelve-month period beginning July 1 of any year and ending June 30 of the following year, both dates inclusive.

(j) "District" means the applicable one of any of the following-described subdivisions of the State of Colorado:

(1) "Northern Colorado District", which shall include the counties of Clear Creek, Jefferson, Arapahoe, Washington, and Yuma, and all counties and portions of counties lying north and west of said counties and between the Continental Divide and the eastern boundary line of the State of Colorado;

(2) "Western Slope District", which shall include all counties and portions of counties lying west of the Continental Divide; and

(3) "Arkansas Valley District", which shall include all other counties and portions of counties not included within the Northern Colorado District and the Western Slope District.*

§ 943.2 Administrative Committee—(a) Establishment and membership. An Administrative Committee is hereby established consisting of nine members, six of whom shall represent producers and three of whom shall represent handlers. There shall be an alternate for each member of the committee.

(b) Representation by districts. The respective districts shall be represented upon the Administrative Committee upon the basis of one producer member and one handler member to represent the Northern Colorado District, two producer members and one handler member to represent the Western Slope District, and three producer members and one handler member to represent the Arkansas Valley District.

(c) Initial members. The initial members of the Administrative Committee and their respective alternates shall be as follows:

(1) From the Northern Colorado District:

Albert Hattendorf, of Brighton, Colorado, as producer member; and Don Plumb, of Greeley, Colorado, as his alternate.

Ray W. Mathews, of Greeley, Colorado, as handler member; and W. B. Gress, of Severance, Colorado, as his alternate.

(2) From the Western Slope District:

Chester Torrey, of Olathe, Colorado, as producer member; and Art Fedler, of Montrose, Colorado, as his alternate.

John Hazelett, of Delta, Colorado, as producer member; and W. T. Atchley, of Delta, Colorado, as his alternate.

Ed Bay, of Olathe, Colorado, as handler member; and H. L. Musgrave, of Montrose, Colorado, as his alternate.

(3) From the Arkansas Valley District:

Harry Ascherman, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, as producer member; and Ed Morrison, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, as his alternate.

Elmer Hostler, of Ordway, Colorado, as producer member; and Harry Grimsley, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, as his alternate.

Dave Cirull, of Pueblo, Colorado, as producer member; and John W. Beaty, of Manzanola, Colorado, as his alternate.

L. R. Russell, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, as handler member; and G. A. Blotz, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, as his alternate.

(d) Nomination and selection of successors to initial members. (1) Nominations of members and their respective alternates, subsequent to the initial members and alternates, shall be made at a meeting or meetings of producers and handlers in each of the districts, at such times (on or before June 1 of each year) and places as the Administrative Committee shall designate. At each of such meetings, the producers or handlers eligible to participate therein shall select a chairman and a secretary therefor. In the election of nominees, each producer and each handler shall be entitled to vote in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. The chairman of each meeting shall announce at such meeting the name of each person for whom votes have been cast, whether as member or as alternate, and the number of votes cast for each such person, and the chairman or the secretary of the meeting shall forthwith transmit such information to the Secretary.

(2) Only producers shall participate in the nominations of producer members and their respective alternates, and only handlers shall participate in the nomination of handler members and their respective alternates. A producer may participate only in the elections held in the district in which he produces onions, and a handler may participate only in the elections held in the district in which he handles onions. In any such election each producer and each handled shall be entitled to cast but one vote on behalf of himself, his agents, partners, affiliates, subsidiaries, and representatives for each nominee to be elected. Cumulative or proxy voting shall not be allowed.

(3) The producers and the handlers in each district shall elect two nominees for each member and two nominees for each alternate from such district, and the Secretary shall select the members of the Administrative Committee and their respective alternates for each such district from among the nominees elected by the producers and the handlers in such district and upon the basis of the representation set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) Eligibility for membership. Producer members of the Administrative Committee and alternates for such members must be producers of onions in the district in and for which they are nominated and selected, and handler members of the committee and alternates for such members must be handlers of onions in the district in and for which they are nominated and selected.

(f) Failure to nominate. In the event nominations, subsequent to the selection by the Secretary of the initial members and their respective alternates, are not made and the names of such nominees are not submitted to the Secretary on or before June 1 of any year, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, the Secretary may select such members and alternates without regard to nominations.

(g) Qualification by members and alternates. Any person selected by the Secretary as a member or as an alternate for a member of the Administrative Committee shall qualify therefor by filing a written acceptance thereof with the Secretary within 20 days after being notified of such selection.

(h) Term of office. The initial members and their respective alternates shall hold office for a term beginning on the date designated by the Secretary and ending June 30, 1940, and until their successors are selected and have qualified. Members and alternates selected subsequent to the initial term shall serve during the fiscal year for which they have been selected and until their successors are selected and have qualified.

(i) Alternate members of Administrative Committee. An alternate for a member shall act in the place and stead of such member during such member's absence, or, in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of such member, until a successor for such member is selected and has qualified.

(j) Vacancies. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure to qualify of any person selected as a member or as an alternate for a member of the Administrative Committee, or, in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any member or of any alternate, nominations and selection to fill such vacancy shall be made in the manner set forth in this section. If nominations to fill such vacancy are not made or the names of such nominees are not submitted to the Secretary within 20 days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may fill such vacancy without regard to nominations.

(k) Compensation and expenses. The members and the alternates for members of the Administrative Committee shall serve without compensation, but they may be reimbursed for expenses incurred by them in the performance of their duties and in the exercise of their powers.

(l) Powers. The Administrative Committee shall have the following powers:

(1) To administer, as herein specifically provided, the terms and provisions hereof;

(2) To make administrative rules and regulations in accordance herewith, and to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof;

(3) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

(m) Duties. The duties of the Administrative Committee shall be as follows:

(1) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any producer or handler;

(2) To keep minutes, books, and records which will clearly reflect all acts and transactions of the Administrative Committee, which minutes, books, and records shall be subject at any time to examination by the Secretary;

(3) To study and assemble data on the growing, shipping, and marketing conditions respecting onions;

(4) To consult with any committee established pursuant to any marketing agreement or any order of the Secretary with respect to the handling of onions grown in any area covered by such marketing agreement or order;

(5) To furnish to the Secretary such available information as the Secretary requests;

(6) To perform such duties as may be assigned to it from time to time by the Secretary in connection with the administration of Section 32 of the Act to Amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes, Public Act No. 320, 74th Congress (August 24, 1935), as amended;

(7) To cause the books of the Administrative Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each fiscal year and at such other times as the committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary copies of any and all audit reports;

(8) To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such employees;

(9) To give the Secretary the same notice of meetings of the Administrative Committee as is given to the members of the committee; and

(10) To select a chairman of the Administrative Committee and, from time to time, such other officers as it may deem advisable.

(n) Procedure. Voting by mail or telegram shall be permitted, and all decisions of the committee shall be made by not less than six affirmative votes.

(o) Rights of the Secretary. The members of the Administrative Committee, including successors and alternates, and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary for cause at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time and, upon such disapproval, shall be deemed null and void except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

(p) Funds and other property. (1) All funds received by the Administrative Committee pursuant to any of the provisions hereof shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified, and the Secretary may require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

(2) Upon the death, resignation, removal, or expiration of the term of office of any member of the Administrative Committee, all books, records, funds, and other property in his possession shall be delivered to his successor in office or to the committee, and such assignments and other instruments shall be executed as may be necessary to vest in his successor or in the committee full title to all the books, records, funds, and other property in the possession or under the control of such member pursuant hereto.*

§ 943.3 Expenses and assessments—(a) Expenses. The Administration Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions hereunder. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as provided in this section.

(b) Assessments. Each handler shall pay to the Administrative Committee, upon demand, such handler's pro rata share of the expenses as the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the committee for the maintenance and functioning of the committee during each fiscal year. Each handler's pro rata share shall be based upon a rate of assessment fixed by the Secretary and shall be that proportion of such expenses which the total quantity of onions shipped by such handler is of the total quantity of onions shipped by all handlers during such fiscal year. The rate of assessment may be adjusted from time to time by the Secretary in order to cover any later finding by the Secretary of the estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the committee during said fiscal year.

(c) Handler accounts. (1) At the end of each fiscal year the Administrative Committee shall credit each handler with any amount paid by such handler in excess of his pro rata share of the expenses or shall debit such handler with the amount by which his pro rata share exceeds the amount paid by him. Any such debits shall become due and payable upon demand of the committee.

(2) The Administrative Committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain a suit in its own name or in the names of its members for the collections of any handler's pro rata share of expenses.*

§ 943.4 Regulation of shipments by grades and sizes—(a) Recommendation of the Administrative Committee. Whenever the Administrative Committee deems it advisable to regulate the shipment of any variety or varieties of onions by grades or sizes or combinations thereof during any specified period or periods, it shall so recommend to the Secretary. At the time of submitting any such recommendation, the committee shall furnish the Secretary all pertinent data and information upon which it acted in making such recommendation and such other data and information as the Secretary may request. The committee shall promptly give adequate notice to handlers and producers of any such recommendation submitted by it to the Secretary.

(b) Regulation of shipments. Whenever the Secretary finds from the recommendation made by the Administrative Committee, and from the information submitted by the committee or from other available information, that to limit the shipment of any variety or varieties of onions to particular grades or sizes or combinations thereof would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall so limit the shipment of such onions during a specified period or periods. The Secretary shall immediately notify the committee of the issuance of such regulation, and the committee shall promptly give adequate notice thereof to handlers and producers.

(c) Exemption certificates. (1) Before the institution of any limitation of shipments pursuant to this section, the Administrative Committee shall adopt and announce the procedural rules by which exemption certificates will be issued to producers. Whenever the committee recommends to the Secretary a regulation of shipments pursuant to this section, the committee shall determine the percentage which the quantity of grades and sizes of each variety of onions permitted to be shipped under such regulation bears to the total quantity of such variety of onions which could be shipped in the absence of such regulation, and the committee shall forthwith announce this percentage. An exemption certificate shall thereafter be issued to any producer who furnishes proof that he will be prevented, because of the regulation established, from shipping as large a percentage of his onions of any specified variety or varieties as the percentage for all producers as determined by the committee. Such exemption certificate shall permit the producer to ship or cause to be shipped that quantity of the regulated grades and sizes of such variety or varieties of onions as will enable him to ship or cause to be shipped as large a percentage of his onions of such variety or varieties as the percentage for all producers.

(2) If any producer is dissatisfied with the action taken with respect to his application for an exemption certificate, he may appeal to the Secretary, whose decision in the matter shall be final and conclusive.

(3) The Secretary shall have power to modify, change, alter, or amend any such procedural rules and any exemption granted under this paragraph.

(d) Inspection and certification. During any period in which the Secretary has regulated shipments pursuant to this section, each handler shall, prior to making each shipment of onions, cause such shipment to be inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service. Promptly thereafter, such handler shall submit to the Administrative Committee a copy of the Federal-State Inspection certificate, showing the grades and sizes of onions, issued on each such shipment.*

§ 943.5 Reports. Upon the request of the Administrative Committee, made with the approval of the Secretary, each handler shall furnish the committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes, such information as will enable it to exercise its powers and to perform its duties hereunder.*

§ 943.6 Liability of Administrative Committee members. No member, alternate member, or employee of the Administrative Committee shall be held liable, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any handler or to any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate member, or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.*

§ 943.7 Compliance and exceptions. (a) Compliance. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, no person shall ship onions, the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions hereof.

(b) Shipments for relief. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right on the part of any person to ship onions for consumption by charitable institutions or for distribution by relief agencies, nor shall any assessment be levied on onions so shipped. The Administrative Committee may prescribe adequate safeguards to prevent onions, shipped for either of such purposes, from entering commercial channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.*

§ 943.8 Agents. The Secretary may, by a designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.*

§ 943.9 Effective time and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in this section.

(b) Termination. (1) The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions hereof by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(2) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions hereof whenever he finds that such provision or provisions obstruct or do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions hereof at the end of any current marketing period whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of the producers of onions who, during such current marketing period, have been engaged in the production of onions for market: Provided, That such majority have, during such period, produced for market more than 50 percent of the total volume of onions produced for market during such period, but such termination shall be effective only if notice thereof is given on or before May 1 of such current marketing period.

(4) The provisions hereof shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

(c) Proceedings after termination. (1) Upon the termination of the provisions hereof, the members of the Administrative Committee then functioning shall, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, continue as joint trustees of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination.

(2) The trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements, or deliver all funds and property on hand, together with all books and records of the Administrative Committee and the joint trustees, to such persons as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all of the funds and claims vested in the committee or the joint trustees pursuant hereto.

(3) Any funds collected for expenses pursuant to the provisions hereof, and held by such joint trustees or such other person, over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses incurred necessarily by the joint trustees or such other person in the performance of their duties hereunder, shall, as soon as practicable after the termination hereof, be returned to the handlers pro rata in proportion to their contributions made pursuant hereto.

(4) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been delivered by the Administrative Committee or its members upon direction of the Secretary, as provided in this paragraph, shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to said funds, property, or claims as are imposed upon the members of the committee or upon the joint trustees.*

§ 943.10 Amendments. Amendments hereto may be proposed, from time to time, by the Administrative Committee or by the Secretary.*

§ 943.11 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination hereof or of any regulation issued pursuant hereto, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision hereof or any regulation issued hereunder, or (b) release or extinguish any violation hereof or of any regulation issued hereunder, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.*

§ 943.12 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue hereof shall cease upon the termination hereof, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence hereof.*

§ 943.13 Separability. If any provision hereof is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.*

§ 943.14 Derogation. Nothing contained herein is or shall be construed to be in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.*

In witness whereof, the Secretary of Agriculture, acting under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, for the purposes and within the limitations therein contained and not otherwise, does hereby execute and issue in duplicate this order under his hand and the official seal of the Department of Agriculture, in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on this 5th day of December 1939, and declares this order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., m. s. t., December 10, 1939.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

CHAPTER I—NATIONAL MUNITIONS CONTROL BOARD

RULES OF PROCEDURE GOVERNING THE ISSUANCE OF LICENSES FOR THE EXPORTATION OF TIN-PLATE SCRAP DURING THE CALENDAR YEAR 1940

In furtherance of the purposes of the Act of Congress approved February 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1140; 50 U. S. C., Sup., 87), which, as stated therein, are:

to protect, preserve, and develop domestic sources of tin, to restrain the depletion of domestic reserves of tin-bearing materials, and to lessen the present costly and dangerously dependent position of the United States with respect to resources of tin.

and in order to assure in the public interest the fair and equitable consideration referred to in section 2 of the Act which reads as follows:

There shall not be exported from the United States after the expiration of sixty days from the enactment of this Act any tin-plate scrap, except upon license issued by the President of the United States. The President is authorized to grant licenses upon such conditions and regulations as he may find necessary to assure in the public interest fair and equitable consideration to all producers of this commodity.

the Secretary of State prescribes the following regulations:

PART 3—DOMESTIC SOURCES OF TIN

SUBPART—ISSUANCE OF LICENSES FOR THE EXPORTATION OF TIN-PLATE SCRAP; RULES OF PROCEDURE

Sec.
3.8 Authority.
3.9 Requests for allotments.
3.10 Original allotments.
3.11 Sworn statement of 1938 production.
3.12 Apportionment of total allotments.
3.13 Additional allotments.
3.16 Fair and equitable consideration.
3.17 Licenses.
3.18 Licenses issued to persons other than producers of tin-plate scrap.
3.19 General statement.

§ 3.8 Authority. The Secretary of State, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in him by Executive Order No. 7297 of February 16, 1936, hereby prescribes, by and with the advice and consent of the National Munitions Control Board, the following rules of procedure in §§ 3.9–3.19 to govern the issuance of licenses for the exportation of tin-plate scrap during the calendar year 1940 under §§ 3.2 to 3.7.*

§ 3.9 Requests for allotments. Each producer of tin-plate scrap who desires to export that commodity during the calendar year 1940, as well as every producer whose scrap is sold to and ultimately exported by third parties, should submit to the Secretary of State not later than December 20, 1939, a request for an allotment, specifying in long tons the quantity of tin-plate scrap which he desires to export or to sell for export between January 1 and December 31, 1940.*

§ 3.10 Original allotments. Allotments will be granted to producers of tin-plate scrap only and will be assigned to producers whose applications have been submitted in accordance with the provisions of § 3.9. Allotments will be based on the individual producer's request therefor with the provision that no allotment of more than 25 long tons shall exceed in amount 20 percent of the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced by him during the calendar year 1938. Requests for allotments of 25 long tons or less may be granted in full, without reference to the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced during the calendar year 1938, provided the producer concerned presents convincing evidence, in the form of a sworn statement, establishing that he will, so far as can be foreseen, during the calendar year 1940, produce at least the equivalent of the allotment which he requests. No allotment assigned under the provisions of this section to any one producer, including his affiliated or associated companies, shall exceed 2,000 long tons.*

§ 3.11 Sworn statement of 1938 production. No producer shall be eligible to receive an allotment under the provisions of § 3.10 until the Secretary of State has received from him a sworn statement setting forth the quantity of tin-plate scrap, in long tons, produced by him during the calendar year 1938. Sworn statements submitted under the provisions of this section shall include the name and address of the producer, the name and location of each factory, and the quantity of tin-plate scrap produced at each factory.*

§ 3.12 Apportionment of total allotments. In the event that it shall be necessary, in order that the quantity of tin-plate scrap to be exported during the calendar year 1940 shall not exceed the total figure to be agreed upon by the National Munitions Control Board, such total shall be apportioned among the applicants for allotments on the basis of 1938 production, with the provision that no allotment shall exceed the quantity specified in the individual producer's request therefor. If an apportionment is unnecessary, allotments will be granted in the order of the receipt of requests therefor until the total figure referred to has been exhausted.*

§ 3.13 Additional allotments. In the event that conditions then existing shall warrant such action, additional allotments may be granted after July 1, 1940, upon such conditions as may be agreed upon by the National Munitions Control Board and announced by the Secretary of State.*

§ 3.16 Fair and equitable consideration. An allotment may be granted at any time during the calendar year 1940, without regard to previous assignments of allotments, to any producer of tin-plate scrap who presents to the National Munitions Control Board, through the Secretary of State, convincing evidence that he is not receiving the fair and equitable consideration referred to in section 2 of the Act approved February 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1140; 50 U.S.C., Sup., 87). Allotments assigned under the provisions of this section shall be granted in such quantities as will assure in the public interest fair and equitable consideration to the producer concerned. All applications for allotments under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by sworn statements, in quintuplicate, setting forth complete and detailed information in support thereof.*

§ 3.17 Licenses. No tin-plate scrap may be exported unless a license authorizing such export shall have been issued by the Secretary of State. Licenses may be issued to any producer who has been assigned an allotment or to any other person or persons authorized by such producer to export tin-plate scrap under his allotment, provided that licenses will not be issued during the first six months of the calendar year for the exportation of tin-plate scrap in quantities in excess of 50 percent of any allotment of 50 long tons or more.*

§ 3.18 Licenses issued to persons other than producers of tin-plate scrap. Any producer who has received an allotment may, if he so desires, authorize any other person or persons to apply for license to export under his allotment tin-plate scrap produced at his factory or factories. The Department of State should be informed promptly of such authorizations when made. Persons other than producers should, in submitting applications for license, assure themselves that an allotment has been assigned covering the particular tin-plate scrap which they desire to export and they should include in the application a statement setting forth the name and address of the factory or factories at which the tin-plate scrap was produced and the quantity produced at each factory.*

§ 3.19 General statement. As stated § 3.5, the Secretary of State will issue export licenses to cover proposed shipments of tin-plate scrap when, in the opinion of the National Munitions Control Board, the issuance of such licenses may be consistent with the purposes of the Act approved February 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1140; 50 U.S.C., Sup., 86–88). The National Munitions Control Board may revoke, cancel, or modify at any time allotments or licenses granted under the rules of procedure herein announced and may modify these rules of procedure whenever, in its opinion, such action is required in order to carry out the purposes of the Act.*

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements.

PROCLAMATION WITH RESPECT TO BASE PERIOD TO BE USED FOR PURPOSE OF MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER REGULATING HANDLING OF MATURE ONIONS GROWN IN STATE OF COLORADO

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, it is hereby found and proclaimed that, with respect to mature onions grown in the State of Colorado, the purchasing power of such onions during the pre-war period, August 1909-July 1914, cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order regulating the handling of such onions, but the purchasing power of such onions can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the period August 1919-July 1929. The period August 1919-July 1929 is, therefore, hereby declared and proclaimed to be the base period to be used in determining the purchasing power of mature onions grown in the State of Colorado for the purpose of the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order[1] regulating the handling of such onions.

In witness whereof, the Secretary of Agriculture has executed this proclamation in duplicate and has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, this 5th day of December 1939.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 5801]

APPLICATION OF FLORIDA CAPITOL BROADCASTERS, INC. (WTAL)

Dated, November 1, 1939; for renewal of license; class of service, broadcast; class of station, broadcast; location, Tallahassee, Fla.; operating assignment specified: Frequency, 1310 kc.; power, 100 w., night; 250 w., day; hours of operation, unlimited

[File No. B 3-R-869]

NOTICE OF HEARING

You are hereby notified that the Commission has examined the above described application and has designated the matter for hearing for the following reasons:

1. To determine the qualifications of the licensee to operate the station.

2. To determine whether Form No. 728, executed by the licensee on August 1, 1938, pursuant to Rule 340.01, and the information submitted by the licensee in response to Section 7 (d) of the application (executed November 1, 1939) for renewal of the station's license for the period beginning December 1, 1939, or either of them, truly and accurately reflect the distribution and ownership of the voting stock of the licensee corporation.

3. To determine whether the station's license, the frequency authorized to be used by the licensee, and the rights therein granted were transferred, assigned, or in any manner disposed of by transfer of the control of the licensee corporation in violation of Section 310 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Because of the licensee's failure to comply with the provisions of Rule 340.01, Section 43.1 of the Rules, and Commission Order No. 37.

5. To determine whether the granting of this application and the continued operation of the station will serve public interest, convenience, and necessity.

The application involved herein will not be granted by the Commission unless the issues listed above are determined in favor of the applicant on the basis of a record duly and properly made by means of a formal hearing.

The applicant is hereby given the opportunity to obtain a hearing on such issues by filing a written appearance in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.382 (b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Persons other than the applicant who desire to be heard must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.102 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

The applicant's address is as follows:

Florida Capitol Broadcasters, Inc.,
Radio Station WTAL,
Thomasville Highway at New County Road,
Tallahassee, Fla.

Dated at Washington, D. C., December 5, 1939.

[File No. 32-150]

IN THE MATTER OF NATIONAL GAS & ELECTRIC CORPORATION, PUBLIC GAS & COKE COMPANY, NATIONAL UTILITIES COMPANY OF MICHIGAN, MICHIGAN FUEL AND LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER ADJOURNING HEARING

The Commission having issued a notice of and order for hearing on the third day of November, 1939, setting the above matter down for a hearing on December 7, 1939; the said notice and order having provided that the hearing would be adjourned in the event that the Public Utilities Commission of Michigan did not approve the merger of National Utilities Company of Michigan and Michigan Fuel and Light Company, and the United States District Court for the Western District of Michigan the amended plan of reorganization of Public Gas & Coke Company, by December 2, 1939;

The applicants having advised the Commission that the Public Utilities Commission of Michigan has not approved said merger or the District Court said reorganization plan, and having requested an adjournment of the hearing until January;

It is ordered, That the hearing on the above matter be adjourned until the 9th day of January, 1940, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

Notice of such adjournment is hereby given to each declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

By the Commission.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

CHAPTER III—AIR SAFETY BOARD, CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY

AMENDMENT OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

At a session of the Air Safety Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of November, 1939:

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, particularly Section 702 (a) (1) thereof, and finding that such action is desirable in the public interest and is necessary to carry out the provisions of, and to exercise and perform its powers and duties under said Act, the Air Safety Board amends its rules and regulations which were promulgated July 11, 1939 and filed with the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 24, 1939 (4 F.R. 3716):

Paragraph (1), relating to Notification, is amended by striking the words "registered number" in the first sentence thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the words "identification mark."

By the Board.

R. D. HOYT,
Executive Officer.

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Authority held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of December 1939:

Acting pursuant to Section 702 (a) (1) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, the Civil Aeronautics Authority approved the above amendment to the rules and regulations of the Air Safety Board.

By the Authority.

CHAPTER III—BUREAU OF FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC COMMERCE

[Order No. 7]

SUB-TITLE B—REGULATIONS RELATING TO COMMERCE

PART 305—FOREIGN TRADE STATISTICS

§ 305.33 is amended to read as follows:

Declarations for exports by railways, ferryboats, and vehicles. (a) Any person who delivers merchandise to any transportation company for exportation from the United States to a foreign country by rail, ferryboat, or vehicle must deliver to the collector of customs at the port through which the merchandise passes into foreign territory export declarations in triplicate on commerce form 7525, showing the kinds, quantities, and values of all merchandise delivered by him or his agent to such carrier for exportation.

(b) The collector shall not permit any car or other vehicle laden with merchandise intended for exportation to any foreign country to depart from the United States until a declaration specifying the kinds, quantities, and values of the merchandise has been delivered to him by the shipper or his agent.

§ 305.38 is amended to read as follows:

Car manifests—Shipper's export declarations. (a) Upon arrival of merchandise for exportation at a border port the carrier must deliver to the collector of customs a car manifest, giving marks and numbers, the name of the shipper or consignor, description of the goods, and the destination thereof. This manifest may be the waybill, or a copy thereof or a copy of the manifest prepared for the foreign customs. The required shipper's export declarations in triplicate must be attached to the car manifest or waybill when delivered to the collector.

(b) Under the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1893, no railway car containing commodities for export will be permitted to leave the United States until the car manifest and shipper's export declarations have been delivered to the collector of customs.

§ 305.39 is amended to read as follows:

Exportation by ferry or vehicle—Shipper's export declarations. The shipper or his agent must deliver shipper's export declarations in triplicate to the customs officer covering all goods exported by ferry, wagon, or other vehicle. The customs officer will retain the original declaration and one copy and deliver a certified duplicate to the shipper, master, or driver as a permit for the exportation of the goods. The driver or person in charge of a vehicle will deliver the certified duplicate to the customs officer when the goods are taken out of the country. The master of a ferry will deliver to the customs officer at the close of each day all duplicates received during that day, accompanied by a statement that such duplicate declarations cover all goods exported on such ferry during that day.

§ 305.40 is amended to read as follows:

Penalty. The agent or other employee of any railway or transportation company who shall transport any merchandise into a foreign country before the delivery of export declarations shall be liable to a penalty of $50.00 for each offense.

§ 305.42 is amended to read as follows:

Shipments from the interior for export. (a) For goods shipped on a through export bill of lading from an interior point to a foreign country or to a non-contiguous territory of the United States, the shipper must prepare and deliver to the carrier the export declaration in triplicate to accompany the waybill to the seaport or border port of exportation.

(b) For shipments from the interior on domestic bills of lading consigned to the seabord for exportation, the export declarations may be delivered to the carrier as prescribed above or mailed to the consignee at the port of exportation.

§ 305.43 is amended to read as follows:

Divided shipments. If a shipment is divided at the port of exit by accident or intention, part being exported in one vessel or car and part in another, the agent of the carrier will note the amount shipped on the declaration attached to the vessel or car manifest. Declarations in triplicate covering subsequent shipments must be prepared by the carrier's agent from records of the previous shipment and be presented to the collector when the remainder is shipped. The number of the original declaration must be noted on each of the copies and duplicates.

§305.44 is amended to read as follows:

Exportations from Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico via the United States. Shipper's export declarations in triplicate must accompany merchandise shipped from Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico for transshipment and exportation from a port in the United States and be delivered by the shipping agent to the collector of customs at such port of exportation, with the name of the exporting vessel noted thereon.

ANTIDUMPING

SAFETY MATCHES FROM FINLAND, AUSTRIA (GERMANY), LATVIA, HOLLAND (THE NETHERLANDS), NORWAY, POLAND AND ESTONIA[1]

DECEMBER 5, 1939.

To Collectors of Customs, Appraisers of Merchandise and Others Concerned:

An investigation conducted by the Department indicates that the domestic match industry is not being injured and is not likely to be injured by reason of the importation into the United States of safety matches of the strike-on-box type. Accordingly, the findings of dumping against safety matches of the strike-on-box type from Finland, Austria (Germany), Latvia, Holland (the Netherlands), Norway, Poland and Estonia, published, respectively, in T.Ds. 44716 and 44718 to 44723, inclusive, of March 23, 1931, are hereby revoked as regards importations made on or after the date hereof. ## TITLE 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

CHAPTER II—RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

REGULATIONS GOVERNING CONTRIBUTIONS AND REPORTS BY EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVES AND THE POSTING OF NOTICES TO EMPLOYEES UNDER THE RAILROAD UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE ACT

Authority for Regulations

Parts 300 to 399 of these regulations are issued by the Railroad Retirement Board under the general authority contained in Section 12 of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act of June 25, 1938. (52 Stat. 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 362) Part 346 of these regulations is prescribed effective as of October 1, 1939, as follows:*

[1] This document affects the tabulation in 19 CFR 12.15.

PART 346—EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVES' CONTRIBUTIONS AND REPORTS

§ 346.01 Statutory Provisions. "(b) Each employee representative shall pay, with respect to his income, a contribution equal to 3 per centum of so much of the compensation of such employee representative as is not in excess of $300 for any calendar month, paid to him for services performed as an employee representative after June 30, 1939. The compensation of an employee representative and the contribution with respect thereto shall be determined in the same manner and with the same effect as if the employee organization by which such employee representative is employed were an employer as defined in this Act." (Sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1102; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358)

(Subsections (g) and (h) of section 8 of the Act, quoted in Sec. 345.01 of these Regulations, are also applicable.)

§ 346.03 Employee representatives' contributions. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, every employee representative shall pay a contribution equal to 3 per centum of the amount of compensation earned by such employee representative, for services rendered on and after July 1, 1939, as an employee representative, and which is paid, excluding, however, that part of such compensation which is in excess of $300 and is earned during any one calendar month.

(b) If, in addition to such compensation as an employee representative for a calendar month, there is payable to such individual for the same calendar month compensation as an employee of an employer as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act, and if the aggregate compensation of such individual as an employee representative and as an employee is more than $300 for the calendar month, then there shall be included in the measure of the contribution required of such employee representative only that proportion of $300 which the amount earned by him as an employee representative bears to such aggregate compensation for that month. In such case, there shall be included in the measure of the contribution required of each employer because of compensation payable to such individual as an employee during that month only that proportion of $300 which the amount of compensation payable by such employer to such individual bears to the aggregate compensation of such individual for that month. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362.)

§ 346.10 Employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution—(a) General. For the period of three calendar months ending September 30, 1939, and for each subsequent period of three calendar months ending December 31, March 31, June 30, and September 30, respectively, of each year, each employee representative shall prepare a report of compensation and contribution, in duplicate, on Form DC–2.

(b) Compensation to be reported. The employee representative's report of compensation and contribution shall give all information required by the prescribed form, including (1) his compensation for services as an employee representative in each month of the quarter, (2) his compensation, if any, in each such month as an employee of an employer under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, (3) his aggregate compensation in covered employment, (4) his compensation subject to employee representative contribution, and (5) the amount of his contribution. If the aggregate compensation in covered employment is $300 or less, the amount of compensation as an employee representative shall be entered as the amount of compensation subject to employee representative contribution. However, if such aggregate compensation is in excess of $300, the figure to be entered as compensation subject to employee representative contribution is obtained by multiplying the compensation earned as an employee representative by 300 and dividing the result by the amount of such aggregate compensation.

(c) Statement of facts as to status. There shall also be included in such report a statement of the facts pertaining to the individual's status as an employee representative, as required by the prescribed forms. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.11 Final employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution. Upon termination of employee representative status, the last report of compensation and contribution of the employee representative on Form DC–2 shall be marked "Final report of compensation and contribution." Such report shall be filed on or before the thirtieth day after the final date on which there is paid compensation with respect to which contribution is required. The period covered by each such report of compensation and contribution shall be plainly written thereon, indicating the final date for which such compensation is earned.

There shall be executed as part of each such final report of compensation and contribution a statement giving the address at which records will be kept from which the compensation reported may be verified and the name of the person keeping the records. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.14 Execution of employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution—(a) In general. Each report of compensation and contribution on Form DC–2 shall be certified by signature and verification under oath or affirmation by the employee representative.

If an individual is an employee representative by reason of regular assignment to or regular employment by an employee representative who is an officer or official representative of a labor organization, such officer or official representative shall certify under oath or affirmation to the truth, correctness, and completeness of the statements contained in the report. If an individual is an employee representative by reason of being an officer or official representative of a labor organization, the truth, correctness, and completeness of the statements contained in the report shall be certified under oath or affirmation by two officers (other than the reporting employee representative) of each railway labor organization with respect to which the individual is an employee representative.

Any oath or affirmation required by this section may be administered by any officer duly authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the laws of the United States or the state or territory wherein such oath is administered, or by a consular officer of the United States.

(b) Authentication by employees of the Board. In lieu of any oath or affirmation prescribed in subsection (a) of this section any certificate requiring such oath or affirmation may be executed and authenticated before an employee of the Board duly designated and authorized to perform such services, in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board for the authentication of annuity applications. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.18 Prescribed forms for employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution. Each employee representative's report of compensation and contribution, together with any prescribed copies and supporting data, shall be filled out in accordance with the instructions and regulations applicable thereto. The prescribed forms may be obtained from the Board at Washington, D. C., or from any regional office. An employee representative will not be excused from making a report of compensation and contribution for the reason that no form has been furnished to such employee representative. Application should be made to the Board for the prescribed forms in ample time to have the report of compensation and contribution prepared, verified, and filed with the proper regional office of the Board on or before the date set for the filing thereof. Reports of compensation and contribution shall be carefully prepared so as to set forth fully and clearly the data called for therein. Reports of compensation and contribution which have not been so prepared will not be accepted, and the submission thereof shall have no effect whatever. In case the prescribed form has not been obtained, a statement made by the employee representative disclosing the period covered and the amount of compensation with respect to which the contribution is required may be accepted as a tentative report of compensation and contribution if accompanied by the amount of contribution due. If filed within the prescribed time, the statement so made will relieve the employee representative from liability for the penalty imposed for the delinquent filing of the report of compensation and contribution, provided that the failure to file a report of compensation and contribution on the prescribed form is not attributable to the fault of the employee representative, and provided further that without unnecessary delay such tentative report is supplemented by a report of compensation and contribution made on the proper form. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.20 Place and time for filing employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution. Each employee representative's report of compensation and contribution shall be filed in the regional office of the Board for the region in which he has his business office as employee representative or, if he has no such office, for the region in which he resides.

The employee representative's report of compensation and contribution for each quarterly period shall be filed on or before the last day of the calendar month following the period for which it is made, except that the report for the period ending September 30, 1939, shall be filed on or before December 31, 1939. If any such last day falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, the report may be filed on the next following business day. If placed in the mails, the report shall be posted in ample time to reach the regional office of the Board, under ordinary handling of the mails, on or before the date on which the report is required to be filed.

§ 346.25 Later filing. A regional director of the Board may fix a date for filing any report of compensation and contribution later than that fixed in Sec. 346.20 but not later than the last day of the second calendar month following the period for which such report is made: Provided, however, That the fixing of such later date shall not extend the due date of the contribution and shall not prevent the running of interest from the due date as fixed in Sec. 346.30. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.30 Payment of employee representatives' contributions. The contribution required to be reported on an employee representative's report of compensation and contribution is due and payable to the Board without assessment or notice, at the time fixed in Sec. 346.20 for filing such report.

Certified or uncertified checks may be tendered as provisional payment of contributions and should be made payable to the Railroad Retirement Board and mailed to the regional office of the Railroad Retirement Board with which the report of compensation and contribution is filed. No employee representative who tenders a check as provisional payment of contribution shall be released from the obligation to make ultimate payment thereof until such check has been duly paid. If a check is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the employee representative by whom such check has been tendered shall remain liable for the payment of the contribution and for all legal penalties and additions to the same extent as if such check had not been tendered. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.40 Penalty for delinquent or false employee representatives' reports of compensation and contribution—(a) Delinquent reports. Unless the employee representative required to file a contribution report establishes to the satisfaction of the Board that a reasonable cause exists for the delinquency, the failure to file a report of compensation and contribution on or before the last date for the filing thereof, as fixed either by Sec. 346.20 or pursuant to Sec. 346.25, shall cause to accrue a penalty equal to the following percentage of the contribution required to be reported thereon:

(1) 5 per cent, if the report of compensation and contribution is filed on or before the thirtieth day after such last date for the filing of such report;

(2) 10 per cent, if the report of compensation and contribution is filed after such thirtieth day and on or before the sixtieth day after such last date for the filing of such report;

(3) 15 per cent, if the report of compensation and contribution is filed after such sixtieth day and on or before the ninetieth day after such last date for the filing of such report;

(4) 20 per cent, if the report of compensation and contribution is filed after such ninetieth day and on or before the one hundred and twentieth day after such last date for the filing of such report; or

(5) 25 per cent, if the report of compensation and contribution is filed after such one hundred and twentieth day or if the report of compensation and contribution is never filed by the employee representative required to file it.

In computing the period of delinquency, all Sundays and holidays after the last date for the filing of such report are counted.

Every employee representative filing a report of compensation and contribution after the last date for the filing thereof, shall securely attach to the report a statement under oath setting out in detail the reason for the delinquency. The Board will determine whether a penalty has been incurred and, if so, will make the assessment.

(b) False reports. If a false or fraudulent employee representative's report of compensation and contribution is willfully made, the penalty is 50 per cent of the total contribution due for the entire period involved, including any contribution previously paid. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.48 Interest. If the employee representative's contribution is not paid to the Board when due, and is not adjusted pursuant to Sec. 346.60, interest accrues at the rate of 1 per centum per month, or fraction of a month. Interest on past due contributions from the due date thereof until the date paid will be assessed after payment of the contributions, and notice and demand made upon the employee representative for payment thereof, in any case in which payment of the contributions is made before assessment. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

§ 346.60 Fractions, adjustments, refunds, assessments, collections, liens, references and appeals. All provisions of Secs. 345.11, 345.12, 345.13, 345.14, 345.15, 345.17, 345.18, 345.20, 345.21, and 345.22 of these Regulations relating to employers, and reports and contributions required of them, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Part, shall be applicable with respect to employee representatives and reports and contributions required of them. (Secs. 8, 12, 52 Stat. 1102, 1107; 45 U.S.C. Sup. IV, 358, 362)

TITLE 25—INDIANS

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

PART 223—JUDGMENT AND LIEU OF ALLOTMENT FUNDS [1]

SUBPART B—REGULATIONS GOVERNING DISBURSEMENT OF PRO-RATA SHARES OF THE JUDGMENT FUND OF THE SHOSHONE TRIBE OF THE WIND RIVER RESERVATION, WYOMING

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Act of July 27, 1939 (53 Stat. 1128-1130), the following regulations governing the disbursement of pro-rata shares of the Shoshone Judgment Fund are hereby promulgated:

§ 223.50 Program required; purposes for which expenditures may be made. Pro-rata shares of the Shoshone Judgment Fund shall be expended only in accordance with an approved program and only for: purchase of land; improvement of land to be acquired or already held by the Indian; erection and improvement of suitable homes; education; medical service, including hospitalization; purchase of building material, farming equipment, livestock, feed, food, seed, grain, tools, machinery, implements, household goods, bedding, clothing, and any other equipment, supplies, or training necessary to enable the Indian to fit himself for or to engage in farming, livestock raising, industry, or such other pursuits or vocations as will enable him to become self-supporting.

§ 223.51 Family programs. The funds of a husband and wife, and of any other adults in a family group, may be used in the execution of a family program, provided the written consent of each individual is filed with the superintendent of the Wind River Indian Agency, Wyoming, hereafter in this subpart referred to as the superintendent. The available funds of a minor may be used in the execution of such family program, only on condition that (a) the funds of such minor are used solely in the development, repair or maintenance of real or personal property owned by said minor or held in trust for him, or in the creation, development, or completion of a project or undertaking or in the production of a gain or profit which will inure directly to the benefit of such minor, (b) title to any real property or fixtures, purchased wholly or in part with his money shall, except with the approval of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, be held in trust for him, or (c) the adults convey to the United States in trust for such minor sufficient real or personal property to assure, in so far as is possible, that the minor upon attaining majority will have, in lieu of the money, property of a value equal to that of his funds used in the execution of the program. The superintendent shall not approve a family program which involves the transfer to a minor, in exchange for his funds, of assets of a nature which will not be useful to him. The written consent of a minor who is 16 years of age or over, duly witnessed by at least two disinterested persons, shall accompany any family program which involves the use of said minor's funds.

§ 223.52 Scope of program. Programs shall contemplate the eventual use of the entire pro-rata share or definitely provide for the conservation of a portion of such share, but in no case shall a program provide for the expenditure in the first year, after its approval, of more than $1,350 for each adult or more than $500 for each minor contributing to the program, and the program shall recognize that future use and expenditures for such program after the first year shall depend upon the proper use of the funds initially authorized to be expended. Expenditures of a minor's funds under this sub-part shall not exceed a total sum of $500 and the remaining $1,850 of each minor's share shall be held intact until his majority, as required in Sec. 2 of the Act of July 27, 1939.

§ 223.53 Authority to withold funds. The superintendent may stop disbursement of funds in the execution of an approved program upon evidence that the Indian is not complying with the program or that the continuation of the program or expenditures thereunder will not result in benefit to the Indian, and he may require either further justification for carrying out the program theretofore approved or the submission of a new program.

§ 223.54 Approval of programs. The superintendent, subject to the limitations described in this sub-part, shall approve or disapprove all programs submitted by Indians for the use and disbursement of pro-rata shares of the Shoshone Judgment Fund. Preference shall be given by the superintendent to programs (a) to establish the Indian in such enterprise or undertaking as will with his resources, training, education, and ability best enable him to succeed in providing for himself and family, (b) for the improvement of housing and living conditions, (c) to assist Indians in obtaining such higher academic or vocational education as will enable them to become self-suporting. Prior to being considered by the superintendent, programs shall be considered and approved by one or more members of the staff of the Wind River Indian Agency who, because of their experience in the fields of endeavor contemplated by the programs, shall be designated by the superintendent to advise and assist the Indians. The Shoshone Business Council may act, or designate a committee of Indians to act, in an advisory capacity in the preparation and consideration of programs. Programs shall be prepared upon an approved form [2] which shall be filled out in duplicate, one copy to be filed at the Wind River Indian Agency, and one copy to remain the property of the Indian.

§ 223.55 Right of appeal. Indians shall have the right of appeal, through the superintendent, to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, (a) from an action by the superintendent in withholding funds under the provisions of Section 223.53, and (b) from an action of the superintendent in disapproving a program under the provisions of Section 223.54. The superintendent shall promptly forward such appeals, with his comments.

[1] Other regulations under Part 223 appear at 4 F.R. 4260 DI.

[2] Forms shall be made available at the Wind River Indian Agency.

vided in Section 223.68, the superintendent shall not, without the approval of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs or his designated representative, (a) approve any expenditure for the purchase of land or an interest in land, or (b) approve any expenditure for the construction of a dwelling or other building estimated to cost $100 or more, except in cases where such construction is in accordance with designs which have already been approved by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Individual land purchases shall not conflict with the tribal program of land purchase, consolidation and use authorized by the Act of July 27, 1939, and the right granted individual Indians by said Act to acquire lands by purchase with restricted funds or by exchange shall not extend to lands on the ceded or opened portion of the Wind River Reservation.

§ 223.57 Issuance of purchase orders. All expenditures from pro-rata share accounts for the purchase of property other than real property shall be by purchase orders which shall be issued by the superintendent and shall be headed "To Any Dealer", and which shall indicate the particular items of purchase and the total sum to be expended, and which shall bear a notation to the effect that no cash shall be given to the Indian under any circumstances; provided, that the superintendent may disburse to the individual to whom the order is issued a reasonable amount of cash to enable him to travel by convenient means to a locality where the goods may be purchased; and provided further, that adult Indians may, upon approval of the Shoshone Business Council and the superintendent, have cash disbursed to them in lieu of a purchase order for the execution of an approved program. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 223.68.

§ 223.58 Purchase of real property. Except as otherwise provided in Section 223.68, payment for purchases of real property shall be made by the superintendent, and shall be made only after title to such property has been examined and approved by the Secretary of the Interior and the deed placed of record. Purchases of real property are subject to the provisions of Section 223.56.

§ 223.59 Trust status of property. All personal property purchased shall be covered by a bill of sale in the name of the superintendent in trust for the individual. All real property purchased shall be taken in the name of the United States in trust for the Indian, except that title to real property situated outside the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation shall not be taken in trust without the prior approval of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. All livestock purchased and the offspring thereof shall be branded ID and also marked with the individual brand of the Indian. All property, including livestock, whether originally purchased or the income or increase therefrom, shall be held in trust unless released by the superintendent in the form of a permit or written record authorizing the sale or disposition of any such property or funds. It shall be the duty of the Indian, in carrying out his program, to make every effort to maintain the capital value of his original investment, and sales or other disposals depleting such capital value shall not be permitted except in cases where, in the opinion of the superintendent, such sales or disposals are clearly to the advantage of the Indian. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 223.68.

§ 223.60 Allowances for support. The superintendent may, upon a proper showing, make expenditures for the maintenance and support of aged, infirm, decrepit, and incapacitated Indians, whether adult or minor, at a rate of not to exceed $40 a month for adults and $20 a month for minors. Allowances to minors must be solely for their direct benefit. In the case of allowances to an adult probable expectancy of life shall be considered in determining the amount of such allowances in order that, in so far as possible, his funds shall last during his lifetime.

§ 223.61 Medical treatment. The superintendent may expend not to exceed $200 from the funds of any adult or minor to cover medical, dental, surgical, or hospital treatment, including nurse's services.

§ 223.62 Education. The superintendent may permit the expenditure of not to exceed $25 per year from any minor's account for clothing on account of school needs. In addition, the superintendent may expend not to exceed $175 a year from the funds of any minor in the ninth grade or above for his tuition, board and room, and other expenses in a government, private, public, or mission school. The superintendent shall give special attention to the educational needs of minors.

§ 223.63 Approval for certain expenditures. Authority for the expenditure of amounts in excess of the limitation provided in Section 223.60 must be obtained from the Secretary of the Interior and authority for the expenditure of amounts in excess of those authorized in Section 223.61 and 223.62 must be obtained from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Such requests for authorization shall be submitted by the superintendent with a full explanation of the circumstances and his recommendations.

§ 223.64 Transfer of funds. When an Indian who is entitled to a pro-rata share of the Shoshone Judgment Fund is a resident within the jurisdiction of another Indian Agency, the superintendent may transfer to the superintendent of such other Agency, to the credit of such Indian, the share of the Shoshone Judgment Fund to which such Indian is entitled. All funds so transferred shall be expended in accordance with this sub-part.

§ 223.65 Repayment of loans. The superintendent shall draw checks against the funds of an individual for the repayment of all debts due by him, according to the terms of the agreement signed by the individual, to the United States or to the Shoshone and Arapaho Tribes. If the individual has borrowed from the tribal funds, repayment of all or a part of which loan is not due under the loan agreement, an amount equal to the unpaid balance of the loan, plus interest computed at the rate and for the term agreed upon in the loan agreement, shall be withheld by the superintendent, except that it may be paid over to the individual for use under this sub-part with the written consent of the Shoshone and Arapaho Business Councils.

§ 223.66 Funds not available for payment of certain debts. Debts, except those to the United States and the Shoshone and Arapaho Tribes, incurred by Indians prior to July 27, 1939, shall not be paid from any funds made available from the Shoshone Judgment Fund. Debts of Indians will not be paid from the funds to be disbursed under this sub-part unless previously authorized by the superintendent, except in emergency cases necessitating medical treatment or in the payment of last illness or funeral expenses,[1] as authorized in this sub-part, and in any other exceptional cases where specific authority is granted by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

§ 223.67 Disposition of funds in event of death. The funds remaining to the credit of a deceased Indian shall be carried to the credit of the estate of such individual until his heirs have been determined. After payment of all proper claims against the funds, including reimbursable or other debts due the United States or the Shoshone and Arapaho Tribes and excluding any claims arising out of debts incurred prior to July 27, 1939, the balance, including any sum to his credit on the books of the Indian Office, will be transferred to the individual accounts of the heirs in accordance with the heirship findings of the Secretary of the Interior. Such funds shall be expended in accordance with this sub-part. The superintendent may disburse not to exceed $40 per month for the support of the widow of a decedent, $20 per month for the support of each minor child of a decedent, and $20 per month for the support of an orphaned minor. Before making the disbursement, the superintendent shall reasonably satisfy himself that the recipients are the probable heirs to the estate, that they are in actual need of assistance, and that the value of the estate is sufficient to justify such payments. Complete record of such disbursements must be reported by the superintendent to the examiner of inheritance and by the latter considered and included in his report in the probate proceedings.

[1] Comptroller General Ruling A-62264, dated July 25, 1935.

§ 223.68 Fee Patent Indians. For the purposes of this sub-part a "fee patent Indian" shall be an adult Indian who has received a patent in fee to his allotment. Fee patent Indians shall be required to submit a program, the approval of which shall be in conformity with Sections 223.50, 223.51, 223.52, 223.53, 223.54, 223.55, and 223.63. Fee patent Indians shall not be required to conform to the provisions of Section 223.56 (b), but shall be required to conform to the remaining provisions of said section, except that they shall be required to conform to the provisions of Section 223.56 (a) only when the purchase of land or an interest in land contemplated by a program concerns lands within the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation. Fee patent Indians shall not be required to make purchases though purchase orders as provided in Section 223.57, but may have funds disbursed to them by the superintendent for such purchases. The superintendent may disburse to fee patent Indians an initial payment of not more than $1,350 each for the first year, and thereafter, on evidence of the proper use of the initial payment, a subsequent payment of not more than $1,000 each for the execution of an approved program. Funds of minor children of fee patent Indians may be included in an approved family program, but their expenditure shall be subject to the same provisions as govern the expenditure of the funds of minor children of Indians other than fee patent Indians. Fee patent Indians shall be required to conform to the provisions of Section 223.58 only when the purchase of real property involves such property situated within the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation; payment by fee patent Indians for real property outside the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation may be made by them with funds disbursed to them by the superintendent and approval of title to such property by the Secretary of the Interior shall be only upon their request. Upon the request of fee patent Indians, and with the approval of the Shoshone Business Council and the superintendent, such Indians shall not be required to conform to the provisions of Section 223.59, except that title to real property situated within the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation shall be taken in the name of the United States in trust for such Indians and title to real property situated outside the diminished portion of the Wind River Reservation shall not be taken in the name of the United States in trust but shall be taken in fee in the name of such Indians. Except as otherwise provided in this section, fee patent Indians shall conform to all the provisions of this sub-part.

§ 223.69 Non-resident Indians. The provisions of Section 223.68 pertaining to fee patent Indians shall also apply to Indians other than fee patent Indians who habitually reside away from the Wind River Reservation and have, to all intents and purposes, severed their affiliation with the tribe, and who shall furnish to the superintendent in writing a statement that they intend to continue to reside away from the reservation and evidence, satisfactory to the superintendent, of their competency and ability to support themselves and manage their own affairs.

§ 223.70 Definition of "Adult" and "Minor." The term "adult" shall include all members of the tribe 18 years of age or over, and the term "minor" shall include all members of the tribe less than 18 years of age.

DECLARATION OF POLICY IN DISBURSEMENT OF THE JUDGMENT FUND OF THE SHOSHONE TRIBE OF THE WIND RIVER RESERVATION, WYOMING

NOVEMBER 29, 1939.

The Shoshone Judgment Fund represents the cash equivalent of land which was taken from the Tribe. The Fund, therefore, should be treated by the Shoshone Indians as a capital asset, in the nature of land, and thus to be conserved.

Congress has authorized the pro-ration of a portion of the Judgment Fund to living Indians for their use to foster their development and to enable them to become self-supporting. The objects for which the individual portions of the Judgment Fund may be expended have been strictly limited and defined by the Congress as indicated by the following extract from the act of July 27, 1939 (53 Stat. 1128-1130):

"Purchase of land, improvement of lands to be acquired or already held by the Indian, for the erection and improvement of suitable homes, the purchase of building material, farming equipment, livestock, feed, food, seed, grain, tools, machinery, implements, household goods, bedding, clothing, and any other equipment or supplies necessary to enable the Indians to fit themselves for or to engage in farming, livestock, industry, or such other pursuits or vocations, including education, as will enable them to become self-supporting: Provided, however, That the funds of the aged, infirm, decrepit, and incapacitated members may be used for their proper maintenance and support in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior. The remainder of the share of each adult individual Indian, including accrued interest, shall be made available under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe, and the remainder of the share of each minor Indian shall, with accrued interest, be held intact until such Indian reaches the age of eighteen years, when it shall be available under the same conditions as herein provided for adults. As herein used the term "adult" shall include the members of the tribe eighteen years of age or over, and the term "minor" shall include all members less than eighteen years of age. On the death of any enrolled member, adult or minor, the sum on deposit to his credit shall be available for expenditure for the benefit of his heirs for the purposes herein authorized."

The programs to be developed must, therefore, be in accord with the stated Congressional policy. The policy applies equally to those who may reside on the Wind River Reservation or any other reservation and those who, by reason of having received patents in fee or otherwise, are residing outside of the jurisdiction of any Indian Agency.

Production of income is dependent upon the success of the enterprise in which the individual invests his capital. Individuals should use great care and thought in determining the uses to which their share of the Judgment Fund will be put, with a view to obtaining the greatest amount of income over the longest possible period.

The money here involved represents a substantial part of the heritage of living Indians. In order that the value of this heritage may be of the greatest benefit to the present generation and be preserved for future generations, those responsible for the preparation and consideration of programs for the expenditure of these funds are charged with the duty of safeguarding such funds and of giving careful consideration to any and all plans for their use.

The representatives of the various technical activities at the Wind River Indian Agency will advise with and assist the Indians in the preparation of their programs. Approval of a program will be expedited by taking it up with the division head most familiar with the type of program contemplated, before it is submitted to the Superintendent.

In all family programs which contemplate the use of funds of minors or adults (other than the head of the family and his wife), attention must be given to the probability that in the future such minors or adults may desire to create a new home or to develop their individual plans or programs on their own allotments or on land they may acquire. Care should be exercised so that the normal development of such individuals will not be impeded.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 8, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to the employers listed below effective December 8, 1939, until April 5, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE KNITTED WEAR INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 8, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has not been previously employed for more than eight (8) weeks in the aggregate during the preceding three (3) years upon sewing machine or knitting machine operations, respectively.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of sewing machines and knitting machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, no learner may be paid at a rate less than 22½¢ per hour: Provided, however, That if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate, learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rate if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no event less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced operators are not available.

(4) These Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of their issuance if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of their terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. No learner may be employed under these Certificates if hired when an experienced worker was available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are to be employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of sewing machine and knitting machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under these Certificates unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

[Docket No. 3962]

IN THE MATTER OF CONTINENTAL BAKING COMPANY

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the party respondent named in the caption hereof and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, has violated and is now violating the provisions of Section 2 of the Clayton Act as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936 (U.S.C. Title 15, Sec. 13), hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges with respect thereto as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The respondent Continental Baking Company is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware, with its principal office and place of business located at 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

PAR. 2. Respondent corporation is now, and has been since June 19, 1936, engaged in the business of manufacturing, offering for sale, selling and distributing bread and allied products. Respondent is one of the largest producers and distributors of bread and allied products in the United States. During the years 1936 and 1937 the net sales of respondent's products amounted to $58,162,608 and $69,462,650, respectively. There has been during all times mentioned herein a nationwide demand for respondent's products and the respondent endeavors to increase said demand by means of advertising, both through periodicals having a national circulation and through nationwide radio broadcasts.

The production of respondent's products is carried on at some 68 factories or plants located in some 26 states of the United States and in the District of Columbia.

Respondent sells and distributes said products in commerce between and among the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia and preliminary to, or as a result of said sales, causes said products to be shipped and transported from the place of origin of the shipment to the purchasers thereof, who are located in states other than the state of origin of the shipment. There is and has been at all times herein mentioned a continuous current of trade and commerce in said products across state lines between respondent's factories and the purchasers of said products. Said products are sold for use, consumption and resale within the United States.

PAR. 3. In the course and conduct of its business as aforesaid, respondent is now, and during the time herein mentioned has been, in substantial competition with other corporations, partnerships, firms and individuals engaged in the business of manufacturing, offering for sale, selling and distributing bread and allied products in commerce.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of its business as aforesaid, respondent has been, and is now, discriminating in price between different purchasers buying its bread of like grade and quality sold by the respondent in interstate commerce for use, consumption and resale within the United States by giving and allowing certain purchasers of its bread, lower prices than given or allowed other of its said purchasers. Said discrimination in price is by the following practices and policy pursued by the respondent, to-wit:

In certain trade areas or localities respondent sells its bread of like grade and quality and of a definite weight at one price, while at the same time in another trade area served from the same plant or factory, the same type of bread and of the same weight is sold at a lower price, or in certain trade areas or localities bread of the same grade and quality and of a definite weight is sold at one price, while at the same time, in another trade area served from the same plant or factory, bread of the same grade and quality, but greater in weight, is sold for the same price as the bread of less weight.

To illustrate, from its plant located in Kansas City, Missouri, respondent serves its customers in the States of Kansas and Missouri. From this plant prior to December of 1938 the prevailing price charged by the respondent for a 20-ounce loaf of bread which it sold to its retail customers was 8¢ per loaf. Subsequent to December of 1938 respondent continued to sell the 20-ounce loaf of bread to its customers in the so-called Kansas City area at 8¢ per loaf and at the same time and from the same factory sold and delivered to its customers in the so-called Leavenworth, Kansas, area and the so-called Osawatomie, Kansas area a 24-ounce loaf of bread at 8¢ per loaf.

To further illustrate the practices of respondent; from its plant located in Shreveport, Louisiana, respondent serves customers not only in the State of Louisiana but also in the State of Texas. Prior to February of 1939 the prevailing price for bread sold by the respondent from its Shreveport, Louisiana plant was 10¢ for 24 ounces and 7¢ for 16 ounces. Subsequent to February of 1939, respondent sold its 24-ounce loaf of bread to customers located in the so-called Shreveport, Louisiana area for 10¢ a loaf and at the same time and from the same factory sold and delivered the 24-ounce loaf of bread to its customers located in the so-called Marshall, Texas, area for 8¢ per loaf.

The foregoing are but some of the examples showing the practices of the respondent by which it discriminates in price between its customers.

PAR. 5. The general effect of said discrimination in price so made by the respondent as set forth above has been, and may be, (a) substantially to lessen competition; (b) to injure, destroy or prevent competition between respondent and its competitors in the sale and distribution of bread; and (c) to tend to create a monopoly in respondent in said line of commerce in the various localities or trade areas in the United States in which respondent and its competitors are engaged in business.

PAR. 6. The foregoing alleged acts and practices of said respondent are violations of Subsection 2 (a) of Section 1 of the said Act of Congress approved June 19, 1936, entitled "An act to amend Section 2 of the act entitled 'An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes', approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U.S.C. Title 15, Sec. 13), and for other purposes."

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 4th day of December, A. D., 1939, issues its complaint against said respondent.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, Continental Baking Company, respondent herein, that the 12th day of January, A. D. 1940, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true, and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of December, A. D. 1939.

By the Commission.

ORDER OF THE COMMISSION

The Commission having instituted a proceeding pursuant to Section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to determine whether registration of the 5% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock, $100 Par Value, and Common Stock $100 Par Value, of Missouri Pacific Railroad Company on the New York Stock Exchange, should be suspended or withdrawn; and

After appropriate notice, a hearing having been held in this matter before a trial examiner; the trail examiner having filed his advisory report herein; counsel for the registrant and interveners having filed exceptions thereto; briefs having been filed and argument having been heard by the Commission; the record in this matter having been duly considered; and the Commission having this day filed its findings of fact and opinion;

It is ordered, That the registration of the 5% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock, $100 Par Value, and Common Stock, $100 Par Value, of Missouri Pacific Railroad Company shall be withdrawn thirty days after the date hereof; provided that, if appropriate amendments shall be filed within said thirty day period, no such order of withdrawal shall issue and the proceedings shall be dismissed without prejudice to future proceedings on any proper ground.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 20, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That James G. Ewell or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 15, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the proposed issue and sale by American Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company (18.89% of whose common stock is owned by Electric Bond and Share Company, also a registered holding company), of $30,000,000 principal amount sinking fund debentures, a temporary bank loan not to exceed $20,000,000 face amount and 355,623 shares $100 par value cumulative preferred stock and the change of 4,482,737 shares of common stock from no par value to a par value of $10 per share.

American Gas and Electric Company is a New York corporation. It owns, directly or indirectly, all of the outstanding common capital stocks of all of its principal subsidiaries and preferred stocks and bonds of several of them and all or fifty per cent of the capital stocks of several minor subsidiary companies. The operating subsidiaries of the system furnish electric, steam and water services to communities in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

The net proceeds of the issuance and sale of the sinking fund debentures and cumulative preferred stock (exclusive of accrued interests and accrued dividends but after deducting estimated expenses in connection therewith), together with the treasury funds of the declarant to the extent necessary, are to be used for the following purposes:

| (1) To deposit with the trustee, in trust, cash equal to principal and premium required for redemption of $30,000,000 principal amount of declarant's presently outstanding Gold Debentures 5% Series, due 2028 (to be called for redemption on or before March 1, 1940, at 106% of the principal amount thereof), amounting to | $31,800,000 |
| (2) To deposit with the redemption agent, cash equal to the redemption price required for redemption of 355,623 shares (exclusive of shares reacquired and held in declarant's treasury) of $6 preferred stock, no par value (to be called for redemption on or before March 1, 1940, at $110 per share), amounting to | 39,118,530 |
| Total | 70,918,530 |

The interest and dividend rates for the securities proposed to be issued have not yet been supplied. The sinking fund debentures are to be of three series and the series will mature in 1950, 1960, and 1970, respectively. The temporary bank loan, if made, will both be issued and discharged in the course of the closing concerning the issuance of the cumulative preferred stock. The proposed 355,623 shares of $100 par cumulative preferred stock are to be issued following the redemption of a similar number of shares of presently outstanding $6 preferred stock, no par value, (excluding 40,936 shares in declarant's treasury which are to be canceled), with stated value of $33,428,385.14. The presently outstanding 4,482,737 shares of common stock, no par value (excluding 6,129$^{11}/_{50}$ shares in declarant's treasury) which are to be changed to a par value of $10 per share, now has a stated value of $10 per share.

Fees and commissions incident to the proposed transactions are to be supplied in an amendment.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF PEOPLES LIGHT COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to sections 10 (a) (2) and 10 (a) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 27, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That James G. Ewell or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 22, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the acquisition by the above-named applicant (a wholly-owned subsidiary of The United Light and Power Company, a registered holding company) of all the electric utility assets used and useful in the transformation and distribution of electric energy, from The Bettendorf Company, a non-affiliated company. The consideration to be paid to The Bettendorf Company for the properties is stated by the applicant to be the sum of $125,000 in cash, subject to closing adjustments.

By the Commission.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

CHAPTER I—FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

[FCA 153]

PART 51—RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS PROMULGATED BY ALL PRODUCTION CREDIT CORPORATIONS†

Effective at the close of business on December 31, 1939, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by striking out all of Part 51 (Sections 51.201 to 51.313, inclusive) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Sec.
51.1 Loan Purposes.
51.2 Eligibility.
51.4 Approval of Loan.
51.5 Interest Rates.
51.8 Inspections.
51.10 Time Limit on Closing Loans.
51.11 Relation of Association to Other Organizations.

§ 51.1 Loan purposes. The association is authorized to provide short-term and intermediate-term credit for any general agricultural purpose to qualified farmers and stockmen. Loans may include funds for the purchase of association class B stock required to be held by members in connection with their loans.

(a) When a doubt exists as to the authority of an association to make a particular type of loan, all pertinent facts in connection therewith should be forwarded to the president of the production credit corporation (hereinafter referred to as "the corporation") for a decision. (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.2 Eligibility.—(a) In general. To be eligible for a loan, an applicant must be a farmer within the meaning of that word as used in the Farm Credit Act of 1933 and amendments thereto and acts amendatory thereof. The term "farmer" as so used includes a natural person, partnership, or corporation engaged in the business of farming or of breeding, raising, or fattening livestock.

(b) Natural persons. To be an eligible applicant, a natural person must devote certain time and energy to the active management of his farming or livestock operations; and the enterprise must be conducted in such a manner that he reaps the benefits of the operation if it is successful, and suffers the loss if it is a failure. He need not be principally so engaged nor reside on the place where the farming or livestock operations are carried on. An applicant for a loan, the proceeds of which are to be used for farming or livestock operations conducted through tenants or sharecroppers, will be ineligible unless it affirmatively appears that he has a right to, and does actually exercise the substantial direction and control in the management of the enterprise. When a landlord is entitled only to a fixed return without regard to the success or failure of the farming operations, or does not rightfully exercise the substantial direction and control of the management of such operations, the tenant, not the landlord, is to be considered the "farmer."

(c) Partnerships. The eligibility of a partnership is governed by the same principles as those governing the eligibility of natural persons.

(d) Corporations. To be considered a "farmer," a corporation must be principally engaged in farming or in the breeding, raising, or fattening of livestock.

For a corporation to be considered as so principally engaged, the major portion of its assets must be represented by property actually devoted to farming and/or the raising, breeding, or fattening of livestock; at least half of its gross income must be derived from such operations; and at least half of the time of its active officers and personnel must be spent in the conduct of such business.

When a loan is made to a corporation, either the holder or holders of at least a majority of its outstanding shares of voting stock or, with the consent of the production credit corporation, the principal stockholder or holders must (1) endorse, or sign as comakers, all notes evidencing such loans; or (2) execute continuing guarantees of all indebtedness of such corporation to the association. When it is expected that future advances will be made to a corporate borrower, the association will require a continuing guaranty as above mentioned.

(e) Fiduciaries and representatives. Loans may be made to a fiduciary or representative (including a trustee, guardian, executor, administrator, or receiver) who, in such capacity, is engaged in farming or in the raising, breeding, or fattening of livestock, provided that (1) adequate security can and will be given and (2) some financially responsible individual (which may be the fiduciary or representative) will incur personal liability for the loan, or the general assets of the estate can and will be charged with liability for the loan. Loans shall not be made to the receiver of a corporation or to the trustee of a business trust (commonly called Massachusetts trust) unless the corporation or trust satisfies the requirements for eligibility of a corporation as prescribed in subsection (d).

(f) Loans to directors, officers, employees, and agents of the Farm Credit Administration, the corporation and the association. Loans to a director of the corporation or to an officer (as distinguished from an employee) of the Farm Credit Administration of Washington, D. C., shall be subject to prior approval by the board of directors of the corporation and by the Production Credit Commissioner. Loans to an officer, employee, or agent of the corporation shall be subject to prior approval by the board of directors of the production credit corporation. Loans to a director or officer of the association shall be subject to prior approval by the president of the corporation, or in his absence by another officer designated by him. Similar approval shall be required for loans to a firm or corporation of which any of the aforesaid persons is a member or stockholder, for loans to be used in connection with property in which any such person has a present legal or equitable interest, and for loans to a member of the immediate family of any such persons. The term "immediate family" shall include a father, mother, brother, sister, son, daughter, husband, or wife. (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.4 Approval of loan. Unless otherwise provided in the bylaws of the association, or unless otherwise authorized by the board of directors of the association and the president of the corporation, no loan shall be made unless the executive committee has given prior approval thereof. Where executive committee action is required, no loan shall be made unless application therefor has received the unanimous approval of the qualified members of the executive committee present at the meeting at which such action is taken. (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.5 Interest rates. The interest rate charged the borrower shall be 3 percent per annum above the discount rate of the Federal intermediate credit bank at the time the loan or advance is made, unless a lower or a higher rate is prescribed by the corporation with the approval of the Production Credit Commissioner. Interest shall be charged on loans for the actual number of days that loans are outstanding. The number of days for which interest shall be charged shall be computed on the basis of 365 days for normal years and 366 days for leap years. (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.8 Inspections. In connection with each loan an inspection shall be made by an inspector approved by the corporation and in accordance with a procedure approved by the corporation.

An association officer, employee, or agent shall not be authorized to make an inspection incident to a loan applied for or obtained by a member of his immediate family or in connection with property in which he has a present legal or equitable interest. (See section 51.2 (f) for definition of "immediate family.") (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.10 Time limit on closing loans. The association may, in its discretion, refuse to make a loan to an applicant who does not furnish all documents necessary to close the loan within 30 days after notice has been sent him by the association that his application has been approved. (Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 261; 12 U.S.C. 1131g)†

§ 51.11 Relations of association to other organizations. No borrowers shall be required by the association to enter into any contract or agreement with any particular association, individual, or corporation with respect to the purchase of supplies or the sale of agricultural products, livestock, or livestock products; nor shall the association require a borrower to become a member of any other organization or association; provided that, with the prior approval of the Production Credit Commissioner, any of such requirements may be imposed as special credit requirements in connection with the closing of particular types of loans. PART 50—RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS PROMULGATED BY THE FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION†

Effective at the close of business on December 31, 1939, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by striking out all of Part 50 (Sections 50.101 to 50.309, inclusive) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Sec.
50.13 Charges to Borrowers.
50.15 Confidential Information.
50.16 Territory.
50.17 Depositaries.
50.19 Consolidation of Associations.
50.20 Voluntary Liquidation of Associations.

†In all sections of Part 50 the section numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the section numbers in the Rules and Regulations for Production Credit Associations, effective December 31, 1939.

§ 50.13 Charges to borrowers. Subject to the approval of the president of the production credit corporation (hereinafter referred to as "the corporation") the association may prescribe charges and other fees to be charged applicants in connection with loans. Inspection fees in excess of $3.00 shall not exceed 1 percent of the amount of the loan commitment. The actual cost of title and/or mortgage abstracts and searches, fees for filing or recording mortgages, fees in connection with releases, notarial fees in connection with the execution of loan papers, and other expenses incurred in closing the loan must be paid by the borrower. (Sec. 60, 48 Stat. 266, 12 U.S.C. 1138)†

§ 50.15 Confidential information. All loans and applications therefor, and all information contained therein, must be treated as strictly confidential by the directors, officers, employees, and agents of the association. Except with the approval of the president of the corporation, or of the Production Credit Commissioner, no statements shall be issued or made regarding particular applications received, approved, or disapproved, and no information relative to the business or affairs of the association, or lists of borrowers or of employees of the association, shall be furnished, to any person(s), institution(s), or corporation(s) other than authorized officers or agents of the Farm Credit Administration, the corporation, and the Federal intermediate credit bank, upon presentation of proper credentials. (Sec. 20, 48 Stat. 259, 12 U.S.C. 1131d)†

§ 50.16 Territory. (a) The association shall operate and conduct its business within such territory as may be prescribed by the Governor and evidenced in a certificate of district to be served.

(b) An application for a loan to finance operations wholly within the territory of the association may be accepted regardless of the residence of the applicant.

(c) An application for a loan to finance operations wholly without the territory of the association shall not be accepted even though the applicant resides within the territory served by the association.

(d) An application for a loan to finance operations on land partly within and partly without the association's territory may be accepted if such land may be regarded, in the opinion of the president of the corporation, as one farming or livestock unit. (Sec. 20, 48 Stat. 259, 12 U.S.C. 1131d)†

§ 50.17 Depositaries. The depositaries for the funds of the association must be approved for the purpose by the corporation so long as it is the holder of any stock of the association, such depositaries wherever possible to be members of the Federal Reserve System or insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. (Sec. 20, 48 Stat. 259, 12 U.S.C. 1131d)†

§ 50.19 Consolidation of associations—(a) Consolidation agreement. By resolution, the board of directors of each association constituent to a consolidation shall authorize the execution of, and shall approve, an agreement (in the form prescribed by the corporation with the approval of the Production Credit Commissioner) designating the charter of one of the constituent associations as the charter of the consolidated association, providing an effective date for the consolidation, and setting forth the terms and conditions of the consolidation and the mode of carrying the same into effect.

Such consolidation agreement shall also provide that the shares of class A stock of the respective constituent associations shall be converted at the par value thereof into like shares of the consolidated association; that the shares of class B stock of the respective constituent associations which have a fair book value equal to or greater than the par value thereof shall be converted at the par value thereof into like shares of the consolidated association; that the shares of class B stock of the respective constituent associations which have a fair book value of less than par shall be converted into $5.00 par value shares of class B stock of the consolidated association having an aggregate value equal in each instance to the aggregate fair book value of such shares of such constituent associations.

(b) Approval of consolidation agreement. In order to become effective, the consolidation agreement must be approved:

(1) By a two-thirds vote of the class B stockholders of each association constituent to the consolidation who are present at a meeting duly called for the purpose (provided the stockholders so present constitute a quorum);

(2) By the president of the corporation; and

(3) By the Production Credit Commissioner.

(c) Effectiveness of agreement. When so approved the consolidation agreement shall be filed with the corporation and shall become effective as of its effective date. As of such date, the separate existence of the constituent associations shall cease, and the consolidated association shall succeed, without other transfer, to all rights and property of the constituent associations and shall be obligated to discharge all the debts, liabilities, and duties thereof in the same manner and to the same extent as if such consolidated association had originally incurred them.

(d) Supervisory duties of corporation. It shall be the duty of the corporation to supervise the consolidation for the purpose of insuring that the terms and conditions of the consolidation agreement are properly carried into effect and that the shares of stock of the constituent associations are retired and canceled and the proper number of shares of stock of the consolidated association issued in lieu thereof. (Sec. 20, 48 Stat. 259, 12 U.S.C. 1131d)†

§ 50.20 Voluntary liquidation of associations. (a) Subject to the approval of the president of the corporation and of the Production Credit Commissioner, an association may be placed in voluntary liquidation by resolution of its board of directors. The resolution shall authorize and direct the president of the corporation to appoint and fix the compensation of a liquidating agent for the association and to remove such liquidating agent at will and appoint a successor; and shall vest in the liquidating agent full and complete authority (without any reservation of power in the board) to liquidate the association subject to the direction and supervision of the president of the corporation.

(b) Subject to such direction and supervision, the liquidating agent shall convert all the association's assets into cash (except securities held by the corporation for the association's account), pay all its obligations, and distribute its remaining assets to the holders of class A and class B stock in accordance with their liquidation preference rights.

(c) The loan assets of the association may be converted into cash by either of the following methods:

(1) By their collection.

(2) By the sale of the loan assets of the association to another association or associations upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the president of the corporation and by the Production Credit Commissioner, provided that immediately upon completion of such sale the liquidating association will be able to pay liquidating dividends of not less than $5.00 per share on all its outstanding stock. Each borrower whose loan is sold to another association shall be required to own class B stock in the purchasing association in the amount of $5.00 for each $100.00 or fraction thereof of the unpaid balance of such loan; and the liquidating association shall make payment to the purchasing association for such stock out of the borrower's liquidating dividends. (Sec. 65, 48 Stat. 269, 12 U.S.C. 1138e)†

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

[B.A.I. Order 211, Rev., amended]

CONFERRING AUTHORITY UPON THE CHIEF OF THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY UNDER THE MEAT INSPECTION ACT

Pursuant to authority conferred by law upon the Secretary of Agriculture, B.A.I. Order 211 (Revised), as amended, (Regulations Governing the Meat Inspection of the United States Department of Agriculture) is hereby amended by adding the following new regulation:

REGULATION 30—AUTHORITY DELEGATED TO THE CHIEF OF THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

SECTION 1. The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry is authorized to determine whether applications for inspection or for exemption from inspection under the provisions of the meat-inspection act shall be granted or refused. The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry is further authorized to revoke his prior approval of any application if he determines that any false statement was made in such application.

SEC. 2. The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry is authorized to withdraw inspection from any official establishment, and to withdraw exemption from any exempted retail establishment, which violates or fails to comply with any provision of the meat-inspection act or of the regulations made pursuant thereto.

SEC. 3. When any action is taken by the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry under section 1 or 2 of this regulation, it shall be final unless the aggrieved party appeals within 20 days to the Secretary of Agriculture from the action taken by the Chief of the Bureau of Animay Industry.

[Docket No. 3877]

IN THE MATTER OF DIAMOND KNITTING MILLS, INC.

§ 3.66 (a) Misbranding or mislabeling—Composition. Using, in connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of respondent's merchandise, term "all silk" or the unqualified word "silk" or any other term of similar import and meaning to designate, describe, or in any way refer to any fabric or merchandise not made wholly from unweighted silk, the product of the cocoon of the silkworm, or representing, through failure to disclose the presence and percentage of weighted silk contained in any fabric or other merchandise and the percentage of weighting in such weighted silk, or through any other means or device, or in any manner, that fabrics or other merchandise composed in whole or in part of weighted silk are composed of unweighted silk, or, in any manner, that the products sold by respondent are made of a material, fiber, or yarn other than that of which such products are actually made, prohibited; subject to the provision, however, that the word "silk" may be used to refer to the silk content of such fabrics or other merchandise when the disclosures herein enumerated are clearly and conspicuously made in connection with the use of such term. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by Sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., Supp. IV, sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Diamond Knitting Mills, Inc., Docket 3877, November 28, 1939]

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission and the answer of respondent, in which answer respondent admits all the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint, and states that it waives all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent, Diamond Knitting Mills, Inc., a corporation, its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of its merchandise in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Using the term "all silk" or the unqualified word "silk" or any other term of similar import and meaning to designate, describe, or in any way refer to any fabric or merchandise not made wholly from unweighted silk, the product of the cocoon of the silkworm.

(2) Representing through failure to disclose the presence and percentage of weighted silk contained in any fabric or other merchandise and the percentage of weighting in such weighted silk, or through any other means or device, or in any manner, that fabrics or other merchandise composed in whole or in part of weighted silk are composed of unweighted silk: Provided, however, That the word "silk" may be used to refer to the silk content of such fabric or other merchandise when the disclosures herein enumerated are clearly and conspicuously made in connection with the use of such term.

(3) Representing in any manner that the products sold by respondent are made of a material, fiber or yarn other than that of which such products are actually made.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

SUBCHAPTER R—LEASES AND SALES OF MINERALS, RESTRICTED INDIAN LANDS

PART 201—LEAD AND ZINC MINING OPERATIONS AND LEASES, QUAPAW AGENCY

Section 201.13, which reads:

"§ 201.13 Bond. Every mineral lease made and entered into under the regulations in this part, by an Indian or by the superintendent as his representative or in his behalf, must be accompanied by a surety bond, executed by the lessee and by a responsible surety company or two or more satisfactory sureties, guaranteeing the payment of all deferred installments of bonus and the payment of all specified royalties and rentals and the performance of all covenants and agreements undertaken by the lessee. Such bond shall be in amount as follows: For leases covering less than 80 acres, $2,500; for those covering 80 acres and less than 120 acres, $3,600; for those covering 120 acres or more, $5,000; provided, however, that the lessee may, in lieu of such surety bond and upon execution of a proper penal bond to the United States in the sum prescribed and a proper power of attorney to the Secretary of the Interior, submit therewith United States bonds or notes in the aggregate sum prescribed as security for the carrying out of the terms, conditions, and provisions of the lease. The right is specifically reserved to the Secretary of the Interior to require an increase of the amount of any bond above the sum named in any particular case where he deems it necessary to require such increased bond."

is amended to read:

"§ 201.13 Bond. Every mineral lease made and entered into under the regulations in this part, by an Indian or by the superintendent as his representative or in his behalf, must be accompanied by a surety bond, executed by the lessee and by a responsible surety company or two or more satisfactory sureties, guaranteeing the payment of all deferred installments of bonus and the payment of all specified royalties and rentals and the performance of all covenants and agreements undertaken by the lessee. ## TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

[T.D. 4957]

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

SUBCHAPTER A—INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS TAX

PART 24—SPREAD OF DEPRECIATION OR AMORTIZATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS OR COST OF LEASE OVER TERM OF ORIGINAL LEASE AND RENEWALS

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In determining deductions from gross income of items in respect of depreciation or amortization of the cost of improvements erected upon leased premises or the cost or other basis of a lease, including all capital expenditures in connection therewith, in cases in which the lease contains an unexercised option of renewal, the matter of spreading such depreciation or amortization over the term of the original lease, together with the renewal period or periods, depends upon the facts in the particular case. As a general rule, unless the lease has been renewed or the facts show with reasonable certainty that the lease will be renewed, the cost or other basis of the lease or the cost of improvements shall be spread only over the number of years the lease has to run, without taking into account any right of renewal. However, pursuant to the discretion vested in the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, by section 3791 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code, if the taxpayer for any taxable year ending prior to December 31, 1939, has been allowed such depreciation or amortization on the basis of spreading the cost or other basis of such lease or improvements over the number of years the lease has to run, including any exercised or unexercised renewal period or periods, and such taxable year has been closed on that basis and the tax for that year can not be redetermined, then the taxpayer may for subsequent taxable years take deductions on such basis if within 90 days after the approval of this Treasury Decision or within such later period as may be specified by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue he files Form 969, in duplicate, with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., attention of the Income Tax Unit, Records Division, signifying his election to have deductions in respect of such items determined upon such basis, and expressly waives his right to claim or receive the benefits of any reduction in his tax liability which would result from the allowance of deductions for such items on the basis of only the number of years the lease has to run, without taking into account any right of renewal, or on any basis other than that set forth in his election. If, in any case, the life of the improvements is less than the number of years the lease has to run, including the renewal period if properly to be considered, the deduction for depreciation with respect to such improvements shall be spread only over such life.

(This Treasury Decision is issued under the authority contained in section 3791, Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 467).)

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

CHAPTER I—GENERAL LAND OFFICE

[Circular No. 1464]

REGULATIONS GOVERNING LEASE BONDS

AMENDED AND SUPPLEMENTED

Section 14 of Circular 1386,[1] approved May 7, 1936 (55 I. D. 517; Section 192.61, Code of Federal Regulations), is hereby amended and supplemented by adding, at the end of the second paragraph thereof, the following paragraph:[2]

The requirement made in the preceding paragraph for the filing of a $1,000 bond shall apply only in those cases in which a bond is required by law for the protection of the owners of surface rights. In all other cases the $1,000 bond must be filed not less than 90 days before the due date of the next unpaid annual rental, but this requirement may be successively dispensed with by the lessee by making payment of each successive annual rental not less than 90 days prior to its due date. In the absence of the payment of the rental in advance as herein authorized, the requirement for the filing of the bond within the time prescribed must be complied with strictly, and upon the failure of the lessee to comply therewith the lease shall be subject to cancelation by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of the lease and the act of February 25, 1920 (41 Stat. 437), as amended by the act of August 21, 1935 (49 Stat. 674). Nothing herein contained shall operate to relieve the lessee from the obligation to furnish a $5,000 general lease bond prior to beginning drilling operations. The substance of this paragraph shall be incorporated into all leases hereafter issued under sections 13 and 17 of the act of February 25, 1920, as amended by the act of August 21, 1935. The holder of any outstanding lease heretofore issued may be relieved, under the conditions herein provided, of his obligation to maintain the $1,000 bond, upon filing his written consent, on a form prescribed by the Secretary, to the amendment of the lease in accordance herewith.

[2] Issued under the authority contained in Sec. 32, 41 Stat. 450; 30 U.S.C. 189.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Division of Public Contracts.

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES IN THE SCIENTIFIC INDUSTRIAL AND LABORATORY INSTRUMENTS INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HEARING

The Public Contracts Board will hold a hearing in Room 3229, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, December 12, 1939, to take testimony upon which findings of fact will be made to assist the Secretary of Labor in determining, pursuant to Section 1 (b) of the Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35) the prevailing minimum wages in the Scientific Industrial and Laboratory Instruments Industry. The Scientific Industrial and Laboratory Instruments Industry is understood to be that industry which manufactures the following products:

Instruments and Apparatus:

1. For use in navigation; surveying; engineering; drafting; target detection; fire control; meteorology; laboratories for physical, chemical, clinical, biological, bacteriological, geological, physiological and psychological teaching, demonstration, research and testing;

2. For indicating, measuring, recording or controlling the following: Quantity, quality, temperature, combustion, pressure, flow, density, humidity, conductivity, position, altitude, level, attitude, angle, direction, distance, speed, acceleration, or time; but not including:

Instruments and Apparatus:

1. For measuring or controlling voltage, flow, or consumption of electricity;
2. For measuring or controlling water, gas, or gasoline as used in the service rendered by public utilities and service stations in indicating consumer consumption;
3. For use in homes, or on automobiles;
Clocks and watches; and Machinists' gauges.

At the hearing an opportunity to be heard, either in person or by duly appointed representatives will be given to persons engaged in the above-named industry, either as employers or as employees, to groups of such persons, and to others within the discretion of the Board. Briefs or telegraphic communications may be filed, but they should be received by the Board on or before the hearing date. Employers appearing in person, or by representatives, or presenting briefs, should furnish the Board with the following essential data:

(1) Name of firm,
(2) Plant address,
(3) Total number of employees in plant,
(4) Number of male employees,
(5) Number of female employees,
(6) Classification of employees by occupations, including number engaged in each operation,
(7) Hourly wages in each operation with designation of applicable time period,
(8) If paid on piece work basis, weekly earnings in each class of employees,
(9) Hours worked per week.

This outline of suggested data is not meant to exclude the submission of any other pertinent information which an employer may desire to submit.

Employees appearing at the hearing, either in person or by their representatives, or submitting briefs, should acquaint the Board with facts as to the wages now being paid in the industry.

IN THE MATTER OF THE DETERMINATION OF THE PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGES FOR THE COTTON TEXTILE INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW CAUSE

The Cotton Textile Industry for purposes of this notice is that industry engaged in

(a) The manufacturing or processing of yarn or thread and all processes preparatory thereto; and the manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing, and other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs) from cotton, silk, flax, jute or any synthetic fiber, or from mixtures of these fibers; or from such mixtures of these fibers with wool or animal fiber (other than silk) as are specified in clauses (g) and (h); except the chemical manufacturing of synthetic fiber and such related processing of yarn as is conducted in the establishments manufacturing synthetic fiber;

(b) The manufacturing of batting, wadding or filling (except surgical absorbent cotton),[1] and the processing of waste from the fibers enumerated in clause (a);

(c) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, or other finishing of pile fabrics (except carpets and rugs) from any fiber or yarn;

(d) The processing of any textile fabric, included in this definition of this industry, into any of the following products; bags (except barrack bags);[2] bath mats and related articles; bedspreads; blankets; diapers; dish-cloths, scrubbing cloths and wash-cloths; sheets and pillow cases; tablecloths, lunch cloths and napkins; towels; and window-curtains;

(e) The manufacturing or finishing of braid, net or lace (except bobbinet) * * * from any fiber or yarn;

(f) The manufacturing of cordage, rope or twine from any fiber or yarn;

(g) The manufacturing or processing of yarn or thread by systems other than the woolen system from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) with any of the fibers designated in clause (a), containing not more than 45 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk);

(h) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing or other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs) from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) containing not more than 25 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk), with any of the fibers designated in clause (a), with a margin of tolerance of 2 percent to meet the exigencies of manufacture.

All interested parties are hereby given until and including December 22, 1939, within which to file briefs with the Administrator of the Division of Public Contracts, Department of Labor, showing cause why the Secretary of Labor should not determine, pursuant to Section 1(b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35), the prevailing minimum wage for the industry hereinabove defined to be 32.5 cents an hour (which is the wage set by the Administrator of the Fair Labor Standards Act for the Cotton Textile Industry), or $13.00 per week of forty hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece work basis, for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Sup. III 35).

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Docket No. IT–5590]

IN THE MATTER OF ARKANSAS UTILITIES COMPANY

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE

DECEMBER 7, 1939.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On January 17, 1936, the Arkansas Utilities Company filed with the Federal Power Commission a statement of agreement between Arkansas Utilities Company and Missouri Utilities Company, designated in the files of the Commission as Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 1, providing for the sale and delivery of electric energy by Arkansas Utilities Company to Missouri Utilities Company for resale;

(b) On November 8, 1939, the Arkansas Utilities Company filed with the Federal Power Commission a superseding agreement, dated November 6, 1939, between Arkansas Utilities Company and Missouri Utilities Company, designated in the files of the Commission as Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, providing for new and higher rates for the sale and delivery of electric energy by Arkansas Utilities Company to Missouri Utilities Company;

(c) The purported justification for the said higher rate schedule is a contract dated August 8, 1939, between the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation and the Arkansas Utilities Company, whereby the latter company purchases the electric energy which is in turn sold to the Missouri Utilities Company;

(d) The Arkansas Utilities Company has requested that the said proposed Rate Schedule FPC No. 2 be allowed to take effect as of September 25, 1939;

(e) The schedule of increased rates contained in said Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, which is proposed to be made effective as of September 25, 1939, may result in excessive rates or charges to Missouri Utilities Company, or place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of electric energy, which increased rates or charges have not been shown to be justified;

The Commission finds that:

(1) Without approval by the Commission giving retroactive effect to the rate schedule as of September 25, 1939, the said rate schedule, unless suspended by order of the Commission, would become automatically effective as of December 8, 1939, pursuant to the Federal Power Act and the Rules of Practice and Regulations thereunder;

(2) It is necessary, desirable, and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates or charges and that said proposed increased rates or charges be suspended pending such hearing and the decision thereon, but not for a longer period than five months beyond December 8, 1939;

The Commission, upon its own motion, orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held on February 26, 1940, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 1757 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates or charges contained in said Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, which is proposed to be made effective retroactively as of September 25, 1939;

(B) Pending such hearing, the schedule of increased rates or charges for the sale of electric energy for resale contained in said Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 2, which is proposed to be made effective retroactively as of September 25, 1939, be and the same is hereby suspended for a period of five months beyond December 8, 1939, unless the Commission shall hereafter otherwise order;

(C) During the said period of suspension the rates or charges now being collected and received by the Arkansas Utilities Company from the Missouri Utilities Company, as provided in Arkansas Utilities Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 1, shall remain and continue in effect;

(D) This order does not suspend or otherwise effect the rates or charges to be collected and received for electric energy sold to Missouri Utilities Company other than for resale;

(E) At such hearing, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increased rates or charges are just and reasonable shall be upon the Arkansas Utilities Company.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. IT-5589]

IN THE MATTER OF ARKANSAS-MISSOURI POWER CORPORATION

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING AND SUSPENDING RATE SCHEDULE

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, Leland Olds, John W. Scott.

DECEMBER 7, 1939.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On June 17, 1937, the Arkansas-Missouri Power Company filed with the Federal Power Commission a rate schedule and supplement thereto, between Arkansas-Missouri Power Company and Arkansas Utilities Company, designated in the files of the Commission as Arkansas-Missouri Power Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 5, and Supplement No. 1 thereto, providing for the sale and delivery of firm electric energy by Arkansas-Missouri Power Company to Arkansas Utilities Company at the city limits of Paragould, Arkansas, for resale;

(b) On September 25, 1937, the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation filed with the Federal Power Commission a notice of succession in ownership or operation whereby the said Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation certified that on September 20, 1937, it adopted and ratified the rate schedules and supplements thereto, previously filed with the Federal Power Commission on June 17, 1937; and the Federal Power Commission then designated the Arkansas-Missouri Power Company Rate Schedule FPC No. 5, and Supplement No. 1 thereto, as Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 5, and Supplement No. 1, thereto;

(c) On November 24, 1939, the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation filed with the Federal Power Commission a new contract and exhibit, dated June 14, 1939, between Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation and Arkansas Utilities Company, designated in the files of the Commission as Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 8, and Exhibit A thereto, providing for new and higher rates for the sale and delivery of firm electric energy by Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation to Arkansas Utilities Company, for resale;

(d) The said new rate schedule dated June 14, 1939, by its terms was to become effective between the said parties thereto on August 8, 1939, the expiration date of the rate schedule designated Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 5, and Supplement No. 1 thereto; and the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation has requested that the said proposed Rate Schedule FPC No. 8 and Exhibit A thereto, dated June 14, 1939, be allowed to take effect retroactively as of August 8, 1939;

(e) The purported justification for the said higher rate schedule, is stated to be to meet the present costs of service;

(f) The schedule of increased rates contained in said Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 8, and Exhibit A thereto, which is proposed to be made effective as of August 8, 1939, has been offered as the basis for effecting an increase in rates by the Arkansas Utilities Company to the Missouri Utilities Company, which purchases, from said company, for resale, a portion of the electric energy sold to Arkansas Utilities Company by Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation.

(g) The said schedule of increased rates may result in excessive rates or charges to Arkansas Utilities Company, Missouri Utilities Company, or place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of electric energy, which increased rates or charges have not been shown to be justified;

The Commission finds that:

(1) Without approval by the Commission giving retroactive effect to the rate schedule as of August 8, 1939, the said rate schedule, unless suspended by order of the Commission, would become automatically effective as of December 24, 1939, pursuant to the Federal Power Act and the Rules of Practice and Regulations thereunder;

(2) It is necessary, desirable, and in the public interest that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates or charges and that said proposed increased rates or charges be suspended pending such hearing and the decision thereon, but not for a longer period than five months beyond December 24, 1939;

The Commission, upon its own motion, orders that:

(A) A public hearing be held on February 26, 1940, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 1757 K Street, NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the lawfulness of the rates or charges contained in said Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 8, and Exhibit A thereto, which is proposed to be made effective retroactively as of August 8, 1939;

(B) Pending such hearing, the schedule of increased rates or charges for the sale of electric energy for resale contained in said Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 8, and Exhibit A thereto, which is proposed to be made effective retroactively as of August 8, 1939, be and the same is hereby suspended for a period of five months beyond December 24, 1939, unless the Commission shall hereafter otherwise order;

(C) During the said period of suspension the rates or charges now being collected and received by the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation from the Arkansas Utilities Company, as provided in Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 5, and Supplement No. 1 thereto, shall remain and continue in effect;

(D) This order does not suspend or otherwise affect the rates or charges to be collected and received for electric energy sold to Arkansas Utilities Company other than for resale;

(E) At such hearing, the burden of proof to show that the proposed increased rates or charges are just and reasonable shall be upon the Arkansas-Missouri Power Corporation.

IN THE MATTER OF LOCKHEED AIRCRAFT CORPORATION CAPITAL STOCK, $1 PAR VALUE

ORDER SETTING HEARING ON APPLICATION TO WITHDRAW FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION

The Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, pursuant to Section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rule X-12D2-1 (b) promulgated thereunder, having made application to the Commission to withdraw its Capital Stock, $1 Par Value, from listing and registration on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago; and

The Commission deeming it necessary for the protection of investors that a hearing be held in this matter at which all interested persons be given an opportunity to be heard;

It is ordered, That the matter be set down for hearing at 10 a. m. on Monday, January 8, 1940, at the office of the Securities & Exchange Commission, 105 W. Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois, and continue thereafter at such times and places as the Commission or its officer herein designated shall determine, and that general notice thereof be given; and

It is further ordered, That Henry Fitts, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

IN THE MATTER OF INDIANA SERVICE CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 27, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 20, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the proposed issue and sale by Indiana Service Corporation of:

1. Sixty "Conditional Sale Serial Notes of Indiana Service Corporation" representing sixty monthly installments, each with interest, on $297,360, the unpaid portion of the purchase price of twenty-eight (28) electric trackless trolley cars, and aggregating in face amount $335,-149.50; the face of each note being the sum of $4,956 (1/60 of $297,360) plus interest at five per cent per annum on the entire balance of the purchase price remaining unpaid at the maturity of each such monthly instalment note, successively. The notes are all to be dated as of the average date of shipment of the cars and are to be payable to the manufacturer and vendor of the cars. The first note will mature one month from date and the others successively at intervals of one month thereafter for fifty-nine months.

2. One "Conditional Sale Instalment Note" in face amount of $41,107.50, representing the principal amount of the unpaid portion of the purchase price of seven (7) gasoline motor buses. This note will be payable in sixty monthly instalments; the first in the principal amount of $692.50 and the remaining fifty-nine instalments in the principal amount of $685 each, in each case with interest at five per cent per annum on the entire balance of the purchase price remaining unpaid at the due date of such instalment. The note will be dated the average date of delivery of the motor buses and is to be payable to the manufacturer and vendor of the buses. The first instalment will become due on or before one month from date and the others, successively, at intervals of one month thereafter for fifty-nine months.

To secure payment by the corporation, the cars and buses are sold by the respective makers to the corporation under a form of agreement which, among other things, provides that title shall remain in the seller until the equipment is entirely paid for, notwithstanding delivery to and possession by the corporation; with the right of repossession if the corportion should default on its payments.

office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of December 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF EDGAR SPAIN GRANT, DOING BUSINESS AS GRANT AND COMPANY, 61 FORSYTH STREET NW., ATLANTA, GEORGIA

ORDER PERMITTING WITHDRAWAL FROM REGISTRATION AS BROKER AND DEALER, SUBJECT TO TERMS AND CONDITIONS, AND TERMINATING PROCEEDINGS

Edgar Spain Grant, doing business as Grant and Company, a sole proprietorship, hereinafter sometimes referred to as the registrant; being registered with the Commission as an over-the-counter broker and dealer, pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and

The Commission, by an order of October 14, 1939, as amended by orders of October 25, 1939, and December 2, 1939, having ordered that a hearing be held to determine whether the registrant had willfully violated Section 15 (c) (1) of said Act and Sections 5 (b) (2) and 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and if so whether said registration should be revoked or suspended pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, all as more fully set forth in said orders of the Commission; and

The registrant on December 5, 1939, having filed with the Commission a petition admitting certain of the transactions alleged in said orders of the Commission, but denying that said transactions were effected in bad faith or with knowledge that they were in violation of said Acts; and

The registrant on December 5, 1939, having filed with the Commission written notice of withdrawal from registration as an over-the-counter broker and dealer, said notice providing in part as follows:

"(1) That this withdrawal shall not take effect until February 10, 1940; during the intervening period it is my understanding that I may engage in the orderly processes of liquidating by business, during which time, as expressed above, I expect to protect the individuals and concerns who have dealt with me to the fullest extent possible, but during which intervening period I shall not engage as a broker or dealer in any new underwriting.

"(2) That I shall not subsequent to February 10, 1940, and during the period of time not registered as a broker and dealer with the Securities and Exchange Commission, be a partner, officer, director or branch manager of any broker or dealer, or shall I directly or indirectly control any broker or dealer."

The Commission having duly considered the matter and being fully advised in the premises and deeming it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors to permit said withdrawal from registration, subject to the terms and conditions therein set forth;

It is ordered, That the withdrawal from registration as an over-the-counter broker and dealer under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, by Edgar Spain Grant, doing business as Grant and Company, shall become effective on February 10, 1940, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in said notice;

It is further ordered, That the proceedings instituted by the order of the Commission dated October 14, 1939, as amended and supplemented by the orders of October 25, 1939, and December 2, 1939, be and the same are hereby terminated; and

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be served on said Edgar Spain Grant, doing business as Grant and Company, personally or by the registered mail not less than seven (7) days from the date hereof and that this order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the manner prescribed by the Federal Register Act.

IN THE MATTER OF CHICAGO RIVET AND MACHINE COMPANY COMMON STOCK, $4 PAR VALUE

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING TO DETERMINE WHETHER UNLISTED TRADING PRIVILEGES SHOULD BE TERMINATED ON THE NEW YORK CURB EXCHANGE

It appearing to the Commission that unlisted trading privileges have been continued on the New York Curb Exchange for the Common Stock, $4 Par Value, of Chicago Rivet and Machine Company pursuant to Clause (1) of Section 12 (f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and

It appearing that such security has been withdrawn by the issuer thereof from listing and registration on the Chicago Stock Exchange;

Pursuant to subsection (f) of Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which provides in part that unlisted trading privileges continued for any security pursuant to clause (1) of said subsection (f) shall be terminated by order, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, if it appears at any time that such security has been withdrawn from listing on any exchange by the issuer thereof, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the Commission that such delisting was not designed to evade the purposes of this title, or unless it shall appear to the Commission that, notwithstanding any such purpose of evasion, the continuation of such unlisted trading privileges is nevertheless necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors;

It is ordered, That proceedings be held to determine whether unlisted trading privileges in this security shall be terminated; and

It is further ordered, That a public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence be held in Room 1103, Securities and Exchange Commission Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., on January 10, 1940 at 10 A. M., and that said hearing be continued at such other time or place as the Commission or the officer conducting such hearing may determine; that for the purpose of said hearing Charles S. Lobingier be and he is hereby designated as the officer of the Commission to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance, take evidence, require the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and any and all other records deemed relevant or material to the matters in issue at such hearing, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith as authorized by law.

It is further ordered, That this order and notice be served on the Chicago Rivet and Machine Company and the New York Curb Exchange, personally or by registered mail, not less than ten (10) days prior to the time of the hearing or, in the event of failure to serve such persons personally or by registered mail, that this order and notice be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the manner prescribed by the Federal Register Act.

CHAPTER III—BUREAU OF ENTOMOLOGY AND PLANT QUARANTINE

[B.E.P.Q. 504]

CONDITIONS GOVERNING ENTRY OF CIPOLLINI FROM MOROCCO

DECEMBER 7, 1939.

§ 319.56–2f Administrative instructions; conditions governing the entry of cipollini from Morocco. Shipments of cipollini (Muscari comosum) from Morocco have frequently been found infested at time of entry with an injurious insect, Exosoma lusitanica, not known to occur in the United States. The limited type of inspection at our disposal is not considered adequate to detect all cases of infestation and, since the effectiveness of methyl bromide fumigation in freeing this product from the insect in question is now well established, it has been decided to require this fumigation as a condition of entry for future shipments.

On and after December 7, 1939, therefore, fumigation with methyl bromide will be a condition of entry for all shipments of cipollini from Morocco. This treatment shall be carried out under the supervision of a plant quarantine inspector at the expense of the importer, and release of the shipment will be withheld until the treatment has been completed. In addition to fumigation only such inspection will be given as the inspector may judge necessary from time to time to determine pest conditions on arrival or to assure himself of the effectiveness of the treatment.

The entry of cipollini from Morocco may be made only through the ports of New York and Boston at which ports facilities for vacuum fumigation with methyl bromide, as herein required, are available.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

§ 722.211 Issuance of forms and instructions and definitions—(a) Issuance of forms and instructions. The Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall cause to be prepared and issued with his approval such instructions (as parts of the general series referred to in Sec. 722.218) and such forms as may be required to carry out these regulations. Copies of such forms and necessary instructions shall be furnished free to persons needing them upon request made to the office of the appropriate county committee.

(b) Definitions. As used in these regulations and in all forms and documents in connection therewith, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter genders and the singular shall include the plural number:

(1) Act. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and any amendments thereto.

(2) Secretary of Agriculture. The Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(3) Administrator. The Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(4) Regional director. The director of the division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in charge of the administration of Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act (49 Stat. 1148), as amended (hereinafter referred to as the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act), in the region.

(5) Southern region. The area included in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and Texas.

(6) East Central region. The area included in the States of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia.

(7) Western region. The area included in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

(8) North Central region. The area included in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

(9) State committee. The group of persons designated within any State to assist in the administration of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

(10) Committee. A committee within a county or community utilized under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. "County committee," "community committee," or "local committee" shall have corresponding meanings in the connection in which they are used.

(11) Review committee. The review committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture as provided in Section 363 of the Act.

(22) Treasurer of the County Committee. The treasurer of the county agricultural conservation association or the treasurer of the county committee, as the case may be.

(23) Farm. All adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(i) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other land; and

(ii) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(24) Farm marketing quota. A cotton marketing quota established for a farm under Section 346 (a) of the Act.

(25) Producer marketing quota. A producer's share of a farm marketing quota.

(26) Farm acreage allotment. A cotton acreage allotment established for a farm under Sec. 722.215 or 722.216.

(27) Normal yield. The number of pounds of lint cotton established as the normal yield per acre for the farm in accordance with Sec. 722.217.

(28) Actual production of any number of acres. The actual average yield of lint cotton for the farm for 1940 times such number of acres.

(29) Normal production of any number of acres. The normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm times such number of acres.

(30) Cotton. Any cotton other than long staple cotton.

(31) Long staple cotton. Cotton the staple of which is 1⅛ inches or more in length.

(32) Lint cotton. The fiber taken from seed cotton by ginning.

(33) Seed cotton. The harvested fruit of the cotton plant before it is ginned.

(34) Ginning. Separating lint cotton from the seed.

(35) Market. To dispose of by sale, barter, or exchange.

(i) The term "sale" means any transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another by any means other than barter or exchange.

(ii) The terms "barter" and "exchange" mean transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in return for cotton or other commodities, services, or property in cases where the value of the cotton or such other commodities, services, or property is not considered in terms of money, or the transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in payment of a fixed rental or other charge for land.

(iii) "Marketed," "marketing," and "for market" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market" in the connection in which they are used.

(36) Marketing year. The period beginning on August 1, 1940, and ending with July 31, 1941, both dates inclusive.

(37) Penalty. The penalty provided in Section 348 of the Act.

(38) State and county code number. The applicable number assigned by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to each county for the purpose of identification.

(39) Serial number of the farm or farm serial number. The serial number assigned to a farm.

(40) Gin bale number or mark. The number on the bale tag or any other mark made or used by the ginner to identify a bale of cotton.

(41) Underplanted farm. A farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1940 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment established therefor.

(42) Overplanted farm. A farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1940 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment established therefor.

(43) Carry-over penalty cotton. The amount of cotton from any previous crop which a producer has on hand which, if marketed during the 1939–1940 marketing year, would have been subject to the penalty.

(44) Carry-over penalty free cotton. The amount of cotton from any previous crop which a producer has on hand which, if marketed during the 1939–1940 marketing year, would not have been subject to the penalty. [Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66]

ALLOTMENTS AND YIELDS

§ 722.212 National baleage allotment. The national allotment of cotton for the calendar year beginning January 1, 1940, is 10,000,000 standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight, increased by that number of standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight equal to the production in 1940 of that number of acres required to be allotted for 1940 as set forth in Sec. 722.213 (c), relating to minimum State acreage allotments, and in Sec. 722.214 (b), relating to minimum county acreage allotments. The production in 1940 of the acreage allotment referred to in Sec. 722.213 (e), relating to a special fund of acreage allotments consisting of four percent of the State acreage allotment, and in Sec. 722.213 (f), relating to minimum farm acreage allotments, shall be in addition to such national allotment. [Sec. 343 (a), (b), and (c), 52 Stat. 56, as amended by 53 Stat. 1125]

§ 722.213 State baleage allotments and State acreage allotments—(a) State baleage allotment. Ten million standard bales of the national baleage allotment of cotton for the calendar year 1940 shall be apportioned among the several States on the basis of the average of the normal production of cotton in each State for the five years 1934 to 1938. The normal production of a State for each such year shall be (1) the quantity of cotton produced therein in such year plus (2) the normal production of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in all counties in the State under the agricultural adjustment or conservation program in such year. The normal production of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in any county in any year shall be the average yield per acre of the acres planted to cotton in such county in such year times the number of acres so diverted in such county in such year. [Sec. 344 (a)]

(b) State acreage allotment. A State acreage allotment shall be established for each State to which an allotment is made under paragraph (a). The State acreage allotment shall be that number of acres equal to the result obtained by dividing the number of standard bales allotted to the State under paragraph (a) by the average yield per acre for the State expressed in standard bales. The average yield per acre for any State shall be determined on the basis of the average of the normal production for the State for the five years 1934 to 1938 and the average, for the same period, of the acres diverted from the production of cotton in the State under the agricultural adjustment or conservation programs and the acres planted to cotton. [Sec. 344 (b)]

(c) Minimum State acreage allotment. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the State acreage allotment for any State which is less than 5,000 acres shall be increased to 5,000 acres if at least 3,500 bales of cotton were produced in such State in any of the five years 1935 to 1939. [Sec. 344 (e) (2)]

(d) State acreage reserve for new farms. An acreage not greater than two percent of the State acreage allotment shall be made available for apportionment to farms in the State on which

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

§ 722.211 Issuance of forms and instructions and definitions—(a) Issuance of forms and instructions. The Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall cause to be prepared and issued with his approval such instructions (as parts of the general series referred to in Sec. 722.218) and such forms as may be required to carry out these regulations. Copies of such forms and necessary instructions shall be furnished free to persons needing them upon request made to the office of the appropriate county committee.

(b) Definitions. As used in these regulations and in all forms and documents in connection therewith, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter genders and the singular shall include the plural number:

(1) Act. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and any amendments thereto.

(2) Secretary of Agriculture. The Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(3) United States. The United States of America, including the District of Columbia, but excluding the Territories, dependencies, and possessions thereof.

(4) State. Any State, Territory, or dependency or possession of the United States, including the District of Columbia.

(5) South region. The area included in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and Texas.

(6) East Central region. The area included in the States of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia.

(7) Western region. The area included in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

(8) North Central region. The area included in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

(9) State committee. The group of persons designated within any State to assist in the administration of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

(10) Committee. A committee within a county or community utilized under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. "County committee," "community committee," or "local committee" shall have corresponding meanings in the connection in which they are used.

(11) Review committee. The review committee appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture as provided in Section 363 of the Act.

(12) Person. An individual, partnership, firm, joint-stock company, corporation, association, trust, estate, or any agency of a State. The term "person" shall include two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

(13) Owner or landlord. A person who owns farm land and rents such land to another person or who operates such land.

(14) Cash tenant or standing-rent tenant or fixed-rent tenant. A person who rents land from another for a fixed amount of cash or a commodity to be paid as rent.

(15) Share tenant. A person other a sharecropper who rents land from another person and pays as rent a share of the crops or the proceeds thereof.

(16) Sharecropper. A person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a share of a crop produced thereon or the cotton was not planted in any one of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939. [Sec. 344 (c) (2)]

(e) Special State acreage allotment of four percent of State acreage allotment. In addition to the State acreage allotment, a special State acreage allotment (hereinafter referred to as the "four percent State reserve") equal to four percent of the State acreage allotment shall be established for each State or apportionment as set forth in Sec. 722.215 (b), (e), and (f). [Sec. 344 (g)]

(f) Increases to provide for minimum farm acreage allotments. There shall be available in each State for allotment to farms that number of acres equal to the total amount by which farm acreage allotments in the State are increased as set forth in Sec. 722.215 (h), relating to certain minimum and maximum farm acreage allotments. This increase shall be in addition to the State acreage allotment and the four percent State reserve. [Sec. 344 (h)] (Sec. 344, 52 Stat. 57, 203, 586, and 53 Stat. 512, 853)

§ 722.214. County acreage allotments—(a) Regular county acreage allotments. The State acreage allotment (less that part set aside under Sec. 722.213 (d) for apportionment to new farms) shall be apportioned among the counties in the State on the basis of the sum of (1) the acreage therein planted to cotton during the five years 1934 to 1938 and (2), in the applicable years, the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton under agricultural adjustment and conservation programs, with adjustments for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage during such five-year period. The acreage allotment for each county to which an allotment is so apportioned shall be increased by the number of acres, if any, required to provide an acreage allotment for each such county of not less than 60 percent of the sum of (1) the acreage therein planted to cotton in 1937 and (2) the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program. [Sec. 344 (c) (1), Sec. 344 (e) (1)]

(b) Administrative areas. If in any county there are one or more areas which, because of difference in types, kinds, and productivity of the soil or other conditions, should be treated separately in order to prevent discrimination, each such area shall, in accordance with applicable instructions, be designated by the county committee, and the county acreage allotment shall be apportioned among such areas (1) on the basis of the acreage in each such area planted to cotton in 1937 plus the acreage therein diverted from the production of cotton in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program or (2), if conditions affecting the acreage planted to cotton were not reasonably uniform throughout the county in 1937, on the basis of the cotton base acreage in each such area which was or could have been established in 1937 under the agricultural conservation program. [Sec. 344 (f)] (Sec. 344, 52 Stat. 57, 203, 586)

§ 722.215 Apportionment of acreage allotments among established farms—(a) Acreage available for allotment. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees established in the county, shall apportion, in the manner set forth in this section, acreage allotments among all farms in the county on which cotton was planted in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939. The acreage allotments to be apportioned among such farms shall consist of (1) the regular county acreage allotment, consisting of an apportionment of the State acreage allotment made to the county, with such increase in the county acreage allotment as is necessary to provide for the county a minimum acreage allotment of not less than 60 percent of the planted plus diverted cotton acreage in the county in 1937, and (2) a distributive part, applicable to the county, of the four percent State reserve. This distributive part shall be the sum of the acreage allotted to farms in the county, insofar as the amount of the four percent State reserve will permit, under the following conditions in the order listed: (a) in supplying any deficiency in the regular county acreage allotment for the making of initial acreage allotments not exceeding five acres for each such farm; (b) in supplementing any acreage allotment made to any farm out of the regular county acreage allotment which, in consequence of the making of such initial acreage allotments, is inadequate and unrepresentative, and (c) in supplementing any acreage allotment made to any farm under this section which the county committee determines, in accordance with applicable instructions, is inadequate and unrepresentative. The committee shall not establish any farm acreage allotment which is not covered by the allotments mentioned above, except that after but not before the apportionment among farms of all the allotments mentioned above in this paragraph an additional farm acreage allotment shall be made, as set forth in paragraph (h), to any farm in respect to which the acreage allotment otherwise made is less than the minimum acreage allotment set forth in paragraph (h). The term "planted plus diverted cotton acreage," as used in this section, shall be taken to mean the sum of the acreage planted in cotton and the acreage diverted from cotton production under agricultural adjustment or conservation programs. [Sec. 344 (d), (e), (f), (g), (h)]

(b) Initial farm acreage allotments. The regular county acreage allotment shall be first apportioned among farms on which cotton was planted in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939, and in making such apportionment there shall be first established for each such farm an initial acreage allotment equal to the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939, provided that no initial allotment shall exceed five acres for any such farm. These allotments shall be known as initial allotments and are referred to accordingly in this section. Any deficiency in the amount of the regular county acreage allotment for the making of such initial allotments shall be supplied by the use of the four percent State reserve insofar as such reserve will permit for the county. [Sec. 344 (d) (1), Sec. 344 (g) (1)]

(c) Reserve for small farms. In the event that the regular county acreage allotment is more than sufficient to make the initial allotments, there shall be set aside for increase of allotments to small farms, as set forth in paragraph (g), an amount of not more than three percent of that amount of the regular county acreage allotment which remains after making the initial allotments. [Sec. 344 (d) (2)]

(d) Apportionment on the basis of tilled land. The remainder of the regular county acreage allotment shall be apportioned among all farms on which the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939 was more than five acres. The acreage thus to be apportioned to each such farm shall, together with the initial allotment made to the farm, be a percentage (which shall be the same percentage for all farms in the county or administrative area within the county) of the acreage on the farm in 1939 which was tilled or was in regular rotation, excluding therefrom the acreage devoted to the production of sugarcane for sugar, wheat, tobacco, or rice for market, or of wheat or rice for feeding to livestock for market. [Sec. 344 (d) (3)]

(e) Increases as a result of making initial farm acreage allotments. If, as a result of the making of initial allotments, the farm acreage allotments for farms made in accordance with paragraph (d) are substantially smaller than the farm acreage allotments which would have been made without regard to any provision for the making of initial allotments, the farm acreage allotments to such farms shall be increased to the acreage which would have resulted in the absence of any provision for the making of initial allotments, insofar as the remainder, if any, of the four percent State reserve will permit for the county after the making of initial allotments. [Sec. 344 (g) (2)]

(f) Increases in view of past production. After allotments have been made from the four percent State reserve as provided in paragraphs (b) and (e), one-half of the remainder, if any, of such reserve shall be apportioned to farms for which the acreage allotment otherwise determined is less than 50 percent of the planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in 1937, and the other one-half of the remainder, if any, of such reserve shall be available for increasing the allotments for any farms which are determined, in accordance with applicable instructions, to be inadequate and not representative in view of past production on the farm: Provided, That the cotton acreage allotment for any farm shall not be increased under this paragraph (f) above 40 percent of the acreage on such farm in 1939 which was tilled or was in regular rotation. [Sec. 344 (g) (3)]

(g) Distribution of reserve for small farms. Any farm acreage allotment made as aforesaid of more than five acres, but not exceeding 15 acres, may be increased from the reserve of not more than three percent of the county acreage allotment mentioned in paragraph (c). In making such increase due consideration shall be given to, and such allotments shall be made on the basis of, the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop-rotation practices and the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton. [Sec. 344 (d) (2)]

(h) Certain minimum and maximum farm acreage allotments. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, (1) the farm acreage allotment made to any farm shall not exceed the highest planted plus diverted cotton acreage in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939, and (2) any farm acreage allotment which after but not before the apportionment of all acreage allotments, as provided in the foregoing paragraphs of this section, is less than 50 percent of the planted plus diverted cotton acreage on the farm in 1937 shall be increased to such amount, provided that such increase shall not be so made as to raise the farm acreage allotment above 40 percent of the acreage on the farm which in 1939 was tilled or was in regular rotation. The acreage allotments required to effect this minimum provision shall be in addition to all acreage allotments represented by the regular county acreage allotment and by the four percent State reserve. [Sec. 344 (d) (3), (g), and (h)]

(i) Reapportionment of unused farm acreage allotment.—After making the allotments under this section, any part of the acreage allotted to individual farms which it is determined, in accordance with applicable instructions, will not be planted to cotton in 1940 shall be deducted from the allotments to such farms and may be apportioned in accordance with applicable instructions, preference being given to farms in the same county receiving allotments which are inadequate and not representative in view of the past production of cotton on each farm. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the acreage shall be apportioned to those farms designated by the county committee. In designating the farm to which the apportionment is to be made, the county committee shall consider only the character and adaptability of the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton and the need of the operator of such farm for an additional allotment to meet the requirement of the families engaged in the production of cotton in 1940 on the farm. Any transfer of allotments for 1940 as set forth in this paragraph shall not affect apportionment for any subsequent year. [Sec. 344 (h)] (Sec. 344, 52 Stat. 57, 203, 586, and 53 Stat. 512, 853)

§ 722.216 Apportionment of acreage allotments among new farms. The county committee, with the assistance of other local committees, shall, in accordance with applicable instructions, apportion among farms on which cotton was not planted in any one of the three years 1937 to 1939 and on which cotton will be planted in 1940 the distributive part, applicable to the county, of acreage allotments which constitute a reserve of not more than two percent of the State acreage allotment. The basis of the apportionment shall be the land, labor, and equipment available on the farm for the production of cotton, crop-rotation practices, and the soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton thereon. The acreage on the farm which will be tilled in 1940 or was tilled in 1939 shall, as a reflection of said factors, be regarded as the basic index of the farm's capacity for cotton production. [Sec. 344 (c) (2), 52 Stat. 57]

§ 722.217 Normal yields—(a) Farms for which normal yields will be established. The county committee, with the assistance of the other local committees established in the county, shall determine the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for each farm for which a farm acreage allotment is established.

(b) Yields based on reliable records. Where reliable records of the actual average yield of lint cotton per acre for all of the five years 1935 to 1939 are presented by the farmer or are available to the committee, the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be the average of such yields, adjusted, in accordance with applicable instructions, for abnormal weather conditions.

(c) Appraised yields. If for any year of the five-year period 1935 to 1939 (1) records of the actual average yield are not available, or (2) there was no actual yield because cotton was not planted in such year, the normal yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm shall be appraised by the county committee, taking into consideration the normal yield for the county, the yield in the years for which data are available, and the rainfall, temperature, and other weather conditions during the years for which data are available as compared with those for which data are not available, provided the appraised yield so obtained shall be adjusted in accordance with paragraph (d).

(d) Adjustments in appraised yields. The yields determined under paragraph (c) shall be adjusted so that the average of the normal yields per acre of lint cotton determined for all farms in the county or local administrative area therein (weighted by the cotton acreage allotments established for such farms) shall conform to but not exceed the county or administrative area normal yield per acre of lint cotton established for 1940 by the Secretary of Agriculture. [Sec. 301 (b) (13) (B) and (E), 52 Stat. 38, 202]

§ 722.218 Applicability of detailed instructions. The provisions of Sec. 722.212 through Sec. 722.217 shall be carried out in detail in accordance with the provisions of Part I, "Determining 1940 Farm Cotton Acreage Allotments and Yields," of the following instructions applicable to the regions indicated below:

Southern Region: Cotton 408–SR, "Instructions Pertaining to Cotton Marketing Quotas for 1940."
East Central Region: Cotton 408–ECR, "Instructions Pertaining to Cotton Marketing Quotas for 1940."
Western Region: Cotton 408–WR, "Instructions Pertaining to Cotton Marketing Quotas for 1940."
North Central Region: Cotton 408–NCR, "Instructions Pertaining to Cotton Marketing Quotas for 1940." [Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66]

sor to the Western South Dakota Stock Growers Association, I, M. L. Wilson, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby authorize, with respect to livestock originating in or shipped to market from that part of the State of South Dakota:

"West of the Missouri River and that portion of the State extending eastward from the Missouri River along the southern boundary of the State of North Dakota to a line paralleling the C. M. St. P. & P. Railway, extending southward from the North Dakota line through Aberdeen, Redfield, and Mitchell, South Dakota, to the Davison County line and thence westward along the southern boundary of Davison, Aurora, and Brule Counties to the Missouri River," the charging and collection of a reasonable fee, to be paid by the owners of the livestock for the inspection of brands appearing upon livestock sold or offered for sale at those posted markets at which said association registers as a market agency, such inspection to be made to determine the ownership of the livestock. Such inspection and charging and collection of fees shall be subject to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act and such reasonable regulations as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe. (Public 159, 76th Congress, approved June 30, 1939) [Authorization Dec. 9, 1939]

In witness whereof, the Secretary of Agriculture has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 9th day of December 1939.

CHAPTER III—CLAIMS AND ACCOUNTS

PART 37—CLAIMS ON BEHALF OF THE UNITED STATES[1]

§ 37.5 Offer of compromise settlement. (a) The defendant will not be invited, in the initial demand prescribed in section 37.4, to submit any offer other than in full settlement of the claim as presented.

(b) Should he admit liability but consider the demand excessive as to amount or beyond his ability to liquidate within a reasonable time, or should he disclaim liability but evidence a willingness to liquidate the account if reduced in amount, he may be invited to offer a compromise settlement.

(c) In such cases, if compromise be offered, the defendant will be advised that the offer must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the United States in the amount of such offer in order that it may receive consideration under the law.

(d) The defendant will also be informed that if his offer is accepted by the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of section 3469 of the Revised Statutes his liability to the Government in respect to the matter for which such offer is made will be terminated, and that if his offer is not accepted the amount of his check will be promptly returned to him by the Treasury Department. ## TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF CUSTOMS

[T. D. 50029]

TERRITORY UNDER THE DE FACTO ADMINISTRATIVE CONTROL OF GERMANY

TERRITORIES WHOSE PRODUCTS ARE NOT ENTITLED TO REDUCED RATES OF DUTY ESTABLISHED PURSUANT TO TRADE AGREEMENTS. MARKING OF CERTAIN PRODUCTS

DECEMBER 11, 1939.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Reference is made to the letter addressed by the President to the Secretary of the Treasury on November 16, 1939,[1] and published in T. D. 50015, regarding the generalization of the rates of duty established pursuant to the Venezuelan and other trade agreements, with particular reference to the application of such rates to the products of Germany and territories under its de facto administrative control.

The Secretary of the Treasury has been advised by the Secretary of State, under date of December 1, 1939, with reference to the territories now under the de facto administrative control of Germany as follows:

On April 5, 1938 this Department notified you that for all practical purposes the disappearance of the Republic of Austria as an independent state and its incorporation in the territory of the German Government must be accepted as a fact.

The State Department accepts as a fact the transfer to Germany of the Sudeten areas referred to in its letter to you on November 9, 1938.

On March 24, 1939 this Department advised you that it had been informed by the Lithuanian Minister that his Government had formally ceded the territory of Memel to Germany and that the State Department accepts such transfer as a fact.

In the President's letter of April 5, 1939[2] to you regarding the generalization of trade agreement rates in connection with the proclamation of the trade agreement with Turkey the Provinces of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia in Czechoslovakia are specifically referred to as under the de facto administrative control of Germany and the status of these provinces remains unchanged.

In addition, this Department understands that the territory of the Republic of Poland west of a line agreed upon on September 28, 1939, between Germany and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is now under the de facto administrative control of Germany. According to information from the American Embassy at Moscow, the line as reproduced in a map accompanying the agreement of September 28, 1939, runs due west from the tip of Lithuania to the frontier of Eastern Prussia; continues along that frontier to the Pissa River, then south along that river to the town of Ostrolenka; then southeast to the River Bug, along the Bug to the town of Kristinopol; thence almost due west to the River San and along that river to its source on the Ruthenian frontier.

This Department also understands that the Free City of Danzig is now under the de facto administrative control of Germany.

Products of that area of the Republic of Poland now under the de facto administrative control of Germany and products of the Free City of Danzig, if exported from any country on or after November 16, 1939, shall be regarded as products of Germany for the purposes of the marking provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by the Customs Administrative Act of 1938, and for determining applicable rates of duty.

Commissioner of Customs.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

BITUMINOUS COAL DIVISION

[Order No. 288]

AN ORDER REQUIRING CODE MEMBERS TO REPORT TO THE DIVISION, THE DISTRICT BOARDS AND THE STATISTICAL BUREAUS CHANGES IN NAME OF PRODUCER, IN OWNERSHIP, OPERATION, MANAGEMENT OR CONTROL OF THE MINE, IN METHODS OF MINING OR PREPARATION OF COALS, AND OTHER INFORMATION

Pursuant to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, it is hereby ordered that:

1. Each Code member shall report any change in the name under which any of his mines are operated, and any change in the ownership, operation, management or control of any of his mines, within ten days after any such change occurs.

2. Each Code member who is producing or who contemplates producing coal from a mine for which no price classifications and minimum prices have been proposed or established shall immediately report such fact.

3. Each Code member shall report any change in the method of mining or preparation of coals, or other conditions effecting a material change in the sizes, analyses, or other characteristics of the coal produced by such Code member. Such report shall be made within ten days after the occurrence of such change and shall include a statement as to the effect of such change on the sizes, analyses and market qualities of the coals of such Code member.

4. The reports required under paragraphs 1, 2, and 3 of this Order shall be filed with the Director of the Division within the prescribed period, and copies thereof shall be mailed to the District Board and the Statistical Bureau for the District in which the mines in question are located.

5. Each Code member who has not heretofore executed and filed for each mine operated by him the form entitled "Questionnaire as to Analysis, Methods of Mining, Preparation of Coals, and Other Information", pursuant to Order No. 234[1] of the National Bituminous Coal Commission dated March 16, 1938, should execute and file such form with the Division for each mine operated by him. Copies of such form may be obtained from the Office of the District Board, any Statistical Bureau of the Division, or by addressing a request therefor to the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. Such form shall be executed in duplicate; one copy thereof shall be filed with the Director, and one copy with the District Board for the district in which the mine in question is located.

6. Order No. 241,[2] dated May 6, 1938, and paragraph 4 of Order No. 234, dated March 16, 1938, are hereby rescinded.

Dated, December 8, 1939.

* * * * * *

(b) Precedence at locks. Ordinarily the vessel arriving first at a lock shall be first locked through; but precedence shall be given to vessels belonging to the United States and to vessels carrying the mails, in the order named. Passenger boats shall have precedence over tows and like craft. When two or more vessels of the same class arrive at a lock from the same direction at the same time, the vessel landward on the lock side of the river shall have precedence, and the riverward vessel shall stop and give way to the landward vessel on the lock side. When two vessels of the same class arrive at a lock from opposite directions at the same time, the vessel headed downstream, or with the flow of the current, shall ordinarily have precedence. In cases where no current draw exists riverward from the lock, the vessel headed upstream may be given precedence. Where several vessels of the same class are awaiting lockage from opposite directions, lockages shall be made alternately, if practicable, rather than in the order of time of arrival. Arrival posts or markers may be established ashore above or below the locks. Vessels arriving at or opposite such posts or markers, will be considered as having arrived at the locks within the meaning of this paragraph. Irrespective of any other provisions of this paragraph, the precedence at locks is to be as directed by the lock master, who may prescribe any departure from such provisions as in his judgment the circumstances warrant.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. 29-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF THE PITTSBURGH STEEL COMPANY FOR RENEWAL OF ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

The Pittsburgh Steel Company, Applicant herein, having on June 10, 1937, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the Applicant, or produced and transported by the Applicant to itself for consumption by it in its manufacture of coke; and

The Commission having, on August 31, 1938, entered an order [1] pursuant to such application, in Docket No. 29-FD, ordering that the provisions of Section 4, II, (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 do apply to the bituminous coal produced by the Applicant at its Thompson No. 1, Thompson No. 2 and Tower Hill No. 2 mines in Fayette County, Pennsylvania which is consumed by the Applicant in the manufacture of coke, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering the Applicant to apply annually thereafter, and at such other times as the Commission may require for renewal of said order, and to file such accompanying reports as will enable the Commission to determine whether the facts as found in said order continue to exist;

Applicant having, on November 3, 1939, filed with the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantity of coal produced by the Applicant during the year preceding the filing of the application for renewal, at its mines located in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, and the portion thereof which was consumed by Applicant in its manufacture of coke, and which application also contains a statement that all of the facts set forth in the application of June 10, 1937, remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order of August 31, 1938, continue to exist;

It is ordered, That the application filed by the Applicant for renewal of said order dated August 31, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That the said order dated August 31, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, and this renewal of said order, shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the Applicant, on or before November 7, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the Applicant, on or before July 7, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 7, 1940, containing the following information, which the Director hereby finds to be necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the Applicant, and the names and locations of the mines covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mines;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant, and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal is consumed; and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced on the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That the Director at any time, upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person, may direct the Applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the order of August 31, 1938, should not be terminated. Any person filing such a petition shall serve a copy thereof upon the Applicant herein.

Dated, December 7, 1939.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION FOR REVIEW OF THE DETERMINATION DENYING APPLICATION FOR PARTIAL EXEMPTION OF THE RECEIVING, GRADING AND PACKING OF UNSHELLED "ENGLISH" WALNUTS IN THE STATES OF CALIFORNIA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON, AND UNSHELLED FILBERTS IN THE STATES OF OREGON AND WASHINGTON FROM THE MAXIMUM HOUR PROVISIONS OF THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

Whereas, upon applications of the California Walnut Growers Association, the North Pacific Nut Growers Cooperative and sundry other parties, a hearing was held [1] in San Francisco, California, on September 28, 1939, before Harold Stein, Presiding Officer, duly designated and authorized by the Administrator to conduct said hearing, take testimony and hear arguments for the purpose of determining, and to determine the following questions:

(1) Whether either the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts, or the receiving, grading or packing of unshelled filberts is an industry of a seasonal nature or branch thereof within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of the regulations issued thereunder; and

(2) Whether both the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled "English" walnuts, and the receiving, grading and packing of unshelled filberts together constitute an industry of a seasonal nature or branch thereof within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526 of regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas, the said Harold Stein on December 4, 1939, duly made findings of fact and determined as follows:

"1. Walnuts and filberts mature and are harvested and dried in the States of California, Oregon and Washington in the months of September, October and November; and

"2. Walnuts and filberts are delivered to packing houses as soon as they are dried and must be received at that time in these (or other) facilities; and

"3. Walnuts and filberts are customarily graded and packed in the months of September, October, November and December and the bulk of such walnuts and filberts are shipped to consumers at that time; and

"4. The length of the packing season is controlled solely by market demand and is not caused by any unavailability of the materials used by the industries; and

"5. Filberts are invariably received, graded and packed in the same plants as walnuts; and

"6. Filbert packing and walnut packing are merely different operations within the same industry; and

"7. The shelling of walnuts and the handling of walnut kernels are largely performed by the employers who also receive, grade and pack unshelled walnuts; and

"8. The shelling of walnut culls is directly and immedately connected with the grading and packing of unshelled walnuts, while the shelling of surplus walnuts is determined by the Walnut Control Board, representing all walnut growers and is closely related to the packing and sale of unshelled walnuts; and

"9. The receiving, grading and packing of walnuts is not a separate branch of an industry but is part of the whole walnut industry which includes the shelling of walnuts and the handling of walnut kernels; and

"10. The shelling of walnuts and the handling of walnut kernels continues throughout most of the year and is not of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of Regulations issued thereunder; and

"11. The walnut industry including shelling operations, operations on unshelled nuts, and operations on filberts, is not of a seasonal nature; and

"12. Neither the receiving, grading and packing of walnuts, nor the receiving, grading and packing of filberts, nor both taken together is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of Section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of Regulations issued thereunder.

"The applications are denied."

Copies of the said Findings and Determination are available for inspection by interested parties in the office of the Administrator, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., and in the various regional and branch offices of the Wage and Hour Division.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that any person aggrieved by the said determination may, within fifteen days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file a petition with the Administrator requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of hearing before the said representative.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of December, 1939.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 12, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employers' name:

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to the employers listed below effective December 12, 1939, until April 9, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at sub-minimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE KNITTED WEAR INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 12, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Knitted Wear Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has not been previously employed for more than eight (8) weeks in the aggregate during the preceding three (3) years upon sewing machine or knitting machine operations, respectively.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of sewing machines and knitting machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, no learner may be paid at a rate less than 22½¢ per hour provided, however, that if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate, learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rate if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no event less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced operators are not available.

(4) These Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of their issuance if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of their terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. No learner may be employed under these Certificates if hired when an experienced worker was available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are to be employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of sewing machine and knitting machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under these Certificates unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

NAME AND ADDRESS OF FIRM AND PRODUCT

Belle Knitting Corporation, Sayre, Pennsylvania, circular knit fabric.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Textile Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to employers listed below effective December 12, 1939, until March 12, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name.

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Textile Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than six (6) weeks experience in the aggregate in any of the learner occupations listed below in any branch of the Textile Industry except tufted bedspreads and curtains.

(2) Learners may be employed under these Certificates only in the occupations of machine operating, tending, fixing, and jobs immediately incidental thereto, but not in occupations similar to those performed by the following: sweepers, scrubbers, yard employees, watchmen, clerical workers and supervisors, timekeepers, machine cleaners, janitors, truckers, and employees engaged in simillar work, and no learner shall be employed at less than the minimum rate for more than six (6) weeks.

(3) No learner may be paid at a rate less than 25 cents an hour provided, however, that if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate, learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rates if in excess of 25 cents per hour but in no event less than 25 cents per hour.

(4) Experienced workers may not be employed at less than the minimum rate and no learner may be employed at less than the minimum rate unless hired when experienced workers were not available and no learner may be employed under these Certificates until and unless a copy of the certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are to be employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued on representations of employers that: (a) experienced operators are not available and (5) that they are actually in need of learners at sub-minimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations Part 522, as amended, and are subject to cancellation by the Administrator or his authorized representative for cause. These Certificates may be canceled as of the date of their issuance if it is found, upon objection duly filed within fifteen (15) days following publication of notice of their issuance, that the issuance of these Certificates was not necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. They may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if it is found that any of their terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. A copy of the employer's Certificate must be available at all times for inspection. Altering or attempting to alter any Certificate will render it invalid.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 32-170]

IN THE MATTER OF PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF INDIANA

ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION

Public Service Company of Indiana, a subsidiary company of the Trustees of Midland United Company, a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission an amended application purusant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of the Act with respect to the issue and sale of $38,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 4%, due September 1, 1969, and $10,000,000 principal amount of Serial Debentures, 3⅞%, due 1940–1949; and

A public hearing on such amended application having been duly held after appropriate notice; the record in this matter having been duly examined; and the Commission having made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

It is ordered, That said amended application be, and the same hereby is, approved; and

It is further ordered, That the following conditions be, and the same hereby are, imposed upon the applicant:

1. That if the express authorizations of the issue and sale of such securities by the Public Service Commission of the State of Indiana shall be revoked or otherwise terminated, this exemption shall immediately terminate without further order of this Commission;

2. That such securities shall be issued within 30 days after the date of our order;

3. That within 10 days after the issue and sale of such securities applicant shall file with this Commission a certificate of notification showing that such issue and sale have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of and for the purposes represented by such application as amended; and

4. That except as the Commission may by order or orders from time to time permit, so long as any of the First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 4%, due September 1, 1969 are outstanding, Public Service Company of Indiana shall not, nor shall any successor or successors of Public Service Company of Indiana, declare or pay any dividends or make any distributions on shares of any class of its capital stock (other than dividends payable solely in shares of its stock) or make any disbursement for the purchase or retirement of shares of any class of its capital stock, unless said Company (or any such successor or successors) has charged against income for the period from January 1, 1939 to the date of the proposed payment of such dividends or making of such distribution or disbursement, as a provision for depreciation, an amount equal to at least $1,700,000 per annum plus, for each calendar year, three per cent (3%) of the book value of net depreciable property additions made during the period from September 1, 1939 to December 31 of the immediately preceding calendar year; provided, however, that any transfers to the earned surplus account of said Company (or any such successor or successors) from net income since September 1, 1939, over and above all such dividends, distributions and disbursements, may be used as a credit to offset any deficiency in the amount added to the reserve for depreciation in satisfying the foregoing requirements.

By the Commission.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 1-3038]

IN THE MATTER OF PROCEEDING UNDER SECTION 19 (a) (2) OF THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, AS AMENDED, TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE REGISTRATION OF LEPANTO CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY COMMON STOCK, 10 CENTAVOS PAR VALUE, NON-ASSESSABLE SHOULD BE SUSPENDED OR WITHDRAWN

ORDER FOR HEARING AND DESIGNATING OFFICER TO TAKE TESTIMONY

I

It appearing to the Commission,

That Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of the Philippines, is the issuer of Common Stock, 10 centavos par value, non-assessable, and

That said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company registered such security on the San Francisco Mining Exchange, a national securities exchange, by filing on or about June 1, 1938, an application with the said Exchange and with the Commission, pursuant to Sections 12 (b) and (c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and pursuant to Rule X-12B-1, as amended, promulgated by the Commission thereunder, which application became effective July 3, 1938, and has remained in effect to and including the date hereof, and

That Rule X-13A-1, promulgated pursuant to Section 13 of said Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, did and does require that an annual report for each issuer of a security registered on a national securities exchange shall be filed on the appropriate form prescribed therefor; and

That Rule X-13A-2, promulgated pursuant to Section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, did and does prescribe Form 10-K as the annual report form to be used for the annual reports of all corporations except those for which another form is specified and that no other form was or is specified for use by the said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company, and

II

The Commission having reason to believe that,

The said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company has failed to comply with said Section 12 and the said Rule X-12B-1 promulgated thereunder and with the provisions of Form 10, the instructions, rules and regulations of the Commission supplemental thereto, as amended, in that the application on Form 10 filed by the said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company fails to include an accountant's certificate which contains a statement of opinion with respect to the accounting principles and procedures followed by the said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company, and

The said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company has failed to comply with said Section 13 and said Rule X-13A-1 in that it has failed to file its annual report for the year ended December 31, 1938, on Form 10-K as prescribed by said Rule X-13A-2, and

III

It being the opinion of the Commission that,

The hearing herein ordered to be held is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 19 (a) (2) of said Act, that a public hearing be held to determine whether Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company has failed to comply with Sections 12 and 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules, regulations and forms promulgated by the Commission thereunder, in the respects set forth above; and if so, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months or to withdraw the registration of the Common Stock, 10 centavos par value, nonassessable, of said Lepanto Consolidated Mining Company on said San Francisco Mining Exchange;

It is further ordered, Pursuant to the provisions of Section 21 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that for the purposes of such hearing, John G. Clarkson, an officer of the Commission, is hereby designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take testimony and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law;

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this hearing begin on the 29th day of January, 1940, at 10:00 A. M. at the Regional Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 625 Market Street, San Francisco, California, and continue thereafter at such time and place as the officer hereinbefore designated may determine.

By the Commission.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 43-282]

IN THE MATTER OF LEXINGTON UTILITIES COMPANY AND KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 20, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 18, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the issue and sale by Lexington Utilities Company of $4,000,000 3½% notes to the Chase National Bank of the City of New York which notes are to be guaranteed by Kentucky Utilities Company. The proceeds of such issue and sale, together with other funds of Lexington Utilities Company and/or Kentucky Utilities Company to the extent necessary, are to be used to redeem at 103, presently outstanding First and Refunding 5% Bonds due 1952 of Lexington Utilities Company.

By the Commission.

DEFINITIONS

§ 108.1 Meaning of words. Words used in these regulations in the singular form shall be deemed to import the plural, and vice versa, as the case may demand.

§ 108.2 Terms defined. For the purpose of these regulations, unless the context otherwise require, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Sirups. Sugar-cane sirup, maple sirup or extracted honey, as defined in Service and Regulatory Announcements, Food and Drug No. 2, Revision 5, issued November, 1936, by the Food and Drug Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) The act. The United States Warehouse Act, approved August 11, 1916 (39 Stat. 486), as amended.

(c) Person. An individual, corporation, partnership, or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

(d) Secretary. The Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(e) Chief of the Service. The chief of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

(f) Designated representative. The chief of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(g) Regulations. Regulations made under the act by the Secretary.

(h) Service. The Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(i) Warehouse. Unless otherwise clearly indicated by the context, any suitable building, structure, or other protected inclosure in which sirup is or may be stored for interstate or foreign commerce, or, if located within any place under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, in which sirup is or may be stored, and for which a license has been issued under the act.

(j) Warehouseman. Unless otherwise clearly indicated by the context, any person lawfully engaged in the business of storing sirup and holding a warehouse license.

(k) License. A license issued under the act by the Secretary.

(l) Licensed warehouseman's bond. A bond required to be given under the act by a licensed warehouseman.

(m) Licensed inspector. A person licensed under the act by the Secretary to inspect, to sample, to grade, and to certificate the grade and condition for storage of sirup.

(n) Licensed weigher. A person licensed under the act by the Secretary to weigh and to certificate the weight for storage of sirup.

(o) Receipt. A warehouse receipt.

WAREHOUSE LICENSES

§ 108.3 Application forms. Applications for licenses and for modifications or extensions of licenses under the act shall be made to the Secretary upon forms prescribed for the purpose and furnished by the Service, shall truly state the information therein contained, and shall be signed by the applicant. The applicant shall at any time furnish such additional information as the Secretary or the chief of the Service shall find to be necessary to the consideration of his application.

§ 108.4 Grounds for not issuing license. A license for the conduct of a warehouse shall not be issued if it be found by the Secretary or his designated representative, that the warehouse is not suitable for the proper storage of sirup, that the warehouseman is incompetent to conduct such warehouse in accordance with the act and these regulations, or that there is any other sufficient reason within the purposes of the act for not issuing such license.

§ 108.5 Net assets required. The warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed or for which application for license has been made under the act shall have and maintain above all exemptions and liabilities net assets liable for the payment of any indebtedness arising from the conduct of the warehouse, to the extent of at least five (5) cents per gallon of sugar-cane sirup and ten (10) cents per gallon of maple sirup or honey, of the maximum number of gallons that the warehouse will accommodate when stored in the manner customary to the warehouse as determined by the chief of the Service, except that the amount of such assets shall not be less than $5,000, and need not be more than $100,000. If such warehouseman has applied for licenses to conduct two or more warehouses in the same State, the assets applicable to all of which shall be subject to the liabilities of each, such warehouses shall be deemed to be one warehouse for the purposes of the assets required under this section. For the purposes of this section only, paid in capital stock, as such, shall not be considered a liability. Any deficiency in the required net assets may be supplied by an increase in the amount of the warehouseman's bond in accordance with section 108.12.

§ 108.6 License shall be posted. Immediately upon receipt of his license or of any modification or extension thereof under the act, the warehouseman shall post the same, and thereafter, except as otherwise provided in these regulations, keep it posted until suspended or terminated, in a conspicuous place in the principal office where receipts issued by such warehousemen are delivered to depositors.

§ 108.7 Suspension or revocation of warehouse licenses. Pending investigation, the Secretary, or his designated representative, whenever he deems necessary, may suspend a warehouseman's license temporarily without hearing. Upon written request and a satisfactory statement of reasons therefor, submitted by a warehouseman, the Secretary, or his designated representative, may, without hearing, suspend or revoke the license issued to such warehouseman. The Secretary, or his designated representative, may, after opportunity for hearing when possible has been afforded in the manner prescribed in this section, revoke a license issued to a warehouseman when such warehouseman (a) is bankrupt or insolvent; (b) has parted, in whole or in part, with his control over the licensed warehouse; (c) is in process of dissolution or has been dissolved; (d) has ceased to conduct such licensed warehouse; or (e) has in any other manner become incompetent or incapacitated to conduct the business of the warehouse. Whenever any of the conditions mentioned in subdivisions (a) to (e) of this section shall come into existence it shall be the duty of the warehouseman to notify immediately the Chief of the Service of the existing condition. Before a license is revoked for any violation of, or failure to comply with, any provision of the act or of these regulations, or upon the ground that unreasonable or exorbitant charges have been made for services rendered, the warehouseman involved shall be furnished by the Secretary, or his designated representative, a written statement specifying the charges and shall be allowed a reasonable time within which he may answer the same in writing and apply for a hearing, an opportunity for which shall be afforded in accordance with Section 108.73.

§ 108.8 Return of terminated, suspended or revoked warehouse license. When a license issued to a warehouseman terminates or is suspended, or revoked, by the Secretary, or his designated representative, it shall be returned to the Secretary. At the expiration of any period of suspension of such license, unless it be in the meantime revoked, the dates of the beginning and termination of the suspension shall be endorsed thereon, it shall be returned to the licensed warehouseman to whom it was originally issued, and it shall be posted as prescribed in section 108.6: Provided, That in the discretion of the Chief of the Service a new license may be issued without reference to the suspension.

§ 108.9 Lost or destroyed warehouse license. Upon satisfactory proof of the loss or destruction of a license issued to a warehouseman, a duplicate thereof may be issued under the same number.

§ 108.10 Unlicensed warehousemen must not represent themselves as licensed. No warehouse or its warehouseman shall be designated as licensed under the act and no name or description conveying the impression that it is or he is so licensed shall be used, either in a receipt or otherwise, unless such warehouseman holds an unsuspended or unrevoked license for the conduct of such warehouse.

WAREHOUSE BONDS

§ 108.11 Time of filing. Unless the warehouseman has previously filed with the Secretary the necessary bond required by section 108.12 of this regulation, he shall file such bond within a time, if any, specified by the Secretary, or his designated representative, such bond to cover all obligations arising thereunder during the period of the license.

§ 108.12 Basis of amount of bond; additional amounts. (a) Exclusive of any amount which may be added in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the amount of such bond shall be at the rate of five (5) cents per gallon of sugar-cane sirup and ten (10) cents per gallon of maple sirup or honey, of the maximum number of gallons that the warehouse will accommodate when stored in the manner customary to the warehouse for which such bond is required, as determined by the chief of the Service, but not less than $5,000 nor more than $50,000. If such warehouseman has applied for licenses to conduct two or more warehouses in the same State, the assets applicable to all of which shall be subject to the liabilities of each, and shall desire to give a single bond meeting the requirements of the act and these regulations for said warehouses, such warehouses shall be deemed to be one warehouse for the purposes of the bond required under sections 108.11–108.15.

(b) In case of a deficiency in net assets under section 108.5, there shall be added to the amount of the bond fixed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, an amount equal to such deficiency.

(c) If the Secretary, or his designated representative, finds the existence of conditions warranting such action, there shall be added to the amount fixed in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section a further amount, fixed by him, to meet such conditions.

§ 108.13 Amendment of license. If application is made under Section 108.3, for an amendment of a license, and no bond previously filed by the warehouseman under this regulation covers obligations incurred during the period of such amendment, the warehouseman shall, when notice has been given by the Secretary, or his designated representative, that such amendment will be granted upon compliance by such warehouseman with the act, file with the Secretary, within a time, if any, fixed in such notice, a bond complying with the act, unless bond in sufficient amount has been filed since the filing of such application. In the discretion of the Secretary, a properly executed instrument in form approved by him, amending, extending, or continuing in force and effect the obligations of a valid bond previously filed by the warehouseman and otherwise complying with the act and these regulations, may be filed in lieu of a new bond.

§ 108.14 New bond required each year. Whenever a license has been issued for a period longer than one year, such license shall not be effective beyond one year from its effective date unless the warehouseman shall have filed a new bond in the required amount with, and such bond shall have been approved by the Secretary, or his designated representative, prior to the date on which that license would have expired had it been issued for but one year, subject to the provisions of section 108.13.

§ 108.15 Approval of bond. No bond, amendment or continuation thereof, shall be deemed accepted for the purposes of the act and these regulations until it has been approved by the Secretary, or his designated representative.

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS

§ 108.16 Form. (a) Every receipt, whether negotiable or non-negotiable, issued for sirups stored in a warehouse, shall, in addition to complying with the requirements of section 18 of the act, embody within its written or printed

108.29 Records to be kept in safe places.
ment of Agriculture.
act for not issuing such license.

terms the following: (1) the name of the licensed warehouseman and the designation, if any, of the warehouse; (2) the license number of the warehouse; (3) a statement whether the warehouseman is incorporated or unincorporated, and if incorporated, under what laws; (4) in the case of identity-preserved sirup, the lot number given to each lot of sirup, in accordance with section 108.32; (5) a statement conspicuously placed, whether or not the sirup is insured, and if insured, to what extent, by the warehouseman against loss by fire, lightning or tornado; (6) a blank space, designated for the purpose, in which the kind of sirup shall be stated; (7) a blank space, designated for the purpose, in which the locality in which the sirup was produced shall be stated, if known; (8) a blank space, designated for the purpose, in which the condition of the sirup shall be stated; (9) if the sirup is in barrels, drums or jackets, the gross, tare and net weight, or number of gallons; (10) if in cases, the number of cases and size of containers; (11) if in bulk for storage in tanks, the weight and/or the number of gallons; (12) the word "negotiable" or "non-negotiable," according to the nature of the receipt, clearly and conspicuously printed or stamped thereon; (13) in the event the relationship existing between the warehouseman and any depositor is not that of strictly disinterested custodianship, a statement setting forth the actual relationship.

(b) Every receipt, whether negotiable or non-negotiable, issued for sirup stored in a warehouse, shall specify a period, not exceeding one year, for which the sirup is accepted for storage under the act and these regulations; Provided, however, That no receipt shall be issued for sugarcane sirup stored without refrigeration in barrels for a period extending beyond March 1, following the year in which produced. Upon demand and surrender of the old receipt by the lawful holder thereof at or before the expiration of the period specified, the warehouseman, upon such lawful terms and conditions as may be granted by him to other depositors of sirup in his warehouse, if he then continues to act as a licensed warehouseman, shall issue a new receipt for a further specified period not exceeding one year; provided it is actually determined by a licensed inspector that the sirup has not deteriorated and that it is in proper condition for storage for another year; And provided further, That this provision shall not relate to sirup stored in wooden barrels. If the warehouseman continues to act as a public, but not as a licensed warehouseman, he may issue a new non-licensed receipt.

(c) The grade stated in a receipt issued for sirup stored in a warehouse, shall be stated as determined by the licensed inspector who last inspected the sirup before the issuance of such receipt, and such receipt shall embody within its written or printed terms the following: (1) that the sirup covered by the receipt was inspected by a licensed inspector, and (2) a form of indorsement which may be used by the depositor or his authorized agent, for showing the ownership of, and liens, mortgages or other encumbrances on the sirup covered by the receipt.

(d) Whenever the grade of sirup is stated in a receipt issued for sirup stored in a warehouse, such grade shall be stated in accordance with sections 108.66–108.68.

(e) If a warehouseman issues a receipt omitting the statement of grade on request of the depositor as permitted by section 18 of the act, such receipt shall have clearly and conspicuously stamped or written on the face thereof the words "Not graded on request of depositor".

(f) If a warehouseman issues a receipt under the act omitting any information not required to be stated, for which a blank space is provided in the form of the receipt, a line shall be drawn through such space to show that such omission has been made by the warehouseman.

§ 108.17 Copies of receipts. If copies are made of receipts, all such copies, except those issued in lieu of the original in case of lost or destroyed receipts, shall have clearly and conspicuously printed or stamped thereon the words "Copy—Not Negotiable". If copies are not made then skeleton copies bearing the same numbers as the corresponding original receipts shall be made, but such skeleton copies need not be marked "Copy—Not Negotiable".

§ 108.18 Lost or destroyed receipts; bond for. (a) In the case of a lost or destroyed receipt, if there be no statute of the United States or law of a State applicable thereto, a new receipt upon the same terms, subject to the same conditions, and bearing on its face the number and the date of the receipt in lieu of which it is issued and a plain and conspicuous statement that it is a duplicate issued in lieu of a lost or destroyed receipt, may be issued upon compliance with the conditions set out in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Before issuing such duplicate receipt the warehouseman shall require the depositor or other person applying therefor to make and file with the warehouseman (1) an affidavit showing that he is lawfully entitled to the possession of the original receipt, that he has not negotiated or assigned it, how the original receipt was lost or destroyed, and if lost, that diligent effort has been made to find the receipt without success and (2) a bond in amount double the value, at the time the bond is given, of the sirup represented by the lost or destroyed receipt. Such bond shall be in the form approved for the purpose by the Secretary, or his designated representative, shall be conditioned to indemnify the warehouseman against any loss sustained by reason of the issuance of such duplicate receipt, and shall have as surety thereon (a) preferably a surety company which is authorized to do business, and is subject to service of process in a suit on the bond, in the State in which the warehouse is located, or (b) at least two individuals who are residents of such State and each of whom owns real property therein having a value in excess of all exemptions and encumbrances, to the extent of double the amount of the bond.

§ 108.19 Approval of form of receipt. No receipt shall be issued by a licensed warehouseman except it be (1) in form prescribed by the chief of the Service; (2) upon distinctive paper specified by him; (3) printed by a printer with whom the United States has a subsisting contract and bond for such printing, and (4) on paper manufactured by and procured from a manufacturer with whom the United States has a subsisting contract and bond for the manufacture of such paper.

§ 108.20 Partial delivery of sirup. If a warehouseman deliver a part only of a lot of sirup for which he has issued a negotiable receipt under the act, he shall take up and cancel such receipt and issue a new receipt in accordance with these regulations for the undelivered portion of the sirup. The new receipt shall show the date of issuance and also indicate the number and date of the old receipt.

§ 108.21 Return of receipt before delivery of sirup. Except as permitted by law or by these regulations, a warehouseman shall not deliver sirup for which he has issued a negotiable receipt until the receipt has been returned to him and canceled, and shall not deliver sirup for which he has issued a non-negotiable receipt until such receipt has been returned to him or he has obtained from the person lawfully entitled to such delivery, or his authorized agent, a written order therefor.

§ 108.22 Signatures of persons authorized to direct delivery to be filed with warehouseman. Each person to whom a nonnegotiable receipt is issued shall furnish the warehouseman with a statement in writing indicating the person or persons having power to authorize delivery of sirup covered by such receipt, together with the bona fide signature of such person or persons. No licensed warehouseman shall honor an order for the release of sirup covered by a nonnegotiable receipt until he has first ascertained that the person issuing the order has authority to order such release and that the signature of the releasing party is genuine; provided that if the holder of such nonnegotiable receipt agrees in writing to hold blameless both the warehouseman and bondsman for any loss that might result from improper delivery through receipt of an unauthorized telegram, deliveries may be made on receipt of telegraphic orders to be followed immediately with usual confirmation order.

§ 108.23 Omission of grade; no compulsion by warehouseman. No warehouseman shall, directly or indirectly, by any means whatsoever, compel or attempt to compel the depositor of any sirup stored in his licensed warehouse to request the issuance of a receipt omitting the statement of grade.

DUTIES OF LICENSED WAREHOUSEMAN

§ 108.24 Sirup must be inspected. (a) No warehouseman shall accept sirup for storage until it has been inspected and approved by a licensed inspector.

(b) All sirup, the identity of which is not to be preserved, or has not been preserved, shall be accepted for and delivered out of storage only on the basis of grades and weights or quantities determined by licensed inspectors and weighers.

§ 108.25 Insurance requirements. (a) Each warehouseman, when so requested in writing by the depositor of or the lawful holder of the receipt for any sirup, shall, to the extent to which, in the exercise of due diligence, he is able to procure such insurance, keep such sirup while in his custody fully insured in his own name against loss or damage by fire, lightning, or tornado. When insurance is not carried in the warehouseman's name, the receipts shall show that the sirup is not insured by him. Such insurance shall be covered by lawful policies issued by one or more insurance companies authorized to do such business in the State where the warehouse is located. If the warehouseman is unable to procure such insurance, he shall, orally, or by telegraph or by telephone and at his own expense, immediately notify the person making the request. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a warehouseman from adopting a rule that he will insure all sirup.

(b) Each warehouseman shall keep exposed conspicuously in the place prescribed by section 108.6, and at such other place as the chief of the Service, or his representative may from time to time designate, a notice stating briefly the conditions under which sirup will be insured against loss or damage by fire, lightning or tornado.

(c) Each warehouseman shall take promptly such steps as may be necessary and proper to collect any moneys which may become due under contracts of insurance entered into by him for the purpose of meeting the requirements of these regulations, and shall, as soon as collected, pay promptly to the persons concerned any portion of such moneys which they may be entitled to receive from him.

§ 108.26 Premiums; inspections; reports. Each warehouseman shall, in accordance with his contracts with insurance and bonding companies for the purpose of meeting the insurance and bonding requirements of these regulations, pay such premiums, permit such reasonable inspections and examinations, and make such reasonable reports as may be provided for in such contracts.

§ 108.27 Care of sirup in storage. Each warehouseman shall at all times exercise such care in regard to sirup in his custody as a reasonably careful owner would exercise under the same circumstances and conditions. If sirup is stored under refrigeration a temperature not in excess of 38° Fahrenheit shall be maintained at all times in the licensed rooms or compartments and temperature records or charts showing correct temperature readings made at least four times daily shall be kept. Such records or charts shall be in such form as the Service may approve.

§ 108.28 Care of nonlicensed sirup or other commodities. If at any time a warehouseman shall handle sirup other than for storage, or shall handle or store any other commodity, he shall so protect the same and otherwise exercise such care with respect to it as not to endanger the sirup in his custody as a warehouseman or impair his ability to meet his obligations and perform his duties under the act and these regulations. If the warehouseman shall store commodities other than those for which he is licensed, a nonlicensed receipt shall be issued, which shall contain in its terms a provision that said commodities are accepted for storage only until such time as the space which they may occupy may be needed for products for the storage of which the warehouseman is licensed. Under no circumstances shall any commodities for the storage of which the warehouseman is not licensed be stored if the storage of such commodities might adversely affect the commercial value of, or impair the insurance on sirup covered by licensed receipts.

§ 108.29 Records to be kept in safe places. Each warehouseman shall provide a metal fireproof safe, a fireproof vault, or a fireproof compartment in which he shall keep, when not in actual use, all records, books, and papers pertaining to the warehouse, including his current receipt books, copies of receipts issued, and canceled receipts, except that with the written consent of the chief of the Service, or his representative, upon a showing by such warehousemen that it is not practicable to provide such fireproof safe, vault, or compartment, he may keep such records, books and papers in some other place of safety, approved by the chief of the Service or his representative. All canceled receipts shall be arranged by the warehouseman in numerical order as soon as possible after their cancellation and shall be preserved in numerical order thereafter.

§ 108.30 Warehouse charges. A warehouseman shall not make any unreasonable or exorbitant charge for service rendered. Before a license to conduct a warehouse is granted under the act, the warehouseman shall file with the Service a copy of his rules and a schedule of charges to be made by him if licensed. Before making any change in such rules or schedule of charges he shall file with the Service a statement in writing showing the proposed change and the reasons therefor. Each warehouseman shall keep exposed conspicuously in the place prescribed by section 108.6, and at such other places, accessible to the public, as the chief of the Service or his representative, may from time to time designate, a copy of his current rules and schedule of charges.

§ 108.31 Business hours. (a) Each warehouse shall be kept open for the purpose of receiving sirup for storage and delivering sirup out of storage every business day for a period of not less than six hours between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., except as provided in (b) of this section. The warehouseman shall keep conspicuously posted on the door to the public entrance to his office and to his warehouse a notice showing the hours during which the warehouse will be kept open, except when such office or warehouse is kept open continuously from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

(b) If the warehouse is not to be kept open as above required, the notice shall state the period during which it is to be closed and the name and address of an accessible person authorized to make delivery upon lawful demand and surrender of the receipt.

§ 108.32 Numbered tags to be attached to each lot of sirup. Each warehouseman shall, upon acceptance for storage of any lot of sirup the identity of which is to be preserved, take such action as will result in preserving the identity of the product while in storage. He shall immediately assign a lot number to each such lot, and shall plainly and indelibly stamp, stencil, print, or otherwise appropriately mark the lot number on all packages in the lot. He shall attach to such lot a tag of good quality, which shall at all times be clearly visible and shall identify the lot. Such tag shall show the lot number, the number of the receipt issued covering the sirup, the number of packages in the lot, the type or style of packages, the kind of sirup, the grade, if determined, the net weight or number of gallons of sirup in the lot, and the date it entered storage.

§ 108.33 System of accounts. Each warehouseman shall use for his warehouse a system of accounts, approved for the purpose by the chief of the Service, or his authorized representative, which shall show for each lot of sirup the name and address of the depositor, the lot number mentioned in section 108.32, the gross, tare, and net weight of sirup if in barrels, drums, or jackets, the number of cases and size of containers, if in cases, the grade, when grade is required to be or is ascertained, the dates received for and delivered out of storage, the receipts issued and canceled, a separate record for each depositor, and such accounts shall include a detailed record of all moneys received and disbursed and of all effective insurance policies.

houseman shall, directly or indirectly, by any means whatsoever, compel or attempt to compel the depositor of any sirup stored in his licensed warehouse to request the issuance of a receipt omitting the statement of grade.

DUTIES OF LICENSED WAREHOUSEMAN

§ 108.24 Sirup must be inspected. (a) No warehouseman shall accept sirup for storage until it has been inspected and approved by a licensed inspector.

(b) All sirup, the identity of which is not to be preserved, or has not been preserved, shall be accepted for and delivered out of storage only on the basis of grades and weights or quantities determined by licensed inspectors and weighers.

§ 108.25 Insurance requirements. (a) Each warehouseman, when so requested in writing by the depositor of or the lawful holder of the receipt for any sirup, shall, to the extent to which, in the exercise of due diligence, he is able to procure such insurance, keep such sirup while in his custody fully insured in his own name against loss or damage by fire, lightning, or tornado. When insurance is not carried in the warehouseman's name, the receipts shall show that the sirup is not insured by him. Such insurance shall be covered by lawful policies issued by one or more insurance companies authorized to do such business in the State where the warehouse is located. If the warehouseman is unable to procure such insurance, he shall, orally, or by telegraph or by telephone and at his own expense, immediately notify the person making the request. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a warehouseman from adopting a rule that he will insure all sirup.

(b) Each warehouseman shall keep

§ 108.27 Care of sirup in storage. Each warehouseman shall at all times exercise such care in regard to sirup in his custody as a reasonably careful owner would exercise under the same circumstances and conditions. If sirup is stored under refrigeration a temperature not in excess of 38° Fahrenheit shall be maintained at all times in the licensed rooms or compartments and temperature records or charts showing correct temperature readings made at least four times daily shall be kept. Such records or charts shall be in such form as the Service may approve.

§ 108.28 Care of nonlicensed sirup or other commodities. If at any time a warehouseman shall handle sirup other than for storage, or shall handle or store any other commodity, he shall so protect the same and otherwise exercise such care with respect to it as not to endanger the sirup in his custody as a warehouseman or impair his ability to meet his obligations and perform his duties under the act and these regulations. If the warehouseman shall store commodities other than those for which he is licensed, a nonlicensed receipt shall be issued, which shall contain in its terms a provision that said commodities are accepted for storage only until such time as the space which they may occupy may be needed for products for the storage of which the warehouseman is licensed. Under no circumstances shall any commodities for the storage of which the warehouseman is not licensed be stored if the storage of such commodities might adversely affect the commercial value of, or impair the insurance on sirup covered by licensed receipts.

§ 108.29 Records to be kept in safe places. Each warehouseman shall provide a metal fireproof safe, a fireproof vault, or a fireproof compartment in which he shall keep, when not in actual a statement in writing showing the proposed change and the reasons therefor. Each warehouseman shall keep exposed conspicuously in the place prescribed by section 108.6, and at such other places, accessible to the public, as the chief of the Service or his representative, may from time to time designate, a copy of his current rules and schedule of charges.

§ 108.31 Business hours. (a) Each warehouse shall be kept open for the purpose of receiving sirup for storage and delivering sirup out of storage every business day for a period of not less than six hours between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., except as provided in (b) of this section. The warehouseman shall keep conspicuously posted on the door to the public entrance to his office and to his warehouse a notice showing the hours during which the warehouse will be kept open, except when such office or warehouse is kept open continuously from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

(b) If the warehouse is not to be kept open as above required, the notice shall state the period during which it is to be closed and the name and address of an accessible person authorized to make delivery upon lawful demand and surrender of the receipt.

§ 108.32 Numbered tags to be attached to each lot of sirup. Each warehouseman shall, upon acceptance for storage of any lot of sirup the identity of which is to be preserved, take such action as will result in preserving the identity of the product while in storage. He shall immediately assign a lot number to each such lot, and shall plainly and indelibly stamp, stencil, print, or otherwise appropriately mark the lot number on all packages in the lot. He shall attach to such lot a tag

§ 108.34 Reports. Each warehouseman shall, from time to time, make such reports as the chief of the Service may require, on forms prescribed and furnished for the purpose by the Service, concerning the condition, contents, operation, and business of the warehouse.

§ 108.35 Copies of reports to be kept. Each warehouseman shall keep on file, as a part of the records of the warehouse, for such period as may be prescribed by the Service, an exact copy of each report submitted by such warehouseman under these regulations.

§ 108.36 Canceled receipts; auditing. Each warehouseman, when requested by the Service, shall forward his canceled receipts for auditing to Washington or to such field offices of the Service as may be designated from time to time. For the purpose of this section, only such portion as the Service may designate of each canceled receipt, numbered to correspond with the actual receipt number, need be submitted.

§ 108.37 Inspections and examinations of warehouses. Each warehouseman shall permit any officer or agent of the Department of Agriculture, authorized by the Secretary for the purpose, to enter and inspect or examine at any time any warehouse for the conduct of which such warehouseman holds a license, the office thereof, the books, records, papers, and accounts relating thereto, and the contents thereof, and shall furnish such officer or agent the assistance necessary to enable him to make any inspection or examination under this section.

§ 108.38 Inspection of weighing, testing, and measuring apparatus. The apparatus used for determining the weight, quantity, or quality stated in a receipt or certificate shall be subject to examination by any officer or agent of the Department of Agriculture employed for such purpose. If the Service shall disapprove such apparatus, it shall not thereafter, unless such disapproval be withdrawn, be used in ascertaining the weight, quantity, or quality of sirup for the purposes of the act and these regulations.

§ 108.39 Care in storage. Each warehouseman shall keep the stock stored in his licensed warehouse in an orderly manner, shall provide sufficient aisle space so as to permit easy and ready access to any and all lots of sirup stored therein, and shall so store each lot of sirup as to facilitate sampling of sirup and inspection for condition. The warehouseman shall at all times keep his warehouse clean and free from all litter.

§ 108.40 Water or ash in sirup. The warehouseman shall not accept for storage in his warehouse any sugar-cane sirup which contains more than 30 per cent by weight of water or more than 2.5 per cent by weight of ash; nor shall he accept maple sirup containing in excess of 35 per cent by weight of water or which weighs less than 11 pounds to the gallon; nor shall he accept honey weighing less than 11 pounds 12 ounces to the gallon, or containing in excess of 25 per cent of water, or more than 0.25 per cent of ash or 8 per cent of sucrose.

§ 108.41 Procedure to follow prior to reconditioning deteriorating sirup. If the warehouseman considers that any sirup in his warehouse is out of condition, or becoming so, he shall direct the licensed inspector to examine the sirup in question, and, if such inspector finds such sirup to be out of condition or becoming so, and he is of the opinion that such sirup can be brought back into condition by reprocessing or other means, or that further deterioration can be prevented, the warehouseman shall give immediate notice of the facts to the persons, and in the manner, specified in section 108.42 (b)–(c) of these regulations. If, within 24 hours after the dispatch of such notice, the owners of such sirup have not otherwise directed as to the disposition of same, such warehouseman, with the approval of the licensed inspector, shall subject the sirup to the proper reconditioning process in his licensed warehouse to the extent to which it is equipped with apparatus suitable for the purpose, otherwise in any other warehouse so equipped.

§ 108.42 Deteriorating sirup; handling. (a) If a warehouseman, with the approval of the licensed inspector, shall determine that any sirup is deteriorating and that such deterioration can not be stopped by processing or otherwise, he shall give immediate notice thereof in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Such notice shall state (1) the warehouse in which the sirup is stored; (2) the quantity, kind and grade of the sirup at the time the notice is given; (3) the actual condition of the sirup as nearly as can be ascertained, and the reason, if known, for such condition; and (4) the outstanding receipts covering the sirup out of condition, giving the number and the date of each such receipt and the quantity, the kind and grade of the sirup as stated in each such receipt.

(c) A copy of such notice shall be delivered in person or shall be sent by mail (1) to the persons holding the receipts if known to the warehouseman; (2) to the person who originally deposited the sirup; (3) to any other persons known by the licensed warehouseman to be interested in the sirup; (4) to the chief of the Service; and (5) public notice shall also be given by posting a copy of such notice at the place where the warehouseman is required to post his license. If the holders of the receipts and the owners of the sirup are known to the warehouseman and can not, in the regular course of the mails, be reached within 12 hours, the warehouseman shall, whether or not requested to do so, also immediately notify such persons by telegraph or telephone at their expense.

(d) Any person, interested in any sirup or the receipt covering such sirup stored in a licensed warehouse, may, in writing, notify the warehouseman of his interest, and such warehouseman shall keep a record of that fact. If such person requests in writing that he be notified regarding the condition of any such sirup and agrees to pay the cost of any telegraph or telephone toll charge, such warehouseman shall notify such person in accordance with such request.

(e) If the sirup advertised in accordance with the requirements of this regulation has not been removed from storage by the owner thereof within seven days from the dispatch of notice of its being out of condition, the warehouseman may sell the same at public auction at the expense and for the account of the owner, after giving 7 days' notice of such proposed sale in the manner specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as relieving the warehouseman from properly caring for any sirup after sending notification of its condition in accordance with this section.

§ 108.43 Excess storage. If at any time a warehouseman shall be offered for storage in his warehouse sirup in excess of the licensed capacity as shown on his license, he shall not accept such sirup until he has first secured authority through an amended license, and after such authority has been granted, the warehouseman shall continue to so arrange the sirup as not to obstruct free access thereto and the proper use of sprinklers or other fire-protection equipment provided for such warehouse.

§ 108.44 Removal of sirup from storage. Except as may be provided by law or these regulations, each warehouseman, (1) upon proper presentation and surrender of a receipt for sirup stored other than as identity preserved and upon payment or tender of all advances and legal charges, shall deliver to such depositor or lawful holder of such receipt sirup of the same grade and quantity specified in such receipt; and, (2) upon proper presentation and surrender of a receipt for sirup the identity of which was to have been preserved during the storage period and upon payment or tender of all advances and legal charges, shall deliver to the person lawfully entitled thereto the identical sirup covered by the surrendered receipt. Should it become necessary to remove sirup from the warehouse to protect the interests of depositors prior to the return and cancellation of receipts, the warehouseman shall immediately notify the chief of the Service of such removal and of the necessity therefor.

§ 108.45 (Repealed)

§ 108.45a Signatures of persons to sign receipts to be filed with department. Each warehouseman shall file with the department the name and genuine signature of each person authorized to sign warehouse receipts for the licensed warehouseman, and shall promptly notify the department of any changes as to persons authorized to sign, and shall file signatures of such persons.

§ 108.46 Fire loss to be reported by telegraph. If at any time a fire shall occur at or within any licensed warehouse, it shall be the duty of the warehouseman to report immediately by telegraph to the chief of the Service the occurrence of such fire and the extent of damage.

§ 108.47 Copies of inspection or weight certificates to be filed. When an inspection or weight certificate has been issued by a licensed inspector or weigher, a copy of such certificate shall be filed with the warehouseman in whose warehouse the sirup covered by such certificate is stored, and such certificate shall become a part of the records of the warehouseman.

FEES

§ 108.48 Warehouse license fees. There shall be charged, assessed, and collected a fee of $10 for each warehouseman's license or any amendment thereto, and a fee of $3 for each license issued to a weigher or an inspector.

§ 108.49 Warehouse inspection fees. There shall be charged, assessed, and collected for each original examination or inspection of a warehouse under the act, when such examination or inspection is made upon application by a warehouseman, a fee at the rate of $1 for each 5,000 gallons of the storage capacity, or fraction thereof, determined in accordance with section 108.12 (a) but in no case less than $10 nor more than $200, and, for each reexamination or reinspection applied for by such warehouseman, a fee based on the extent of the reexamination or reinspection, proportioned to but not greater than that prescribed for the original examination or inspection.

§ 108.50 Advance deposit. Before any warehouseman's license or amendment thereto, or any inspector's or weigher's license is granted, or before an original examination or reexamination applied for by a warehouseman is made, the warehouseman, and/or inspector, or weigher shall deposit with the Service the amount of the fee prescribed therefor. Such deposit shall be made in the form of a check, certified if required by the Service, or post office or express money order, payable to the order of "Treasurer of the United States."

§ 108.51 Return of excess deposit. The Treasurer of the United States shall hold in his custody each advance deposit made under this regulation until the fee, if any, is assessed and he is furnished by the Service with a statement showing the amount thereof and against whom assessed. Any part of such advance deposit which is not required for the payment of any fee assessed shall be refunded to the party depositing same.

LICENSED INSPECTORS AND WEIGHERS

§ 108.52 Inspector's and weigher's application. (a) Application for licenses to inspect and grade or to weigh sirup under the act shall be made to the chief of the Service on forms furnished for the purpose by him.

(b) Each such application shall be signed by the applicant, shall be verified by him under oath or affirmation administered by a duly authorized officer, and shall contain or be accompanied by (1) satisfactory evidence that he has passed his twenty-first birthday; (2) the name and location of a warehouse or warehouses licensed, or for which application for license has been made, under the act, in which sirup sought to be inspected and weighed under such license is or may be stored; (3) a statement from the warehouseman conducting such warehouse showing whether the applicant is competent and is acceptable to such warehouseman for the purpose; (4) satisfactory evidence that he has had at least one year's experience in the kind of service for which a license is sought or the equivalent of such experience, and that he is competent to perform such services, except in the case of applicants for weigher's licenses one month's experience will be sufficient; (5) a statement by the applicant that he agrees to comply with and abide by the terms of the act and these regulations so far as the same may relate to him; and (6) such other information as the Service may deem necessary; provided, that when an application for a license to inspect sirup is filed by a person who does not intend to inspect for any particular licensed warehouseman but who does intend to inspect sirup stored or to be stored in a licensed warehouse or warehouses and to issue inspector's certificates therefor, as provided for by the act and these regulations, independent of the warehouse receipts issued to cover such sirup, it shall not be necessary to furnish such statement as is required by subdivision (3) of this paragraph.

(c) The applicant shall at any time furnish such additional information as the Secretary or the chief of the Service shall find to be necessary to the consideration of his application.

(d) A single application may be made by any person for a license to inspect and to weigh upon complying with all the requirements of this section.

§ 108.53 Examination of applicant. Each applicant for a license as an inspector or as a weigher and each licensed inspector or licensed weigher shall, whenever requested by an authorized agent of the Department of Agriculture designated by the chief of the Service for the purpose, submit to an examination or test to show his ability properly to perform the duties for which he is applying for license or for which he has been licensed.

§ 108.54 Posting of license. Each licensed inspector shall keep his license conspicuously posted in the office where all or most of the inspecting is done, and each licensed weigher shall keep his license conspicuously posted in the warehouse office or in such place as may be designated for the purpose by the Service.

§ 108.55 Duties of licensees. Each inspector and each weigher, when requested, shall, without discrimination, as soon as practicable, and upon reasonable terms, inspect or weigh and certificate the condition, grade, or weight for storage of sirup stored or to be stored in a licensed warehouse if such sirup be offered to him under such conditions as permit proper inspection and the determination of the condition, grade, or weight thereof, as the case may be. Each such licensee shall give preference to persons who request his services as such over persons who request his services in any other capacity. No inspection or weight certificates shall be issued under the act for sirup not stored or not to be stored in a licensed warehouse.

§ 108.56 Inspection certificate; form. Each inspection certificate issued under the act by a licensed inspector shall be in a form approved for the purpose by the Service and shall embody within its written or printed terms (1) the caption "United States Warehouse Act Sirup Inspection Certificate"; (2) whether it is an original, a duplicate, or other copy; (3) the name and location of the warehouse in which the sirup is or is to be stored; (4) the date of the certificate; (5) the location of the sirup at the time of inspection; (6) the identification number of each lot of sirup, given in accordance with section 108.32; (7) the grade and condition of the sirup for storage at the time of inspection; (8) the name of the locality in which produced, if known; (9) that the certificate is issued by a licensed inspector, under the United States warehouse act and regulations thereunder; (10) a blank space designated for the purpose in which may be stated any general remarks on the condition of the sirup; and (11) the signature of such licensed inspector. In addition, the inspection certificate may include any other matter not inconsistent with the act or these regulations, provided the approval of the Service is first secured.

§ 108.57 Weight certificate; form. Each weight certificate issued under the act by a licensed weigher shall be in a form approved for the purpose by the Service, and shall embody within its written or printed terms (1) the caption "United States Warehouse Act Sirup Weight Certificate"; (2) whether it is an original, a duplicate, or other copy; (3) the name and location of the warehouse in which the sirup is or is to be stored; (4) the date of the certificate; (5) the location of the sirup at the time of weighing; (6) the identification mark of each lot of sirup given in accordance with section 108.32; (7) the gross, tare, and net weight of the sirup if in barrels, drums, or jackets; or the number of cases and sizes of cans if in cases; (8) that the certificate is issued by a licensed weigher, under the United States warehouse act and the regulations thereunder; and (9) the signature of such licensed weigher. In addition, the weight certificate may include any other matter not inconsistent with the act or these regulations, provided the approval of the Service is first secured.

§ 108.58 Combined inspection and weight certificate. The grade, condition, and weight of any sirup ascertained by a licensed inspector and/or licensed weigher may be stated on a certificate meeting the combined requirements of sections 108.56 and 108.57, if the form of such certificate shall have been approved for the purpose by the Service.

§ 108.59 Copies of certificates to be kept. Each licensed inspector and each licensed weigher shall keep for a period of one year in a place accessible to persons financially interested in the sirup, a copy of each certificate issued by him under these regulations and shall file a copy of each such certificate with the warehouse in which the sirup covered by the certificate is stored.

§ 108.60 Licenses to permit and assist in examination. Each licensed inspector and each licensed weigher shall permit any officer or agent of the Department of Agriculture, authorized by the Secretary for the purpose, to inspect or examine at any time his books, papers, records and accounts relating to the performance of his duties under the act and these regulations, and shall, with the consent of the warehouseman concerned, assist any such officer or agent in the inspection or examination of records mentioned in section 108.33 as far as any such inspection or examination relates to the performance of the duties of such licensed inspector or licensed weigher under the act and these regulations.

§ 108.61 Reports. Each licensed inspector and licensed weigher shall, from time to time, when requested by the Service, make reports on forms furnished for the purpose by the Service, bearing upon his activities as such licensed inspector or licensed weigher.

§ 108.62 Licenses—suspension; revocation. Pending investigation, the Secretary or his designated representative may, whenever he deems necessary, suspend the license of an inspector or of a weigher temporarily without hearing. Upon a written request and a satisfactory statement of reasons therefor, submitted by the inspector or weigher, or when the inspector or weigher has ceased to perform such services at the warehouse, the Secretary or his designated representative may, without hearing, suspend or revoke the license issued to such inspector or weigher. The Secretary or his designated representative may, after opportunity for hearing, when possible, has been afforded in the manner prescribed in this section, suspend or revoke a license issued to an inspector or a weigher when such inspector or weigher has in any manner become incompetent or incapacitated to perform the duties of a licensed inspector or licensed weigher. As soon as it shall come to the attention of a warehouseman that any of the conditions mentioned in this section exist, it shall be his duty to notify in writing the Service. Before the license of any inspector or weigher is suspended or revoked pursuant to section 12 of the act, such licensee shall be furnished by the Secretary, or by his designated representative, a written statement specifying the charges and shall be allowed a reasonable time within which he may answer the same in writing and apply for a hearing, an opportunity for which shall be afforded in accordance with section 108.73.

§ 108.63 Return of suspended or revoked licenses. Termination of license. (a) If a license issued to an inspector or to a weigher is suspended or revoked by the Secretary, it shall be returned to the Secretary. At the expiration of any period of suspension of a license, unless in the meantime it be revoked, the dates of the beginning and termination of the suspension shall be indorsed thereon, and it shall be returned to the inspector or weigher to whom it was originally issued, and it shall be posted as prescribed in section 108.54.

(b) Any license issued to an inspector or weigher shall automatically be suspended or terminated as to any warehouse whenever the license of such warehouse shall expire or be suspended or revoked. Thereupon the license of such inspector or weigher shall be returned to the Secretary. If such license is applicable to warehouses other than those for which the licenses have been suspended or revoked, the Secretary or his designated representative shall issue a new license to the inspector or weigher, omitting the names of the warehouses for which licenses have been so suspended or revoked. Such new licenses shall be posted as prescribed in section 108.54.

§ 108.64 Lost or destroyed licenses. Upon satisfactory proof of the loss or destruction of a license issued to an inspector or a weigher, a duplicate thereof may be issued under the same number.

§ 108.65 Unlicensed inspector or weigher; misrepresentation. No person shall in any way represent himself to be an inspector or weigher licensed under the act unless he holds an unsuspended, unrevoked, and uncanceled license issued under the act.

SIRUP INSPECTION AND CLASSIFICATION

§ 108.66 Classification; statement of. Whenever the kind, grade or other class or condition of sirup is required to be or is stated for the purposes of this act and these regulations, it shall be stated in accordance with sections 108.67–108.68.

§ 108.67 Standards to be used. Until such time as official sirup grades of the United States are in effect, the kind, grade and condition of sirup shall be stated as far as applicable (a) in accordance with the State standards, if any, established in the State in which the warehouse is located; (b) in the absence of any State standards, in accordance with the standards, if any, adopted by any sirup organization or by the sirup trade generally in the locality in which the warehouse is located, subject to the disapproval of the chief of the Service; or (c) in the absence of the aforesaid standards in accordance with any standards approved by the chief of the Service.

§ 108.68 Statement of kind-grade-condition. Whenever the kind, grade or other class or condition of sirup is stated for the purposes of this act and these regulations, the terms used shall be correctly applied and shall be so selected as not to convey a false impression of the sirup. In case of doubt as to the kind, grade or condition of a given lot of sirup, a determination shall be made of such facts by drawing samples fairly representative of the contents of the lot of sirup offered for storage.

APPEAL OF GRADES

§ 108.69 Appeal of grades. (a) If a question arises as to whether the kind, grade or condition of the sirup was correctly stated in a receipt or inspection certificate issued under the act or these regulations, the warehouseman concerned or any person financially interested in the sirup involved may, after reasonable notice to the other party, submit the question to the chief of the Service, who may appoint a committee to make a determination. The decision of the committee shall be final, unless the chief shall direct a review of the question. Immediately upon making its decision, the committee shall issue a certificate embodying its findings to the appellants and the licensee or licensees involved.

(b) If the decision of the committee be that the kind, grade, or condition was not correctly stated, the receipt or certificate involved shall be returned to and be canceled by the licensee who issued it, and the licensee shall issue in lieu thereof a new receipt or certificate embodying therein the statement of kind, grade, or condition in accordance with the findings of the committee.

(c) All necessary and reasonable expenses of such determination shall be borne by the losing party, unless the chief of the Service or his representative shall decide that the expense should be prorated between the parties.

MISCELLANEOUS

§ 108.70 Bonds required. Every person applying for a license, or licensed under section 9 of the act, shall, as such be subject to all portions of these regulations except section 108.5 so far as they may relate to warehousemen. If there is a law of any State providing for a system of warehouses owned, operated, or leased by such State, a person applying for a license under section 9 of the act, to accept the custody of sirup and to store the same in any of said warehouses, may, in lieu of a bond or bonds, complying with sections 108.11 and 108.12, file with the Secretary a single bond meeting the requirements of the act and these regulations, in such form and in such amount not less than $5,000, as he shall prescribe, to insure the performance by such person, with respect to the acceptance of the custody of sirup and its storage in the warehouses in such system for which licenses are or may be issued, of his obligations arising during the periods of such licenses, and in addition, if desired by the applicant, during the periods of any modifications or extensions thereof. In fixing the amount of such bond, consideration shall be given, among other appropriate factors, to the character of the warehouses involved, their actual or contemplated capacity, the bonding requirements of the State, and its liability with respect to such warehouses. If the Secretary shall find the existence of conditions warranting such action, there shall be added to the amount of the bond so fixed a further amount, fixed by him, to meet such conditions.

§ 108.71 Publications. Publications under the act and these regulations shall be made in service and regulatory announcements of the Agricultural Marketing Service and such other media as the chief of the Service may from time to time designate for the purpose.

§ 108.72 Information of violations. Every person licensed under the act shall immediately furnish the chief of the service any information which comes to the knowledge of such person tending to show that any provision of the act or these regulations has been violated.

§ 108.73 Procedure in hearings. For the purpose of a hearing under the act and these regulations, except section 108.69, the licensee involved shall be allowed a reasonable time, fixed by the Secretary or by an official of the Department of Agriculture designated by him for the purpose, within which affidavits and other proper evidence may be submitted. If requested by the licensee within such time, an oral hearing, of which reasonable notice shall be given, shall be held before, and at a time and place fixed by, the Secretary or an official of the Department of Agriculture designated by him for the purpose. The testimony of the witnesses at such oral hearing shall be upon oath or affirmation administered by the official before whom the hearing is held, when required by him. Such oral hearing may be adjourned by him from time to time. After reasonable notice to all parties concerned, the deposition of any witness may be taken at a time and place and before a person designated for the purpose by the Secretary, or an official of the Department of Agriculture authorized by the Secretary. Every written entry in the records of the Department of Agriculture made by an officer or employee thereof in the course of his official duty, which is relevant to the issue involved in a hearing, shall be admissible as prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein without the production of such officer or employee. Copies of all papers and all the evidence submitted or considered in such hearing shall be made a part of the records of the Department of Agriculture. The records, and, when there has been an oral hearing other than by the Secretary, the recommendation of the official holding such oral hearing shall be transmitted to the Secretary for his consideration. Each party shall pay all expenses contracted by him in connection with any hearing under this section.

§ 108.74 Repealed.

§ 108.74a One document and one license to cover several products. A license may be issued for the storage of two or more agricultural products in a single warehouse. Where such a license is desired, a single application, inspection, bond, record, report or other paper, document, or proceeding relating to such warehouse, shall be sufficient unless otherwise directed by the chief of the Service.

§ 108.74b Amount of assets and bond needed for combination warehouses. Where such a license is desired, the amount of the bond, net assets, and inspection and license fees shall be determined by the chief of the Service in accordance with the sections applicable to the particular agricultural product which would require the largest bond and the greatest amount of net assets and of fees if the full capacity of the warehouse was used for its storage.

§ 108.75 Amendments. Any amendment or revision of these regulations, unless otherwise stated therein, shall apply in the same manner to persons holding licenses at the time it becomes effective as it applies to persons thereafter licensed under the act.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of December 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE: TREASURY

CHAPTER III—PUBLIC DEBT SERVICE

[1939—Department Circular 627]

OFFERING OF UNITED STATES OF AMERICA 2¼ PERCENT TREASURY BONDS OF 1951–53

DECEMBER 12, 1939.

I—OFFERING OF BONDS

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for 2¼ percent bonds of the United States, designated Treasury Bonds of 1951–53. The amount of the public offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury Notes of Series A–1940, maturing March 15, 1940, tendered in payment and accepted, in addition to which $100,000,000, or thereabouts, of these bonds may be allotted to Government investment accounts against cash payment.

II—DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

1. The bonds will be dated December 22, 1939, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2¼ percent per annum, payable on a semiannual basis on June 15 and December 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature December 15, 1953, but may be redeemed at the option of the United States on and after December 15, 1951, in whole or in part, at par and accrued interest, on any interest day or days, on 4 months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.

2. The bonds shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority, except (a) estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes, and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess-profits and war-profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States, upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds authorized by the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association, or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above.

3. The bonds will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege and will not be entitled to any privilege of conversion.

4. Bearer bonds with interest coupons attached, and bonds registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of bonds of different denominations and of coupon and registered bonds, and for the transfer of registered bonds, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

5. The bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III—SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV—PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for bonds allotted to the public hereunder must be made or completed on or before December 22, 1939, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury Notes of Series A–1940, maturing March 15, 1940, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription. Coupons dated March 15, 1940, must be attached to the notes when surrendered, and accrued interest from September 15, 1939, to December 22, 1939 ($4.375 per $1,000), will be paid following acceptance of the notes.

V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

[1939—Department Circular 628]

OFFERING OF UNITED STATES OF AMERICA 1 PERCENT TREASURY NOTES OF SERIES C–1944

DECEMBER 12, 1939.

I—OFFERING OF NOTES

1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, approved September 24, 1917, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for 1 percent notes of the United States, designated Treasury Notes of Series C–1944, in payment of which only Treasury Notes of Series A–1940, maturing March 15, 1940, may be tendered. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury Notes of Series A–1940 tendered and accepted.

II—DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

1. The notes will be dated December 22, 1939, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 1 percent per annum, payable on a semiannual basis on March 15 and September 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature September 15, 1944, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The notes shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation (except estate or inheritance taxes, or gift taxes) now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The notes will be accepted at par during such time and under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of the Treasury in payment of income and profits taxes payable at the maturity of the notes.

4. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but will not bear the circulation privilege.

5. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000 and $100,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

6. The notes will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States notes.

III—SUBSCRIPTION AND ALLOTMENT

1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve banks and branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to close the books as to any or all subscriptions or classes of subscriptions at any time without notice.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of notes applied for, to make allotments in full upon applications for smaller amounts and to make reduced allotments upon, or to reject, applications for larger amounts, or to adopt any or all of said methods or such other methods of allotment and classification of allotments as shall be deemed by him to be in the public interest; and his action in any or all of these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV—PAYMENT

1. Payment at par for notes allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before December 22, 1939, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury Notes of Series A–1940, maturing March 15, 1940, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription. Coupons dated March 15, 1940, must be attached to the notes when surrendered, and accrued interest from September 15, 1939, to December 22, 1939 ($4.375 per $1,000), will be paid following acceptance of the notes.

V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve banks of the respective districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for notes allotted, to make delivery of notes on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve banks.

CHAPTER II—BUREAU OF RECLAMATION

[No. 20]

RIVERTON IRRIGATION PROJECT

NOTICE OF ANNUAL WATER CHARGES[1]

NOVEMBER 30, 1939.

1. Water rental. Irrigation water when available, will be furnished upon a rental basis under approved applications for temporary water service during the irrigation season of 1940 and thereafter until further notice to those lands in private ownership and to those public lands opened under the orders "opening public land to entry" dated March 3, 1926; November 9, 1926; March 23, 1931; May 2, 1932; January 31, 1933; and October 30, 1939; against which assessments for water rental were not levied by the Midvale Irrigation District in 1939.

2. Charges and terms of payment. The minimum water-rental charge for the irrigation season of 1940 and thereafter until further notice will be One Dollars and Fifteen Cents ($1.15) per acre for each irrigable acre of land for which application has been or is hereafter made which will entitle the applicant to two and three-tenths (2.3) acre-feet of water, or so much thereof as may be necessary for beneficial use, for said season. Payment of the minimum charge shall be made for the entire irrigable area of each farm unit to public land entered under orders "opening public land to entry" dated March 3, 1926; November 9, 1926; March 23, 1931; May 2, 1932; January 31, 1933; and October 30, 1939; and for the entire irrigable area in each 40-acre subdivision of private land entitled to water for which application has been made or is hereafter made. Said minimum charge will be made against each acre of irrigable land whether or not water is used; shall be paid in advance on or before May 1, 1940 and no part of said charge will be refunded. Additional water if available will be furnished during said irrigation season at the rate of fifty cents ($0.50) per acre-foot, payable on December 1, 1940. When water-rental application is submitted and approved after June 15, for public land entered under the reclamation law and after August 1 for land in private ownership, the minimum charge shall apply as a credit on the minimum charge for the following irrigation season. All water-rental charges under this notice should be paid to the Bureau of Reclamation, Riverton, Wyoming.

3. Penalty for nonpayment. If payment of the minimum charge be not made on or before May 1 and payment for additional water furnished be not made on or before December 1, as herein provided, there shall be added to the amount unpaid a penalty of one-half of one per centum thereof on the first day of the third calendar month thereafter, and there shall be added a like penalty of one-half of one per centum on the first day of each month thereafter so long as such default shall continue, and no water shall be delivered to the owner or entryman in subsequent years until all such charges and penalties have been paid in full.

JOHN W. FINCH,
Acting Under Secretary.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 51–27]

IN THE MATTER OF THE UNITED CORPORATION

ORDER APPROVING PAYMENT OF DIVIDENDS

The United Corporation, a Delaware corporation and a registered holding company, having filed an application pursuant to Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U–12C–2 adopted thereunder, for approval of the declaration and payment of a dividend amounting to $1.05 per share on the outstanding shares of the corporation's $3 Cumulative Preference Stock, and the debiting to its Capital Surplus account of the amount of such dividend in excess of the balance in its Earned Surplus account at the date of declaration, and having proposed further that, upon the declaration and payment of the full amount of these dividends in arrears, the corporation shall be permitted, without further authority from the Commission, to declare and pay the regular dividends on the $3 Cumulative Preference Stock out of income accruing after the payment of the dividend in arrears upon condition that the excess of such income above the amounts required to pay the regular dividends on the Preference Stock shall be credited to the Capital Surplus account until the full amount of the dividend charged thereto shall be restored to that account, and that no dividends shall be declared or paid upon the Common Stock of the corporation until such amount shall have been restored to the Capital Surplus account;

A hearing on the application having been held after appropriate notice; the record in this matter having been examined; and the Commission having made and filed its findings herein:

It is ordered, That the declaration and payment of a dividend amounting to $1.05 per share on the outstanding shares of the corporation's $3 Cumulative Preference Stock, and the debiting to its Capital Surplus account of the amount of such dividend in excess of the balance in its Earned Surplus account at the date of declaration, and the payment of subsequently accruing regular Preference Stock dividends out of income to be received after the date of declaration of the dividends now in arrears be approved, subject, however, to the following conditions:

1. That no dividend shall be paid on the Common Stock until the amount to be charged to Capital Surplus shall have been restored and that the excess of net income or other net credits to Earned Surplus over subsequent Preference Stock dividends declared or paid shall be credited to Capital Surplus as at the close of each calendar year until the amount of the dividends charged to Capital Surplus shall be restored;

2. That until Capital Surplus has been so restored, other Surplus shown on any interim balance sheets which may be published shall be captioned: "Surplus—Subject to Adjustment";

3. That until December 31, 1942, if necessary in order to continue the payment of regular quarterly dividends on its Preference Stock, the applicant may charge to Capital Surplus the excess of any such dividend over the amount of income then available, provided that in so doing Capital Surplus shall not be reduced below the amount of Capital Surplus remaining immediately after charging thereto the amount which this order now authorizes to be charged to Capital Surplus;

4. That at the time of payment of the dividend arrears of $1.05 on the Preference Stock, or any future dividend, part of which is charged to Capital Surplus, the holders of such stock be advised that it is a payment in part from Capital Surplus which is to be restored out of future income;

5. That published balance sheets of the corporation shall bear an appropriate footnote to indicate the effect of these transactions and the terms of this order; and

6. That within 10 days after the declaration of any dividend authorized by this order the company shall notify the Commission of the date of declaration and payment, the amount to be charged to Capital Surplus or income and the amount which must thereafter be restored to Capital Surplus.

By the Commission.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 28, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 23, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the proposed issue and sale by declarant of $26,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series of 1970, —%, due January 1, 1970, and of $6,000,000 principal amount of Serial Debentures, or notes —% - —%, due serially January 1, 1941-19—. The bonds would be sold to underwriters and the debentures or notes to underwriters or certain banks. Net proceeds from such sale are proposed to be applied to the following purposes:

1. To the redemption within forty days after the issuance and delivery of the Bonds of the Series of 1970 and the Serial Debentures, of the following bonds of the company:
   - $3,926,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Lien Gold Bonds, Series D, 6½%, due September 1, 1948, requiring for principal and premium of 5% ---------- $4,122,300
   - $1,896,500 principal amount of First Mortgage Lien Gold Bonds, Series F, 5½%, due October 1, 1955, requiring for principal and premium of 3% ---------- 1,953,395
   - $3,774,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Lien Gold Bonds, Series G, 5%, due February 1, 1961, requiring for principal and premium of 4% ---------- 3,924,960
   - $5,881,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Lien Gold Bonds, Series H, 5%, due February 1, 1961, requiring for principal and premium of 4% ---------- 6,116,240
   - $9,762,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Lien Gold Bonds Series I, 5%, due February 1, 1969, requiring for principal and premium of 2½% ---------- 10,006,050
   - $847,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series K, 6%, due March 1, 1957, requiring for principal and premium of 4% ---------- 880,880

   27,003,825
2. To the redemption on or before February 1, 1940, of $4,142,500 principal amount of First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds, 5% Series, due February 1, 1952, of Lexington Utilities Company, requiring for principal and premium of 3% ---------- 4,266,775
3. To the redemption on or prior to June 1, 1944, through the operation of the sinking fund applicable thereto, of $373,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Five Per Cent Gold Bonds, due June 1, 1949, of Lexington Railway Company, requiring for principal and premium of 10% ---------- 410,300

Any balance in the proceeds from the sale of such securities would be used to reimburse the company for capital expenditures.

The proposed bonds would be issued as an additional series of bonds under an Indenture dated October 1, 1919, executed by declarant to Illinois Trust and Savings Bank and William H. Henkle, as Trustees, and indentures supplemental thereto. Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago and Frank F. Taylor are now Trustees under said Indenture, and a new supplemental indenture dated January 1, 1940 would be executed by declarant to them with respect to the proposed bonds.

The declaration states that the interest rates and selling prices of the proposed securities, the names of the underwriters, and other terms of the proposed issuances are to be supplied by amendment.

Declarant is a registered holding company and a subsidiary of The Middle West Corporation, also a registered holding company. All outstanding stock of Lexington Utilities Company except 6,018 shares of preferred stock called for redemption on December 15, 1939 are owned by declarant.

The use of the proceeds from the proposed issue and sale of securities may be affected in part by reason of the fact that Lexington Utilities Company has also filed with the Commission a declaration pursuant to section 7 of the Act (File 43-282) for approval of a "stop-gap" financing whereby, to effect certain income tax and duplicate interest savings, that company proposes to borrow on or about December 21, 1939, $4,000,000 from The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, proceeds of which loan would be used to purchase prior to December 30, 1939, $3,400,000 of the company's outstanding bonds. If consummated, said bank loan would be discharged with proceeds from the proposed sale of Kentucky Utilities Company bonds and debentures which would otherwise have been devoted to the redemption of Lexington Utilities' bonds which may thus be purchased. Hearing on the declaration filed by Lexington Utilities Company (File 43-282) has been ordered to be held at the Commission's Washington offices on December 20, 1939, at 10:00 a. m.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF INTERNATIONAL UTILITIES CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application pursuant to Rule U-12C-2 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 22, 1939, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 17, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to an application by International Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company, pursuant to Rule U-12C-2 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for permission to declare and pay, out of Capital Surplus, a dividend at the rate of 43¾ cents per share on the 66,652.56 shares of its $1.75 Preferred Stock now outstanding, or a total dividend disbursement of $29,160.25.

§ 601.21 Prohibited acts on lands acquired under or transferred to title III. The following acts are prohibited on all lands acquired under or transferred for administration under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act:

(1) To graze or drive any livestock upon or across such lands without an agreement or permit.

(2) To graze or drive any livestock upon or across such lands in violation of the terms of an agreement or permit.

(3) To allow livestock to drift and graze upon such lands without an agreement or permit.

(4) To graze livestock in an area closed to grazing or to graze a particular class of livestock in an area closed to that class.

(5) To fail, refuse, or neglect to remove livestock grazed under an agreement or permit, upon receipt of notice that such livestock are to be removed because such lands are being injured by improper handling of such livestock.

(6) To tear, remove, or deface, willfully, any notice which the Department of Agriculture, or the non-Federal agency to which the lands have been entrusted for use and management, has placed on such lands.

(7) To destroy, molest, disturb, injure, or remove, or to go upon such lands with intent to destroy, molest, disturb, injure, or remove, property or appurtenances thereto, located on such lands, belonging to the United States or to the non-Federal agency to which the lands have been entrusted for use and management.

(8) To mutilate, deface, or destroy, to attempt to mutilate, deface, or destroy, or to go upon such lands with intent to mutilate, deface, or destroy, any objects of natural beauty or of scenic value located thereon.

(9) To occupy or in any way make use of such lands or appurtenances thereto or property located thereon without an agreement or a permit when such an agreement or permit is required.

(10) To occupy or use such lands or appurtenances thereto or property located thereon in a manner which violates the terms of an agreement or permit.

(11) To construct or maintain any kind of works, structures, fences, or enclosures, or to conduct any kind of business enterprise or carry on any kind of work, on such lands, without a permit.

(12) To have or leave camp refuse or debris of any description upon such lands in an exposed or insanitary condition, or to deposit in or near any stream, lake, reservoir, or other waters on such lands, substances which pollute or are likely to pollute the said streams, lake, reservoir, or waters.

(13) To set on fire or cause to be set on fire, willfully, recklessly, or negligently, any timber, brush, or grass on such lands, or to leave a camp fire on such lands without completely extinguishing it. However, this regulation shall not be construed to prohibit the kindling of such fires as may be authorized by permit.

(14) To throw or place a burning cigarette, cigar, match, pipe heel, or any ignited substance in any place where it may start a fire.

(15) To post, distribute or display any private notices or advertisements, excepting such as may be deemed necessary for the convenience and guidance of the public.

(16) To cut, kill, destroy, girdle, chip, box, or otherwise damage, or to remove any timber, posts, or other forest products, except as authorized by permit.

(17) To camp without a special permit on areas which are specifically excepted from such use:

(18) To occupy public camp grounds, cabins, lodges, and other recreational facilities established upon such lands, without an agreement or permit when such an agreement or permit is required.

(19) To discharge firearms in, over, or in the vicinity of public camp grounds, group camps, recreational grounds and areas, or over lakes or other bodies of water adjacent to or within such areas, or to expose any person or livestock anywhere on such lands to injury by the discharge of firearms.

(20) To intimidate, threaten, assault, or otherwise interfere with any person on such lands while such person is engaged in the protection, improvement, or administration thereof.

(21) To go or be upon such lands or in or on the waters thereof with intent to hunt, catch, trap, disturb, or kill any kind of game or non-game animal, game or non-game bird or fish, or to take the eggs of any such bird, when posted against hunting, fishing, or trapping, or when in violation of the laws of the United States or any regulation made in pursuance thereof, or of the laws of the respective States in which such lands or waters are situated.

The following acts are prohibited on such lands acquired under or transferred for administration under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act as are or may be embraced within the boundaries of a national game or bird refuge, preserve, sanctuary, or reservation, established by or under authority of an Act of Congress; or embraced within the boundaries of any inviolate State game or bird refuge, preserve, sanctuary or reservation; or embraced within the boundaries of any established controlled hunting, fishing, or trapping area:

(22) To carry or have possession of firearms without permit.

(23) To hunt, trap, catch, disturb, or kill any kind of game or non-game animal, game or non-game bird, or to take on such lands the eggs of any such bird, or to fish, except when authorized by permit.

The following acts are prohibited on such lands acquired under or transferred for administration under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act as are or may be designated recreational areas by appropriate posting:

(24) To discharge firecrackers or fireworks of any kind, except with written permission.

(25) To operate gambling devices or conduct games of chance of any kind whatsoever, whether for merchandise, cash prizes, or prizes of any other kind.

(26) To conduct oneself in a disorderly or obnoxious manner.

(27) To permit any dog or cat to roam at large.

(28) To engage in or solicit business, except under a permit or a concession.

(29) To build a fire anywhere except in a designated fireplace. Definitions. As used in these rules and regulations—

(1) "Agreement" or "permit", (a) in cases where lands have not been entrusted by the Secretary of Agriculture to a non-Federal agency for use and management, refer to an agreement or permit executed by the Secretary of Agriculture or his duly authorized representative, and, (b) in cases where the lands have been entrusted by the Secretary of Agriculture to a non-Federal agency for use and management, they refer to an agreement or permit executed by such agency, or its duly authorized representative.

(2) "Notice", (a) in cases where lands have not been entrusted by the Secretary of Agriculture to a non-Federal agency for use and management, refers to a notice given by the Secretary of Agriculture or his duly authorized representative and (b) in cases where the lands have been entrusted by the Secretary of Agriculture to a non-Federal agency for use and management, it refers to a notice given by such agency, or its duly authorized representative.

§ 601.22 Penalty. Under the terms of Section 32 (f), Title III, of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, any violation of the foregoing rules and regulations is punishable as prescribed in Section 5388 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U.S.C., 1934 ed., Title 18, Sec. 104).

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal this 12th day of December, 1939.

TITLE 25—INDIANS

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

SUB-CHAPTER L—IRRIGATION PROJECTS, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE

Sub-chapter L is supplemented by adding thereto:

PART 129—REGULATIONS GOVERNING GRANTING OF CONCESSIONS ON RESERVOIR SITES, CANAL RESERVES, FLOWAGE AREAS AND OTHER WITHDRAWN AND ACQUIRED LANDS IN CONNECTION WITH FEDERAL INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECTS AND THE LEASING OF SUCH LANDS FOR AGRICULTURAL, GRAZING AND OTHER PURPOSES

DECEMBER 1, 1939.

Pursuant to the authority of the Act of April 4, 1938 (52 Stat. 193), the following regulations are promulgated governing the granting of concessions, business, agricultural and grazing leases or permits on reservoir sites, reserves for canals or flowage areas, and other lands withdrawn or otherwise acquired in connection with the San Carlos, Fort Hall, Flathead and Duck Valley or Western Shoshone Irrigation projects.

§ 129.1 Terms used. When used in this part "Secretary" refers to the Secretary of the Interior; "project" to the Federal Indian irrigation project on which concession, lease or permit is granted, and "Project Engineer" to the engineer in charge of said project.

§ 129.2 Project Engineer's authority. The Project Engineer is the official charged with the responsibility for the enforcement of this part. He is vested with the authority to issue temporary concession permits to applicants for periods not to exceed thirty days. All except temporary permits shall become effective when approved by the Secretary.

§ 129.3 Enforcement. The Project Engineer shall enforce these and all project regulations now or hereafter promulgated by the Secretary. Willful violation or failure to comply with the provisions of this part and all proper orders of the Project Engineer shall be cause for revocation of the permit by the Secretary who shall be the judge of what constitutes such violation. The Project Engineer may suspend any permit for cause. The Project Engineer shall, immediately after suspending a permit, submit to the Secretary through the Commissioner of Indian Affairs a detailed report of the case, accompanied by his reasons for the action and his recommendations, for final action by the Secretary.

§ 129.4 Permits subject to existing and future rights of way. Use by the permittee of any land authorized under this part shall be subject to the right of the Secretary to establish trails, roads and other rights of way including improvements thereupon or through the premises, and the right to use same by the public. No interference shall be permitted with the continued use of all existing roads, trails and other rights of way and improvements thereon.

§ 129.5 Plans, approval thereof. No building or other structure shall be erected by permittee except in accordance with plans, specifications and locations approved by the Project Engineer. All permits and appurtenances shall be kept in a sanitary, safe and sightly condition.

§ 129.6 Stock grazing. Permittees may graze upon lands covered by such permits, such stock as may be required in connection with the purposes for which the permit is issued subject to such restrictions and limitations as may be prescribed by the Project Engineer.

§ 129.7 Permits, transferable. Permits may be transferred only with the approval of the Secretary.

§ 129.8 Applications. All applications for permits must be made on the approved form. The Project Engineer will furnish copies of this form upon request. All applications must be executed in triplicate.

§ 129.9 Bonds. Except in cases of temporary concession permits, leases, permits, and traders' licenses granted under Parts 71, 171, and 276, which are governed by the requirements of those parts, the applicant shall within sixty days after approval of the application furnish a surety bond for the faithful under Parts 71, 171, and 276, which are governed by the requirements of those parts, the applicant shall within sixty days after approval of the application furnish a surety bond for the faithful performance of the terms of the permit in an amount equal to the total sum accruing during the period of the permit. Such bond shall be executed by an approved surety company, or by at least three individual sureties, whose individual unencumbered assets are equal to double the amount of the bond. In the case of temporary concession permits, the permittee shall deposit at the time of receiving the permit, a sum equal to twice the rental, which sum shall, upon the expiration of the permit, be refunded to the permittee, if all the terms and conditions of the permit have been met; otherwise, such sum shall be retained as liquidated damages.

§ 129.10 Payments. Each permittee shall pay at the time of receiving the permit the first year's charge as fixed therein. When a permit extends over a period of years, the next and succeeding payments shall be due and payable annually in advance. The full amount accruing under a temporary permit shall be paid at the time the application is filed.

§ 129.11 Supervision of permittees' rates. All rates or charges collected by a permittee for services rendered by the permittee in the operation of the concession granted under a permit, must be submitted through the Project Engineer to the Secretary for approval. Copies of the approved rate schedule shall be posted in at least two conspicuous places on the premises. Approved rates may not be changed without first obtaining in the same manner a change in the rate schedule. The Secretary shall have the right to readjust rates charged from time to time and to amend or change any permit issued. Failure to comply with the approved rates automatically makes the permit subject to cancellation.

§ 129.12 Services from project. When the facilities of the project make it possible to supply water for domestic purposes, electricity or any other type of service to the permittee, the cost of connecting the project facilities shall be borne by the permittee and the work must be in accordance with standard practices and accepted by the Project Engineer, and as provided for in project regulations. All services rendered by the project to the permittee shall be paid for at the existing or modified schedule of rates; or if no schedule has been approved, at a rate to be approved by the Secretary which will reasonably reimburse the project for the cost of such services.

§ 129.13 Permit not a lease. Any permit issued hereunder does not grant any leasehold interest nor cover the sale, barter, merchandising, or renting of any supplies or equipment except as therein specified. Any permittee who engages in trade with the Indians must also apply for and receive a trader's license as provided by Part 276.

§ 129.14 Further requirements authorized. The Project Engineer is authorized to incorporate into any proposed permit to meet the needs of any particular case, subject to the approval of the Secretary, such further special requirements as may be agreed upon by him and the applicant, such requirements to be consistent with the general purposes of this part.

§ 129.15 Permittee subject to State law. The holder of any permit issued hereunder shall be subject to and abide by the laws and regulations of the United States and State laws if applicable to the conduct of the particular business or activity conducted by the permittee. Violations of this section shall render the permit void but shall not release the permittee from any obligations arising thereunder.

§ 129.16 Reserved area, Coolidge Dam. No permit for any commercial business or other activity (except boating concessions confined to the Soda Spring Canyon) shall be issued to any applicant to operate within a radius of three-fourths (¾) of a mile from the center of the Coolidge Dam, Arizona.

§ 129.17 Agricultural and grazing leases. Agricultural leases covering the areas dealt with in the Act of April 4, 1938 (52 Stat. 193) shall be made in compliance with the requirements of Part 71, and grazing leases or permits shall be made in compliance with the requirements of Part 171. Lands leased pursuant to the terms and conditions of this part shall not be eligible for benefit payments under the provisions and conditions of the Crop Control and Soil Conservation Act of April 27, 1935 (49 Stat. 163) as amended by the Act of February 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 1148) and subsequent acts amendatory thereof.

§ 129.18 Term and renewal of permits. No concession granted under the provisions of this part shall extend for a period in excess of 10 years. An application for the renewal of a lease, permit, or concession permit shall be treated in the same manner as an original application under this part. Should there be an application or applications other than the renewal application for a permit covering the same area, the renewal application may, if the applicant has met all the requirements of the expiring permit and has been a satisfactory permittee, be given preferential consideration for the renewal of the permit should the applicant meet the highest and most satisfactory offer contained in the several applications.

§ 129.19 Improvements. Title to improvements constructed on the premises by the permittee shall be fixed and determined by the terms of the permit.

§ 129.20 Revocation of permits. Any permit issued pursuant to this part may be revoked at any time within the discretion of the Secretary. Agricultural and grazing leases dealt with in Section 129.17 shall be subject to cancellation as provided for in the respective Parts 71 and 171, and the conditions of the instruments executed pursuant thereto.

§ 129.21 Notice to vacate. A permittee shall within ten days after notification in writing of the cancellation of his permit by the Secretary, vacate the premises covered by the said permit. Any person occupying lands dealt with in the Act of April 4, 1938 (52 Stat. 193) without an approved permit or lease shall be notified in writing by the Project Engineer of the requirements of this part and that for the failure of such person to comply with these requirements and receive a permit or lease within sixty days after receipt of the written notice shall constitute a willful violation of this part, and the Project Engineer shall submit promptly to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs a detailed report concerning the case, together with recommendations, looking to the taking of appropriate legal action to remove such person from the area and to the collection of such funds to compensate for any use made of the property or damages suffered thereto.

§ 129.22 Disposition of revenue. Funds derived from concessions or leases under this part except those so derived from Indian tribal property withdrawn for irrigation purposes and for which the tribe has not been compensated, shall be available for expenditure under existing law in the operation and maintenance of the irrigation project on which collected and as provided for in Part 130. Funds so derived from Indian tribal property withdrawn for irrigation purposes and for which the tribe has not been compensated, shall be deposited to the credit of the proper tribe.

§ 129.23 Organized tribes. Concessions and leases on tribal lands withdrawn or reserved for the purposes specified in the Act of April 4, 1938 (52 Stat. 193) and dealt with in this part, of any Indian tribe organized under Section 16 of the Act of June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 984) for which the tribe has not been compensated shall be made by the organized tribe pursuant to its constitution or charter provided no lease or concession so made shall be inconsistent with the primary purpose for which the lands were reserved or withdrawn.

[General Docket No. 12]

IN THE MATTER OF PRESCRIBING DUE AND REASONABLE MAXIMUM DISCOUNTS OR PRICE ALLOWANCES BY CODE MEMBERS TO "DISTRIBUTORS" UNDER SECTION 4, PART II (h) OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL ACT OF 1937, AND ESTABLISHING RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE MAINTENANCE AND OBSERVANCE BY DISTRIBUTORS IN THE RESALE OF COAL, OF THE PRICES AND MARKETING RULES AND REGULATIONS PROVIDED BY SECTION 4 OF THE ACT

PROCEDURE IN RESPECT TO DETERMINATION OF PROCEEDINGS IN GENERAL DOCKET NO. 12, IN THE MATTER OF ESTABLISHMENT OF DUE AND REASONABLE MAXIMUM DISCOUNTS OR PRICE ALLOWANCES BY CODE MEMBERS TO "DISTRIBUTORS"

Reference is made to the order today entered in General Docket No. 15, amending an order of July 19, 1939.[2] In view of the memoranda set out therein,

It is ordered, That the proceedings in General Docket No. 12, instituted pursuant to the order of November 3, 1939,[3] shall be subject to the following procedure:

"Exceptions to the findings, conclusions and order of the Director may be filed with the Secretary of the Interior, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., within ten days after the issuance of such findings, conclusions and order. Three copies of such exceptions shall be filed, together with three copies of any supporting briefs. Such exceptions and briefs may be those submitted to the Director, in whole or in part, together with any supplemental exceptions or briefs which may be desired."

[General Docket No. 15]

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF MINIMUM PRICES AND MARKETING RULES AND REGULATIONS, MINIMUM PRICES AS COORDINATED FOR DISTRICTS NOS. 1 TO 20, INCLUSIVE, 22 AND 23

AN ORDER AMENDING AN ORDER DATED JULY 19, 1939, PERTAINING TO PROCEDURE IN RESPECT TO FINAL HEARINGS IN THE MATTER OF ESTABLISHMENT OF MINIMUM PRICES FOR COALS PRODUCED IN DISTRICTS NOS. 1 TO 20, INCLUSIVE, 22 AND 23

The following communication was sent to the Secretary of the Interior by the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division:

"As you know, the hearings on General Docket No. 15, relating to the establishment of minimum prices and marketing rules and regulations under the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, are drawing to a close. The findings and recommendations of the trial examiners will be forthcoming shortly.

"My order of July 19, 1939,[4] made pursuant to Order No. 1399[5] issued by you on July 5, 1939, and the President's Reorganization Plan No. II, provides that I shall consider the findings of the trial examiners, exceptions thereto, requests for reconsideration of findings and conclusions of the National Bituminous Coal Commission, and other motions which may be filed by the parties to the proceeding, and that I shall make final findings and conclusions and by order establish effective minimum prices.

"Some of the parties to the proceeding have indicated that they will seek to have these matters considered by the Secretary of the Interior. While I have been advised and believe that this is plainly unnecessary as a matter of law, I feel that the establishment of minimum prices is the most important activity envisaged by the Coal Act, and is so significant an undertaking as to warrant the elimination of even remote legal doubts.

"Consequently, in order to eliminate any question as to the finality of minimum prices ultimately established, I respectfully suggest that you review the proceedings and my findings, conclusions, and order in General Docket No. 15, considering the contentions of the parties.

"This review would not substantially delay the establishment of minimum prices. I always intended that an interim period should elapse between the issuance of my order and its effective date. During this interval, parties so desiring could file exceptions to my findings, conclusions and order, and briefs in support of such exceptions.

"At the same time you should also review such findings, conclusions and order as I may make, pursuant to my order of November 3, 1939,[6] in General Docket No. 12, which relates to maximum discounts by code members to 'distributors' and to the definition of 'distributors'."

The following response was received from the Secretary of the Interior:

"I have received your memorandum of December 6th.

"As you know, I have been following the proceedings at the current hearings relating to the establishment of minimum prices. I am advised and believe that the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division may lawfully determine these and other matters arising under the Coal Act. However, in order to obviate even the slight doubts mentioned in your memorandum, I shall review the proceedings in General Docket No. 15 and in General Docket No. 12, referred to by you.

"Any party aggrieved by the Director's findings and order, and desiring so to do, may file three copies of exceptions thereto within ten days after the issuance thereof. At the same time such party may file in my office three copies of supporting briefs. These exceptions and briefs may be, in whole or in part, the exceptions and briefs submitted to the Director. The ten-day time limit seems ample, since the parties will have outlined their positions twice before, once to the trial examiners and once to the Director.

"My review of your findings and order will be on the basis of my consideration of the record itself, the findings and recommendations of the trial examiners, the transcript of the oral argument before the Director, in so far as pertinent, and the briefs submitted to me. To facilitate my expeditious consideration subsequent to the date of your order, I suggest that you continue to transmit to me the record and the analyses of the record prepared by the assistants to the trial examiners, and that you send me as soon as possible the findings and recommendations of the trial examiners, the exceptions, briefs and other matters filed with you, and a transcript of the oral argument before you. I understand that you will enter such orders as may be necessary to implement this procedure.

"Under my Order No. 1399, the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division will continue to exercise all other functions formerly vested in the National Bituminous Coal Commission."

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the order of July 19, 1939, be, and it is hereby, amended in accordance with the foregoing letters, and that there be added thereto clause 9 as follows:

"9. Exceptions to the findings, conclusions and order of the Director may be filed with the Secretary of the Interior, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., within ten days after the issuance of such findings, conclusions and order. Three copies of such exceptions shall be filed, together with three copies of any supporting briefs. Such exceptions and briefs may be those submitted to the Director, in whole or in part, together with any supplemental exceptions or briefs which may be desired."

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before Federal State Commission

[Docket No. 3965]

IN THE MATTER OF THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS CO., A CORPORATION, THE LOWE BROTHERS COMPANY, A CORPORATION, AND JOHN LUCAS & COMPANY, INC., A CORPORATION

COMPLAINT

Pursuant to the provisions of an Act of Congress, approved October 15, 1914, entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies and for other purposes," commonly known as the Clayton Act (U.S.C. Title 15, Section 13), as amended by an Act of Congress, approved June 19, 1936, commonly known as the Robinson-Patman Act, the Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the respondent, The Sherwin-Williams Co.; the respondent, The Lowe Brothers Company; and the respondent, John Lucas & Company, Inc., since June 19, 1936, have been and now are violating the provisions of with subsection (a) of Section 2 of said Act as amended, issues its complaint against said respondents and states its charges with respect thereto as follows, to wit:

PARAGRAPH 1. The Sherwin-Williams Co. is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Ohio and has its principal executive office and place of business at 1200 Midland Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

PAR. 2. The Lowe Brothers Company is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Ohio and has its principal executive office and place of business at 424 East 3rd Street, Dayton, Ohio.

PAR. 3. John Lucas & Company, Inc. is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Maryland and has its principal executive office and place of business at 322 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

PAR. 4. Definitions. Except where the context requires another or different meaning, the following abbreviations and terms, for the purposes of this complaint, shall be understood to have the following meanings:

(1) The Sherwin-Williams Co. (except for the allegations contained in Paragraphs One and Five hereof) means the corporate entity by that name, acting by and through itself as an operating company and by and through its wholly owned operating subsidiaries, The Lowe Brothers Company and John Lucas & Company, Inc. and by and through its other operating subsidiaries, and in its capacity of controlling the policies and activities of itself and said subsidiaries;

(2) Sherwin-Williams means the Sherwin-Williams Co., solely in its capacity as an operating company, engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of paint products;

(3) Lowe Brothers means (except for the allegations contained in Paragraph Two hereof) The Lowe Brothers Company and The Sherwin-Williams Co., solely by and through its wholly owned operating subsidiary The Lowe Brothers Company;

(4) Lucas means (except for the allegations contained in Paragraph Three hereof) John Lucas & Company, Inc., as an operating company or by and through its wholly owned operating subsidiary W. W. Lawrence & Company, and The Sherwin-Williams Co., solely by and through its wholly owned operating subsidiaries, John L. Lucas & Company, Inc. and W. W. Lawrence & Company;

(5) Manufacturers means Sherwin-Williams, Lowe Brothers and Lucas;

(6) Seller means a person, partnership or corporation (other than the manufacturers or The Sherwin-Williams Co.) engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of paint products;

(7) Painters and Paint Contractors mean a person, partnership or corporation, engaged in the business of utilizing and applying paint products, (1) that customarily includes the paint products to be used on a painting job in estimates made to procure such job or, in the alternative, that makes arrangements with the person with whom the contract to do the paint job has been made to furnish the paint to be used on the job at a stipulated price and (2) that customarily purchases paint in quantities of four gallons or more;

(8) Maintenance Account means hotels, apartment houses, real estate corporations, insurance companies, commercial stores, industrial concerns, etc., that buy paint fairly frequently and customarily in quantities of four gallons or more;

(9) Regular Consumer means painters, paint contractors and maintenance accounts;

(10) Occasional Consumer means a person, partnership or corporation that buys paint products infrequently and customarily in very small quantities, rarely as much as four gallons;

(11) Dealer means a person, partnership or corporation that operates a retail establishment or store and is regularly engaged during customary business hours in the sale of merchandise, including paint products, to occasional and/or regular consumers;

(12) Line Yard Lumber Company or Chain Lumber Yard means a person, partnership or corporation that operates a number of retail establishments or stores, the individual establishments or stores (hereinafter referred to as "unit stores") (1) being customarily located in different communities, towns or cities, some of said communities, towns and cities oftentimes being in different states from others of said communities, towns and cities, and (2) being regularly engaged in the sale of lumber and other merchandise, including paint products, to occasional and/or regular consumers. (Originally, the unit stores of any particular chain were located in communities, towns or cities served by one branch of one railroad, but that is not necessarily true today and may even represent the exceptional situation);

(13) Jobber or Distributor means a person, partnership or corporation engaged in the business of buying and receiving paint products from the manufacturers or sellers thereof and of selling and shipping paint products to and in servicing, billing and carrying dealer customers;

(14) Specification Paint means paint manufactured according to a special formula prepared to meet the special requirements or demands of a large consumer, customarily a governmental body, a railroad or a large industrial concern;

(15) Trade Sale Line or Trade Sale Item means standard products of the manufacturers or of other sellers, sold under trade mark bearing the name of the manufacturer or seller, including, among other products, exterior and interior house paint, roof, barn and metal paint, varnishes and lacquers;

(16) Companion Line means standard products of the manufacturers or of other sellers which are less expensive than the trade sale line products and not always sold under trade mark bearing the name of the manufacturer or seller;

(17) Allied Line means miscellaneous products such as dry colors, bronzes, linseed oil, turpentine, alcohol, lead and insecticide materials;

(18) Paint Products means trade sale line, companion line (in the case of those companies that manufacture such a line) and allied line only;

(19) General Scheme of Distribution means the general practice of the manufacturers pursuant to which they (a) sell directly to governmental bodies, railroads and large industrial consumers their requirements of paint, usually specification paint; (b) sell directly to painting contractors having large volume the requirements of such contractors of specification paint and paint products; and (c) sell paint products indirectly through dealers, chain lumber yards, distributors, retail branches, and others to the occasional and/or regular consumers of paint.

PAR. 5. The Sherwin-Williams Co. owns 100 percent of the issued and outstanding equity stock and controls the policies and activities of the following corporations:

The Lowe Brothers Company,
John Lucas & Company, Inc.,
Acme White Lead and Color Works of Hamtramck, Michigan, and Martin Senour Company of Chicago, Illinois.

each of which is engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of trade sale and allied line paint products.

The Sherwin-Williams Co. owns a majority of the issued and outstanding equity stock and controls the policies and activities of the following corporation:

Detroit White Lead Works—of Hamtramck, Michigan, which is engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of trade sale and allied line paint products.

John Lucas & Company, Inc., owns 100 percent of the issued and outstanding equity stock of, and The Sherwin-Williams Co., by and through said John Lucas & Company, Inc., controls the policies and activities of, the following corporation:

W. W. Lawrence & Company—of Pittsburgh, Pa.,

which is engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of trade sale and allied line paint products.

Acme White Lead and Color Works owns 100 percent of the issued and outstanding equity stock of, and The Sherwin-Williams Co., by and through said Acme White Lead and Color Works, controls the policies and activities of, the following corporations:

Peninsular Paint and Varnish Company—of Hamtramck, Michigan, Lincoln Paint and Color Company—of Lincoln, Nebraska.

each of which is engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of trade sale and allied line paint products.

PAR. 6. For many years prior to and since June 19, 1936, Sherwin-Williams has been and now is engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling and distributing (1) basic raw materials used in the production of paint, varnishes and lacquers, (2) specification paint, and (3) paint products. The paint products of Sherwin-Williams are all standardized. In the course and conduct of its business Sherwin-Williams has been and now is manufacturing said paint products principally at its factories which are located in Cleveland, Ohio; Chicago, Illinois; Newark, New Jersey; and Oakland, California. That Sherwin-Williams maintains and operates approximately forty warehouses situated in as many cities in over twenty-five states of the United States. That Sherwin-Williams, for convenience in selling and delivering its merchandise, maintains and operates district offices, sales division offices or service stations in over one-half of the cities in which its warehouses are located and, in addition, maintains and operates a sales office in Washington, D. C., where it has no warehouse. Sherwin-Williams employs several hundred salesmen who call regularly on all classes of customers. The annual net sales of Sherwin-Williams in the United States of paint products alone total approximately $17,000,000. Such products are sold and distributed through (1) over 6300 authorized dealers, a number of whom act as distributors with respect to a portion of such paint products purchased by them, (2) over 80 chain lumber yards, (3) approximately 120 wholly owned retail stores, and (4) other miscellaneous mediums.

PAR. 7. For many years prior to and since June 19, 1936, Lowe Brothers has been and now is engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling and distributing specification paint and paint products. The paint products of Lowe Brothers are all standardized. In the course and conduct of its business, Lowe Brothers has been and now is manufacturing paint products at its factory which is located at Dayton, Ohio; that Lowe Brothers maintains and operates fifteen warehouses located in the following cities: Dayton, Ohio; Chicago, Illinois; Kansas City, Missouri; Atlanta, Georgia; Boston, Massachusetts; Jersey City, New Jersey; Cleveland, Ohio; Omaha, Nebraska; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Indianapolis, Indiana; Memphis, Tennessee; Jacksonville, Florida; Fort Worth and Houston, Texas; and New Orleans, Louisiana; that Lowe Brothers, for convenience in selling and delivering its merchandise, maintains and operates district offices in the first six of the herein named cities in which its warehouses are located. Lowe Brothers employs a substantial number of salesmen, who call regularly on all classes of customers. The annual net sales of Lowe Brothers in the United States of paint products alone total over $4,000,000. Such products are sold and distributed through (1) over 1500 authorized dealers, (2) approximately 70 distributors, (3) approximately 100 chain lumber yards, (4) 11 wholly owned retail stores, and (5) other miscellaneous mediums.

PAR. 8. For many years prior to and since June 19, 1936, Lucas has been and now is engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling and distributing specification paint and paint products. The paint products of Lucas are all standardized. In the course and conduct of its business, Lucas has been and now is manufacturing said paint products at its principal manufacturing plant which is located in Gibbsboro, New Jersey; that Lucas maintains and operates eight warehouses located in Philadelphia, Pa.; Boston, Mass.; New York City; Chicago, Ill.; Albany, N. Y.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Minneapolis, Minn.; and Wadena, Minn.; that Lucas, for convenience in selling and delivering its merchandise, maintains and operates sales offices in the first four of the herein named cities in which its warehouses are located. Lucas employs a substantial number of salesmen who call regularly on all classes of customers. The annual net sales of Lucas in the United States of paint products alone total approximately $2,000,000. Such products are sold and distributed through (1) approximately 1500 authorized dealers, (2) approximately 100 distributors, (3) 3 chain lumber yards, (4) 10 wholly owned retail stores, and (5) other miscellaneous mediums.

PAR. 9. In the course and conduct of their respective businesses as aforesaid, the manufacturers transport or cause to be transported some of their paint products, when manufactured, from their respective factories aforesaid to their respective warehouses which are located, as hereinbefore set forth, in various states of the United States, and oftentimes in states other than the states in which their respective factories are located and in which such shipments originated, and transport or cause to be transported their paint products from their respective factories aforesaid or from their respective warehouses aforesaid to the purchasers thereof located in the several states of the United States and in the District of Columbia, other than the states in which their respective factories are located, and there is and has been, at all times herein mentioned, a continuous current of trade and commerce in said paint products between the respective factories, warehouses and distributing points of said manufacturers and purchasers from each of them located in many and, as to Sherwin-Williams, in all of the states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

The manufacturers advertise their respective paint products nationally and have created a public demand for such products throughout the states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

The manufacturers sell and distribute their respective paint products for use, consumption or resale within the United States and in the District of Columbia, in the same states and places as and in competition with various other sellers of paint products. Many of said competing sellers distribute their products nationally, as do the manufacturers, while many of said competing sellers distribute their paint products to customers located within the trading area or areas embraced within or adjacent to the trading areas in which their factories are located.

The comparable trade sale line products sold by the manufacturers are of like grade and quality. The Sherwin-Williams customers who sell at retail are occasionally competitively engaged with each other locally, are oftentimes competitively engaged locally with the Lowe Brothers and/or Lucas customers who sell at retail and are almost uniformly competitively engaged locally with the retailer customers of the competitors of The Sherwin-Williams Co., in the resale of said products, said resales taking place in every state of the United States and in the District of Columbia. That a similar situation exists as to the retailer customers of Lowe Brothers and as to the retailer customers of Lucas.

PAR. 10. That, for the purpose of selling and distributing its paint products, Sherwin-Williams has divided the territorial United States into 6 zones. For each zone, Sherwin-Williams has published the prices that are applicable from time to time, on sales of its paint products to dealers in that zone (hereinafter referred to as "dealers list prices" and whenever this term is used with respect to Sherwin-Williams, it shall be understood to refer to that one of the six different dealers list prices issued by Sherwin-Williams that shall be in effect at the time and that shall be applicable to the particular situation or situations under consideration), the differentials in prices between the zones being sufficient, as a rule, to compensate Sherwin-Williams for the differences in the average cost of freight between its factories and its warehouses in the various zones. Sherwin-Williams, as a rule, ships its paint products to its customers f. o. b. the warehouse nearest the customer. In all cases where the customer buys a carload or truckload of 20,000 pounds or more and receives shipment direct from the factory, freight is allowed.

The dealers list prices herein mentioned, so far as applicable to trade sale items, since June 19, 1936, have been subject to various discounts, depending either upon the total volume of Sherwin-Williams paint products, or certain of them, purchased by one customer during a specified period or upon the quantity purchased by one customer at and for shipment at one time.

On or about January 3, 1938, The Sherwin-Williams Co. put into effect, as to Sherwin-Williams, Lowe Brothers and Lucas, a discount plan (hereinafter referred to as the "1938 Plan") which was operative from that date until on or about September 1, 1939. The 1938 Plan, briefly described, was as follows:

To any customer who purchased in one order for shipment at one time less than 24 gallons[1] of trade sale line paint products, no discount was granted from the dealers list prices (except a 2% discount for cash); to any customer who purchased such paint products in one order for shipment at one time to an aggregate of 24 gallons or more, the following scale of discounts applied:

24 to 48 gallons: 6% off dealers list on entire order of such items.

48 to 84 gallons: 8% off dealers list on entire order of such items.

84 gallons and over: 10% off dealers list on entire order of such items.

Carloads and Truckloads (from factory): 14% off dealers list on entire order of such items.

The aforementioned discount was shown on the face of the customer's invoice and the customer was billed for the net price, after the deduction of the per order discount.

On or about September 1, 1939, The Sherwin-Williams Co. altered the 1938 Plan herein described and now employs, as to Sherwin-Williams, Lowe Brothers and Lucas, a discount plan (hereinafter referred to as the "1939 Plan"), pursuant to which discounts from dealers list prices are dependent upon the annual volume of trade sale items purchased by a customer, with one exception hereinafter noted. Under the 1939 Plan, a customer purchasing less than $500 worth of such products during a year receives a 5% discount from dealers list prices. This is tantamount, as to those customers heretofore purchasing such items in quantities of less than 24 gallons per order. To a general price reduction of 5%. A customer purchasing more than $500 worth of such products during one year receives an additional 5% discount. Such a customer pays 95% of dealers list prices, less 5% of such prices as so reduced. Such discounts are given on the face of the customer's invoice. Whether a particular customer is entitled to receive the 5% or the 5%–5% discount is determined by averaging his purchases of such items over the three-year period immediately preceding the inauguration of the 1939 Plan. A customer purchasing in carloads or truckloads and receiving shipment direct from the factory receives a further 5% discount. As to such a customer, the present base price of 95% of dealers list prices is reduced by 5% thereof and by a further 5% of the net figure thus obtained, to arrive at the net price which the carload or truckload customer pays.

That it has been and is the general policy and practice of Sherwin-Williams to sell its trade sale line paint products to its dealers and Sherwin-Williams has sold and is now selling such products to such dealers, generally at its dealers list prices, less whatever discounts may have been or may be applicable under the 1938 or the 1939 Plan.

PAR. 11. That the Lowe Brothers methods of selling and distributing its paint products, so far as concerns the establishment of zones, the publishing of its own dealers list prices for each zone, the collection of freight charges and the applicability of the 1938 and 1939 Plans to such dealers list prices, have been and are substantially the same as those of Sherwin-Williams, except that Lowe Brothers in shipping its paint products to its customers f. o. b. its warehouse nearest the customer, makes it a practice to equalize the freight charges with the freight charges applicable from that warehouse of a seller or of another of said manufacturers which is nearest to the customer.

[1] Products packaged and priced by the pound were calculated at the rate of 1 gallon to every 12 pounds.

That it has been and is the general policy and practice of Lowe Brothers to sell its trade sale line paint products to its dealers and Lowe Brothers has sold and is now selling such products to such dealers, generally at its dealers list prices, less whatever discounts may have been or may be applicable under the 1938 or the 1939 Plan.

PAR. 12. That the Lucas methods of selling and distributing its paint products, so far as concerns the establishment of zones, the publishing of its own dealers list prices for each zone, the collection of freight charges and the applicability of the 1938 and 1939 Plans to such dealers list prices, have been and are substantially the same as those of Sherwin-Williams, with the following exceptions:

1. The territorial United States has been divided into 4 instead of 6 zones;

2. Lucas allows freight to destination. The paint products are shipped f. o. b. the warehouse, but the customer is permitted to deduct freight from the net amount of the invoice; and

3. Under a variation of the 1938 Plan applicable to Lucas, customers purchasing in carloads and truckloads of 20,000 pounds or more direct from the factory were allowed a 12% rather than a 14% discount from dealers list prices.

That it has been and is the general policy and practice of Lucas to sell its trade sale line paint products to its dealers and Lucas has sold and is now selling such products to such dealers, generally at its dealers list prices, less whatever discounts may have been or may be applicable under the 1938 or the 1939 Plan.

PAR. 13. The Sherwin-Williams Co. and each of the manufacturers, in the course and conduct of their business in commerce, has, since June 19, 1936, discriminated in the prices at which it has sold and is now discriminating in the prices at which it is selling its products of like grade and quality between different purchasers of such products by giving and allowing to some of said purchasers, either directly or indirectly, rebates or discounts from its dealers list prices which have not been given and allowed to others of its purchasers. That the manufacturers and The Sherwin-Williams Co. have effectuated the discriminations in price referred to herein in a variety of ways, some of said ways being more specifically hereinafter described.

PAR. 14. That, for the purpose of granting and allowing the quantity discounts under their respective 1938 Plans, the manufacturers, particularly Sherwin-Williams and Lowe Brothers, have permitted the main office of some chain lumber yard buyers to pool the orders of the unit stores thereof and have granted and allowed to such chain lumber yard buyers the quantity discounts applicable to the gallonage represented by the pooled orders. For example, if the pooled order has totaled over 84 gallons, each unit store through its main office has received a flat 10% off dealers list prices on its purchases of paint products, even though no one unit store may have ordered a sufficient quantity to qualify for any discount. That, with respect to other chain lumber yard buyers, the manufacturers, particularly Sherwin-Williams, have granted and allowed a flat 10% discount off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the order and irrespective of whether the order represented the pooled requirements of all the unit stores of the chain lumber yard or the individual requirements of only one of the unit stores thereof. That, in either case, the manufacturer granting and allowing the pooling privilege or the flat 10% discount did not customarily make shipment of the full order to the main office of the chain lumber yard, but shipped the paint products so ordered to the various unit stores thereof. That the chain lumber yards receiving the flat 10% discount from dealers list prices from one of said manufacturers were, in certain cases, in competition with other chain lumber yards which purchased either from the same or from another of said manufacturers, the latter chain lumber yards not receiving the flat 10% discount herein mentioned. That, in some cases, independent dealers who purchased trade sale line paint products from one of the manufacturers and who did not receive either the pooling privilege or any flat discount, were in competition with the unit stores of chain lumber yards which received the pooling privilege or the flat 10% discount, in some cases, from the same manufacturer and, in other cases, from another of said manufacturers.

PAR. 15. That, for the purpose of granting and allowing the quantity discounts under its 1938 Plan, Sherwin-Williams adopted the practice of accumulating the orders of some of its distributors and dealers, either for a specified period, usually a week or for a time sufficiently long to enable the particular distributor or dealer to earn the maximum quantity discount for orders of less than carload quantities, and has granted and allowed to such distributors and dealers the quantity discounts applicable to the gallonage represented by the orders so accumulated. For example, Sherwin-Williams totaled the gallonage of all orders received in a period of one week from any one of its distributors or dealers in the trading area, known as "Metropolitan New York" and granted and allowed to each such distributor and dealer on each order the quantity discount that would have been applicable, had such gallonage been covered by one order for shipment at one time. This practice usually resulted in the favored distributors and dealers receiving a flat 10% off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the individual orders. That, in the cases herein mentioned, Sherwin-Williams nevertheless customarily shipped or delivered to its thus favored distributors and dealers as often as it received orders from them and irrespective of the size of the individual order. That, during the period that the 1938 Plan was operative, neither Lowe Brothers nor Lucas accumulated the orders of their distributors and dealers located in Metropolitan New York or in other trading areas with respect to which Sherwin-Williams adopted this practice.

PAR. 16. That Lowe Brothers granted and allowed to some of its dealers, during the period that its 1938 Plan was in effect, so-called "carload discounts" on purchases by such dealers of relatively small per order quantities of its trade sale line paint products. For example, Lowe Brothers maintains a warehouse in the building at 2063 East 55th Street, Cleveland, Ohio, owned by The Cleveland Builders Supply Company (hereinafter referred to as "Cleveland Builders"), a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Ohio and engaged in the sale and distribution of paint products. Cleveland Builders customarily withdraws its paint requirements daily from said warehouse, but occasionally orders paint products for shipment direct from the Lowe Brothers factory in Dayton, Ohio. Such daily withdrawals or such factory orders rarely, if ever, total 84 gallons and oftentimes do not total 24 gallons. Lowe Brothers nevertheless granted and allowed to said Cleveland Builders a flat 12% "carload discount" on all the latter company's purchases of trade sale line paint products. That Cleveland Builders is in competition in Cleveland and environs with other customers of Lowe Brothers and with the customers of Sherwin-Williams and Lucas and with the customers of the competitors of The Sherwin-Williams Co. in the sale and distribution of paint products.

PAR. 17.

Introductory Allegations

That, in addition to the per order quantity discounts applicable under their respective 1938 plans and generally available to all purchasers from them and the volume discounts and carload or truckload quantity discount applicable under their respective 1939 plans and generally available to all purchasers from them, the manufacturers have granted and allowed and are now granting and allowing to some of their customers, and not to others, certain functional discounts. It is the established policy and practice of the manufacturers to grant and allow functional discounts only to jobbers or distributors and to such dealers that perform the functions of the jobber or distributor, and only in the latter cases, to the extent that such dealers perform such functions. It is not the policy or general practice of the manufacturers to grant or allow functional discounts on paint products which are resold by distributors or dealers (1) directly to regular or occasional consumers or (2) indirectly through retail branches, owned or controlled by the distributors or dealers, to regular or occasional consumers.

That Sherwin-Williams does not have any customers who operate exclusively as distributors, but does grant functional discounts to some of its dealers who perform the functions of a distributor; that such discounts vary from 5% to 12½%, although they customarily amount to 7½ and 10%. That Sherwin-Williams, as a rule, requires its dealers acting as distributors to submit statements at the end of each month showing the total sales at dealers list prices made to other dealers during the preceding month. From such total sales, Sherwin-Williams deducts the discounts that have been received by the reporting dealer with respect to the purchases which have been so resold. The applicable percentage functional discount is then applied to the net amount thus obtained to ascertain the sum due the reporting dealer as a functional discount for that month.

Lowe Brothers and Lucas allow a maximum functional discount of 15% to their distributors. In the case of dealers performing the functions of a distributor, the functional discount, as a rule, bears the same ratio to 15 as the percentage of the dealer's distributor business bears to his entire business. In either case, the functional discount is granted and allowed on the face of the invoice. In the case of Lowe Brothers, however, the functional discount is based upon the gross dollar value of the dealer's purchases at dealers list prices and prior to the deduction of quantity or volume discounts, whereas in the case of Lucas, the functional discount is based upon the net amount of the dealer's purchases at dealers list prices, after the deduction of the quantity or volume discounts.

A

That Lowe Brothers and Lucas, during the period that their respective 1938 Plans were in effect, permitted a distributor-dealer to combine in one order his purchases for resale to other dealers (on which he was paid a functional as aforesaid) and his purchases for resale at retail and granted and allowed to such distributor-dealer the quantity discount applicable to the combined gallonage. This practice enabled distributor-dealers to procure the trade sale line paint products they resold at retail at a lesser price than was paid for similar products by 100% dealers and sub-dealers of Lucas and Lowe Brothers who were in competition with the distributor-dealers in the sale of such paint products at retail.

B

That the manufacturers have granted and allowed and are now granting and allowing, in addition to quantity or volume discounts, functional discounts to some of their dealers, and not to others, on consumer business. Typical examples of this practice are the following:

(1) Lowe Brothers has granted and allowed and now grants and allows to Cleveland Builders, in addition to the so-called "carload discount" of 12% described in Paragraph Sixteen hereof, a functional discount of 15% on 50% of its purchases of trade sale line paint products from Lowe Brothers or 7½% on 100% of its purchases. That Cleveland Builders sells substantially all of the paint products it purchases from Lowe Brothers at retail to regular and occasional consumers of paint and does not sell any portion thereof to other dealers. That Cleveland Builders, in the sale of paint products at retail to regular and occasional consumers thereof, is engaged in competition in Cleveland and environs with dealers who purchase, directly or indirectly, either from Lowe Brothers or from one of the other manufacturers or from a seller, and who do not receive any functional discount.

(2) Lucas has granted and allowed and now grants and allows to Landis Spanos, an individual trading in Pittsburgh under the firm name and style of "Spanos Paint Store" (hereinafter referred to as "Spanos"), in addition to quantity or volume discounts, a functional discount of 15% on 60% of his trade sale line purchases or 9% on 100% or such purchases. That Spanos sells substantially all of the paint products he purchases from Lucas at retail to regular and occasional consumers of paint and does not sell any portion thereof to other dealers. That Spanos, in the sale of paint products at retail to regular and occasional consumers thereof, is engaged in competition in Pittsburgh and environs with dealers who purchase trade sale line paint products, directly or indirectly, either from Lucas or from one of the other manufacturers or from a seller and who do not receive any functional discount. That a substantial portion of the trade sale line paint products sold by Spanos at retail to regular and occasional consumers of paint are sold at dealers list prices, the prices that retailers in competition with said Spanos pay or would have to pay for said paint products.

(3) Lucas has granted and allowed and now grants and allows to B. Frank Shinn Paint Company, a corporation engaged in the retail distribution of paint and other products in the City of Wilmington, Delaware (hereinafter referred to as "Shinn Company"), in addition to quantity or volume discounts, a functional discount of 15% on 100% of its trade sale line purchases. That Shinn Company sells substantially all of the paint products it purchases from Lucas to regular and occasional consumers of paint and does not sell any portion thereof to other dealers. That the Shinn Company, in the sale of paint products at retail to regular and occasional consumers thereof, is engaged in competition in Wilmington, Delaware, and environs with dealers who purchase trade sale line paint products, directly or indirectly, either from Lucas or from one of the other manufacturers or from a seller, and who do not receive any functional discount.

That the manufacturers have granted and allowed and are now granting and allowing, in addition to quantity or volume discounts, functional discounts to some of their distributor-dealers who resell to other dealers at less than dealer list prices, irrespective of the size of the orders of said sub-dealers. A typical example of this situation is the following:

Lowe Brothers has granted and allowed, and now grants and allows to Waite Hardware Company, a corporation engaged in the wholesale and retail distribution of hardware, paint and other products in the City of Worcester, Massachusetts (hereinafter referred to as "Waite"), in addition to quantity or volume discounts, a functional discount of 15% on 86⅔% of its purchases of trade sale line paint products from Lowe Brothers or 13% on 100% of said purchases. That Waite has knowingly received and now knowingly receives the benefit of said functional discount. That Waite resells such Lowe Brothers paint products in the City of Worcester, Massachusetts, and environs, to dealers there engaged in the retail distribution of paint products, at a flat 4% discount off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the individual orders received by Waite from said dealers. That the dealers to whom Waite resells are competitively engaged in the sale of paint products at retail in Worcester, Massachusetts, and environs with Waite and other dealers who purchase trade sale line paint products, directly or indirectly, either from Lowe Brothers or from one of the other manufacturers and who pay dealers list prices for the paint products so purchased, without the benefit of said flat 4% discount, irrespective of the size of the order.

D

That the manufacturers have granted and allowed and are now granting and allowing, in addition to the quantity or volume discounts, functional discounts to some of their distributors who resell at less than dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the order, (1) to dealers in which the distributor has a substantial financial interest, and (2) to dealers which own all or substantially all of the issued and outstanding stock of the distributor. Typical examples of this method of effecting price discriminations are the following:

(1) Roy Harpester is an individual residing in Newark, Ohio, and has been engaged in the retail hardware business for over seventeen years; Roy Harpester at the present time owns the following financial interests in the following partnerships, each of which is engaged in the retail hardware business, in the following cities:

| Extent of interest | Name of partnership | Location |
|---|---|---|
| ½ | Harpester & Daugherty. | Newark, Ohio. |
| ½ | Harpester & Zollinger. | Thornville, Ohio. |
| ¼ | Harpester & Paulson. | Mt. Vernon, Ohio. |
| ½ | Harpester & Daugherty. | Rushville, Ohio. |

and, in addition thereto, said Harpester and one Helser together own over one-half of the issued and outstanding equity stock of the Martin Winter Hardware Company of Lancaster, Ohio, a corporation likewise engaged in the retail hardware business (said partnerships and said corporation being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Harpester stores").

Early in 1938 Roy Harpester, in his individual capacity, leased a small, two-story warehouse in the City of Newark, Ohio, and shortly thereafter said Harpester as an individual and trading under the firm name and style of "Union Hardware Company" (said Roy Harpester as an individual and trading under the firm name and style of "Union Hardware Company" being hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Union Hardware") began to purchase hardware supplies and paint products direct from the manufacturers thereof at jobbers prices, all of said products being purchased for resale to the Harpester stores or for resale to other retail hardware dealers. Roy Harpester is in charge of and has control over the purchases and sales of Union Hardware and the purchases and sales of the various Harpester stores.

Early in 1938, Lucas agreed to sell its paint products to Union Hardware at jobbers prices. The Lucas price to Union Hardware for trade sale items from such date, until on or about September 1, 1939, was the dealers list, less the per order quantity discounts applicable to the varying quantities purchased, less a functional discount of 15%. From on or about September 1, 1939, to the present time, the price has been dealers list, less the various discounts applicable under the 1939 Plan, less a functional discount of 15%. That Union Hardware has knowingly received and now knowingly receives the benefit of this 15% functional discount. That Lucas salesmen solicit both the Harpester stores and the independent retail hardware dealers to whom Union Hardware sells, referring all orders to Union Hardware. That only a small portion of the space contained in the Union Hardware warehouse is devoted to the storing of the paint products procured from Lucas by Union Hardware.

Union Hardware sold and now sells Lucas trade sale line paint products to the Harpester stores and to independent retail stores at a flat 10% off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the individual orders received from said stores. That the bulk of the individual orders received by Union Hardware from the herein mentioned stores are for quantities of less than 24 gallons. All of said stores are in competition with dealers who purchase such paint products, customarily in quantities of less than 24 gallons per order, at dealers list prices without the benefit of the flat 10% discount, irrespective of the size of the order, either directly or indirectly, from one or more of the manufacturers.

(2) Harry Lampert is an individual residing in Lowell, Massachusetts, and has been engaged in the retail hardware business for over twelve years; Harry Lampert at the present time owns the following financial interests in, and is an officer and director of, the following corporations, each of which is engaged in the retail distribution of hardware, paint and other products, in the following cities:

| Extent of interest | Name of corporation | Location |
|---|---|---|
| 100% | Middlesex Supply Company. | 104 Middlesex St., Lowell, Mass. |
| 100% | Simmons Electric Supply Company, Inc. | 112 Middlesex St., Lowell, Mass.; 534 Merrimac St., Lowell, Mass. |

(said corporations being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Lampert Owned Stores"); Harry Lampert at the present time owns the following financial interests in, and is an officer and director of the following corporations, each of which is engaged in the retail distribution of hardware, paint and other products, in the following cities:

| Extent of interest | Name of corporation | Location |
|---|---|---|
| ½ [1] | Haverill Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | Haverill, Mass.; Portsmouth, N. H.;[2] Dover, N. H.[3] |
| ½ [4] | Nashua Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | Main Street, Nashua, N. H. |
| ½ [5] | Bangor Plumbing & Supply Company. | Broad Street, Bangor, Maine. |

[1] Irving Lampert, brother of Harry Lampert, is manager of the Haverill store and is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation. Ben Gordon, brother-in-law of the Lamperts, is the registered owner of the remaining one-third issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation.

[2] Haverill Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company trades in this community under the name of Portsmouth Hardware and Supply Company.

[3] Haverill Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company trades in this community under the name of Dover Hardware and Supply Company.

[4] Maxwell Saroken is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation, and Myer Saroken is the registered owner of the remaining issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation.

[5] Maxwell Saroken is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation.

| Extent of Interest | Name of corporation | Location |
|---|---|---|
| ½ [6] | Gloucester Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | Main Street, Gloucester, Mass. |
| ½ | Lewiston Hardware and Plumbing Supply Company. | 71 Lisbon St., Lewiston, Maine. |
| ½ | Waterville Hardware and Plumbing Supply Company. | Main Street, Waterville, Maine. |
| ¼ | Woburn Hardware and Plumbing Supply Company. | Main Street, Woburn, Mass. |

[6] Maxwell Saroken is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of this corporation.

(said corporations being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Lampert Stores, Group A"); Harry Lampert at the present time owns the following financial interests in, and is an officer and director of, the following corporations, each of which is engaged in the retail distribution of hardware, paint and other products, in the following cities:

| Extent of interest | Name of corporation | Location |
|---|---|---|
| ½ | New Hampshire Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | Elm Street, Manchester, N. H. |
| ½ | Maine Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | Congress St., Portland, Maine. |
| ¼ | Concord Hardware & Plumbing Supply Company. | North Main St., Concord, N. H. |

(said corporations being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Lampert Stores,' Group B"); Harry Lampert at the present time is an officer and director of, and may have substantial financial interests in, the following corporations, each of which is engaged in the retail distribution of hardware, paint and other products, in the following cities:

| Name of Corporation | Location |
|---|---|
| Essex Hardware and Plumbing Supply Company. | Lawrence, Mass. |
| New England Pipe and Supply Company. | Charlestown, N. H. |
| Portsmouth Hardware Company. | Portsmouth, N. H. |
| Niagara Hardware and Plumbing Supply Company. | Niagara Falls, N. Y. |

(said corporations being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Lampert Stores, Group C").

The annual gross sales of hardware, paint and other merchandise of the Lampert Owned and the Lampert Stores, Groups A and B are in excess of $2,000,000, and the annual gross sales of said stores in paint products alone amount to approximately $200,000.

Early in 1937, Lampert, in his individual capacity, purchased certain improved real property located at 25 Middlesex Street, Lowell, Massachusetts, and has been since such date and is now the equitable owner of such improved real property; the improvement on said real property consists of a four-story warehouse, the dimensions of each floor being approximately 300 feet by 60 feet.

On or about April 2, 1937, for the purpose of enabling the retail stores in which he had a financial interest to purchase their requirements at wholesale prices, Harry Lampert caused Atlantic Distributing Company (hereinafter referred to as "Atlantic") to be incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; Harry Lampert is the Treasurer, a director and the dominating factor in said Atlantic and is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock thereof; Harry Lampert is in charge of and has control over both the purchases and sales of Atlantic and the purchases and sales of the Lampert Owned and the Lampert Stores, Group A; Max Saroken, a nephew of said Harry Lampert, is the President of Alantic and is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of said corporation; Irving Lampert, a brother of Harry Lampert, is a clerk for Atlantic and is the registered owner of one-third of the issued and outstanding equity stock of said corporation; Harry Lampert rents the improved real property aforementioned, of which he is the equitable owner, to Atlantic at a nominal rental; that shortly after the organization of Atlantic, Atlantic began to purchase hardware supplies and paint products directly from the manufacturers thereof at jobbers prices, practically all of said products being purchased for sale through the Lampert Owned Stores of the Lampert Stores, Groups A, B and C.

On or about the time of the formation of Atlantic, Lucas agreed to sell Atlantic its paint products at jobbers prices. The Lucas price to Atlantic for trade sale items from such date, until on or about September 1, 1939, was the dealers list, less the per order quantity discounts applicable to the varying quantities purchased, less a functional discount of 15%. From on or about September 1, 1939, to the present time, the price has been dealers list, less the various discounts applicable under the 1939 Plan, less a functional discount of 15%. That Atlantic has knowingly received, and now knowingly receives, the benefit of this 15% functional discount. All of the Lampert Owned Stores and all of the Lampert Stores, Group A, handle Lucas products, and the annual gross sales of said stores of Lucas products exceed $50,000; that Lucas salesmen solicit the Lampert Owned Stores and the Lampert Stores, Group A, and otherwise aid in the sale and distribution of Lucas products to and by all of the stores in which Harry Lampert has a financial interest, referring all orders to Atlantic. That Lucas delivers a substantial portion of the products sold through the Lampert Owned Stores and the Lampert Stores, Group A, directly to said stores and grants, allows and pays with respect to said products so delivered a functional discount of 10%. That Atlantic has knowingly, and now knowingly, receives the benefit of this 10% functional discount. That Atlantic sells to only one or two stores in which Harry Lampert does not have a substantial financial interest. That approximately three-fourths of one floor of the aforementioned warehouse is utilized for the storage of paint products.

Atlantic sold and now sells Lucas trade sale line paint products to the Lampert Owned and the Lampert Stores, Group A, at a flat 10% off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the individual orders received from said stores. All of said stores are in competition with dealers who purchase such paint products, at dealers list prices, without the benefit of the flat 10% discount, irrespective of the size of the order, either directly or indirectly, from one or more of the manufacturers.

(3) American Hardware Supply Company (hereinafter referred to as "American"), is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with its main office in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. All of the issued and outstanding stock of American is owned by approximately 190 persons, partnerships and corporations (hereinafter referred to as "owner stores"), engaged in the retail distribution of hardware and kindred supplies, including paint products. The great majority of said owner stores are located and do business in the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Maryland and West Virginia.

American owns and operates a large warehouse, situated at 4143 Terminal Way, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. American purchases in its own name from numerous manufacturing concerns and other sources of supply the present and anticipated requirements of the owner stores and of other retail stores that buy from it. American's annual purchases of general hardware merchandise amount to approximately $1,200,000, and its purchases of paint products alone total over $70,000.

In 1933 Lucas agreed to sell American its paint products at jobbers prices, and since that date American has handled Lucas paint products almost exclusively. The Lucas price to American for trade sale items from on or about January 3, 1938, until on or about September 1, 1939, was the dealers list, less the per order quantity discounts applicable to the varying quantities purchased, less a functional discount of 15%. From on or about September 1, 1939, to the present time the price has been dealers list less the various discounts applicable under the 1939 Plan, less a functional discount of 15%. That American has knowingly received, and now knowingly receives, the benefit of this 15% functional discount. That Lucas salesmen solicit the owner stores and assist said owner stores in the sale of Lucas paint products. That the owner stores, with respect to approximately 50% of the paint products purchased by them from American, pick up their own purchases at American's warehouse. That Lucas delivers some of the products sold through American directly to the owner stores and grants, allows and pays with respect to said products so delivered a functional discount of 15%. That American has knowingly, and now knowingly, receives the benefit of this 15% functional discount.

American sold, and now sells, Lucas trade sale line paint products to the owner stores at a flat 10% off dealers list prices, irrespective of the size of the individual orders received from said stores. In addition thereto, the owner stores receive at the end of each year a patronage dividend varying from 4% to 7% on the net value of their purchases during the prior year from American of Lucas paint products. That the bulk of the individual orders received by American from the herein mentioned stores is for quantities of less than 24 gallons. All of said owner stores are in competition with dealers who purchase trade sale line paint products, customarily in quantities of less than 24 gallons per order, at dealers list prices without the benefit of the flat 10% discount, irrespective of the size of the order, and without the benefit of any patronage dividend, either directly or indirectly, from one or more of the manufacturers.

E

The manufacturers have granted and allowed, and now grant and allow, functional discounts to some of their distributors that are so identified, from the standpoint both of financial interest and control, with the dealers to whom they allegedly resell that, within the contemplation of the law, the distributor, in such cases, is merely an agency through which the dealers, identified with it, purchase; and the granting and allowing of the functional discount to the distributor is tantamount to the granting and allowing of such discount to the dealers to whom the paint products are allegedly resold. Typical examples of such distributors are: Union Hardware, Atlantic Distributing and American.

PAR. 18. The effect of the discriminations in price set forth in Paragraphs Thirteen to Seventeen, inclusive, hereof, may be substantially to lessen competition between The Sherwin-Williams Co., and its competitors; between the customers of a manufacturer in whose favor that manufacturer discriminates and such manufacturer's other customers; between the customers of The Sherwin-Williams Co. in whose favor such discriminations are made and the other customers of The Sherwin-Williams Co.; between the customers of The Sherwin-Williams Co. in whose favor such discriminations are made and the customers of the competitors of The Sherwin-Williams Co.; tend to create a monopoly in

The Sherwin-Williams Co. in the line of commerce in which it is engaged; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with each of the manufacturers and with The Sherwin-Williams Co.; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with customers of each of the manufacturers and with customers of The Sherwin-Williams Co. who receive the benefit of such discriminations; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with customers of persons, partnerships and corporations that have knowingly received and are now knowingly receiving the benefit of such discriminations.

Such discriminations in price by each of the manufacturers and by The Sherwin-Williams Co. between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality in interstate commerce in the manner and form aforesaid, are in violation of the provisions of subsection (a) of Section 2 of the Act described in the preamble hereof.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 8th day of December, A. D., 1939, issues its complaint against said respondents.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, The Sherwin-Williams Co., The Lowe Brothers Company and John Lucas & Company, Inc., respondents herein, that the 12th day of January, A. D. 1940, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of December, A. D. 1939.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF WASHINGTON AND SUBURBAN COMPANIES, AND THE SYCAMORE COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A joint application pursuant to Rules U–12C–2 and U–12D–1 and pursuant to section 10 (a) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on December 26, 1939, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 22, 1939.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the transfer by Washington and Suburban Companies of 535 shares of preferred stock of New York and Richmond Gas Company to The Sycamore Company as a contribution to the latter's capital surplus.

The distribution by Washington and Suburban Companies on account of its 70,000 preferred shares of beneficial interest and in partial liquidation thereof of (a) 66,499 shares of common capital stock of Washington Gas Light Company and (b) said Washington and Suburban Companies' holdings of stock of The Ashwood Company, The Beechtree Company, The Birch Company, The Chestnut Company, The Elmtree Company, The Linden Company, The Mahogany Company, The Maplewood Company, The Pinewood Company, The Poplar Company and The Sycamore Company, which said holdings consist of 49 shares of stock of each of said companies other than The Ashwood Company and The Sycamore Company and 21 shares of stock of each of said two last mentioned companies.

Said application also requests an order of the Commission declaring that upon the completion of the transactions above referred to and upon the submission of evidence that The Patuxent Gas Company is no longer a public utility company, the Washington and Suburban Companies has ceased to be a holding company.

The application states that Washington and Suburban Companies requests that the Commission consider the application also as a declaration pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act, if the Commission should deem the filing pursuant to said section necessary or advisable.

By the Commission.

RELATING TO CERTAIN LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF THE PHILIPPINES

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS section 7 (a) of the act of August 7, 1939, 53 Stat. 1226, 1233, provides, in part:

Sections 1 to 5, inclusive, of this amendatory Act shall become effective on January 1, 1940, if before that date—

(1) Subsection 5 of section 1 of the Ordinance Appended to the Constitution of the Philippines shall have been amended in the manner now provided by law, by changing the final period of said subsection to a comma, and by adding thereto the words: "as amended by the Act of Congress of the United States approved (followed by the date of the approval of this amendatory Act)", and section 3 of the said ordinance shall have been amended by inserting immediately after the words "approved March 24, 1934" the same amendatory language mentioned above.

(2) The President of the United States shall have found and proclaimed that the Philippine Government has enacted, subsequent to the adoption of the amendments to the Constitution of the Philippines (as provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection), a law relating to export taxes (as provided in section 1), and has retained those Philippine laws relating to sinking-fund and currency matters which were in effect on May 20, 1938.

WHEREAS amendments to the Constitution of the Philippines have been adopted as provided in the said act of August 7, 1939, which amendments were approved by me on November 10, 1939;

WHEREAS the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines on November 14, 1939, enacted a law relating to export taxes, as provided in the said act of August 7, 1939, which law I have approved this date; and

WHEREAS the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines has retained those laws relating to sinking-fund and currency matters which were in effect on May 20, 1938:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the authority in me vested by section 7 (a) of the said act of August 7, 1939, do hereby find and proclaim that the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines has enacted, subsequent to the adoption of the above-mentioned amendments to the Constitution of the Philippines, a law relating to export taxes as provided in the said act of August 7, 1939, and has retained those Philippine laws relating to sinking-fund and currency matters which were in effect on May 20, 1938.

DONE at the City of Washington this twelfth day of December in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

authorized for the Regular Army are also prescribed for use in target practice by the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, the citizens' military training camps, and schools operating under section 55c, National Defense Act, provided that no issues or expenditures of target materiel for these purposes will be made until the officer immediately responsible for such issues and expenditures has satisfied himself that funds are available for the payment in full for all items designated as reimbursable in Ordnance Department Field Service Bulletins or in similar Air Corps instructions, for any expenses incident to the issue of target materiel, and for the repair of any damage to Regular Army target materiel incident to its use by these components and auxiliaries.

(ii) Funds to provide target materiel for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, the citizens' military training camps, and schools operating under section 55c, National Defense Act, are allotted to the commanders of corps areas and exempted stations. If definite instructions have not been received by the officer immediately responsible for the issue, expenditure, or use of target materiel from the proper commander to whom funds have been allotted, such responsible officer will apply to such commander before actually authorizing the issue, expenditure, or use of target materiel by these components and auxiliaries.

(iii) When requisitioning for target materiel, separate requisitions should be prepared and submitted for each component and auxiliary coming under the provisions of this paragraph to facilitate compliance therewith.

(2) Allowances. The maximum allowances of target materiel authorized for use for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, the citizens' military training camps, and schools operating under section 55c, National Defense Act, are as follows and will not be exceeded without the authority of the War Department.

(i) Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) above, commanders of corps areas and exempted stations are authorized to issue for use by Reserve Officers' Training Corps units and camps such articles of target materiel as are appropriate for the practice to be conducted. The materiel issued unless otherwise prescribed should not exceed the maximum authorized for use in a corresponding amount of similar practice by the Regular Army.

Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) above, targets, landscape, sets, are authorized at not to exceed one set to each 200 student members or fraction thereof of senior division units of Infantry, Cavalry, and Corps of Engineers, but not more than three sets will be issued to any one unit.

(ii) Citizens' Military training camps. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) above, the commanders of corps areas and exempted stations are authorized to issue such articles of target materiel provided for the Regular Army as are appropriate for the practice to be conducted. The allowances issued should not exceed the maximum authorized for the Regular Army in a corresponding amount of similar practice.

(iii) Schools operating under section 55c, National Defense Act. Such allowances of target materiel of types authorized for the Regular Army as may be approved by commanders of corps areas may be issued, provided that such issues will be made only in lieu of a corresponding monetary reduction of the ammunition allowances for the institution desiring the target materiel.

(b) Civilian rifle clubs and miscellaneous schools and organizations—(1) Types and allowances authorized—(i) Schools operating under the act of April 27, 1914 (38 Stat. 370). See section 43.1

(ii) Civilian rifle clubs. See § 43.2

(iii) Civilians using rifle ranges. See § 43.3

(iv) Rifle and pistol competitions in schools and colleges. The types of targets authorized for small bore matches and competitions are the National Rifle Association gallery targets for 50 and 75 feet. These targets are obtained through the executive officer, National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

Target and target equipment for outdoor rifle and pistol firing are the same as are provided for the Regular Army for rifle and pistol marksmanship courses and competitions.

(2) Storage and issue of special targets and target equipment. Special targets and target equipment procured by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and issued or sold by that board, or under the direction of the Director of Civilian Marksmanship, may be stored and issued by the Ordnance Department when requested by proper authority: Provided, That in the opinion of the Chief of Ordnance such storage is practicable and that the Ordnance Department is reimbursed in full by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice for all expenses incident to the handling of the equipment.

(3) State soldiers' and sailors' orphans' homes and State and territorial educational institutions. No issue of targets and target equipment is authorized. (43 Stat. 510; 32 U.S.C. 181) [Pars. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, W.D. Table of Allowances—Targets and Target Equipment, Oct. 10, 1939]

IN THE MATTER OF FORD MOTOR COMPANY AND UNIVERSAL CREDIT CORPORATION

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard[1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the stipulation as to the facts, agreement to cease and desist and dismissal heretofore entered herein as to the respondent, Universal Credit Corporation, the answer of respondent, Ford Motor Company, the testimony and other evidence taken before Edward E. Reardon, an examiner of the Commission, theretofore duly designated by it, in support of the allegations of said complaint, briefs filed herein and oral arguments by James M. Hammond, counsel for the Commission, and by Henry C. Bogle, counsel for the respondent, Ford Motor Company, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent, Ford Motor Company, has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent, Ford Motor Company, its officers, representatives, agents and employees, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of motor vehicles in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Using the words "six per cent" or the figure and symbol "6%", or any other words, figures or symbols indicating percentage, in connection with the cost of, or the additional charge for, the use of a deferred or installment payment plan of purchasing motor vehicles, when the amount of such cost or charge collected from, or to be paid by, the purchaser of a motor vehicle under such plan is in excess of simple interest at the rate of 6% per annum, or at the rate indicated by such words, figures or symbols, calculated on the basis of the unpaid balance due as diminished after crediting installments as paid;

[1] 2 F.R. 2966.

(2) Acting concertedly or in cooperation with any company, firm or individual, or with any of its agents or dealers, in a way calculated to further the sale of motor vehicles through use of the methods referred to in paragraph (1) of this order.

It is further ordered, That the respondent Ford Motor Co., shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF STAFFORD T. MITCHELL, JANET M. MITCHELL, OTIS S. MITCHELL, INDIVIDUALS, TRADING AS THE ARVIL COMPANY

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard[1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission (the respondents not having filed answer), testimony and other evidence taken before William C. Reeves, Charles F. Diggs and Webster Ballinger, Examiners of the Commission, theretofore duly designated by it, in support of the allegations of said complaint and in opposition thereto, brief in support of the allegations of the complaint (respondents not having filed a brief and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That respondents, Stafford T. Mitchell, Janet M. Mitchell, and Otis S. Mitchell, individually, and trading as The Arvil Company or trading under any other name or names, their representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of their hair preparations designated as "Arvil" and "Dawn Shampoo", or any other preparations composed of substantially similar ingredients, or possessing substantially similar properties whether sold under those names or any other name or names in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

[1] 3 F.R. 2316 DI.

1. Representing that "Arvil" restores or replaces pigment in the hair shaft or that the use thereof causes the hair to assume a natural or youthful color or that said product produces color by any means other than dyeing the hair shaft;

2. Representing that graying hair is an indication that the hair or scalp is not in normal health;

3. Representing that it is the consensus of scientific opinion that dandruff is caused by a germ;

4. Representing that "Arvil" is effective as an antiseptic or astringent when applied to the hair or scalp;

5. Representing that either "Arvil" or "Dawn Shampoo," or both of said products, will permanently relieve dandruff or itching scalp or that either, or both of said products is an effective treatment for dandruff;

6. Representing that either "Arvil" or "Dawn Shampoo," or both of said products, is a cure or remedy for baldness or is a cure or remedy or an effective treatment for falling hair or the cause or causes thereof;

7. NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to the employers listed below effective December 15, 1939, until April 12, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

ANTIDUMPING—RIBBON FLY CATCHERS FROM GERMANY[1]

DECEMBER, 12, 1939.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

After due investigation, in accordance with the provisions of section 201 of the Antidumping Act, 1921, I find that the industry manufacturing ribbon fly catchers in the United States is being and is likely to be injured by reason of the importation into the United States of ribbon fly catchers from Germany, and that such ribbon fly catchers from Germany are being sold and are likely to be sold in the United States at less than their fair value. Examinations and Inspections for Insurance Purposes Where Applicant or Claimant by Reason of His Physical or Mental Condition Is Unable to Appear at a Veterans' Administration Office

§ 3.3091 If an individual is unable to travel, because of physical or mental condition, the manager of a regional office or facility may, on his own initiative or at the request of central office, authorize at Government expense examination at the home of the person to be examined in those instances in which, as provided by Sec. 3.3090 (A), examination by a full-time or part-time salaried physician is deemed necessary properly to safeguard the interests of the Government. Examination at the home of an applicant for reinstatement of insurance can be authorized at Government expense only by central office. (December 21, 1939) (45 Stat. 965; 38 U.S.C. 459c)

When an application has been filed by a person for payment of insurance benefits on account of total or total and permanent disability; (2) when requested by the insurance claims council in central office for the purpose of review, as provided by regulation, of claims in which insurance benefits are being paid, to determine if the person has recovered the ability to follow a gainful occupation; (3) when requested by the insurance claims council in order to determine the existence of mental incompetency for the purpose of waiver of payment of an insurance premium on its due date.

(B) Physical examinations required of applicants for insurance, under sections 310 and 311, or either, of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, or for reinstatement of insurance, may be made free of charge to the applicant or claimant by a full-time or part-time salaried physician at a regional office or facility of the Veterans Administration upon the request of the applicant or claimant, or upon the specific request of the insurance claims council in central office in connection with an application for reinstatement of insurance when deemed necessary by that office in order properly to safeguard the interests of the Government. Physical examinations required of applicants for insurance, under sections 310 and 311, or either, of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, or for reinstatement of insurance, may be made at applicant's own expense by a physician designated by the Veterans Administration if preferred by the applicant, because of the distance to be traveled or other conditions that make it impracticable for him to appear at a regional office or facility of the Veterans Administration. tion expenses incident to physical examination at regional offices or facilities may be furnished subject to the governing provisions of Sec. 6.6103 [1] (B) (3) in the following instances: (1) when, upon filing of an application for payment of insurance benefits, an applicant is ordered to report for examination by the Veterans' Administration to determine existence of total or total and permanent disability; (2) when an individual receiving payments of insurance benefits is ordered to report for the examination by the Veterans' Administration to determine if he has recovered the ability to follow a gainful occupation; (3) when an individual is ordered to report for examination by the Veterans' Administration to determine the existence of mental incompetency for the purpose of waiver of payment of an insurance premium on its due date.

(B) Necessary transportation expenses may be furnished subject to the governing provisions of Sec. 6.6103 (B) (3) incident to a physical examination at a regional office or facility of the Veterans' Administration of an applicant for reinstatement of insurance provided that the applicant was ordered to report for the examination at the specific request of the insurance claims council in central office.

(C) Such expenses will be borne by the United States and will be paid from the appropriation, "Salaries and Expenses, Veterans' Administration." Transportation, meal and lodging requests in connection with reporting to and returning from the place of examination will be furnished the applicant or claimant provided prior authority has been given for the travel. Travel incident to such an examination by salaried employees of the Veterans' Administration will be in accordance with the Standardized Government Travel Regulations. If such examination is made by a medical examiner on a fee basis, the fee will be based on the Schedule of Fees for Medical Services, Veterans' Administration, in force at the time the examination is made.

(D) Transportation expenses will not be furnished for examinations on applications for reinstatement of insurance or on applications for payment of insurance benefits on account of total or total and permanent disability where the applicants were not ordered to report for the examination by the Veterans' Administration, or on applications for new insurance. [RCP-1939-1 Chase County, Kans.]

1939 RANGE CONSERVATION PROGRAM BULLETIN FOR CHASE COUNTY, KANSAS

SUPPLEMENT NO. 1

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the 1939 Range Conservation Program Bulletin for Chase County, Kansas, issued February 13, 1939,[2] is hereby amended as follows:

[2] 4 F.R. 939 DI.

Rate of Payment

Reseeding of Range Land

(a) Restoration of the natural forage by limited grazing of range land. (1) For the grazing of all range land in the ranching unit by a total number of animal units not in excess of the established grazing capacity thereof, provided, the total animal months of grazing use on a ranching unit (as used in this Section, ranching unit shall also mean the ranching subunit) during the year shall not exceed the number computed for the respective period of grazing use according to the following formula:

4 or more months of grazing use 12.0 times the animal units of grazing capacity.

3 months 11.0 times grazing capacity.

2 months or less 10.0 times grazing capacity except that if all livestock are withheld from grazing on the ranching unit during the period from April 15 to May 15, the total animal months of grazing use during the year may be increased to a number not larger than 12 times the animal units of grazing capacity, irrespective of the number of months of grazing use.

Payment shall be made only on condition that (1) the operator notifies the county committee prior to turning any livestock on the range and prior to the removal of livestock therefrom; (2) the operator gives the county committee an adequate opportunity to check the number of livestock grazing on the ranching unit or subunit at any time; (3) only those ranching units shall be approved for this practice by the county committee where the ranching unit and each subunit is fenced and the fences are maintained, and where stock water is located so as to insure the proper distribution of livestock within each subunit; (4) the county committee determines that any controlled burning of range land was performed at such a time or in such a manner as not to defeat the purposes of the 1939 Chase County, Kansas, Range Conservation Program; and (5) the grazing land in the ranching unit at no time shall be stocked to such an extent as will decrease the stand of grass or injure the forage growth or watershed.

Payment: 40% of the range-building allowance computed under Section 4.

(2) In addition to compliance with the provisions of subsection (a) under this Practice (a)-(1) the ranch operator complies with such other conditions or specifications as may be established by the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the State Committee, where the county committee determines such additional conditions or specifications are needed in the interest of range conservation; or (2) if the

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Order No. 63]

FILING OF FOREIGN TELEGRAPH COMMUNICATION STATEMENT

At a meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 12th day of December, 1939,

Pursuant to Section 218 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, for the purpose of obtaining information necessary to enable the Commission to perform its duties and carry out the objects for which it was created,

It is ordered, That every common carrier subject to the Communications Act engaged in foreign telegraph communication shall file with the Commission not later than February 1, 1940, in duplicate, under oath (on a form like that attached hereto,[1] for each country, and in accordance with the instructions thereon) a statement showing the following information separately for full rate ordinary (subclassified by plain language and cipher messages) full rate urgent (subclassified by plain language and cipher messages) CDE ordinary, CDE urgent, ordinary press, urgent press, deferred press (LC) United States Government ordinary, United States Government CDE, Foreign Government ordinary, Foreign Government CDE, deferred (LC), letter (NLT and DLT) telegrams, and all other paid messages, by separate classifications and subclassifications, transmitted or received by such carrier during the twenty-four hour periods on the seven days following (showing only the totals for the seven days): November 4, 5, 8, 9, 14, 17 and 27, 1939.

1. Number of messages and words originated in each country outside the continental United States (including Hawaii and the Philippine Islands and excluding Canada and Mexico) for delivery in the continental United States, shown separately by countries of origin;

2. Number of messages and words originated in the continental United States, transmitted by such carrier and destined to each country outside the continental United States (including Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, and excluding Canada and Mexico) shown separately by countries of destination;

3. Number of messages and words between foreign countries (including Hawaii and the Philippine Islands) relayed in the continental United States; showing separately the inbound traffic of this nature to the continental United States for relay, by countries of origin; and showing separately the outbound traffic of this nature from the continental United States, by countries of destination; excluding traffic between Canada and Mexico; and

4. Number of messages and words between fixed stations in the continental United States and mobile stations showing separately the number of such messages and words originated in or destined to points in the continental United States and the number of such messages and words originated in or destined to foreign countries, relayed through fixed stations in the continental United States (including Hawaii and the Philippine Islands).

For the purposes of this order, the continental United States shall include the several states and the District of Columbia only.

In connection with messages in classifications where there is a chargeable minimum, the number of paid words actually sent shall be shown.

The classifications of messages set forth herein are for convenience only and nothing contained shall be construed as approval by the Commission of such classifications.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of December, A. D. 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF JULIAN H. BACHRACH, 30 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SUSPENDING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether the registration as an over-the-counter dealer of Julian H. Bachrach should be revoked or suspended.

At the hearing held pursuant to the Commission's order on October 2, 1939, at New York, N. Y., the registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. Notice of the hearing had been sent to registrant by registered mail, but had not been received by him because he had moved from the address which he had given the Commission.

The Trial Examiner filed an advisory report in which he found, as alleged in the Commission's order of September 11, 1939, that the registrant had violated the provisions of Rule X-15B-2, adopted by the Commission pursuant to Sections 15 (b), 17 (a), and 23 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in that he has failed to inform the Commission of a change in his business address. On an independent review of the record, we adopt the Trial Examiner's findings. We further find that on February 18, 1939, registrant was suspended from membership in the New York Curb Exchange for non-payment of dues; that he has failed to inform the Commission of such suspension; and that Rule X-15B-2 was wilfully violated.

Because notice was not received by Bachrach, we will not order revocation of his registration. However, we find that it is necessary in the public interest and for the protection of investors that Bachrach's registration be suspended pending final determination of whether or not the registration should be revoked, which matter will be determined when Bachrach comes in to be heard or notice is received by him.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration of Julian H. Bachrach be, and the same hereby is, suspended until further order.

By the Commission.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of December, A. D. 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF STEWART M. DEVINE, 9 ARBUTUS AVENUE, CATONSVILLE, MARYLAND

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SUSPENDING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether the registration as an over-the-counter dealer of Stewart M. Devine should be revoked or suspended.

At the hearing held pursuant to the Commission's order on October 5, 1939, at Washington, D. C., the registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. Notice of the hearing had been sent to registrant by registered mail, but had not been received by him because he had moved from the address which he had given the Commission. Thereafter, the order and notice of the hearing were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for September 16, 1939, in the manner prescribed by the Federal Register Act.

The Trial Examiner filed an advisory report in which he found, as alleged in the Commission's order of September 13, 1939, that the registrant had violated the provisions of Rule X-15B-2, adopted by the Commission pursuant to Sections 15 (b), 17 (a), and 23 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in that he has failed to inform the Commission of a change in his business address. On an independent review of the record, we adopt the Trial Examiner's findings and find that Rule X-15B-2 was wilfully violated.

Because notice was not received by Devine, we will not order revocation of his registration. However, we find that it is necessary in the public interest and for the protection of investors that Devine's registration be suspended pending final determination of whether or not the registration should be revoked, which matter will be determined when Devine comes in to be heard or notice is received by him.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration of Stewart M. Devine be, and the same hereby is, suspended until further order.

IN THE MATTER OF W. H. TOTSCH, 427 COOPER STREET, CAMDEN, NEW JERSEY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding, pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, to determine whether the registration of W. H. Totsch as an over-the-counter dealer, should be revoked or suspended.

After appropriate notice, a hearing was held before a Trial Examiner on October 4, 1939. The registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. The Trial Examiner filed an advisory report in which he found that on June 6, 1939, the registrant pleaded guilty in the Court of Common Pleas, Crawford County, Ohio, to an indictment charging him with selling securities without a license and selling securities without registering with the Securities Division of the State of Ohio; and that the Court deferred sentence and placed the registrant on probation for a period of three years upon condition that he refrain from future unlawful conduct, report to a probation officer on the first day of each month, and pay the costs of the prosecution. The Trial Examiner further found that the registrant had filed no supplemental statement to his application, revealing the aforesaid indictment and prosecution as required by Rule X-15B-2, adopted by the Commission pursuant to Sections 15 (b), 17 (a), and 23 (a) of the Act. On an independent review of the record, we adopt the Trial Examiner's findings, and find that the registrant's failure to file the required supplemental statement revealing said indictment and prosecution constituted a wilful violation of Rule X-15B-2, and that it is in the public interest to revoke his registration as an over-the-counter dealer.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration of W. H. Totsch be, and the same hereby is, revoked.

The Commission deeming it necessary for the protection of investors that a hearing be held in this matter at which all interested persons be given an opportunity to be heard;

It is ordered, That the matter be set down for hearing at 10 A. M. on Tuesday, January 2, 1940, at the office of the Securities & Exchange Commission, 120 Broadway, New York City, and continue thereafter at such times and places as the Commission or its officer herein designated shall determine, and that general notice thereof be given; and

It is further ordered, That Adrian C. Humphreys, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

IN THE MATTER OF NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION, ETC.

Northern Indiana Public Service Company (hereinafter sometimes termed "Applicant"), a direct subsidiary of the Successor Trustees of Midland Utilities Company, a registered holding company, and an indirect subsidiary of the Trustees of the Estate of Midland United Company, also a registered holding company, having filed an application, and amendments thereto, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale of $45,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¾%, due August 1, 1969, and $6,000,000 face amount of 2⅞% Serial Notes maturing in twenty equal semi-annual instalments;

A public hearing having been held on said application, as amended, after appropriate notice; the Commission having considered the record in this matter and having made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale of $45,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¾%, due August 1, 1969, and $6,000,000 face amount of 2⅞% Serial Notes maturing in twenty equal semi-annual instalments be, and it hereby is, approved;

And it is further ordered, That the following terms and conditions be imposed upon Northern Indiana Public Service Company:

(a) That the issue and sale of the bonds and notes shall be effected in accordance with the terms of, and for the purposes represented by, the application, as amended;

(b) That if the express authorization of the issue and sale of such securities by the State of Indiana Public Service Commission shall be revoked or otherwise terminated, this exemption shall immediately terminate without further order of this Commission;

(c) That the bonds and notes proposed to be issued shall be issued within thirty (30) days after the date of this order;

(d) That within ten (10) days after the issue and sale of such securities the applicant shall file with this Commission a certificate of notification showing that such issue and sale have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of and for the purposes represented by said application, as amended; and

(e) That except as the Commission may by order or orders from time to time otherwise provide, or except as may be ordered by any other regulatory body having jurisdiction in the premises (in which event this Commission shall be notified by the applicant of such order) Northern Indiana Public Service Company (and any successor or successors thereto) shall charge against income, for each calendar year beginning with the year 1940 and continuing so long as any of the First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¾%, due August 1, 1969, are outstanding, as a provision for depreciation, at least $1,700,000 per annum and, for each calendar year after the calendar year 1940, an additional two and one-half per cent (2½%) of the book value of net additions to depreciable property made after January 1, 1940, and up to the close of the preceding calendar year.

IN THE MATTER OF POTOMAC ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION

Potomac Electric Power Company, a direct subsidiary of Washington Railway and Electric Company and an indirect subsidiary of The North American Company, both registered holding companies, having filed an application pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of said Act of the issue and sale by said applicant of said applicant's First Mortgage Bonds, 3¼% Series due 1974, in the principal amount of $5,000,000; a public hearing upon said application, as amended, having been duly held after appropriate notice; the record herein having been examined by the Commission, and the Commission having made its findings herein;

It is ordered, That said application for exemption be, and the same is hereby, granted, subject, however, to the following conditions:

(1) That the issue and sale of such securities shall be effected in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in, and for the purposes represented by, said application and amendments thereto; and

(2) That within ten days after the issuance of the aforesaid securities the applicant shall file with this Commission a certificate of notification showing that such issue and sale have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes represented by, said application and amendments thereto; and

(3) That this exemption shall immediately terminate without further order of this Commission if the express authorization of the issue and sale of the aforesaid securities by the Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia shall be revoked or otherwise terminate; and

(4) That except as the Commission may by order or orders from time to time permit, so long as any of the First Mortgage Bonds, 3¼% Series due 1974, are outstanding, the applicant shall not, nor shall any successor or successors of applicant, declare or pay any dividends (other than dividends payable solely in shares of its stock) or make any other distribution on any shares of its common stock, or make any disbursement for the purchase or retirement of any of its common stock, unless the amount expended or accrued by applicant (or any such successor or successors) for maintenance and repairs plus provisions for retirements out of income earned during the period from the close of business on December 31, 1939, to the date of the proposed payment of such dividend or making of such distribution or disbursement shall be at least equal to fifteen per cent. (15%) of the gross operating revenues of applicant (or any such successor or successors) during such period derived from the sale of electricity after the deduction therefrom of an amount equal to the cost to applicant of electricity purchased and resold, and rentals paid for electric generating, transmission or distribution properties leased by applicant, and payments by applicant for the use of similar properties operated and maintained by others during such period: Provided, however, That any transfers to the earned surplus of applicant from net income earned after December 31, 1939, over and above all such dividends, distributions, and disbursements (including the dividends then to be paid, or the distributions or disbursements then to be made) may be used as a credit to offset any deficiency in the amount expended or accrued for maintenance and repairs plus provisions for retirements out of income earned after December 31, 1939, in satisfying the aforementioned fifteen per cent. (15%) requirements.

IN THE MATTER OF EASTERN SHORE PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY (DEL.) ET AL.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A declaration and applications pursuant to section 6 (b) and section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named party;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on January 8, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That James O. Ewell or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before January 3, 1940.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the issuance and sale of the following securities:

(1) Eastern Shore Public Service Company (Del.) proposes, pursuant to Section 7 of the Act, to issue a two-year 3% Bank Note in the principal amount of $1,000,000 to be secured by $1,100,000 First Mortgage 5% Bonds, Series C, due 1946, the declaration also embracing the issuance of said bonds. It is proposed to sell the note to The Chase National Bank at par. The proceeds are to be used in part to acquire bonds of Delmarva Power Company, a subsidiary company, and the remainder is to be used as a cash advance to the same company. This subsidiary proposes to use the funds to construct a steam generating plant;

(2) The Delmarva Power Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Eastern Shore Public Service Company (DEL.), seeks, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Act, exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of the issue and sale of its First Mortgage 4% Bonds, due in 1969, in the principal amount of $1,750,000. These bonds are to be used to retire presently outstanding bonds in the principal amount of $1,150,000 held by applicant's parent. The remaining $600,000 is to be used as part payment for the construction of a new generating plant for applicant;

(3) Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Virginia, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eastern Shore Public Service Company (DEL.), seeks, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Act, exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of the issue and sale of its First Mortgage 4% Bonds, due 1969, in the principal amount of $1,372,500. These bonds are to be issued to retire presently outstanding bonds in the principal amount of $1,247,500 held by applicant's parent. The balance of the proceeds are to be used to repay advances previously made by applicant's parent; and

(4) Eastern Shore Public Service Company of Maryland, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eastern Shore Public Service Company (DEL.), seeks, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Act, exemption from the provisions of Section 6 (a) of the issue and sale of its First Mortgage 4% Bonds, due 1969, in the principal amount of $2,142,500, and 2,855 shares of $100 par stock. The bonds are to be used to retire presently outstanding bonds in the principal amount of $1,742,500 held by applicant's parent. The remaining proceeds are to be used to repay advances from applicant's parent and from The Delmarva Power Company.

The applications state that the necessary action has been taken by the State Commissions having jurisdiction in these matters.

By the Commission.

UNITED STATES TARIFF COMMISSION.

WHEAT AND WHEAT PRODUCTS

INVESTIGATION NO. 3 UNDER SECTION 22 OF THE AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ACT, AS AMENDED

Investigation Ordered

Institution of investigation. By direction of the President, dated December 13, 1939, the United States Tariff Commission on the 14th day of December 1939 instituted, and hereby gives notice of an investigation, under Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended, and Executive Order No. 7233 of November 23, 1935, for the purpose of determining whether wheat or wheat products are being imported into the United States under such conditions and in sufficient quantities as to render or tend to render ineffective or materially interfere with the program undertaken with respect to wheat, under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or to reduce substantially the amount of any product processed in the United States from wheat.

Hearing. The date of hearing in this investigation has not been determined but will be announced subsequently.

Regulations. Copies of the regulations adopted for investigations under Section 22 may be obtained on application to the United States Tariff Commission, Washington, D. C., or to the New York office of the Commission, Room 712, Custom House, New York City.

I hereby certify that the above investigation was ordered by the United States Tariff Commission on the 14th day of December 1939.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

CHAPTER I—AID OF CIVIL AUTHORITIES AND PUBLIC RELATIONS

PART 2—RELIEF ASSISTANCE [2]

§ 2.1 Authority for undertaking relief work. Disaster relief will not be undertaken by the War Department without specific authority of Congress unless—

(a) Overruling demands of humanity compel immediate action to prevent starvation and extreme suffering, in which event corps area commanders will use personnel and supplies, as placed under their control within their discretion, and will advise The Adjutant General of action taken.

(b) Local resources are clearly inadequate to cope with the situation, in which event the relief measures to be undertaken will be such as the corps area commander may deem necessary, subject to the further provisions of these regulations. Local resources as here used comprise all resources available to the respective State and municipal authorities augmented by those available to the Red Cross in the affected areas. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 1b, A.R. 500–60, Dec. 1, 1939]

§ 2.2 Personnel, material, and supplies available for relief work. (a) For the purposes of emergency relief, all military personnel and military supplies and equipment in the affected corps area, with the exception of the National Guard and military supplies and equipment under the control of the governor of any State or Territory, and of general depots of the War Department, will during the continuance of the relief work, and without the issue of formal orders to that effect, pass under the direct control of the corps area commander. When a deficiency exists, request for additional personnel, supplies, and material will be submitted to The Adjutant General setting forth in detail the requirements.

(b) With a view to the fullest conservation of military supplies, it is directed that—

(1) The use of troops and the issue of supplies under the conditions set forth herein are authorized during the actual existence of the emergency. These regulations are not to be construed as authorizing assistance during the period of rehabilitation which necessarily follows such catastrophes. Troops will be withdrawn and the issue of supplies stopped at the earliest practicable moment.

(2) Under the circumstances of section 2.1, paragraph (b), issue of supplies will

§ 2.3 Supplies—(a) Not issued to employers. In no case will relief supplies of any description be issued to employers for their employees.

(b) Relief limited to those entitled to it. Care should be taken to see that aid is extended solely to those actually in need of relief, and it must be ascertained not only that the need really exists but that the needy condition is due to the flood, fire, or other catastrophe which made Government aid necessary.

(c) Reimbursement for losses not authorized. In no case will Government supplies or funds be used to reimburse sufferers for losses sustained. The Army's mission in the territory affected is to save life and prevent suffering, and not to replace losses.

(d) Sale. If the catastrophe is of such a character that no supplies are available except those in possession of the military authorities, such supplies may be sold, in the discretion of the corps area commander, at cost to those who are able to pay for same, but such sales must be made under the restrictions heretofore laid down that the supplies are needed to prevent suffering directly resulting from the catastrophe. The funds received from this source will be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States in accordance with regulations. These sales are here authorized in order to meet unforeseen contingencies but should rarely be necessary. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 3c, 4h, i, k, A.R. 500–60, Dec. 1, 1939]

§ 2.5 Camps and cantonments. Whenever conditions permit, sufferers will be assembled in camps, cantonments, or large buildings where proper supervision can be given to the distribution and use of supplies, sanitation, general welfare conditions, and the safeguarding of nonexpendable Government property. If a tent camp is established, it should be arranged and operated substantially as an ordinary military camp with the following modifications.

(a) Tents assigned to families with certain streets reserved for unmarried men and other streets for unmarried women, not assigned to family tents. Ordinarily four persons to a tent.

(b) Sufficient military personnel to operate the camp and enforce police, property, and sanitary regulations.

(c) Cooking arrangements preferably handled by one of the relief organizations, furnishing them, if necessary, with Government stoves and utensils.

(d) Necessary steps will be taken, by the posting of sentries around the camp or by other practicable available means, to prevent the theft of property and to enforce regulations regarding entrance or egress. (R.S. 161: 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 2f, A.R. 500–60, Dec. 1, 1939]

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

AMENDMENT OF THE REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE LEASING OF TRIBAL LANDS FOR MINING

DECEMBER 2, 1939.

Title 25, Chapter 1, Office of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, Part 186, leasing of tribal lands for mining, is amended by adding the following:

§ 186.27A Prospecting permits. With the consent of the Tribal Authorities the Superintendent may issue permits to prospect for minerals other than oil and gas upon tribal lands. Such permits must describe the area to be prospected and definitely state the period of time within which such work is permitted. No ores shall be removed from the reservation under such permits, except samples for assay and experimental purposes. A prospecting permit will not give the permittee any preference right to a lease, unless specifically so stated in the permit, and all permits granting a preference right to a lease must comply with all the laws and regulations applicable to mineral leases on tribal Indian lands.

TITLE 29—LABOR

CHAPTER V—WAGE AND HOUR DIVISION

IN THE MATTER OF THE RECOMMENDATION OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 5 FOR MINIMUM WAGE RATES IN THE MILLINERY INDUSTRY

WAGE ORDER

DECEMBER 15, 1939.

Whereas, on March 7, 1939, pursuant to Section 5 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, hereinafter called the Act, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor by Administrative Order No. 17,[1] appointed Industry Committee No. 5 for the Millinery Industry, hereinafter called the Committee, and directed the Committee to recommend minimum wage rates for the millinery industry in accordance with the provisions of Section 8 of the Act; and

[1] 4 F.R. 1187 DI.

Whereas, the Committee included five disinterested persons representing the public and a like number of persons representing employees in the millinery industry and a like number representing employers in the millinery industry, and each group was appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the millinery industry is carried on; and

Whereas, on August 25, 1939, the Committee filed with the Administrator a report containing its recommendation for a 40-cent an hour minimum wage rate in the millinery industry; and

Whereas, after notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 15, 1939,[2] Mr. Paul Sifton, Deputy Administrator, held a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendation at Washington, D. C., which commenced on October 2, 1939, and at which all interested persons were given an opportunity to be heard; and

Whereas, the complete record of the proceeding before Mr. Sifton was transmitted to Mr. Harold D. Jacobs, who had become Acting Administrator; and

Whereas, all persons appearing at said public hearing before Mr. Sifton were given leave to file briefs on or before November 15, 1939; and

Whereas, oral argument was held on November 20, 1939, before the Administrator who was then Acting Administrator and has since been appointed Administrator; and

Whereas, the Administrator, upon reviewing all the evidence adduced in this proceeding and giving consideration to the provisions of the Act, with special reference to Sections 5 and 8, concludes that the Industry Committee recommendation for the millinery industry, as defined in Administrative Order No. 23,[1] is made in accordance with law, is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and

Whereas, the Administrator has set forth his decision in an opinion, entitled "Administrator's Findings and Opinion in the Matter of the Recommendation of Industry Committee No. 5 for Minimum Wage Rates in the Millinery Industry," dated this day, a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, Washington, D. C.;

Now, therefore, it is ordered that

(1) The Committee's recommendation is hereby approved and, in accordance with such recommendation,

(2) Wages at a rate not less than 40 cents an hour shall be paid under Section 6 of the Act by every employer to each of his employees in the millinery industry who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce; and

(3) Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the millinery industry shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor; and

(4) The Millinery Industry, to which this Order shall apply, is hereby defined as follows:

The manufacture of all headwear, except knitted headwear, for ladies, misses, girls and infants, from any material, but not including the manufacture of felt hat bodies of fur or wool.

(5) This Wage Order shall become effective on the 15th day of January, 1940.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of December, 1939.

CHAPTER I—GENERAL LAND OFFICE

[Circular No. 1320a]

REGULATIONS GOVERNING SIMULTANEOUS APPLICATIONS UNDER THE MINERAL LEASING LAWS[1]

Regulations amended. Circular 1320, dated March 29, 1934, instructions governing simultaneous applications for oil and gas prospecting permits, was incorporated into the Code of Federal Regulations as Sec. 192.26. In order that the instructions may govern the disposition of conflicting applications for leases, permits and licenses filed pursuant to regulations under the mineral leasing acts, this regulation is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 191.14 Determination of priority. In case two or more applications are received in the same mail, or are presented at the counter by persons present at the land office at the same time for the purpose of filing their applications, or when one or more applications are received by the same mail and one or more are presented at the counter when the mail is received, which applications conflict in whole or in part, and in which no preference rights are claimed, the applications so received will be considered as filed simultaneously and the right of priority of filing will be determined by a public drawing in the manner provided by Circular No. 324, dated May 22, 1914, 43 L. D. 254 (Sec. 295.8). Applications received through the mail after the close of business on a particular day and those received through the mail prior to the opening of the land office on the next succeeding business day, will be considered as having been filed at the opening of business on such next succeeding day.

The drawing will be held on the seventh day after the day the applications were filed unless such day falls on a holiday, in which case the drawing will be held on the following day. No notice to the applicants when a drawing will be held will be required, but the register will post notice thereof in a conspicuous place in his office for a period of five days prior to the date set for the drawing.

The register will issue his official receipt for the fees paid by each applicant and will arrange for the return of the fees paid by the unsuccessful applicants, noting on the abstract of moneys returned or applied opposite the refund voucher number, the word "drawing". He will note on the applications the word "drawing", and the date, amount and number of the voucher.

At the completion of a drawing, the register will furnish the General Land Office a list of the applications involved therein showing: (a) date of drawing, (b) description of the land involved, (c) names of successful applicants and serial numbers of applications, and (d) names of unsuccessful applicants and serial numbers of their applications.

CHAPTER II—CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS

PART 203—ENROLLMENT, DISCHARGE, HOSPITALIZATION, DEATH AND BURIAL OF ENROLLEES[1]

§ 203.15 Procurement of Quartermaster Corps supplies.

* * * * * *

(c) Lumber. (1) Lumber for Civilian Conservation Corps purposes will be procured as follows:

(i) All lumber required in the fabrication of portable demountable buildings will be in accordance with applicable Federal Specifications and ECW Specification No. 1, February 20, 1936.

(ii) All lumber required for any other new construction will be grade marked or may be furnished on a certificate of inspection.

(ii) When a carload or more of lumber is required for general maintenance and repair purposes it will be grade marked or may be furnished on a certificate of inspection. When required in less than carload lot the method of inspection will be as permitted by the applicable Federal Specification. Careful consideration should be given to the matter of electing the method of inspection as permitted by such specification. By reason of the fact that the inspection of various species of wood requires specialized personnel which may not be available, it is generally advisable to avoid the use of the option permitting inspection to be made by the purchasing agency, particularly when there is a quantity of lumber being procured.

[1] These regulations supersede paragraph (c), Section 203.15, Chapter II, Title 45, Code of Federal Regulations.

(2) Invitations for lumber, except for that required by ECW Specification No. 1, will contain the following:

(i) All lumber required herein shall conform to Federal Specifications MM–L–751 for softwood and MM–L–736 for hardwood. All finish and millwork shall be kiln-dried and all other lumber may be either air-dried or kiln-dried. The maximum moisture content shall be as follows:

|---|---|
| Rough carpentry (kiln-dried or air-dried) | 19 percent. |
| Finish and millwork (kiln-dried) | 12 percent. |
| Finish flooring and drop siding (kiln-dried or air dried) | 15 percent. |

When grade marked lumber or that furnished on a certificate of inspection is to be furnished, these moisture content provisions apply at the time of loading the lumber. Where inspection is to be made by the purchasing agency, the moisture content provisions apply at the time of inspection.

(ii) All lumber one inch or less in nominal thickness shall grade No. 2 common of any of the following species: basswood, buckeye, sound wormy chestnut, cypress, southern yellow pine, yellow poplar, redwood, Sitka spruce or No. 1 common of western red cedar, douglas fir, west coast hemlock, eastern hemlock (eastern hemlock will not be used for finish flooring) or No. 3 common of any of the following species: white fir, larch, Englemann spruce, ponderosa pine, Norway pine, eastern spruce, white pine.

(iii) All dimension lumber (material thicker than one inch) shall be No. 2 common of any of the woods of the foregoing species.

(iv) Surfaced lumber shall be dressed to conform to yard size standards given in American Lumber Standards unless standard industrial sizes are specifically required.

(v) In case of equal bids, awards will be made in the following order of preference:

That which is grade marked.

That which is furnished on a certificate of grading by the particular recognized association.

That which is inspected by the purchasing agency. (This preference is used when the invitation calls for a bid on lumber to be inspected by the purchasing agency only.)

(3) The invitation will further contain the following information:

(i) Method of inspection. That is, whether the lumber to be furnished is to be grade marked, furnished on certificate of grading, or to be inspected by the Government. Unless there is some particular reason to the contrary, invitations should permit bidders to bid on furnishing grade marked lumber or lumber furnished on Centificate of grading. Calling for bids in this manner keeps the field of competition as broad as possible.

(ii) Product. For example: Flooring, shiplap, molding, drop siding, etc.

(iii) Quantity. Feet, board measure (F. B. M.) or number of pieces of each size and length.

(iv) Sizes and lengths. In commercial standards.

(v) Surfacing. Indicate what surfacing or working is desired. For example: Surfaced four sides (S4S) or surfaced two sides and center matched (S2S&CM).

(vi) Association rules. The invitation should specify that bidder agrees to furnish lumber conforming to the grading rules of the particular association in effect at the date of invitation for bids. (50 Stat. 319) [C. C. C. Regs., W. D., Dec. 1, 1937, as amended by C 43, Dec. 11, 1939]

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

[Order No. 9]

SUBCHAPTER A—DOCUMENTATION, ENTRANCE AND CLEARANCE OF VESSELS, ETC.

DECEMBER 16, 1939.

§ 5.82[1] American Vessels Denied Clearance to Belligerent States, is amended to read as follows:

(1) No clearance shall be granted to any American vessel (watercraft or aircraft) carrying passengers or any articles or materials to or via any belligerent state, regardless of the ultimate destination of such passengers or articles or materials, with the following exceptions:

(a) Where such American vessel (other than aircraft) proceeds on lakes, rivers, and inland waters bordering on the United States.

(b) Where such American aircraft proceeds on or over lakes, rivers, inland waters and lands bordering on the United States.

(c) Where such American vessel (other than aircraft) carrying mail, passengers or any articles or materials (except arms, ammunition, or implements of war, unless such arms, ammunition, or implements of war are to be used exclusively by American vessels (watercraft or aircraft) or other American vehicles in connection with their operation and maintenance) is bound to any port of a belligerent state which is located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), while carrying mail or any articles or materials, if the ultimate destination of any such mail or articles or materials is a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), with the following exception:

(a) Where such American vessel (other than aircraft) will unlade such mail or articles or materials in the United States prior to its final clearance for a foreign port.

(2) No clearance shall be granted to any American vessel (other than aircraft) to or via any neutral foreign port or place, which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), while carrying mail or any articles or materials, if the ultimate destination of any such mail or articles or materials is a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), with the following exception:

(a) Where such American aircraft carrying mail, passengers, or any articles or materials (except arms, ammunition, or implements of war, unless such arms, ammunition, or implements of war are to be used exclusively by American vessels (watercraft or aircraft) or other American vehicles in connection with their operation and maintenance) is bound to any port of a belligerent state which is located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (b), except to such a port which is included within a combat area.

(e) Where such American vessel (watercraft or aircraft) is under charter or other direction and control of the American Red Cross, and while carrying officers and American Red Cross personnel, medical personnel, and medical supplies, food, and clothing for the relief of human suffering, proceeds under safe conduct granted by belligerent states.

(2) No clearance shall be granted to any American vessel (other than aircraft) to or via any neutral foreign port or place, which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), except to such a port which is included within a combat area.

(3) No clearance shall be granted to any American aircraft to or via any neutral foreign port or place which is not within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (b), while carrying mail or any articles or materials, if the ultimate destination of any such mail or articles or materials is a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (b), with the following exception:

(a) Where such American aircraft will unlade such mail or articles or materials in the United States prior to its final clearance for a foreign port.

§ 5.83 Declaration as to Right, Title and Interest in Articles or Materials, is amended to read as follows:

(1) No clearance shall be granted to any vessel (watercraft or aircraft), bound to or via a port in a belligerent state, until all of the declarations required by Section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 have been filed with the collector of customs at the port of lading with respect to all articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials), which will be carried thereon to or via such belligerent port, with the following exceptions:

(a) Any American vessel (watercraft or aircraft) referred to in 46 CFR 5.82 (1) (a), (b), (c), or (d), when transporting only articles and materials other than arms, ammunition, or implements of war, (unless such arms, ammunition, or implements of war are to be used exclusively by American vessels (watercraft or aircraft) or other American vehicles in connection with their operation and maintenance), unless the ultimate destination of such articles or materials is a place in a belligerent state not within any area mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a).

(b) Any vessel (watercraft or aircraft) of a neutral foreign state, when transporting only articles or materials other than arms, ammunition, or implements of war, when bound to any port referred to in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), so long as such port is not included within a combat area, unless the ultimate destination of such articles or materials is a place in a belligerent state not within any area mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a).

(c) If the required declarations (oaths) have not been filed with regard to all articles and materials on any vessel before clearance thereof, the vessel may nevertheless be cleared if, but only if, the collector of customs to whom request for clearance is made is satisfied that the transfer of right, title and interest required by section 2 (c) has been made as to all such articles and materials. The Shipper's declaration (oath) required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 must be filed with the collector of the port from or through which articles or materials are exported prior to the exportation from the United States of such articles or materials. All failures by shippers to file the declarations (oaths) as required by this regulation shall be referred to the United States Attorney having jurisdiction.

(2) No clearance shall be granted to any vessel (other than aircraft) bound for a port in any foreign state, neutral or belligerent, until all of the declarations required by Section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 have been filed with the collector of customs at the port of lading, with respect to all articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials) which are ultimately destined for a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a), with the following exceptions:

(a) Any American vessel (other than aircraft) from which all such articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials), which are ultimately destined for a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a) will be unladen in the United States prior to the final clearance of the vessel for a foreign port.

(b) If the required declarations (oaths) have not been filed with regard to all articles and materials on any vessel before clearance thereof, the vessel may nevertheless be cleared if, but only if, the collector of customs to whom request for clearance is made is satisfied that the transfer of right, title and interest required by section 2 (c) has been made as to all such articles and materials. The Shipper's declaration (oath) required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 must be filed with the collector of the port from or through which articles or materials are exported prior to the exportation from the United States of such articles or materials. All failures by shippers to file the declarations (oaths) as required by this regulation shall be referred to the United States attorney having jurisdiction.

(3) No clearance shall be granted to any aircraft bound for a port in any foreign state, neutral or belligerent, until all of the declarations required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 have been filed with the collector of customs at the port of lading, with respect to all articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials) which are ultimately destined for a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 C.F.R. 5.81 (b), with the following exceptions:

(a) Any American aircraft from which all such articles or materials (except copyrighted articles or materials) which are ultimately destined for a belligerent state which is not located within any of the areas mentioned in 46 CFR 5.81 (a) will be unladen at a port in the United States prior to the final clearance of the aircraft for a foreign port.

(b) If the required declarations (oaths) have not been filed with regard to all articles and materials on any vessel before clearance thereof, the vessel may nevertheless be cleared if, but only if, the collector of customs to whom request for clearance is made is satisfied that the transfer of right, title and interest required by section 2 (c) has been made as to all such articles and materials. The Shipper's declaration (oath) required by section 2 (c) of the Neutrality Act of 1939 must be filed with the collector of the port from or through which articles or materials are exported prior to the exportation from the United States of such articles or materials. All failures by shippers to file the declarations (oaths) as required by this regulation shall be referred to the United States attorney having jurisdiction.

NOTE.—See "Title 22—Foreign Relations", "Department of State", "Regulations under Section 2 (c) and (i) of the Joint Resolution of Congress approved November 4, 1939," appearing on pages 4598 and 4599 of the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER of Thursday, November 10, 1939.

§ 5.84 Combat Areas is amended to read as follows:

(a) No clearance shall be granted to any American vessel (watercraft or aircraft) if such vessel, during the course of its voyage, will proceed into or through any combat area, unless such voyage is authorized by rules and regulations prescribed under authority of the Neutrality Act of 1939.

(b) No clearance shall be granted to any American or foreign vessel (watercraft or aircraft) while having on board any American citizen, whether as a passenger or member of the crew, if such vessel (watercraft or aircraft) during the course of its voyage, will proceed into or through any combat area, unless such voyage is authorized by rules and regulations prescribed under authority of the Neutrality Act of 1939.

(c) Final clearance shall not be granted to any foreign vessel (watercraft or aircraft), bound to a foreign port, in a combat area, or proceeding into or through any such area, until the master has filed with the collector a list of all of the members of the crew of the vessel, together with the nationality of each member, which list shall be sworn to by the master. ## TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

CHAPTER I—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS FOR STEAM RAILROADS

At a Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of December, 1939.

The matter of Modifying the Uniform System of Accounts for Steam Railroads as contained in the Classifications of Investment in Road and Equipment, Operating Revenues and Operating Expenses and Income, Profit and Loss and General Balance Sheet Accounts, being under consideration by the Commission pursuant to the authority contained in Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, and being fully advised in the premises, it is ordered:

1. That account 25, "Gas producing plants," and the note thereto are hereby canceled and that amounts heretofore includible in that account hereafter shall be included in account 20, "Shops and enginehouses," or account 44, "Shop machinery," as appropriate.

2. That the title and text of operating-expense account 245, "Gas producing plants," and the note thereto are hereby canceled.

3. That the title and text of operating-expense account 246, "Gas producing plants—Depreciation," are hereby canceled.

4. That Note D following the text of account 514, "Income from funded securities," is hereby canceled.

5. That the phrase "interest on matured funded securities of other companies," in the third and fourth lines of the text of account 515, "Income from unfunded securities and accounts," is hereby canceled.

6. That the reference to balance-sheet accounts 755 or 757 in the third and fourth lines of the text of account 546, "Interest on funded debt," is hereby changed to balance-sheet accounts 755, 755½, 756 or 757, and the phrase "and on receiver's certificates issued for a term of more than two years" in the fourth and fifth lines of the text of account 546, "Interest on funded debt," is hereby canceled. The words "receivers' certificates" in the sixth and seventh lines of account 546, "Interest on funded debt," are hereby changed to "receivers' and trustees' securities."

7. That the words "interest on receiver's certificates issued for a term of two years or less, interest on matured funded securities" in the third and fourth lines of the text of account 547, "Interest on unfunded debt," are hereby canceled.

8. That the words "receiver's and trustees' securities" be substituted for the words "receiver's certificates" in the first paragraph of Section 3 of the Special Instructions for General Balance Sheet Accounts in the Classification of Income, Profit and Loss, and General Balance Sheet Accounts.

9. That Section 5, Special Instructions for General Balance Sheet Accounts, is modified to read:

5. Book value of securities owned. (A) The investment in securities other than those issued or assumed by the accounting company shall be recorded in these accounts at the money value at the time of acquisition of the consideration given therefor by the accounting company. The accounting company may write down the book cost of any securities in recognition of a decline in value thereof. Securities shall be written off or written down to a nominal value if there be no reasonable prospect of realizing any value therefrom. Fluctuations in market value shall not be recorded but a permanent impairment in the value of the securities shall be recognized in the accounts. Under no circumstances shall the investment in the securities be stated in the accounts at an amount in excess of their cost to the accounting company.

(B) The amount of the adjustments shall be charged to account 621, "Miscellaneous debits."

10. That the following balance-sheet accounts and the texts pertaining thereto are hereby prescribed:

755½. Long-term debt in default. There shall be included in this account the total par value of funded debt and receivers' and trustees' securities matured and in default and for which agreements have not been entered into for an extension as to the time of payment.

NOTE.—The principal amount of unpresented funded debt obligations which have matured, and for which provision has been made for payment shall be included in account 768, "Other current liabilities."

769½. Matured interest in default. There shall be included in this account the total amount of matured and unpaid interest (for which no provision has been made for current settlement) on funded debt, receivers' and trustees' securities, and loans, the principal of which is includible in accounts 755, 755½, 756 and 758.

11. That the text of account 761, "Miscellaneous accounts payable," be modified by eliminating reference to account 764.

12. That the first paragraph of the text of account 762, "Interest matured unpaid," be modified to read:

This account shall include the amount of matured and unpaid interest (for which provision has been made for current settlement) on funded debt, receivers' and trustees' securities, and loans, the principal of which is includible in accounts 755, 755½, 756 and 758.

13. That the title and text of balance-sheet account 764, "Funded debt matured unpaid," are hereby canceled.

14. That the words "receiver's certificates" in the text of account 766, "Unmatured interest accrued," are hereby changed to "receivers' and trustees' securities"; and that the following note to account 766 be inserted:

NOTE.—If default occurs in the payment of interest at maturity date on funded debt obligations not matured, the amount of the accrued interest shall be transferred from this account to account 769½, "Matured interest in default." To this latter account shall also be credited monthly, the amount of accrued interest on funded debt in default for which no provision is, or will be, made for current settlement.

15. That the text of account 768, "Other current liabilities," is hereby modified to read:

There shall be included in this account the principal amount of unpresented bonds drawn for redemption through the operation of sinking and redemption fund agreements, also the principal amount of unpresented funded debt obligations, and receivers' and trustees' securities which have matured (for which provision has been made for current settlement), and other current liabilities not covered by accounts 758 to 767, inclusive.

16. That the reference to account 769 in the second line of the text of account 770, "Other deferred liabilities," is hereby changed to accounts 769 and 769½.

17. That "Accounting Bulletin No. 15, Interpretations of Accounting Classifications" effective January 1, 1918, is hereby modified by the cancellation of Cases 295 and 296 as promulgated by the Commission in its Orders of June 23, 1937 and August 13, 1937.

18. That Case 196 in Accounting Bulletin No. 15 is hereby modified to read:

Q. To what account shall be charged amounts paid for the authorization, issuance, and sale of capital stock, including fees of stock transfer agents and registrars?

A. Payments incident to the authorization, issuance, and sale of capital stock in connection with the incorporation or organization of a company are provided for in account 71, "Organization expenses." Similar payments subsequent to incorporation or organization, including those in connection with stock dividends, shall be included in account 621, "Miscellaneous debits." Payments in connection with stock transfers and registration shall be included in account 460, "Other expenses."

19. That the answer to Case 221 in Accounting Bulletin No. 15 is hereby modified to read:

To account 20, "Shops and enginehouses."

20. That this Order shall become effective on the first day of January 1940.

By the Commission, division 1.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF EXTENSION OF TIME FOR FILING BRIEFS IN REVIEW OF DETERMINATION AND ORDER RE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE KNITTED WEAR INDUSTRY AT WAGES LOWER THAN THE MINIMUM WAGE

Whereas, the National Knitted Outerwear Association, the Underwear Institute, and sundry other parties having made application under Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and regulations (Part 522—Regulations Applicable to Employment of Learners Pursuant to Section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938—Title 29, Labor, Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division) issued by the Administrator thereunder for permission to employ learners in the Knitted Wear Industry at wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Act; and

Whereas, after due notice a hearing was held on these applications before Merle D. Vincent, authorized representative of the Administrator, who was duly designated to preside at the hearing and to determine:

(a) What, if any, occupation or occupations in the Knitted Wear and Hosiery Industry require a learning period, and

(b) Whether it is necessary, in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, to provide for the employment of persons in occupations requiring a learning period at wage rates lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and

(c) If such necessity is found to exist, to determine at what wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of such employment of learners shall be permitted, and with what limitations as to time, number, proportion and length of service; and

Whereas, following such hearing, the said Merle D. Vincent duly made findings of fact, determination and order, and filed same with the Acting Administrator on October 20, 1939, and

Whereas, on October 24, 1939,[1] the Acting Administrator caused to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice which set forth in full the determination and order of the presiding officer and stated that, pursuant to the provisions of Section 522.13 of the aforesaid Regulations, as amended, within fifteen days after October 24, 1939, persons aggrieved by the said determination and order might file petitions for review of the action of the said representative, and

Whereas, petitions for review, copies of which are on file in Room 5144, Department of Labor Building, Washington, D. C., and available for examination by all interested parties, were duly filed by the National Knitted Outerwear Association and the Underwear Institute; and

Whereas, the Acting Administrator caused to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 28, 1939,[2] a notice which granted the petitions for review and stated that the Administrator, for the purpose of reviewing the action of the aforementioned presiding officer, and to make a final determination of the questions set forth in the second paragraph of this notice with respect to the knitted wear industry, would receive briefs from interested parties either in support of or in opposition to the aforementioned determination and order, provided that original briefs were filed with the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, prior to the close of business December 21, 1939, and provided that rebuttal briefs were filed with the Administrator prior to the close of business December 30, 1939, and

Whereas, letters have been received from the Underwear Institute and the National Knitted Outerwear Association requesting that the Administrator receive original briefs if filed prior to the close of business on January 15, 1940, said letters stating reasons for the requested extension which appear to be valid.

Now, therefore, the requests for an extension of time in the filing of briefs is hereby granted and notice is hereby given that the Administrator, for the purpose of reviewing the action of the aforemen-

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to the employers listed below effective December 19, 1939, until April 16, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 60-11]

IN THE MATTER OF ASSOCIATED ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

It appearing to the Commission that Associated Electric Company, a subsidiary of a registered holding company, is about to declare and pay dividends on the capital stock of such company in contravention of Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-12C-2 of the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, and the payment and declaration of which should be prohibited by order entered under Section 12 (c) to protect the financial integrity of Associated Electric Company, to safeguard the working capital of Associated Electric Company, to prevent the payment of dividends out of capital or unearned surplus of Associated Electric Company, and to prevent the circumvention of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations or orders thereunder;

It is ordered, That Associated Electric Company show cause why this Commission should not enter its order, pursuant to Section 12 (c) and, pursuant to Rule U-12C-2, preventing the declaration and payment of dividends on the capital stock of such company;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on January 4, 1940 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the Securities and Exchange Commission, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in Room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why this Commission should not enter its order pursuant to Section 12 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and pursuant to Rule U-12C-2, preventing the declaration or payment of further dividends.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under Section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice and to continue or postpone said hearing from time to time.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such Company and to any person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before December 29, 1939.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY, AND AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN FEES OR PORTIONS THEREOF, AND AUTHORIZING PAYMENT THEREOF

The Commission having, by its Order entered in the above styled proceedings on the 24th day of June 1939, reserved jurisdiction to determine at a later date, whether the fees proposed to be paid to attorneys retained to represent the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company and the insurance companies and to the First Boston Corporation in connection with the issue and sale of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company's $22,500,000 principal amount First Mortgage Bonds, 3¼% Series due 1969, are or are not reasonable, and having directed that no part of the fees proposed to be paid to such attorneys or to the First Boston Corporation should be paid pending further order of the Commission;

It is ordered, That jurisdiction is hereby released with respect to an amount equal to 60 per cent of the amounts proposed to be paid to:

First Boston Corporation, in connection with the issue and sale of said bonds,

Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett, general counsel for the issuer,

Sullivan & Cromwell, representing the insurance companies purchasing the said bonds;

That, in addition to the amounts equal to 60 per cent of the fees proposed to be paid to the following attorneys retained to represent the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company, heretofore released by the Commission by its Order dated August 9, 1939, jurisdiction is hereby released as to the balance of the fees and expenses proposed to be paid to the said attorneys, and that the said amounts may be paid as set forth in and for the purposes represented by the application and described in the testimony in these proceedings:

Seibirt, Oare and Deahl, South Bend, Indiana,

Burns and Hadsell, Niles, Michigan.

Butzel, Eaman, Long, Gust and Bills, Detroit, Michigan;

That in all other respects, the said Order of June 24, 1939 shall continue in full force and effect; and that no amount beyond that herein expressly authorized shall be paid on account of any of the proposed fees as to which jurisdiction was reserved, until further order of this Commission.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF THE APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS FRIDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1939

Important. Although the apportioned classified civil service is by law located only in Washington, D. C., it nevertheless includes only about half of the Federal Civilian positions in the District of Columbia. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service Act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment, a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his State of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from States which are in arrears:

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

CHAPTER VII—PERSONNEL

PART 76—CARE AND DISPOSITION OF THE INSANE[1]

§ 76.1 Transfer to the care of relatives or friends. Insane persons requiring institutional care will be transferred to the custody of relatives or friends upon their request provided the relatives or friends produce satisfactory evidence that proper care for the insane person concerned will be provided. This evidence will consist of affidavits from those concerned declaring that they have the necessary financial means and that they will place the insane person concerned in a reputable institution for care and treatment. The relatives or friends receiving an insane person will be required to receipt for the articles of clothing and baggage belonging to the patient. The patient's money and other valuables will be turned over to the person authorized by law to receive them in the insane person's behalf, upon presentation of proper evidence of such authorization. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 7, A.R. 600–500, Nov. 20, 1939]

§ 76.2 Applicants for enlistment. Applicants for enlistment discovered to be insane after arrival at a military station, and before the completion of their enlistment, will be disposed of as follows:

(a) Those whose liberation will be unattended by danger to themselves or others will be rejected and disposed of under the regulations governing the disposal of other rejected applicants.

(b) Those whose insanity is of a type that would probably make their liberation dangerous to themselves or others will be delivered to relatives or friends or to the civil authorities designated by law to apply for the commitment of insane persons residing in the place where they applied for enlistment. The station commander will provide the necessary escort for such delivery, and issue the necessary travel orders, transportation, and subsistence (in kind or by commutation, as may be most suitable). If they refuse to accept the insane person, report will be made to The Adjutant General and the necessary instructions will then be issued by the War Department.

(c) The effects of the patient will be inventoried and his money and valuables will be secured for disposition as indicated below; his other personal effects will be sent with him as baggage to his destination. The family, friends, or the local committing authorities, as the case may be, will be advised that the patient's money and valuables are subject to the orders of the person legally authorized to receive the same in the insane man's behalf upon presentation of proof of such authority. IN THE MATTER OF GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION; CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, A CORPORATION; OLDS MOTOR WORKS, A CORPORATION; PONTIAC MOTOR COMPANY, A CORPORATION; BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, A CORPORATION; CADILLAC MOTOR CAR COMPANY, A CORPORATION; GENERAL MOTORS ACCEPTANCE CORPORATION

This proceeding having been heard [1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the joint answer of respondents, General Motors Corporation, Chevrolet Motor Company, Olds Motor Works, Pontiac Motor Company, Buick Motor Company and Cadillac Motor Car Company, and the separate answer of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, testimony and other evidence taken before Edward E. Reardon, an examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, in support of the allegations of said complaint, and in opposition thereto, briefs filed herein by James M. Hammond, counsel for the Commission, and by John Thomas Smith, represented by Anthony J. Russo, of counsel, attorneys for the respondents, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That the respondent General Motors Corporation, directly or through its subsidiary, General Motors Sales Corporation, or any other subsidiary, and respondent General Motors Acceptance Corporation, their respective officers, representatives, agents and employees, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of motor vehicles or any other products in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Using the words "six per cent" or the figure and symbol "6%", or any other words, figures or symbols indicating percentage, in connection with the cost of, or the additional charge for, the use of a deferred or installment payment plan of purchasing motor vehicles or any other product, when the amount of such cost or charge collected from, or to be paid by, the purchaser of a motor vehicle or any other product under such plan is in excess of simple interest at the rate of 6% per annum, or at the rate indicated by such words, figures or symbols, calculated on the basis of the unpaid balance due as diminished after crediting installments as paid;

(2) Acting concertedly or in cooperation with any company, firm or individual, or with any of their agents or dealers, in a way calculated to further the sale of motor vehicles or any other product through use of the methods referred to in paragraph (1) of this order.

It is further ordered, That the complaint be, and the same hereby is, dismissed as to the respondents Chevrolet Motor Company, Olds Motor Works, Pontiac Motor Company, Buick Motor Company and Cadillac Motor Car Company in view of the dissolution of these corporations since the institution of this proceeding.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. 23–FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF THE AMERICAN ZINC AND CHEMICAL COMPANY FOR RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

The American Zinc and Chemical Company, applicant herein, having on July 10, 1937, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the applicant, or produced and transported by the applicant to itself for consumption by it in the operation of its zinc and chemical plant; and

The Commission having on June 6, 1938,[1] entered an order pursuant to such application in Docket No. 23–FD, ordering that the provisions of Section 4 II (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 apply to the bituminous coal produced by the applicant at its mine at Langeloth, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and consumed by it in the operation of its zinc and chemical plant located at Langeloth, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering applicant to apply periodically for renewal of said order and to file such accompanying reports as will enable the Commission to determine whether the conditions as found in said order continue to exist; and

Applicant, on December 6, 1939, having filed with the Bituminous Coal Division a verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantity of coal produced by the applicant during the year preceding the filing of the application for renewal, at its mine located at Langeloth, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and the portion thereof which is consumed by applicant in its zinc and chemical plant at Langeloth, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and which application also contains a statement that all of the facts set forth in the application of July 10, 1937, remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order dated June 6, 1938, continue to exist;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled application filed by the applicant for renewal of said order, dated June 6, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided however, That said order dated June 6, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, shall automatically terminate and expire:

(1) Unless the applicant on or before Nov. 18, 1940 files an application for renewal of said order;

(2) Unless the applicant on or before July 18, 1940 files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 18, 1940 containing the following information which the Director hereby finds to be necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application.

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by applicant during the preceding six months at such mine.

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by applicant, and the nature and purpose of such consumption.

(3) Unless the applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mine from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plant or factory or other facility at which the coal was consumed; and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced on the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That the Director at any time, upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person may direct the applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the said order of June 6, 1938, should not be terminated. Any person filing such petition shall serve a copy thereof upon the applicant herein.

Dated, December 18, 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF THE BIRMINGHAM WATER WORKS COMPANY FOR RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

The Birmingham Water Works Company, Applicant herein, having on June 14, 1937, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the Applicant, or produced and transported by the Applicant to itself for consumption by it in its business of supplying water for domestic and industrial use to the City of Birmingham, Alabama, and adjacent territory within the State of Alabama; and

The Commission having on June 6, 1938,[1] entered an order pursuant to such application in Docket No. 45–FD, ordering that the provisions of Section 4, II, (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 apply to the bituminous coal produced by Applicant and consumed by him in the business of supplying water for domestic and industrial use to the City of Birmingham, Alabama, and territory adjacent thereto, within the State of Alabama, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering Applicant to apply periodically for renewal of said order, and to file such reports as the Commission may find necessary or appropriate to enable it to determine whether the conditions as found in said order continue to exist; and

Applicant having on November 22, 1939, filed with the Director of the Bituminous Coal Division a verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantity of coal produced by the Applicant during the year preceding the filing of the application for renewal at its mines located in Jefferson County, Alabama, and the portion thereof which was consumed by Applicant in its operations in supplying water for domestic and industrial use to the City of Birmingham and adjacent territory within the State of Alabama; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order of June 6, 1938, continue to exist;

It is ordered, That the application filed by the Applicant for renewal of said order dated June 6, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That the said order of June 6, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, and this renewal of said order shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the Applicant, on or before November 19, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the Applicant, on or before July 19, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 19, 1940, containing the following information which the Director hereby finds necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) the full name and business address of the Applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mine;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the Applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal was consumed; and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced on the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That the Director, at any time upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person, may direct the Applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the order of June 6, 1938, should not be terminated. [Docket No. 501–FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY INSTITUTION DISTRICT FOR RENEWAL OF ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

Allegheny County Institution District, Applicant herein, having on August 13, 1938, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the Applicant, or produced and transported by the Applicant to itself for consumption by it in the business of manufacturing heat, light and power used in the operation of the buildings of the Allegheny County Institution District; and

The Commission having on October 17, 1938,[1] entered an order pursuant to such application, in Docket No. 501–FD, ordering that the provisions of Section 4, Part II, (1) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 do apply to the bituminous coal produced by the Applicant and consumed by it in the business of manufacturing heat, light and power used in the operation of Applicant's buildings, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering the Applicant to apply annually thereafter, and at such other times as the Commission may require for renewal of said order, and to file such accompanying reports as will enable the Commission to determine whether the facts as found in said order continue to exist; and

Applicant, on November 18, 1939, having filed with the Bituminous Coal Division a verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantity of coal produced by Applicant during the year preceding the filing of its application for renewal at its mine located in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and consumed by Applicant in the operation of its buildings, and which application also contains a statement that all the facts as set forth in the application of August 13, 1938, remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order dated October 17, 1938, continue to exist:

It is ordered, That the application filed by the Applicant for renewal of said order dated October 17, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That said order dated October 17, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the Applicant, on or before November 18, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the Applicant, on or before July 18, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 18, 1940, containing the following information which the Director hereby finds necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the Applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mine;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant and the nature and purpose of such consumption and which application contains a statement of the quantity of coal produced by the Applicant during the year preceding the filing of the application for renewal at its mines located in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and consumed by Applicant in the operation of its buildings, and which application also contains a statement that all the facts as set forth in the application of August 13, 1938, remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order of October 17, 1938, continue to exist:

It is ordered, That the application filed by the Applicant for renewal of said order of October 17, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That said order of October 17, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the Applicant, on or before November 18, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the Applicant, on or before July 18, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 18, 1940, containing the following information which the Director hereby finds necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the Applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mine;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the Applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal was consumed; and

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 5804]

IN THE MATTER OF SPECIAL CONTRACT SERVICE OF THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY FOR PRESS TRAFFIC FROM LONDON, ENGLAND, TO NEW YORK, NEW YORK

NOTICE AND ORDER

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its office in Washington, D. C. on the 18th day of December, A. D. 1939.

The Commission having under consideration The Western Union Telegraph Company's Tariff F. C. C. No. 200, Special Contract Service, governing the furnishing of facilities for the transmission of press material and pictures, and governing the transmission of such press material and pictures, from London, England, to New York, New York, and the charges therefor, and the regulations, classification and practices affecting such charges;

It is ordered, That an investigation be, and it is hereby instituted by the Federal Communications Commission, on its own motion, into and concerning the lawfulness of the maximum, minimum and precise basis of all charges and of the classifications, regulations, and practices relating thereto, applicable to the furnishing of facilities for the transmission of press material and pictures, and applicable to the transmission of such press material and pictures, from London, England to New York, New York under the provisions of The Western Union Telegraph Company Tariff F. C. C. No. 200 with a view to determining whether the charges and the classifications, regulations and practices relating thereto, applicable to the furnishing of such facilities and to such transmissions are in any respect in violation of the law, and with the view of making such finding and entering such order or orders in the premises, and of taking such other and further action as the facts and circumstances may appear to warrant;

It is further ordered, That The Western Union Telegraph Company be, and it is hereby made respondent to this proceeding, that this order be served upon the respondent, and that respondent appear and show cause why the Commission should not find that the Special Contract Service provided in said Tariff F. C. C. No. 200 is in violation of the law in that (1) the service was designed for and is furnished to one particular customer, to wit, the Associated Press, at a rate and under circumstances which constitute an undue and unreasonable discrimination against the customers using the ordinary press service of the telegraph company, or an undue or unreasonable preference to the Associated Press, (2) the volume requirement of four million words per annum in order to enable a customer to secure the Special Contract Service at the special rate unreasonably restricts the service to the use of one customer, to wit, the Associated Press, (3) the initial period requirement of three years to enable a customer to secure the service unreasonably restricts the service so as to make it available to only one customer, to wit, the Associated Press, (4) in the stipulation as to nonliability the company undertakes to exempt its self from liability for damages caused by its own negligence, (5) the differential in rates applicable to the Special Contract Press Service and ordinary press service bears no reasonable relation to any differences in cost of the services or in the circumstances under which the services are rendered, and (6) the Special Contract Press Service classification and the regulations and practices relating thereto constitute an undue and unreasonable discrimination against the small user in favor of the large user of the telegraph company's press services, or constitute a preference in favor of the large user or a prejudice against the small user of the telegraph company's press services;

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be given to the public by posting a copy of this order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission and by publishing a copy thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

It is further ordered, That said proceeding be, and it is hereby, designated for hearing on the 22nd day of January, A. D. 1940 at 10:00 a. m., at the office of the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C.

By the Commission.

A public hearing having been duly held on these matters after appropriate notice and the Commission having examined the record and filed its findings herein;

It is ordered, That the applications be and the same hereby are approved;

It is further ordered, That the declaration filed by California Public Service Company be permitted to become effective;

It is further ordered, That the transactions involved in the applications and declaration shall be carried out and effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of and for the purposes represented by said applications and declaration;

It is further ordered, That with respect to the issuance and sale of the aforesaid securities the California Public Service Company shall file with this Commission, within ten days after the issuance of the aforesaid securities, a Certificate of Notification showing that the issue and sale of said securities have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes represented by said applications and declaration, and that the exemption granted pursuant to Section 6 (b) shall immediately terminate without further order of this Commission if the express authorization of the issue and sale of the said securities by the Railroad Commission of the State of California or the authorization of the Public Utilities Commissioner of Oregon shall be revoked or otherwise terminated;

It is further ordered, That the application of Peoples Light and Power Company, pursuant to Rule U-12C-1 (b), be subject to the following conditions:

(1) That the proposed transactions be executed for the purposes and in the manner represented by the application and this order;

(2) That prior to any purchase, notice of the proposed call for tenders and for the proposed open market purchases be given by a notice published once in each of two successive calendar weeks in a daily newspaper published and of general circulation in New York City; and that such notice indicate the amount of funds which the trustee has available for the purchase of bonds and that each tender must be accompanied by the number of the bond tendered before the trustee will accept the tender;

(3) That the final date for acceptance of tenders be not earlier than eight days after the second published notice;

(4) That the applicant file with this Commission a Certificate of Notification within ten days after the tenders are accepted, giving the amounts of the bonds accepted together with the prices and the name and address of the holder and beneficial owner from whom acquired;

(5) To the extent that bonds are acquired in the open market, that the applicant shall file with this Commission monthly reports with respect to such purchases. Each such report shall set forth the date of each purchase, the number of bonds purchased, prices paid therefor, the name and address of the broker in each transaction and the name and address of the holder and beneficial owner from whom acquired;

(6) That this order in respect to open market purchases shall be summarily revokable if at any time this Commission shall deem the circumstances are such as to make further purchases no longer compatible with the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers. In any event such order shall expire at the close of business on December 31, 1940, unless the applicant shall obtain from this Commission a further extension of this order.

(7) That no tenders shall be made by or on behalf of Hopper, Soliday & Co., Glidden, Morris & Co., Brooke, Stokes & Co., David S. Soliday, Howard Morris, or Gerald P. Kynett.

By the Commission.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of December, A. D. 1939.

IN THE MATTER OF VOSSLER & VOSSLER, INC., 1310 AMERICAN BUILDING, CINCINNATI, OHIO

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING REGISTRATION

This is a proceeding, pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, to determine whether the registration of Vossler & Vossler, Inc., as an over-the-counter broker and dealer, should be revoked or suspended.

After appropriate notice,[1] a hearing was held before a trial examiner on November 7, 1939. The registrant failed to appear personally or by counsel. The trial examiner filed an advisory report in which he found that on January 6, 1938, an application by the registrant for a renewal of its license as a dealer in securities in Ohio was refused by the Division of Securities, Department of Commerce, State of Ohio, for the reason that said Division did not find the applicant qualified to act as such dealer. The trial examiner further found that the registrant had had no license issued to it as a dealer in securities in Ohio since the expiration of its license for the year 1937; that the registrant had filed no supplemental statement to its application, as required by Rule X-15B-2, adopted by the Commission pursuant to Sections 15 (b), 17 (a), and 23 (a) of the Act, revealing the aforesaid expiration of its license and refusal by the Ohio authorities to renew the same.

On an independent review of the record, we adopt the trial examiner's findings, and find that the registrant's failure to file the required supplemental statement as aforesaid constituted a wilful violation of Rule X-15B-2, and that it is in the public interest to revoke the registration of the registrant as an over-the-counter broker and dealer.

It is therefore ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration of Vossler & Vossler, Inc., be, and the same hereby is, revoked.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF PORTLAND GAS AND COKE COMPANY CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT REPRESENTING FIRST AND REFUNDING MORTGAGE 5% GOLD BONDS, DUE JANUARY 1, 1940

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

Continuance of unlisted trading privileges on the New York Curb Exchange in the First and Refunding Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, due January 1, 1940, of Portland Gas and Coke Company, having been permitted by action of this Commission on October 1, 1934; and

Said Exchange, pursuant to paragraph (b) of Rule X-12F-2, having applied to this Commission setting forth that there are being effected changes in said security other than those specified in paragraph (a) of said Rule and asking the Commission to determine that said security after said changes is substantially equivalent to the said security heretofore admitted to unlisted trading privileges; and

The Commission having considered the matter;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 12 (f) and 23 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rule X-12F-2 (b) promulgated thereunder, that the determination sought by said application is made and the application is hereby granted.

UNITED STATES TARIFF COMMISSION.

WHEAT AND WHEAT PRODUCTS

HEARING IN INVESTIGATION NO. 3 UNDER SECTION 22 OF THE AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ACT, AS AMENDED

Public Hearing Ordered

Hearing. The Tariff Commission announces that a public hearing in the investigation ordered on December 14, 1939,[1] under Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, with respect to Wheat and Wheat Products, will be held at the office of the Tariff Commission, Washington, D. C. on January 4, 1940, at 10:00 a. m., at which time and place all parties interested will be given opportunity to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard.

Nature of information at hearing. Information submitted at the hearing must be relevant and material to the matters under investigation.

Appearances at hearing. Interested persons may appear at the hearing either in person or by representative; if several persons have a joint interest in the subject it is suggested that effort be made for the designation of a representative in order to avoid unnecessary repetition of testimony.

Regulations. Copies of the regulations adopted for investigations under Section 22 may be obtained on application to the United States Tariff Commission, Washington, D. C., or to the New York office of the Commission, Room 712, Custom House, New York City.

I hereby certify that the above date for hearing was ordered by the United States Tariff Commission on the 19th day of December 1939.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

AMENDING THE FOREIGN SERVICE REGULATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 1752 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (U.S.C., title 22, sec. 132), it is ordered that the Foreign Service Regulations of the United States be, and they are hereby, amended by prescribing the following as Chapter XIV thereof:

CHAPTER XIV

PROTECTION AND PROMOTION OF AMERICAN ECONOMIC INTERESTS

XIV–1. Protection of American interests. Officers of the Foreign Service shall protect the rights and interests of the United States in its international agricultural, commercial, and financial relations. In pursuance of this duty, they shall:

(a) Guard against the infringement of rights of American citizens in matters relating to commerce and navigation which are based on custom, international law, or treaty.

(b) Observe, report on, and, whenever possible, endeavor to remove discriminations against American agricultural, commercial, and industrial interests in other countries.

(c) Protect the national commercial reputation of the United States.

XIV–2. Promotion of American interests. Officers of the Foreign Service shall further the agricultural and commercial interests of the United States:

(a) By carefully studying and reporting on the potentialities of their districts as a market for American products or as a competitor of American products in international trade.

(b) By investigating and submitting World Trade Directory Reports on the general standing and distributing capacity of foreign firms within their districts.

(c) By preparing and submitting upon request trade lists of commercial firms within their districts.

(d) By keeping constantly on the alert for and submitting immediate reports on concrete trade opportunities.

(e) By endeavoring to create, within the scope of the duties to which they are assigned, a demand for American products within their districts.

(f) By facilitating and reporting on proposed visits of alien business men to the United States.

(g) By taking appropriate steps to facilitate the promotion of such import trade into the United States as the economic interests of the United States may require.

XIV–3. Services for American citizens and business organizations in connection with the conduct of foreign trade. Officers of the Foreign Service shall perform the following-enumerated services for American citizens and business organizations in connection with the conduct of foreign trade, subject to such rules and limitations thereon as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State:

(a) Answering trade inquiries.

(b) Lending direct assistance to American citizens and business firms.

(c) Encouraging the establishment of, and supporting, American chambers of commerce.

(d) Preparing themselves for and, upon instructions, performing trade conference work when in the United States on leave, or otherwise.

XIV–4. Submission of reports on economic developments within district. Officers of the Foreign Service shall prepare and submit reports in connection with their duties of protecting and promoting American agricultural and commercial interests and for the purpose of providing general information on economic developments within their respective districts for the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, and for other governmental departments and agencies, in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Secretary of State may prescribe.

Cancelation of Regulations

The following provisions of the Foreign Service Regulations of the United States are hereby canceled:

Part I

Sections VIII–13, XI–7, XVI–7, XVI–14, and XVI–17.

Part II

Sections XI–187A, XXVIII–589 to XXVIII–594, inclusive, XXVIII–597 to XXVIII–603E, inclusive, XXVIII–603G, XXVIII–603H, XXVIII–603J to XXVIII–603M, inclusive.

Revocation of Executive Order

Executive Order No. 3987, dated April 4, 1924, is hereby revoked.

CHAPTER I—FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

[FCA 155]

PROHIBITING DIVULGENCE OF INFORMATION CONTAINED IN LOAN APPLICATIONS AND REPORTS IN CONNECTION WITH EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS

Section 4.4 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

"§ 4.4 Prohibiting divulgence of information. Except upon prior approval of the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, all employees of the Farm Credit Administration, acting pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 29, 1937 (50 Stat. 5; 12 U.S.C., Sup. 1020i), as amended, or acting pursuant to any prior act or executive order of a similar general character, in administering emergency crop and feed loans made pursuant thereto, are prohibited from disclosing or furnishing, to any person other than an employee of the Federal Government, any information contained in any report upon or in any application for a loan authorized as aforesaid, or from giving out any copies thereof in court or from appearing as witnesses in any litigation, except on behalf of the United States in connection with a case referred to a United States attorney by the Governor, for the purpose of testifying to any facts or knowledge secured by them through any such applications or reports.

"Whenever subpoenas shall have been served on such employees, except subpoenas issued at the request of a United States attorney in connection with a case referred to him by the Governor, they will appear in court in answer thereto and, except with the prior approval aforesaid, will respectfully decline to testify to matters herein referred to as confidential, or to produce records thereof, on the grounds that the same are confidential, and they are prohibited from so doing. No copy of any application or report shall be furnished to any court of the United States or to any other court except on a rule of that court upon the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration requesting such a copy. Whenever such a rule of court shall have been obtained, employees of the Farm Credit Administration are directed to prepare carefully a copy of the application or report containing the information called for and to send it to the Director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section at Washington, D. C., whereupon (unless existing circumstances or conditions should make it necessary to decline, in the interests of public service, to furnish such a copy) it will be submitted to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration with the request that it be authenticated under the seal of the Farm Credit Administration and transmitted to the judge of the court requesting it.

"No information of the character hereinabove described as confidential shall be released to an employee of the Federal Government, other than employees of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section, except on the prior approval of the Director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section. REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS IN THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES

Effective December 21, 1939, the following terms and conditions will apply to loans made by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration to farmers in the continental United States pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 29, 1937, as amended.

PART 113—LOANS IN THE UNITED STATES

§ 113.1 Loans in the United States. Loans will be made for fallowing, for the production of crops, for planting, cultivating, and harvesting crops, for supplies incident and necessary to such production, planting, cultivating, and harvesting, and for feed for livestock, or for any of such purposes.*†

*§§ 113.1 to 113.22, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Sec. 1, 50 Stat. 5; 12 U.S.C., Sup., 1020i. See also 52 Stat. 26.

†The source of §§ 113.1 to 113.22, inclusive, is FCA Order 273, December 21, 1939.

§ 113.2 Eligibility; general. Such loans may be made to farmers who have acreage suitable for cultivation, the necessary equipment for farming operations, and livestock for which feed is required, and who are unable to obtain a loan from other sources, and, further, such loans will be limited to the amount necessary to meet the actual cash needs, and preference shall be given to the application of farmers whose cash requirements are small.*†

§ 113.3 Security. Such loans shall be secured by a first lien, or by an agreement to give a first lien, upon all crops of which the planting, cultivation, production, or harvesting is to be financed, in whole or in part, with the proceeds of such loan; or, in case of any loan for the purchase and/or production of feed for livestock, a first lien upon the livestock to be fed.*†

§ 113.4 Applicants agreements. Applicants must agree (1) to use seed and methods approved by the Department of Agriculture; (2) to plant a garden for home use; and (3) to plant a sufficient acreage of feed crops to supply feed for their workstock and subsistence cattle.*†

§ 113.5 Loan limitation and interest rate. No loan made to any borrower shall exceed $400, nor shall a loan be so made in any calendar year which, together with the unpaid principal of prior loans so made to such borrower in that year, shall exceed $400 in amount. No loan will be made for an amount less than $10. All loans will be made in multiples of $5. Notes will bear interest, from maturity until paid, at the rate of 4 percent per annum; and interest to the maturity date at the same rate will be deducted at the time the loan is made.*†

§ 113.6 Farm Security Administration borrowers. No such loan will be made to any applicant who is a standard rehabilitation client of the Farm Security Administration or whose application for a standard loan has been approved by the local supervisor of the Farm Security Administration and forwarded to the regional office for approval, as indicated on lists furnished by the Farm Security Administration.*†

§ 113.7 Available credit. No such loan will be made to any applicant who can obtain a loan from other sources, including production credit associations, in an amount reasonably adequate to meet his needs for the purposes for which such loans may be made. An applicant for a loan in an amount in excess of a minimum fixed by the Governor, or his representative, for the territory in which the applicant resides, must first submit written evidence from a production credit association that his application for a loan of the same or less amount has been rejected.*†

§ 113.8 Production credit applicants. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has an application for a crop or feed loan pending with a production credit association.*†

§ 113.9 Good faith. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has not undertaken in good faith to meet his obligations in connection with any previous crop, feed, or seed loans as follows: has willfully misused the proceeds of a loan check for any purpose other than those specified in his application; has failed to plant a crop or has planted crops on lands other than those described in the application; has willfully disposed of crops mortgaged to the Governor, or failed to account satisfactorily therefor without applying the proceeds of the sale or the value thereof as a payment on his loan; has willfully used the crops mortgaged to the Governor for any purpose other than that stated in his application or applications; or has failed to pay all or part of such loan or loans when able to do so.*†

§ 113.10 Members of family units. No such loan will be made to more than one member of a family unit or to any person living and/or farming with an applicant whose application for a loan hereunder has been disapproved.*†

§ 113.11 Other means of livelihood. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has a means of livelihood other than farming.*†

§ 113.12 Partnerships, corporations, etc. No such loan will be made to partnerships, corporations, minors, guardians, agents, executors, or administrators; or, to receivers or trustees.*†

§ 113.13 Husband and wife. No such loan will be made to a wife living with her husband unless the husband joins in the application, note, and mortgage or lien.*†

§ 113.14 Purchase of machinery, etc. No such loan will be made for the purchase of machinery or livestock, or for the payment of taxes, rent, debts, or interest or for any purpose other than as specified herein.*†

§ 113.15 Installments. Loans may be disbursed in one payment or in installments at the discretion of the regional manager.*†

§ 113.16 Per acre allowance, etc. No loan for the production of crops will be made to any applicant in an amount greater than his actual cash needs for the production of crops, and for supplies incident and necessary to such production, including feed for workstock and necessary subsistence livestock.

The actual cash needs in a particular case must not exceed the actual costs per acre in such case as determined by individual consideration of the various factors involved, e. g., whether it is necessary to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, spraying material and/or fuel for tractors; the cost thereof; and any other incidental expenses currently incurred in that community in connection with the particular crop to be produced. In no event may loans for crop production purposes exceed the following maximum allowances per acre:

Maximum Allowances per Acre

| | 1 Without commercial fertilizer | 2 Where commercial fertilizer is used | 3 Where commercial fertilizer and spray material, including dust, are used [1] |
|---|---|---|---|
| Grain crops | [2] $2.50 | [2] $4.00 | |
| Cotton | 4.00 | 6.00 | |
| Tobacco | 4.00 | 12.00 | $13.00 |
| Peanuts | 3.00 | 4.50 | |
| Irish potatoes (commercial) | 10.00 | 25.00 | 27.50 |
| Truck (commercial) | 10.00 | 22.00 | 25.00 |
| Miscellaneous crops | [3] 2.00 | [3] 3.50 | |
| Sugarcane | 12.00 | 12.00 | |
| Sugar beets | 8.00 | 12.00 | |
| Rice: | | | |
| When landlord furnishes water | 8.00 | 8.00 | |
| If landlord does not furnish water | 13.00 | 13.00 | |
| Citrus fruit trees (bearing) | 20.00 | 20.00 | 20.00 |
| Other fruit trees (bearing) | 10.00 | 14.00 | 20.00 |

[1] Where spray material, including dust, is used without commercial fertilizer, the allowance for such spray material and dust will be the difference, if any, between the allowances in column 2 and column 3.

[2] Of the grain allowances shown in the table not more than $1 shall be used for summer fallowing.

[3] In the case of crops not provided for in the table of allowances, if the allowance for miscellaneous crops is not adequate, the Director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section may fix an allowance not to exceed the actual cost per acre.

These figures include allowances for fuel, oil and feed for workstock for crop production purposes and incidental expenses, for which no additional allowances will be made.

An additional allowance not to exceed $3 per acre will be made for water charges (including maintenance, electric power, and fuel) for crops other than rice grown on irrigated land.

Allowances for commercial fertilizer will be made only in areas where commercial fertilizer is customarily used.*†

§ 113.17 Feed production allowances. No loan for the production of feed for livestock will be made in an amount greater than is actually necessary to produce sufficient crops to feed the livestock upon which a mortgage has been given to secure the loan. In no event may a loan for the production of feed for livestock be made on a basis which exceeds a maximum allowance of $2.50 per acre.

This figure includes allowances for seed, fuel, oil, feed for workstock while engaged in the production of the feed crops, and incidental expenses, for which no additional allowances will be made.*†

§ 113.18 Feed purchase allowances. No loan for the purchase of feed for livestock will be made in an amount greater than is actually necessary to maintain the livestock until pasturage and/or forage or until feed is available, and in no case may a loan for the purchase of feed for livestock be made on a basis which exceeds the following rates per head of livestock per month:

Maximum Allowances for the Purchase of Feed for Livestock per Head per Month [1]

|---|---|
| Stock horses | $3.00 |
| Dairy and breeding cows | 4.00 |
| Stock cattle (from 1 to 2 years old) | 2.00 |
| Sheep (1 to 6 years, inclusive) | .50 |
| Breeding hogs | 1.00 |

[1] The allowances set forth in this table apply only to loans for the purchase of feed for the kinds of livestock listed above and are not to be used for the feeding of workstock. Feed for workstock is included in the allowances provided for the production of both cash and feed crops.*†

§ 113.19 Harvesting allowances. An amount not greater than the actual harvesting and threshing expenses may, in the discretion of the regional manager, be released from the proceeds of the sale of any of the crops covered by a lien given to the Governor in any case where a borrower does not have the necessary funds or credit to pay for the harvesting and threshing of such crops.*†

§ 113.20 Forms. The amount approved for a loan by the Governor or his representative under these regulations will be paid to the applicant by a disbursing officer upon receipt and approval by the Governor or his representative of the following documents:

(a) Application in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.

(b) Promissory note (or bond in Pennsylvania) in the form prescribed, executed by the applicant for the amount approved by the Governor or his representative, payable to the Governor, bearing interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum from maturity until paid.

(c) In order to afford adequate protection and preserve the statutory priority of liens for seed loans made in North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Montana, the following requirements will be observed:

North Dakota. Each applicant in North Dakota who applies for a loan for the purchase of seed, feed for workstock, gas, oil, and minor repairs on farm equipment only, or for one or more of such purposes, shall execute a note for the amount of such loan and secure the repayment of such loan by a crop lien; each applicant in such State who applies for a loan for any or all of the above purposes and for other purposes in addition thereto, shall execute a note for the total amount of such loan and secure the repayment of such loan by a crop mortgage and also shall execute a crop lien to secure the repayment of that part of such loan which is proposed to be used for the purchase of seed, feed for workstock, gas, oil, and minor repairs on farm equipment, or for one or more of such purposes;

Minnesota. Each applicant in Minnesota who applies for a loan, either for the purchase of seed only or for the purchase of seed and for other purposes, shall execute a note for the total amount of such loan and secure the repayment of the entire loan by a crop mortgage, and in addition thereto shall execute a seed lien to secure the repayment of that part of such loan which is proposed to be used for the purchase of seed;

South Dakota and Montana. Each applicant in the States of South Dakota and Montana who applies for a loan for the purchase of seed only, shall execute a note for the amount of such loan and secure the repayment thereof by a seed lien; each applicant in the above States who applies for a loan to be used in part for seed and in part for other purposes shall execute a note for the total amount of such loan and secure the repayment thereof by a crop mortgage, and in addition thereto shall execute a seed lien to secure the repayment of that part of such loan which is proposed to be used for the purchase of seed.

(d) Lien instruments (including waivers) in the form prescribed, conveying a first lien or a promise and authority, properly executed and filed, registered or recorded in the proper office as required by local State law.

(e) A voucher for the amount of the loan in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.*†

§ 113.21 Fees. Fees for recording, filing, registration, an examination of records (including certificates) shall be paid by the borrower; provided, however, that such fees aggregating not to exceed 75 cents per loan may be paid by him from the proceeds of the loan. No fees for releasing liens given to secure loans shall be paid from the proceeds of a loan.*†

§ 113.22 Changing regulations. The right is reserved to revoke, alter, or amend these regulations at any time and without notice.*†

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS IN THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII

Effective December 21, 1939, the following terms and conditions will apply to loans made by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration to farmers in the Territory of Hawaii pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 29, 1937, as amended.

PART 114—LOANS IN HAWAII

§ 114.1 Loans in Hawaii. Loans will be made for the production of crops, for planting, cultivating, and harvesting crops, for supplies incident and necessary to such production, planting, cultivating, and harvesting, or any of such purposes.*†

*§§ 114.1 to 114.19, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Sec. 1, 50 Stat. 5; 12 U.S.C., Sup. 1020i. See also 52 Stat. 26.

†The source of §§ 114.1 to 114.19, inclusive, is F.C.A. Order 274, December 21, 1939.

§ 114.2 Eligibility; general. Such loans may be made to farmers who have acreage suitable for cultivation, the necessary equipment for farming operations, and who are unable to obtain a loan from other sources, and, further, such loans will be limited to the amount necessary to meet the actual cash needs, and preference shall be given to the applications of farmers whose cash requirements are small.*†

§ 114.3 Security. Such loans shall be secured by a first lien upon all crops of which the planting, cultivation, production, or harvesting is to be financed, in whole or in part, with the proceeds of such loan.*†

§ 114.4 Applicants agreements. Applicants must agree (1) to use seed and methods approved by the Department of Agriculture; and (2) to plant a garden for home use.*†

§ 114.5 Loan limitation and interest rate. No loan made to any borrower shall exceed $400, nor shall a loan be so made in any calendar year which, together with the unpaid principal of prior loans so made to such borrower in that year, shall exceed $400 in amount. No loan will be made for an amount less than $25. All loans will be made in multiples of $5. Notes will bear interest, from maturity until paid, at the rate of 4 percent per annum; and interest to the maturity date at the same rate will be deducted at the time the loan is made.*†

§ 114.6 Farm Security Administration borrowers. No such loan will be made to any applicant who is a standard rehabilitation client of the Farm Security Administration or whose application for a standard loan has been approved by the local supervisor of the Farm Security Administration and forwarded to the regional office for approval, as indicated on lists furnished by the Farm Security Administration.*†

§ 114.7 Available credit. No such loan will be made to any applicant who can obtain a loan from other sources in an amount reasonably adequate to meet his needs for the purposes for which such loans may be made.*†

§ 114.8 Marketing agreements, etc. No such loan will be made to any applicant who is a pineapple grower unless he has a marketing agreement with a responsible pineapple cannery; to any sugarcane grower unless he signs, or agrees to sign, a grinding contract with an approved central or mill; or to any fruit or vegetable grower, or grower of any other crops, unless he agrees to marketing agreements which are satisfactory to the representative of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office in The Territory of Hawaii.*†

§ 114.9 Good faith. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has not undertaken in good faith to meet his obligations in connection with any previous crop or seed loans as follows: has willfully misused the proceeds of a loan check for any purpose other than those specified in his application; has failed to plant a crop or has planted crops on lands other than those described in the application; has willfully disposed of crops mortgaged to the Governor, or failed to account satisfactorily therefor without applying the proceeds of the sale or the value thereof as a payment on his loan; has willfully used the crops mortgaged to the Governor for any purpose other than that stated in his application or applications; or has failed to pay all or part of such loan or loans when able to do so.*†

§ 114.10 Members of family units. No such loan will be made to more than one member of a family unit or to any person living and/or farming with an applicant whose application for a loan hereunder has been disapproved.*†

§ 114.11 Other means of livelihood. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has a means of livelihood other than farming.*†

§ 114.12 Partnerships, corporations, etc. No such loan will be made to partnerships, corporations, minors, guardians, agents, executors, or administrators; or, to receivers or trustees.*†

§ 114.13 Husband and wife. No such loan will be made to a wife living with her husband unless the husband joins in the application, note, and mortgage or lien.*†

*†For statutory and source citations, see note to § 114.1.

*†For statutory and source citations, see note to § 114.1.

§ 114.14 Purchase of machinery, etc. No such loan will be made for the purchase of machinery or livestock, or for the payment of taxes, rent, debts, or interests or for any purpose other than as specified herein.*†

§ 114.15 Installments. Loans may be made, subject to the limitations specified herein, in such amounts and in such installments as the Hawaiian representative of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section may approve.*†

§ 114.16 Per acre allowances, etc. No loan for the production of crops will be made to any applicant in an amount greater than his actual cash needs for the production of crops, and for supplies incident and necessary to such production, including feed for workstock and necessary subsistence livestock.

The actual cash needs in a particular case must not exceed the actual costs per acre in such case as determined by individual consideration of the various factors involved, e. g., whether it is necessary to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, spraying material and/or fuel for tractors; the cost thereof; and any other incidental expenses currently incurred in that community in connection with the particular crop to be produced. In no event may loans for crop production purposes exceed the following maximum allowances per acre:

Maximum Allowances per Acre

| | Seed or plants | Fertilizer | Spray materials | Cash labor costs | Total |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sugarcane (plant) [1] | ------ | $40 | $10 | $50 | $100 |
| Sugarcane (ratoon) | ------ | 40 | 10 | 25 | 75 |
| Pineapple (plant) [1] | $30 | 60 | 10 | 100 | 200 |
| Pineapple (ratoon) | ------ | 60 | 10 | 40 | 110 |
| Coffee | ------ | 40 | 5 | 35 | 80 |
| Rice | ------ | 20 | ------ | 20 | 40 |

NOTE: Vegetable and Miscellaneous Crops:
The cost of seed or plants, fertilizer, and spray materials will be allowed plus a maximum of $10 per acre for hired labor in the case of vegetables only.

[1] Total amount per acre allowed shall not exceed the maximum indicated nor shall it exceed $1.25 a ton based on previous yield records for the same type cane. Where irrigation is practiced, the total allowance for all costs including irrigation shall not exceed $1.25 per ton on estimated yield.

[2] In the case of pineapples where mulching paper is used, an additional allowance not to exceed $60 per acre shall be permitted on approval of the Emergency Crop Loan representative, but in no case shall the total amount loaned per acre exceed $10 per ton based upon past record of performance for both plant and ratoon pineapples.

An amount not greater than the actual harvesting expenses may, in the discretion of the Hawaiian representative of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section, be released from the proceeds of the sale of any of the crops covered by a lien given to the Governor, in any case where a borrower does not have the necessary funds or credit to pay for the harvesting of such crops.*†

§ 114.17 Forms. The amount approved for a loan by the Governor or his representatives under these regulations will be paid to the applicant by a disbursing officer upon receipt and approval by the Governor or his representative of the following documents:

(a) Application in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.

(b) Promissory note in the form prescribed, executed by the applicant for the amount approved by the Governor or his representative, payable to the Governor, bearing interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum from maturity until paid.

(c) Lien instruments (including waivers) in the form prescribed, conveying a first lien, properly executed and filed, registered, or recorded in the proper office, as required by law.

(d) A voucher for the amount of the loan in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.*†

§ 114.18 Fees. Fees for recording, filing, registration, and examination of records (including certificates) shall be paid by the borrower: Provided, however, That such fees aggregating not to exceed 75 cents per loan may be paid by him from the proceeds of the loan. No fees for releasing liens given to secure loans shall be paid from the proceeds of a loan.*†

§ 114.19 Changing regulations. The right is reserved to revoke, alter, or amend these regulations at any time and without notice.*†

REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS IN PUERTO RICO

Effective December 21, 1939, the following terms and conditions will apply to loans made by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration to farmers in Puerto Rico pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 29, 1937, as amended.

PART 115—LOANS IN PUERTO RICO

§ 115.1 Loans in Puerto Rico. Loans will be made for the production of crops, for planting, cultivating, and harvesting of crops, for supplies incident and necessary to such production, planting, cultivating, and harvesting, or for any of such purposes.*†

*§§ 115.1 to 115.20, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Sec. 1, 50 Stat. 5; 12 U.S.C., Sup., 1020l. See also 52 Stat. 26.

†The source of §§ 115.1 to 115.20, inclusive, is F.C.A. Order 275, December 21, 1939.

§ 115.2 Eligibility; general. Such loans may be made to farmers who have acreage fit for cultivation, the necessary equipment for farming operations, and who are unable to obtain a loan from other sources, and, further, such loans will be limited to the amount necessary to meet the actual cash needs, and preference shall be given to the application of farmers whose cash requirements are small.*†

§ 115.3 Security. Such loans shall be secured by a first lien upon all crops of which the planting, cultivation, production, or harvesting is to be financed, in whole or in part with the proceeds of such loan.*†

§ 115.4 Applicants Agreements. Applicants must agree (1) to use seed and methods approved by the Department of Agriculture; and (2) to plant and cultivate a garden for home use.*†

§ 115.5 Loan limitation and interest rate. No loan made to any borrower shall exceed $400, nor shall a loan be so made in any calendar year which, together with the unpaid principal of prior loans so made to such borrower in that year, shall exceed $400 in amount. No loan will be made for an amount less than $25. All loans will be made in multiples of $5. Notes will bear interest, from maturity until paid, at the rate of 4 percent per annum; and interest to the maturity date at the same rate will be deducted at the time the loan is made.*†

§ 115.6 Farm Security Administration borrowers. No such loan will be made to any applicant who is a standard rehabilitation client of the Farm Security Administration or whose application for a standard loan has been approved by the local supervisor of the Farm Security Administration and forwarded to the regional office for approval, as indicated on lists furnished by the Farm Security Administration.*†

§ 115.7 Available credit. No such loan will be made to any applicant who can obtain a loan from other sources, including production credit associations, in an amount reasonably adequate to meet his needs for the purposes for which such loans may be made. An applicant for a loan in an amount in excess of a minimum fixed by the Governor, or his representative, for the territory in which the applicant resides, must first submit written evidence from a production credit association that his application for a loan of the same or less amount has been rejected.*†

§ 115.8 Production credit applicants. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has an application for a crop loan pending with a production credit association.*†

§ 115.9 Marketing agreements, etc. No such loan will be made to any applicant who is a tobacco, coffee, fruit, or vegetable grower, or grower of any other crops, unless he signs a marketing agreement satisfactory to the representative of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office in Puerto Rico, nor to any cane grower unless he signs or agrees to sign a grinding contract with an approved central or mill.*†

*†For statutory and source citations, see note to § 115.1.

§ 115.10 Good faith. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has not undertaken in good faith to meet his obligations in connection with any previous crop, feed, or seed loans as follows: has willfully misused the proceeds of a loan check for any purpose other than those specified in his application; has failed to plant a crop or has planted crops on lands other than those described in the application; has willfully disposed of crops mortgaged to the Governor, or failed to account satisfactorily therefor without applying the proceeds of the sale or the value thereof as a payment on his loan; has willfully used the crops mortgaged to the Governor for any purpose other than that stated in his application or applications; or has failed to pay all or part of such loan or loans when able to do so.*†

§ 115.11 Other means of livelihood. No such loan will be made to any applicant who has a means of livelihood other than farming.*†

§ 115.12 Partnerships, corporations, etc. No such loan will be made to partnerships, corporations, minors, guardians, agents, executors, or administrators; or, to receivers or trustees.*†

§ 115.13 Husband and wife. No such loan will be made to either a husband or a wife, if living together, unless both join in the application, note, and lien instrument(s).*†

§ 115.14 Members of family units. No such loan will be made to more than one member of a family unit nor to any person living and/or farming with an applicant whose application for a loan hereunder has been disapproved.*†

§ 115.15 Purchase of machinery, etc. No such loan will be made for the purchase of machinery or livestock, or for the payment of taxes, rent, debts, or interest or for any purpose other than as specified herein.*†

§ 115.16 Installments. Loans may be made, subject to the limitations specified herein, in such amounts and in such installments as the Puerto Rican representative of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section may approve.*†

§ 115.17 Per cuerda allowances, etc. No loan for the production of crops will be made to any applicant in an amount greater than his actual cash needs for the production of crops, and for supplies incident and necessary to such production, including feed for workstock and necessary subsistence livestock.

The actual cash needs in a particular case must not exceed the actual costs per cuerda in such case as determined by individual consideration of the various factors involved, e. g., whether it is necessary to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, spraying material, and/or fuel for tractors; the cost thereof; and any other incidental expenses currently incurred in that community in connection with the particular crop to be produced. In no event may loans for crop production purposes exceed the following maximum allowances per cuerda:

Maximum Allowances per Cuerda

| | (1) Without commercial fertilizer | (2) Where commercial fertilizer is used | (3) Where commercial fertilizer is used upon irrigated land |
|---|---|---|---|
| Long staple cotton | $5.00 | $10.00 | ------ |
| Tobacco [1] | 15.00 | 25.00 | ------ |
| Sugar cane (Gran Cultura) | 30.00 | 45.00 | $55.00 |
| Sugar cane (Primavera) | 20.00 | 34.00 | 45.00 |
| Sugar cane (Ratoon) | 10.00 | 25.00 | 35.00 |
| Cocoanuts [2] | 5.00 | 20.00 | ------ |
| Grapefruit and oranges (6 yrs. and over) [3] | 15.00 | 40.00 | 50.00 |
| Coffee [4] | 7.00 | 27.00 | ------ |
| Pineapples | 90.00 | 160.00 | ------ |
| Winter vegetables (for shipment to the States) | 10.00 | 25.00 | 30.00 |
| Miscellaneous crops | 5.00 | 5.00 | 5.00 |

[1] A harvesting allowance of $5.00 per cuerda may be made for stalk-cut tobacco, and $15.00 per cuerda for prime tobacco.

[2] When fertilizer is not used, loans shall be limited to $4.00 per thousand estimated yield of cocoanuts and not exceeding 20¢ per tree. When fertilizer is used, loans shall be limited to $10.00 per thousand estimated yield of cocoanuts, not exceeding 50¢ per tree, and not exceeding $30.00 per cuerda in any case.

[3] Not exceeding 30¢ per box estimated crop on tree.

[4] Not exceeding $5.00 per cuerda additional where harvesting advance is made (whether with or without fertilizer).

In addition to the $7.00 allowance provided where fertilizer is not used, $15.00 may be allowed for fertilizer and $5.00 for applying the same.

The use of fertilizer is optional with the borrower, but if an allowance is made for such purpose the following table indicates, for varying acreages in coffee, the number of acres which in each instance is the minimum that must be fertilized and the maximum for which an allowance will be approved:

| Number acres in coffee: | Number acres which must be fertilized and in excess of which no allowance will be approved |
|---|---|
| 1–5 (inclusive) | ½ |
| 6–10 (inclusive) | 1 |
| 11–20 (inclusive) | 2 |
| 21–40 (inclusive) | 3 |
| Over 40 | 4 |

The application of fertilizer must be in accordance with the best methods advocated by the Extension Service, and must be under the supervision of the Extension Service field force.*†

§ 115.18 Forms. The amount approved for a loan by the Governor or his representative under these regulations will be paid to the applicant by a disbursing officer upon receipt and approval by the Governor or his representative of the following documents:

(a) Application in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.

(b) Promissory note in the form prescribed, executed by the applicant for the amount approved by the Governor or his representative, payable to the Governor, bearing interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum from maturity until paid.

(c) Lien instruments (including waivers) in the form prescribed, conveying a first lien, properly executed and filed, registered, or recorded in the proper office, as required by law.

(d) A voucher for the amount of the loan in the form prescribed, signed by the applicant.*†

§ 115.19 Fees. Fees for recording, filing, registration, and examination of records (including certificates) shall be paid by the borrower: Provided, however, That such fees aggregating not to exceed 75 cents per loan may be paid by him from the proceeds of the loan. No fees for releasing liens given to secure loans shall be paid from the proceeds of a loan.*†

§ 115.20 Changing regulations. The right is reserved to revoke, alter, or amend these regulations at any time and without notice.*†

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS GOVERNING EMERGENCY CROP AND FEED LOANS IN THE UNITED STATES

Section 113.16 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended to read as follows:

§ 113.16 Per acre allowances, etc. No loan for the production of crops will be made to any applicant in an amount greater than his actual needs for the production of crops, and for supplies incident and necessary to such production, including feed for workstock and necessary subsistence livestock.

The actual cash needs in a particular case must not exceed the actual costs per acre in such case as determined by individual consideration of the various factors involved, e. g., whether it is necessary to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, spraying material and/or fuel for tractors; the cost thereof; and any other incidental expenses currently incurred in that community in connection with the particular crop to be produced. In no event may loans for crop production purposes exceed the following maximum allowances per acre:

*†For statutory and source citations, see note to § 115.1.

Maximum Allowances per Acre

| | 1 Without commercial fertilizer | 2 Where commercial fertilizer is used | 3 Where commercial fertilizer and spray material, including dust, are used [1] |
|---|---|---|---|
| Grain crops | [2] $2.50 | [2] $4.00 | |
| Cotton | 4.00 | 6.00 | |
| Tobacco | 4.00 | 12.00 | $13.00 |
| Peanuts | 3.00 | 4.50 | |
| Irish potatoes (commercial) | 10.00 | 25.00 | 27.50 |
| Truck (commercial) | 10.00 | 22.00 | 25.00 |
| Miscellaneous crops | [2] 2.00 | [3] 3.50 | |
| Sugarcane | 12.00 | 12.00 | |
| Sugar beets | 8.00 | 12.00 | |
| Rice: | | | |
| When landlord furnishes water | 8.00 | 8.00 | |
| If landlord does not furnish water | 13.00 | 13.00 | |
| Citrus fruit trees (bearing) | 20.00 | 20.00 | 20.00 |
| Other fruit trees (bearing) | 10.00 | 14.00 | 20.00 |

[1] Where spray material, including dust, is used without commercial fertilizer, the allowance for such spray material and dust will be the difference, if any, between the allowances in column 2 and column 3.

[2] Of the grain allowances shown in the table not more than $1 shall be used for summer fallowing.

[3] In the case of crops not provided for in the table of allowances, if the allowance for miscellaneous crops is not adequate, the Director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section may fix an allowance not to exceed the actual cost per acre.

These figures include allowances for fuel, oil, and feed for workstock for crop production purposes and incidental expenses, for which no additional allowances will be made.

An additional allowance not to exceed $3 per acre will be made for water charges (including maintenance, electric power, and fuel) for crops other than rice grown on irrigated land.

Allowances for commercial fertilizer will be made only in areas where commercial fertilizer is customarily used.

The following exceptions are made to the foregoing table of maximum allowances per acre;

(1) The maximum allowance per acre for the purpose of producing and harvesting Irish potatoes (where commercial fertilizer and spray material, including dust, are used) in that section known as the "Eastern Shore," which comprises the State of Delaware and the eastern shore of the States of Maryland and Virginia, shall be $35 per acre.

(2) The maximum allowance per acre to be loaned to tobacco growers in the States of Connecticut and Massachusetts shall not exceed the following:

|---|---|
| Without commercial fertilizer | $4.00 |
| Where commercial fertilizer is used | 30.00 |
| Where spray material, including dust, is also used, add | 3.00 |

(3) The maximum allowance per acre in the States of Washington, Oregon, and Idaho for fertilizing, spraying, and dusting fruit trees of bearing age, other than citrus, shall not exceed $40 per acre.

(4) The maximum allowance per acre for the purpose of producing Irish potatoes (where commercial fertilizer and spray material, including dust, are used) in the States of Maine, Connecticut, and Massachusetts; in Coon County, New Hampshire, and in the Counties of Suffolk and Nassau on Long Island in New York State, shall not exceed $35 per acre. RESTRICTIONS ON FREE ENTRY OF PHILIPPINE ARTICLES

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS AMENDED [1]

Customs Regulations of 1937 amended by including therein provisions of the Act of August 7, 1939, Public No. 300, 76th Congress, an Act to amend the Philippine Independence Act (48 Stat. 456), relating to articles coming into the United States from the Philippine Islands, and instructions for the enforcement of those provisions.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

The Customs Regulations of 1937 are hereby amended as follows:

Article 260 (c) [Sec. 5.3 (b)] is amended to read as follows:

(c) [§ 5.3 (b)] To establish that an article is the growth, product, or manufacture of the Philippine Islands and does not contain foreign materials to the value of more than 20 per centum of its total value there shall be filed in connection with the entry a certificate of origin signed by a collector of customs, deputy collector of customs, or other competent authority of the Philippine Government, but the collector of customs at the port of entry in the United States may require supplementary evidence if he believes that it is necessary. However, in the case of shipments valued at $10 or less such fact may be established by any means satisfactory to such collector. In the absence of such certificate of origin or other required document at the time of entry, a bond on customs Form 7551 or 7553 or other appropriate form, or a deposit of estimated duties, may be taken for the production thereof, except that bond for the production of a bill of lading shall be taken on customs Form 7581 or 7587. (See art. 382 (e) [Sec. 7.17 (e)]) (Secs. 301, 624, 46 Stat. 685, 759; 19 U.S.C. 1301, 1624. Act of August 7, 1939, Pub. No. 300, 76th Congress)

Article 262 is amended to read as follows:

ART. 262 [§ 5.3a] Philippine Export Tax—Free Entry Quotas Established—Limitation on Admission of Cordage.—(a) Philippine Independence Act, section 6 (48 Stat. 459), as amended by the Act of August 7, 1939, Public No. 300, 76th Congress, section 1:

SEC. 6. During the period beginning January 1, 1940, and ending July 3, 1946, trade relations between the United States and the Philippines shall be as now provided by law, subject to the following exceptions:

(a) On and after January 1, 1941, the Philippine Government shall impose and collect an export tax on every Philippine article shipped from the Philippines to the United States, except as otherwise specifically provided in this section. Said tax shall be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth in this subsection and in subsection (c) of this section. During the period January 1, 1941, through December 31, 1941, the export tax on every such article shall be 5 per centum of the United States duty; on each succeeding January 1 thereafter the export tax shall be increased progressively by an additional 5 per centum of the United States duty, except that during the period January 1, 1946, through July 3, 1946, the export tax shall remain at 25 per centum of the United States duty.

(b) (1) No export tax described in subsection (a) of this section shall be imposed or collected upon any Philippine article of a class or kind in respect of which a quota is established by subdivision (3) of this subsection and which is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption after December 31, 1939, in excess of its respective quota: Provided, however, That nothing in this section or any subsection thereof shall be construed to exempt the quota of coconut oil therein provided for from the excise taxes provided for in section 2470 of the Internal Revenue Code (I. R. C., ch. 21, sec. 2470).

(3) For the purposes indicated in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, there are hereby established the following quotas of the designated Philippine articles: For the calendar year 1940, the quotas, hereafter called original quotas, shall be as follows:

a. Cigars (exclusive of cigarettes, cheroots of all kinds, and paper cigars and cigarettes including wrappers), two hundred million cigars;

b. Scrap tobacco, and stemmed and unstemmed filler tobacco described in paragraph 602 of the Tariff Act of 1930, four million five hundred thousand pounds;

c. Coconut oil, two hundred thousand long tons;

d. Buttons of pearl or shell, eight hundred and fifty thousand gross.

For each calendar year thereafter through the calendar year 1945, each of the said quotas shall be the same as the corresponding quota for the immediately preceding calendar year, less 5 per centum of the corresponding original quota.

For the period January 1, 1946, through July 3, 1946, each of said quotas shall be one-half of the corresponding quota specified for the calendar year 1945.

(c) The Philippine Government, in imposing and collecting export taxes on Philippine embroideries, shall compute the tax in accordance with the formulas specified in subsection (a) of this section, except that in determining the taxable value of any such article, an allowance shall be made equal to the cost—cost, insurance, and freight the Philippines—of any cloth of United States origin used in the production thereof.

[1] This document affects 19 CFR 5.2, 5.3a (inserted) and 7.17.

(d) The United States duty shall be levied, collected, and paid, in the United States, upon all Philippine sugars, which are entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption in any calendar year after 1939, in excess of eight hundred and fifty thousand long tons, of which not more than fifty thousand long tons may be refined sugars: Provided, however, That for the period January 1, 1946, through July 3, 1946, the quota of Philippine sugars, not subject to the United States duty, shall be four hundred and twenty-five thousand long tons, of which not more than twenty-five thousand long tons may be refined sugars. Any export tax imposed and collected on Philippine sugars entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption in excess of the quotas established by this subsection shall be refunded by the Philippine Government.

(e) Upon the expiration of the Act of June 14, 1935 (49 Stat. 340), as extended to May 1, 1941, by proclamation of the President, dated January 26, 1938, the total amount of all Philippine cordage coming into the United States which may be entered or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption during the remainder of the calendar year 1941, shall not exceed four million pounds and in any calendar year after 1941 shall not exceed six million pounds: Provided, however, That for the period January 1, 1946, through July 3, 1946, the total amount of Philippine cordage which may be entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption shall not exceed three million pounds.

* * * * *

(h) No article shipped from the Philippines to the United States on or after January 1, 1941, subject to an export tax provided for in this section, shall be admitted to entry in the United States until the importer of such article shall present to the United States collector of customs a certificate, signed by a competent authority of the Philippine Government, setting forth the value and quantity of the article and the rate and amount of the export tax paid, or shall give a bond for the production of such certificate within six months from the date of entry.

* * * * *

(b) Philippine Independence Act (48 Stat. 456), as amended by the Act of August 7, 1939, Public No. 300, 76th Congress, section 5:

SEC. 18. (a) As used in sections 6 * * * of this Act—

(1) The term "United States", when used in a geographical sense, but not the term "continental United States", includes all Territories and possessions of the United States, other than the Philippines.

(2) The term "cordage" includes yarns, twines (including binding twine described in paragraph 1622 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 675)), cords, cordage, rope and cable, tarred or untarred, wholly or in chief value of manila (abaca) or other hard fiber.

(3) The term "Philippine Government" means the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines.

(4) The term "United States duty", when used in connection with the computation of export taxes, means the lowest rate of ordinary customs duty in effect at the time of the shipment of the article concerned from the Philippines and applicable to like articles imported into the continental United States from any foreign country, except Cuba, or when more than one rate of ordinary customs duty is applicable to such like articles, the aggregate of such rates.

(5) The term "refined sugars" possesses the same meaning as the term "direct-consumption sugar" as defined in section 101 of the Sugar Act of 1937.

(6) The term "Philippine article" means an article the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Philippines, in the production of which no materials of other than Philippine or United States origin valued in excess of 20 per centum of the total value of such article was used and which is brought into the United States from the Philippines.

(7) The term "American article" means an article the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, in the production of which no materials of other than Philippine or United States origin valued in excess of 20 per centum of the total value of such article was used and which is brought into the Philippines from the United States.

(8) The term "Philippine import duty" means the lowest rate of ordinary customs duty applicable at the port of arrival, at the time of entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption of the articles concerned, to like articles imported into the Philippines from any other foreign country, or when more than one rate of ordinary customs duty is applicable to such like articles, the aggregate of such rates.

(b) As used in subsection (a) of this section:

(1) The terms "includes" and "including" shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.

(2) The term "ordinary customs duty" shall not include any import duty or charge which is imposed to compensate for an internal tax imposed in respect of a like domestic product or in respect of a commodity from which the imported product has been manufactured or produced in whole or in part.

* * * * *

(c) Act of August 7, 1939, Public No. 300, 76th Congress, section 7 (b):

(b) Section 1 of this amendatory Act shall remain in full force and effect from the effective date thereof until July 4, 1946, unless the President of the United States shall, prior to July 4, 1946, have found and proclaimed that the Philippine Government has, in any substantial respect, repealed or amended, or failed or refused to enforce or administer any Philippine law referred to in subdivision (2) of subsection (a) of this section. In the event of such a finding and proclamation, section 1 shall immediately become ineffective and trade relations between the United States and the Philippines shall be as provided by section 6 of the Act of March 24, 1934, prior to the enactment of this amendatory Act and by section 13 of the said Act.

* * * * *

(d) United States Code, Sup. IV, title 48, section 1236a:

Effective May 1, 1935, and for three years thereafter, the total amount of all yarns, twines, cords, cordage, rope, and cable, tarred or untarred, wholly or in chief value of Manila (abaca) or other hard fiber, produced or manufactured in the Philippine Islands, coming into the United States from the Philippine Islands, shall not exceed six million pounds during each successive twelve months period, which six million pounds shall enter the United States duty free.

* * * * *

Pending the final and complete withdrawal of American sovereignty over the Philippine Islands, the President of the United States may, by proclamation, at least ninety days prior to the expiration of the three year period provided herein, extend the operation of this section for an additional period of three years or more, provided such extension is accepted by the President of the Commonwealth of the Philippines.

* * * * *

Except as provided herein, nothing in this section shall be construed to modify or repeal the provisions of any existing law.

The Secretary of the Treasury shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to enforce the provisions hereof; and this section shall be enforced as part of the customs law. (June 14, 1935, c. 240, 49 Stat. 340)

[By proclamation the effective date was extended for an additional period of three years from and including May 1, 1938. Proclamation No. 2272,[1] promulgated Jan. 26, 1938.]

(e) Collectors of customs shall submit reports to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington, D. C., on Monday of each week for the week ending the previous Saturday, stating in respect of each shipment from the Philippine Islands (including shipments covered by mail entries or baggage declarations) of any commodity for which a quota is established, the name of the commodity, the port, kind, number, and date of entry, and in the case of a warehouse withdrawal, the date of the issuance of the permit of delivery. In respect of each shipment of cordage, the vessel and the port and date of arrival shall also be stated. Such reports should show the net weight in pounds of coconut oil, sugar, cordage, scrap tobacco, and filler tobacco; the number of cigars; and the number, expressed in gross, of buttons of pearl or shell.

In the case of sugar, such reports should show also the name of the vessel, the net weight in pounds (irrespective of polarization) and the class, i. e., (1) "refined sugars", or (2) "sugars other than refined". As used in this paragraph the term "refined sugars" shall mean any grade or type of product derived from sugar cane or sugar beets, which contains sucrose, dextrose, or levulose, which is principally of crystalline structure, and which is not to be further refined or otherwise improved in quality; and "sugars other than refined" shall mean any grade or type of saccharine product derived from sugar cane or sugar beets, which contains sucrose, dextrose, or levulose, which is principally of crystalline structure but which is to be further refined or otherwise improved in quality. Sugars in dry amorphous form shall be considered to be principally of crystalline structure.

There shall be filed in connection with the entry of sugar arriving from the Philippine Islands an affidavit of the importer stating whether or not such sugar is to be further refined or improved in quality.

(f) When the quotas for the commodities which may be entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption free of duty approach fulfillment, special instructions will be issued by the Bureau.

(g) On and after January 1, 1940, duties shall be assessed and collected on every Philippine article of a class or kind in respect of which a quota is established (except cordage) which is entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption in excess of its respective quota during the quota period for such article, whether or not such article was included in a quota effective at the time of its arrival. Such duties shall be assessed at the lowest rates applicable to like articles the product of any foreign country except Cuba when entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption in the United States. The term "Philippine article" as used in this paragraph means an article the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Philippine Islands, in the production of which no materials of other than Philippine or United States origin valued in excess of 20 per centum of the total value of such article was used and which is brought into the United States from the Philippine Islands, but shall not include any article which is properly entitled to admission free of duty without reference to the exemption provisions of section 301 of the Tariff Act of 1930.

(h) The importer of any article shipped from the Philippine Islands to the United States on or after January 1, 1941, and subject to the Philippine export tax shall be required at the time of entry to produce a certificate signed by a collector of customs, deputy collector of customs, or other competent authority of the Philippine Government setting forth the value and quantity of the article and the rate and amount of the export tax paid. If such certificate is not so produced, a bond for its production within six months from the date of entry shall be given on customs Form 7551 or 7553 or other appropriate form. If the importer fails to produce the required certificate within six months from the date of entry, the collector should make demand for the payment of liquidated damages under the bond and proceed as in the case of other similar demands. Collectors shall scrutinize the certificates furnished and report to the Bureau any substantial errors noted, as well as any failure to furnish a required certificate.

(i) The Philippine Cordage Act of June 14, 1935 (49 Stat. 340) as extended to May 1, 1941, by proclamation of the President, dated January 26, 1938, will continue in operation during the period of extension. The total amount of Philippine cordage, whether or not arriving in the United States before May 1, 1941, which may be entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption, whether or not subject to duty, during any period specified in section 6 (e) of the Act of March 24, 1934 (48 Stat. 456), as amended by section 1 of the Act of August 7, 1939, Public No. 300, 76th Congress, shall not exceed the quantity specified in such section 6 (e) with respect to such period. (R. S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66. Secs. 1–5, 49 Stat. 340; 48 U.S.C., Sup. IV, 1236a. Act of August 7, 1939, Pub. No. 300, 76th Congress)

Article 382 (d) [§ 7.17 (d)] is amended to read as follows:

(d) [Sec. 7.17 (d)] Shipments from Guam and American Samoa (T.Ds. 23759 and 41839) are entitled to free entry when accompanied by a certificate of the chief customs officer at the port of shipment showing the articles to be the growth or product of those Islands or actual importations into the Islands. When the article is not accompanied by such certificate and is of a class or kind which would be subject to duty if not within the purview of this paragraph, estimated duties should be collected and the addressee advised by notation on the copy of the entry form (customs Form 3419) tendered as a receipt that the estimated duty may be refunded upon production of the certificate within six months. In such cases, liquidation of the entry should be suspended for a period of six months from the date of the entry. Upon the production of the certificate within six months, the entry should be liquidated free of duty and the estimated duty refunded. Otherwise, the entry should be liquidated as dutiable. Products of Guam or American Samoa valued at $10 or less are not required to be accompanied by such certificate if the collector is otherwise satisfied that the articles are entitled to free entry. (R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66. Secs. 498 (a), 624, 46 Stat. 728, 759; 19 U.S.C. 1498 (a), 1624)

Article 382 [§ 7.17] is also amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraphs:

(e) [§ 7.17 (e)] Certain shipments from the Philippine Islands or the Virgin Islands of the United States are entitled to entry free of duty under the conditions set out in articles 260 [Sec. 5.3] to 262 [Sec. 5.3a], inclusive, or article 272 [Sec. 5.10], respectively. Such shipments valued at more than $10 but not more than $100, when accompanied by a certificate of Philippine origin, and any such shipments valued at $10 or less, may be passed without the issuance of a mail entry provided the collector is satisfied that the merchandise is entitled to free entry and is not of a class subject to a quota limitation on free entry. (See art. 262 [Sec. 5.3a].) The provisions of chapters V and VI should be followed in the case of shipments over $100 in value.

(f) [§ 7.17 (f)] Shipments forwarded by mail from the Philippine Islands on and after January 1, 1941, if subject to the Philippine export tax referred to in article 262 [Sec. 5.3a] and valued at more than $10, shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by the collector of customs, deputy collector of customs, or other competent authority in the Philippine Islands, setting forth the value and quantity of the article and the rate and amount of export tax paid. In the absence of such certificate, the estimated duty collected shall be treated as a cash deposit in lieu of bond for production of the certificate and the addressee advised by notation on the copy of the entry form (customs Form 3419) tendered as a receipt that the deposit may be refunded upon production of the export-tax certificate and the certificate of Philippine origin within six months. In such cases, liquidation of the entry should be suspended for a period of six months from the date of entry. If neither the export-tax certificate nor the certificate of origin is furnished within the six-months period, the shipment shall be treated as of non-Philippine origin and subject to duty but not subject to the requirement of an export-tax certificate. If one certificate but not the other is produced, the matter should be referred to the Bureau for instructions. (R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66. Secs. 301, 624, 46 Stat. 685, 759; 19 U.S.C. 1301, 1624. Secs. 1–5, 49 Stat. 340; 48 U.S.C., Sup. IV, 1236a. Act of August 7, 1939, Pub. No. 300, 76th Congress)

The foregoing regulations shall be effective on and after January 1, 1940.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

CHAPTER I—FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

Order Promulgating a Regulation Fixing and Establishing a Reasonable Definition and Standard of Identity for the Food Commonly Known as Canned Peaches

Pursuant to the authority and direction of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, 21 U.S.C. 371 (e); Sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, 21 U.S.C. 341), and based upon substantial evidence of record at the hearing heretofore held in accordance with law, detailed findings of fact are made, as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Canned peaches are prepared from mature peaches.

2

Such peaches are of one of the following varietal groups: yellow clingstone, yellow freestone, white clingstone, white freestone.

Peaches of different varietal groups are not canned together.

Peaches of each varietal group are an optional peach ingredient.

5

The word "free" is used synonymously with the word "freestone" and the word "cling" is used synonymously with the word "clingstone" to designate the varietal group.

6

Such peaches are prepared in one of the following forms of units: unpeeled whole; unpeeled halves; peeled whole; peeled halves; peeled quarters; peeled slices; peeled dice; peeled mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Such forms of units are never mixed in canning except when canned as mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes. Peaches of each form of units are an optional peach ingredient.

7

Such peaches, except in the case of whole peaches, are pitted.

Canned peaches contain a suitable liquid packing medium.

9

Water is a suitable liquid packing medium.

10

The natural juice of the peach is a suitable liquid packing medium. Such juice may be obtained by precooking the peaches so that the juice exudes.

11

(a) A water solution of refined sugar (sucrose), with or without refined corn sugar (dextrose), is a suitable liquid packing medium. The water solution of such sugar or sugars used as a liquid packing medium is called sirup.

(b) A water solution of refined corn sugar (dextrose) cannot be used alone as the liquid packing medium in the canning of peaches. The maximum amount of refined corn sugar (dextrose) heretofore used for commercial purposes, in combination with refined sugar (sucrose), in the canning of peaches is 33⅓ percent of such combination.

(c) Refined corn sugar (dextrose) is not as sweet as refined sugar (sucrose), being generally regarded as from 50 percent to 75 percent as sweet as refined sugar (sucrose). Consumers are accustomed to gauge sweetness according to that of refined sugar (sucrose).

(a) There are four sirups of different degrees of sweetness known to consumers and used in the industry; namely, light, medium, heavy, and extra heavy. It is a customary trade and consumer practice so to distinguish them. Such sirups are measured and distinguished by their specific gravity as determined by the Brix hydrometer. The Brix hydrometer is a reliable instrument for testing specific gravity of liquid solutions and is in general use. A water solution of refined sugar (sucrose) which shows a reading of less than 10° on the Brix hydrometer does not sweeten the finished canned peaches sufficiently to be known as a sirup for this food.

(b) When such sirups are prepared from refined sugar (sucrose), they have, respectively, the following readings on the Brix hydrometer: light sirup, not less than 10° but less than 25°; medium sirup, not less than 25° but less than 40°; heavy sirup, not less than 40° but less than 55°; and extra heavy sirup, not less than 55°.

(c) When such sirups of equivalent sweetness are prepared from a mixture of refined sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose), they do not have the above readings on the Brix hydrometer because of the difference in sweetness between refined corn sugar (dextrose) and refined sugar (sucrose). However, the Brix reading of a refined sugar (sucrose) solution equivalent in sweetness to the sweetness of any sirup prepared from such a mixture is obtained by adding the percent by weight of refined sugar (sucrose) in such sirup to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such sirup.

(d) The common or usual names of such sirups are light sirup, medium sirup, heavy sirup, and extra heavy sirup.

(e) The terms "sirup" and "syrup" are synonymous.

13

The liquid of the finished canned peaches is not more than 35° Brix.

14

Canned peaches may or may not contain added spice.

15

Canned peaches may or may not contain added flavoring.

16

(a) Canned peaches may or may not be seasoned.

(b) A vinegar is a suitable seasoning agent.

(c) Added peach kernels are a suitable seasoning agent, except in the case of whole peaches.

(d) Peach pits, added in limited amounts, are a suitable seasoning agent, except in the case of whole peaches. The number of pits suitable for such purpose is limited to not more than one to each eight ounces of finished canned peaches.

(e) Such seasoning agents are used singly or in combination, except that peach pits and peach kernels are not used in combination with each other.

It is essential that canned peaches be sealed in a container.

18

It is essential to process canned peaches by heat so as to prevent spoilage.

19

Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer require that the optional peach ingredient, the optional liquid packing medium, and the optional seasoning ingredients be declared on the label, and that, if spice or flavoring is added, this be stated on the label.

20

The common or usual names of the several varietal groups of peaches are yellow clingstone, or yellow cling; yellow freestone, or yellow free; white clingstone, or white cling; and white freestone, or white free.

21

The common or usual name of peeled canned peaches is peaches, qualified by the name of the varietal group and form of unit, without other qualifying words, except that "slices" and "sliced" are synonymous and "dice" and "diced" are synonymous.

22

The common or usual name of unpeeled canned peaches is peaches, qualified by the term unpeeled, by the name of the varietal group, and by the name of the form of unit.

[1] 4 F.R. 1143 DI.

23

The common or usual name of water used as a liquid packing medium in canned peaches is water.

24

The common or usual name of the natural juice of the peach used as a liquid packing medium in canned peaches is peach juice.

25

The common or usual names of the water solutions of sugar or sugars used as liquid packing media in canned peaches are: light sirup, or light syrup; medium sirup, or medium syrup; heavy sirup, or heavy syrup; and extra heavy sirup, or extra heavy syrup.

26

The common or usual name of a vinegar used as a seasoning is vinegar.

27

The common or usual name of peach pit kernels used as a seasoning is peach kernels.

28

The common or usual name of peach pits used as a seasoning is peach pits.

29

Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer require that, when spice, flavoring, vinegar, peach pits, or peach kernels are used, the label bear the words, respectively: "Spiced" or "With Added Spice" or "Spice Added"; "With Added Flavoring" or "Flavoring Added"; "Seasoned with Vinegar"; "Seasoned with Peach Pits"; "Seasoned with Peach Kernels". If two or more of such optional ingredients are present, such words may be combined, as, for example, "With Added Spice, Flavoring, and Vinegar".

30

Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer require that, wherever the name "peaches" appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the names of the optional ingredients present shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, except that the specific varietal name of the peaches may so intervene.

Based upon the foregoing findings of fact, a conclusion in the form of a regulation which will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers is hereby made and promulgated as follows:

REGULATION UNDER THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE DEFINITION AND STANDARD OF IDENTITY FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES

(2) To one such peach ingredient is added one of the following optional liquid packing media:

(A) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose) of not less than 10° Brix but less than 25° Brix;

(B) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 10° Brix but less than 25° Brix (such refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of refined sugar (sucrose) in such sirup to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such sirup);

(C) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose), of not less than 25° Brix but less than 40° Brix;

(D) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 25° Brix but less than 40° Brix (such refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of refined sugar (sucrose) in such sirup to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such sirup);

(E) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose), of not less than 40° Brix but less than 55° Brix;

(F) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 40° Brix but less than 55° Brix (such refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of refined sugar (sucrose) in such sirup to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such sirup);

(G) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose), of not less than 55° Brix;

(H) A sirup of refined sugar (sucrose) and refined corn sugar (dextrose) having a refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent of not less than 55° Brix (such refined sugar (sucrose) equivalent is calculated by adding the percent by weight of refined sugar (sucrose) in such sirup to two-thirds of the percent by weight of refined corn sugar (dextrose) in such sirup);

(I) Peach juice;

(J) Water.

(3) Spice may be added.

(4) Flavoring may be added.

(5) The food may be seasoned with one or more of the following optional seasonings:

(A) A vinegar;

(B) Peach pits (except in the case of whole peaches), not more than 1 to each 8 ounces of finished canned peaches;

(C) Peach kernels (except in the case of whole peaches and except when optional seasoning (B) is present).

(6) The food is sealed in a container and so processed by heat as to prevent spoilage.

(7) The liquid of the finished canned peaches is not more than 35° Brix.

(b) (1) The label shall name the optional peach ingredient present by the use of the words "Yellow Cling" or "Yellow Clingstone", "White Cling" or "White Clingstone", "Yellow Free" or "Yellow Freestone", or "White Free" or "White Freestone" and the word or words "Whole", "Unpeeled Whole", "Halves", "Unpeeled Halves", "Quarters", "Slices" or "Sliced", "Dice" or "Diced", or "Mixed Pieces of Irregular Sizes and Shapes".

(2) The label shall also bear the words "In Light Sirup" or "In Light Syrup", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (A) or (B); or the words "In Medium Sirup" or "In Medium Syrup", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (C) or (D); or the words "In Heavy Sirup" or "In Heavy Syrup", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (E) or (F); or the words "In Extra Heavy Sirup" or "In Extra Heavy Syrup", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (G) or (H); or the words "In Peach Juice", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (I); or the words "In Water", showing the presence of optional liquid packing medium (J).

(3) If spice is present, the label shall bear the word or words "Spiced" or "With Added Spice" or "Spice Added".

(4) If flavoring is present, the label shall bear the words "With Added Flavoring" or "Flavoring Added".

(5) If an optional seasoning ingredient is used, the label shall bear the words "Seasoned with Vinegar", "Seasoned with Peach Pits", or "Seasoned with Peach Kernels", as the case may be.

(6) If spice and flavoring, or spice, flavoring, and an optional seasoning, or spice and an optional seasoning, or flavoring and an optional seasoning, are present, the label may bear a combination of words, as, for example, "With Added Spice, Flavoring, and Vinegar."

(7) Wherever the name "Peaches" appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the words and statements herein specified, showing the optional ingredients present, shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, except that the specific varietal name of the peaches may so intervene.

It is ordered that the regulation hereby prescribed and promulgated shall become effective on the ninetieth day after the issuance of this order and the filing of the same with the Archivist of the United States for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

ORDER PROMULGATING A REGULATION FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER AND SPECIFYING THE FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES

Pursuant to the authority and direction of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, 21 U.S.C. 371 (e); Sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, 21 U.S.C. 341), and based upon substantial evidence of record at the hearing heretofore held in accordance with law, detailed findings of fact are made, as follows:

The quantity of the optional peach ingredient which can be placed in a container varies, depending upon the method of packing and upon the shape, size, degree of maturity, and specific gravity of the units of the optional peach ingredient.

With the exception of comparatively few slack filled cans, canned peaches as they appear on the market at the present time contain the maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient which, using reasonably good factory practice, can be placed and sealed in each can and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking the peach units.

The maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient varies, depending on the size of the container, the method of packing, the form, size, firmness of units, the necessity for having sufficient liquid to insure proper processing, and other factors.

The can should contain the greatest number of peach units the canner can place therein and properly seal and process.

Knowing the form, shape, size, degree of maturity and comparative specific gravity of the peach units in any lot being canned, canners know the greatest amount of peach units which can be placed in a can of any given size without damage, and canners employ inspectors to insure proper filling by packers.

None of the various methods which have been studied for objective measurements of fill have shown any uniform correlation between the quantity of peach units put in and the quantity of peach units cut out. Assurance to the consumer of a can full of peaches can be obtained only by a requirement as to the quantity put in the container.

It is necessary and desirable in the interest of the consumer that canned peaches falling below a standard of fill of container bear on the label a simple and understandable statement of that fact. "Below Standard in Fill" is such a statement.

If canned peaches fall below a standard of fill of container, it is necessary and desirable in the interest of the consumer that the label bear the statement "Below Standard in Fill", printed in Cheltenham bold condensed caps. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, the statement should be in 12-point type; if such quantity is 1 pound or more, the statement should be in 14-point type. Such statement should be enclosed within lines not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle; but if the peaches also fall below the standard of quality for canned peaches and bear the label statement of substandard quality specified in the standard of quality for canned peaches, both statements (one following the other) may be enclosed within the same rectangle. Such statement or statements, with enclosing lines, should be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and should be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Based upon the foregoing findings of fact, a conclusion in the form of a regulation which will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers is hereby made and promulgated, as follows:

REGULATION UNDER THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF FILL OF CONTAINER AND SPECIFYING THE FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD FILL OF CONTAINER FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES

§ 27.002 Canned peaches—Fill of container; label statement of substandard fill. (a) The standard of fill of container for canned peaches is the maximum quantity of the optional peach ingredient which can be sealed in the container and processed by heat to prevent spoilage, without crushing or breaking such ingredient.

(b) If canned peaches fall below the standard of fill of container prescribed in subsection (a) of this section, the label shall bear the general statement of substandard fill specified in section 10.020 (b), in the manner and form therein specified.

It is ordered that the regulation hereby prescribed and promulgated shall become effective on the ninetieth day after the issuance of this order and the filing of the same with the Archivist of the United States for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

ORDER PROMULGATING A REGULATION FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY AND SPECIFYING THE FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES

Pursuant to the authority and direction of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, 21 U.S.C. 371 (e); Sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, 21 U.S.C. 341), and based upon substantial evidence of record at the hearing heretofore held in accordance with law, detailed findings of fact are made, as follows:

Factors which go to make up quality in canned peaches are tenderness of the peach ingredient; size of units in the case of peach halves and quarters; uniformity of size of units in the cases of whole peaches, halves, and quarters; absence of peel in all forms of the peach unit except in the case of unpeeled peaches; freedom from blemishes; the shape of the units in the cases of whole peaches, halves, quarters, and slices; freedom from crushed or broken units except in the case of mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes.

In canned peaches, the biting or chewing characteristic of the peach is an index of the quality factor, tenderness. This factor involves the maturity of the peach and the extent to which it has been cooked.

Such tenderness is measurable objectively by the following method:

So trim a test piece from the unit as to fit, with peel surface up, into a supporting receptacle. If the unit is of different firmness in different parts of its peel surface, trim the piece from the firmest part. If the piece is unpeeled, remove the peel. The top of the receptacle is circular in shape, of 1⅛ inches inside diameter, with vertical sides; or rectangular in shape, ¾ inch by 1 inch inside measurements, with ends vertical and sides sloping downward and joining at the center at a vertical depth of ¾ inch. Use the circular receptacle for testing units of such size that a test piece can be trimmed therefrom to fit it. Use the rectangular receptacle for testing other units. Test no unit from which a test piece with rectangular peel surface at least ⅛ inch by 1 inch cannot be trimmed. Test the piece by means of a round metal rod 9/32 inch in diameter. To the upper end of the rod is affixed a device to which weight can be added. The rod is held vertically by a support through which it can freely move upward or downward. The lower end of the rod is a plane surface to which the vertical axis of the rod is perpendicular. Adjust the combined weight of the rod and device to 100 grams. Set the receptacle so that the surface of the test piece is held horizontally. Lower the end of the rod to the approximate center of such surface, and add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the rod pierces the test piece. Weigh the rod and weighted device. Test all units in containers of 50 units or less, except those units too small for testing or too soft for trimming. Test at least 50 units, taken at random, in containers of more than 50 units; but if less than 50 units are of sufficient size and firmness for testing, test those which are of sufficient size and firmness.

Forms of units of the peach ingredient too small for such testing or too soft for such trimming need not be tested for tenderness.

5

The foregoing method outlined in Finding No. 3 is directly correlated with the consensus of consumer opinion of what constitutes tenderness in canned peaches.

6

Size of units, as measured by the weight of the unit, is not a factor of quality in canned peaches except in the cases of halves and quarters.

Canned peaches which are of standard quality have a minimum size for halves and quarters at the present time. Halves and quarters smaller than such minimum size are commonly packed as substandard peaches at the present time.

Halves and quarters have a minimum size of 3/5 ounce and 1/5 ounce, respectively. These minima are less than the minima adopted by the packers of over 97 percent of the canned peaches produced in the United States.

Such weights are determinable as follows: The unit is placed on a screen and the liquid is allowed to drain therefrom for two minutes. The unit is then weighed.

10

Uniformity of size of units is not a factor of quality in canned peaches unless the units are whole, halves, or quarters. Uniformity of size cannot be controlled under the best commercial practice in the cases of slices and dice. Discrepancies in size are not objectionable to the consumers when the units are small, such as slices or dice. Uniformity of size is obviously not a factor in the quality of the product when canned as mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes.

11

Uniformity of size of units in the cases of whole, halves, or quarters is necessary in order to prevent variant numbers of units in servings of desserts and salads on the same table.

12

Such units are of reasonable uniformity of size if the weight of the largest unit is not more than twice the weight of the smallest unit in the container. Weights of such units are determined in the same manner as weights for minimum size of units.

13

Absence of peel is a factor of quality in canned peaches except in the case of peaches canned as unpeeled peaches.

14

Adhering peel ordinarily can be removed completely from the peach, but some peel is occasionally left in good commercial practice. One square inch of peel per pound of net content is a reasonable maximum tolerance for peel present in the finished product.

15

Freedom from blemishes such as scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormalities is a factor of quality in canned peaches.

16

A tolerance for blemishes is necessary because of small blemishes not apparent in hand sorting as carried out under good commercial practice. Twenty percent blemished units is a reasonable tolerance.

17

Normal shape of the peach unit is a factor of quality in canned peaches if the units are whole, halves, quarters, or slices.

18

When the units are trimmed, normal shape can be preserved. It is possible for the canner to meet this quality factor by discarding all units so trimmed that their normal shape is not preserved. Consumers uniformly object to unevenly trimmed units.

19

Except in the case of mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes, freedom from crushed or broken units is a factor of quality in canned peaches. A crushed unit is a unit pressed so as to destroy its normal shape. A broken unit is a unit separated into two or more parts. Units which do not have normal shape because of ripeness and which do not show any crushing are not crushed or broken units. Crushed and broken units are not deliberately packed as canned peaches which are of standard quality at the present time. The concussion resulting from the application of the lid to the can at high speeds under great pressure sometimes breaks or crushes the topmost unit of well-filled containers in good commercial practice. For this reason, a tolerance for crushed and broken units is necessary, and a tolerance of 5 percent for containers of more than 20 units or of 1 unit for containers of less than 20 units is reasonable.

20

A canner employing good commercial practice can meet each of the foregoing factors of quality in canned peaches without difficulty.

21

Each factor of quality takes into consideration and makes due allowance for the differing characteristics of the several varieties of peaches. Some varieties can meet the various factors more easily than others, but all varieties can meet the foregoing factors of quality without difficulty under good commercial practice.

22

It is reasonable and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have a simple and understandable statement of substandard quality placed on the label. "Below Standard in Quality", qualified by an explanation wherein the product falls below standard in quality, is such a statement. If the peaches are not tender, the qualifying statement "Not Tender" furnishes an accurate explanation of the reason the product is below standard. Likewise, the qualifying statement "Small Halves", or "Small Quarters", if under minimum size; "Mixed Sizes", if not of uniform size; "Not Well Peeled", if over the tolerance for peel; "Blemished", if over the tolerance for blemishes; "Unevenly Trimmed", if trimmed to destroy normal shape; "Partly Crushed or Broken", if over the tolerance for crushed or broken units.

23

It is reasonable and it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have such statement immediately and conspicuously precede or follow, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, the name

"Peaches", together with words and statements required or authorized to appear with such name by the definition and standard of identity for canned peaches.

24

Such label requirements for peaches of substandard quality would not be practicable under good commercial practices in instances such as where the product fell below the standard in several respects.

25

In such event, the statement "Below Standard in Quality Good Food—Not High Grade" would be reasonable, would be informative to the consumer, and would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer.

26

It is reasonable and it would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer to have such statement printed in two lines of Cheltenham bold condensed caps. The words "Below Standard in Quality" to constitute the first line, and the second to immediately follow. If the quantity of the contents of the container is less than 1 pound, such type of the first line should be 12-point, and of the second, 8-point. If such quantity is 1 pound or more, such type of the first line should be 14-point, and of the second, 10-point. Such statement should be enclosed within lines, not less than 6 points in width, forming a rectangle. Such statement, with enclosing lines, should be on a strongly contrasting, uniform background, and should be so placed as to be easily seen when the name "Peaches" or any pictorial representation of a peach is viewed, wherever such name or representation appears so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase.

Based upon the foregoing findings of fact, a conclusion in the form of a regulation which will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers is hereby made and promulgated, as follows:

REGULATION UNDER THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT FIXING AND ESTABLISHING A REASONABLE STANDARD OF QUALITY AND SPECIFYING THE FORM AND MANNER OF LABEL STATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD QUALITY FOR THE FOOD COMMONLY KNOWN AS CANNED PEACHES

27.001 Canned peaches—Quality; label statement of substandard quality. (a) The standard of quality for canned peaches is as follows:

(1) All units tested in accordance with the method prescribed in subsection (b) are pierced by a weight of not more than 300 grams;

(2) In the cases of halves and quarters, the weight of each unit is not less than ⅝ ounce and 5/16 ounce, respectively;

(3) In the cases of whole peaches, halves, and quarters, the weight of the largest unit in the container is not more than twice the weight of the smallest unit therein;

(4) Except in the case of unpeeled peaches, there is present in the finished canned peaches not more than 1 square inch of peel per each 1 pound of net contents;

(5) Not more than 20 percent of the units in the container are blemished with scab, hail injury, discoloration, or other abnormalities;

(6) In the cases of whole peaches, halves, quarters, and slices, all units are untrimmed, or are so trimmed as to preserve normal shape; and

(7) Except in the case of mixed pieces of irregular sizes and shapes, not more than 5 percent of the units in a container of 20 or more units, and not more than one unit in a container of less than 20 units, is crushed or broken. (A unit which has lost its normal shape because of ripeness and which bears no mark of crushing shall not be considered to be crushed or broken.)

(b) Canned peaches shall be tested by the following method to determine whether or not they meet the requirements of clause (1) of subsection (a):

So trim a test piece from the unit as to fit, with peel surface up, into a supporting receptacle. If the unit is of different firmness in different parts of its peel surface, trim the piece from the firmest part. If the piece is unpeeled, remove the peel. The top of the receptacle is circular in shape, of 1⅛ inches inside diameter, with vertical sides; or rectangular in shape, ¾ inch by 1 inch inside measurements, with ends vertical and sides sloping downward and joining at the center at a vertical depth of ¾ inch. Use the circular receptacle for testing units of such size that a test piece can be trimmed therefrom to fit it. Use the rectangular receptacle for testing other units. Test no unit from which a test piece with rectangular peel surface at least ½ inch by 1 inch cannot be trimmed. Test the piece by means of a round metal rod 5/32 inch in diameter. To the upper end of the rod is affixed a device to which weight can be added. The rod is held vertically by a support through which it can freely move upward or downward. The lower end of the rod is a plane surface to which the vertical axis of the rod is perpendicular. Adjust the combined weight of the rod and device to 100 grams. Set the receptacle so that the surface of the test piece is held horizontally. Lower the end of the rod to the approximate center of such surface, and add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the rod pierces the test piece. Weigh the rod and weighted device. Test all units in containers of 50 units or less, except those units too small for testing or too soft for trimming. Test at least 50 units, taken at random, in containers of more than 50 units; but if less than 50 units are of sufficient size and firmness for testing, test those which are of sufficient size and firmness.

(c) If the quality of canned peaches falls below the standard prescribed in subsection (a) of this section, the label shall bear the general statement of substandard quality specified in section 10.020 (a), in the manner and form therein specified; but in lieu of such general statement of substandard quality, the label may bear the alternative statement "Below Standard in Quality ------", the blank to be filled in with the words specified after the corresponding number of each clause of subsection (a) of this section which such canned peaches fail to meet, as follows: (1) "Not Tender"; (2) "Small Halves", or "Small Quarters", as the case may be; (3) "Mixed Sizes"; (4) "Not Well Peeled"; (5) "Blemished"; (6) "Unevenly Trimmed"; (7) "Partly Crushed or Broken". Such alternative statement shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, the name "Peaches" and any words and statements required or authorized to appear with such name by section 27.000 (b).

It is ordered that the regulation hereby prescribed and promulgated shall become effective on the ninetieth day after the issuance of this order and the filing of the same with the Archivist of the United States for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

WAR DEPARTMENT

CHAPTER II—CORPS OF ENGINEERS, WAR DEPARTMENT

PART 203—BRIDGE REGULATIONS [1]

§ 203.467 Hillsboro River at Tampa, Fla.; bridge (highway) at Hillsborough Avenue. (a) The owner or agency controlling the bridge will not be required to keep a draw tender in constant attendance at the aforementioned bridge between the hours of 10:00 p. m. and 6:00 a. m.

(b) Whenever, in the event of an emergency, a vessel, unable to pass under the closed bridge, is required to pass through the drawspan between these hours, at least one-hour's advance notice of the time the opening is required shall be given to the authorized representative of the owner or agency controlling the bridge.

(c) Upon receipt of such notice, the authorized representative of the owner of or agency controlling the bridge, in compliance therewith, shall arrange for the prompt opening of the draw at the time specified in the notice for the passage of the vessel.

(d) The owner or agency controlling the bridge shall keep conspicuously posted on both the upstream and downstream sides of the bridge, in such manner that it can easily be read at any time, a copy of these regulations, together with a notice stating exactly how the representative specified in paragraph (b) may be reached.

(e) The operating machinery of the draw shall be maintained in a serviceable condition and the draw opened and closed at least once every four months to make certain that the machinery is in proper order for satisfactory operation.

(f) These regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after December 15, 1939, and are supplemental to the "Rules and regulations to govern the operation of drawbridges crossing all navigable waterways of the United States discharging their waters into the Atlantic Ocean south of and including Chesapeake Bay and the Gulf of Mexico, excepting the Mississippi River and its tributaries". ### PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS [1]

§ 204.80 Archer Creek, S. C.; United States Marine Corps Rifle Range, Parris Island. (a) The firing range, which constitutes a danger zone, is located on the west side of Parris Island, and west of the Marine Barracks on the Island, the direction of the firing being northwesterly across Ribbon Creek and Archer Creek.

(b) Firing over this range will normally take place between the hours of 6:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. on all days except Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

(c) When firing is in progress, patrol boats will be stationed at each end of Archer Creek to restrict the use of the creek for navigation and to notify boats desiring to pass through Archer Creek when such passage will be safe and permissible.

(d) These regulations will be enforced by the Commanding General, Marine Barracks, Parris Island, South Carolina, through such officers, enlisted men, and employees as may be designated, using such Government equipment as may be necessary. (Sec. 7, River and Harbor Act, Aug. 8, 1917, 40 Stat. 266; 33 U.S.C. 1) [Regs. Dec. 6, 1939 (E.D. 7195 (Archer Creek, S. C.) ¼]

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

CHAPTER I—GENERAL LAND OFFICE

REGULATIONS FOR THE SALE OF TOWN LOTS IN THE TOWNSITE OF ORO FINO, CALIFORNIA

1. Statutory authority. The lots in the townsite of Oro Fino, California, will be disposed of under Sections 2382 to 2386, Revised Statutes.

2. Survey and history. The survey of the townsite of Oro Fino, California, comprising the E½SW¼NE¼, E½SW¼SW¼NE¼ Section 18, T. 43 N., R. 9 W., M. D. M., California, was accepted on November 18, 1938. The SW¼NE¼ above Section 18 was formerly embraced in a patent which was canceled December 4, 1926, on the ground of fraud, and such land was withdrawn for townsite purposes by Executive Order No. 4590, dated February 18, 1927. Various portions of this tract were occupied and claimed for many years by a number of settlers and claimants as a part of an old mining district known as Oro Fino. In subdividing the townsite under the above survey, the claims were surveyed as separate tracts in conformity with the boundaries thereof as they were found to exist on the ground.

3. Acreage and price. The acreage and minimum price of the lots which will be sold, are as follows:

|---|---|
| Lot 11, 2.75 acres | $60 |
| Lot 12, 1.97 acres | 40 |
| Lot 13, 1.15 acres | 25 |
| Lot 14, 2.12 acres | 40 |
| Lot 15, 0.72 acres | 20 |
| Tract 43, 2.13 acres | 75 |
| Tract 44, 2.94 acres | 100 |
| Tract 45, 1.41 acres | 50 |
| Tract 46, 4.51 acres | 150 |
| Tract 47, 5.60 acres | 200 |

4. Preemption claims and qualifications. A preemption right of purchase at the minimum price, of not exceeding two of the subdivisions involved, is extended to actual residents and claimants, for a period of ninety days from the date hereof. In order to secure such right the claimant must file in the United States District Land Office at Sacramento, California, during such period, an application for such preemption right of purchase, setting forth therein the land claimed, the date of settlement, the value and character of the improvements, that he or she is 21 years of age or over, or the head of a family, and that he or she is a citizen of the United States or has declared intention to become such. To qualify as a preemption claimant for the lots or tracts at the minimum price, settlement must be shown at the time of the commencement in the field of the townsite survey above involved, and maintained to date of proof. A claim is not necessarily forfeited by the settler transferring his or her interest to another, subsequently to accrual of the right, but patent, if issued, will be in the name of the settler and not the transferee.

5. Publication notice. The notice of intention to make proof must be made on Form 4-348 and must be published at the applicant's expense in the Siskiyou News at Yreka, California, a newspaper that comes out on Mondays and Thursdays. The notice should be published in the Thursday issue of the above newspaper for five consecutive weeks. The form of such notice shall be furnished by the Register of the District Land Office and shall conform to that usually provided for in this type of case. Proof of publication of notice must be shown by the affidavit of the publisher.

6. Preemption proof. Preemption proof may be made before the above Register or before any officer duly authorized by law and must show by record or documentary evidence, where such evidence is usually required, and where not so required by the testimony of witnesses the following: (1) due publication of notice, (2) the applicant's age, (3) the applicant's citizenship, and (4) the applicant's actual residence upon one lot and substantial improvements on a second lot where two lots are included in the application. The proof must embrace the testimony of the applicant and of at least two of the advertised witnesses. As to proof of citizenship, the claimant, if native born, may make affidavit of such fact, and if naturalized, the claimant should submit a sworn statement giving the facts as to citizenship status, which statement should include the date of the alleged naturalization or declaration of intention, the title and location of the court in which instituted and when available, the number of the document in question, if the proceeding has been had since September 26, 1906. In addition, in cases of naturalization prior to September 27, 1906, there should be given the date and place of the claimant's birth and the foreign country of which he or she was a citizen or subject.

7. Purchase price. The purchase price for the lots or tracts must be paid to the Register when proof is made.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved, December 6, 1939.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 22, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

[Docket No. 3977]

IN THE MATTER OF CHAMPION SPARK PLUG COMPANY

COMPLAINT

The Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Champion Spark Plug Company, a corporation, is violating and since June 19, 1936, has violated the provisions of Section 2 of the Clayton Act as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act (U.S.C., Title 15, Sec. 13), and has been and is using unfair methods of competition and unfair acts and practices in commerce in violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (U.S.C., Title 15, Sec. 45), and it appearing to the Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be to the interest of the public, the Commission hereby issues its complaint, charging as follows:

I

Charging violation of subsection (a) of Section 2 of the Clayton Act, as amended, the Commission alleges:

PARAGRAPH 1. The respondent, Champion Spark Plug Company, is a corporation organized, existing and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware, with principal office and place of business located in Toledo, Ohio.

PAR. 2. Respondent is engaged chiefly in the business of manufacturing, distributing and selling spark plugs and spark plug parts for use in internal combustion gasoline engines. Respondent transports said products, or causes the same to be transported, for distribution and sale, from the places where such products are manufactured or stored to its customers and purchasers thereof located in other states of the United States and the District of Columbia; and there is and has been at all times herein mentioned a current of trade and commerce in said products manufactured and sold by respondent, between the states wherein respondent's factories and warehouses are located and various other states of the United States. Respondent's said products are sold by it for use, consumption or resale within the United States and the District of Columbia.

PAR. 3. Respondent distributes and sells spark plugs throughout the United States in the same territories and places as, and in substantial competition with, other persons and corporations engaged in the manufacture, distribution and sale of spark plugs. There are approximately sixty manufacturers of spark plugs in the United States, of whom respondent is one of the two largest in volume of plugs sold. More than ninety per cent of all spark plugs produced and sold in the United States during the past three years have been manufactured by respondent, A. C. Spark Plug Company, and Electric Auto-Lite Company. The business of the remaining spark plug manufacturers is relatively small.

PAR. 4. The principal market for spark plugs is found in the automotive industry. During 1936 respondent sold 18,000,000 spark plugs to automobile manufacturers for original equipment of automobiles, and 26,000,000 plugs through various channels for replacement of original equipment. Respondent supplies practically the entire original equipment requirements of the Ford Motor Company and respondent's plugs are also used for original equipment by Chrysler, Hudson, Studebaker, Packard, Nash, Graham-Paige, Willys-Overland, and other motor manufacturers.

Spark plugs for replacement of original equipment are sold by respondent to automobile manufacturers, wholesalers of automobile parts and accessories, mail order houses, and others. These customers of respondent, and many of their customers, are competitively engaged in the resale of spark plugs, at wholesale and retail, in the various territories and places where said customers, respectively, carry on their business. More spark plugs are sold in the United States for replacement than for original equipment. The life of a spark plug is normally shorter than the life of the engine in which it is used and spark plugs are usually replaced one or more times during the normal operating life of an automobile.

PAR. 5. In the course and conduct of its business as above described, respondent sells, and since June 19, 1936, has sold, its spark plugs for original equipment on the one hand and for resale for replacement on the other, at widely varying prices. Respondent sells its plugs to automobile manufacturers and others for original equipment at six cents per plug or less, while the prices charged by it to purchasers of plugs of like grade and quality who resell or use the same for replacement range from about twenty-three cents to thirty-one cents per plug. Respondent's average costs of manufacture, sale and delivery amount to more than six cents per plug. The ability of a spark plug or other automobile part manufacturer to sell his product in the replacement field depends very largely upon the extent to which his product is used for original equipment of automobiles. The adoption of such an article on a well known automobile has great advertising value, and it is the practice of automobile manufacturers to recommend to dealers and to car owners that in making replacements and repairs they use only parts of the same kind and manufacture as those with which the car was originally equipped. Demand for a particular spark plug in the replacement field, therefore, largely depends upon and is created by the adoption of that plug by motor manufacturers for original equipment. The effect of said discrimination in price by respondent between purchasers buying for original equipment and purchasers buying for resale or replacement is and may be substantially to lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly in the line of commerce in which respondent is engaged, and to injure, destroy and prevent competition with respondent in the manufacture, distribution and sale of spark plugs.

PAR. 6. In the course and conduct of its said business respondent sells its regular type spark plugs to Ford Motor Company at twenty-four cents each and to Chrysler Corporation at about twenty-three and one-half cents each, for resale. Plugs of the same grade and quality are sold by respondent to its distributors and jobbers at thirty-one cents each, distributors receiving a rebate of ten per cent. Both Ford Motor Company and Chrysler Corporation are engaged in competition with said distributors and jobbers in the resale of such plugs to automobile dealers, fleet owners and others. Ford and Chrysler dealers, respectively, are likewise engaged in competition with said distributors and jobbers and with their customers. Said automobile manufacturers have knowingly received the benefit of such lower prices. The effect of such discrimination in price between said automobile manufacturers, respectively, and said distributors and jobbers has been and may be to injure, destroy and prevent competition with said manufacturers and with their respective customers in the resale of Champion spark plugs.

PAR. 7. In the course and conduct of its said business respondent sells spark plugs directly to certain wholesalers of automotive supplies and equipment, which it classifies as "distributors" and "jobbers". Respondent's price to jobbers for regular Champion plugs is 31¢ per plug. Distributors receive a discount or rebate of 10 per cent from this price, making the net price to them 27.9¢ per plug. Jobbers are generally engaged in competition with the distributors in their territory in the sale of spark plugs and other automobile parts and accessories. The effect of such discrimination in price by respondent between distributors and jobbers has been and may be substantially to injure, destroy and prevent competition with said distributors to whom respondent grants the benefit of such discrimination.

II

Charging violation of subsection (d) of Section 2 of the Clayton Act, as amended, the Commission alleges:

PAR. 8. Paragraphs One to Four inclusive, of Charge I hereof are hereby repeated and made a part of this charge as fully and with the same effect as though here again set forth at length.

PAR. 9. In the course and conduct of its said business respondent has from year to year entered into contracts with certain wholesalers of spark plugs, classified by it as "distributors", some 375 of which contracts for the year 1939 are now in force, which contracts provide in part as follows:

"It is to be understood that this agreement has to do only with the special sales service to be rendered by us to promote the sale of Champion Spark Plugs in addition to the service customarily rendered by jobbers, without expressed or implied obligation to handle Champion Spark Plugs exclusively. All our purchases from you shall be made upon and subject to the terms, conditions, etc., stated in your 1939 Champion Jobbing Sales Policy, a copy of which has been delivered to us.

"In consideration of our complete cooperation in satisfactorily servicing Franchise accounts, sending you quarterly a record of their purchases, reporting to you dealers not handling Champions, requiring our salesmen to cooperate aggressively at all times in any Champion sales promotion activity, and distribution of such advertising matter as you may issue from time to time, all to your complete satisfaction for the full year of 1939, you are to pay us at the end of 1939, as special sales service compensation, ten per cent (10%) of your billing of Champion Spark Plugs and Cores to us, * * *:

* * * * *

"It is understood that you will advance the ten per cent (10%) special compensation to us quarterly, if up to the time of such advancement, we have kept this agreement to your complete satisfaction, * * *."

Pursuant to the terms of such contracts respondent has paid and is engaged in the practice of paying to said distributors, quarterly, ten per cent of the billing price of Champion spark plugs and cores purchased by said distributors, respectively, during the preceding quarter, as compensation and in consideration for "special sales service" furnished by said distributors, as mentioned in said contracts, in connection with the handling, sale and offering for sale of Champion spark plugs and cores. Said distributors are engaged in competition in the resale of Champion spark plugs and cores with other wholesalers, classified as "jobbers", purchasing such products from respondent. The payments made to distributors, as above described, are not available on proportionally equal terms to customers of respondent, other than said distributors, competing with them in the distribution of Champion spark plugs and cores.

III

Charging violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Commission alleges:

PAR. 10. Paragraphs One to Five, inclusive, of charge I hereof are hereby repeated and made a part of this charge as fully and with the same effect as though here again set forth at length.

PAR. 11. In addition to the wholesalers, classified as "distributors" and "jobbers", to whom respondent sells its products directly, respondent also negotiates and enters into various agreements, known as "franchises", with numerous other wholesalers, retailers and consumers of said products, located throughout the United States, to whom said products are supplied through distributors and jobbers. The "Champion Wholesale Franchise" contains the following language:

"We hereby order from the first named Supplier listed below, as a new account, 1,000 Champion Spark Plugs, or, as a renewal account, sufficient Champion Spark Plugs to bring our stock up to 1,000 Champion Spark Plugs (assorted as indicated on this order) and request you to give your approval of a franchise to us upon our agreement to carry a minimum stock of 1,000 Champion Spark Plugs during the year 1939. We estimate our 1939 requirements at 10,000 or more plugs, and understand that prices and terms of payment are subject to change without notice.

"* * * the franchise to us may be withdrawn in case we do not market Champion Spark Plugs to your full and complete satisfaction.

"A contract with us will be completed when this order is accepted by the Supplier, * * *."

The price quoted in said "wholesale franchise" for regular Champion spark plugs is thirty-two and one-half cents, subject to change without notice. The "supplier" (distributor or jobber) from whom purchases are to be made by the franchise holder is named in the franchise.

The "Champion Merchandising Franchise" is in the same form, the dealer agreeing to carry a minimum stock of 500 Champion plugs and estimating his annual requirements at 5,000 or more plugs. The price quoted is thirty-four cents for regular plugs. In the "Champion Service Franchise", also in the same form, the dealer agrees to carry a minimum stock of 250 Champion plugs and estimates his annual requirements at 1,000 or more plugs. The price quoted for regular plugs is thirty-seven cents. Respondent also enters into three types of "commercial franchise" agreements with fleet owners and other large consumers of spark plugs. These franchises, like the dealer franchises, quote "special prices" of thirty-two and one-half, thirty-four and thirty-seven cents, respectively, "in consideration of your purchasing Champion Spark Plugs for your requirements."

PAR. 12. The "Champion Jobbing Sales Policy," issued to all Champion distributors and jobbers, contains the following:

Suggested Resale Price to Dealers and Fleet Accounts

I. PRICES

| | Your price | 10 or more | Less than 10 | List |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Champion Plugs, All Regular Types [1] | $0.31 | $0.41 | $0.45 | $0.65 |

[1] Each.

Prices are similarly quoted and suggested for other types of plugs. The "suggested" price to dealers and fleet owners purchasing regular plugs in lots of ten or more, not holding any of the above described franchises, is forty-one cents per plug.

The great majority of resales of Champion spark plugs at wholesale to franchise holders and other dealers are made by respondent's 375 distributors. The "Champion Distributor's Agreement", referred to in Paragraph Nine hereof and entered into by respondent with each of said distributors, provides that all purchases by the distributor shall be made subject to the terms and conditions of the "Jobbing Sales Policy", and that respondent shall pay to the distributor ten per cent of the billing price of plugs purchased during the year, but only on condition:

"(a) That we have made no sales, exchanges or shipments directly or indirectly to any accounts (dealers, wholesale house, export house, catalog house, purchasing agency, or others) except those we sell as regular dealers at dealers' prices in the territory regularly covered by our salesmen, unless or until such account has been approved for a Franchise by you, and/or we have your written approval to service them."

In order to receive and remain eligible for payment of the ten per cent "special service compensation" provided in said agreements, distributors are required thereby to sell Champion plugs to dealers not holding franchises at not less than forty-one cents per plug, and they may sell at the lower prices quoted in the above described franchises only to dealers holding such franchises approved by respondent, or otherwise with the written approval of respondent.

PAR. 13. As described in Paragraph Eleven hereof, differing prices, ranging from thirty-two and one-half cents per plug to thirty-seven cents per plug, are quoted by respondent in the various franchise agreements entered into by it with certain dealers in spark plugs. All of these prices are lower than the price of forty-one cents listed by respondent as the price to dealers not holding such franchises. In each case the "special price" quoted in the franchise is given upon the condition and agreement that the dealer will carry a minimum stock of Champion plugs, and in each case the dealer is required to estimate his probable annual purchases of Champion plugs at (for a wholesale or merchandising franchise) ten times the amount of the stock requirements. Such special price may be withdrawn by respondent at any time if the franchise holder fails to carry the required stock or purchase the estimated amount of Champion plugs. The payment by respondent of the ten per cent "special service compensation" to distributors is, by agreement, conditioned upon the distributor's "volume increase" having been "completely satisfactory" to respondent, and orders from distributors and jobbers are accepted by respondent upon condition that such orders or the unfilled portion thereof may be cancelled by respondent "should you fail to purchase and sell a satisfactory quantity of Champion Spark Plugs, or should your volume of Champion Spark Plug sales fail to reach the proportion of your total spark plug business that is satisfactory to us". The tendency and effect of said agreements and conditions is to induce the holders thereof to deal in Champion spark plugs exclusively and to prevent them from dealing in the plugs of respondent's competitors, to the extent of the stock requirements and turnover specified in said agreements. By negotiating such agreements and requiring its distributors to adhere thereto, respondent closes to its competitors a substantial number of actual and potential outlets for the distribution and sale of spark plugs.

PAR. 14. By the acts and practices above described respondent has agreed with and compelled its distributors to maintain the various prices fixed by respondent for the resale of its said products, in restraint of trade and commerce between the several states and in the District of Columbia; has obstructed, hampered and interfered with the normal and natural flow of trade and commerce in spark plugs and spark plug parts; has hindered and lessened competition in the distribution and sale of such products; and has injured its competitors by unfairly diverting business and trade from them and depriving them thereof; all to the prejudice and injury of the public.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 16th day of December, A. D. 1939, issues this its complaint against said respondent.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, Champion Spark Plug Company, respondent herein, that the 19th day of January, A. D., 1940, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule VII) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true, and if in the judgment of the Commission such facts admitted constitute a violation of law or laws as charged in the complaint, to make and serve findings as to the facts and an order to cease and desist from such violations. Upon application in writing made contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent, in the discretion of the Commission, may be heard on brief, in oral argument, or both, solely on the question as to whether the facts so admitted constitute the violation or violations of law charged in the complaint.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of December, A. D. 1939.

By the Commission.

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF W. R. YOUNG, AN INDIVIDUAL, DOING BUSINESS UNDER THE NAME AND STYLE OF NATIONAL EMPLOYEES TRAINING SERVICE

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard [1] by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, testimony and other evidence taken before William C. Reeves, an examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, in support of the allegations of said complaint, brief filed on behalf of the Commission, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That W. R. Young, an individual doing business under the name and style of National Employees Training Service, his representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of courses of home study instruction designed for the preparation for civil service examinations, do forthwith cease and desist from representing:

(1) Through the use of the word "National" or any similar word or words in the trade name, advertising literature, or in any other manner, that he has any connection with or is an agency of the United States Government or the United States Civil Service Commission;

(2) That his business has been in existence for many years;

(3) That the enrollment of students is limited by a definite quota, or that only a small number of students are accepted in any given territory, or that only persons with high scholastic attainments are accepted by respondent as prospective students for said course of instruction;

(4) That civil service positions in the United States Government are guaranteed to students who have completed respondent's course of instruction;

(5) That the price of tuition will be refunded if respondent fails to secure positions for students who have completed the course of instruction unless and until such refunds are in fact made in accordance with respondent's agreement;

(6) That respondent has any advance information with respect to available positions in the civil service, which information cannot be secured from the United States Civil Service Commission, or that respondent has any additional or confidential information with respect to such positions which is not available to the public;

(7) That respondent has any control of positions available in the civil service or that respondent's students are preferred by the United States Civil Service Commission over other students who have not taken respondent's course of instruction.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

(Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by Sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., Supp. IV, sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Sales Stimulators, etc., Docket 3873, December 9, 1939]

United States of America—Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1939.

Commissioners: Robert E. Freer, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Charles

H. March, Ewin L. Davis, William A. Ayres.

IN THE MATTER OF BEN BRAUDE, AN INDIVIDUAL, TRADING AS SALES STIMULATORS, AND GLOBE CLOCK COMPANY

ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission and the answer of the respondent, in which answer respondent admits all the material allegations of fact set forth in said complaint except a portion of the allegations of Paragraph Seven of said complaint, with respect to which no order is made herein, and states that he waives all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act;

It is ordered, That respondent Ben Braude, his representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of any sales stimulator plan, or any merchandise for use in connection therewith, in commerce, as commerce is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing any specified sum of money as possible earnings or profits of agents, salesmen, representatives or distributors, which is not a true representation of the average net earnings or profits consistently made by his active full-time agents, salesmen, representatives or distributors in the ordinary course of business under normal conditions and circumstances;

2. Representing any specified sum of money as earnings or profits of any specified agent, salesman, representative or distributor for any given period of time which has not in fact been consistently earned net by such agent, salesman, representative or distributor in the ordinary course of business under normal conditions and circumstances;

3. Representing as the customary or regular prices or values for premiums used by respondent in connection with any sales stimulator plan, prices or values which are in fact fictitious and substantially in excess of the actual prices or values of such premiums.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty days after the service upon him of this order file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 35—PANAMA CANAL

CHAPTER I—CANAL ZONE REGULATIONS[1]

PART 4—OPERATION AND NAVIGATION OF PANAMA CANAL AND ADJACENT WATERS

1. Section 4.20[2] of Title 35, Code of Federal Regulations, prescribing the documents required to be delivered to the boarding party, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following clause:

"(s) Information cards for disembarking passengers, as provided in Regulation 12.3."

(Ex. Order 4314, Sept. 25, 1925, rules 9, 12) [Reg. Gov., Aug. 1, 1931, reg. 12.1; Sept. 9, 1939; December 1, 1939]

2. Section 4.20 b of Title 35 is hereby added, reading as follows:

"§ 4.20 b Information cards for disembarking passengers. One copy of an information card (Panama Canal form) is required for each passenger proposing to disembark at a Canal Zone port, except that no such card is required for a Panamanian citizen, United States Government employee, cruise passenger, official of the United States or of a foreign government (including diplomatic and consular service), a member of the family of any of the foregoing, or a Chinese. This card shall be filled in on the typewriter before arrival at the Canal, shall be signed by the passenger in the presence of the quarantine boarding officer and be presented to that officer." (Ex. Order 4314, Sept. 25, 1925, rules 9, 12) [Reg. Gov., Aug. 1, 1931, reg. 12.3; Dec. 1, 1939]

3. The regulations amended and added, as aforesaid, shall be effective as to all vessels arriving in the Canal Zone on or after January 1, 1940.

[Docket No 486-FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF NORFOLK & WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY FOR RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

ORDER AMENDING ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

The Norfolk & Western Railway Company having filed an application for renewal of the exemption granted on August 31, 1938; and

The Director having by order on September 2, 1939, granted the Norfolk & Western Railway Company a renewal of its exemption;

It is ordered, That the order of September 2, 1939, beginning with paragraph numbered 2, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

2. Unless Applicant, on or before April 2, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending March 2, 1940, containing the following information, which the Director hereby finds necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the Applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mine;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the Applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal was consumed; and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced on the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That the Director at any time, upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person, may direct the Applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the order of August 31, 1938, should not be terminated. Any person filing such a petition shall serve a copy thereof upon the Applicant herein.

Dated, December 21, 1939.

REMOVING SUSPENSION OF TITLE II OF THE SUGAR ACT OF 1937

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS section 509 of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides, in part:

"Whenever the President finds and proclaims that a national economic or other emergency exists with respect to sugar or liquid sugar, he shall by proclamation suspend the operation of title II or III above, which he determines, on the basis of such findings, should be suspended, and, thereafter, the operation of any such title shall continue in suspense until the President finds and proclaims that the facts which occasioned such suspension no longer exist. * * *"; and

WHEREAS by proclamation issued September 11, 1939,[1] I found and proclaimed that a national economic emergency existed with respect to sugar and suspended the operation of title II of that Act:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the foregoing provision of the Sugar Act of 1937, do hereby find and proclaim that the facts which occasioned such suspension no longer exist and do by this proclamation remove the suspension of the operation of title II of that Act with respect to the calendar year 1940.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 26th day of December in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] thirty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fourth.

CHAPTER V—FEDERAL SURPLUS COMMODITIES CORPORATION

AMENDMENT TO (1) REGULATIONS AND CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE ISSUANCE OF FOOD ORDER STAMPS, ESTABLISHING THE ELIGIBILITY OF THE HOLDERS THEREOF TO RECEIVE AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES OR THE PRODUCTS THEREOF AND PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF CLAIMS MADE BY RETAILERS OF SUCH COMMODITIES OR PRODUCTS, AS AMENDED, AND (2) REGULATIONS AND CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE ISSUANCE OF FOOD ORDER STAMPS TO PERSONS IN LOW INCOME GROUPS IN SHAWNEE, OKLAHOMA, ESTABLISHING THE ELIGIBILITY OF THE HOLDERS THEREOF TO RECEIVE AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES OR THE PRODUCTS THEREOF, AND PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF CLAIMS MADE BY RETAILERS OF SUCH COMMODITIES AND PRODUCTS

"Regulations and Conditions Governing the Issuance of Food Order Stamps, and Conditions Governing the Issuance of Food Order Stamps to Persons in Low Income Groups in Shawnee, Oklahoma, Establishing the Eligibility of the Holders Thereof to Receive Agricultural Commodities or the Products Thereof and Providing for the Payment of Claims Made by Retailers of Such Commodities and Products" made and prescribed by the Acting Secretary of Agriculture on October 14, 1939,[1] are hereby amended by inserting as section 208 of the former and section 307 of the latter the following:

"Violations of conditions. Whenever the President or the Acting President of the Corporation shall determine that any person has violated, or is violating, the conditions herein contained, or any amendment thereto, he may issue an order denying to such person, indefinitely or for such period as he may determine, the privilege of further participation in any matter or respect concerning orange colored or blue colored surplus food order stamps or the food distribution plan based thereon. For this purpose the President or the Acting President of the Corporation may adopt and promulgate, and from time to time modify or amend, such practice and procedure as he may deem necessary, not inconsistent with the provisions of these regulations and conditions. The President or the Acting President of the Corporation may suspend alleged violators from the privilege referred to above at any time prior to or pending final determination as provided above; and may, as to the issuance of any order denying participation or as to any suspension as provided herein, take such action as to any such order or suspension which shall to him seem reasonably designed to make effective the terms thereof."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto, in the City of Washington, this 26th day of December, 1939.

RELATING TO THE MANNER IN WHICH INVOLUNTARY REPURCHASES OF FEDERAL INVESTMENTS WILL BE HANDLED

Be it resolved, That Section 203.8 of the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System is amended, effective December 22, 1939, by adding at the end thereof the following new subsections:

"(e) Retirement of investments upon request by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. The basis for computing the amount of repurchases which the Secretary of the Treasury or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation may at any time request shall be the original amount of separate investments made five years or more prior to the date of each such request, and the original amount of each such separate investment shall be included in the said basis until such time as the investment would have been fully retired had separate requests been made for the retirement of the investment and had the repurchases been applied accordingly. Repurchases shall be applied toward the retirement of the investment first made by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and not previously retired.

"(f) Return of receipt, certificate or other evidence of investment. The receipt, certificate or other evidence of investment by the Secretary of the Treasury or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation will be returned upon repurchase of the investment in full; partial repurchases will be evidenced by appropriate endorsement on the receipt, certificate or other evidence of investment, which shall to him seem reasonably designed to make effective the terms thereof." (Sec. 5 (a) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, 48 Stat. 132, Sec. 5 (j) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, as added by Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 645, Sec. 4 (n) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, as added by Sec. 17 (a), 49 Stat. 297; 12 U.S.C. 1464 (a), (j), 12 U.S.C., Sup. 1463 (n))

Be it further resolved, That this amendment is deemed to be of an emergency character within the provisions of subsection (c) of Section 201.2 of the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on December 22, 1939.

Return of Receipt, Certificate or Other Evidence of Investment

Section 401.58 is amended by the addition of the following new subsections (Effective December 22, 1939):

"(c) Retirement of investments upon request by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. The basis for computing the amount of repurchases which the Home Owners' Loan Corporation may at any time request shall be the original amount of separate investments made five years or more prior to the date of each such request, and the original amount of each such separate investment shall be included in the said basis until such time as the investment would have been fully retired had separate requests been made for the retirement of the investment and had the repurchases been applied accordingly. Repurchases shall be applied toward the retirement of the investment first made by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and not previously retired.

"(d) Return of receipt, certificate or other evidence of investment. The receipt, certificate or other evidence of investment by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation will be returned upon repurchase of the investment in full; partial repurchases will be evidenced by appropriate endorsement on the receipt, certificate or other evidence of the investment, provided that a new certificate shall be issued for the unretired portion of each investment which is a creditor obligation." (Sec. 4 (k) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, 48 Stat. 132, Sec. 4 (n) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, as added by Sec. 17 (a), 49 Stat. 297; Sec. 5 (j) of H.O.L.A. of 1933, as added by Sec. 5, 48 Stat. 645; 12 U.S.C. 1463 (k), 1464 (j), 12 U.S.C., Sup., 1463 (n))

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on December 22, 1939.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF MARINE INSPECTION AND NAVIGATION

[Order No. 10]

SUBCHAPTER A—DOCUMENTATION, ENTRY AND CLEARANCE OF VESSELS, ETC.

DECEMBER 22, 1939.

Section 1.23 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.23 Evidence of citizenship of owners and officers. In addition to the oaths of citizenship specified, a collector of customs may require the production of such further evidence as may be necessary to satisfy him that the person is a citizen of the United States and the proper notation of the evidence produced should be made on the papers retained in the collector's office, such as the number, date and office of issue of an officer's license or a seaman's passport or a citizen's passport, or the same data as to birth certificate or a naturalization certificate, or a continuous discharge book, or certificate of identification, etc. Acceptable evidence of citizenship is described below in the order of its desirability:

(1) Birth certificate or certified copy.
(2) Naturalized citizens must present a Certificate of Naturalization.
(3) Baptismal certificate or Parish record recorded within one year after birth.
(4) Statement of a practicing physician certifying that he attended the birth and that he has a record in his possession showing date on which it occurred.
(5) State Department Passport.
(6) A commission in the United States Army, Reserve Corps, Navy, Naval Reserve, or Coast Guard.
(7) A license as master, mate, or engineer or pilot issued by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation when such license shows on the back thereof that satisfactory evidence of citizenship has been submitted.
(8) A continuous discharge book or certificate of identification issued by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation which shows that the holder is an American citizen, if records of Bureau indicate that he presented satisfactory proof of citizenship.
(9) Seaman's protection certificate, if records of issuing officer indicate that holder presented satisfactory proof of citizenship.
(10) If no one of the foregoing requirements can be met by the applicant, he should make a statement to that effect, and in an attempt to establish citizenship, he may submit for consideration data of the following character:

(1) Report of the Census Bureau showing the earliest record of age or birth available. Request for such information should be addressed to the Director of the Census, Washington, D. C. In making such request, definite information must be furnished the Census Bureau as to the place when the first census was taken after the birth of the applicant, giving the name of the street and number of the house, or the names of the cross streets between which the house was located if residing in a city; or the name of the town, township, precinct, magisterial district, militia district, beat or election district, if residing in the country; also the names of parents, or the names of other persons with whom residing on the dates specified.

[Docket No. 34–FD]

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF PENNSYLVANIA ELECTRIC COMPANY FOR RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

ORDER GRANTING RENEWAL OF EXEMPTION

Pennsylvania Electric Company, Applicant herein, having on June 14, 1937, filed with the National Bituminous Coal Commission a verified application for exemption with respect to certain bituminous coal produced and consumed by the Applicant, or produced and transported by the Applicant to itself for consumption by it in the business of producing electrical energy and heat for sale and distribution to the public; and

The Commission having, on August 31, 1938, entered an order pursuant to such application in Docket No. 34–FD ordering that the provisions of Section 4, Part II, (1) do apply to the bituminous coal produced by Applicant at its mines located in Clearfield, Somerset, Center and Indiana Counties, Pennsylvania, and consumed by it in the business of producing electrical energy and heat in its plant at Johnstown, Pennsylvania, for sale and distribution to the public, and that such coal shall not be deemed subject to the provisions of Section 4 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, and further ordering the Applicant to apply annually thereafter, and at such other times as the Commission may require for renewal of said order, and to file such accompanying reports as will enable the Commission to determine whether the facts as found in said order continue to exist; and

Applicant having on October 14, 1939, filed with the Bituminous Coal Division a verified application for renewal of said order, which application contains a statement of the quantities of coal produced by Applicant for the year preceding the date of filing its application for renewal at its mines located in Clearfield, Somerset, Center and Indiana Counties, Pennsylvania, and consumed by Applicant in its business of producing electrical energy and heat in its plant at Johnstown, Pennsylvania, for sale and distribution to the public, and which application also contains a statement that the facts set forth in the application dated June 14, 1937, remain true and correct; and

The Director having determined that the conditions supporting the exemption granted by the order dated August 31, 1938, continue to exist;

It is ordered, That the application filed by the Applicant for renewal of said order dated August 31, 1938, be and the same is hereby granted;

Provided, however, That the said order dated August 31, 1938, and the exemption granted thereby, shall automatically terminate and expire:

1. Unless the Applicant on or before November 22, 1940, files an application for renewal of said order;

2. Unless the Applicant, on or before July 22, 1940, files with the Director a verified report for the six month period ending June 22, 1940, containing the following information which the Director hereby finds necessary and appropriate to enable him to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption granted to the Applicant continue to exist:

(a) The full name and business address of the Applicant, and the name and location of the mine covered by this application;

(b) The total tonnage of bituminous coal produced by Applicant during the preceding six months at such mine;

(c) The total tonnage of such production which was consumed by Applicant and the nature and purpose of such consumption;

3. Unless the Applicant shall immediately notify the Director upon:

(a) Any change in the ownership of the mines from which the coal in question was produced or in the ownership of the plants or factories or other facilities at which the coal was consumed; and

(b) Any change in the agency or instrumentality through which the coal is being produced on the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That the Director, at any time upon his own motion or upon the petition of any interested person, may direct the Applicant to show cause why the exemption granted by the order of August 31, 1938, should not be terminated. Any person filing such a petition shall serve a copy thereof upon the Applicant herein.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 7 FOR THE KNITTED OUTERWEAR INDUSTRY

Whereas the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 on September 18, 1939, by Administrative Order No. 29,[1] appointed Industry Committee No. 7 for the Knitted Outerwear Industry, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas Industry Committee No. 7, on October 26, 1939, recommended a minimum wage rate for the Knitted Outerwear Industry and duly adopted a report containing said recommendation and reasons therefor and has filed such report with the Administrator on October 27, 1939, pursuant to Section 8 (d) of the Act and Section 511.19 of the Regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas, the Administrator is required by Section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing before him, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendation;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7 is as follows:

Thirty-five cents (35¢) per hour shall be the minimum wage rate to be paid all employees in the Knitted Outerwear Industry defined by Administrative Order No. 29 dated September 18, 1939, as follows:

The knitting from any yarn or mixture of yarns and the further manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing of knitted garments, knitted garment sections or knitted garment accessories for use as external apparel or covering which are partially or completely manufactured in the same establishment as that where the knitting process is performed; provided that the manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing of the following shall not be included:

(a) Knitted fabric, as distinguished from garment sections or garments, for sale as such.

(b) Fulled suitings, coatings, topcoatings, and overcoatings.

(c) Garments or garment accessories made from purchased fabric.

(d) Gloves or mittens.

(e) Hosiery.

(f) Knitted garments or garment accessories for use as underwear, sleeping wear, or negligees.

(g) Fleece-lined garments made from knitted fabric containing cotton only or containing any mixture of cotton and not more than 25 percent, by weight, of wool or animal fiber other than silk.

(h) Knitted shirts of cotton or any synthetic fiber or any mixture of such fibers which have been knit on machinery of 10-cut or finer; provided that this exception shall not be construed to exclude from the knitted outerwear industry the manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing of knitted shirts made in the same establishment as that where the knitting process is performed, if such shirts are made wholly or in part of fibers other than those specified in this clause, or if such shirts of any fiber are knit on machinery coarser than 10-cut.

II. The full text of the report and recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7 is available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

Copies of the Committee's report and recommendation may be obtained by any person upon request addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

III. A public hearing for the purpose of taking evidence on the question of whether the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7 shall be approved or disapproved pursuant to Section 8 of the Act will be held on January 22, 1940, at 10:00 a. m. in the Raleigh Hotel, Washington, D. C., before a presiding officer to be designated prior to such hearing by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor.

IV. Any interested person, supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7, may appear at the aforesaid hearing to offer evidence, either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person; provided, that not later than January 18, 1940, such person shall file with the Administrator at Washington, D. C., a notice of his intent to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.
2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.
3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 7.
4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

V. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the presiding officer as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request made to the official reporter.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure, each person filing a Notice to Appear will be notified, if practicable, of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the presiding officer.

3. At the discretion of the presiding officer the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place, by announcement thereof at the hearing by the presiding officer, or by other appropriate notice.

4. The Industry Committee will be represented at the hearing by its counsel who will open and close the proceeding.

5. At any stage of the hearing, the presiding officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the presiding officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such further taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

6. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

7. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the presiding officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

8. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the presiding officer. Where evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the presiding officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence. Upon presentation of such copies in proper form the copies will be received in evidence.

9. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of documents from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such applications shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

10. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

11. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

12. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person in so far as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the presiding officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reason for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but the record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the presiding officer.

13. Before the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall receive written requests from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. These requests will be forwarded to the Administrator by the presiding officer with the record of the proceedings. If the Administrator in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceeding, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

14. Briefs may be submitted to the Administrator, following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs and the rules and regulations as to the contents and manner of presentation thereof, shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

15. On the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Administrator. The presiding officer shall not file an intermediate report unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed, it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

16. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26 day of December 1939.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATION OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 8 FOR THE KNITTED UNDERWEAR AND COMMERCIAL KNITTING INDUSTRY

Whereas the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to Section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, on September 18, 1939, by Administrative Order No. 30,[1] appointed Industry Committee No. 8 for the Knitted Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas Industry Committee No. 8, on November 1, 1939, recommended a minimum wage rate for the Knitted Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry and duly adopted a report containing said recommendation and reasons therefor and has filed such report with the Administrator on November 2, 1939, pursuant to Section 8 (d) of the Act and Section 511.19 of the Regulations issued under the Act; and

[1] 4 F.R. 4017 DI.

[1] 4 F.R. 4018 DI.

Whereas the Administrator is required by Section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 8 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing before him, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendations;

Now therefore notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 8 is as follows:

Wages at a rate of not less than 33½ cents an hour shall be paid under Section 6 of the Act by every employer to each of his employees in the Knitted Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

II. The definition of the Knitted Underwear and Commercial Knitting Industry, as set forth in Administrative Order No. 30, issued September 18, 1939, is as follows:

a. The manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing of any knitted fabric made from any yarn or mixture of yarns, except:

1. The knitting from any yarn or mixture of yarns and the further manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing of knitted garments, knitted garment sections or knitted garment accessories for use as external apparel or covering which are partially or completely manufactured in the same establishment as that where the knitting process is performed: (Provided, That this exception shall not be construed to apply to the garments or garment accessories designated in clause (b) of this definition.

2. Fulled suitings, coatings, topcoatings, or overcoatings containing more than 25 percent, by weight, of wool or animal fiber other than silk.

3. Hosiery.

b. The manufacturing, dyeing or other finishing, from any yarn or mixture of yarns, or from purchased knitted fabric, of any of the following products:

1. Knitted garments or garment accessories for use as underwear, sleeping wear, or negligees.

2. Fleece-lined garments made from knitted fabric containing cotton only or containing any mixture of cotton and not more than 25 percent, by weight, of wool or animal fiber other than silk.

3. Knitted shirts of cotton or any synthetic fiber or any mixture of such fibers which have been knit on machinery of 10-cut or finer in the same establishment as that where the knitting process is performed.

4. Knitted towels or cloths.

III. The full text of the report and recommendation of Industry Committee No. 8 is available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.

3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 8.

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

VI. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the presiding officer as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request made to the official reporter.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure, each person filing a Notice to Appear will be notified, if practicable, of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the presiding officer.

3. At the discretion of the presiding officer the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place, by announcement thereof at the hearing by the presiding officer, or by other appropriate notice.

4. The Industry Committee will be represented at the hearing by its counsel who will open and close the proceeding.

5. At any stage of the hearing, the presiding officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the presiding officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such further taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

6. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

7. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the presiding officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

8. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the presiding officer. Where evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the presiding officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence. Upon presentation of such copies in proper form the copies will be received in evidence.

9. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of documents from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such applications shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

10. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

11. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

12. The presiding officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person in so far as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the presiding officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but the record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the presiding officer.

13. Before the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall receive written requests from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. These requests will be forwarded to the Administrator by the presiding officer with the record of the proceedings. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceedings, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

14. Briefs may be submitted to the Administrator, following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs and the rules and regulations as to the contents and manner of presentation thereof, shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

15. On the close of the hearing the presiding officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Administrator. The presiding officer shall not file an intermediate report unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed, it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

16. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26 day of December 1939.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF A SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued to the employers listed below effective December 27, 1939, until April 23, 1940, unless otherwise indicated, subject to the following terms and limited to the number of learners indicated opposite the employer's name:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employer that (a) experienced stitching machine operators are not available and (b) that he is actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment.

(4) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

(5) These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (b) of the Regulations, Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice, the Administrator will receive detailed written objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b). Such Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such Certificate must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 27, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File No. 31-360]

IN THE MATTER OF AMERICAN & FOREIGN POWER COMPANY INC.

EXEMPTION ORDER

American & Foreign Power Company Inc., having filed an application, and amendments thereto, pursuant to the provisions of Section 3 (a) (5) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for an order exempting it and all companies directly or indirectly subsidiary to it, which are or may be holding companies as defined in Section 2 (a) (7) of said Act, as holding companies, and pursuant to Section 3 (b) for an order exempting it and all companies directly or indirectly subsidiary to it from certain provisions of said Act which may be applicable to them as subsidiary companies of Electric Bond and Share Company, a registered holding company;

A public hearing having been held after appropriate notice[1] and the Commission having considered the record in this matter and having made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

It is ordered, That American & Foreign Power Company Inc. be, and it hereby is, exempted, as such, to the extent hereinafter specified, from certain provisions of the Act applicable to it because of its directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, ten per centum or more of the outstanding voting securities of any public-utility company, as follows:

[1] 4 F.R. 4057 DI.

(a) Sections 5 (b) and 5 (c) of the Act;

(b) Section 6 of the Act, but only with respect to—

(1) The issue of its common stock pursuant to the provisions of its presently outstanding option warrants;

(2) The guaranty of any security issued by any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc. to finance the acquisition of tangible personal property, machinery or equipment or to facilitate or obtain funds for the transfer of exchange from countries where any such subsidiary operates or has funds; and

(3) The sale or offering for sale or causing to be sold or offered for sale from house to house without the United States, or causing an officer or any employe of any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc. to sell or cause to be sold, without the United States, securities of Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(c) Section 9 of the Act, except with respect to the acquisition of any utility assets located within the United States or to the acquisition of any interest in the business of, or securities issued or guaranteed by, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns or controls utility assets located within the United States;

(d) Subsection (a) of Section 12 of the Act;

(e) Subsection (b) of Section 12 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States, except that this exemption shall not apply to extensions of credit to or indemnifications of associate companies other than those directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(f) Subsection (c) of Section 12 of the Act, but only with respect to the acquisition, retirement or redemption of its Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7) and Option Warrants in accordance with the provisions of such Option Warrants presently outstanding;

(g) Subsection (d) of Section 12 of the Act, but only with respect to the sale of any security of a public-utility company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States and to the sale of any utility assets not located within the United States;

(h) Subsection (g) of Section 11 and Subsection (e) of Section 12 of the Act, but only in connection with any solicitation regarding any securities of American & Foreign Power Company Inc. held outside the United States at the time of any such solicitation and not made in connection with a reorganization of said company;

(i) Subsection (f) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to the provisions of Rule U–12F–2 and to such future rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of such subsection as shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States;

(j) Subdivision (2) of Subsection (h) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to contributions to or in support of any political party within the United States or any committee or agency thereof;

(k) Section 13 of the Act, except with respect to the performing of services or construction work for, or the sale of goods to, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns or controls utility assets located within the United States;

(l) Section 14 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States; and

(m) Section 15 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States.

It is further ordered, That all companies which are or may be directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc., which are or may be holding companies as defined in Section 2 (a) (7) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, be, and they hereby are, exempted, as such, from all those provisions of said Act which would require them to register thereunder because of their directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, ten per centum or more of the outstanding voting securities of any public-utility company, or of any company which is a holding company by virtue of such ownership, control or holding, which does not own or operate properties within the United States, used for the generation, transmission, or distribution of electric energy for sale, or for the distribution at retail of natural or manufactured gas.

It is further ordered, That American & Foreign Power Company Inc., a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, a registered holding company, be, and it hereby is, exempted, as such, to the extent hereinafter specified, from certain provisions of the Act applicable to it as a subsidiary company of Electric Bond and Share Company, as follows:

(a) Section 6 of the Act, but only with respect to—

(1) The issue of its common stock pursuant to the provisions of its presently outstanding option warrants;

(2) The guaranty of any security issued by any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc. to finance the acquisition of tangible personal property, machinery or equipment or to facilitate or obtain funds for the transfer of exchange from countries where any such subsidiary operates or has funds; and

(3) The sale or offering for sale or causing to be sold or offered for sale from house to house without the United States, or causing an officer or any employe of any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc. to sell or cause to be sold, without the United States, securities of Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(b) Section 9 of the Act, except with respect to the acquisition of any utility assets located within the United States or to the acquisition of any interest in the business of, or securities issued or guaranteed by, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns or controls utility assets located within the United States;

(c) Subsection (b) of Section 12 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States, except that this exemption shall not apply to extensions of credit to or indemnifications of associate companies other than those directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(d) Subsection (c) of Section 12 of the Act, but only with respect to the acquisition, retirement' or redemption of its Second Preferred Stock, Series A ($7) and Option Warrants in accordance with the provisions of such Option Warrants presently outstanding;

(e) Subsection (g) of Section 11 and Subsection (e) of Section 12 of the Act, but only in connection with any solicitation regarding any securities of American & Foreign Power Company Inc. held outside the United States at the time of any such solicitation and not made in connection with a reorganization of said company;

(f) Subsection (f) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to the provisions of Rule U–12F–2 and to such future rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of such subsection as shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States;

(g) Subdivision (2) of Subsection (h) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to contributions to or in support of any political party within the United States or any committee or agency thereof;

(h) Section 13 of the Act, except with respect to the performing of services or construction work for, or the sale of goods to, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns or controls utility assets located within the United States; and

(i) Section 15 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States;

It is further ordered, That all companies which are or may be, directly or indirectly, subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc. be, and they hereby are, exempted, as such, to the extent hereinafter specified, from certain provisions of the Act applicable to them as subsidiary companies of Electric Bond and Share Company, a registered holding company, and American & Foreign Power Company Inc., as follows:

(a) Section 6 of the Act, Provided, however, That this exemption shall not apply to—

(1) The issue and sale of any security within the United States, except (i) the issue and sale of any security to American & Foreign Power Company Inc. or to any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to it; or (ii) the exchange of any security, whether alone or together with other consideration, for any presently outstanding security (or for any security exchanged therefor directly or indirectly under the exemption contained in any subdivision of this paragraph (a)) of any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc.; or (iii) the issue and sale of any security issued to finance the acquisition of tangible personal property, machinery or equipment or to facilitate or obtain funds for the transfer of exchange from countries where any such subsidiary operates or has funds, or of any guaranty of any such security by a direct or indirect parent company of the issuer thereof; or (iv) the issue and sale of any shares issued in payment of dividends on capital stock;

(2) The exercise of any privilege or right to alter the priorities, preferences, voting power or any other rights of any holder of any security then held within the United States, except (i) any security held by American & Foreign Power Company Inc. or any company directly or indirectly subsidiary to it, or (ii) any security presently outstanding (or any security exchanged directly or indirectly therefor under the exemption contained in any subdivision of this paragraph (a));

(3) The sale or offering for sale or the causing to be sold or offered for sale, within the United States, from house to house, or causing any officer or employe of any subsidiary company of Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc. to sell or cause to be sold, within the United States, securities of Electric Bond and Share Company or American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(b) Section 9 of the Act, except with respect to the acquisition of any utility assets located within the United States or to the acquisition of any interest in the business of, or securities issued or guaranteed by, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns, or controls utility assets located within the United States;

(c) Subsections (f) and (g) of Section 11 of the Act;

(d) Subsection (b) of Section 12 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States, except that this exemption shall not apply to extensions of credit to or indemnifications of associate companies other than those directly or indirectly subsidiary to American & Foreign Power Company Inc.;

(e) Subsections (c) and (e) of Section 12 of the Act;

(f) Subsection (f) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to the provisions of Rule U–12F–2 and to such future rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of such subsection as shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary company which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States;

(g) Subdivision (2) of Subsection (h) of Section 12 of the Act, except with respect to contributions to or in support of any political party within the United States or any committee or agency thereof; and

(h) Section 13 of the Act, except with respect to the performing of services or construction work for, or the sale of goods to, any public-utility or holding company which directly or indirectly owns or controls utility assets located within the United States;

(i) Section 15 of the Act, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions thereof shall be, by their terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and which has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States; and

(j) Section 17 (c) of the Act.

It is further ordered, That the exemption herein granted shall be in force until such time as the Commission finds that the circumstances which gave rise to the issuance of this order no longer exist.

By the Commission.

[1939—DEPARTMENT CIRCULAR 630]

PART 226—SURETY COMPANIES ACCEPTABLE ON FEDERAL BONDS

BONDS EXECUTED BY THE EXCESS INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA, NEW YORK, NEW YORK, A NEW JERSEY CORPORATION, IN FAVOR OF THE UNITED STATES

DECEMBER 26, 1939.

To the Heads of Departments and Independent Establishments of the Government, Bond-Approving Officers, and Others Concerned:

The Excess Insurance Company of America, New York, New York, a New Jersey corporation, was authorized by the Treasury, effective December 5, 1932, to qualify as sole surety on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and all other undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States to be given with one or more sureties, as provided by the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended by the Act of March 23, 1910. (U.S.C., Title 6, Sections 6 to 13)

The company, pursuant to resolutions adopted by its stockholders and Board of Directors, on November 24, 1939, entered into an agreement with The Excess Insurance Company of America, a New York corporation, under the terms of which the New Jersey corporation consolidated with the New York corporation and formed a new corporation which is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York under the name of The Excess Insurance Company of America (hereinafter referred to as the consolidated corporation). The certificate of authority issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the New Jersey corporation to act as acceptable surety on obligations in favor of the United States was revoked, effective November 24, 1939.

A certificate of authority, dated effective November 24, 1939, has been issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the consolidated corporation, incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, to qualify as sole surety on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and all other undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States to be given with one or more sureties, as provided by the Act of Congress approved August 13, 1894, as amended by the Act of March 23, 1910.

The consolidated corporation acquired all the assets and assumed all the liabilities of The Excess Insurance Company of America, a New Jersey corporation. A copy of the agreement of consolidation has been received and filed in the Treasury, and provides, in part, as follows:

"Upon such consolidation becoming effective, the consolidated corporation shall be deemed to be a continuance of the New Jersey corporation and the New York corporation, and none of the rights, franchises, licenses and interests of said New Jersey corporation and said New York corporation in and to any species of property and things in action belonging to them, or either of them, shall be deemed to revert or be in any way impaired by the said consolidation, and all of the rights, franchises, licenses and interests of the parties hereto in and to every species of property and things in action belonging to the New Jersey corporation and the New York corporation or any of them, shall be deemed as provided by law, to be transferred to, vested and fixed in the consolidated corporation, without any other deed or transfer, and the consolidated corporation shall hold and enjoy the same to the same extent as if the New Jersey corporation and the New York corporation, or either of them, should have continued to retain their titles and transact business. The consolidated corporation hereby assumes and agrees to pay and perform, when and as payment or performance may be due, all of the obligations, debts and liabilities of the consolidating corporations, in the same manner as if they had been incurred or contracted by it, and whether or not represented by agreements, contracts, policies of insurance or other instruments executed by or in the name of either of the consolidating corporations, and whether or not entered into prior or subsequent to the date hereof."

The underwriting limitation of $157,000.00 established for The Excess Insurance Company of America, a New Jersey corporation, on Treasury Form No. 356, dated September 22, 1939, effective September 18, 1939, under that company's certificate of authority to act as an acceptable surety on Federal bonds, will continue in force with respect to the consolidated corporation until otherwise advised.

TITLE 36—PARKS AND FORESTS

CHAPTER I—NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

FORT JEFFERSON NATIONAL MONUMENT

SUBSIDIARY REGULATIONS

Pursuant to the authority granted to the Secretary of the Interior by the Act of August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535; 16 U.S.C. 3), and pursuant to the authority granted to the Director of the National Park Service by the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder (1 F.R. 672, 36 CFR, Chapter 1, Part 2, Section 2.10), the following subsidiary fishing regulations are prescribed for Fort Jefferson National Monument, to become effective immediately:

§ 20.30 Fort Jefferson National Monument, Fishing. (a) No coral, shells, sea fans, or other forms of marine life found in the water, whether alive or dead, except fish, crayfish, or the common species of conch known as giant stromb (Strombus gigas), shall be taken or disturbed.

(b) No sea turtles, or the eggs thereof, whether on land or in the water, shall be taken or disturbed.

(c) No crayfish shall be caught or taken between March 21 and July 21, inclusive.

(d) Crayfish caught or taken weighing less than one pound shall be immediately returned to the water while alive, unless seriously injured.

(e) The limit per person per day is four crayfish, including those retained because seriously injured.

(f) The taking or catching of crayfish for commercial purposes is prohibited.

(g) No conchs known as the giant stromb (Strombus gigas) shall be caught or taken except for food or for bait. The shells of conchs caught or taken for such purposes may be retained for non-commercial purposes.

(h) The limit per person per day is six conchs.

(i) Commercial fishing is permitted with drop lines, except within one-half mile of Garden Key, Bush Key, or Long Key, in conformity with the laws and regulations of the State of Florida.

(j) Nets may be used for collecting bait for commercial or sport fishing. Possession at any time of more than one day's supply of bait so taken is prohibited. No bait shall be taken for purpose of sale.

[SEAL] ARNO B. CAMMERER,
Director.

W. C. MENDENHALL,
Acting Under Secretary of the Interior.

DECEMBER 18, 1939.

DECEMBER 4, 1939.

The Honorable,
The SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY: Reference is made to the Acting Secretary's letter of October 23 enclosing a proposed first form reclamation withdrawal relating to the Cabinet Gorge reservoir site, Montana.

The suggested withdrawal is unobjectionable to this Department with the understanding that in case the reservoir is constructed, there will be released from the withdrawal any lands not required for the reservoir site; also, that any public improvements such as roads, trails, and telephone lines which may be destroyed by reason of construction will be restored on other locations so as to adequately meet the requirements of the government and the public in the use of adjoining lands.

The concurrence of this Department in the proposed withdrawal is noted on the draft of order submitted by you.

Sincerely,

M. L. WILSON,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

CORRECTION OF ORDER MAKING DECLARATION EFFECTIVE

The Commission having on December 20, 1939 entered an Order in the above-entitled proceeding allowing a declaration to become effective in regard to the issuance of certain securities;

And it appearing that the following words "conditional pledge" in the eleventh (11th) line should be "issue and pledge in lieu of or substitution for" and that the words and figures "$989,408 of its bonds (6% Series)" in lines fourteen (14) and Fifteen (15) should be "$989,400 of its bonds of various series";

And it further appearing to the Commission that said errors are wholly clerical;

It is ordered, That said Order be and it is hereby amended by striking out the words "conditional pledge" and substituting therefor the words "issue and pledge in lieu of or substitution for" and by striking out the words and figures "$989,408 of its bonds (6% Series)" and substituting therefor the words and figures "$989,400 of its bonds of various series".

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES, INC., AND COMMONWEALTHS DISTRIBUTION, INC.

ORDER REFUSING PERMISSION FOR DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

General Public Utilities, Inc., a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Community Power and Light Company, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 in regard to the issuance of additional common stock of no par value in a maximum amount of 16,318 shares in connection with an optional dividend proposed to be paid by the declarant; the proposed dividend is to be payable at the option of the stockholders either in the amount of $1.50 cash or in the amount of one-tenth of one share for each share of no par common stock held; Commonwealths Distribution, Inc., an affiliate of General Public Utilities, Inc., having filed an application pursuant to Section 10 (a) (1) of said Act for the approval of the acquisition of 1,081 shares of no par common stock of General Public Utilities, Inc., which stock is to be issued in payment of said dividend; said declaration and application having been joined for hearing and the proceedings therein having been consolidated;

A public hearing on said declaration as amended and said application having been duly held after appropriate notice;[1] the record having been examined, and the Commission having made and filed its findings herein;

It is ordered, That the Commission refuse to permit the declaration of General Public Utilities, Inc. to become effective.

[1] 4 F.R. 4617 DI.

It is further ordered, That Commonwealths Distribution, Inc. be and hereby is permitted to withdraw its application.

It is further ordered, That the declarant, General Public Utilities, Inc., be and hereby is granted a period of five days from and after this date within which to register objections and request an opportunity for oral argument, during which period the effect of this order shall be stayed, but if no such request is received by the Commission on or before the 29th day of December, 1939, this order shall become of full force and effect as of that date.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] FRANCIS P. BRASSOR, Secretary.

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

CHAPTER II—BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

COLLECTION OF NONCASH ITEMS

On December 26, 1939, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That Regulation G [12 CFR. 207], Collection of Noncash Items, be adopted to become effective February 1, 1940, as follows:

REGULATION G—COLLECTION OF NONCASH ITEMS

[12 CFR. 207.0] Authority for regulation. This regulation is based upon and issued pursuant to the provisions of subsection (i) of section 11, the first paragraph of section 13, and the 14th and 15th paragraphs of section 16, and other relevant provisions of the Federal Reserve Act.

SEC. 1. [12 CFR. 207.1] Definition of noncash items. As used in this regulation, the term "noncash items" means any items of the following classes when payable within the continental United States:

(1) Maturing notes, acceptances, bankers' acceptances, certificates of deposit, bills of exchange, and drafts with or without securities, bills of lading, or other documents attached;

(2) Drafts and orders on savings deposits with pass books attached;

(3) Checks, drafts, and other cash items which have previously been dishonored or on which special advice of payment or dishonor is required; [1]

(4) Maturing bonds and coupons (other than obligations of the United States and its agencies which are redeemed by Federal Reserve banks as fiscal agents);

(5) State and municipal warrants, including both orders to pay addressed to officers of States and political subdivisions thereof and any special or general obligations of States and political subdivisions thereof;

(6) All other evidences of indebtedness and orders to pay, except checks and bank drafts handled under the provisions of Regulation J [1] and checks and bank drafts drawn on or payable by a nonmember bank which cannot be collected at par in funds acceptable to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which such nonmember bank is located.[2*]

SEC. 2. [12 CFR. 207.2] Receipt of items for collection. Each Federal Reserve bank may receive for collection noncash items from member and nonmember clearing banks in its district, from other Federal Reserve banks, and from all member and nonmember clearing banks in other Federal Reserve districts which are authorized to route direct for the credit of their respective Federal Reserve banks, subject to the terms and conditions of this regulation.*

SEC. 3. [12 CFR. 207.3] Terms of collection—(1) Agreement of sending bank. Each member and nonmember clearing bank which sends noncash items to any Federal Reserve bank for collection shall by such action be deemed: (a) to authorize the Federal Reserve banks to handle such items subject to the terms and conditions of this regulation; (b) to warrant its own authority to give the Federal Reserve banks such authority; (c) to agree to indemnify any Federal Reserve bank for any loss or expense sustained (including but not limited to attorneys' fees and expenses of litigation) resulting from the failure of such sending bank to have such authority, or resulting from such Federal Reserve bank's guaranty of prior endorsements, or resulting from any action taken by the Federal Reserve bank within the scope of its authority for the purpose of collecting such noncash items; and (d) to guarantee all prior endorsements on such items whether or not a specific guaranty is incorporated in an endorsement of the sending bank.

(2) Federal Reserve bank as agent. A Federal Reserve bank will act only as agent of the bank from which it receives such noncash items and will assume no liability except for its own negligence and its guaranty of prior endorsements.

(3) Presentation of items by Federal Reserve bank. A Federal Reserve bank may present such noncash items with any accompanying documents for payment direct to the person, firm, or corporation on which they are drawn or by or through which they are payable or collectible, or may present them for payment or forward them for collection direct to the bank on which they are drawn, at which they are payable, or through which they are payable or collectible; or, in its discretion, may forward them to another agent with similar authority to present them for payment or forward them for collection. The bank upon which any such noncash item may be drawn, or at which the same may be payable or through which the same may be payable or collectible shall be deemed to be a proper agent for collection within the meaning of this regulation.

(4) Items payable in other districts. Noncash items received by a Federal Reserve bank payable in other districts will be forwarded for collection to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which such items are payable; except that, when in the judgment of the Federal Reserve bank the size or character of the items or other special circumstances justify such action, any such items, in the discretion of the Federal Reserve bank, may be forwarded for collection direct to the bank on which they are drawn, at which they are payable, or through which they are payable or collectible, or may be forwarded for collection to another agent with authority to present them for payment direct to the person, firm, or corporation on which they are drawn or by or through which they are payable or collectible or to present them for payment direct to the bank on which they are drawn, at which they are payable, or through which they are payable or collectible.

(5) Forms of payment accepted by Federal Reserve bank. A Federal Reserve bank may, in its discretion and at its option, accept from any bank in payment of or from any collecting agent in remittance for such noncash items, cash, checks, bank drafts, transfers of funds or bank credits, or other forms of payment or remittance, acceptable to the collecting Federal Reserve bank. The Federal Reserve bank shall not be liable for the failure of any bank or any agent to collect, or to pay, or to remit for, such noncash items, nor for any loss resulting from the acceptance from any bank or any agent, in lieu of cash, of any other form of payment or remittance authorized herein, nor for the nonpayment of, or failure to realize upon, any bank draft or other medium of payment or remittance which may be accepted from any bank or any collecting agent.

(6) Collection of remittances for noncash items. Bank drafts and other forms of payment or remittance received by a Federal Reserve bank in payment of or in remittance for noncash items handled under the terms of this regulation will be collected, at the option of the Federal Reserve bank, either under the terms and conditions of this regulation or under the terms and conditions of Regulation J of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(7) Suspension or closing of paying or remitting bank. No draft, authorization to charge, or other order, upon any reserve balance, clearing account, deposit account, or other funds of a paying, remitting, or collecting bank in the possession of a Federal Reserve bank, issued for the purpose of settling items handled under the terms of this regulation will be paid, acted upon, or honored after receipt by such Federal Reserve bank of notice of suspension or closing of such paying, remitting, or collecting bank.

(8) Items sent direct to Federal Reserve bank in another district. With respect to any noncash item sent direct by a member or nonmember clearing bank in one district to a Federal Reserve bank in another district, the relationships and the rights and liabilities existing between the member or nonmember clearing bank, the Federal Reserve bank of its district, and the Federal Reserve bank to which the noncash item is sent will be the same, and the relevant provisions of this regulation will apply, as though the member or nonmember clearing bank had sent such noncash item to the Federal Reserve bank of its district with its endorsement and guaranty of prior endorsements and such Federal Reserve bank had sent the noncash item to the other Federal Reserve bank with its endorsement and guaranty of prior endorsements.*

SEC. 4. [12 CFR. 207.4] Other Rules. Each Federal Reserve bank may also promulgate rules not inconsistent with the terms of the law or of this regulation, governing the details of its noncash collection operations. Such rules may be set forth by each Federal Reserve bank in circulars to its member and nonmember clearing banks and shall be binding upon any member or nonmember clearing bank which sends any noncash item to such Federal Reserve bank for collection or to any other Federal Reserve bank for the account of such Federal Reserve bank for collection.*

[SEAL] S. R. CARPENTER,
Assistant Secretary.

[F. R. Doc. 39-4812; Filed, December 28, 1939; 11:22 a. m.]

[1] Any check, draft, or other item which is normally handled as a cash item will not be handled as a noncash item unless special conditions require that this be done, and the Federal Reserve bank will decide whether such special conditions exist.

[2] Checks and bank drafts drawn on or payable by a nonmember bank which cannot be collected at par in funds acceptable to the Federal Reserve bank of the district in which such nonmember bank is located, and which may not be received under the terms of Regulation J, likewise may not be received as noncash items under the terms of this regulation.

*§§ 207.1 to 207.4, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in sec. 11 (i), 38 Stat. 262, sec. 4, 40 Stat. 234, sec. 16, 38 Stat. 265; 12 U.S.C. 248 (i), 342, 360, 248 (o).

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

PART 223—JUDGMENT AND LIEU OF ALLOTMENT FUNDS [1]

SUBPART B—REGULATIONS GOVERNING DISBURSEMENT OF PRO-RATA SHARES OF THE JUDGMENT FUND OF THE SHOSHONE TRIBE OF THE WIND RIVER RESERVATION, WYOMING

Section 223.57 reads:

§ 223.57 Issuance of purchase orders. All expenditures from pro-rata share accounts for the purchase of property other than real property shall be by purchase orders which shall be issued by the superintendent and shall be headed "To Any Dealer", and which shall indicate the particular items of purchase and the total sum to be expended, and which shall bear a notation to the effect that no cash shall be given to the Indian under any circumstances; provided, that the superintendent may disburse to the individual to whom the order is issued a reasonable amount of cash to enable him to travel by convenient means to a locality where the goods may be purchased; and provided further, that adult Indians may, upon approval of the Shoshone Business Council and the superintendent, have cash disbursed to them in lieu of a purchase order for the execution of an approved program. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 223.68.[2]

It is amended to read:

§ 223.57 Issuance of purchase orders. All expenditures from pro-rata share accounts for the purchase of property other than real property shall be by purchase orders which shall be issued by the superintendent and shall be headed "To Any Dealer", and which shall indicate the particular items of purchase and the total sum to be expended, and which shall bear a notation to the effect that no cash shall be given to the Indian under any circumstances; provided, that the superintendent may disburse to the individual to whom the order is issued a reasonable amount of cash to enable him to travel by convenient means to a locality where the goods may be purchased; and provided further, that adult Indians may, upon approval of the Shoshone Business Council and the superintendent, have cash disbursed to them in lieu of a purchase order for the execution of an approved program. Prior to the approval of a program, the superintendent may disburse to an adult Indian not to exceed $45 upon the written application of such Indian and upon a showing satisfactory to the superintendent of a need for such disbursement; provided, that any sum so disbursed shall be expended for the purposes specified in this sub-part. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 223.68.[2]

be abated from such national banks as are found by the Comptroller of the Currency to be insolvent; and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, when the facts shall appear to him, is authorized to remit so much of the said tax against any such insolvent banks and trust companies organized under State law as shall be found to affect the claims of their depositors.

(b) Whenever any bank or trust company, a substantial portion of the business of which consists of receiving deposits and making loans and discounts, has been released or discharged from its liability to its depositors for any part of their claims against it, and such depositors have accepted, in lieu thereof, a lien upon subsequent earnings of such bank or trust company, or claims against assets segregated by such bank or trust company or against assets transferred from it to an individual or corporate trustee or agent, no tax shall be assessed or collected, or paid into the Treasury of the United States on account of such bank, or trust company, such individual or corporate trustee or such agent, which shall diminish the assets thereof which are available for the payment of such depositor claims and which are necessary for the full payment thereof.

(c) Any such tax so collected shall be deemed to be erroneously collected, and shall be refunded subject to all provisions and limitations of law, so far as applicable, relating to the refunding of taxes, but tax so abated or refunded after May 28, 1938 shall be reassessed whenever it shall appear that payment of the tax will not diminish the assets as aforesaid. The running of the statute of limitations on the making of assessment and collection shall be suspended during, and for ninety days beyond, the period for which, pursuant to this section, assessment or collection may not be made, and a tax which has been abated may be reassessed and collected during the time within which, had there been no abatement, collection might have been made.

(d) This section shall not apply to any tax imposed by subchapter A [1] or subchapter C of chapter 9.

Section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939 (Public, No. 155, Seventy-sixth Congress, first session) reads as follows:

SEC. 406. INSOLVENT BANKS.

(a) Section 3798 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code is amended to read as follows:

"(c) (1) Any such tax collected, whether collected before, on, or after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938, shall be deemed to be erroneously collected, and shall be refunded subject to all provisions and limitations of law, so far as applicable, relating to the refunding of taxes.

"(2) Any tax, the assessment, collection, or payment of which is barred under subsection (a) of this section, or any such tax which has been abated or remitted after May 28, 1938, shall be assessed or reassessed whenever it shall appear that payment of the tax will not diminish the assets as aforesaid.

"(3) Any tax, the assessment, collection, or payment of which is barred under subsection (b) of this section or any such tax which has been refunded after May 28, 1938, shall be assessed or reassessed after full payment of such claims of depositors to the extent of the remaining assets segregated or tranferred as described in subsection (b).

"(4) The running of the statute of limitations on the making of assessment and collection shall be suspended, during, and for ninety days beyond, the period for which, pursuant to this section, assessment or collection may not be made, and a tax may be reassessed as provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this subsection, and collected, during the time within which, had there been no abatement, collection might have been made."

(b) The term "agent" as used in 3798 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be deemed to include a corporation acting as a liquidating agent.

(c) The amendments made by this section shall be effective as of the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938.

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 3791 of the Internal Revenue Code, and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the following regulations are hereby prescribed:*†

§ 464A.1 Effect of statutory amendments. The amendment of section 22 of the Act of March 1, 1879, made by section 818 of the Revenue Act of 1938, was effective on May 28, 1938, the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1938. Section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939 in substance makes identical amendments of subsection (c) of section 22, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1938, and section 3789 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code. The amendments made by section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939 are effective as of May 28, 1938. Therefore section 22, as amended, of the Act of March 1, 1879, and section 3798 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939, in substance constitute a continuous section effective on May 28, 1938.*†

§ 464A.2 Banks and trust companies covered. Section 22 (as amended) of the Act of March 1, 1879, and section 3798 of the Internal Revenue Code, both as amended by section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939, in substance apply as a continuous section to any national bank, or bank or trust company organized under State law, a substantial portion of the business of which consists of receiving deposits and making loans and discounts, and which has—

(a) ceased to do business by reason of insolvency or bankruptcy, or

(b) been released or discharged from its liability to its depositors for any part of their deposit claims, and the depositors have accepted in lieu thereof a lien upon its subsequent earnings or claims against its assets either (1) segregated and held by it for benefit of the depositors or (2) transferred to an individual or corporate trustee or agent who liquidates, holds or operates the assets for the benefit of the depositors.*†

§ 464A.3 Definitions. As hereinafter used in these regulations:

(a) (1) The term "section", unless otherwise indicated by the context, means section 22 (as amended) of the Act of March 1, 1879, section 3798 of the Internal Revenue Code (reenacting such section 22), and section 3798 of the Code as amended by section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939, such sections in substance constituting a continuous section in effect on and after May 28, 1938. See section 464A.1 of these regulations.

(2) Unless otherwise indicated, the term "subsection" means a subdivision of the "section" as defined herein.

(b) The term "bank", unless otherwise indicated by the context, means any national bank, or bank or trust company organized under State law, within the scope of the section. See section 464A.2 of these regulations.

(c) The terms "statute of limitations" and "limitations" mean all applicable provisions of law (including the section as herein defined) which impose, change, or affect limitations, conditions, or requirements relative to the allowance of refunds and abatements, or the assessment or collection of tax, as the case may be.

(d) The term "segregated assets" includes transferred or trusteed assets, or assets set aside or earmarked, and to all or a portion of which, or the proceeds of which, the depositors are absolutely or conditionally entitled.

(e) The term "effective date" means May 28, 1938.

(f) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(g) The term "collector" means collector of internal revenue.*†

§ 464A.4 Scope of section generally—(a) Purpose. The section prior to amendment by the Revenue Act of 1938, was intended to assist depositors of a bank which had ceased to do business by reason of insolvency to recover their deposits, by prohibiting collection of taxes of the bank which would diminish the assets necessary for payment of its depositors. By the amendments like assistance is given to depositors of banks which are in financial difficulties but which, in certain conditions, continue in business.

(b) Requisites of application. In order that the section shall operate in a case where the bank continues business it is necessary that the depositors shall agree to accept, in lieu of all or a part of their deposit claims as such, claims against segregated assets, or a lien upon subsequent earnings of the bank, or both. When such an agreement exists, no tax diminishing such assets or earnings, or both, otherwise available and necessary for payment of depositors, may be collected therefrom. If, under such an agreement, the depositors have the right also to look to the unsegregated assets of the bank for recovery, in whole or part, the unsegregated assets are likewise, until they exceed the amount of the depositors' claims chargeable thereto, unavailable for tax collection. Any tax of such a bank, or part of any tax, which is once uncollectible under the section, cannot thereafter be collected except from any residue of segregated assets remaining after claims of depositors against such assets have been paid.

(c) Interest. For the purposes of the section, depositors' claims include bona fide interest, either on the deposits as such, or on the claims accepted in lieu of deposits as such.

(d) Limitations on immunity. The section is not primarily intended for the relief of banks as such. It does not prevent tax collection, from assets not necessary, or not available, for payment of depositors, from a bank within subsection (a), at any time within the statute of limitations. In other words the immunity of such a bank is not complete, but ceases whenever, within the statutory period for collection, it becomes possible to make collection without diminishing assets necessary for payment of depositors. In the case of a bank within subsection (b), any immunity to which the bank is entitled is absolute except as to segregated assets. Any tax coming within such immunity may never be collected. With respect to segregated assets, such a bank is subject to the same rule as a bank within subsection (a), that is to say, after claims of depositors against segregated assets have been paid, any surplus is subject, within the statute of limitations, to collection of any tax, due at any time, the collection of which was suspended by the section. The section is not for the relief of creditors other than depositors, although it may incidentally operate for their benefit. See sections 464A.6 and 464A.11 (b) of these regulations.*†

§ 464A.5 Segregated or transferred assets—(a) General. In a case involving segregated or transferred assets, it is not necessary, for application of the section, that the assets shall technically constitute a trust fund. It is sufficient that segregated assets be definitely separated from other assets of the bank and that transferred assets be definitely separated both from other assets of the bank and from other assets held or owned by the trustee or agent to whom assets of the bank have been transferred; that the bank be wholly or partially released from liability for repayment of deposits as such; and that the depositors have claims against the separated assets. Any excess of separated assets over the amount necessary for payment of such depositors will be available for tax collection after full payment of depositors' claims under the agreement against such assets. But see section 464A.11 (a) of these regulations.

(b) Corporate transferees. Where the segregated assets are transferred to a separate corporate trustee or corporate agent, the assets and earnings therefrom are within the protection of the section, until full payment of depositors' claims against such assets and earnings, no matter by whom the stock of such corporation is held, and no matter whether the assets be liquidated or operated or held for benefit of the depositors.

Property of a separate corporation not conveyed to it by the bank pursuant to an agreement with depositors, is not within the immunity of the section, even though the corporation's stock is owned by the bank. Tax due from a separate corporation to which assets of an insolvent bank are conveyed is collectible, even though such tax be due to the property so conveyed, except in so far as tax collection will diminish assets conveyed by the bank for benefit of depositors or the earnings from such assets to which the depositors are entitled, and which are necessary for payment of the depositors' claims. Other assets and earnings of a separate corporation are available for collection of the taxes of such corporation even though the assets and earnings of such corporation if received by the bank would be available for satisfaction of claims of the bank's depositors and such claims cannot otherwise be paid.*†

§ 464A.6 Unsegregated assets—(a) Depositors' claims against assets. Claims of depositors, to the extent that they are to be satisfied out of segregated assets, will not be considered in determining the availability of unsegregated assets for tax collection. If depositors have agreed to accept payment out of segregated assets only, collection of tax from unsegregated assets will not diminish the assets available and necessary for payment of the depositors' claims. Thus, it may be possible to collect taxes from the unsegregated assets of a bank although the segregated assets are immune under the section.

If the unsegregated assets of the bank are subject to any portion of the depositors' claims, such unsegregated assets will be within the immunity of the section only to the extent necessary to satisfy the claims to which such assets are subject. Taxes will still be collectible from the unsegregated assets to the extent of the amount by which the total value of such assets exceeds the liability to depositors to be satisfied therefrom. Therefore, if, for example, in the case of a bank having a tax liability, not previously immune under the section, of $50,000, the deposit claims against the bank are in the amount of $75,000, and the assets available for satisfaction of deposit claims amount to $100,000, the $50,000 tax is collectible to the extent of the $25,000 excess of assets over deposit claims. Collection is not to be postponed until the full amount of the tax is collectible.

(b) Depositors' claims against earnings. Even though under a bona fide agreement a bank has been released from depositors' claims as to unsegregated assets, if all or a portion of its earnings are subject to depositors' claims, all assets the earnings from which, in whole or part, are charged with the payment of depositors' claims, will be immune from tax collection. But see section 464A.7 (a) of these regulations.*†

§ 464A.7 Earnings—(a) Availability for tax collection. Earnings of a bank within subsection (b), whether from segregated or unsegregated assets, which are necessary for, applicable to, and actually used for, payment of depositors' claims under an agreement, are within the immunity of the section. If only a portion or percentage of income from segregated or unsegregated assets is available and necessary for payment of depositors' claims, the remaining income is available for tax collection. Earnings of the bank's first fiscal year ending after the making of the agreement not applicable to payment of depositors will be assumed to be applicable for collection of any tax due prior or subsequent to execution of the agreement. Earnings of subsequent fiscal periods from unsegregated assets not applicable to depositors' claims will be assumed to be applicable to payment of taxes as to which immunity under the section has not previously attached. Earnings from segregated assets are available for collection of tax, whether previously uncollectible under the section or not, after depositors' claims against such assets have been paid in full. See sections 464A.5 (a) and 464A.11 (a) of these regulations.

(b) Tax computation. The fact that earnings of a given year may be wholly or partly unavailable under the section for collection of taxes does not exempt the income for that year, or any part thereof, from tax liability. The section affects collectibility only, and is not concerned with taxability. Accordingly, the taxpayer's income tax return shall correctly compute the tax liability, even though in the opinion of the taxpayer it is immune from tax collection under the section. The tax shall be determined with respect to the entire taxable income and not merely with respect to the portion of the earnings out of which tax may be collected. As to establishment of immunity from tax collection see section 464A.9 of these regulations.

(c) Example. An agreement, executed in the year 1938 between a bank subject to tax under section 14 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1938 and its depositors, provides (1) that certain assets are to be segregated for the benefit of the depositors who have waived (as claims against unsegregated assets of the bank) a percentage of their deposits; (2) that 60 percent of the bank's net earnings for fiscal years beginning with the fiscal year ending December 31, 1938, from unsegregated assets, shall be paid to the depositors until the portion of their claims waived with respect to unsegregated assets of the bank has been paid; and (3) that the unsegregated assets shall not be subject to depositors' claims. The special class net income of the bank for the calendar year 1938 is $10,000, $4,000 produced by the segregated, and $6,000 produced by the unsegregated assets, and that amount, $10,000, also constitutes its net earnings for that year before deducting Federal income taxes. Such amount shall be considered the net earnings for the purpose of these regulations in computing the portion of the earnings to be paid to depositors. The bank has an outstanding tax liability for prior years of $7,000. The income tax liability of the bank for 1938 is 16½ percent of $10,000, or $1,650, making a total outstanding tax liability of $8,650. The portion of the earnings of the bank for 1938 remaining after provision for depositors is $2,400 ($6,000 less 60 percent thereof, or $3,600). It will be assumed that of the total outstanding tax liability of $8,650, $2,400 may be assessed and collected, leaving $6,250 to be collected from any excess of the segregated assets after claims of depositors against such segregated assets have been paid in full. No part of the $6,250 immune from collection from 1938 earnings may be collected thereafter from unsegregated assets of the bank or earnings therefrom, so that except for any possible surplus of the segregated assets the $6,250 is uncollectible.

In the year 1939 the earnings are again $10,000, $4,000 from segregated and $6,000 from unsegregated assets, as in the previous year. However the return filed shows income of $5,000 and a tax liability of $900. An investigation shows the true income to be $10,000, on which the tax is $1,800. The full $1,800 will be assumed to be collectible. The $600 difference between $2,400 (the excess of earnings from unsegregated assets over the amount going to the depositors), and the $1,800 tax for 1939, is not available for collection of the tax for prior years, which became immune as described above, but may be available for collection of tax for subsequent years.

No significance attaches to the selection of the years 1938 and 1939 for the example. The rules indicated by the example are equally applicable to subsequent or prior years not excluded by limitations.*†

§ 464A.8 Abatement and refund. An assessment or collection, no matter when made, if contrary to the section as amended by the Revenue Act of 1938 and the Revenue Act of 1939, is subject to abatement or refund within the applicable statutory period of limitations.

An abatement or refund after May 28, 1938, the effective date of the amendments, is equally allowable whether assessment or collection was erroneous because contrary to the amended section, or because, in the case of a bank within subsection (a), the same tax had been properly abated or refunded, or in the case of a bank within subsection (b), had been properly refunded, on or before the effective date of the amendments, and reassessed or collected after such date. See section 464A.12 (b) of these regulations. If there was a prior proper abatement or refund in the case of a bank within subsection (a), or a proper refund in the case of a bank within subsection (b), on or before the effective date of the amendments, a claim for abatement or refund of the same tax reassessed or recollected after the effective date of the amendments may be allowed even though the second assessment or collection was otherwise in accordance with the amended section. However, in the absence of abatement or refund in the case of a bank within subsection (a), or of a refund in the case of a bank within subsection (b), on or before the effective date of the amendments, the mere fact that the tax was due before the effective date of the amendments will not be ground for allowance of a claim.

Collection from a bank within subsection (b) which diminished assets necessary for payment of depositors, if made prior to agreement with depositors, is not contrary to the amended section, and affords no ground for refund.

Any abatement or refund is subject to existing statutory periods of limitation, which periods are not suspended or extended by the amended section. In order to secure refund of any taxes paid for any taxable year during the period of immunity the bank must file claim therefor.*†

§ 464A.9 Establishment of immunity. The mere allegation of insolvency, or that depositors have claims against segregated or other assets or earnings will not of itself secure immunity from tax collection. It must be affirmatively established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that collection of tax will be contrary to the amended section. See also section 464A.10 of these regulations.

Any claim, by a bank, of immunity under subsection (b), shall be supported by a statement, under oath or affirmation, which shall show: (a) the total of depositors' claims outstanding, and (b) separately and in detail, the amount of each of the following, and the amount of depositors' claims properly chargeable against each—(1) segregated or transferred assets; (2) unsegregated assets; (3) estimated future average annual earnings and profits; (4) amount collectible from shareholders; and (5) any other resources available for payment of depositors' claims. The detail shall show the full amount of depositors' claims chargeable against each of the items (1) to (5), inclusive, even though part or all of the amount chargeable against a particular item is also chargeable against some other item or items. There shall also be filed a copy of any agreement between the bank and its depositors, and any other agreement or document bearing on the claim of immunity under the section. The statement shall show the basis, as "book", "market", etc., of valuation of the assets.*†

§ 464A.10 Procedure during immunity—(a) Statements to be filed. As long as, pursuant to the section complete or partial immunity is claimed, a bank within subsection (b) shall file with each income tax return a statement as required by section 464A.9 of these regulations, in duplicate, and shall also file such additional statements as the Commissioner may require. Whether or not additional statements shall be required, and the frequency thereof, will depend on the circumstances, including the financial status and apparent prospects of the bank, and the time which is available for assessment and collection. If a copy of an agreement or document has once been filed, a copy of the same agreement or document need not again be filed with a subsequent statement, if it is shown by the subsequent statement, when and where and with what return the copy was filed. In case of amendment a copy of the amendment must be filed with the return for the taxable year in which the amendment is made.

(b) Failure to file. Failure of a bank to file any required statement will be treated as indicating that the bank is not entitled to immunity under the section.*†

§ 464A.11 Termination of immunity—(a) General. In the case of a bank within subsection (a) immunity will end whenever, and to the extent that, taxes may be assessed and collected, within the applicable limitation periods as extended by the section, without diminishing the assets available and necessary for payment of depositors. Immunity of a bank within subsection (b) is terminated, as to segregated assets, whenever claims of depositors against such assets have been paid in full. See section 464A.5 of these regulations. As to segregated assets, the termination of immunity is complete, and any balance remaining after payment of depositors is available, within statutory limitations, for collection of tax due at any time. However, taxes of the bank will be collectible from segregated assets only to the extent that the bank has a legal or equitable interest therein. Assets as to which there has been a complete conveyance for benefit of depositors, and the bank has bona fide been divested of all legal and equitable interest, are not available for collection of the bank's tax liability.

As to unsegregated assets of a bank within subsection (b), immunity terminates only as to taxes thereafter becoming due. When taxes are once immune from collection, the immunity as to unsegregated assets is absolute. But see the second paragraph of section 464A.6 (a) of these regulations.

(b) General creditors. While the immunity from tax collection is for protection of depositors, and not for benefit of general creditors, in some cases the immunity will not end until the assets are sufficient to cover indebtedness of creditors generally. This situation will exist where under applicable law the claims of general creditors are on a parity with those of depositors, so that to pay depositors in full it is necessary to pay all creditors in full.

(c) Shareholder liability. In determining the sufficiency of the assets to satisfy the depositors' claims, shareholders' liability to the extent collectible shall be treated as available assets. See section 464A.9 of these regulations.

(d) Deposit insurance. Deposit insurance payable to depositors shall not be treated as an asset of the bank and shall be disregarded in determining the sufficiency of the assets to meet the claims of depositors.

(e) Notice by bank. A bank within subsection (b), upon termination of immunity with respect to (1) earnings, (2) segregated or transferred assets, or (3) unsegregated assets, shall immediately notify the collector for the district in which the taxpayer's returns were filed of such termination of immunity. See section 464A.10 (b) of these regulations.

(f) Payment by bank. As immunity terminates with respect to any assets, it will be the duty of the bank, without notice from the collector, to make payment of taxes collectible from such assets.*†

§ 464A.12 Collection of tax after termination of immunity—(a) General. If, in the case of a bank within subsection (b), segregated assets (including earnings therefrom), in excess of those necessary for payment of outstanding deposits become available, such excess of segregated assets shall be applied toward satisfaction of accumulated outstanding taxes previously immune under the section, and not barred by the statute of limitations. But see section 464A.5 of these regulations. Where sufficient segregated or unsegregated assets are available, statutory interest shall be collected with the tax. When unsegregated assets or earnings therefrom previously immune become available for tax collection, they will be available only for collection of taxes (including interest and other additions) becoming due after immunity ceases. See example in section 464A.7 (c) of these regulations.

(b) Tax due before the effective date of the amendments. In the case of a bank within subsection (a), the section does not permit assessment or reassessment or collection of tax abated or refunded, if the abatement or refund was in accordance with the section prior to the amendments by the Revenue Acts of 1938 and 1939.

In the case of a bank within subsection (b) the section does not permit assessment or reassessment of collection, from segregated or unsegregated assets, of tax refunded on or before May 28, 1938, if the refund was in accordance with the section prior to the amendments by the Revenue Acts of 1938 and 1939.

With the exceptions indicated by the preceding two paragraphs, tax due on or before May 28, 1938, and still outstanding on the said date, is within the provisions of the amended section and collectibility is determinable in accordance with the amended section the same as in the case of tax due after such date. Accordingly, a tax due prior to the effective date of the amendments and then collectible under the section may not be assessed or collected thereafter if such assessment or collection would be contrary to the section as amended. See section 464A.8 of these regulations.

If the statutory period for assessment or collection had expired before the effective date of the amendments, the section does not revive it. Accordingly, in such situation the tax is not collectible under the amended section, regardless of other circumstances.*†

§ 464A.13 Social Security taxes. These regulations do not relate to Social Security taxes, since the immunity granted by the amended section does not apply to taxes imposed by the Social Security Act.*†

§ 464A.14 Effective date of regulations. These regulations are effective as of May 28, 1938, the effective date of the amendments made by section 818 of the Revenue Act of 1938, and section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1939. Treasury Decision 4882,[3] I.R.B. 1939–4, 11 (Part 464, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), is hereby revoked as of the date of its approval.*†

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

[NCR–301–L, Supplement 2]

1939 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM FOR LICKING COUNTY, OHIO

NCR–301–L, as amended,[1] is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Section XV is renumbered as Section XVII and the following new Sections XV and XVI are added:

SECTION XV. COUNTY ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS

(a) County corn allotment. The 1939 Licking County corn acreage allotment is 47,735 acres.

(b) County wheat allotment. The 1939 Licking County wheat acreage allotment is 27,696 acres.

SECTION XVI. FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS

The county committee with the assistance of other local committees in the county shall establish acreage allotments and normal yields for corn and wheat in accordance with the provisions contained herein and instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The sum of the acreage allotments established for farms in the county shall not exceed the applicable county acreage allotments.

(a) Corn allotments. Acreage allotments for corn shall be determined for farms on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The allotment for any farm shall be comparable to the allotments recommended for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

(b) Wheat allotments. Acreage allotments for wheat shall be determined for farms on which wheat has been planted for harvest in one or more of the years 1936, 1937, and 1938, on the basis of tillable acreage and crop rotation practices as reflected in the usual acreage of wheat on the farm or the ratio of wheat acreage to cropland in the community or the county, and on the basis of the type of soil, and topography. Not more than 3 percent of the county wheat acreage allotment shall be apportioned to farms in the county on which wheat was not planted for harvest in any one of the three years, 1936, 1937, and 1938 on the basis of tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, and topography. The wheat acreage allotment for any farm shall be comparable with the allotments determined for other farms in the same community which are similar with respect to such factors.

(c) Corn and wheat yields. (1) Where reliable records of the actual average yields per acre of corn or wheat, as the case may be, for the years 1928 to 1937, inclusive, are presented by the farmer, or are available to the committee, the normal yield for the farm will be the average of such yields adjusted for trends and abnormal weather conditions, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(2) If for any year of the ten-year period, reliable records of the actual yield are not available, or there was no actual yield because the crop was not planted on the farm in such year, the county committee will determine the normal yield for the farm. This will be based upon all available facts including the yield customarily secured on the farm, weather conditions, type of soil, drainage, production practices, and general fertility of the land. The yields so determined will be adjusted so that the weighted average of the normal yields for all farms in the county will equal the county average yields of corn or wheat, as the case may be, established by the Secretary.

The provisions of this Supplement 2 to NCR–301–L shall be effective as of March 4, 1939.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of December, 1939. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Wage and Hour Division.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE APPAREL INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Apparel Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5(d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 29, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Apparel Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than eight weeks experience in the past three years upon a stitching operation in the Apparel Industry.

(2) The employment of learners under these Certificates is limited to the operation of stitching machines and for eight (8) weeks for any one learner. During this period, learners shall be paid at least 22½¢ per hour. If experienced workers are paid on a piece rate basis, the same piece rates shall be paid to the learners employed on similar work and they shall receive earnings on such piece rates if in excess of 22½¢ per hour, but in no case less than 22½¢ per hour.

(3) These Special Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced stitching machine operators are not available.

(4) Any one of these Special Certificates may be canceled as of the date of its issue if found that experienced workers were available when the Certificate was issued and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if found that any of its terms have been violated or that skilled workers have become available.

(5) Under these Special Certificates, no learner shall be employed at a subminimum wage until and unless the Certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are employed.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of 5% of the total number of stitching machine operators employed in the plant may be employed under any of these Certificates, unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name:

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE HOSIERY INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Hosiery Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Hosiery Wage Order) are issued to the employers listed below effective December 29, 1939, to August 29, 1940, unless otherwise indicated subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS AND WAGE RATES

The employment of learners in the Hosiery Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

These Special Certificates are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act, Section 522.5 (b) of Regulations Part 522, as amended. For fifteen days following the publication of this notice the Administrator will receive detailed written objections to any of these Special Certificates and requests for hearing from interested persons. Upon due consideration of such objections as provided for in said Section 522.5 (b), such Special Certificates, or any of them, may be canceled as of the date of their issuance and if so canceled, reimbursement of all persons employed under such certificates must be made in an amount equal to the difference between the applicable statutory minimum wage and any lesser wage paid such persons.

NOTICE OF ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL CERTIFICATES FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Notice is hereby given that Special Certificates for the employment of learners in the Textile Industry at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage applicable under Section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 are issued ex parte under Section 14 of the said Act and Section 522.5 (d) of Regulations Part 522, as amended, to the employers listed below effective December 29, 1939, until October 24, 1940, subject to the following terms:

OCCUPATIONS, WAGE RATES, AND CONDITIONS

The employment of learners in the Textile Industry under these Certificates is limited to the following occupations, learning periods, and minimum wage rates:

(1) A learner is a person who has had less than six (6) weeks experience in the aggregate in any of the learner occupations listed below in any branch of the Textile Industry except tufted bedspreads and curtains.

(2) Learners may be employed under these Certificates only in the occupations of machine operating, tending, fixing, and jobs immediately incidental thereto, but not in occupations similar to those performed by the following: sweepers, scrubbers, yard employees, watchmen, clerical workers and supervisors, timekeepers, machine cleaners, janitors, truckers, and employees engaged in similar work, and no learner shall be employed at less than the minimum rate for more than six (6) weeks.

(3) No learner may be paid at a rate less than 25 cents an hour provided, however, that if experienced workers are paid on a piecework rate, learners shall be paid at least the same piecework rate and shall receive earnings on such rates if in excess of 25 cents per hour but in no event less than 25 cents per hour.

(4) Experienced workers may not be employed at less than the minimum rate and no learner may be employed at less than the minimum rate unless hired when experienced workers were not available. No learner may be employed under these Certificates until and unless a copy of the certificate is posted and kept posted in a conspicuous place in the plant in which learners are to be employed.

(5) These Certificates expire October 24, 1940, and are subject to cancelation sooner by the Administrator or his authorized representative for cause. These Certificates are issued on representations by the employers that experienced workers are not available and may be canceled as of the date of issue if it is found that they were issued when experienced workers were available and may be canceled prospectively or as of the date of violation if it is found that any of their terms have been violated or that experienced workers have become available. A copy of the employer's certificate must be available at all times for inspection. Altering or attempting to alter any Certificate will render it invalid.

NUMBER OF LEARNERS

Not in excess of three (3) percent of the total number of persons in the learner occupations herein described employed in the plant may be employed under these Certificates unless otherwise indicated hereinbelow opposite the employer's name.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 5805]

NOTICE OF INFORMAL HEARING BEFORE THE COMMISSION EN BANC ON FEBRUARY 28, 1940, IN THE MATTER OF AURAL BROADCASTING ON FREQUENCIES ABOVE 25,000 KC.

Notice is hereby given of the informal hearing before the Commission en banc to be held at the office of the Commission, Washington, D. C., beginning at 10 a. m., February 28, 1940, for the purpose of determining:

(1) Whether aural broadcasting on the frequencies above 25,000 kc has reached such a stage of development that it is acceptable for rendering regular as distinguished from experimental broadcast service to the public;

(2) The relative merits of frequency modulation and amplitude modulation when employed for aural broadcasting on frequencies above 25,000 kc;

(3) The relative merits of wide band and narrow band frequency modulation when employed for aural broadcasting on frequencies above 25,000 kc;

(4) Whether it is possible to allocate sufficient frequencies to accommodate stations employing frequency modulation (narrow or wide band) to provide a satisfactory program service in the United States when considered in the light of the frequency needs of other services, including television, Government, aviation, police, common carrier, amateur, etc.;

(5) Whether it is possible to allocate sufficient frequencies to accommodate stations employing amplitude modulation to provide a satisfactory program service in the United States when considered in the light of the frequency needs of other services, including television, Government, aviation, police, common carrier, amateur, etc.;

(6) Whether it would be practicable for the Commission to authorize both amplitude and frequency modulation for aural broadcasting stations operating on frequencies above 25,000 kc, or whether the Commission should recognize but one of these forms of modulation for such stations;

(7) The possible future effects of ultra high frequency broadcasting upon standard broadcasting on the band 550–1600 kc.;

(8) Whether existing allocations of frequencies above 25,000 kc to particular services shall be modified to provide frequencies for aural broadcasting;

(9) The existing patent situation respecting frequency modulation and amplitude modulation for aural broadcasting stations operating on frequencies above 25,000 kc.

The Commission desires to expedite consideration of the foregoing matters as much as possible so that policies may be formulated for the future licensing of applicants in the aural broadcast field utilizing frequencies above 25,000 kc. However, it is to be noted that no individual applications will be considered at the hearing.

The Commission considers that technical developments in the use of ultra high frequencies for aural broadcasting are sufficient to require consideration of the numerous questions involved, and persons appearing at the hearing should submit data obtained from actual tests and operations and thereby avoid speculative testimony as much as possible. If for the purpose of obtaining additional data for presentation at the hearing, operation not permissible under the outstanding authorization is necessary, then requests for special authorization to carry out such tests will receive the Commission's prompt attention.

Should any party desire to expand the matters herein listed for consideration, application should be made to the Commission for such purpose as soon as possible and not later than February 1, 1940.

Except with the permission of the Chairman, cross examination of each witness will be limited to questions by Commissioners or members of the Commission's technical and legal staffs.

Persons or organizations desiring to appear and testify will notify the Commission of such intention on or before February 1, 1940. In such notification the number of witnesses that will appear, the topic each will discuss and the time expected to be occupied by each witness should be stated. This information is necessary in order to more effectively organize the hearing.

If it is intended to submit written statements, drawings, etc., in connection with the testimony to be given, it is required that ten copies of the same be submitted to the Commission on or before February 23, 1940.

The Commission directed that this notice be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated at Washington, D. C., December 27, 1939.

Secretary.

[Docket No. 5806]

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE COMMISSION EN BANC ON JANUARY 15, 1940, IN THE MATTER OF EXCEPTIONS TO THE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR TELEVISION STATIONS TENTATIVELY ADOPTED BY THE COMMISSION ON DECEMBER 21, 1939, AND TO SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS OF ITS TELEVISION COMMITTEE

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing before the Commission en banc, to be held at the office of the Commission, Washington, D. C., beginning at 10:00 a. m., January 15, 1940, for the purpose of considering exceptions to the Rules and Regulations for Television Stations tentatively adopted by the Commission on December 21, 1939, as well as any exceptions to specific recommendations submitted to the Commission by its Television Committee in its report of November 13, 1939. A copy of the Rules and Regulations, as adopted by the Commission, is attached and made a part of this notice.

All interested parties wishing to be heard should give notice to the Commission not later than January 10, 1940. Each party desiring to participate is requested to cite the specific section of the Rules and Regulations or the specific recommendation of the Television Committee to which exception will be taken, list the witnesses desired to be heard, and estimate the amount of time desired for such participation.

The hearing will be primarily directed to the proposed Rules and Regulations. No individual applications will be considered.

Dated at Washington, D. C., December 27, 1939.

PART 4—VISUAL BROADCAST SERVICE

Sec.
4.61 Defined.

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS

4.71 Defined.
4.72 Licensing requirements, necessary showing.
4.73 Operation.
4.74 Frequency Assignment.
4.75 Power.
4.76 Supplemental report with renewal application.

FACSIMILE BROADCAST STATIONS

4.91 Defined.
4.92 Licensing requirements.
4.93 Charges prohibited; restrictions.
4.94 Frequency assignment.
4.95 Power.
4.96 Supplemental report with renewal application.

§ 4.61 Defined. The term "visual broadcast service" means a service rendered by stations broadcasting images for general public reception. There are two general classes of stations recognized in the visual broadcast service, namely; television broadcast stations and facsimile broadcast stations.

§ 4.71 Defined. The term "television broadcast station" means a station licensed for the transmission of transient visual images of moving or fixed objects for simultaneous reception and reproduction by the general public. The transmission of the synchronized sound (aural broadcast) is considered an essential phase of television broadcast and one license will authorize both visual and aural broadcast as herein set forth.

(a) There shall be two types of experimental television stations, namely, "Experimental Research Stations" and "Experimental Program Stations" which shall be known as Class I and Class II stations, respectively.

§ 4.72 Licensing requirements, necessary showing. (a) A license for a television Class I station will be issued only after a satisfactory showing has been made in regard to the following, among others:

1. That the applicant has a program of research and experimentation in the technical phases of television broadcasting, not requiring a service directly to the public, which indicates reasonable promise of substantial contribution to the development of the television art.

2. That the program of research and experimentation will be conducted by qualified personnel.

3. That the applicant is legally and financially qualified and possesses adequate technical facilities to carry forward the program.

4. That the public interest, convenience and/or necessity will be served through the operation of the proposed station.

(b) A license for a Class II station will be issued only after a satisfactory showing has been made in regard to the following, among others:

(1) That the applicant has a program of experimentation in the television broadcast service including scheduled programs which indicates reasonable promise of substantial contribution to the advancement of television broadcasting as a service to the public.

2. That the program of experimentation will be conducted by qualified personnel.

3. That a minimum scheduled program service of five hours per week will be maintained throughout the license period.[1]

4. That program material is available and will be utilized by the applicant in rendering broadcast service to the public.

5. That the applicant will install and operate adequate transmitting and studio equipment to render a satisfactory service to the public within the designated service area and with the television transmission standards recognized by the Commission for Class II television stations.

6. That the operation with respect to fidelity of transmission, spurious emissions, carrier noise, safety provisions, etc., will be in accordance with the standards of good engineering practice applicable to television broadcasting stations in all phases not otherwise specifically included in these regulations.[2]

7. That operation as proposed by the application will not result in objectionable interference to any other Class II station as determined by the standards of allocation applicable to television broadcast stations.

8. That the applicant is legally and financially qualified and possesses adequate technical facilities to carry forward the program.

9. That the public interest, convenience and/or necessity will be served through the operation of the proposed station.

§ 4.73 Operation—Class I and Class II stations: Charges. (a) No charges either direct or indirect shall be made for either the production or transmission of either aural or visual programs by Class I television stations;

(b) No charges either direct or indirect shall be made for the transmission of either aural or visual programs by Class II television stations; however, Class II television broadcast stations may make charges to cover cost of program production, including advertising material, which programs may be transmitted as an experimental program service but without charge for such transmision;

(c) Quarterly reports shall be made to the Commission by Class II television broadcast stations of the charges and costs as well as of other pertinent information which may be of assistance to the Commission in evaluating the economic feasibility of television broadcasting as a regular service to the public on a commercial basis.

(d) The offering by any person of the facilities of any television broadcast station on a regular commercial basis is prohibited. The limited commercialization permitted under subsection (b) above shall not take precedence over the experimental service, but shall in fact be subordinated to it.

Class I stations—Scope of experimentation, limitations and restrictions. (e) Class I stations shall operate to conduct research and experimentation for the development of the television broadcast art in its technical phases but shall not operate to render regularly scheduled broadcast service to the public.

(f) Class I stations will not be required to adhere to the television transmission standards recognized by the Commission for Class II television stations.

(g) No Class I station shall operate when interference would be caused by such operation to the regularly scheduled broadcast service of a Class II station.

Class II stations—Scope of experimentation; service requirements. (h) Class II stations shall operate to render scheduled television broadcast service for public consumption, and in connection therewith may carry out experiments with respect to program technique, determine power and antenna requirements for satisfactory broadcast service and perform all research and experimentation necessary for the advancement of television broadcasting as a service to the public.

(i) Class II stations shall operate in accordance with the television transmission standards (scanning, synchronization, etc.) which the Commission recognizes for this class of station. The Commission will recognize a modification in these standards upon a showing by the applicant proposing the changes that it will be in the public interest to require all Class II stations to adopt the proposed changes.

(j) Class II stations shall make all equipment changes necessary for rendering the external transmitter performance required by the Commission.

[1] This provision modified Section 4.4 as it applies to Class II television broadcast stations.

[2] The specifications for operation deemed necessary to meet the requirements of good engineering practice as applied to television stations will be published from time to time. These specifications will be altered as the art progresses and upon a showing being made that such changes are desirable in the public interest.

(k) Class II stations shall maintain a minimum scheduled program service of five hours per week throughout the license period. (The Commission may modify this minimum schedule in accordance with the showing on the merits in individual cases.)

(l) In case of failure of a Class II station to render its minimum of scheduled program service per week, the renewal of the license therefor may be refused unless it be shown that the failure of program service was due to causes beyond the control of the licensee.

§ 4.74 Frequency assignment. (a) The following groups of channels are allocated for assignment to television broadcast stations licensed experimentally.

Group A

|---|---|
| Channel #1 | 44,000–50,000 kc |
| 2 | 50,000–56,000 |
| 3 | 66,000–72,000 |
| 4 | 78,000–84,000 |
| 5 | 84,000–90,000 |
| 6 | 96,000–102,000 |
| 7 | 102,000–108,000 |

Group B

|---|---|
| Channel #8 | 156,000–162,000 kc |
| 9 | 162,000–168,000 [1] |
| 10 | 180,000–186,000 |
| 11 | 186,000–192,000 |
| 12 | 204,000–210,000 |
| 13 | 210,000–216,000 [1] |
| 14 | 234,000–240,000 |
| 15 | 240,000–246,000 |
| 16 | 258,000–264,000 |
| 17 | 264,000–270,000 [1] |
| 18 | 282,000–288,000 |
| 19 | 288,000–294,000 |

[1] See Secs. 4.4 (c) and 4.154 (a)

Group C

Any 6000 kc band above 300,000 kc excluding band 400,000 to 401,000 kc

(b) Each Class II television broadcast station will be assigned only one channel from Groups A or B. Class I television stations may be assigned one or more channels as the program of experimentation requires. Both aural and visual carriers with side bands for modulation are authorized but no emission shall result outside the authorized channel. The assignment of a channel to a Class II television broadcast station does not preclude the use of that channel by Class I stations although the Class II television station has priority for the use of the channel for scheduled program service.

(c) Groups B and C may be assigned to television stations to serve auxiliary purposes such as television relay stations and developmental mobile service. No mobile or portable station will be licensed for the purpose of transmitting television programs to the public directly.

(d) The assignment of frequency channels in Group A for Class II television broadcast stations will be limited as follows:[1]

|---|---|
| Cities whose metropolitan districts exceed 1,000,000 population | 3 channels |
| Cities whose metropolitan districts are not less than 500,000 population or more than 1,000,000 population | 2 channels |
| Cities whose metropolitan districts are less than 500,000 population | 1 channel |

(e) A license for only one Class II television station on a channel in Group A will be granted to a person to serve in whole or substantial part the same service area.

(f) No Class II television broadcast station will be assigned a channel in Group A for time sharing operation unless it is shown that the service proposed can not be rendered on a channel in Group B.

§ 4.75 Power. (a) The operating power of a Class I station shall not be in excess of that necessary to carry forward the program of research.

(b) The operating power of a Class II station shall not be in excess of that necessary to provide adequate service to the service area designated for the station.

§ 4.76 Supplemental report with renewal application. A supplemental report shall be filed with and made a part of each application for renewal of license and shall include comprehensive reports on the following:

(a) For Class I television broadcast stations. 1. Number of hours operated.

2. Full data on research and experimentation conducted.

3. Conclusions, tentative and final.

4. Program for further developments of the television broadcast service.

5. All developments and major changes in equipment.

6. Any other pertinent developments.

(b) For Class II television broadcast stations. 1. Number of hours operated during which programs were transmitted classified as studio performances, special events (with appropriate description), films, etc.

2. Studio equipment used and any developments made during the license period.

3. Progress made in the advancement of television broadcasting as a service to the public.

4. Itemized financial data on cost of operation during the license period.

5. Field intensity measurements and visual and aural observations to determine the service area of the station (required for first report only and whenever changes are made which would tend to cause a change in the service area.)

[F. R. Doc. 39-4817; Filed, December 28, 1939; 12:21 p. m.]

[1] This limitation upon the use of the channels for metropolitan districts having different populations can be departed from, providing the applicant shows that no other metropolitan district would be restricted to fewer channels than provided for by the table.

PART 701—1940 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM BULLETIN

SUPPLEMENT NO. 3

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program Bulletin is hereby amended by inserting the following in lieu of paragraph (2) in subsection (b) of Section 701.101[1] to show the State cotton acreage allotments (calculated pursuant to Section 344 (c)(1) and including the additional acreage allotted to counties pursuant to Section 344 (e) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938) established for the purposes of said program:

(2) The State acreage allotments of cotton are as follows:

| State: | Acres |
|---|---|
| Alabama | 2,129,404 |
| Arizona | 189,726 |
| Arkansas | 2,154,551 |

PART 724—BURLEY TOBACCO

I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of, the authority vested in me, by Sec. 312 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, do hereby make the following proclamation:

§ 724.202 Results of referendum. In the referendum of farmers engaged in the production of the 1939 crop of Burley tobacco, conducted by the Secretary of Agriculture on the 21st day of November, 1939, to determine whether such farmers were in favor of or opposed to the national marketing quota for the marketing year beginning October 1, 1940, the total number of votes cast was 118,527; and of the total number so cast 98,741 votes, or 83.3 percent, were in favor of, and 19,786 votes, or 16.7 percent, were opposed to such marketing quota. Therefore, the national marketing quota for the year beginning October 1, 1940, proclaimed by the secretary of Agriculture on the 28th of October 1939, will continued in effect. (Sec. 312, 52 Stat. 46)

Done at Washington, D. C., This 28th day of December, 1939. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY

SUBCHAPTER C—INTERSTATE SHIPMENT OF ANIMALS AND POULTRY

[B.A.I. Administrative Notice 1]

§ 71.11[1] Cresylic disinfectant as permitted disinfectant; specifications. The following specifications will be employed for determining the suitability of cresylic disinfectant for use under the provisions of B.A.I. Order 309, regulation 1, section 6, paragraph 2, item 3:[2]

(a) The product shall remain a uniform liquid when held at 0° C. (32° F.), for 3 hours (chill test).

(b) The product shall dissolve completely in 30 parts of distilled water at 25° C. (77° F.) within 2 minutes (solution-rate test), producing a solution entirely free from globules and not more than faintly opalescent (solubility-degree test).

(c) The product shall contain not more than 25 percent of inert ingredients (water and glycerin), not more excess alkali than the equivalent of 0.5 percent of sodium hydroxide, and not less than 21 percent of soap exclusive of water, glycerin, and excess alkali.

(d) The product shall contain not less than 50 percent and not more than 53 percent of total phenols. It shall contain less than 5 percent of benzophenol ($C_6H_5OH$).

The methods of determining compliance with the above specifications will be those described in United States Department of Agriculture Bulletin 1308, Chemical and Physical Methods for the Control of Saponified Cresol Solutions, so far as they are applicable.

Any suitable glyceride, fat acid, or resin acid may be used in preparing the soap, but not all are suitable nor are all grades of a single product equally suitable. Also various grades of commercial cresylic acid differ in suitability. Therefore, manufacturers are cautioned to prepare a trial laboratory batch from every set of ingredients and to prove its conformity with specifications (a) and (b) above, before proceeding with manufacture on a factory scale.

This notice, which is based on B.A.I. Order 309, regulation 1, section 6, paragraph 2, item 3, as amended by amendment 4 dated November 15, 1939,[3] shall be effective on and after January 2, 1940. It supersedes Circular Letter 1369. The specifications herein differ from those contained in Circular Letter 1369 in that the name of the product and the minimum specifications therefor now conform with Commercial Standard CS71–38 of the National Bureau of Standards.

[SEAL] J. R. MOHLER,

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF CUSTOMS

[T. D. 50053]

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS AMENDED

ARTICLES 148, 220, 303, 387, 714, 715, 716, 717, 766, 801, AND 1233 OF THE CUSTOMS REGULATIONS OF 1937 AMENDED[1]

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

The Customs Regulations of 1937[2] are hereby amended as follows:

Paragraph (c) of article 148 [Sec. 2.19 (c)] is amended by deleting the words

[1] This document affects 19 CFR 2.19, 3.1, 6.20, 7.21, 11.18, 11.19, 11.20, 11.21, 11.49, 13.1, and 22.18.
[2] 2 F.R. 1444, 1562, 1643.
[3] 4 F.R. 4596 DI.

"shall be made by the party in interest" and substituting therefor the words "may be required by the collector". (Secs. 447, 624, 46 Stat. 714, 759; 19 U.S.C. 1447, 1624.)

Article 220 [Sec. 3.1], as amended by T.D. 49658,[3] is further amended by redesignating paragraphs (c) and (d) as paragraphs (d) and (e), respectively, and inserting a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

(c) [Sec. 3.1 (b)] When entry is filed the permit to release may be accepted as the permit to unlade or to proceed farther inland. When discharge or landing of any merchandise, passengers, or baggage is desired before entry is made, a permit to unlade on customs Form 3851 or customs Form 3853–A shall be required. (Sec. 459, 46 Stat. 717, sec. 10 (a), 52 Stat. 1082; 19 U.S.C. 1459 and Sup. IV. Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624)

Article 303 [Sec. 6.20] is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

(c) [Sec. 6.20] Such certificate shall be filed in duplicate and the collector shall securely attach both copies thereof to the invoice and summary sheet. Such documents shall be sent to the appraiser who shall note on the duplicate copy of the certificate, when the initial advance cited by the importer was made at the same port, whether the importer's citation of the pending case is correct. If such citation is erroneous, the proper one should be indicated thereon. The duplicate copy of the certificate, with the name of the port of entry endorsed thereon, shall be detached from the invoice and summary sheet and forwarded, together with a notice list on customs Form 6447, to the Assistant Attorney General, Reappraisement Division, 201 Varick Street, New York, N. Y., at the time the invoice, summary sheet, and original certificate are returned to the collector. (Secs. 503 (b), 624, 46 Stat. 731, 759; 19 U.S.C. 1503 (b), 1624)

Paragraph (a) of article 387 [Sec. 7.21 (a)] is amended to read as follows:

(a) Articles imported into the United States from foreign countries may be exported in the registered or ordinary Postal Union (regular) mails or in registered, insured, or ordinary parcel post, without the payment of duties that may have accrued thereon, provided the articles have remained continuously in the custody of the Government (customs or postal authorities), and provided the packages containing such articles are inspected and mailed under customs supervision. An appropriate receipt or certificate of mailing (postal) for each package shall be delivered to the customs officer to be attached to his report of the shipment. (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

[3] 3 F.R. 1808 DI.

The center heading above article 714 [Sec. 11.18] is amended by adding thereto the words "AND SIRUPS".

Article 714 [Sec. 11.18] is amended by inserting "or sirups" after the word "molasses" wherever it appears in said article, and by inserting the following before the period at the end of the second sentence:

and stating accurately the distance between the calibrated part of the tank and any fixed gauging point that may have been established atop the tank. (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

Article 715 [Sec. 11.19] is amended by inserting "or sirup" after the word "molasses" wherever it appears in said article. (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

Article 716 [Sec. 11.20] is amended to read as follows:

ART. 716 [Sec. 11.20] Tank gauging. (a) The report of the gauging of the molasses or sirup shall show the number of gallons of such molasses or sirup and the temperature thereof in degrees centigrade at the time of gauging. Report as to gauge and temperature shall be made to the examiner (customs Form 5991). When a fixed gauge point has been established atop any tank and an accurate statement of the distance between such gauge point and the calibrated part of the tank is on file in the customhouse, as provided in article 714 [Sec. 11.18], the amount of molasses or sirup in any such tank must be measured by one of the two methods described in paragraph (b). In the event a tank has no such established gauge point the amount of molasses or sirup in the tank must be measured by the second method described in paragraph (b).

(b) The two methods of gauging are as follows:

1. Outage (ullage) method. A steel tape graduated in inches and eighths of inches with plumb bob attached is lowered from the gauge point atop the tank to below the surface of the liquid in the tank. The measurement shown on the tape at the gauge point is then noted and such measurement, less the length of the tape which was wet by immersion in the liquid, represents the distance from the surface of the liquid to the gauge point. Deduct from this measurement the distance from the gauge point to the top of the calibrated part of the tank and the result is the "ullage" or depth of the unfilled part of the tank. Deduct the "ullage" or depth of the unfilled part of the tank from the established height of the calibrated part of the tank and the result is the depth of the liquid in the tank.

2. Innage method. The depth of the liquid in the tank is measured with a sectional steel rod having a removable brass scale expressed in inches and eighths of inches. The rod is let down until it touches bottom. The figure at the wet part of the brass scale is then read and the depth of the liquid is determined.

(c) If there is foam present the gauging, under either method, shall be made with the use of a "foam can" which shall be furnished by the owners or operators of the tanks to be gauged. The "foam can" shall be of sufficient length and weight to penetrate through the foam into the molasses and shall be of sufficient width or diameter to allow for the free passage of the plumb bob or gauging rod. There shall be a removable plug at the bottom of the can so that when the can has penetrated through the foam into the molasses this plug may be removed to permit the molasses to flow into the can to the level of the molasses in the tank, the sides of the can excluding the foam. The top of the can shall be fitted with suitable hooks for attaching ropes for lowering. When the foam can is used, the plumb bob or gauging rod is lowered through the can and the gauge is registered without the presence of the foam. This procedure shall be followed on immediate gauging as well as gauging after the lapse of the 20-day period in all cases where foam is present. No allowance shall be made for occluded air or other gases in the body of the molasses or sirup. The depth of the imported molasses or sirup having been ascertained in inches, the result will be multiplied by the number of gallons per inch in height previously ascertained when the storage tank was measured empty. (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

Article 717 [Sec. 11.21] is amended by inserting "or sirup" after the word "molasses" wherever it appears in said article. (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

Article 766 [Sec. 11.49] is amended by deleting paragraph (c) (2) [Sec. 11.49 (c) (2)] and redesignating paragraph (c) (3) [Sec. 11.49 (c) (3)] as paragraph (c) (2) [Sec. 11.49 (c) (2)]. (Pars. 1101–1104: sec. 1, 46 Stat. 646, 647; 19 U.S.C. 1001)

Paragraph (e) of article 801 [Sec. 13.1 (e)] is deleted. (Sec. 563 (a), 46 Stat. 746; 19 U.S.C. 1563 (a)).

Paragraphs (d), (e), (g), and (i) of article 1233 [Sec. 22.18 (d), (e), (g), and (i)] are amended to read as follows, respectively:

(d) [Sec. 22.18 (d)] Carriers of merchandise must purchase quantity supplies of "in bond" and "in transit" seals directly from the approved manufacturers of these seals. Carriers may purchase small emergency supplies of "in bond" and "in transit" seals from collectors of customs who are authorized to keep a supply of these seals on hand for official use and for sale. Orders for the purchase of quantity supplies of "in bond" and "in transit" seals shall be prepared by the carrier and shall specify the kind and quantity of seals desired, the name of the port at which they are to be used, and the name and address of the consignee to whom the seals are to be shipped. Each order shall be confined to seals for use at one port, and shall be forwarded to the collector of customs at the headquarters port of the customs district in which the port is located, who will submit the order, with his recommendation as to the need for the seals ordered, to the Bureau of Customs for authorization and transmission to the manufacturer, if approved.

(e) [Sec. 22.18 (e)] Collectors of customs shall requisition their supplies of "in bond", "in transit", and "customs" seals on Purchase Authority Form 1, which must be forwarded to the Bureau for approval. The requisition shall specify the number and kind of seals desired and shall give the name of the headquarters port which is to be stamped on the seals.

(g) [Sec. 22.18 (g)] Seals furnished various ports in the collection district from the supply maintained at the headquarters port shall be stamped with the name of the headquarters port and an accurate record of the quantity and kind of seals transferred, including the symbol or serial numbers of the seals, shall be maintained at both the sending and receiving ports.

(i) [Sec. 22.18 (i)] "In bond" seals may be purchased only by customs bonded carriers; "in transit" seals may be purchased by bonded and other carriers of merchandise; uncolored "customs" seals may not be purchased by private interests and may be furnished for authorized use without charge. "In bond" and "in transit" seals sold by collectors of customs shall be charged for at the rate of 5 cents per seal. Proceeds from the sale of "in bond" and "in transit" seals shall be accounted for as "miscellaneous receipts" and shall be deposited under symbol No. 7820, "sale of equipment." (Sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759; 19 U.S.C. 1624. R.S. 251; 19 U.S.C. 66)

§ 501.1 Citation. These Regulations may be cited and referred to as "Regulations effective January 1, 1940, of the Federal Housing Administrator governing the insurance of qualified lending institutions against loss resulting from Class 1 and Class 2 loans made under the provisions of Title I, Section 2, of the National Housing Act, as amended."† [Reg. I]

§ 501.2 Definitions. As used in these Regulations—

(a) The term "owner" includes, in addition to owners in fee, life tenants and persons holding an equity under a mortgage, trust or contract.

(b) The term "note" includes a note, bond, mortgage, or other evidence of indebtedness.

(c) The term "payment" includes a deposit to an account or fund.

(d) The term "installment payment" includes that deposit to an account or fund which represents the partial repayment of an advance of credit.

(e) The term "loan" includes any loan, advance of credit, or purchase of an obligation representing a loan or advance of credit for the purpose of financing eligible repairs, alterations or improvements as authorized by the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939, and by these Regulations.

(f) The term "Administrator" means the Federal Housing Administrator.

(g) The term "borrower" means one who is an eligible owner or lessee of real property to be improved pursuant to the provisions of the Act and who applies for and receives an advance of credit in reliance upon the provisions of the Act.

(h) The term "Act" means the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939.

(i) The term "Contract of Insurance" includes all of the provisions of these Regulations and of the applicable provisions of the Act.

(j) The term "insured institution" means any bank, trust company, personal finance company, mortgage company, building and loan association, installment lending company or other such financial institution which the Administrator has found to be qualified by experience or facilities and has approved as eligible for credit insurance and to which he has issued a Contract of Insurance effective July 1, 1939.

(k) The term "Class 1 loan" means any loan which is for the purpose of financing the repair, alteration or improvement of an existing structure or of the real property in connection therewith, exclusive of the building of new structures.

(l) The term "Class 2 (a) loan" means any loan which is for the purpose of financing the construction of a new structure which is not to be used in whole or in part either for residential or agricultural purposes.

(m) The term "Class 2 (b) loan" means any loan which is for the purpose of financing the construction of a new structure for use in whole or in part for agricultural purposes.

(n) The term "Class 2 loan" includes both "Class 2 (a)" and "Class 2 (b)" loans as defined in paragraphs (l) and (m) of this section.

(o) The term "Administration" means Federal Housing Administration.*† [Reg. II]

§ 501.3 Eligible notes. Promissory notes in order to be eligible for insurance:

(a) Shall bear the genuine signature, as maker, of an owner of the real property to be improved or of a lessee thereof under a lease expiring not less than six calendar months after the maturity of the loan or advance of credit.

(b) Shall be in a form which is valid and enforceable in the jurisdiction in which they are issued.

(c) Shall be payable in equal monthly, semi-monthly or weekly installments. The final installment may be slightly more or less than the other installments, subject to such exceptions as may be made by the Administrator. Notes may not provide for a first payment less than six days nor more than two calendar months from the date of the note. However, if fifty-one percent or more of the income of the maker is derived directly from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities, or livestock produced by him, a note may be made payable in installments corresponding to income periods shown on the credit statement. In such cases, the first payment must be made within twelve months of the date of the note and at least one payment must be made during each calendar year thereafter and the proportion of total principal to be paid in later years must not exceed the proportion of total principal payable in earlier years.

(d) Shall contain a provision for acceleration of maturity, either automatic or at the option of the holder, in the event of default in the payment or any installment upon the due date thereof.

(e) Shall not have a final maturity in excess of three years and thirty-two days from the date thereof in the case of Class 1 and Class 2 (a) loans, nor in excess of ten years and thirty-two days in the case of Class 2 (b) loans, provided that Class 2 (b) loans secured by a first mortgage, first deed of trust, or other security instrument constituting a first lien upon the improved property may have a final maturity not in excess of fifteen years and one calendar month.

(f) May provide for a late charge, to be paid by the maker, not to exceed five cents (5¢) for each $1.00 of each installment more than fifteen days in arrears. In lieu of late charges, notes may provide for interest on past due installments at a rate not in excess of the contract rate in the jurisdiction in which the note is drawn. No late charge or interest on a past due installment may be accrued in excess of $5.00. The borrower must be billed for the penalties collected as such, and evidence of such billing must be in the file if claim is made under the Contract of Insurance.

(g) May be in a series provided each is of an equal amount as provided in this section and that each note indicates on its face that it is one of a series signed by the same maker.*† [Reg. III]

§ 501.4 Maximum loan. (a) A loan shall not involve a principal amount, exclusive of financing charges to the borrower in excess of $2,500.

(b) No loan shall increase the principal amount outstanding at any one time, on all loans made under Title I of the Act effective July 1, 1939 with respect to any one piece of property to an amount in excess of $2,500 exclusive of financing charges to the borrower.

(c) One borrower may obtain any number of loans to improve any number of separate pieces of property, subject to the credit requirements contained in Section 501.6.*† [Reg. IV]

§ 501.5 Maximum permissible financing charges. (a) The maximum permissible financing charge which may be paid by the borrower for interest, discount and fees of all kinds in connection with the transaction may not be in excess of an amount equivalent to $5.00 discount per $100 original face amount of a one-year note, to be paid in equal monthly installments, calculated from the date of the note. Such charges correctly based on tables of calculations issued by the Federal Housing Administrator are deemed to comply with this section.

(b) If the insured institution in purchasing a note takes the maximum charge permitted by this section, but employs a "holdback" and does not advance the entire proceeds of the note to the seller, it shall calculate its financing charge on the amount advanced and credit to the account of the seller the difference between the financing charge calculated on the face amount of the note and the financing charge calculated on the amount advanced.

(c) The acceptance of a voluntary payment of one or more installments prior to due date shall not be construed as increasing the maximum permissible financing charge as provided in paragraph (a) of this section. However, if the entire balance outstanding on the loan is paid in advance the insured institution must make a rebate as follows:

If the maximum permissible financing charge in connection with the transaction is in an amount equivalent to $5.00 discount as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, the insured institution shall make a rebate at a rate not less than 5% per annum of the amounts so paid in advance of their due dates. If a lesser charge has been taken, the rebate shall be at not less than a proportional rate.

(d) An increase in the ratio of the charge to the average amount outstanding on the debt over the maximum provided in this Regulation, which increase results from the first payment falling due less than thirty days after the date of the note as provided in § 503.3, shall not be deemed to be in conflict with this section.*† [Reg. V]

§ 501.6 Credits. (a) The insured institution shall obtain a signed and dated Credit Statement-Application from the borrower, on a form approved by the Administrator. The Credit Statement-Application must, in the judgment of the insured institution, clearly show the borrower to be solvent with reasonable ability to pay the obligation and in other respects a reasonable credit risk.

(b) A separate Credit Statement-Application is required in connection with each loan made or note purchased.

(c) An insured institution acting in good faith may rely upon the statements of the borrower who signs the Credit Statement-Application. The Administrator does not place upon the insured institution the burden of verifying the truth of any such statements. Even if such statements are investigated after the loan is made and found to be false, this will not affect in any way the eligibility of the note for insurance. However, any borrower making false statement or misusing the funds, or any dealer, contractor, or lender who knowingly assists in such a violation, may be committing a Federal offense and will be subject to the penal provisions of the National Housing Act. In all cases where the insured institution discovers a material misstatement in the Credit Statement-Application, or misuse of the funds, it must promptly report such a discovery to the Administrator.

(d) A loan shall not be made to a borrower who is delinquent at the time the loan is made, as to either principal or interest, with respect to an obligation owing to or insured by any department or agency of the Federal Government.

(e) The prior credit approval of the Administrator shall be obtained on all loans which increase the net amount outstanding, exclusive of financing charges, to any individual borrower to an amount in excess of $2,500 with respect to any obligation incurred pursuant to the provisions of Title I of the National Housing Act since July 1, 1939.*† [Reg. VI]

§ 501.7 Eligible improvements. (a) A loan must be for the purpose of financing eligible improvements within the United States, its Territories and Possessions, commenced on or after July 1, 1939 and prior to July 1, 1941, in reliance upon the credit facilities afforded by Title I of the National Housing Act as approved June 3, 1939.

(b) The proceeds of a loan shall be used only to finance alterations, repairs and improvements upon urban, suburban or rural real property (including the restoration, rehabilitation, rebuilding and replacement of such improvements which have been damaged or destroyed by earthquake, conflagration, tornado, cyclone, flood or other catastrophe).

(c) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used to finance the cost of completing an unfinished structure.

(d) The proceeds of a Class 1 loan shall be used only to finance the cost of alterations, repairs and improvements upon or in connection with existing structures. The term "existing structure" means a completed building that has or had a distinctive functional use.

(e) The proceeds of a Class 2 loan shall not be used to supplement another loan or advance of credit not reported for insurance, the payment of which is secured by a prior lien created in connection with the building of such new structure.

(f) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used for the purchase of land.

(g) The proceeds of a loan may be used to pay for architectural and engineering services performed in connection with eligible alterations, repairs or improvements financed in accordance with these Regulations.

(h) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used for the purpose of refinancing existing obligations not previously reported for insurance pursuant to these Regulations.

(i) Where any doubt exists as to the eligibility of a transaction which is to be financed with an insured loan, the

(b) For the purpose of this section, if there are two or more eligible borrowers involved in the transaction only one signature is required on the Completion Certificate or Authorization Form.*† [Reg. VIII]

§ 501.9 Refinancing. (a) New obligations to liquidate loans previously reported for insurance pursuant to Title I of the Act effective July 1, 1939 which may or may not include an additional amount advanced will be covered by insurance, provided:

(1) They meet the requirements of all applicable regulations;

(2) Are reported to the Administrator on the proper form within 31 days from date of execution;

(3) Have a maturity not in excess of the maximum permitted under these Regulations from the date of the original obligation;

(4) If an additional advance is made, the full unearned charge on the original note shall be refunded to the borrower;

(5) If no additional advance is made, the full unearned charge on the original note shall be refunded to the borrower, except that a handling charge not in excess of $2.00 may be assessed to the borrower;

(6) They are evidenced by notes which meet with the requirements of § 501.3 and other applicable Regulations.

(b) An agreement to defer payments on a note previously reported for insurance under these Regulations without rewriting the note will not affect the insurance coverage on the loan provided:

(1) That such agreement is evidenced in writing;

(2) That payments shall not be deferred for more than five months from the due date of the last fully-paid installment;

(3) That such agreement shall not extend the final maturity of the obligation beyond the maturity date of the obligation as provided by its original terms;

(4) That if the lending institution assesses the borrower for the cost of such deferment, such charge may not be in excess of an equivalent amount of late charges as provided in Section 501.3 (f) *† [Reg. IX]

§ 501.10 Report of loans. Loans shall be reported on the proper form to the Federal Housing Administration at Washington, D. C., within 31 days from the date of the note or date upon which it was purchased. Any loan refinanced as provided in § 501.9 shall likewise be reported on the proper form within 31 days from the date of refinancing.*† [Reg. X]

§ 501.11 Claims. (a) Claim for reimbursement for loss on a qualified loan shall be made as provided in this paragraph.

(1) Claim for reimbursement for loss on a qualified loan may be made to the Administrator after default on any installment, provided demand has been made upon the debtor for the full unpaid balance.

(2) For the purpose of this paragraph, any payment received on an account, including payments on a judgment predicated thereon, shall be applied to the earliest unpaid installment, and whenever any installment is six months in arrears claim shall be made within 31 days.

(3) In the case of yearly installment notes, whenever an installment is twelve months in arrears claim must be made within 31 days thereafter.

(4) Upon presentation to him of the facts of a particular case within the allowable claim period prescribed in this paragraph, the Administrator may, in his discretion, extend the time within which claim must be made.

(b) Subject to § 501.12, claim may be made only for loss sustained by the insured institution itself, and may include:

(1) Net unpaid amount of advance actually made or the actual purchase price of the note, whichever is the lesser;

(2) Uncollected earned interest (after default interest is not to be claimed at a rate to exceed 4% per annum and will be calculated to the date the claim is approved for payment);

(3) Uncollected court costs, including fees paid for issuing, serving and filing summons;

(4) Attorney's fees not exceeding 15% of the amount collected by the attorney on the defaulted note;

(5) Handling fee of $5 for each loan, if judgment is secured, plus 5% of amounts collected subsequent to return of unsatisfied property execution.

(6) An insured institution may not waive its claim against the borrower for attorney fees and subsequently call upon the Administrator for payment of such an item.

(c) Claim shall be made on a form provided by the Administrator, filled out completely and executed in duplicate by a duly qualified officer of the insured institution. If the Regulations have been complied with, payment of the loss will be made on audit of the claim and upon proper assignment to the United States of America, of the note upon which the loss occurred, together with any security taken to secure payment thereof. Any security or judgment taken must be assigned, and if any claim has been filed in bankruptcy, insolvency or probate proceedings, such claim shall likewise be assigned to the United States of America.

(d) Where a real estate mortgage, deed of trust, or a conditional sales contract, chattel mortgage or any other security device has been used to secure the payment of loans for eligible purposes, the insured institution may not both proceed against such security and also make claim under its Contract of Insurance, but shall elect which method it desires to pursue. If claim is made, such security device shall be assigned, in its entirety, to the United States of America. If the security taken is non-assignable, all rights in such security shall be exhausted by the insured institution or the claim against the Administrator reduced by the full face amount of the security taken before claim will be paid by the Administrator.

(e) The following form of assignment properly dated shall be used in assigning a note, judgment, real estate mortgage, deed of trust, conditional sales contract, chattel mortgage or any other security device in event of claim:

All right, title and interest of the undersigned is hereby assigned (without warranty, except that the note qualifies for insurance) to the United States of America.

§ 501.12 Insurance reserve. (a) Subject to the limitation that his total liability which may be outstanding at any one time plus the amount of claims paid in respect of all insurance heretofore and hereafter granted shall not exceed $100,000,000, the Administrator, in accordance with § 501.11, will reimburse any insured institution for losses sustained by it up to a total aggregate amount equal to 10% of the total amount advanced by it with respect to Class 1, Class 2, and Class 3 loans during the time its Contract of Insurance is in force, on all eligible obligations previously reported for insurance, taken or purchased by it on and after July 1, 1939, and held by it, or on which it remains liable.

(b) If the obligations previously reported for insurance under Contracts of Insurance issued pursuant to the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939, are sold to another insured institution endorsed with or without recourse, the buying and selling institutions may agree, with the prior approval of the Administrator, to transfer all or any part of the insurance reserve standing to the credit of the selling institution, to the purchasing institution. Where the parties agree to transfer an insurance reserve in excess of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or in excess of 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser, the entire insurance reserve transferred may be used to pay only those claims arising out of defaults occurring in the transferred obligations. When the obligations so transferred have all been fully paid to the purchasing institution, it shall so notify the Administrator, and any insurance reserve remaining unused shall thereupon revert to the institution from which it was originally transferred.

(c) Where the parties agree to transfer an insurance reserve not in excess of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or not in excess of 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser, the insurance reserve so transferred will be credited to the general reserve of the purchasing institution in the absence of any agreement to the contrary between the purchasing and selling institutions.

(d) The transfer of insurance reserve in cases of merger or consolidation of two or more insured institutions, or of an insured with an uninsured institution, will be provided for by the Administrator in accordance with the facts of the particular case.

(e) In all cases involving the transfer of insured obligations, the reports required by § 501.10 must be filed and shall indicate the intent of the parties with regard to the transfer of the insurance reserve, and must show that no note to be transferred is delinquent more than one calendar month at the time of such transfer.

(f) Where the notes are transferred without recourse, guarantee, or repurchase agreement and the reports do not indicate the intent of the parties, the insurance reserve will be transferred to the general reserve of the purchasing institution on the basis of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser.

(g) Where the transfer of the obligations is with recourse or under a guarantee or purchase agreement and the required reports do not show the intent of the parties, no insurance reserve will be transferred.

(h) The selling price on the transfer of an insured note between insured institutions will not affect the insurance on the note. The calculation of insured loss will be based on the original transaction of the institution first reporting the loan for insurance.

(i) Where notes reported for insurance by one insured institution are pledged to another insured institution as security for a loan, an assignment of the pledging institution's insurance reserve may be made with the prior consent of the Administrator provided requests for such consent are accompanied by a signed agreement between the two institutions.

(j) Amounts which may be salvaged by the Administrator with respect to a loan in connection with which an institution has been reimbursed under its Contract of Insurance shall not be added to the insurance reserve remaining to the credit of such institution.*† [Reg. XII]

§ 501.13 Insurance charge. (a) Insured institutions shall pay to the Administrator an insurance charge equal to three-fourths of 1 per centum per annum of the net proceeds of any loan reported for insurance for the entire term of such loan.

(b) The insurance charge so calculated shall be paid by check or draft to the order of the Federal Housing Administrator, within 25 days after the date the Administrator acknowledges receipt to the insured institution of the report of loan.

(c) When the proceeds of any loan are used to liquidate a loan previously reported for insurance under these Regulations, there shall be deducted from the amount of the insurance charge the pro rata share of the insurance charge paid on the original obligation.

(d) There shall not be refunded any portion of the insurance charge paid by the insured institution with respect to any loan, unless it is subsequently found to have been in whole or in part ineligible for insurance, in which event the insurance charge paid with respect to the ineligible portion of the advance shall be refunded by the Administrator to the insured institution.

(e) The purchaser of an insured obligation shall not be required to pay the insurance charge provided in this section with respect to the insurance of any obligation transferred under the provisions of § 501.12 with respect to which an insurance charge has previously been paid by the seller, and no refund shall be made to the seller as to any part of the insurance charge previously paid with respect to any obligation so transferred. Any adjustments of the insurance charge paid with respect to the insurance of any obligation transferred shall be made between the purchaser and the seller.

(f) The insurance charge paid by the insured institution shall not be charged to the borrower if such charge would cause the total payments made by the borrower to exceed the maximum permissible amount which may be charged to the borrower for interest, discount and all other charges in connection with the transaction.

(g) Subject to the other provisions of these Regulations, the insurance granted under Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, shall be effective with respect to any loan from the date of the report thereof to the Administrator provided that the insurance charge with respect to such loan has been paid as required by this section.*† [Reg. XIII]

§ 501.14 Administrative reports and examination. The Administrator, in his discretion, may at any time or from time to time call for a report from any institution on the delinquency status of the obligations held by such institution and reported for insurance, or call for such reports as he may deem to be necessary in connection with these Regulations, or he or his authorized representative may inspect the books or accounts of the lending institution as they pertain to the loans reported for insurance.*† [Reg. XIV]

§ 501.15 Amendments. These Regulations may be amended by the Administrator at any time and from time to time, in whole or in part, but such amendment shall not affect the insurance with respect to any loan made or obligation purchased prior to the issuance of such amendment.*† [Reg. XV]

§ 501.16 Effective date. These Regulations are effective as to all Class 1 and Class 2 loans, advances of credit or purchases made after Jauary 1, 1940 pursuant to the provisions of Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, and shall have the same force and effect as if included in and made a part of each Contract of Insurance.*† [Reg. XVI]

§ 502.1 Citation. These Regulations may be cited and referred to as "Regulations effective January 1, 1940 of the Federal Housing Administrator governing the insurance of qualified lending institutions against loss resulting from Class 3 loans made under the provisions of Title I, Section 2, of the National Housing Act, as amended."*† [Reg. I]

§ 502.2 Definitions. As used in these Regulations—

(a) The term "Act" means the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939.

(b) The term "Administration" means Federal Housing Administration.

(c) The term "Administrator" means the Federal Housing Administrator.

(d) The term "Contract of Insurance" includes all of the provisions of these Regulations and of the applicable provisions of the Act.

(e) The term "insured institution" means any bank, trust company, personal finance company, mortgage company, building and loan association, installment lending company or other such financial institution which the Administrator has found to be qualified by experience of facilities and has approved as eligible for credit insurance and to which he has issued a Contract of Insurance.

(f) The terms "loan" and "Class 3 loan" mean any loan which is for the purpose of financing the construction of a new structure to be used in whole or in part for residential purposes.

(g) The term "borrower" means one who is an eligible owner or lessee of real property upon which a new structure is to be or has been constructed pursuant to the provisions of the Act and these Regulations and who applies for and receives an advance of credit in reliance upon the provisions of the Act and these Regulations.

(h) The term "payment" includes a deposit to an account or fund.

(i) The term "installment payment" includes that deposit to an account or fund which represents the partial repayment of an advance of credit.

(j) The term "note" includes a note, bond, mortgage, deed of trust, or other evidence of indebtedness or security instrument.

(k) The term "discount loan" means a loan made on a discount, gross charge or non-interest bearing basis.

(l) The term "interest bearing loan" means a loan represented by a note payable in monthly installments bearing simple interest on the principal outstanding from time to time.

(m) The term "Class 3 structure" means a structure, the construction of which is financed with the proceeds of an eligible Class 3 loan.*† [Reg. II]

§ 502.3 Eligible borrowers. A borrower in order to be eligible for a Class 3 loan:

(a) Shall be (1) the fee simple owner of unencumbered land upon which the new structure is to be built or (2) the lessee of such unencumbered land under a lease from the United States Government for a term of at least six months beyond the maturity of the loan or (3) the lessee of such unencumbered land under a lease having a term of at least thirty years to run from the date of the note and providing for annual rental not in excess of 6% of the valuation placed upon the unimproved land by the insured institution and containing a provision which will entitle the lessee to obtain the fee simple title to such land upon payment at any time after one months written notice of a sum not in excess of the amount of such annual rental multiplied by 16⅔, or (4) the lessee of such unencumbered land under a lease for not less than 99 years which is renewable.

(b) Shall establish to the satisfaction of the insured institution by certification on the Credit Statement-Application provided for in § 502.6 that after the mortgage, deed of trust or similar instrument has been recorded, the property will be free and clear of all liens other than such mortgage, deed of trust or similar instrument, except taxes and ground rents not due and payable and special assessments not in arrears, and that in addition to the loan he has an investment in the property in cash, in land, or an interest in the land in an amount equal to 5% of the appraised value of the completed property as determined under Section 502.9 (a).

(c) Shall meet with the credit requirements set forth in § 502.6.*† [Reg. III]

§ 502.4 Eligible improvements. (a) A loan must be for the purpose of financing the construction of a Class 3 structure and appurtenances thereto which conforms with the minimum construction requirements and property standard prescribed by the Administrator and which is approved by the Administrator as to architectural design, physical characteristics and location, and which is within the United States, its Territories and Possessions and which is commenced on or after July 1, 1939 and prior to July 1, 1941, in reliance upon the credit facilities afforded by Title I of the National Housing Act as approved June 3, 1939.

(b) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used to finance the cost of completing an unfinished structure, unless the unfinished structure was begun under a Class 3 loan, in which case the total of all loans shall not exceed $2,500.

(c) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used to supplement another loan or advance of credit not reported for insurance.

(d) The proceeds of a loan may be used to pay for architectural and engineering services and builder's profit in connection with the building of new structures financed in accordance with these Regulations.

(e) The proceeds of a loan shall not be used for the purpose of refinancing existing obligations not previously made or reported for insurance pursuant to these Regulations.

(f) Where any doubt exists as to the eligibility of a transaction which is to be financed with an insured loan, the facts of the case should be submitted to the Administrator for a decision and ruling.*† [Reg. IV]

§ 502.5 Maximum loan. (a) The amount of advance actually made to the borrower on any loan shall not be in excess of $2,500.

(b) No such loan shall increase the principal amount outstanding at any one time on all loans made under Title I of the National Housing Act effective July 1, 1939, with respect to any one structure or piece of property to an amount in excess of $2,500.

*§§ 502.1 to 502.17, inclusive, issued under the authority contained in Public, No. 111—76th Congress (H. R. 5323), Section 2.

†The source of §§ 502.1 to 502.17, inclusive, is regulations governing Class 3 Property Improvement loans under Sec. 2, Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, effective January 1, 1940.

(c) One borrower may obtain any number of loans to improve any number of separate pieces of property, subject to the credit requirements contained in § 502.6.*† [Reg. V]

§ 502.6 Credits. (a) The insured institution shall obtain a signed and dated Credit Statement-Application from the borrower on a form approved by the Administrator. The Credit Statement-Application must, in the judgment of the insured institution, clearly show the borrower to be solvent with reasonable ability to pay the obligation and in other respects a reasonable credit risk.

(b) A separate Credit Statement-Application is required in connection with each loan made or note purchased.

(c) An insured institution acting in good faith may rely upon the statements of the borrower who signs the Credit Statement-Application. The Administrator does not place upon the insured institution the burden of verifying the truth of any such statements. Even if such statements are investigated after the loan is made and found to be false, this will not affect in any way the eligibility of the note for insurance. However, any borrower making such false statements or misusing the funds, or any dealer, contractor, or lender who knowingly assists in such a violation, may be committing a Federal offense and will be subject to the penal provisions of the National Housing Act. In all cases where the insured institution discovers a material misstatement in the Credit Statement-Application or misuse of the funds, it must promptly report such a discovery to the Administrator.

(d) A loan shall not be made if the records of the lender or the Credit Statement-Application indicate that the borrower is delinquent as to either principal or interest, with respect to an obligation owing to or insured by any Department or agency of the Federal Government.*† [Reg. VI]

§ 502.7 Eligible interest bearing loans. (a) In order to be eligible for insurance an interest bearing loan shall be secured by collateral security in the form of a duly recorded first mortgage, first deed of trust or similar instrument which constitutes a first lien upon a fee simple or leasehold interest in the land and buildings, appurtenances and improvements thereon and which:

(1) Is in a form approved by the Administrator for use in the jurisdiction in which the property covered by the mortgage, deed of trust, or similar instrument is situated and involves a principal amount not in excess of $2,500.

(2) Shall provide for interest at such rate as may be agreed upon between the borrower and the insured institution but in no case shall such interest be in excess of 4½% per annum on the outstanding principal. Interest and principal shall be payable in monthly installments (or other periodic installments as provided in subsection (k) of this Section. In the event interest is payable in installments corresponding to the income periods shown on the Credit Statement-Application, such interest payments may be required in advance for each such installment period). The mortgage may provide that the borrower shall pay in addition to interest an annual service charge at such rate as may be agreed upon between the borrower and the insured institution but in no case shall such service charge exceed one half of one per cent per annum on the outstanding balances. Any such service charge shall be payable on the installment payment dates.

(3) May provide for payments by the borrower to the insured institution on each installment payment date of an amount equal to the annual insurance charge payable by the insured institution to the Administrator, divided by the number of installment payment dates to elapse prior to the date such charge is due and payable to the Administrator.

(4) Shall provide for such equal payments by the borrower to the insured institution on each installment payment date as will amortize the ground rents, if any, and the estimated amount of all taxes, special assessments, if any, and fire and other hazard insurance premiums, within a period ending one month prior to the date on which same become delinquent. The note shall further provide that such payments shall be held by the lending institution in a manner satisfactory to the Administrator for the purpose of paying such ground rents, taxes, assessments, and insurance premiums before the same become delinquent for the benefit and account of the borrower. The note shall also make provision for adjustments in case the estimated amount of such taxes, assessments, and insurance premiums should prove to be more or less than the actual amount thereof so paid by the insured institution.

(5) The note shall contain a privilege of prepayment in full or in amounts equal to one or more installment payments, on the principal that are next due on the note at any interest payment date upon thirty days prior notice and without premium or penalty.

(6) Shall provide that all installment payments to be made by the borrower to the insured institution shall be added together and the aggregate amount thereof shall be applied to the following items in the order set forth.

(i) Insurance charges due the Federal Housing Administrator.

(ii) Service charge, if any.

(iii) Ground rents, taxes, special assessments, and fire and other hazard insurance premiums.

(iv) Interest on the loan.

(v) Amortization of the principal of the loan.

(7) May provide for a late charge to be paid by the borrower, not to exceed two cents (2¢) for each dollar for each installment payment more than fifteen days in arrears. No late charge may be accrued in excess of $5.00. The borrower must be billed for the penalties collected as such, and evidence of such billing must be in the file if claim is made under the Contract of Insurance.

(8) Shall contain a provision for acceleration of maturity at the option of the holder in the event of default.

(9) Shall not have a final maturity in excess of fifteen years and five calendar months.

(10) Shall provide for not more than one hundred and eighty monthly payments which shall fall due on the first day of a month and the first such payment shall fall due not less than six days nor more than six calendar months from the date of the note, except as provided in subparagraph (11) of this paragraph.

(11) In instances in which the Credit Statement-Application of the borrower indicates that not less than 51% of the income of the borrower is derived directly from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities or livestock produced by him, the note may provide, in lieu of monthly installments, for substantially equal installment payments corresponding to the income periods shown on the Credit Statement-Application: Provided, however, That the first payment must be within twelve months of the date of the note and that at least one payment must be made during each calendar year thereafter.

(b) The borrower must pay to the insured institution, upon the execution of the note, a sum that will be sufficient to pay premiums on fire and other insurance required by the insured institution pursuant to the terms of the note, and ground rents, if any, and estimated taxes, special assessments, drainage and irrigation charges applicable to the period beginning on the date to which such ground rents, taxes, assessments, and charges were last paid and ending on the date of the first periodic payment under the note. The borrower, at such time, may also be required to pay a sum equal to the first annual insurance charge plus an amount equal to one-twelfth (1/12th) of the annual insurance charge multiplied by the number of months to elapse from the date of the closing of the loan to the date of the first periodic payment, and if the note provides for payment of interest in advance, interest to the due date of the first periodic payment thereunder. The insured institution may charge the borrower the $10.00 paid to the Administration for examining the loan and an initial service charge in an amount sufficient to reimburse the insured institution for the cost of closing the transaction, including appraisal fees but in no case shall the amount of such service charge be in excess of 1% of the original principal amount of the loan.

(c) In addition to the charges hereinbefore mentioned the insured institution may collect from the borrower only recording fees and such costs of title search as are customary in the community.*† [Reg. VII]

§ 502.8 Eligible "discount" loans. (a) A "discount" loan shall be secured by collateral security in the form of a duly recorded first mortgage, first deed of trust or other similar instrument which constitutes a first lien upon a fee simple or leasehold interest in the land and buildings, appurtenances and improvements thereon and:

(1) Shall not be in excess of $2,500 exclusive of financing charges to the borrower.

(2) Shall not have a maturity in excess of fifteen years and five calendar months.

(3) May provide for a maximum financing charge to be paid by the borrower for interest, discount and fees of all kinds other than those referred to in (4) of this paragraph and paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section in connection with the transaction not in excess of an amount equivalent to $3.50 discount per $100 original face amount of a one year note to be paid in equal monthly installments calculated from the date of the note. Such charges correctly based on tables of calculations issued by the Federal Housing Administrator are deemed to comply with this section. The acceptance of a voluntary payment of one or more installments prior to due date shall not be construed as increasing the maximum permissible financing charge as provided in this subparagraph. However, if the entire loan is paid in advance, the insured institution shall make a rebate of the entire unearned financing charge.

(4) May provide for such equal monthly payments by the borrower to the insured institution as will amortize the ground rents, if any, and the estimated amount of all taxes, special assessments, if any, and fire and other hazard insurance premiums within a period ending one month prior to the date on which same becomes delinquent. In such event the note shall further provide that such payments shall be held by the insured institution in a manner satisfactory to the Administrator for the purpose of paying such ground rents, taxes, assessments, and insurance premiums before the same become delinquent for the benefit and account of the borrower and shall also make provision for adjustments in case the estimated amount of such taxes, assessments, and insurance premiums shall prove to be more or less than the actual amount thereof so paid by the borrower. If the income of the borrower is derived from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities, or livestock, payments may be seasonal as provided in (7) of this paragraph.

(5) May provide for a late charge, to be paid by the maker, not to exceed two cents (2¢) for each dollar of each installment more than fifteen days in arrears. In lieu of late charges, notes may provide for interest on past due installments at a rate not in excess of the contract rate in the jurisdiction in which the note is drawn. No late charge or interest on a past due installment may be accrued in excess of $5.00. The borrower must be billed for the penalties collected as such, and evidence of such billing must be in the file if claim is made under the Contract of Insurance.

(6) May not provide for a first payment less than six days nor more than six calendar months from the date of the note except as provided in (7) of this paragraph and in no case shall provide for more than one hundred and eighty payments.

(7) May be made payable in installments corresponding to the income periods shown on the Credit Statement-Application if fifty-one percent or more of the income of the borrower is derived directly from the sale of agricultural crops, commodities, or livestock produced by him. In such cases, the first payment must be made within twelve months of the date of the note and at least one payment must be made during each calendar year thereafter and the proportion of total principal to be paid in later years must not exceed the proportion of total principal payable in earlier years.

(8) Shall contain a provision for acceleration of maturity, either automatic or at the option of the holder, in the event of default in the payment of any installment.

(b) In addition to the maximum permissible financing charge which may be paid by the borrower in connection with a Class 3 loan as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the following allowable costs or expenses if incurred by the insured institution in connection with the transaction may be collected from the borrower, provided such costs or expenses are not paid from the net proceeds advanced to the borrower.

(1) Recording fees.
(2) Title Examination fees.
(3) Fire and other hazard Insurance Premiums.
(4) The $10.00 paid to the Administration for examining the loan.
(5) An initial service charge in an amount sufficient to reimburse the insured institution for the cost of closing the transaction provided that no such service charge shall exceed one per centum of the original net proceeds of the loan.

(c) The borrower may be required to pay to the insured institution upon the closing of the loan a sum that will be sufficient to pay the ground rents, if any, and the estimated taxes, special assessments, and fire and other hazard insurance premiums for the period beginning on the date to which such ground rents, taxes, assessments and insurance premiums were last paid and ending on the date of the first monthly payment under the loan to be held by the insured institution for the purpose of paying such ground rents, taxes, assessments, and insurance premiums before the same become delinquent for the benefit and account of the borrower.*† [Reg. VIII]

§ 502.9 Loan procedure. (a) Prior to the start of construction and to the disbursement of any portion of the proceeds of the loan, the insured institution shall make an estimate of the value of the property assuming completion of the proposed improvements and shall certify to the local insuring office of the amount of such appraisal and that the requirements of Section 502.3 (b) will be complied with. However, if the insured institution is an approved mortgagee under the provisions of Title II of the Act and requests the Administrator to determine the eligibility of the property for insurance of a mortgage loan under the provisions of Section 203 of Title II of the Act, it may accept the value estimate of the Administrator as its own in the event it subsequently decides to make a loan under the provisions of these Regulations.

(b) Prior to the start of construction and to the disbursement of any portion of the proceeds of the loan, the insured institution shall submit to the Administrator an Application for Property Approval on a form prescribed by the Administrator. Such application shall be accompanied by the certificate provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, the plans or drawings and specifications, and the insured institution's check made payable to the Federal Housing Administration in the sum of $10.00.

(c) After obtaining the approval of the application by the Administrator and prior to disbursing the proceeds of the loan or any portion thereof, the institution shall satisfy itself that the value of the work done and materials on the site at the time of any progress payment is equal to at least 110% of such payment, plus all such progress payments theretofore made. The insured institution shall not make a disbursement or a progress payment which would increase the total amount disbursed to a sum in excess of 80 per centum of the proceeds of the loan until it has been notified that the final inspection of the structure by the Administration has been made and the work approved. No disbursement of any portion of the proceeds shall be made subsequent to receipt of written notice from the Administrator by the insured institution to the effect that the structure has not been constructed in accordance with the plans and specifications and conditions as approved by the Administrator.

(d) The approval of the Administrator provided for in this section shall not relieve the insured institution from compliance with any Regulation.

(e) In the event that property covered by a loan is sold to an eligible borrower who assumes and agrees to pay the debt and whose credit is satisfactory to the insured institution, the seller may be released by the insured institution from his obligation upon notice thereof to the Administrator.

(f) Loans shall be reported on the proper form to the Federal Housing Administration at Washington, D. C., within thirty-one days of the first disbursement of any of the proceeds of the loan or the date upon which it was purchased. Any loan refinanced in accordance with § 502.10 shall be reported on the proper form within thirty-one days from the date of refinancing.*† [Reg. IX]

§ 502.10 Refinancing. New obligations to liquidate loans previously reported for insurance pursuant to Title I of the Act effective July 1, 1939 which may or may not include an additional amount advanced will be covered by insurance, provided that:

(a) They meet the requirements of all applicable regulations;

(b) Are reported to the Administrator on the proper form within 31 days from date of execution;

(c) Have a maturity not in excess of the maximum permitted under these Regulations from the date of the original obligation;

(d) If an additional advance is made, the full unearned charge on the original note shall be refunded to the borrower;

(e) If no additional advance is made, the full unearned charge on the original note shall be refunded to the borrower, except that a handling charge not in excess of $2.00 may be assessed to the borrower.*† [Reg. X]

§ 502.11 Claims. Claim for reimbursement for loss on a qualified loan shall be made as provided in this section.

(a) If the borrower fails to make any payment, or to perform any other covenant or obligation under the mortgage, and such failure continues for a period of thirty (30) days, the note shall be considered in default and at any time within one year from the date of default the insured institution, at its election, shall either—

(1) Acquire by means other than foreclosure of the mortgage, possession of, and title to, the mortgaged property; or

(2) Commence foreclosure of the mortgage; provided, that if the laws of the State in which the mortgaged property is situated do not permit the commencement of such foreclosure within such period of time, the insured institution shall commence such foreclosure within sixty (60) days after the expiration of the time during which such foreclosure is prohibited by such laws.

(3) Nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prevent the lending institution, with the written consent of the Administrator, from taking action at a later date than herein specified.

(b) For the purposes of this paragraph, the date of default shall be considered as thirty (30) days after (a) the first uncorrected failure to perform a covenant or obligation, or (b) the first failure to make a monthly payment which subsequent payments by the mortgagor are insufficient to cover when applied to the overdue monthly payments in the order in which they became due.

(c) If after default and prior to the completion of foreclosure proceedings, the borrower shall pay to the insured institution all monthly payments in default and such expenses as the insured institution shall have incurred in connection with the foreclosure proceedings, no claim for reimbursement under the Contract of Insurance can be made and the insurance shall continue as if such default had not occurred.

(d) If the default is not cured as aforesaid, and if the insured institution has otherwise complied with the provisions of this section, it may at any time within thirty (30) days (or such further time as may be necessary to complete the title examination and perfect such title) after the expiration of the period given the insured institution to sell under paragraph (g) of this section, tender to the Administrator possession of, and a deed containing a covenant which warrants against the acts of the insured institution and all claiming by, through, or under it, conveying good merchantable title to such property undamaged by fire, earthquake, flood, or tornado. The Administrator shall promptly accept conveyance of such property and, subject to § 502.14, make payment of loss sustained by the insured institution as follows:

(1) The net unpaid balance of advance actually made;

(2) Uncollected earned interest (after default interest is not to be claimed at a rate to exceed 4% per annum for the first six months nor thereafter to exceed 3% per annum and will be calculated to the date the claim is approved for payment);

(3) Actual expenses incurred by the insured institution and approved by the Administrator in connection with the foreclosure proceedings or the acquisition of the mortgaged property otherwise, and the conveyance thereof to the Administrator up to but not to exceed $75.00;

(4) The amount of all payments which have been made by the insured institution for taxes, ground rents, special assessments, and water rates which are liens prior to the mortgage, and fire and hazard insurance premiums.

Any amount received by the insured institution from any source relating to the property on account of rent or other income, after deducting reasonable expenses incurred in handling the property shall be deducted from the sum of the foregoing.

(e) Evidence of title of the following types will be satisfactory to the Administrator:

(1) A fee or owner's policy of title insurance, a guaranty or guarantee of title, or a certificate of title, issued by a title company, duly authorized by law and qualified by experience to issue such; or

(2) An abstract of title prepared by an abstract company or individual engaged in the business of preparing abstracts of title and accompanied by a legal opinion as to the quality of such title signed by an attorney at law experienced in examination of titles; or

(3) a Torrens or similar title certificate; or

(4) evidence of title conforming to the standards of a supervising branch of the Government of the United States or of any State or Territory thereof.

Such evidence of title shall be furnished without cost to the Administrator and shall be executed as of a date to include the recordation of the deed to the Administrator, and shall show that, according to the public records, there are not, at such date, any outstanding prior liens, except for ground rents and taxes not due and payable and special assessments not in arrears. If the title and title evidence are such as to be acceptable to prudent lending institutions and leading attorneys generally in the community in which the property is situated, such title and title evidence will be satisfactory to the Administrator and will be considered by him as good and merchantable.

(f) The Administrator will not object to the title by reason of the following matters, provided they are not such as to impair the value of the property for residence purposes:

(1) Customary easements for public utilities, party walls, driveways, and other purposes; customary building or use restrictions for breach of which there is no reversion and which have not been violated to a material extent;

(2) Such restrictions when coupled with a reversionary clause, provided there has been no violation prior to the date of the deed to the Administrator;

(3) Slight encroachments by adjoining improvements;

(4) Outstanding oil, water, or mineral rights, which do not impair the value of the property for residence purposes, or which are customarily waived by prudent lending institutions and leading attorneys generally in the community.

(g) In lieu of the procedure provided for in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section the insured institution, after acquiring title to the property as provided in this section, may at its option, sell the same in the open market to a bona fide third party at any time within six months from the date of such acquisition of the property, or within such further time as may be approved by the Administrator; Provided, That such property may not, without the prior approval of the Administrator, be sold for a price less than 75 percent of the net unpaid balance of the advance actually made. The net amount received at such sale, whether in cash or deferred payments, shall be credited on the obligation and claim may be filed with the Administrator for the balance. Payment of loss sustained by the insured institution shall be made as follows:

(1) The net unpaid balance of the advance actually made. In calculating the net unpaid amount, the net sale price must be included as a credit.

(2) Uncollected earned interest (after default and prior to acquisition of the property by the insured institution interest is not to be claimed at a rate to exceed 4% per annum for the first six months nor thereafter to exceed 3% per annum. Subsequent to the acquisition of the property by the insured institution interest shall not be claimed at a rate to exceed 3% per annum.)

(3) Actual expenses incurred by the lending institution and approved by the Administrator in connection with foreclosure proceedings or acquisition of the property otherwise up to but not exceeding $75.00.

(4) The amount of all payments which have been made by the insured institution for taxes, ground rents, special assessments, water rates which are liens prior to the mortgage, fire and hazard insurance premiums and cost of maintenance and repair to the property (claim for cost of maintenance and repair shall not exceed 10% of the net unpaid balance of the advance actually made unless prior approval of the Administrator has been obtained).

Any amount received by the insured institution from any source relating to the property on account of rent or other income shall be deducted from the sum of the items referred to in this paragraph.*† [Reg. XI]

§ 502.12 Insurance charge. (a) Insured institutions shall pay to the Administration an insurance charge equal to one-half of one per centum per annum of the net proceeds of any discount loans reported for insurance and an annual insurance charge equal to one-half of one per centum of the original principal amount of any interest-bearing loans reported for insurance.

(b) The first annual insurance charge so calculated shall be paid by check or draft to the order of the Federal Housing Administration within 25 days after the date the Administration acknowledges receipt to the insured institution of the report of any such loan and the next and each succeeding annual insurance charge shall be paid in advance upon the anniversary of the first day of the month following the date of the note until the loan is paid in full or claim is filed with the Administrator under the Contract of Insurance.

(c) In the event the loan is paid in full prior to maturity or is foreclosed or the possession of and title to the property is otherwise acquired by the insured institution, the insured institution shall within 30 days thereafter notify the Administration of the date of prepayment, foreclosure or acquisition, after which its obligation to pay future annual insurance charges in connection therewith shall cease but it shall not be entitled to a refund of any portion of an annual insurance charge previously paid or a reduction in the amount of any insurance charge which fell due prior to such prepayment, foreclosure or acquisition of the property.

(d) When the proceeds of any loan are used to liquidate a loan previously reported for insurance under these Regulations, there shall be deducted from the amount of the insurance charge payable the first year the pro rata share of the annual insurance charge paid on the original obligation.

(e) The purchaser of an obligation previously reported for insurance shall pay each succeeding annual insurance charge as provided in paragraph (b) of this section. Any adjustment of the insurance charge paid in advance by the seller shall be made between the purchaser and the seller.

(f) The insurance charge paid by the insured institution shall not be charged to the borrower if such charge would cause the total payments made by the borrower to exceed the maximum permissible amount which may be charged to the borrower for interest, discount and all other charges in connection with the transaction, except as provided in §§ 502.7 and 502.8.

(g) Subject to the other provisions of these Regulations, the insurance granted under Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, shall be effective with respect to any loan from the date of the report thereof to the Administrator provided that the insurance charge with respect to such loan is paid as required by this section.*† [Reg. XII]

§ 502.13 Insurance reserve. (a) Subject to the limitation that his total liability which may be outstanding at any one time plus the amount of claims paid in respect to all insurance heretofore and hereafter granted shall not exceed $100,000,000, the Administrator, in accordance with § 502.11, will reimburse any insured institution for losses sustained by it up to a total aggregate amount equal to 10% of the total amount advanced with respect to Class 1, Class 2 and Class 3 loans during the time its Contract of Insurance is in force, on all eligible obligations previously reported for insurance, taken or purchased by it on and after July 1, 1939, and held by it, or on which it remains liable.

(b) If obligations previously reported for insurance under Contracts of Insurance issued pursuant to the National Housing Act, as amended, effective July 1, 1939, are sold to another insured institution endorsed with or without recourse, the buying and selling institution may agree to transfer all or any part of the insurance reserve standing to the credit of the selling institution to the purchasing institution with the prior approval of the Administrator under such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

(c) The transfer of insurance reserve in cases of merger or consolidation of two or more insured institutions, or of an insured with an uninsured institution, will be provided for by the Administrator in accordance with the facts of the particular case.

(d) In all cases involving the transfer of insured obligations, the reports required by § 502.9 (f) must be filed and shall indicate the intent of the parties with regard to the transfer of the insurance reserve, and must show that no note to be transferred is delinquent more than one calendar month at the time of such transfer.

(e) Where the notes are transferred without recourse, guarantee, or repurchase agreement and the reports do not indicate the intent of the parties, the insurance reserve will be transferred to the general reserve of the purchasing institution on the basis of 10% of the actual purchase price of the obligations involved, or 10% of the net unpaid original advance on the obligations involved, whichever is the lesser.

(f) Where the transfer of the obligation is with recourse or under a guarantee or purchase agreement and the required reports do not show the intent of the parties, no insurance reserve will be transferred.

(g) The selling price on the transfer of an insured note between insured institutions will not affect the insurance on the note. The calculation of insured loss will be based on the original transaction of the institution first reporting the loan for insurance.

(h) Where notes reported for insurance by one insured institution are pledged to another insured institution as security for a loan, an assignment of the pledging institution's insurance reserve may be made with the prior consent of the Administrator provided requests for such consent are accompanied by a signed agreement between the two institutions.

(i) Amounts which may be salvaged by the Administrator with respect to a loan in connection with which an institution has been reimbursed under its Contract of Insurance shall not be added to the insurance reserve remaining to the credit of such institution.*† [Reg. XIII]

§ 502.14 Privileges extended to loans reported for insurance under previous regulations. (a) At its option an insured institution may extend or renew, for a period up to fifteen years from its original date, any Class 3 loan made prior to the effective date of these Regulations and heretofore or hereafter reported for insurance under the Acts of February 3, 1938 or June 3, 1939 amending the National Housing Act, and the unpaid balance of any such loan shall be so amortized as to be fully paid at the end of said fifteen year term: Provided, That all such loans are secured by collateral security in the form of a duly recorded first mortgage, first deed of trust or similar instrument which constitutes a first lien upon a fee simple or leasehold interest in the land and buildings, appurtenances and improvements thereon.

(b) In the event the property covered by a loan made prior to the effective date of these Regulations and heretofore or hereafter reported for insurance under the Acts of February 3, 1938, or June 3, 1939 is sold to an eligible borrower who assumes and agrees to pay the debt and whose credit is satisfactory to the insured institution, the seller may be released by the insured institution from his obligation upon notice thereof to the Administrator: Provided, That all such loans are secured by collateral security in the form of a duly recorded first mortgage, first deed of trust or similar instrument which constitutes a first lien upon a fee simple or leasehold interest in the land and building, appurtenances and improvements thereon.

(c) In the case of any loan made on or after July 1, 1939, the insured institution at its option may acquire title to the property and dispose of such property as provided in § 502.11, whereupon such loan shall be subject to all the applicable provisions of these Regulations.

(d) In the event any loan made on or after July 1, 1939, is paid in full or the property is acquired by the lending institution as set forth in § 502.11 or in the event the insurance with respect to the loan is terminated, no additional insurance charge with respect to such loans shall be payable.

5. In the case of any loan made on or after July 1, 1939, the insurance charge may be paid by check or draft to the order of the Federal Housing Administration annually in advance as provided in Section 502.12 (b).*† [Reg. XIV]

§ 502.15 Administrative reports and examination. The Administrator, in his discretion, may at any time or from time to time call for a report from any institution on the delinquency status of the obligations held by such institution and reported for insurance, or call for such reports as he may deem to be necessary in connection with these Regulations, or he or his authorized representative may inspect the books or accounts of the lending institution as they pertain to the loans reported for insurance.*† [Reg. XV]

§ 502.16 Amendments. The foregoing Regulations may be amended by the Administrator at any time and from time to time, in whole or in part, but such amendment shall not affect the insurance with respect to any loan made or obligation purchased prior to the issuance of such amendment.*† [Reg. XVI]

§ 502.17 Effective date. The foregoing Regulations are effective as to all Class 3 loans, advances of credit or purchases made on or after January 1, 1940, pursuant to the provisions of Title I of the National Housing Act, as amended, and shall have the same force and effect as if included in and made a part of each Contract of Insurance.*† [Reg. XVII]

Issued at Washington, D. C., December 14, 1939.

CHAPTER VI—UNITED STATES HOUSING AUTHORITY

PART 638—STEPS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF A LOW-RENT HOUSING PROJECT SUBSEQUENT TO THE EXECUTION OF THE CONTRACTS OF LOAN AND ANNUAL CONTRIBUTIONS*†

Sec.

638.0 Scope and content.
638.1 Organization of permanent staff.
638.2 Adoption of accounting procedure.
638.3 Performance of conditions in loan contract.
638.4 Execution of development fund agreement—Provisions of the agreement.
638.5 Application for advance loan.
638.6 Preparation of development cost budgets.
638.7 Preparation of site.
638.8 Negotiation, preparation and approval of contracts for architectural services.
638.9 Preparation and submission of preliminary plans.
638.10 Preparation and submission of construction plans and specifications.
638.11 Preparation and submission of final estimates of total development cost.
638.12 Securing of bids and the award of contracts.
638.13 Transmittal of bids to USHA.

§ 638.0 Scope and content. The progressive steps in the development of a low-rent housing project from the beginning of local activity through the execution of the Contracts of Loan and Annual Contribution are described in Part 608. This Part 638 describes the succeeding progressive steps which begin, ordinarily, with the organization of the permanent staff of the local housing authority and conclude with the award of the principal construction contracts. Thus, Parts 608 and 638 cover the progressive steps in the development of a low-rent housing project from the initiation of local activity to the beginning of actual construction. The attention of local authorities is invited to the fact that some of the matters covered generally by this Part have been discussed more fully in other Parts. The related Parts are indicated at the appropriate points in this Part. The following specific steps are described in this Part: organization of permanent staff; adoption of accounting procedure; performance of conditions in loan contract; execution of development fund agreement; application for advance loan; preparation of development cost budgets; preparation of site; negotiation, preparation and approval of architect's contract; preparation and submission of preliminary plans; preparation and submission of construction plans and specifications; preparation and submission of revised estimates of development cost; advertisement for bids and award of contracts. These steps should ordinarily be taken in the order indicated. Occasionally, however, the local authority may find it possible and advisable to expedite the program by proceeding with two or more steps simultaneously.*† [Introduction]

§ 638.1 Organization of permanent staff. The successful development of a low-rent housing project requires a permanent clerical and technical staff under competent supervision. Accordingly, one of the first steps to be taken by the local authority after the signing of the Contracts of Loan and Annual Contribution is to organize a permanent staff and arrange for the necessary office space and equipment. The USHA is prepared, upon request, to make suggestions as to the size, character and economical management of the staff required. The attention of local authorities is invited particularly to the fact that the salaries of the members of its permanent staff should be commensurate with their respective responsibilities and with the size of the local program.*† [Par. I]

§ 638.2 Adoption of accounting procedure. In order that all transactions relating to the receipt and expenditure of funds in the development of the project may be properly recorded, the local authority should promptly establish an acceptable accounting procedure. A satisfactory procedure is outlined in the "Manual of Instructions of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities" and the adoption thereof will expedite the approval of requisitions by the USHA and facilitate the auditing of the local authority's books. The "Manual" will be forwarded to the local authority when the Loan and Annual Contributions contracts are in process of execution. The USHA will also, upon request, send a Project Auditor to assist in opening the local authority's books.*† [Par. II]

§ 638.3 Performance of conditions in loan contract. The local authority will not ordinarily be able to make substantial progress with its program until an advance loan has been obtained from the USHA. Accordingly, all the conditions precedent to the advance of funds contained in the loan contract and related documents should be performed promptly. The performance of these conditions may entail negotiations with local municipal officials with respect to (a) equivalent elimination (see Part 624), (b) local contributions or other forms of local aid to achieve low rents (see Part 631), or (c) assurances that at least 10% of the development cost of the project can be obtained from sources other than the USHA. All such negotiations should be completed expeditiously so that an advance loan may be obtained promptly when funds are needed.*† [Par. III]

§ 638.4 Execution of development fund agreement—Provisions of the agreement. The "Terms and Conditions" incorporated in the Loan Contract provide that the funds received by the local authority from the USHA shall be deposited in a separate account, to be known as the "Development Fund", in a bank or banks acceptable to the USHA. To insure the application of this Fund to the development of the project and, at the same time, to facilitate its use, the USHA requires the execution of a "Development Fund Agreement." This Agreement provides for withdrawals from the Development Fund upon the basis of checks and supporting vouchers. Such vouchers must indicate the purposes for which the checks are drawn and must, ordinarily, be accompanied by certificates which certify that the checks are drawn to pay development costs. The Agreement does not, however, require separate approval of each withdrawal by the USHA. The depositary bank is authorized to honor, upon receipt, checks of the local authority supported by the appropriate vouchers and certificates. Prompt selection of the depositary bank, and prompt execution of the Development Fund Agreement, will expedite the advance of funds by the USHA. The name of the proposed depositary bank should be submitted to the USHA for approval and, upon obtaining such approval, two executed copies and two certified copies of the Development Fund Agreement, together with three certified copies of the proceedings authorizing the execution thereof, should be forwarded promptly to the USHA. The procedure contemplated by the Development Fund Agreement is simple and expeditious and familiar to most banks. In addition, the USHA has prepared, and will furnish upon request, a suggested form of Development Fund Agreement which contains suggested forms of the certificates required. A suggested form of Accounts Payable Voucher is contained in the Manual of Accounting Procedure referred to in Sec. 638.2, above.*† [Par. IV]

§ 638.5 Application for advance loan. Funds should be obtained in time to meet costs as they accrue in the development of the project. The Loan Contract provides that upon a satisfactory showing of a need for funds which cannot otherwise be met, and upon the performance of the conditions precedent embodied in the Loan Contract, the USHA may make an advance to the local authority on account of the loan. As soon as the need arises and the conditions have been performed, the local authority should file an Advance Loan Requisition with the USHA, together with the necessary supporting documents. Additional requisitions may be filed from time to time as funds are needed. However, no request for funds for Acct. No. 1440.1, land purchase, shall be submitted unless options have been acquired by the local authority on at least fifty per cent of the parcels involved and such options have been approved by the USHA. All requisitions supported by the required data will be promptly honored. However, it is requested that, insofar as practicable, requisitions for advance of funds be filed at least twenty (20) days prior to the date on which the funds will be needed. The advance loan may be used to pay architectural, engineering and planning fees, costs of preparation of plans, specifications and other forms of proposed contract documents, costs of acquiring land and other expenses to be incurred prior to the sale of definitive bonds, provided the contracts for the services or items involved have been previously submitted to the USHA and approved by it. In determining the amount of any advance loan necessary, the local authority should remember that definitive bonds will not ordinarily be sold until the site has been acquired and the construction contracts have been awarded. The local authority shall not use any of the funds advanced by the USHA to reimburse itself or others for expenditures made prior to the date of the loan contract until a Project Auditor from the staff of the USHA has examined the particular items of expenditure involved and the USHA has determined that such items are eligible for inclusion in development costs.[1]*† [Par. V]

§ 638.6 Preparation of development cost budgets. In order to provide the local authority with a means of controlling the nature and extent of expenditures in the development of the project, the USHA has prepared a form of Development Cost Budget. There shall be a preliminary and a final development cost budget for each project. These budgets shall be prepared and used as provided in this section 638.6.

(a) Preliminary budget. The Preliminary Budget guides the local authority in making expenditures and in requisitioning funds from the time of execution of the loan contract until this budget is superseded by the final budget at the commencement of construction. The Preliminary Budget will, necessarily, be based primarily upon the estimate of "Proposed Development Cost" submitted by the local authority as Item 410, Part IV, of its Application for Financial Assistance, as modified and approved for purposes of the loan contract. The local authority need not re-submit this estimate to the USHA for budget purposes. The USHA will transpose the approved estimate to the Budget Form and the original copy of the estimate, as transposed, will be transmitted to the local authority as soon as practicable after the loan contract is forwarded for execution. The transposed estimate will constitute the Preliminary Budget. The attention of local authorities is invited to the fact that the amounts shown under the various account classifications, 1410 through 1470, are net figures representing the actual estimate or commitment, as the case may be. The amount shown under Acct. No. 1480, Contingency, will (unless determined otherwise necessary by the USHA) equal five per cent of the total of all the items 1410 through 1470 and is for the purpose of providing normal latitude for changes, extras and overruns during development.

(b) Final Budget. (1) The Final Budget shall be prepared by the local authority on Form USHA–512 and shall be arranged so as to conform to the Standard Classifications of Accounts set forth in the Manual of Instructions of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities, Part I, approved by the Administrator, April 29, 1938. The USHA Project Planning and Auditing Advisors will render any necessary assistance in the preparation of the budget and will, where possible, be made available upon request.

(2) The Final Budget shall reflect contract amounts wherever contracts have been awarded and, as to other items, shall represent the latest estimate developed in connection with the completion of final plans and specifications and bids received. The amounts included shall be distributed among the appropriate control account classifications, i. e., 1410, Administrative, 1420, Carrying Charges, and the like. The amounts shown under the various account classifications, 1410 through 1470, shall be net figures representing the actual estimate or commitment, as the case may be. The amount shown under Acct. No. 1480, Contingency, shall (unless determined otherwise necessary by the USHA) be equal to five per cent of the total of all the items 1410 through 1470 and is for the purpose of providing normal latitude for changes, extras and overruns during development.[2] (In the event that the costs of site acquisition have been definitely determined, the amount represented by this item may be excluded from the total upon which the five percent for Contingency is calculated. In such case care must be taken in the apportionment of the Contingency item to dwelling and non-dwelling costs so that no part of said Contingency is prorated against the item of site acquisition.) The total of the eight control accounts shall be the total anticipated development cost. After the budget has been approved by the USHA, all variations of costs from the items therein shall be treated as underruns or overruns, as the case may be. Overruns in subaccounts which are compensated by underruns within the same grouping do not require USHA approval except for items with respect to which specific limits previously were approved by the USHA. In general, the following items are limited by the specific approval of the USHA: legal services, land purchase price, base fee or contract amounts. If and when it appears necessary to exceed the total of any one grouping, the approval of the USHA shall be obtained prior to the making of any commitments resulting in such excess.

(3) The attention of local authorities is invited to the fact that Form USHA–512 provides for a summary of the control accounts broken down to reflect the division between dwelling and non-dwelling costs. This breakdown shall be submitted with the Final Budget and shall be prepared in accordance with the Manual of Instructions of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities, Part I, sheet 8, paragraph 24, subject to such adjustment in the Contingency account as may be necessary in particular cases as hereinabove described. Sheet 2 of the budget form has been designed to provide conveniently for such computations.

(4) The attention of local authorities is also invited to the fact that Form USHA–512 provides that certain items of the estimated development cost shall be supported by detailed schedules indicating the basis of the estimate. The items calling for such supporting schedules are designated by an asterisk placed at the left of the subaccount classification number. If the administrative elements of cost under Account No. 1410, or any other Accounts, are proratable over two or more projects under one Loan Contract the supporting schedules required should reflect the total cost of such elements to all such projects collectively and the percentage applicable to each project individually. In order to expedite review and approval of final budgets by the USHA, particularly with respect to the eligibility of the various items of development cost included therein, the local authority is requested to submit the required supporting schedules in adequate detail.

(5) The classifications for which supporting schedules are required in connection with the final budgets and the form of their submission are as follows:

In addition to the foregoing schedules, there shall also be furnished a schedule showing the basis for the computation of the amount of interest during development which is distributed under Account No. 1420.1, Carrying Charges—Interest During Development.

(6) For further information reference is made to the Manual of Instructions of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities, Part I.

(7) The Final Budget shall be approved by the local authority in the space provided and submitted to the USHA in single copy form not later than fifteen days after the execution of the first major superstructure construction contract. Upon approval of the Final Budget by the USHA, a photostatic copy thereof will be transmitted to the local authority.*† [Par. VI]

§ 638.7 Preparation of site. In the preparation of the site, the following steps should be taken as promptly as practicable so there will be no delay when construction contracts are awarded: (a) the acquisition of land, (b) the relocation of tenants, (c) the closing of streets and relocation of utilities, (d) the obtaining of easements and rights of way, (e) the investigation of subsoil conditions and (f) the demolition of existing buildings.

(a) Land acquisition.[3] As soon as the site has been selected by the local authority and approved by the USHA, both of which should be done promptly after the execution of the Loan Contract or prior thereto, the local authority should proceed immediately with the acquisition of land.

(b) Relocation and rights of tenants.[4] During the period of land acquisition, the status of the tenants in the area should be investigated. Their status, will in large measure, be revealed in gathering the title information. The final title papers should be accompanied by an affidavit setting forth the names of the parties in possession and their status. In the case of many built-up sites, it will be advisable to make a survey of the existing buildings and the families occupying them for use (1) in determining which of the dwelling units to be demolished are substandard and to be credited as "equivalent elimination" and (2) in relocating the dispossessed families and rehousing them in the project as far as practicable. The USHA is prepared to assist in the formulation of such surveys. Steps should be taken to relocate all tenants in ample time to permit demolition of the buildings as soon as title to the property is acquired.

(c) Street closings and utilities. In addition to the acquisition of the privately owned property within the proposed project area, the site plans for the project may entail the closing of designated streets and alleys and the relocation of existing utilities. In all such cases, the local municipal authorities and the utility companies concerned should be consulted promptly in order to avoid delay in working out the cooperative procedures necessary. To the full extent consistent with proper site planning, the local authority and the architects should

[2] Account No. 1480, Contingency, is not to be confused with the 10 per cent margin of safety which, under the terms of the Loan Contract, may be authorized by the USHA for the purpose of meeting unanticipated extra costs during construction and other contingencies. Such margin of safety shall not be included as a part of any development cost budget.

[4] See Part 632 for the procedure to be followed in relocating tenants.

plan to use existing utilities and streets and to keep the relocation of utilities and the closing of streets to a minimum in order that maximum speed and economy may be attained.

(d) Easements and rights of way. All necessary rights of way and easements over the property of others (including existing streets to be vacated and new streets to be dedicated) for the carrying of water lines, sewers or other utilities should be obtained, or granted, as the case may be, simultaneously with the acquisition of the site of the project.

(e) Subsoil investigation. During the period of land acquisition, full and complete information should be obtained concerning the type of soil involved and its bearing value and any unusual conditions with respect to it which might affect construction. In securing land options, it may be advisable, in some instances, to include in the options covering land as to which such information is not known or readily available in the offices of the City Engineer or elsewhere, a clause giving the local authority the right to enter on and inspect the premises and to make topographical surveys, test pits and borings in order to obtain such information.

(f) Demolition. As soon as a sufficient portion of the site has been acquired to permit on orderly demolition program, bids should be invited for the demolition of the buildings on the site. If the demolition contract is let before title to the entire site is acquired, the local authority should protect itself against any delays which may develop in the acquisition of the remaining parcels of the site. The value of the salvage rights accruing to the contractor will in some instances make the actual cash consideration, if any, passing to or from the local authority under the demolition contract virtually negligible. Accordingly, the size of the performance bond to be required of the contractor by the local authority should be determined on the basis of an advance estimate of the cost to the contractor of demolishing or removing the buildings and structures from the project site, without any allowance for the value of salvaged materials. Unless there are local laws to the contrary, the amount of the bond should not be less than 50 per cent of this estimated cost. If the value of the salvage material which is easily removable without demolishing the building is considerable, the amount of the bond should be increased accordingly. The attention of the local authorities is invited to Part 610 which contains considerable general information applicable to demolition contracts. The USHA has also prepared, and will furnish upon request, a suggested form of demolition contract.*† [Par. VII]

§ 638.8 Negotiation, preparation and approval of contracts for architectural services—(a) General. Immediately after the execution of the loan contract, the local authority should begin contract negotiations with the architect or group of architects selected for the project. The USHA has prepared, and will furnish upon request, a suggested form of architect's contract providing for general supervision of construction by the architect and a suggested form providing for general supervision by persons other than the architect. A decision should be made at an early date as to whether the architect, or an appropriate staff of the local authority, will supervise construction. Many local authorities are finding it advisable to have construction supervised by the architect. In order to centralize responsibility, one architect's contract should, if practicable, be made covering all phases of the work rather than separate contracts for each phase. However, if the local authority wishes to make a separate contract with a landscape architect, or a consulting engineer, the USHA will have no objection to this procedure so long as the total architectural fee for the project does not exceed the schedule of fees meeting the approval of the USHA. A copy of each proposed architect's contract and of each proposed engineer's contract should, pursuant to the "Terms and Conditions", be submitted to the USHA for approval prior to the signing thereof by the local authority. Five conformed copies of the executed contracts should be forwarded promptly to the USHA.

(b) (1) Architect's fee. As soon as practicable the local authority and the architect should determine, subject to the approval of the USHA, the amount of the fixed fee to be paid to the architect. The proposed fee should be submitted for approval promptly so that it may be established and prorated between dwelling and non-dwelling costs and be budgeted accordingly during the early stages of the development. The suggested forms of architect's contract provide that the fixed fee of the architect shall be computed by the local authority by applying a stated percentage to the estimated improvement cost (excluding the items allowed for construction contingencies) and that the fee so determined shall be approved by the architect. The suggested forms of architect's contract also provide, in Section 3 (a) thereof, that this estimated improvement cost shall be prepared by the architect and checked and approved by the local authority.

(2) In appropriate instances the USHA will approve architectural fees computed by the local authority and the architect on the basis of the estimated cost of improvements in the application for financial assistance as approved for purposes of loan contract (excluding the items allowed for contingencies). At this stage the costs of mechanical items may be indeterminate because of uncertainties as to the type of heating to be used. Similar uncertainties may make it practicable to fix only the architectural fee, leaving some, or all, of the other fees open to future determination when better information is available. However, any agreement providing for the computation of the architect's fee on the basis of the application should be predicated on the assumption that the number of dwelling units contemplated by the final plans and specifications will be approximately the same as the number contemplated by the loan contract. If there should be any material change, plus or minus, between the number of dwelling units contemplated by the loan contract and the number contemplated by the final plans and specifications, the architect's fee should be adjusted as provided in Sections 3 (b) and 14 of the suggested forms of architect's contract.

(3) The USHA has prepared, and will furnish upon request, a schedule of suggested architect's fees applicable to contracts providing for general supervision of construction by the architect and a similar schedule applicable to contracts providing for general supervision by persons other than the architect. In these schedules the architect's fee is designed to apply to the total estimated cost of the project, including landscaping and engineering work. Fees for the landscape and engineering work are allowable in addition to the architect's fee.

(4) In its submittal of the architect's fixed fee, the local authority should indicate how the fee was computed and the items excluded from the Estimated Improvement Cost in determining its amount. After the clearance of any points at issue, the USHA will indicate its approval of the fixed fee.

(5) Occasionally, the question may arise as to whether the architect is entitled to a payment on account prior to the determination and approval of the exact amount of the fixed fee. In such instances, the local authority will be guided by the particular circumstances involved. The local authority may, in justifiable situations, make such payments in the form of equitable lump sums to be deducted from the percentage amounts provided in the contracts and to be paid at progressive stages of the work. In no case, however, should such payments exceed the value of the work or service performed to the date of such payment.

(c) (1) Schedule of fees and wages to be paid by the architect. At the time the proposed contract is submitted to the USHA for comment or approval, and prior thereto if practicable, there should also be submitted to the USHA a schedule of the fees and wages which the architect proposes to pay to the various classes of architects, technical engineers, draftsmen, technicians, laborers and mechanics to be employed by him under his contract. This schedule should be supported by any available evidence obtained by the architect or the local authority which tends to establish such fees and wages as the fees and wages prevailing in the locality concerned. All contracts between the local authority and the architects should contain provisions requiring the architects to submit certified pay rolls as prescribed in the Manual of Accounting Procedure for Local Housing Authorities, Part II. The submittals specified in this sub-paragraph (c) (1) are necessary to enable the USHA to determine that the fees and wages to be paid are the fees and wages prevailing in the locality concerned as required by the United States Housing Act and the "Terms and Conditions".

(2) The schedule of prevailing fees and wages approved by the USHA shall be effective as of the date of the loan contract and the architect shall, accordingly, adjust to the approved schedule any fees or wages paid after the date of the loan contract which are less than those appropriate under the approved schedule. All overtime shall be paid for on the basis of not less than time and one-half.*† [Par. VIII]

§ 638.9 Preparation and submission of preliminary plans. The suggested forms of contract for architectural services provide, under Section 3 (a) thereof, for certain preliminary documents including drawings, outline specifications, and estimates of cost. Part 612 contains detailed information as to the preparation of these preliminary documents and discusses the use of the Job Program form as a check list. Since this procedure differs from that suggested in Part 612, local authorities are urged to study and follow the new procedure which is designed to expedite the problems arising in the preparation of preliminary plans and specifications.*† [Par. IX]

§ 638.10 Preparation and submission of construction plans and specifications. The attention of local authorities is invited particularly to Part 612, entitled "Preparation of Drawings and Specifications", which covers the preparation of plans and specifications in considerable detail. In this connection, the following items are of especial importance:

(a) Compliance with state and local laws. The local authority should, in the development of the plans, consult the necessary state and local officials to insure that the plans will conform to applicable local ordinances and state laws and should obtain the requisite approvals of the state and local officials having jurisdiction. If exceptions to the applicable local ordinances and state laws are necessary, assurances should be obtained that such exceptions can and will be made.

(b) Utilities.[1] In the development of the plans and specifications, it will be necessary to consult with the appropriate utility companies as to available facilities and as to the terms and conditions and rates at which any new utilities required will be provided. The comparative costs of the several alternative services, such as gas, electricity and steam, should be obtained so that the least expensive, not only as to development cost but also as to operating cost, may be adopted. In negotiating with utility companies as to estimated rates, the local authority should make full use of the services of the USHA representatives who are specially trained and qualified as advisers on such matters.

(c) Municipal services. Prior to the preparation of plans and specifications, the local authority will usually have made at least tentative arrangements with the local municipality regarding any improvements or extensions of municipal services that are to be furnished to the project by the municipality. Such tentative arrangements should be made final and definite as soon as practicable so that the architect may proceed with the final plans and specifications on an established basis. The following items should usually be considered and provided for in the development of the plans for the project: water service; sewer connections, both storm and sanitary; street lighting; construction of new streets or the repairing or resurfacing of existing ones; fire protection, including new fire lines and hydrants; rerouting of transportation lines and educational and playground facilities. Any necessary changes in zoning laws and building regulations should also be initiated at an early date.

(d) Insurance. In the preparation of plans and specifications, and in determining the proposed type of construction, the architect should take the prevailing insurance rates into consideration. The USHA is conducting negotiations with insurance rating bureaus and is prepared to advise the local authority as to the insurance rates applicable to the various types of construction. This information will aid the architect in developing a design that will be economical from the standpoint not only of original cost but also from that of operation and maintenance.

(e) Site and unit plans. Part 635, entitled "Planning the site", contains detailed suggestions concerning site planning, and Part 637, entitled "Dwelling Unit Planning", contains similar information as to unit planning. These suggestions as to site and unit planning are designed to serve primarily as guides in the development of the project. The USHA will, of course, encourage each local authority and each architect to exercise their skill and ingenuity in developing new ideas as to site and unit plans.

(f) Construction contracts. Part 610, entitled "Construction Contracts", considers the question of splitting the general construction work of a project into two or more sections and suggests that consideration be given to such procedure. A related question is that of separate contracts segregated as to types of construction. The local authority should endeavor wherever possible to put all of the related construction work under one contract and to avoid segregated contracts. However, it is recognized that in many instances this will be impracticable, and that more than one contract will be necessary. For example, in some cases it will be advisable to let a separate contract for landscaping. Again, the applicable state statutes may require that a segregated contract be let for each phase of the construction work, such as electrical, heating and ventilating, plumbing, and the like. If split or segregated contracts are to be let, the several contracts should be drawn so as to provide for full coordination and reduce interference to a minimum. Part 610 contains a suggested form of construction contract for the use and guidance of the local authority. This form contains all the applicable requirements of the Act and of Part III of the "Terms and Conditions". The whole question of the system of bidding and alternate bids is discussed in considerable detail in Part 612. Local authorities are particularly urged to give this discussion full and careful consideration.

(g) Physical improvements after partial or complete occupancy. The local authority should bear in mind that funds may be available for physical improvements to the project during the one-year period subsequent to the date on which the project is ready for complete occupancy, since any bonds within the maximum authorized amount of the bond issue which prove unnecessary to meet development costs already incurred may be issued for necessary additions and improvements during this one-year period. The local authority may, accordingly, find it advisable to omit certain items from the plans and specifications until the need for them has been established during a short period of operation. However, additional expenditures, if any, applicable to dwelling facilities must always be restricted to the extent necessary to keep total dwelling facilities cost within the maximum limitations prescribed in the Act.

(h) Submission of plans and specifications. The final plans and specifications will generally be reviewed in the field, while they are being prepared, by staff members of the USHA and working agreements will be reached from time to time to avoid delays in completion. In addition, when necessary and upon request of the local authority, any part or parts of the final plans may be submitted to the USHA in Washington for review, comment and advice during this period. The plans and specifications will not be given a final review in Washington prior to their acceptance for bidding purposes. Tentative agreements will, however, be reached in the field as to the appropriateness of the plans, specifications and other contract documents for bidding purposes. Such tentative agreements will be confirmed by the USHA, subject to such qualifications as may be necessary, at the time authorization to advertise for bids is granted. Ordinarily, the final review of plans and specifications will be made by the USHA in Washington after advertisement for bids and any comments and advices based on such review will be transmitted to the local authority in time for incorporation in addenda issued during the period of bidding. The local authority should, accordingly, schedule a period of advertising for bids long enough to permit the issuance of any such addenda which prove necessary or appropriate.°† [Par. X]

[1] See Part 643 for complete and detailed information as to planning utility services and rate negotiations.

§ 638.11 Preparation and submission of final estimates of total development cost. After the preparation of the construction plans and specifications has been completed, the local authority shall submit to the USHA an itemized estimate of the total development cost of the project based upon the final plans and specifications, the actual costs incurred to date for all items (such as land, demolition, cost of preparing plans and specifications), the latest estimates of overhead costs and of all other costs relating to the project. This final estimate of total development cost shall be submitted to the USHA at the time when final plans and specifications are submitted. The final estimate of total development cost should be submitted in a form generally similar to that provided in the outline of the Job Program, plus supplementary information on estimates of alternates to be taken and also on the local authority's preference as to the alternates to be accepted. Any part of an item in the estimate form not included in the bids to be taken should appear under the same item number, separately from the parts on which bids are to be taken, with the estimated cost of each such separated part. Throughout the estimate those items on which bids are being taken should be specially designated. At the end of the Estimate there should also appear an estimated total of the amount of the construction contract on which bids are being taken, with notations of the alternates. It may be advantageous to arrange for staff members of the USHA to collaborate with the local authority in the field in the preparation of this final estimate of total development cost. The USHA has prepared, and will furnish upon request, a suggested form of Final Estimate of Total Development Cost. This form should facilitate the preparation of the Estimate. Four copies of the Final Estimate of Total Development Cost should be submitted by the local authority to the USHA.°† [Par. XI]

§ 638.12 Securing bids and the award of contracts—(a) Open and competitive bidding. Any restriction as to the source of materials, equipment, supplies, bonds, or insurance involved in the execution of a contract obviously operates to limit open and competitive bidding and hence to increase costs. Therefore, except to the extent required by the laws of the state in which the public housing agency is located, no such restrictions should be included in any of the documents upon which bids are based. The technical specifications upon which contracts are based should be so drafted as to secure the widest competition possible and should not discriminate against any materials, supplies or equipment suitable for the purposes intended. To that end, and consistent with the objective of low capital costs as required by the Act, local authorities should, to the fullest extent possible, allow contractors the option of using one of two or more specified materials, supplies or items of equipment. While it is realized that this procedure is not always feasible and that it cannot fully supplant the practice of taking alternate bids, it is, nevertheless, generally productive of securing lower bids. The disadvantages of alternate bids are discussed hereinafter.

(b) Alternate bids. Since the United States Housing Act in effect requires that projects be of the lowest initial cost consistent with low rents, base bids must contemplate construction on that basis and the acceptance of alternate bids calling for increased expenditures cannot be justified by the USHA in approving contract awards. The introduction of a large number of alternate bids tends to discourage bidding and hence, in effect, may increase costs. Therefore, even alternate bids believed to be deductive should not be invited unless there is doubt as to whether the low base proposal will be within the loan contract or statutory limitations applicable to the project. A deductive alternative bid will generally involve the use of cheaper materials or methods which in turn will normally result in a higher maintenance or operating cost, or both, and therefore construction costs should be substantially reduced in order to justify the acceptance of such an alternate. For the above reasons, the USHA is opposed to approving acceptance of alternate bids unless the basis for such acceptance has been determined prior to the opening of bids. Local authorities are therefore requested to determine, prior to the opening of bids, the amount by which the construction cost, as evidenced by the lowest responsible base proposal, will be reduced in order to justify the acceptance of such alternate bids. Local authorities should advise the USHA, prior to the opening of bids, of the amounts so determined.

(c) Unusual local conditions. Occasionally there exists a combination of circumstances under which contractors from other localities are reluctant to compete in the bidding, or which will limit competition between local contractors or sub-contractors; these conditions are not always openly recognized or well understood but are vaguely known to exist and are accepted as insurmountable. The USHA believes that such difficulties may often be met if they are recognized at a time well in advance of advertising for bids. Local authorities are urged to bring to the attention of the USHA, for open and frank discussion, any circumstance or combination of circumstances which the local authority believes to be opposed to free and open competitive bidding and the USHA will cooperate to the fullest extent with the local authority in meeting each such problem.

(d) Timing of bids. With such a large volume of projects going on the market for bids it is highly important that the spread be as wide as possible in order to avoid an excessive number of bids being taken in one general locality during the same period of time. This is a problem which individual local authorities might not readily perceive since they are primarily concerned with their own projects, nevertheless, each authority may be adversely affected by poorly considered timing of bid dates over the country as a whole. The USHA, working with each local authority, schedules, well in advance, the dates when bids are to be received and local authorities agree with the USHA to work to these schedules. Since these schedules contemplate the widest feasible spread of bid opening dates in a given locality, it becomes highly necessary, for the benefit of the work as a whole, that each authority adhere closely to its own dates in the schedule. Therefore, local authorities, before committing themselves to a specified date, should feel quite sure that this can be met, and thereafter, should make every possible effort to meet its commitments; the USHA will cooperate with the local authority to that end. There may be occasions when the USHA will find it desirable, for the benefit of the program in its entirety, to suggest to a local authority that it modify the date of bid opening; local authorities are requested to cooperate in such procedure.

(e) Period of bidding. Local authorities should allow not less than 30 calendar days for bidding on any major construction work and if the plans and specifications are not ready for delivery on the date of advertising this period should be increased so that bidders may have the plans and specifications in their possession for a full 30 days. While it is true that three or even two weeks may be an adequate time for the actual work of taking off quantities and preparing bids, a longer period permits a more thorough combing of the market; moreover it often happens that contractors who would otherwise be interested are limited for time because of bidding on other work and in such cases they will not bid unless a generous time is allowed.

(f) Breaking down large projects. While the USHA has cautioned local authorities as to certain difficulties incident to breaking a project down into a large number of relatively small construction contracts (see Part 612), due consideration should be given to the fact that a large number of housing projects going on the market during a comparatively short period of time may limit the number of bidders who are able and willing to contract for large projects. Thus, in many cases, it may be found increasingly necessary to divide large projects into two or more general construction parts in order to appeal to a wider range of contractors. However, the precautions referred to in Part 612 should continue to receive consideration; particularly the sub-division should not be too great, complicating alternate bids should be avoided, but one overall bid for the whole work must, in all cases, be taken unless prohibited by applicable state or local law.

(g) Publicity. The usual process of advertising for bids cannot always be depended upon to secure the necessary publicity and for that reason local authorities are urged to make every possible effort in order to secure the maximum number of bidders. The following are suggested as steps which would be advisable to take in each case:

(1) Wherever there are local or nearby agencies maintaining plan rooms, plans and specifications should be furnished to these without charge or on the basis of refundable deposits. While this does not ordinarily produce a larger number of general contractors, such a procedure will frequently result in a greater number of sub-contract bids to the general contractors, which, of course, tends to produce lower figures. The deposit required on sets of Plans and Specifications should always be reasonably consistent with their reproduction value.

(2) Normally it is advisable for local authorities to contact representative organizations of contractors and of construction bond companies; these latter may often obtain the interest of contractors in other cities through their branch offices.

(3) If the local authorities will furnish to the USHA a number of copies, preferably about 12, of the advertisement for bids immediately upon its publication, the USHA will arrange for quick dissemination of this information to national contractor organizations.

(4) It is desirable that the advertisement for bids be published in adjacent cities in addition to publication through the local press.

(h) Withdrawal or modification of bids. There have been cases where low bidders have sought to withdraw or increase their bids after the bids have been opened. The usual reason which is given in such cases is that an error has been made and that as a result the contractor could not fulfill his contract for the amount stipulated in the bid without suffering a loss. When such a question arises it warrants the most careful consideration, since, on the one hand, general experience has proven that unsatisfactory results derive from construction contracts below actual costs or even without opportunity for a reasonable profit, while, on the other hand, bidders are under bond to execute contracts for the amounts named in their bids and it seems reasonable to believe that experienced contractors will exercise the utmost care in preparing and checking their figures. Sub-paragraph (j) of this sec. 638.12 sets forth the USHA requirements which local authorities should follow in determining whether or not it is equitable to permit the withdrawal of a bid after the bids have been opened. Under no circumstances should a bidder be permitted to increase his bid after it has been opened; if such a proposed increase is based upon proven errors the bid should be rejected instead, subject to the USHA requirements set forth below.

(i) Rejection of bids. Local authorities will often be confronted with low bids from contractors whom they do not believe are financially, technically, or otherwise qualified to perform the work. Such situations are somewhat similar to those mentioned in the preceding section and merit the same careful consideration before action is taken, and local authorities should be guided by the USHA requirements included in sub-paragraph (j) in reaching their determinations.

(j) USHA requirements. The following requirements must be met by local authorities in order to comply with the provisions of USHA loan contracts relating to competitive bidding and award of contracts and to comply with the provisions of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, requiring that USHA-aided projects shall not be of elaborate or expensive design or materials and that economy will be promoted in construction:

(1) All contracts, except those involving personal services requiring specialized skill or training, or where the amount involved is less than $300, for the furnishing of labor, labor and materials or any materials, supplies or equipment shall be publicly advertised.

(2) The specifications for all such contracts shall be drafted to insure the widest competition possible and no materials, supplies or equipment suitable for the purposes intended shall be discriminated against, nor shall the specifications designate any preference for local materials, equipment, supplies, bonds or insurance involved in the execution of such contracts unless required by the laws of the state in which the public housing agency is located.

(3) Local authorities shall contract for labor, labor and materials, or materials, equipment and supplies in a manner best suited to secure the development of the project in the most economical manner possible. Unless otherwise required by state laws, and, except for demolition work, landscaping and the furnishing of those materials, supplies and equipment which are usually not included in normal construction contracts, a bid for the entire work in connection with the development of the project shall be requested even though bids are also requested for the same work in parts. The work in connection with the development of the project shall not be divided so as to place an unreasonable administrative burden on the local authority or so as to encourage possible collusion among bidders.

(4) Alternate bids shall be limited to the minimum required for economical and sound construction.

(5) Every contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder as soon as practicable after the opening of bids, unless such bid is in excess of the estimated cost of such work or is otherwise considered to be for an unreasonable amount.

(6) Bidders shall not be permitted to withdraw their bids subsequent to the time of opening because of an alleged mistake in the amount of their bids unless the amount of the bids are such as to place a reasonable man on notice that an error has been committed by the bidder and further that an award, under such circumstances, would be inequitable. Where a bidder claims that a mistake has been made, the local authority to which the bid was submitted shall require, before taking action in regard to any request for the withdrawal of a bid, the submittal by the bidder of his original estimating sheets from which the bid was computed, a sworn statement to the effect that an error has been made by the bidder and all evidence in the possession of the bidder tending to corroborate the claim of error.

(7) No bidder shall be permitted by a local authority to withdraw his bid unless the bid submitted is at least 10% lower than the estimated cost of the work included in the contract, as prepared by the local authority and approved by the USHA.

(8) No bid shall be rejected by a local authority because of lack of responsibility of the bidder unless it is plainly evident that the bidder is either:

(i) not financially qualified to carry out his contract; or

(ii) not technically fitted to carry out the proposed work either through lack of experience, adequate personnel and equipment; or

(iii) has refused or failed to accept the award of a contract tendered to him in accordance with a bid submitted by him; or

(iv) unless his record in the performance of other contracts is such as would plainly show that the bidder is not responsible.

(9) Before rejecting any low bidder on the basis of irresponsibility, the local authority shall make definite findings of the facts upon which its conclusion of irresponsibility is based and shall submit the same to the USHA. Mere matters of opinion unsupported by any facts evidencing the lack of responsibility of the contractor will not be accepted as a basis for rejecting a low bidder.

(10) No contract for equipment, supplies, or materials shall be awarded to other than the low bidder in the interest of standardization of equipment or materials, ultimate economy or expeditious development of the project unless:

(i) prior to the opening of bids the local housing authority submits to the USHA notice of its intention to take these factors into consideration in awarding bids; (such notice shall set forth the differential to be used by the local authority in determining the bidder to whom the contract is to be awarded); and

(ii) the USHA has approved, in advance of the award, the procedure to be followed and the differential or formula for determining the same.

(11) The USHA has the right to refuse to lend further financial assistance in the way of the purchase of bonds or the making of annual contributions or both, either as to the entire project or as to the amount of the contract involved, in the event of a violation by a local authority of the requirements of this subparagraph (j).*† [Par. XII]

§ 638.13 Transmittal of bids to USHA. Upon receipt of bids, the local authority will study them, and before awarding a contract, submit to the USHA the original and four copies of a statement as to the award or awards it proposes to make, including the disposition of alternates. With this statement there should be included the following:

(a) Four copies of a tabulation of bids and an analysis thereof on the basis of the proposed award.

(b) Four copies of a comparison of the Final Estimate of Total Development Cost as earlier submitted and modified, with the computation of Total Development Cost and of Dwelling Facility Costs per room and per unit as contemplated in the proposed contracts. This comparison shall be based upon the proposed awards and the estimated (or actual) costs of items not included in the proposed awards.

(c) Four copies of all addenda and other information, including drawings, issued during the bidding period.

(d) One original and three conformed copies of all bids, including all forms in connection therewith.

(e) Four copies of other pertinent information which may have been prepared and is considered useful in reaching a determination with regard to the award of contracts and disposition of alternates. The materials specified in subparagraphs (a) through (e), above, shall be furnished to the Construction Adviser for delivery or forwarding to the USHA in Washington. The USHA will check the bid figures against the Final Estimate of Total Development Cost and against the provisions of the Act and Loan Contract and will then notify the local authority that the proposed award is (1) acceptable, (2) acceptable subject to certain qualifications, or (3) not acceptable for specified reasons. If the proposed award is acceptable to the USHA, the local authority may execute the construction contract with the successful bidder. One executed counterpart of the construction contract (including accompanying plans and specifications) and four conformed copies of the executed contract (but including only two sets of plans) shall be furnished promptly to the USHA. If these copies are all in good order, the USHA will return one set to the local authority with an indication that they are approved for construction. Upon receipt of such approval by the USHA, the local authority will, ordinarily, advise the contractor to commence work under his contract and the actual construction of the project will begin.*† [Par. XIII]

TITLE 25—INDIANS

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS FOR LOANS TO INDIVIDUAL INDIANS (OKLAHOMA)

Section 26.3 of Title 25, Chapter 1, Office of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, Sub-Chapter E, Part 26, Loans by United States to Individual Indians, (Oklahoma), which reads:

§ 26.3 General loan policies. The granting or refusal of the loan and the amount thereof shall be governed by the nature and extent of the enterprise to be financed, its prospects of success and assurance that the loan will be repaid, the equipment and funds otherwise available for execution of the plan, the extent to which the enterprise will promote a permanent improvement in the applicant's economic condition, the character and past performance of the applicant, both generally and in the particular work involved in the enterprise, and the amount and kind of security offered. An Indian who is a member of an incorporated tribe, or who resides in the territory of an Indian credit association must show that his application to such tribe or association has been rejected before an application hereunder will be accepted.

is amended to read:

§ 26.3 General loan policies. The granting or refusal of the loan and the amount thereof shall be governed by the nature and extent of the enterprise to be financed, its prospects of success and assurance that the loan will be repaid, the equipment and funds otherwise available for execution of the plan, the extent to which the enterprise will promote a permanent improvement in the applicant's economic condition, the character and past performance of the applicant, both generally and in the particular work involved in the enterprise, and the amount and kind of security offered. An Indian who is a member of an incorporated tribe, or who resides in the territory of an Indian credit association, which has received a loan from the United States and is conducting operations with revolving credit funds, must show that his application to such tribe or association has been rejected before an application hereunder will be accepted.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

[T. D. 4959]

INCOME TAX

REGULATIONS RELATING TO ELECTIVE METHOD OF TAKING INVENTORIES FOR YEARS BEGINNING SUBSEQUENT TO DECEMBER 31, 1938

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

In order to conform Regulations 101[1] (Part 9, Subpart H, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. Part 1) by Treasury Decision 4885,[2] approved February 11, 1939 (Part 465, Subpart B, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), to section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939 (Public, No. 155, 76th Cong. 1st sess.) amending section 22 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code, such Regulations are amended as follows:

(1) The following is inserted immediately preceding article 22 (d)-1 (section 9.22 (d)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations), as made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code:

"Sec. 219. Inventories (Revenue Act of 1939)

"SEC. 219. INVENTORIES.

"(a) Amendment to Code. Section 22 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to inventories in certain industries) is amended to read as follows:

"'(d) (1) A taxpayer may use the following method (whether or not such method has been prescribed under subsection (c)) in inventorying goods specified in the application required under paragraph (2):

"'(A) Only in inventorying goods (required under subsection (c) to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the Commissioner may prescribe; and

"'(B) Only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) in inventorying (to ascertain income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first taxable year for which the method described in paragraph (1) is to be used.

"'(3) The change to, and the use of, such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

"'(4) In determining income for the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which such method is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in such application shall be at cost.

"'(5) If a taxpayer, having complied with paragraph (2), uses the method described in paragraph (1) for any taxable year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless—

"'(A) With the approval of the Commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or

"'(B) The Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any period beginning with or during any subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) in inventorying (for ascertaining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) the goods specified in the application, and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in paragraph (1) beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter.

"'In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.'

"(b) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

"(c) Amendment to 1938 act. Section 22 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1938 (relating to inventories in certain industries) is amended to read as follows:

"'(d) If the inventory method described in section 22 (d) (1), as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code is used for the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, then, in determining income for the preceding taxable year, the closing inventory of such year of the goods specified in the application under section 22 (d) (2), as amended, of such Code shall be at cost.'"

(2) Article 22 (c)-1 [section 9.22 (c)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting at the end thereof the words,

"(But see article 22 (d)-1.)"

(3) Article 22 (c)-2 [section 9.22 (c)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting at the end of the first sentence of the fourth paragraph thereof the words,

"except as to those goods inventoried under the elective method authorized by section 22 (d)," so that the sentence so amended will read as follows:

"In respect of normal goods, whichever basis is adopted must be applied with reasonable consistency to the entire inventory except as to those goods inventoried under the elective method authorized by section 22 (d)."

(4) Article 22 (c)-2 is further amended by inserting in lieu of the sixth sentence of the fourth paragraph thereof the following sentence:

"But see section 22 (d) as to inventories under elective method."

(5) Article 22 (c)-7 [section 9.22 (c)-7, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting in lieu of the last sentence thereof the following sentence:

"See section 22 (d) as to inventories under elective method."

(6) Articles 22 (d)-1 to 22 (d)-4 [sections 9.22 (d)-1 to 9.22 (d)-4, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], inclusive, are stricken out and there is substituted in lieu thereof the following:

"ART. 22 (d)-1 [section 9.22 (d)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Inventories under elective method. Any taxpayer permitted or required to take inventories pursuant to the provisions of section 22 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code, and pursuant to the provisions of articles 22 (c)-1 to 22 (c)-8 of these regulations [sections 9.22 (c)-1 to 9.22 (c)-8, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] may elect with respect to those goods specified in his application and properly subject to inventory to compute his opening and closing inventories in accordance with the method provided by section 22 (d) of the Code as amended by section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939. Under this elective inventory method, the taxpayer is permitted to treat those goods remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being:

"First, those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year, in the order of acquisition and to the extent thereof, and

"Second, those acquired during the taxable year.

This elective inventory method is not dependent upon the character of the business in which the taxpayer is engaged, or upon the identity or want of identity through commingling of any of the goods on hand, and may be adopted by the taxpayer as of the close of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938.

"If the elective inventory method is used by a taxpayer who regularly and consistently, in a manner similar to hedging on a futures market, matches purchases with sales, then firm purchase and sales contracts (i. e., those not legally subject to cancellation by either party) entered into at fixed prices on or before the date of the inventory may be included in purchases or sales, as the case may be, for the purpose of determining the cost of goods sold and the resulting profit or loss, provided that this practice is regularly and consistently adhered to by the taxpayer and that, in the opinion of the Commissioner, income is clearly reflected thereby.

"ART. 22 (d)-2 [section 9.22 (d)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Requirements incident to adoption and use of elective method. The adoption and use of the elective inventory method is, by statute and by these regulations, made subject to the following requirements:

"(1) The taxpayer shall file pursuant to these regulations an application to use such method specifying with particularity the goods to which it is to be applied;

"(2) The inventory shall be taken at cost regardless of market values;

"(3) Goods of the specified type included in the opening inventory of the taxable year for which the method is first used shall be considered as having been acquired at the same time and at a unit cost equal to the actual cost of the aggregate divided by the number of units on hand, such actual cost of the aggregate being determined pursuant to the inventory method employed by the taxpayer under the regulations applicable to the preceding taxable year;

"(4) Goods of the specified type on hand as of the close of the taxable year in excess of what were on hand as of the beginning of the taxable year shall be included in the closing inventory, of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the taxable year; and

[2] 4 F.R. 879 DI.

"'(C) Treat those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year in which such method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

"'(2) The method described in paragraph (1) may be used—

"'(A) Only in inventorying goods (required under subsection (c) to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the Commissioner may prescribe; and

"'(B) Only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) in inventorying (to ascertain income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first taxable year for which the method described in paragraph (1) is to be used.

"'(3) The change to, and the use of, such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

"'(4) In determining income for the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which such method is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in such application shall be at cost.

"'(5) If a taxpayer, having complied with paragraph (2), uses the method described in paragraph (1) for any taxable year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless—

"'(A) With the approval of the Commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or

"'(B) The Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any period beginning with or during any subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) in inventorying (for ascertaining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) the goods specified in the application, and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in paragraph (1) beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter.

"'In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.'

"(b) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938.

"(c) Amendment to 1938 act. Section 22 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1938 (relating to inventories in certain industries) is amended to read as follows:

"'(d) If the inventory method described in section 22 (d) (1), as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code is used for the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, then, in determining income for the preceding taxable year, the closing inventory of such year of the goods specified in the application under section 22 (d) (2), as amended, of such Code shall be at cost.'"

(2) Article 22 (c)-1 [section 9.22 (c)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting at the end thereof the words,

"(But see article 22 (d)-1.)"

(3) Article 22 (c)-2 [section 9.22 (c)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting at the end of the first sentence of the fourth paragraph thereof the words,

"except as to those goods inventoried under the elective method authorized by section 22 (d),"

so that the sentence so amended will read as follows:

"In respect of normal goods, whichever basis is adopted must be applied with reasonable consistency to the entire inventory except as to those goods inventoried under the elective method authorized by section 22 (d)."

(4) Article 22 (c)-2 is further amended by inserting in lieu of the sixth sentence of the fourth paragraph thereof the following sentence:

"But see section 22 (d) as to inventories under elective method."

(5) Article 22 (c)-7 [section 9.22 (c)-7, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] is amended by inserting in lieu of the last sentence thereof the following sentence:

"See section 22 (d) as to inventories under elective method."

(6) Articles 22 (d)-1 to 22 (d)-4 [sections 9.22 (d)-1 to 9.22 (d)-4, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], inclusive, are stricken out and there is substituted in lieu thereof the following:

"ART. 22 (d)-1 [section 9.22 (d)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Inventories under elective method. Any taxpayer permitted or required to take inventories pursuant to the provisions of section 22 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code, and pursuant to the provisions of articles 22 (c)-1 to 22 (c)-8 of these regulations [sections 9.22 (c)-1 to 9.22 (c)-8, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations] may elect with respect to those goods specified in his application and properly subject to inventory to compute his opening and closing inventories in accordance with the method provided by section 22 (d) of the Code as amended by section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939. Under this elective inventory method, the taxpayer is permitted to treat those goods remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being:

"First, those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year, in the order of acquisition and to the extent thereof, and

"Second, those acquired during the taxable year.

This elective inventory method is not dependent upon the character of the business in which the taxpayer is engaged, or upon the identity or want of identity through commingling of any of the goods on hand, and may be adopted by the taxpayer as of the close of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938.

"If the elective inventory method is used by a taxpayer who regularly and consistently, in a manner similar to hedging on a futures market, matches purchases with sales, then firm purchase and sales contracts (i. e., those not legally subject to cancellation by either party) entered into at fixed prices on or before the date of the inventory may be included in purchases or sales, as the case may be, for the purpose of determining the cost of goods sold and the resulting profit or loss, provided that this practice is regularly and consistently adhered to by the taxpayer and that, in the opinion of the Commissioner, income is clearly reflected thereby.

"ART. 22 (d)-2 [section 9.22 (d)-2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Requirements incident to adoption and use of elective method. The adoption and use of the elective inventory method is, by statute and by these regulations, made subject to the following requirements:

"(1) The taxpayer shall file pursuant to these regulations an application to use such method specifying with particularity the goods to which it is to be applied;

"(2) The inventory shall be taken at cost regardless of market values;

"(3) Goods of the specified type included in the opening inventory of the taxable year for which the method is first used shall be considered as having been acquired at the same time and at a unit cost equal to the actual cost of the aggregate divided by the number of units on hand, such actual cost of the aggregate being determined pursuant to the inventory method employed by the taxpayer under the regulations applicable to the preceding taxable year;

"(4) Goods of the specified type on hand as of the close of the taxable year in excess of what were on hand as of the beginning of the taxable year shall be included in the closing inventory, regardless of identification with specific invoices, at costs determined as follows:

"(a) By reference to the actual cost of the goods most recently purchased or produced;

"(b) By reference to the actual cost of the goods purchased or produced during the taxable year in the order of acquisition;

"(c) By application of an average unit cost equal to the aggregate cost of all of the goods purchased or produced throughout the taxable year divided by the total number of units so purchased or produced, the goods reflected in such inventory increase being considered for the purposes of section 22 (d) as having been acquired all at the same time; or

"(d) Pursuant to any other proper method which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, clearly reflects income:

Whichever of the several methods of valuing the inventory increase is adopted by the taxpayer and approved by the Commissioner in accordance with these regulations shall be consistently adhered to in all subsequent taxable years so long as the elective inventory method is used by the taxpayer;

"Example 1. Suppose that the taxpayer adopts the elective inventory method for the taxable year 1939 with an opening inventory of 10 units at 10 cents per unit, that it makes 1939 purchases of 10 units as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Jan. | 1 | @ 11 | = 11 |
| Apr. | 2 | @ 12 | = 24 |
| July | 3 | @ 13 | = 39 |
| Oct. | 4 | @ 14 | = 56 |
| Totals: | 10 | | 130 |

and that it has a 1939 closing inventory of 15 units. This closing inventory, depending upon the taxpayer's method of valuing inventory increases, will be computed as follows:

"(a) Most recent purchases—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | | = 100 |
| 4 | @ 14 | (Oct.) | = 56 |
| 1 | @ 13 | (July) | = 13 |
| Totals: 15 | | | 169 |

or

"(b) In order of acquisition—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | | = 100 |
| 1 | @ 11 | (Jan.) | = 11 |
| 2 | @ 12 | (Apr.) | = 24 |
| 2 | @ 13 | (July) | = 26 |
| Totals: 15 | | | 161 |

or

"(c) At an annual average —

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | | = 100 |
| 5 | @ 13 | (130/10) | = 65 |
| Totals: 15 | | | 165 |

"Example 2. Suppose, in addition to the facts stated in Example 1, that there is a 1940 closing inventory of 13 units. This closing inventory, being determined wholly by reference to the opening inventory, and being taken in the order of acquisition, and depending upon the taxpayer's method of valuing its inventory increase for the preceding taxable year, will be computed as follows:

"(a) In case the increase was taken as most recent purchases—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | (from 1938) | = 100 |
| 1 | @ 13 | (July 1939) | = 13 |
| 2 | @ 14 | (Oct. 1939) | = 28 |
| Totals: 13 | | | 141 |

or

"(b) In case the increase was taken in order of acquisition—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | (from 1938) | = 100 |
| 1 | @ 11 | (Jan. 1939) | = 11 |
| 2 | @ 12 | (Apr. 1939) | = 24 |
| Totals: 13 | | | 135 |

or

"(c) In case increase was taken on basis of an average—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | @ 10 | (from 1938) | = 100 |
| 3 | @ 13 | (from 1939) | = 39 |
| Totals: 13 | | | 139 |

"(5) The taxpayer shall establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the taxpayer has not, in the taxable year for which the elective inventory method is first used or in any subsequent taxable year, used in determining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries, any inventory method other than that referred to in article 22 (d)–1 [section 9.22 (d)–1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.] or at variance with the requirement referred to in paragraph (3) of this article, the taxpayer's use of market value in lieu of cost not being considered at variance with this requirement;

"(6) Goods of the specified type on hand as of the close of the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which this inventory method is first used, whether such preceding taxable year began before or after December 31, 1938, shall be included in the taxpayer's inventory for such preceding taxable year at cost;

"(7) The elective inventory method once adopted by the taxpayer with the approval of the Commissioner, shall be adhered to in all subsequent taxable years unless—

"(a) A change to a different method is approved by the Commissioner; or

"(b) The Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used in ascertaining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries, and for years subsequent to his adoption of the elective inventory method, an inventory method at variance with that referred to in article 22 (d)–1 and requires of the taxpayer a change to a different method for such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter;

"(8) The taxpayer shall maintain such accounting records as will enable the Commissioner readily to verify the taxpayer's inventory computations as well as his compliance with these several requirements.

"ART. 22 (d)–3 [section 9.22 (d)–3, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Time and manner of making election. The elective inventory method may be adopted and used only if the taxpayer files with his return for the taxable year as of the close of which the method is first to be used (or, if such return is filed prior to the ninetieth day after the approval of these regulations, then at any time prior to the expiration of such ninetieth day), in triplicate on Form 970 (revised), and pursuant to the instructions printed thereon and to the requirements of these regulations, a statement of his election to use such inventory method. Such statement shall be accompanied by an analysis of all inventories of the taxpayer as of the beginning and as of the end of the taxable year for which the elective method is proposed first to be used, and also as of the beginning of the preceding taxable year. In the case of a manufacturer, this analysis shall show in detail the manner in which costs are computed with respect to raw materials, goods in process, and finished goods, segregating the products (whether in process or finished goods) into natural groups on the basis of either (1) similarity in factory processes through which they pass, or (2) similarity of raw materials used, or (3) similarity in style, shape, or use of finished products. Each group of products shall be clearly described.

"The taxpayer shall submit for the consideration of the Commissioner in connection with the taxpayer's adoption or use of the elective inventory method such other detailed information with respect to his business or accounting system as may be at any time requested by the Commissioner.

"As a condition to the taxpayer's use of the elective inventory method, the Commissioner may require that the method be used with respect to goods other than those specified in the taxpayer's statement of election if, in the opinion of the Commissioner, the use of such method with respect to such other goods is essential to a clear reflection of income.

"Whether or not the taxpayer's application for the adoption and use of the elective inventory method should be approved, and whether or not such method, once adopted, may be continued, and the propriety of all computations incidental to the use of such method will be determined by the Commissioner in connection with the examination of the taxpayer's returns.

"ART. 22 (d)–4 [section 9.22 (d)–4, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Adjustments to be made by taxpayer. A taxpayer may not change to the elective method of taking inventories unless, at the time he files his application for the adoption of such method, he agrees to such adjustments incident to the change to or from such method, or incident to the use of such method, in the inventories of prior taxable years or otherwise, as the Commissioner upon the examination of the taxpayer's returns may deem necessary in order that the true income of the taxpayer will be clearly reflected for the years involved.

"ART. 22 (d)–5 [section 9.22 (d)–5, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Revocation of election. An election made to adopt and use the elective inventory method is irrevocable, and the method once adopted shall be used in all subsequent taxable years, unless the use of another method be required by the Commissioner, or authorized by him pursuant to a written application therefor filed with him as provided in article 41–2 of these regulations [section 9.41–2, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations]

"ART. 22 (d)–6 [section 9.22 (d)–6, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.]. Change from elective inventory method. If the taxpayer is granted permission by the Commissioner to discontinue the use of the elective method of taking inventories, and thereafter to pursue some other method, or if the taxpayer is required by the Commissioner to discontinue the use of the elective method by reason of the taxpayer's failure to conform to the requirements detailed in article 22 (d)–2, the inventory of the specified goods for the first taxable year affected by the change and for each taxable year thereafter shall be taken—

"(a) In conformity with the method used by the taxpayer under section 22 (c) in inventorying goods not included in his elective inventory computations; or

"(b) If the elective inventory method was used by the taxpayer with respect to all of his goods subject to inventory, then in conformity with the inventory method used by the taxpayer prior to his adoption of the elective inventory method; or

"(c) If the taxpayer had not used inventories prior to his adoption of the elective inventory method and had no goods currently subject to inventory by a method other than the elective method, then in conformity with such inventory method as may be selected by the taxpayer and approved by the Commissioner as resulting in a clear reflection of income; or

"(d) In any event, in conformity with any inventory method to which the taxpayer may change pursuant to application approved by the Commissioner."

(This Treasury Decision is issued under the authority of section 22 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. Part 1) as amended by section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939 (Public, No. 155, 76th Cong., 1st sess.) and section 62 of the said Internal Revenue Code.)

IN THE MATTER OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, AND THE COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN CORPORATION, AND IN THE MATTER OF MORGAN STANLEY & CO., INCORPORATED, AND BONBRIGHT & COMPANY, INCORPORATED

ORDER

Consumers Power Company, a subsidiary of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to Section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, concerning the issue and sale to the public of $28,594,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, 3¼% Series of 1939, due 1969; and the issue and sale to The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation of 125,000 shares of common stock, no par value, at a price of $28.25 per share;

The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation having filed an application pursuant to Section 10 of the Act for the approval of the acquisition by it of the aforesaid 125,000 shares of common stock to be issued by Consumers Power Company;

Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated and Bonbright & Company, Incorporated, having made application pursuant to Rule U-12F-2 promulgated under the Act, for a determination of their status under such rule, as underwriters for the proposed First Mortgage Bonds; this matter having been consolidated with the declaration of Consumers Power Company and the application of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, and a request in said application and by motion having been made for disposition of the declaration and the application of Consumers Power Company and The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation separate from and prior to the conclusion of the proceedings under the rule;

A public hearing having been duly held after appropriate notice; the record having been completed with respect to the aforementioned declaration of Consumers Power Company and application of The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, but the record with respect to the application filed by Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated and Bonbright & Company, Incorporated not having been completed; and the Commission having made its findings herein with respect to the declaration and application of Consumers Power Company and The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation;

It is ordered, That proceedings on the application of Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated and Bonbright & Company, Incorporated pursuant to Rule U-12F-2 heretofore consolidated with proceedings herein be severed from this proceeding and that hearings on said application of Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated and Bonbright & Company, Incorporated continue until the completion of the record concerning the issues raised by said application: Provided, however, That pending the final determination of the issues raised by said U-12F-2 application, no underwriting fees, commissions or any other compensation deriving from the issuance and sale of those securities as to which no adverse order is entered hereby shall be paid directly or indirectly to, or retained by, Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated or to Bonbright and Company, Incorporated (including any management or other fees to be paid to or retained by Morgan Stanley & Co., Incorporated, and Bonbright & Company, Incorporated, by virtue of any agreements or arrangements among any of the underwriters or otherwise);

It is further ordered, That the declaration filed by Consumers Power Company, insofar as the same relates to the issuance and sale by it to the public of $28,594,000 of its First Mortgage Bonds for refunding purposes, be and hereby is permitted to become effective, and that the declaration filed by Consumers Power Company, insofar as the same relates to the issuance and sale by it of 125,000 shares of its common stock at $28.25 per share, be and hereby is permitted to become effective, subject to the condition that said bonds and said stock be issued and sold in accordance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes represented by, said declaration, except as modified in the preceding paragraph hereof; and to the condition that such securities shall be issued and sold within thirty days after the date of this order;

It is further ordered, That, within ten days after the issue and sale of such securities, applicant shall file with this Commission a certificate of notification showing that such issue and sale have been effected in accordance with the terms and conditions of this order;

It is further ordered, That the application filed by the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation pursuant to Section 10, in regard to the acquisition of the common stock of Consumers Power Company, be and it hereby is dismissed;

It is further ordered, That the declaration of Consumers Power Company pursuant to Section 7, insofar as it relates to the issuance of any securities in addition to said $28,594,000 of First Mortgage Bonds and said 125,000 shares of common stock, shall not become effective;

It is further ordered, That, except as the Commission may by order or orders from time to time permit, so long as any of the First Mortgage Bonds are outstanding, the Company shall not declare or pay any dividend from net income earned after December 31, 1939 (other than dividends payable solely in shares of its stock), or make any other distribution on any shares of its preferred or common stock or make any disbursement for the purchase or retirement of any of its stock, unless the amount expended or accrued by the Company (or any successor or successors) for maintenance and repairs plus provision for retirements, depreciation and amortization of property out of income earned during the period from the close of business on December 31, 1939, to the date of the proposed payment of such dividend or making of such distribution or disbursement, shall equal 15% of the gross operating revenues of the Company less the cost of electric energy and gas purchased for resale and rentals paid for use of utility assets: Provided, however, That any transfers to the earned surplus of the Company from net income earned after December 31, 1939, over and above all such dividends, distributions, and disbursements (including the dividends then to be paid, or the distributions or disbursements then to be made) may be used as a credit to offset any deficiency in the amount expended or accrued for maintenance and repairs plus provisions for retirements, depreciation and amortization of property out of income earned after December 31, 1939, in satisfying the aforementioned 15% requirements.

By the Commission.

United States of America Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 29th day of December, A. D. 1939.

[File Nos. 51-31, 51-32, 51-33, 51-35]

IN THE MATTER OF UNITED FUEL GAS COMPANY, CUMBERLAND AND ALLEGHENY GAS COMPANY, WARFIELD NATURAL GAS COMPANY, AND THE UNION LIGHT, HEAT AND POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

Applications pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having been duly filed with this Commission by the above-named parties;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on January 15, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. On such day the hearing-room clerk in room 1102 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, if in respect of any declaration, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to such declarant or applicant and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before January 13, 1940.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to proposed payments to Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation, a registered holding company, by United Fuel Gas Company, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, Warfield Natural Gas Company and The Union Light, Heat and Power Company, subsidiary companies thereof, of interest for the three months' period ending December 31, 1939 on outstanding 6% Demand Notes of the applicants in the principal amounts of $12,035,000, $366,864.22, $9,790,000 and $2,367,238.47, respectively.

The applicants have designated Section 12 (c) of the Act and Rule U-12C-3 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the above transactions and request Commission approval in regard thereto to the extent that said Section and Rule are deemed to be applicable to the proposed payments of interest.

By the Commission.
